

Greek King Takes Over As Premier

ATHENS, Greece, April 19 (U.P.)—King George formed a "national victory" government today with himself as premier succeeding Alexander Korizis, who died suddenly yesterday.

The king was in supreme command of the government and army. An official announcement said that "after all night talks, Korizis becomes the king's right hand man as vice premier with his majesty holding the portfolio of prime minister in the government of national victory."

The king's decision insures the most complete unity of the Greek nation during the grave crisis and is the most effective guarantee of carrying out the war to the end.

No Explanations. There had been no explanation of Korizis' death, or any indication that he had been ill. An authoritative source, commenting on the death of Korizis, said that in addition to Korizis' death, "rumors are being circulated by malignant groups which are serving foreign interests."

Korizis, as vice-premier, failed in an attempt to form a cabinet. There were indications that Korizis was murdered for reasons to carry out "his demands" and because "he wanted peace and saw Greece cooperating with the same fate as Yugoslavia."

and there were indications a military government would be formed. The committee Korizis had appointed to the army and navy the right would continue to exist. "Already, several expeditions, including the one to the island of Crete, had been organized in Athens."

Formed Macedonia. It was recalled Korizis had toured eastern Macedonia and visited Thrace on a special mission for the king during the "war of nerves" preceding the German invasion. He was believed to have encouraged the people there to resist the Germans.

It was the latest, best, that the government took charge in Athens after Korizis' death and proclaimed a state of siege. It said "police circles" "assumed" control, committed suicide, "due to the mysterious circumstances of the case." It was the latest, best, that the king probably killed himself because of distress over Greek military reverses.

30 NAZIS ESCAPE CANADIAN PRISON. OTTAWA, Ont., April 19 (U.P.)—Nearly 30 German war prisoners tunneled out of an internment camp in northern Ontario and soldiers a hastily organized militia netted many of the fugitives a few hours later and authorities reported they were on the track of the remainder.

Hundreds of soldiers, provincial and mounted police, camp guards and other workers and volunteers participated in the search over border-strewn bush country on the shore of Lake Ontario. A 75-square mile area was cordoned off and all roads and railway lines leading out of it were blocked. Airmen and bloodhounds were ordered to the desolate region.

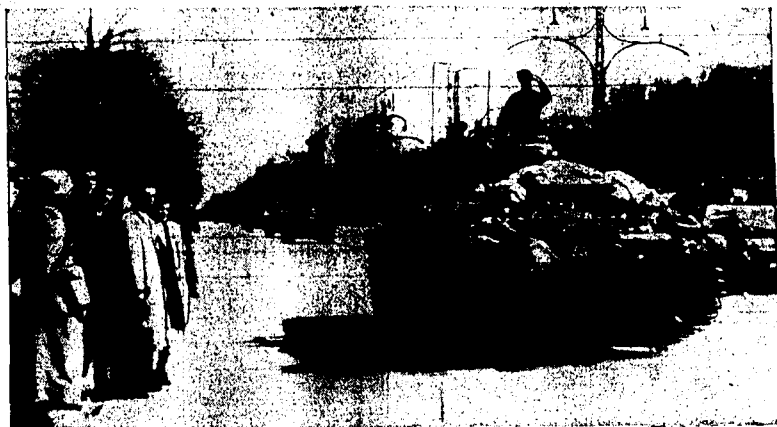

Reported said five fugitives were recaptured in one beat, four in another, and officials said it was "only a matter of time" until all of them would be rounded up. The fugitives were said to be German airmen captured in England. They escaped through a 600-foot tunnel.

It was the latest, best, that far from a Canadian prison camp, The camp, at Angles, Ont., is near the Canadian Pacific railway division point at Detroit.

WHEELER BLASTS MONEY CHANGERS. SPOKANE, Wash., April 19 (U.P.)—Sen. Burton K. GERMANS FAIL TO CUT ALLIED LINES

Bullet Fatal to North Side Man; Suspect, 70, Held

JEROME, April 19 (Special)—Fatally wounded shortly after noon today in what officers believe was an argument, Stanley Casio, about 30, died this afternoon at St. Valentine's hospital in Wendell.

Taken to the hospital after the shooting, Casio sank swiftly and failed to rally. James Roberts, about 70, was being held in county jail as the suspect believed by officers to have fired the shot which killed Casio.

County Prosecutor Richard Seeley said that an investigation is being made and that any charges to be filed would depend on the findings of this investigation. The fatal shooting is said to have started as a result of an argument.

A witness to the shooting, W. H. Smith, about 50, told officers that he was talking to Casio when Roberts approached and engaged in the conversation. Smith said that Roberts, during the discussion, called Casio's wife a "vile" name, after which the two men engaged in an argument.

Smith said that he attempted to separate the two, but was unsuccessful in his attempt to avert the shooting. Casio dropped his bullet in his chest and died not long after.

Smith said that he then grappled with Roberts again and succeeded in throwing him into a small ditch. The two men fought for a few minutes, but was unsuccessful in his attempt to avert the shooting.

Nazi Troops Plant Flag At Olympus

BERLIN, April 19 (U.P.)—German troops have planted the swastika on Mt. Olympus, throne of the old Greek gods, after breaking the British line, and have captured Larissa, the vitally important railroad terminal 30 miles to the west, the high command said today.

Other German troops, to the west, are pushing through the British-Greek line northward of the Epirus mountains, the high command said. German storm troops beat back the British rear guard on both sides of Mt. Olympus yesterday and reached its southern side, it was asserted.

Mountain elements of the swastika of Nazi Germany, were seen at the foot of the gods, Zeus, according to military sources. The swastika, and surveyed mortal man below.

British troops were driven from heavily fortified mountain positions on the east end of the line, the Nazis said, and German troops pressed through to take Larissa, 140 miles northeast of Athens.

Dive Bombers in Action. The official news agency reported British dive bombing planes were continuously bombing and machine gunning the German troops in the Larissa area and in the Ioannina sector to the west.

The Berlin reports would indicate the allies must attempt to withdraw their entire line some 30 miles to the south to make a new stand on the Epirus mountains. (If they did so they would make their stand on the British right flank at Thermopylae.)

GOVERNMENT DECIDES ON NO CHANGE IN SUGAR QUOTA

RESERVE SUPPLY REPORTED LARGE ENOUGH FOR ALL

WASHINGTON, April 19 (Special)—The agriculture department today announced that domestic sugar beet and sugar cane production allotments previously established for this year will not be changed.

The announcement was made after weeks of consideration of request by producers, processors and consumers that acreage quotas be increased or abolished because of apprehension that off-shore supplies might not be available.

The department said that in view of developments in the international situation and the sugar market during recent months, consideration had been given to the advisability of increasing 1941 allotments.

"But, because of the availability of large reserve stocks in some of the domestic areas, as well as in nearby foreign areas, it has been decided to maintain the allotments at their present level," the department said.

Sugar beet acreage this year was reduced approximately 10 per cent to 820,000 acres and sugar cane allotments were established at 300,000 acres.

Minimize Shortage
Apprehension of a shortage of sugar was caused by reports that there may be a shortage of ships to bring Hawaiian, Philippine and other off-shore supplies. Consideration is being given to the possibility of trying in quantities sufficient to fill their quotas.

Officials minimized the prospect of a shortage and held that adequate supplies are available. If needed, to meet domestic demand from Puerto Rico and other nearby areas.

JEROME, April 19 (Special)—Approximately 90 or 100 high school students, among those who will converge on Jerome next week for the three-day musical festival April 23, 24 and 25, will be provided by various Jerome residents who will let spare rooms in their homes. It was announced today.

Coming from surrounding counties of south Idaho, most of the students will return to their homes. It was stated, and no overcrowding situation is expected.

At a meeting of the Jerome Chamber of Commerce Wednesday, plans for the festival were discussed further and an advertising committee was appointed to make arrangements for using the back of the festival program in advertising.

Announcement was made that the Chamber of Commerce will underwrite the cost of the 18 band plaques for the competing bands, which will amount to approximately $100.

Tentative plans were discussed for securing a thoroughbred yearling bull to be given away as a grand prize. The drawing is to be held at the Jerome livestock sales yard, early in May.

The sales yard will be known as the Jerome livestock sales yard, and it is rapidly nearing completion. It will be a more efficient and more rapid dispatching point, and is located west of the city near the Oregon Short Line stockyards.

The sales building will be approximately 60 feet in dimension, housing a crescent shaped grandstand which will seat more than 400 persons.

Directly in front of the stand is a 50 by 16 foot sales pit, so arranged that livestock may be led from the west side door of the structure and put on the block, directly in the center of the ring, led out the opposite end and on to permanent scales, and then directly to the loading pens.

'Clothing From Autos' Plan Sought as Nationwide Move

Mrs. Walter E. Harman, Jerome, who originated the unique idea of making clothing for the needy out of upholstery found in discarded and wrecked autos, today had urged that the project not be confined to one locality or state, but rather be nationwide in scope.

During her talk Mrs. Harman displayed several articles of clothing which had been made in the manner explained. She said nearly 80 members of the women's council of the Christian church at Jerome have put the plan into practice and as a result 600 persons have been aided by receiving the 1,500 articles of clothing which have been made. She pointed out that the material obtainable from the wrecked automobiles includes broadcloth, mohair, corduroy, plush, velvet, burial, cotton and muslin.

Articles made include sick suits, men's bathrobes, comforters, mattresses, cushions, pillows, coats for men and women, trousers, dresses, rugs and many others.

Committee Named
At conclusion of her talk, Harry Elosek, president, named a special committee to cooperate in the project. Members are Mrs. Cora Stevie, chairman; Capt. C. H. Thomas, of the Salvation Army; and John Brozman.

130 Enrolled in Cassia 4-H Clubs

BURLEY, April 19 (Special)—Work of 4-H clubs in Cassia county is getting well underway for this year, according to W. W. Palmer, county agent, who this week announced an enrollment of 111 clubs with 103 members so far.

This number, however, will have to be increased about three times to reach the large participation of 1940, and club enrollments are expected to come in quite fast now, and a group as large as last year is anticipated.

Leaders of clubs started to date are as follows: Clyde Manning, Springdale, sheep club, seven members; Ronald Wilson, Burley, dairy club, eight members; William W. Brusch, Almo, beef club, six members; Fred Martin, Burley, beef club, nine members; Jack Pierce, Malta, beef club, eight members; G. H. McDonald, Burley, forestry, 23 members; Charlton Peterson, Starbuck, Perry, club, eight members; Edward Kraus, View, swine club, five members; Mrs. H. J. Steel, Springdale, clothing, eight members; Noreen Clertus, Burley, nutrition, 12 members; Mrs. Ralda Halford, Unley, clothing, nine members.

4-H club leaders of the six southern Idaho counties will attend a leader's short course at Twin Falls April 28 and 29, at which time they will be given specialized instruction and training.

Club work is progressing again this year under the supervision of two club councils in the county. First meeting of the Raft river council was held at Almo last week with 20 leaders in attendance, along with parents and club members.

It appears that this year there will be some new types of clubs which have not been started in the county previously. There are no prospects for two or three weed clubs where members learn to identify and mount serious weeds and learn methods of control. There will also be two or three canning clubs, the first for many years in the county. Practically all of the girls' club work in the past has been clothing work, and although the boys' club work has varied, it has been mostly of a livestock nature.

Plans Discussed For Theme Week

JEROME, April 19 (Special)—Sixty members were present at the attendance contest party, arranged Wednesday evening at the M.I.A. meeting of the L.D.B. church.

Plans were discussed for the M. Men and Gleaser Girls' banquet and also for theme week.

Hosts of the evening were the white site, which lost in the contest, and guests were the red site.

The opening song of the M.I.A. meeting was "Say, Speak No Till" followed by opening prayer by Mrs. Madge Gibbons. Scripture reading was by Miss Goldie Heahn. The groups separated for class work activities, following the benediction by Walter Terry.

At the close of the classes, games and contests were played, and refreshments served.

Shirley Ann Moreland, Bernice Gluck and Laurel Clark, appeared on the program with vocal solos, accompanied by Philip Cory and Joan Gillilan.

Mariners' Club Engages Magician

DEMAND FOR EFFICIENCY!

That's Why Heavy Power Installations and Chrysler Cars Have Fluid Drive

"Immediate adaptation to variable power load" . . . that's how science describes the function of Fluid Drive.

To give gasoline engines the fluid flexibility of steam was long the goal of research engineering.

Efficiency and economy were demanded . . . for industry must count the last penny of cost.

Flexibility to meet all load conditions . . . scientific control of power slippage in place of the hit and miss power loss of individual driving . . . ability to pick up great loads easily and with ever-mounting power . . . these were the economic requirements of industry.

Fluid Drive was the answer! Today the identical scientific principle that drives your Chrysler Car is efficiently serving in huge Diesel powered ships . . . great double-deck buses . . . the heaviest hauling tractor-trucks . . . giant industrial refrigeration plants.

Fluid Drive gives industry, as it gives the driver of a Chrysler Car, double economy . . . efficient application of power . . . plus longer life for the mechanism because of lessened wear and strain from jerks and jolts.

Now you can have this two-way efficiency in your own car—if it's a Chrysler—and in addition . . . ease, smoothness and silence possible only with genuine Fluid Drive.

New and old owners of Fluid Drive Chryslers now, for the third year, are reporting greater economy than from their former cars.

Why shift gears? Why stumble away when you can glide away? Chrysler Fluid Drive—jerk-free and jolt-free—is easier on both car and driver. The nearest Chrysler dealer cordially invites you to make a real test of Fluid Drive efficiency and ease.

Defense Growth Spreads Across U. S.

The first orders in the defense program went largely to those parts of the country which were already highly industrialized. That is natural, because plants already in existence, and concentrations of skilled labor already assembled, could be turned to defense production more quickly than new plants could be built.

But the second phase has now begun. New plants which had to be built to supplement existing facilities or to fill gaps in munitions production are being located inland. In Washington offices hang maps with a red line drawn 250 miles inside the seacoast and land boundaries of the country. That is a "safety zone," inside which plants and populations are assumed to be relatively secure from bombing attacks. New plants which did not exist at all before the defense program are being located well within this "safety zone." Lake City, Mo., and Denver, Colo., see new small arms plants rising. Milan, Tenn., has an ordnance plant, and powder and loading plants rise at Charlestown, Ind. The southern and western areas of the country have been promised "every possible preference" in locating new plants.

This is all to the good from every point of view. In the first place, the events of the European war have shown the priceless advantage of having a country's productive facilities scattered. If a few terrific air raids on a concentrated industrial area can cripple a country's production, that country is in a bad way. But if it has many airplane, steel, auto, and munitions plants scattered all over a vast country, it is much better protected against sudden raids or sabotage.

There is the further fact that it is not good for a country to be completely divided into sections entirely devoted to one kind of production. If a vast section of a country has nothing but farmers, that section will have interests which may be different from a section which is largely made up of industrial cities. Where as if industrial production is scattered so that all sections have their factories and cities, and all have their farms, the whole country is better balanced, and sectional differences are far less likely to arise. Therefore it is possible that great benefits will come to the whole pattern of the nation due to the sheer necessity of building industrial plants for safety's sake in regions where they had not gone naturally. Here is another of those changes which is going on so quietly that we scarcely realize it. Yet this, too, like so many other changes that are taking place today, they may greatly change the America that is to be.

Uncle Sam, Ferryboatman

Some people were very much worried recently when the U. S. army took over a number of passenger vessels to convert into transports. This, said the wise ones, means an expeditionary force.

But not necessarily. When you realize that the United States is now building or maintaining military posts and bases in Alaska, Hawaii, Panama, Jamaica, Puerto Rico, Bermuda, Cuba, Newfoundland, Greenland, and a dozen other far-flung scattered places far from the mainland, it becomes clear that a considerable ferry service is going to be needed all the time to keep these places supplied and to make continual changes, reinforcements, and shifts of troops. You don't have to think in terms of war at all to see that an establishment of this size and dispersion needs quite a fleet at all times, and that Uncle Sam has become a ferryboatman on a gigantic scale.

When Somebody Gives—That's News!

Not "What can I get?" but "What can I do?" Everybody knows that we need more of that spirit. Not so many actually do anything about it.

In Lincoln, Ill., 600 members of the Logan County Building and Construction Trades council are doing something about it. A proposal had been made by the Lincoln Evening Courier that ornamental approaches be built at the points where state highways entered Lincoln. Leaders of the carpenters, teamsters, painters, plumbers, and common laborers' unions became interested. Their members volunteered to do the work without cost to the state, which cooperated in leading planners and machinery.

On May 10 Lincoln unveiled the first of a series of approaches, made possible because it has men enough of their own to be willing to do something about it; because it has men who can do it; and because "What can I get?" but "What can I do?"

SECRET OF X-999

CHAPTER III

The office clock showed 9:02, but Dr. Hale was unaware of the thing existed. He was still dithering, walking slowly beside the windows where he could glance out at the night.

More often, though, he glanced at Carolyn Tyler, somehow her presence here was exalting. A subtle, delicate presence. A fragrance. He had never quite observed this phenomenon while with Leana Sornl, his feminine associate in the laboratory. Patently Miss Tyler was somehow set apart among the feminine gender as a superior.

His thoughts snapped back again to the business at hand. He resumed dithering.

"—whereas it seemed advisable to interrupt the actual laboratory work and make this detailed report, lest some quirk of fate eliminate both Miss Sornl and me from this earth tonight. We are the only two human beings who held this priceless secret. Moreover, the public has been entitled to know what has been accomplished. As to what may be expected from this isolate, which I have tentatively designated X-999, I will venture this much:

"One—of the most important points of X-999, in its 10 to 50 per cent purity, would drive all of America's ocean liners and naval vessels for months without refueling, if the power were properly harnessed. One pound of the substance is equivalent to 2,000,000 pounds of coal or 2,000,000 pounds of gasoline. Two, in explosive power is—

"That sublimation, who gave them all records had the best close-shaven. And what more, Edmondson was heard to admit that he had a picture taken when he was a baby—and he didn't have any hair then. This mystery is solved at last. There evidently never has been any hair under the hat. —D. Teetive

THE HE-CAT, MITTENS AND A SCHOOLMARM!

Third Row: About the column squib of Friday about Mrs. G. Owens and her heart which turned out to be a she on the evidence of seven kittens: "That schoolmarm, who gave 'em the cat, yowped up and down that it was a miter cat and said she knew 'cause she'd been keeping cat-pets for years!" However, the lady has no way of getting around those seven kittenish. —Eddy Carabum

BROADWAY'S HITS ARE TOPS IN FUN; NEW BOOKS OF PLAYS

"Murder is rarely amusing, but amusing and grand. Their score of two lovable old ladies and terror-mom Boris Karloff is Broadway's biggest laugh hit of the current season. You'll understand why after you read Joseph Kesselring's 'Arsenic and Old Lace' (Random House). Three homicidal maniacs and a serving brother who imagines he is Theodore Roosevelt, provide more than a half dozen so-called humorous plays.

In Washington

BY PETER EDSON

Washington, April 19.—The little matter of checking up on the observance of some 275 federal laws dealing with various phases of defense is one of the more important but lesser known jobs the department of justice has had to tackle.

Another lawyer: Biggest job ahead of the unit now is organization of a staff to administer the work of the department of justice. Mr. Smith says in Washington qualified to take on DNDU. This special unit is now in the process of organization, owing to the increasing complexity of the defense setup, but ever since the neutrality act of 1939, the unit has had to figure out the details of the international hash pots that have been cooking, including the legal aspects of recent habeas corpus, destruction of foreign propaganda, mail registration and so on.

ANSWER TO YESTERDAY'S FAMOUS LAST LINE

Mr. Nellis Orms.

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

Attention, You Pedestrians With Itchy Feet

At a recent meeting of the Turan Sewing Society, reference was made to your crusade for assisting shopkeepers to also assist shopkeepers. One of our members suggested another way to be righted and the fellow all agreed that "Not only is the power to prosecute the good work."

Our pet peeve on that particular night was to fever temperatures concerning these heel-foot peddlers who can't step where they belong—but insist on standing in the middle of the street interfering with the traffic of the "go" sign.

None of us actually chose to commit mayhem on any offender nor get a ticket for reckless driving, but all agreed "that there'd ought to be a law..."

It's a matter of influence and courage and tact when tact is the best weapon. Won't you please do something about this nuisance? One of the members thought they'd rather be home nights with the families than in "solitary" up to Bole.

Thank you

—Fortia James Jones (Secretary)

Grange Gleanings

By A. HARVESTER

FAIRVIEW Sorry to be so late with this column this week but have been waiting all week for someone to send me some grain news, but the letter never came. Guess I'll have to do a little sleuthing, as it were.

Well, the contest that has been going on out at Fairview since about the first of the year came to a close last night in a game of golf with the winners of both sides fired with such zeal that they just literally poured the names of the applicants into the hands of the secretary, Lois Rob, and she had a hot time as the names were read, of persons who should have been members of Fairview Grange for many years but were not because no one had taken the trouble to present the case of the Grange to them with enough zeal to sway the board of the farmers to get together.

50 New Members But wait, about that amount added in the first department out at Fairview when they see this glowing account, and all about place and fire and enough zeal to sway the board of the contest ended and the net result is 55 new members for the Grange and that about 1000 of the part of the old members to see that they all find a place to work in the organization, which is no easy task.

What the roll of officers was called last night, it was found that all were in their stations and that about 1000 of the part of the old members to see that they all find a place to work in the organization, which is no easy task.
