

IRISH PREMIER OPPOSES CONSCRIPTION BY ENGLAND

DE VALERA HITS BRITISH PROGRAM TO GET FIGHTERS

DUBLIN, May 26 (AP)—Premier Eamon de Valera, opposing British conscription in Ulster, told the dail today that to force a man to fight for a country to which he did not desire to belong would be a grievous attack on fundamental human rights.

De Valera spoke to a crowded session of parliament, denouncing Britain's plan to extend conscription to north Ireland, which Eire claims and which contains several hundred thousand republican supporters.

The premier recalled he previously had opposed conscription for the war in Ulster, and he proposed to extend the draft to Ulster.

(At London, Sir Basil Brooke, the Ulster minister of commerce, postponed until tomorrow his plans to leave for home and it was believed he would discuss the de Valera statement with members of the British cabinet).

"There could be no more grievous attack on my function as premier than to force an individual to fight in the forces of another country to which he does not belong," de Valera said.

"It was that feeling which untied the whole Irish people in their repudiation of the conscription bill."

"It was the realization of that fact and, because of other issues involved, which caused the six counties of northern Ireland from the conscription act passed prior to the war."

REPORTS VARIED ON FISH CATCHES

Looking forward to one of their best seasons after the run-off has been completed.

Rock creek anglers found fishing "fair to middlin'" in most of the catches, however numerous, being of the smaller pan-fry type. The small trout, and that had come from Twin Falls were found to be quite densely populated—also with pan-fry.

There were fishermen along every bank in southern Idaho during the day—but from now on the traffic is expected to be considerably less on most streams.

POOR AT BOISE

BOISE, May 26 (AP)—Fishermen, casting flies Sunday on the opening day of the season, reported today they had a great deal of luck—all of it bad.

At Crooked river and on tributaries of the north fork of the Snake river, where the season had been closed for 15 years, fish refused to bite. The anglers, however, said they checked 118 fishings, and other streams in the area of southwest Idaho, and that he had counted 72 fish altogether. He said a heavy rain Saturday and the melting snow in the preceding week had left streams high and muddy.

Anglers reported fair to good catches of trout and reservoirs throughout the state.

STRANGE

Policemen get the strangest calls—sometimes.

At 3:30 a. m. today the police telephone rang and a man reported that "some neckers" were in a car in the alley in the 200 block on Elm street. He added that he had requested them to leave but to no avail. He asked police to get them out.

This afternoon the "result of investigation" column on the police blotter said:

"No neckers seen."

It was signed by Patrolmen Fred Zimmerman and Lee McCracken.

FDR ORDERS OUT IN CASH PARTY

$212,000,000 originally planned for in the budget.

Mr. Hoover has taken up the construction of the law with certain legislative leaders chiefly responsible for it and has received from them letters stating in effect that for the 1941 crop the broad intention is that party payments should, if necessary, be so curtailed as to add to the loan and the soil conservation payments, Mr. Roosevelt.

Limited Payments
"I am extremely confident that in the pending appropriation bill the clear intention and intent will be carried out."

"I am approving this joint resolution on the distinct understanding that party payments will be limited to the amount necessary to bring the basic commodities to parity but not beyond parity."

He added "it should be obvious to all that the government ought not now to change the policy by offering to farmers a total remuneration greater than parity."

AUTO RAMS INTO WALL AT CANYON

A Twin Falls girl suffered a broken leg early Sunday and her escort sustained minor cuts and bruises when their party car crashed into the rock wall on the Snake canyon rim at the end of Washington street. The Reds and Cowboys open the broken leg. She is in the Twin Falls county general hospital.

G. W. Cronman, owner and driver of the machine, told state officers he was not aware he was on the road which ended in the wall. He applied his brakes a considerable distance away but the car slid in the gravel. It was indicated the state patrolman here will confer with highway district officials relative to erection of a warning sign advising motorists the road comes to a dead end at the canyon and "Federation look-out" point.

Damage to the car was estimated at about $150.

BOARD ENDORSED IN DRAFT RULING

Upheld by the district board of appeals at Boise, the Twin Falls county area No. 1 draft board was endorsed today in the ruling it made regarding John A. Kegan, Kimberley registrant.

District appeal officials advised J. H. Seaver, jr., chief clerk, that the board's classification of Kegan in 1-A, the "front line" of available men, has been upheld against Kegan's contention that he should have been given occupational deferment.

The appellant is a Kimberley farmer.

Action of the Boise board marks the fourth time the local draft unit has been upheld. It never has been nullified.

Cowboys Call Off Tilt With Reds Tonight

Jupiter Fluvius visited Twin Falls today—the Cowboys get a rest tonight.

Business Manager Carl Anderson announced this afternoon that the scheduled game with the Ogden Reds for tonight had been postponed. The Reds and Cowboys open their series tomorrow night—weather permitting.

Meanwhile the injury riddled Wranglers stock took of things after week-end shifts that further depleted their ranks. Late developments:

George Out
—Eddie George, leading hitter on the Twin Falls club, has a seriously injured knee and will be out of the lineup for an indefinite period. His collapse Friday night aggravated an old injury. He joins Manager Andy Harrington on the shelf. Both are second basemen.

Orville Williams, optioned to the Cowboys from the Western International League, was given his unconditional release.

Bob Slagg, young catcher sent down from Seattle for the second year in a row, was retained by the Rainiers. Harrington said he rates Slagg a good prospect—but that O'Banion was the first string catcher on this club, and that Bob wouldn't get enough work to gain experience here—the thing he needs.

Two Retained
Meanwhile, Ted Kerr and Hal Brewington, who were slated for option to a Class D club, were being retained and both have been action in recent games.

Acting Manager Hal O'Banion says Earl Kuper, the southpaw hitter, will be the reserve catching for the Cowboys. Kerr, who has been used in the infield, is also a catcher.

Pair at Castleford Tells of Spanish Refugee Experiences

CASTLEFORD, May 26 (Special) — Lucille Arrien, who arrived from Spain a few weeks ago with her sister, Cecilia Arrien, to make her home with another sister, Mrs. Mattie Guerry, Castleford, has had some very dramatic and harrowing experiences in the past five years as she lived in a town which was bombed, machine-gunned and burned, and lost for five months, living the life of a Spanish refugee and was reported dead three times.

When the town of Guernica was bombed and completely demolished the life of a Spanish refugee and had to jump into the river to keep from being shot or burned to death and she and her sister, Cecilia, and other inhabitants fled in all directions as they scattered from the place, according to the girls.

The house in which the Arrien girls resided with their sister and brother-in-law was struck by a bomb and the brother-in-law was killed by a bomb and many other people were killed in the same spot afterwards falling the debris off them, thereby probably saving his life.

Crawled Through Bricks It took three days for the survivors of Guernica to reach Bilbao, 20 miles distant. They had to crawl on their hands and knees through the bricks in order to keep completely hidden, as anything seen moving was bombed by the airplanes coming the country.

Over 200 people on the trek were killed by bombing during those three days and many died of thirst by the wayside. Whole groups would stop to pray to God as they expected death any instant. During these three days they were without water and food and when they expected death any instant, they were offered rice, which Miss Arrien and many were unable to eat due to their physical condition.

Both Arrien girls were refugees in Bilbao at the same time although neither knew the other was there. Cecilia Arrien soon found friends and went to the country with them to live during the time Lucille Arrien was wandering around as a refugee.

Shot Off Water When the officials expected the bombing of Bilbao they shut the water off and three weeks people had to stand in lines, sometimes a half mile long, to get a drink of water, which was hauled into the city in trucks.

During the bombing dead people were lying in all directions, too many to be buried immediately and in some cases impossible because of the way and where this was so the hungry dogs ate the flesh. The dogs develop hydrophobia and are shot to the living or are killed as a protective measure.

The prolonged war has made food very scarce and all is rationed. A roll of black bread, a little larger than a biscuit, is the day's ration of bread and a pound of coffee has to do a person two months.

Anyone reported saying anything or doing anything against the present government by the secret police is shot without a trial of any kind.

RULING PROTECTS USERS OF WOOL

WASHINGTON, May 26 (Special) — The federal trade commission promulgated rules and regulations for the wool industry designed to protect consumers against misrepresentation as to the quality of the product they purchase.

The standards, effective July 15, conform with requirements established in the wool product-labeling act passed by congress in 1939.

All wool products—suits, blankets, coats and sweaters—must be conspicuously and unambiguously labeled as to their fiber content, the maximum percentage of any nonwool fiber (padding, filling or softening matter) and the name of the manufacturer.

The labels must be marked in English and the use of abbreviations of ditto marks will be prohibited. Other requirements include use of distinct type, use of letters and numerals of equal size and conspicuously in naming all fibers and percentages, sufficient background contrast, and elimination of any identifying or obscuring designs or vignettes the information required by law.

They Never Shall Be Missed. People talk of the post-war world, and wistfully list the things they think it would be nice to have then. Not so many have made lists of the things it would be nice to do without. They are making such lists in England. Ko-Ko, in Gilbert and Sullivan's "Mikado," made a very famous list once, of the people "who never would be missed." But now Englishmen are doing that again. Here are a few elements which Hamilton Fyfe, well-known British journalist, thinks England could get along without after the war: "We shall not require, to start with, the Ruling Class which was all powerful up to last May."

A Date's a Date—But Is It? Do you have a date for Memorial day? A date to decorate graves, to go motoring, picnicking, to play and relax? No doubt you have. But are you sure which date it is? You may be sure, but the World Calendar association is not so sure. That's the organization that is working for a new calendar. For instance, Memorial day this year is a Friday. That's swell for people who don't have to work Saturday. But for those who have to be at the office Saturday morning—not so good. Next year Memorial day comes on Saturday. In 1943 it's Sunday, which means that it has to be moved forward to Monday to get a real extra holiday. In 1944, it's a Tuesday. The Calendar association says there's no sense to that, and it is working throughout the world for a new calendar to go into effect in 1945, so arranged that holidays would come each year not only on the same day of the month, but on the same day of the week.

The future hope bright because now about 60 boys are going to go to trade schools where only 10 per cent went before. If the rate stays for a few days at the training station, it will be swell too.

BRITISH AID ADVOCATES LOOK FOR PRESIDENTIAL ACTION

BITTER CONGRESS NEUTRALITY ACT CONFLICT LOOMS

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON, May 26 (UP)—Destruction of the battle cruiser Hood aroused speculation today whether President Roosevelt contemplated reinforcing British sea power with American warships.

Congressional advocates of more effective aid to Britain are looking for a resolution for more aggressive program immediately. Some of his cabinet and congressional aides are demanding repeal of the neutrality act.

But it would be a matter of weeks rather than days for congress to act on a neutrality act repeal. Belief prevails here, therefore, that Mr. Roosevelt will seek some speedier means of bringing our aid to the British, not only to reinforce the British armament against the axis but in a move to bolster British morale in a dark hour.

Mr. Roosevelt will address the nation and the world tomorrow night in a firestorm speech expected not only to step up the tempo of aid to Britain but perhaps to reveal that our own national defense operation must be speeded up.

Needs Reinforcement
Speculation regarding a further transfer of American warships was based on a statement by Mr. Roosevelt, and his cabinet, that the axis must not be permitted to gain control of the seas. With the British navy at its present strength, it might be necessary to reinforce the Union Jack to keep it flying.

Loss of the battle cruiser Hood and naval reverses in the eastern Mediterranean appear to put the British in the worst position they have experienced since the retreat from Dunkirk last June.

The president has cancelled his intentions regarding the neutrality act since Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson and Secretary of Navy Frank Knox attacked the law last week. But the most outspoken administration supporters in congress have joined the repeal chorus and a move to junk the law so the United States can return to its traditional freedom of the seas policy will be made.

Sen. George W. Norris, Ind., Neb., said he believed it would be a "good idea" to make available to Britain more warships for the purpose of the north Atlantic to offset heavy British shipping losses and "help turn the tide against Hitler."

Sees Defense Need
Sen. Josh Lee, D. Okla., said Mr. Roosevelt should, on the advice of naval and military authorities, not use the use of the American fleet and air force "in such a manner as to guarantee American the maximum possible aid to Britain."

Repeal of the neutrality act, however, would be a long and bitter process and it would offer congressional isolationists the opportunity they desire for a full dress debate on foreign policy.

There is anxiety here regarding strikes, notably those appearing among west coast shipyard workers. It is complained that neither capital, labor nor the people as a whole are sufficiently aware of the emergency situation. Mr. Roosevelt may attempt tomorrow night to tell the citizenry out of any complacency it may enjoy.

Mural Goes in Buhl's New Postoffice

"Snake River Ferry," an original mural by Richard Guy Wallon, Reno artist, will add a unique touch to the interior of the Buhl postoffice building. The scene recalls the snake river ferry at Clear Lake, where the old stage coach from Ketchikan, Utah, to Fort Boise crossed the river to the north side. The artist used information and photos furnished by Mrs. Molly Styler whose father, F. F. P. Briggs, operated the ferry.

Ocean Battle West of Iceland Raises Question on Nazi Plans

By United Press
Significance of the engagement in which the British battle cruiser Hood was sunk by the German battleship Blomark goes quite beyond the intrinsic loss to the British navy of such a large unit of its fleet.

Aside from the blow to British naval prestige, it raises the disturbing question for Britain, and for the United States, too, of what a German navy equipped with the latest technology is doing in the waters where the action occurred.

The spot is far to the north, between Iceland and Greenland, and uncomfortably close to the non-hostile waters of the western hemisphere. It is well out of the lanes used by merchant convoys bound for Britain.

Question Raised
The supposition is that the German ships went out to attack Greenland is hardly tenable. Unless the Blomark and whatever warships which accompanied her were conveying troops for an invading expedition, there would be little practical advantage in such an attack, and fish-occupied Iceland were the objective, the same thing would be true, and the Blomark moreover would not have gone west of Iceland, past its objective.

Important units of the British navy also would not normally be in those barren waters. It is not impossible that the American patrol spotted the German ships and warned the British, which caused them to go to the scene.

The object of the German expedition under conditions of war "is not to win a battle, but to win a victory on this side of the Atlantic. It could be that the Germans were feeling things out for later action on this side of the Atlantic."

Didn't Seek Battle
They obviously were not seeking an engagement with the British fleet, another outcome, or they would not have chosen that area, 1,400 miles from the nearest German base, another outcome, or they would not have chosen that area, 1,400 miles from the nearest German base.

The loss of the Hood alone naturally is no way signifies that the British grip on the Atlantic must be broken, or is in immediate danger of being broken. However, it does leave a gap in the British strength.

WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont., May 26 (UP)—Officials and business men of this little entrance town, Yellowstone park estimated today a fire here yesterday caused between $20,000 and $25,000 damage.

A theater, two restaurants, a barber shop, a store and a tavern were destroyed by fire of undetermined origin which apparently started in the theater. All of the structures were of frame construction and the service over restaurant had not yet been opened for the summer tourist season.

West Yellowstone volunteer firemen fought the blaze as best they could, and called for help from fire departments in Bozeman, Gardiner and Mammoth Hot Springs, but trucks from there arrived too late to save any of the buildings. They did, however, help prevent further spread of the flames.

"I Talked with God"

(Yes, I Did—Actually and Literally)

and as a result of that little talk with God some ten years ago, a strange Power came into my life. After 41 years of hardship, starvation, financial failure and despair, owing, I think, to the fact that I had taken my life too seriously, it's fascinating to talk with God, and it can be done very easily once you learn how. And when you do, well, there will come into your life the same Power which came into mine: The shackles of defeat which had bound me for years went away, and I was free. I was free to control the largest printing plant in my County. I own the largest office building in my City. I own my own home which has a lovely pipe-organ in it, and my family are abundantly provided for after ten years. And all this has been done possible because of the ten years ago, I talked with God. Actually and literally talked with God.

You, too, may experience that strange Power which comes from

JEROME BOOK GROUP VISITS VARDIS FISHER'S RETREAT

By GEORGIA CHATBURN JEROME, May 26 (Special)—It was an unusually enjoyable occasion Saturday for members of the Monday Book club of Jerome, when the group motored down to Hagerman valley to the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vardis Fisher.

They were welcomed into the couple's tiny cabin, built high on a cliff overlooking the valley, where those waters have been well stocked with fish by Mr. Fisher himself. At one side of the small house has been seen the falls, cascading from the mountain side down into the river's edge.

Built by Walter An interesting and charming place, indeed, Mr. Fisher, by his own efforts has made the little home most attractive, and has planted some 2000 trees, including evergreens, black locusts and other types which do well in Idaho's climate.

The small home is decorated in the interior with beautiful knotty pine, and water has been piped under the lake's waters into the cottage.

Mr. Fisher keeps his books in his work, but doesn't allow it to overlap the time he spends outdoors in keeping up his place. He begins with his material again, and does a great deal of reading and research work. At present he is planning for his latest book, a series of compositions upon the human race.

Method of Writing Mr. Fisher says there are two ways in which a novel may be written. He explains that in majority of cases, the author sits down, thinks out fully the entire story, and then composes it. Fisher says that he usually resorts to the method of sitting down at his typewriter and composing his stories as he goes along.

Mrs. Fisher, an attractive young matron, welcomed the group into her home, and she finds it very enjoyable to "work on the farm."

Heter-Jenkins Rite Announced Mr. and Mrs. Otten G. Jenkins, Twin Falls, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Theima Jenkins, to Don O. Heter, Friday, May 23, at Twin Falls.

Blaine Official And Bride Wed At Church Rites Miss Florence McConnell, Carey, and Robert T. Werry, Halley, were united in marriage here Sunday morning at 9 o'clock at the Methodist church.

Rev. H. G. McCallister officiated, reading the single ring ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Bonin, Twin Falls, were in the roles of matron of honor and best man.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the Park hotel, and the couple left on a wedding trip to Salt Lake City.

Mrs. Werry has been teaching the past two years at Gannett. Mrs. Werry is deputy treasurer of Blaine county.

The bride wore a white silk tailored suit with rose accessories, and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Bonin wore a lavender child's dress with green accessories, and a corsage of sweet peas and roses.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. McConnell, Carey, formerly of Jerome, and a graduate of the Jerome high school and the Albion State Normal school.

Mr. Werry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Werry, Halley.

GRECIAN KING NARROWLY AVERTS CAPTURE IN CRETE

MONARCH FLEES TO CAIRO AFTER NAZI PLAN FAILS

By WALTER COLLINS
CAIRO, May 26 (UP)—King George II of Greece and his government fled Cairo after narrowly averting capture by German parachute troops in Crete, planned today to proceed to British territory to set up a government in exile for continued resistance to the Germans.

A platoon of New Zealand troops, assigned to the king, and a small detachment of Cretan gendarmes alone saved the king and his cabinet from the capture of their headquarters southwest of Canes, in the Malemi airbase area, when German parachutists descended on the morning of May 20, it was disclosed.

The king and the others, including Maj. Gen. T. H. Hayes, chief of the British military mission to Greece, and Col. J. H. Blunt, assigned to the Greek leaders, clambered over a 7,000-foot mountain sheltered in a cave and shepherd's hut, and embarked from Therason on the south coast for Egypt.

Rides Mule
The king rode a mule for the last few miles of the journey to the coast. He and the others had little to eat en route but mutton, goat's milk and cheese.

A statement issued here the king said, as did the British officers, that the Germans had hoped to capture him and his cabinet at the outset of the Cretan invasion. Hundreds of parachutists landed near the king's house.

The New Zealand rear guard under Lieut. W. H. Ryan and a small body of brave Cretan gendarmes attacked the Germans at 900 yards and fought a stubborn rear guard action which enabled the king to escape while the Nazis captured his headquarters.

Invited to Britain
"We leave Crete for the time being and will proceed to British territory, where we have been invited," the king said in his statement. "This is the only course which will enable us to carry out the duties imposed on us by the interests of the nation."

The king pledged his government to continue closest collaboration with Great Britain and with the gallant British people both the dangers which they face with such valour and the efforts which they are making with the support of the great American people for the triumph of the cause of freedom and democracy.

BLACK-OUT TEST HELD IN NEWARK

NEWARK, N. J., May 26 (UP)—Newark's 425,000 residents underwent the first experimental black-out held in an eastern city early today.

Harassed by shrieking sirens and factory whistles, the city was entirely black from 12:15 to 12:30 a. m. Eighteen hundred air raid precaution workers, instructed by the Newark defense council, went from house to house, warning residents to extinguish all lights. The workers had been fingerprinted, and police, fearing pickpockets, advised that home was the safest place. No accidents or crimes were reported.

2,000 Poppies Sold In V.F.W. Campaign

Approximately 2,000 Buddy poppies were purchased in Twin Falls residents and others here Saturday, Commander Floyd E. Ricknell of the V. F. W. post.

Ricknell voiced appreciation of the post and the auxiliary to those who bought the traditional memorial flowers.

HANSEN

Mr. and Mrs. Bailey and family left Wednesday on a trip to points near Omaha, Neb., to spend a two-weeks vacation with Mr. Bailey's relatives.

Thirteen members and two guests of the Presbyterian sewing club met at the home of Mrs. Alta Burdick, a member of the group, Mrs. Bernice McCoy, a former member of Hansen, and Mrs. Ari Peters, Twin Falls, were the guests. Gifts consisted of a book won by Mrs. Peters and Mrs. O. Forsman.

Word has been received by his parents, that Joe Froelich, Jr., for the past several months in training with the infantry at Fort Knox, Ky., has received a transfer to three months radio schooling at the fort as result of an aptitude test taken recently.

Miss Lucille Haynes, teacher at Valley, returned to her home Monday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Haynes who moved there for the school close. Miss Haynes plans the third summer school in California this summer at Long Beach.

A large attendance was had at the pool banquet at the Pooler Orange hall Thursday evening where five graduates received their diplomas at the hand of Mrs. Doris Gray, county school superintendent. The Orange sponsored the banquet.

EARLY POINTS TO GERMAN 'COVER'

WASHINGTON, May 26 (UP)—White House Secretary Stephen T. Early asserted today Germany is attempting to overshadow the speech which President Roosevelt will deliver Tuesday night.

Early was commenting on Berlin reports of an interview with Grand Admiral Erich Raeder, in which the Nazi naval chief warned the United States that American convoys would represent an act of war and result in shooting.

"I have got an idea Berlin is trying to do anything it can to overshadow the President's speech and precipitate something for you gentlemen between now and Tuesday night," Early said.

"I wouldn't be surprised if that (Raeder) interview is only one of a number you will be hearing me as coming from Berlin between now and Tuesday night."

Nazis Retain "Card Index" On U. S. Foes

WASHINGTON, May 26 (UP)—The German Gestapo maintained an elaborate card index of American citizens tagged as "enemies" or "friends" of the Nazi regime. Richard Krebs (Jan Valtin), fugitive former German Communist, told a Dies subcommittee today.

The author of the best seller, "Out of the Night," related how he had, under Communist direction, worked his way into the Gestapo. Later he broke with the Communists and a year ago fled to this country.

He testified the Gestapo had compiled elaborate records on Germans living in America, particularly those working in important arms plants.

ARMY 'RECRUITER' VISITS IN IDAHO

BOISE, May 26 (UP)—A three-ton mobile unit of the U. S. Army is rolling through southern Idaho this week in an effort to "get its man."

The unit is not a new tactical machine, but one of the army's 30 new mobile recruiting stations, commanded by Sergeant Joseph Straps and L. T. Hennock, the 50-foot long truck and trailer office is being used to stimulate enlistment in outlying districts.

Applicants for enlistment are interviewed in small but modern quarters within the trailer.

The unit has its own equipment to produce electricity for use with a motion picture projector, radio and public address system used to explain army life to applicants.

The mobile unit contains sleeping quarters for five men, with beds, heating units, coolers, a sink, clothes closets and other facilities. Beds fold neatly into lounges and desks where prospective recruits are interviewed.

SURVEY REVEALS IDAHO TUNGSTEN

BOISE, May 26 (UP)—A recent survey of ore deposits in the Seven Devils mining district of central Idaho has disclosed the presence of tungsten in sufficient amounts "to warrant further investigation," the Idaho bureau of mines and geology and the U. S. geological survey announced today.

Officials of the two agencies said tungsten is a vitally strategic mineral for which the United States is now partly dependent on foreign sources for its supply.

The tungsten, in the form of mineral schist in some of the district's copper ores, was found when ore samples were subjected to tests.

Most of the copper produced in the area since 1880 has come from relatively small shoots of copper sulphides, the survey officials said, and large-scale mining of the lower-grade deposits of copper has not yet been attempted.

Preliminary tests indicated the schist probably contains an unusually large and undesirable content of molybdenum but tungsten could probably be extracted successfully by a chemical process if ore bodies of sufficient size and grade should be developed, survey directors declared.

FBI QUESTIONS FOREIGN WOMAN

JERSEY CITY, N. J., May 26 (UP)—Agents of the federal bureau of investigation boarded the American Export liner Siboney on its arrival from Lisbon today and questioned the wife of one of two passengers removed from the steamer by British authorities at Bermuda.

The passengers removed were Frederick Rutgers, 32, identified as a German citizen, and Cornelius Wout, 32, carrying a diplomatic mail pouch, who said he was a Dutch subject.

FBI agents questioned Wout's wife, Wilhelmina, 29, for more than an hour in a cabin aboard the ship.

Mrs. Wout was turned over to immigration officers for further questioning at Ellis Island. She told FBI agents that her husband was a film sales executive (R-K-O) in The Netherlands and that they had sailed for this country on immigration visas. She said she knew of no reason for Wout's detention. Ship's officers said Rutgers was en route to Washington.

CONTRACTS LET FOR 123 CRAFT

WASHINGTON, May 26 (UP)—The maritime commission announced today contracts had been signed for the construction of 123 more new merchant ships, which will cost approximately $312,000,000.

Eighty-five of the ships will be part of the commission's long-range construction program involving 600 ships, which began three and one-half years ago. The remainder will be built under the lend-lease program.

Each of the contracts signified a speedup in the commission's regular program, which heretofore has called for construction of only 30 of these ships a year.

Roosevelt Lauds Advertising Roll

BOSTON, May 26 (UP)—President Roosevelt said today that advertising can play a major role in the national defense program by "creating and maintaining public morale."

In a message read at the 27th annual convention of the Advertising Federation of America, Mr. Roosevelt said advertising "has been responsible for many of the good things which citizens of the United States enjoy," and added:

"That force needs now to be applied toward the maintenance of our accustomed standards of living and further progress. This may require adjustment, but it should mean increased effort."

As an educational force alone, the President said, advertising ought to play a leading part in the preparedness program. Advertising experts, he added, can be of great aid to the government.

45 MILLIONS ARE UNDERNOURISHED

WASHINGTON, May 26 (UP)—Forty-five million persons are undernourished in the United States—a nation whose granaries are overflowing with surplus foods—and the diet standards of 75 per cent of the population need to be raised to withstand the "strain of total destruction," the national nutrition conference was told today.

The three-day conference was called by President Roosevelt and attended by 400 physicians, health officers, educators and nutrition experts.

Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt told the opening meeting that Mr. Roosevelt expects from it recommendations for "immediate action."

Other speakers declared President Roosevelt's estimate that "one-third of the nation is ill-fed" was conservative.

We--The Women

By RUTH MILLETT (NEA SERLETT)

The girl who is graduated in June and starts job hunting is going to get plenty of breaks. One that few other graduating classes have had is the fact that more jobs are open now than there have been in years, because thousands of men and women who would ordinarily be seeking the jobs have temporarily been removed from the competition by Uncle Sam.

Whether or not the girl who is just going into the business world moves ahead quickly depends on whether she makes the most of the breaks she gets.

She must be alert. If she isn't alert to her opportunities she is likely to handicap herself at the start.

For one thing, she shouldn't let her dependence on her family or her parents keep her at all close to home, keep her from taking a good job just because it happens to be at a distance.

She rarely handicap herself in this way, but daughters often do. It isn't unusual for a girl to rule out a job because her father or mother has for her to get back to the parental roof every week-end.

Then, too, she shouldn't shut her eyes to opportunities that seem to happen to be in a field she had never considered. Just because she has never had any experience in a field shouldn't keep her from seeing the possibilities of going into a different line of work. If she gets a chance.

Stepping Stone Jobs

Neither should she think that because she is a girl that she can't be up to her neck in it. Few persons are lucky enough to get the kind of work they want to do right at the start of their careers. The average person uses a job he doesn't like or doesn't really want to do as a stepping stone to the job he wants. And it is up to the ingenuity of such individuals to see how he can turn a possibly a serious job into a stepping stone to something better.

It's a mistake, however, to cling to a job that isn't right unless you have a future prospect because it is a job and a sure thing. It may take course to quit a job under such circumstances, but you seldom meet a person who did it except regret.

Opportunities are wide open for the girl who finishes school this June and enters the business world. But if she is to make the most of them she has to have independence and a keen eye for the things she has to know what she wants.

FOR COUNTRY WEAR

Quite a number of girls just as becoming as the dirds are paw skirts and blouse ensembles for country wear. The skirts are of rayon crepe in such excellent shades as a bright red, a soft dusty blue, a peacok brown, with huge, flouncing flower motifs. They're plenty full, too, and they're made to fall into a wide, alighting bell.

The blouses are of oyster-white rayon broadcloth, short-sleeved and deep-throated.

BRIDES ATTENDANTS

It's a bride's best idea for the brides to dress all of her attendants—maid of honor, bridesmaids and flower girls—in white to match her own. The bridesmaids can wear colorful flowers instead of white ones.

RUG CUSHIONS

Rug cushions may spread a little with use. To assure a well fitted cushion, buy one a little smaller than the rug it is to go on. Buy about an inch or an inch and a half smaller.

CITY RANKS HIGH IN EXPRESS GAIN

Express shipments in Twin Falls during the month of April showed a 21 per cent gain over the same month of last year and the second highest gain in the intermountain division. It was announced this afternoon by H. Lusk, local manager of the Railway Express agency.

Only community in the intermountain division showing a greater gain than Twin Falls for that month was Cheyenne, Wyo. The great gain shown there, of 38.2 per cent, is accounted for by a large troop concentration which is a virtual community in itself.

The local office has shown substantial gains since the first of the year, records show. In January the gain was 14.2 per cent against the same month of 1940; February showed a gain of 10.1 per cent and March 12.1 per cent.

Contrasted to Twin Falls for the month of April, other Idaho communities show the following: Nampa, 14.1 per cent; Caldwell, 9.8 per cent; Jerome, 8.7 per cent; Idaho Falls, 7.1 per cent; Boise, 6.3 per cent; Pocatello, 4.9 per cent; Rupert, 4.1 per cent; Shoshone, 1.4 per cent.

THE SPIRIT OF 76

by JOHN CLINTON

In case you've been waiting breathlessly to hear the announcement here it's: "The 1941 Clinton Award for Traffic Poles in the Full Neck." Winners are being sent silk-lined incendiary bombs.

First Award — to the guy who drives in the middle lane and almost as you go back you hear. Second Award — to the traffic signal of First and Elm — it never winks or blinks away from it. Even small kids on tricycles could beat me. This Award — to the heirs of Thomas G. Traffic, the inventor of the traffic problem!

All of which is lighterweight of saying seriously that traffic. It is bad stuff! That's why Union Oil Company here has spent so much money, so much time and so much ingenuity on perfecting New 76 gasoline—for, as you regular readers know, New 76 is especially made for traffic driving.

It gives you the power to pass the middle-lane leader—to take off from signals right along with the best of them. And another thing that the Union research man never told you was a combination that would give you silk-smooth performance of those pesky but necessary slow speed in traffic.
