When Hitler and Churchill Agree

You don't expect, these days, agreement between Adolf Hitler and Winston Churchill on anything. But they do appear to agree on one thing—and it is a thing that has significance for the United States.

That last is a significant utterance in a country which from many official sources was promised final victory last fall. It means that Hitler knows that victory in the Balkans is not victory in the war.

The mighty fortress of Britain stands, battered and bruised, but unshaken. The control of the seas is still British. The world-wide empire is intact.

That does not mean that the United States can hold back for a moment in the delivery of munitions so urgently needed. Yugoslavia and Greece fell in about three weeks. A ship-load of supplies starting from New York the very day the Germans invaded would not have reached them before the whole tragedy was over.

Hitler's own suggestion of "a hard battle year" makes it pretty clear that this will not be true of other battle zones. Whatever war material is on the way to Greece, for instance, will probably wind up in Egypt, not wasted. And American production is beginning to get under way.

Now is no time for faltering in the course we have chosen.

Rumania Hits Bottom

We wouldn't pretend to know much about Rumanian politics, which always at this distance look a good deal like an egg scrambling itself.

But that is all in the past. Rumanian politics is simple now. Baron von Killingner, Hitler's "ambassador" to Rumania, has announced formally at Bucharest, that General Antonescu is "Rumania's representative for Adolf Hitler."

We seem to recall that General Antonescu claimed the title of "premier" or some such name vaguely suggesting that in some way he represented the people. On Sept. 6, 1940, Antonescu was crying, "Brother Rumanians! From the depths of a heavy heart I appeal to you to forget all and to rally around our young and beloved king" (Michael).

His heart may have been heavy then, but it was apparently elastic. The masquerade is over. Today he is "Rumania's representative for Adolf Hitler."

Hint for Labor Peace

A little more than two years ago Toledo launched, amid widespread skepticism, a plan for a local board to mediate, conciliate and peacefully settle labor disputes.

Result: Toledo has had only 15 minor strikes in the past 28 months. There is no magic in it, no "open sesame" in the simple plan of a local board from which panels try to adjust disputes. Success has come not from a technique, but from a spirit. First, Toledo had a series of strikes so disastrous that they pretty well showed both sides that there was no future in them. That brought (the hard way) a certain mutual willingness to seek a better road.

Then the local board gradually built up a reputation for fairness, which slowly brought about a tendency to trust it.

And lo, and behold, without any magic machinery or trick laws, but by initial good-will and long, arduous work, Toledo finds that it has got something.

A crooked line is the shortest distance between two points.

Some drivers who guess they can make it never have any more guess coming.

In Washington

BY FRITZ EDSON

WASHINGTON, May 1.—There are no two ways about it—functions of the administration of your federal government are so complex that it is impossible for anyone not entirely familiar with the workings of that particular agency to keep track of what it does. Even most members of congress who have passed the laws creating most of these agencies, or at least appropriate ones to keep them going, are just as confused as a taxpayer.

SHOULD DRAW PICTURES. What these congressmen have trouble in fathoming is the simple fact that the OPM was set up by President as a purely advisory board and that it has no judicial or executive powers.

Moonlit Garden Setting Wins Acclaim for Hosts

Verbal orchids for the host committee were as numerous as the apple blossoms and lilac blooms which helped to convert the Elks ballroom into "a spring garden by moonlight" last evening.

Occasion was the final dance of the season for the O.A.O. Dancing club, and the perfection of background decor, arranged by the entire committee, called forth superlatives from the dance attendants.

Guests entered the ballroom through a white-latticed pergola, garlanded with deep green woodwardia pink, blue and lavender morning glories, to be greeted by the host committee, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Eaton, co-chairmen; Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Schwendiman, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Randall, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Fortner, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Kinney and Wilton Peck, who also comprised the decorating committee, and Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Gilbert, honor guests.

There was a cluster of gardenias for Mrs. Gilbert, chairman of the board of governors this past year. It was presented in appreciation of her activities in that capacity, by J. H. Blandford, chairman of the house committee of the board.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert and son, Stephen, are leaving soon for Boise to make their home, after several years' residence in Twin Falls.

While the guests were assembling, the Troubadours, Relna Devries, M. Scherbinski and Leo Laib, played soft music from the balcony.

Mrs. Roy Edgeon, Vancouver, B. C., was among the out-of-town guests. She is the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Read, friends since her early-day residence in Twin Falls.

The west end of the ballroom was converted into a terraced garden, carpeted with artificial grass. A shingled, stylized summer house, that might have been taken from a Walt Disney cartoon, formed the central motif for the look at one end of the garden.

A late green pottery bird bath, over which a bluebird hovered; bright garden furniture; white trellises, flower-twined, and baskets of lavender lilacs and jars of apple blossoms surrounded it.

At the other end was a red and white umbrella table and matching chairs, and a similar background treatment of flowers. In the center was a bower for the orchestra.

A white picket fence, complete with a gate, and entwined with garlands and woodwardia, marked off the garden setting from the dance floor.

Blue-paned garden lanterns on tall silver standards, entwined with woodwardia, were placed at either end of the fence, and at other vantage points, to shed a softly suffused "moonlight" glow over the ballroom.

An arresting color spot was achieved by three hanging baskets of coral-pink geraniums and greenery, suspended above a long white latticed panel at the other end of the pavilion.

It was also decked with flower garlands and Woodwardia. Awning swings were on either side. Old-fashioned hollyhocks clamored over a strip of white picket fence across the hall from the pergola. Ornamental bronze hurricane lamps, lighted with blue bulbs, swung on either side of the pergola.

Hung above eye level on the wall panels, were wicker baskets of purple lilacs.

Will Wright's orchestra played the dance music for the evening.

The military accent entered the picture with the arrival of First Lieut. and Mrs. James S. Keel, jr. The officer attended the dance in uniform.

They came to Twin Falls Tuesday from Camp Murray, Wash., accompanied by their young son, John. Mrs. Keel will remain here while Lieut. Keel is on maneuvers for the next two months.

Contrasting the peacetime atmosphere of Twin Falls with the national defense bustle around Tacoma, Mrs. Keel observed that "Tuxedos are a rarity at dances on the coast anymore. You see uniforms everywhere."

Among the pre-dance parties was the buffet supper for 40 guests arranged by Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Tofflemire and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Penney at the Park hotel. Mrs. Pidgeon was among the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Hinkle were hosts to a number of their friends at their home, 228 Ninth avenue east, preceding the dancing party.

Eight guests assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Paul Thomas, 129 Lincoln street, for a no-host supper as a preface to the evening's activities.

Crippled Children to Benefit From Party

Members of Zenobia club, Daughters of the Nile, will be able to make a $170 contribution to the hospital in Salt Lake City for the care of crippled children, under the direction of the Shrine, as the result of a successful benefit card party and dance Tuesday evening at the American Legion Memorial hall.

Total proceeds were announced today by Mrs. Claude Gorden, general chairman of arrangements.

Baskets of flowering almond, flowering peach and fruit blossoms, combined with balloons and crepe paper streamers, made the hall festive for the occasion.

Intermission highlight was the showing of shrine hospital motion pictures by H. Eugene Briscoe, Boise, member of the board of directors of the Shrine's hospital for crippled children in Portland.

Glenn Bates and orchestra played the dance music. Tables were also arranged for cards, six tables of pinocchle and four of bridge being at play.

The punch table was illuminated by green tapers in candelabra.

CLUB TO NEW FOR VETERANS' HOSPITAL

Lead-A-hand club members will make utility bags for the Veterans' hospital in Boise, according to decision reached when the group met last week at the home of Mrs. Ralph Taylor, Mrs. Arlene Fox was assistant hostess.

Fruit blossoms and lilies from the Blue lakes ranch decorated the home of Mrs. Marion Tucker was a guest. Members of the committee headed by Mrs. Mary Miller, conducted a cooked food sale among the members. Refreshments were served.

DOROTHY GAIN

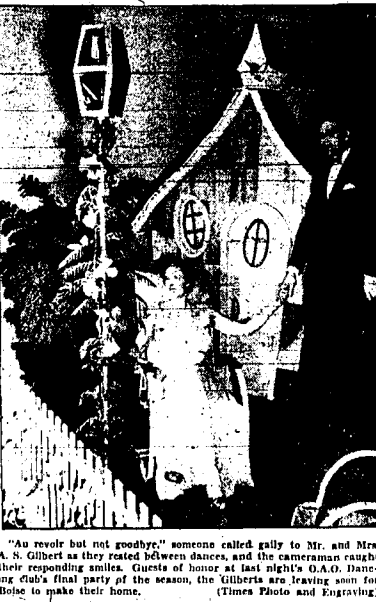

WEDS D. B. HOWELLS
Miss Dorothy Mae Cain, Twin Falls and Doris B. Howells, also of Twin Falls, were united in marriage recently by Rev. E. L. White, Methodist minister at the country home, and Mrs. Verne Sreedlove and Kenneth Cain accompanied the pair.

O. A. O. Club Dances "In Lilac Time"

Disabled veterans of the World War benefit in many ways from America's custom of wearing poppies in honor of the war dead, according to Mrs. Earl Johnson, Pocatello, chairman of Twin Falls unit of the American Legion auxiliary, who is directing the auxiliary's work for the disabled men of veterans in government hospitals and auxiliary workrooms throughout the country are given employment in making poppies each year. This year more than 12,000,000 of the little red flowers have been produced by the disabled and their earnings have amounted to approximately $120,000. A vastly larger number of disabled veterans benefit from the poppies through the Legion and auxiliary rehabilitation program, which poppy funds help finance.

"Although the war is now more than 22 years in the past, the number of disabled veterans is still increasing," said Mrs. Johnson. "Injuries and exposure of war service are adding to the ranks of the disabled each year, as advancing age makes it more difficult for these men to carry on under their handicaps."

Uncle Sam a Friend, Says Elks Essay Contest Victor

By MISS MARIAN FRANSON (Twin Falls High School)

Who is Uncle Sam? Is he merely a symbol or a famous cartoon figure to those living in his nation? No, to me and to a hundred and thirty million other people Uncle Sam is a friend. He is to be found everywhere—the next door neighbor, as "little boy in front of a candy case" as a worker in every walk of life. Uncle Sam is the American Spirit, to be seen on the faces of every person who comes under his influence.

What does he mean to me—this friend, this American Spirit? An incentive to progress, the opportunity to better—public education, social equality, a competition system whereby you are recognized by your own merits and your own abilities. Accepting everyone as an individual, working with all and together we build a new era of progress and of opportunity.

Initiative

As the American Spirit he has given me encouragement to dream. Not to dream aimlessly and without purpose but rather to dream and make those dreams a reality. Hindered by a uniformity forced upon us, our nation has developed by making use of the initiative, the life people have.

But behind all surface advantages which Uncle Sam gives us is our heritage. An American home to no man, to no "state," to no "cause" for the American is Uncle Sam. He is the American. He is the one who criticizes him, we may laugh at him, and we may love him for he is ours though we may never be like him. In the annals of history we see how a weak and struggling group of colonies has grown to become a world power. We have seen how the doctrine of our government has spread until now it is one of the major doctrines of political and social science. And what has brought this about? Two things—the love of liberty and the attitude of equality.

He Symbolizes These

"Life liberty, and the pursuit of happiness"—that is what Uncle Sam has meant to all of us since the founding of our country. He stands for individuality, for progress, for the rights of the individual. He stands when our nation is uniting to meet a crisis. Uncle Sam means more to each of us than before. Again all come together to build and any force that might try to destroy the rights of the common people, for these rights are the rights of each personal comfort or personal gain.

I believe in Uncle Sam for he means to me all the qualities that our race has fought for, has worked for, has died for, has sacrificed for. I place my faith in Uncle Sam as the unquenchable American Spirit and as the preserver of a life that gives us a creed of liberty.

INVENTORY TO BE TAKEN ON METAL

WASHINGTON, May 1 (AP)—Defense Production Chief Edward R. Stettinius Jr. today announced a system of rigid inventory control designed to prevent industries from accumulating excess stocks of materials needed for defense production. The controls were applied immediately to 16 metals.

The essence of the controls, Stettinius said at a press conference, is to permit industries to get materials they need but prohibit accumulation of unnecessarily large stocks.

For the time being, he said, the controls will be exercised through sworn statements from suppliers of the metals and the customers buying them.

Failure to comply, he said, "is likely to result in imposition of more drastic controls" such as mandatory, industry-wide allocations.

Stettinius emphasized that the plan is limited now to inventory control and does not constitute mandatory rationing.

The 16 metals placed under inventory control are: Antimony, cadmium, chromium, cobalt, copper, iron, manganese, mercury, molybdenum, nickel, silver, tin, tungsten, vanadium, and secondary metals or scrap containing any of the metals listed.

Ex-Resident Claims He Has Largest Wigwam in World

He has the largest wigwam in the world, says Loring A. Wood, former Twin Falls and Kimberly resident who has been called home from Oregon by the grave illness of his mother, Mrs. Lila Wood Kimberly. Wood, who built Twin Falls in 1920, said he built the wooden wigwam at Sutherland, Ore., and the unique structure houses his own display of wood carvings, which he exhibits to tourists.

50,000 Tourists

He said today that 85,000 tourists have viewed his carvings within two years. The exhibit is housed in a 100-foot building which is now the site of the wigwam because he built the wigwam around it.

There are some figures Wood cited in regard to the wigwam, which dominates the countryside for two miles around:

- It's made of poles and lumber.
- There are 61,000 feet of lumber in the building.
- It is 50 feet in diameter at the base.
- It is 110 feet high.
- It has a beacon light 15 feet above the 110-foot top, and just below the light he will fly the American flag.
- There are 190 poles around the building. Twenty-two of them are large ones, 18 inches at the base, three inches in diameter and 110 feet long.
- Between poles he filled with board lumber.
- At the top he is using, larch or madrone wood in the form of women's heads which he made himself.
- Wood was to have completed the wigwam in about five more working days, but was called here when his mother's condition became serious.
- He will name the odd structure "Umqua Tepe, Largest in the West."

Carving 100 More Years

For this ex-resident, carving about 100 more years, he is now 50 years of age and didn't start to carve until he was 41. He has won mention in Ripley Believe It or Not, and the Portland Oregonian plus a picture display soon of Wood, his tapes and his carvings.

When Wood went to Oregon in 1920, he bought a small campground and began carving for a time. Now he runs a tourist refreshment store and conducts his novelty show of carvings.

His sister, Mrs. Arvilla Freeman Stetson, Calif., also was called to POTASHES REMOVE FROM THE SOIL MORE POTASH THAN NITROGEN AND PHOSPHORIC ACID COMBINED!

THE first requirement in growing profitable potatoes is plenty of potash—the most important plant food for producing high yields, more No. 1's, and good quality. For instance a 300-bushel per acre yield uses 125 lbs. of nitrogen, 38 lbs. of phosphoric acid, and 170 lbs. of potash.

The use of 800 to 1,000 lbs. per acre of any fertilizer analysis in the 1:2:2 or 2:1:3 ratio, such as 8-10-10 or 8-5-12, is recommended. This mixed fertilizer should be applied at time of planting. It pays to make an application of straight potash materials containing 80 to 80% water-soluble potash when manure or cover crops are plowed under preceding potato planting.

Make sure that your dealer sells you a fertilizer containing enough potash to supply what you need for more potato profits this year. You will be surprised how little extra it costs.

SOVIET RUSSIA APPEALS FOR WORLD PEACE ON MAY DAY

REDS POINT OUT OWN RECORD FOR NEUTRALITY AIM

MOSCOW, May 1 (UP)—Soviet Defense Commissar Marshal Bldugov today in a speech in Red square today, asserting that the peoples of all belligerent countries yearn for peace.

"The sooner they attain it the better," Timoshenko's speech was quoted by Tass, the official Soviet news agency.

"The conflagration of war destroys cities, annihilates the most valuable cultural objects; hundreds of ships sink at sea and oceans, hundreds of thousands lose their lives," the marshal told the Red army, navy and air force, intellectual workers and collective farmers in Red square.

"The burden of war weighs heavily upon the toiling masses of capitalist countries, bringing them untold misery and privations."

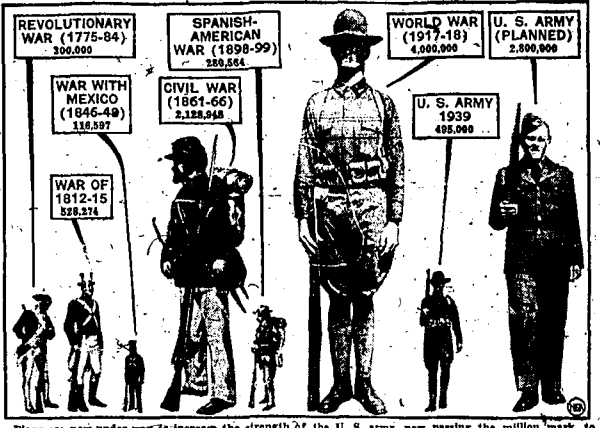

"It is not surprising that the peoples of all belligerent countries strive for the elimination of war and for the establishment of peace."

"And we trust that they will attain peace, and the sooner they attain it the better."

"Timoshenko said that only the peoples of the Soviet Union 'joyfully observe' May day. He warned the Soviet fighting forces that they must be in a constant process of mobilization and preparedness, ready to repel an attack from whatever quarter."

"The Soviet Union keeps out of war and resists its extension," he said. "It is this directed the neutrality pact concluded with our eastern neighbor, Japan, and the other international acts of the Soviet government."

Johnson Makes No Attack on FDR for Commission Refusal

WASHINGTON, May 1 (UP)—Hugh S. Johnson took exception today to the reasons advanced by White House Secretary Stephen T. Early for President Roosevelt's refusal to renew his reserve commission, but avowed his willingness to serve the country in any position "from corporal-up or down."

He revealed that he has written the President, saying: "I am sure that you don't like me any more—and I don't blame you."

The President's refusal was announced yesterday. The reasons given were Johnson's age—58—and the fact that he has not been in active service for many years.

He was a director of the World War Draft and commanded an infantry brigade in 1918. He became a brigadier general of the reserve corps after the war and headed the N.R.A. in the early days of the New Deal.

"I have no criticism or complaint," Johnson said, "about the President's failure to renew upon my application for my reserve commission as brigadier general. No man has a right to demand such an appointment any more than he has to be consecrated a bishop."

"That is the President's business as commander-in-chief and no good soldier would have a word to say."

"As a matter of fact, acceptance of a reserve commission is just an expression of willingness to serve at the call of the President in a particular grade. My condition is altered only in that that my government gave me both my military and legal education and every chance I ever had in life.

"I would serve it at any moment, at any call, in any grade from corporal-up-or-down."

New City Staff Assumes. Reins Here; Changes Few

Twin Falls "official family" had been organized by the administration today and business was continuing as usual with only a few changes in the lineup which served under the previous administration.

Only notable exception was in the position of superintendent of the city waterworks, which was taken over by J. J. Pilgerim, former operator.

Other changes in the fire department were few and far between. Mayor Koehler announced that appointment of a new city attorney would be withheld until a later date, as will appointment of the city electrician and the golf course is also expected at that time.

Following are the appointments advocated by each member of the council, and approved unanimously by other members:

By Ernest Dean, finance commissioner: W. H. Eldridge, city clerk; Charles M. DeWain, city treasurer; Mrs. Dorothy C. Reynolds, chief waterworks clerk; Marvin Mayo and Miss Shirley Smith, assistants.

By O. H. Coleman, fire and police commissioners: Dr. E. B. Price, meat and dairy inspector; H. W. Gillette, chief of police; J. O. Pumphrey, municipal judge; Charles G. Sloan, night sergeant and janitor; J. M. Diamond, desk assistant; James L. Berry, Kenneth Barclay, D. M. Coy, L. D. McCracken, E. E. Rountree, R. C. Winterhagen, Fred Zimmerman, H. W. Zimmerman, patrolmen; T. J. Goekner, special officer.

By Carl Ritchey, parks and public buildings commissioner: C. Glauk Stewart, superintendent of parks; Otto Southworth, H. E. Smith, Arthur Chapin, assistants; Henry Swick, caretaker at Shoshone falls park; P. M. Hickey, caretaker of the city playground; W. F. Green, weighmaster.

By Mayor Joe Koehler: T. O. Cron, chief, lowest adaptation of engine mechanic as airport caretaker. Appointments of the city attorney will probably come next Monday.

Leonard F. Avant and Paul R. Taber left the council last night after their last of four years each. Their last official business came when Taber moved that the bills for April be approved and Avant resigned his position.

Ten to 15 onlookers were present at the session last night as the appointments were announced.

Mrs. Agnes Wildes, who teaches at McCammon, spent the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emmanuel Wildes near Carey. She had, as her guest, Miss Allene Hadley, Rockliffe.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Cameron were business callers in Twin Falls last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Eldredge and son, Lewis and Merlin, and daughter, Mrs. Owen Barton, and baby son left on Monday for Salt Lake City to be with their son and brother, Lee, before he leaves for his L. D. B. mission to the northern states Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Costes and baby son have moved into the Patterson apartment.

Mrs. Carey Turnbull was hostess to the Inter-Nea club at her home near Carey recently. Refreshments were served.

BEET PRACTICES UNCHANGED IN '41

Farming practice requirements for Twin Falls county ranchers participating in the sugar beet program will be the same this year as they were for the 1940 crop.

Carrying out soil-conserving practices on an acreage equal to the acreage planted to sugar beets is one of the conditions on which federal benefit payments are made to sugar beet growers.

Applied to Beets. Land on which the soil-conserving practices are carried out should be adapted to sugar beet production.
