Nation's Soft Coal Mines to Be Reopened Thursday

South Operators Reach Agreement To End Shutdown

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP)—The United Mine Workers announced today that production will be resumed in the soft coal mines Thursday morning.

The announcement was made by a spokesman for John L. Lewis, UMWA president, after he had conferred with district presidents and informed them that the southern operators had agreed to end the 28-day shutdown.

The mine reopening was delayed until Thursday, it was said, because it is the first of the month. If the mines opened tomorrow it would necessitate making out complete monthly payrolls for one day's work. Maintenance workers at both the northern and southern Appalachian fields were ordered to prepare them for a resumption of work at once. Railroads marshaled thousands of empty coal cars to rush new supplies of the vital fuel. Plants and other defense industries whose stocks were approaching depletion.

Accept Formula Southern operators accepted "without reservation" last night President Roosevelt's formula for a 10 percent wage increase. The formula, which the southern operators had agreed to accept, provides for a 10 percent wage increase for the first of the month. It will be weeks before the industry can put back into operation the coke ovens it was forced to close in its previous peak.

John L. Lewis, president of the union, promised Mr. Roosevelt that the miners would return to work as expeditiously as possible and almost all mines were opened tomorrow. Full coal production will not be achieved before Friday and it will be next week before the railroad can begin unloading the depleted stocks of industry.

4-H STUDY UNIT CONCLUDES HERE The northern Appalachian operators, who employ 250,000 men, reached a tentative agreement with the union two weeks ago that a basic wage scale of $7 a day, a $1 a day increase. The southern miners had broken away from the Appalachian conference to establish a separate conference, and offered an 11 percent increase in wages, less than the northern offer. The conference is increasing the wage differential between north and south which the union has accepted.

MINE CLOSES ON STRIKER THREAT GRASS VALLEY, Calif., April 29 (AP)—The Idaho-Maryland Gold Mining company today closed its Pullman mine, which employed 50 men, in the face of strike threats by unorganized miners who demand a five-cent wage increase. The company said the Pullman mine was not a profitable venture and could not operate at the new wage rate. The independent miners have threatened to strike Thursday morning against two other mines owned by the company, the Idaho-Maryland and New Brunswick. Two mines employ approximately 850 men, most of them members of the mine workers' protective league which holds a contract with the company.

PLANE CONTRACT AWARDED WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP)—The war department today awarded a $17,811,000 contract to Boeing Airplane Co. Seattle, for an undisclosed number of airplanes and spare parts.

JESSE JONES PREDICTS NATIONAL DEBT OF 90 BILLION

SECRETARY SEES MORE THAN JUST FIGHT OF WORDS

By SANDOR & KLEIN
WASHINGTON, April 29 (Special)—Secretary of Commerce Jesse H. Jones warned today that the defense and British aid programs will require more sacrifice and cost than supposed because "this is almost certain to prove to be more than a battle of words and production." He predicted that the national debt would rise to more than $90,000,000,000.

He told the annual meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce that one out of every four man-hours of work would have to be devoted to war production. This means, he said, that production of the normal things of life will have to be cut down and that people will have to get along with fewer of the things to which they are accustomed.

Jones said the $40,000,000,000 in defense expenditures already authorized for the next two years will not yet be appropriated by Congress will be spent during the next two to four years.

"Ask Halt in Bickering"

Speaking as a government official and business man, he called for a halt to bickering between business and government. He pleaded for national unity and called for the utmost efforts to preserve the democratic way of life.

Worries spoke on the same program with Arthur T. Vanderbilt of New York, N. J., author of a new executive procedure, who told the businessmen that it would be fruitless to prepare for defense without at the same time preparing to cope with the economic and social upheavals that inevitably follow.

Jones, asserting that "we do not want to get in the war, now, a year hence or 10 years hence," said we must aid the democracies and "for our own security... we must build and maintain an army and a navy of such strength that no power will ever dare attack us."

Means Great Sacrifice

All this, he said, will mean great effort, expenditure and sacrifice. "A few months ago," he said, "we were worrying about whether we should afford to increase government borrowing authority above $45,000,000,000."

"It seems probable now that it will grow to at least double that amount, even allowing for paying as much of this extraordinary cost as our economy can stand from current taxes," he said. "Frankly, it has never occurred to me that we could not carry a national debt equal to a year's income, and as we build the national income we can carry more debt."

"But whatever amount we have to borrow, we must commence to pay back today, the emergency is over."

COLLEGIAN TESTS 100 AFTER DIETRICH KISS

HOLLYWOOD, April 29 (Special)—Bob Moore, 23-year-old San Francisco college baseball star who boasted that kisses left him cold, came to Hollywood and got a four-minute snacker from blond Marlene Dietrich. The kiss practically wrecked Bob and a machine which was supposed to register the voltage of such things.

The kiss experiment, a combination of science and movie press agency, was arranged after San Francisco tryouts of a gadget called a psychometer, invented by Dr. Joseph Catton of Stanford university. It was supposed to register "manpower." It was named "just happened—that Warner Bros. were making a picture of that name."

Today's experiment was conducted at the Warner's studio. The experimenter clamped the machine's contact to Bob's hand and Miss Dietrich edged in closer. Bob fidgeted a bit but did not seem unduly disturbed.

"Okay," said the man at the dial, "let 'er go!"

Miss Dietrich wrapped both arms around the S. F. State college lad and planted a kiss such as you'll never see on the screen. The censors wouldn't stand for it. A stop-watch clicked at four minutes.

The needle zoomed upward and hit 100, the highest figure on the dial. Bob seemed to turn sort of white and then red. The needle stuck at 100 and they couldn't get it down again. Bob was clear out of breath and unable to say a word.

"M-m-m-m-m," said Miss Dietrich.

When he got his breath back Miss Dietrich asked him:

"Bob, do you have a girl friend?"

"Yes," he said, "a blond. Been going with her for six years."

"Boy," she said, "you're in for trouble."

Bob tried to explain his previous lack of reaction by something about lack of metabolism. It didn't sound very convincing.

AVIATION CLASS STARTS REVIEW

Students in the local civilian flight training program ground school today had started on a two-week review period before taking final examinations in their quest for flight scholarships at the local airport. It was announced this afternoon.

The review period got underway at the ground school last night under the direction of Maynard Craig, instructor. Students will review until May 18 at which time the final examination will be given by a government inspector who will come here for the purpose.

The ground course includes 72 hours of study embracing the subjects of navigation, meteorology and air commerce rules and regulations. Classes have been held at the farm labor camp community hall through the courtesy of Roy C. Lane, camp manager.

Craig said that from 35 to 40 students will take the final examination of flight scholarships. The 10 students receiving the highest grades will gain the flight course which, will require 100 hours of flying, obtaining a private pilot's license. One man can be among the first 10 if he passes the examination in the upper brackets. The test which will be given May 13 takes three hours to write. In addition to those competing for the flight scholarships, five non-competitors are scheduled to take the exam.

At last night's study session, Sgt. Frank Morris, local army recruiter, spoke briefly and announced arrival of an army bomber at the airport tonight at 10 a. m. Public inspection of the plane will be permitted, he said.

FDR'S SECRETARY RIDICULES LINDY FOR RESIGNATION

ATTACKS 'EAGLE' FOR PRE-MATURE NOTE DISCLOSURE

WASHINGTON, April 29 (AP) — Stephen T. Early, spokesman for President Roosevelt, said today that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's manner of submitting his resignation from the army air corps reserve "leads me to believe that he is returning his decoration to Mr. Hitler."

About four years ago, Lindbergh, visiting Berlin, was awarded the order of the German Eagle, a high Nazi decoration, by Field Marshal Hermann Goering. The presentation was made to Lindbergh for distinguished flying achievements.

Without disclosing whether Lindbergh's resignation will be accepted by Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, Early said the aviator's letter announcing his intention has not yet been received at the White House.

Critical of Lindy sharply, Early said that Lindbergh made public his letter before it reached the President. Early said this was the second case in which the aviator made public his communication to Mr. Roosevelt before it was in the President's hands.

Early said the first time was in 1934 when the President cancelled all private airmail contracts and turned over to the army the surplus of surplus carrying mail aircraft. Lindbergh protested.

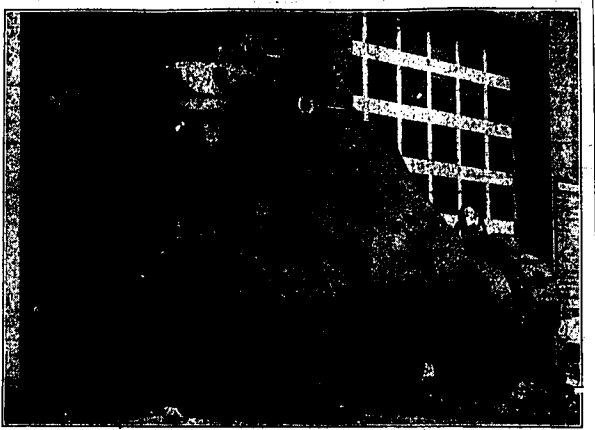

Asked whether Mr. Roosevelt would accept Lindbergh's resignation, Early said Stimson's action, when and if the resignation is accepted, would provide a final verdict.

"Wouldn't have doubts" — "From what the President indicated Friday morning," Early said, "Lindbergh wouldn't have any doubts even if he continued to hold his commission. Now there is a commission that someone else can hold."

In his letter to Mr. Roosevelt, announcing his intention to resign his commission, Lindbergh referred to the President's criticism of his anti-aircraft and anti-war activities. Lindbergh had left him no alternative but to withdraw from the air corps reserve roster.

Resignation of reserve officers, if not on active duty, during emergency periods are not usually accepted or encouraged. However, there is no iron-clad rule against it and the secretary of war has complete power to make the decision.
