Germany's Sea Pride--Sent to Bottom After Naval Battle

Radioed from Berlin, this exclusive picture is the first to reach the United States showing the completed German battleship Bismarck, whose 15-inch guns sunk the H. M. S. Hood, pride of the British navy, before being sent to the bottom herself after a long Atlantic chase. Most of the ship's 1,400 officers and men were believed lost in the battle. (NEA Telephone)

Europe Believes America Moving Closer to Battle

BRITAIN, GERMANY SEE FIGHT NEAR

By JOE ALEX MORRIS
 United Press Foreign News Editor
 America was seen by European belligerents as moving closer to declared war to aid Britain today at a time when the British south coast claimed important triumphs on the island of Crete and in western Mediterranean in the battle of the Atlantic.

Although approaching the issues involved in President Roosevelt's speech from opposite viewpoints, both Britain and the axis powers took the position it moved the United States armed forces closer to the conflict and London authorities believed it meant America would use force to prevent any extension of Adolf Hitler's power in the Atlantic ocean.

Expanded Aid
 That they pointed out, would mean expanding aid to Britain at a time when the British south coast appeared to be most unfavorable.

In Crete, the German high command and Nazi forces striking from the western end of the vital island had taken Crete after eight fighting days and pursued the British south of Suda Bay while Luftwaffe dive bombers "blistered" British attempts to evacuate the island.

Germany's air forces also reported sinking four enemy ships in Suda Bay, damaging another and scoring hits on a British heavy cruiser (3,000 tons), a destroyer and tanker south of Crete.

London and Cairo admitted withdrawal of British troops from the defense positions in the Canies area and said the situation was serious at Canada, on the central north coast, while severe fighting continues.

In North Africa, the axis armies again advanced across the Libyan border into western Egypt, taking the battered town of Sollum and high fire pass in what may be the beginning of a new drive designed to cross Egypt to the Suez canal as a result of the Nazi claims of success. Governor Backs FDR Policy on Foreign Affairs

By United Press
 Nationalwide reaction to President Roosevelt's speech follows:
 Congress:—(Pro) Chairman Walter F. George of the senate foreign relations committee: "It was a strong statement of the basic philosophy of the administration." Chairman Carl Bloom of the house foreign affairs committee: "In declaring that the United States is free to act in harmony with the neutrality law." Rep. Clifton A. Woodrum, D., Va.: "A ringing call to America."
 Sen. Claude Pepper, D., Fla.: "He served notice on the dictators that England shall not fall." Sen. Carter Glass, D., Va.: "Agreed with every word of it and more besides."
 Speaker Sam Rayburn of the house: "It will be very... encouraging."
 Gov. Ralph L. Carr, Colorado: "To democratic people throughout the earth." Sen. Tom Connally, D., Tex.: "The President's demand for maintenance of America's traditional policy of freedom of the seas is unswerving."
 (Con)—Sen. Robert A. Taft said Mr. Roosevelt's proclamation of freedom of the seas had "no relation to the question of convoys because that doctrine never allowed the shipment of contraband of war such as our lend-lease materials... The declaration of an unlimited national emergency has no legal effect whatever. The President has no authority or constitutional authority to declare such an emergency."
 Rep. Hamilton Fish, R., N. Y.: "Just a sop handed out to interventionists." Sen. Gerald P. Nye, R., D.: "The President gives notice we are already conveying." Rep. George H. Tinkham, R., Mass.: "The President apparently recognizes the American people are overwhelmingly opposed to entering foreign wars in Europe and Asia."
 Officials—Mayor F. H. LaGuardia of New York City: "From now on it means the snapping into action of the entire civilian population of the country." Gov. Gilbert L. Olson, California: "A powerful speech."
 Gov. Ralph L. Carr, Colorado: "When the nation calls, Colorado will not hesitate." Gov. Sam H. Jones, Louisiana: "He has solemnly and courageously obtained the issue for all citizens of the Americas."
 Prominent citizens—Alf M. Langford: "Roosevelt's speech is the end of democratic government in the United States... temporarily at least." Bishop William T. Manning, Protestant Episcopal church: "All true and clear-thinking Americans will support him."
 Some Italian sources said the speech automatically annulled the neutral position of the United States in favor of an attitude of non-belligerence such as Italy maintained before it entered the war.

National Emergency Ordered to Increase Powers of President

Highlights on Historic Speech

WASHINGTON, May 28 (UP)—President Roosevelt led the nation today near the limits of undeclared war and prepared to implement his proclamation of all-out national emergency by invoking new executive powers.
 His fireside chat provoked a national clamor of applause and dispute.
 He said strikes and lockouts must cease. He abruptly enlarged the scope of the aid-to-Britain program and supported it with existing threats of armed force to deliver the goods to the fighting men.
 "The delivery of needed supplies to Britain," said Mr. Roosevelt, "is imperative. This can be done; it must be done; it will be done."
 His pledge went far beyond convoys, which the administration considers an obsolescent method of protecting shipping, and placed no restriction on the extent of naval action that might be required to make good on it.
 Stern and unflinching Mr. Roosevelt and Adolf Hitler by name last night and summoned the citizenry to give united and loyal support for our "common defense."
 And the sun rose today on a steadily expanding Atlantic patrol, a steadily reinforced Atlantic fleet and a tremendously extended western hemisphere.

Atlantic Island Defenses
 Mr. Roosevelt's address pushed hemispherical outposts 1,000 miles or so to the Portuguese Cape Verde islands off the coast of Africa and threatened to repel Nazi encroachments there or on the Azores, Greenland, Iceland or any islands of the Atlantic.

He virtually forbade further stoppages of national defense production and said capital and labor must adjust their disputes without lockouts or strikes on the basis of federal conciliation or mediation. He pledged the government to use "all of its power" to prevent interference with production for national defense.

His prohibition of defense stoppages was directed not only at disputes between employers and employees but to those between opposing units of capital and to jurisdictional or other disputes between competing labor organizations. It was the most direct warning ever uttered from the White House that the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations must learn to live together in peace.

The President reasserted the "ancient American doctrine of the freedom of the seas" although it was materially restricted at the moment by the neutrality act which forbids our commerce with belligerent states. He said axis powers planned to overwhelm Europe; conquer Great Britain, dispose of South American nations as the Balkans were liquidated there in 1940 and then attack the United States.

He countered that program with a policy of active resistance in which he pledged the United States to "all further methods or combination of methods" necessary to deliver munitions to Great Britain.

"Our national policy today, therefore," he said, "is that: 'First, we shall actively resist wherever necessary, and with all resources, every attack by Hitler to extend his domination to the western hemisphere, or to threaten it. We shall actively resist his every attempt to gain control of the sea. We insist upon the vital importance of keeping Hitlerism away from any point in the world which could be used as a base of attack against the Americas.'"
 "Second, from the point of view of strict naval and military necessity, we shall give every possible assistance to Britain and to all who resist Hitlerism, or to threaten it. We shall actively resist his every attempt to gain control of the sea. We insist upon the vital importance of keeping Hitlerism away from any point in the world which could be used as a base of attack against the Americas."
 "Third, from the point of view of strict naval and military necessity, we shall give every possible assistance to Britain and to all who resist Hitlerism, or to threaten it. We shall actively resist his every attempt to gain control of the sea. We insist upon the vital importance of keeping Hitlerism away from any point in the world which could be used as a base of attack against the Americas."

6-Day Truce Delays Coast Plane Strike

A six-day truce averted a work stoppage today in the North American Aircraft Corp. plant at Inglewood, Calif.
 Responding to last minute efforts of the defense mediation board, the United Automobile Workers union (CIO) agreed to postpone its strike deadline scheduled for today until 3 p. m., June 2. The truce provided that the final agreement on wages, hours and union shop issues will be retroactive to May 1.
 An estimated 8,500 of the company's 11,400 employees belong to the UAW. North American holds contracts for 400,000,000 worth of bombers, pursuit ships and training planes.
 A spokesman for AFI machinists who struck last week in defense contracts shipyards committed on the President's remark with a statement that the union was "one of the most patriotic" in the nation but would be unwilling to surrender benefits won in 23 years of effort.
 The statement at the 11 shipyards where AFI machinists are employed struck continued despite the back-to-work movement of allied AFI members. Bunkers include 1,700 AFI and CIO members.
 At a senate committee hearing yesterday, AFI President William Green said he denounced the strike as a violation of the coastwise stabilization agreement. Sen. Tom Connally, D., Tex., accused the strikers of placing "your fingers in Uncle Sam's eye."
 Harvey Brown, international president of the AFI machinists, defended the union's right to strike. Meanwhile, Rep. Carl Vinson, D., prepared to introduce his congressional bill calling for compulsory mediation and a 30-day "cooling off" period before strikes.

How Much Does It Cost?

That's a very pointed question but on the other hand a very important one. Cost of advertising is fixed upon how many people read the newspaper. Times-Tribune will reach approximately 16,000 homes every day. The cost of a 10-word classified Ad for 3 days is $1.20

GASOLINE PRICES GO UPWARD HERE
 A good majority of the major retail gasoline stations in Twin Falls today raised gasoline prices one-half cent per gallon on the three principal grades, a survey by the Evening Times shows.
 The boost in prices came as the distributing plant sales went up in accord with the general trend over the state.
 High lead gasoline was today selling for 27 cents a gallon, a cent per gallon in a majority of the stations. Standard gas was placed at 25 and six-tenths and "white" gas at 23 and six-tenths.
 At least one independent chain was selling gasoline one-half cent cheaper than the major concerns on all grade of gas. Some separate stations were offering still lower prices.

STRIKERS ASKED TO HEED ROOSEVELT, RETURN TO WORK

SENATOR URGES UNION WORKERS TO RESUME JOBS

WASHINGTON, May 28 (U.P.)—Chairman Harry S. Truman, D. Mo., of the senate committee investigating national defense today called on striking San Francisco machinists, who have tied up $500,000 worth of shipbuilding contracts, to accept President Roosevelt's "no strike" edict and return to work.

Truman returned to a committee hearing into the shipbuilding strike by asking Harry S. Hook, business agent of 68, International Association of Machinists (I.A.M.), which called the walkout, whether he had read Mr. Roosevelt's proclamation of an unlimited national emergency.

Cease Disputes

When Hook said he had not had time, Truman read the portion which called upon capital and labor to cease disputes in defense industries.

"Now, are you fellows ready to accept the terms of the President's proclamation and accept impartial government mediation and go back to work?" Truman asked.

Hook replied the machinists were willing to "do anything they could" for the government, but the dispute was "with Bethlehem steel company and not with the government."

First Official Attempt

Truman's reference to Mr. Roosevelt's proclamation addressed to the nation last night, marked the first official attempt to invoke his declaration that no strikes or lockouts shall be permitted to disrupt defense production.

The defense mediation board, which the president submitted his recommendations for settlement of the steel coal dispute, calling upon southern operators to grant union workers a 10 percent wage increase (I.O.G.) the 87 a day wage scale granted them by northern operators.

ACRE TOTAL SET FOR WHEAT VOTE

Eligible voters in the wheat marketing quota referendum Saturday will be ranchers who grow more than 15 acres of wheat, according to an explanation issued today by Kenyon Green, acting county chairman of the A.A.A.

The eligibility requirement is contained in a clause added to legislation which will provide wheat growers with a 10 percent increase in price, 80 cents a bushel for the 1941 crop. The "more than 15 acres" provision, according to the acting chairman, puts the matter of the marketing quota squarely on shoulders of the ranchers who have the most interest in the wheat loan and price program. He indicated that growers of 15 acres or less, although not eligible to vote in the referendum Saturday, have a competing advantage in that they cannot be penalized for excess acreage.

AUDIT POINTS TO CASSIA SHORTAGE

BURLEY, May 28 (Special)—Auditing of the books of Jack Henderson, former treasurer of Cassia county, was being pushed forward today after discovery of an apparent shortage of about $6,000.

The county commissioner, who has notified Henderson's bonding company, Any further steps, it was indicated, will probably be withheld until the audit is completed.

Orland Bateman, public accountant here, reported the asserted shortage to the county board. Bateman's audit may take two or three months to complete.

Discovery of the irregularity came in failure of the office records to show tax payments although receipts had been issued to taxpayers. "Failure to make duplicate forms and reinserion of blank original statements in the tax ledger books prevented earlier disclosure in audits and reports."

Henderson, elected twice to the county treasurer post, served from 1937 to 1940 and was not a candidate for reelection last fall. Before his term expired he left for California, reportedly to study in a mortician school at Los Angeles. His wife and deputies handled the office thereafter.

WOMEN TOO 'SOFT'—MUST SACRIFICE, SAYS DAR HEAD

By ROBELEN CALLAHAN
Written for NEA Service

NEW YORK—We must return to the simple way of living if we hope to strengthen ourselves, warns Mrs. William F. Pouch, newly elected president general of the Daughters of the American Revolution. "This is a period of retrenchment, for there are troublesome times ahead, and we must train and equip ourselves through sacrifice to meet them," she says.

Mrs. Pouch, a statuesque, handsome, soft-spoken woman, has been an officer in the D. A. R. since 1927. During recent years she has watched with growing concern women becoming less and less self-sufficient and resourceful. She believes all women should know how to sew, cook, something about gardening, nutrition and first aid.

Second Line Defense

Women of the country, Mrs. Pouch predicts, will have to play an even more important role in the second line of defense of their country than did their great-grandmothers of 70 who plowed the fields, nursed the sick and wounded revolutionary soldiers and even helped to lead their guns.

It is her belief that in our great desire to find short cuts and improvements in our daily chores, we have gone through a softening process. We must get down to earth again, learn to do things with our hands, work longer and harder. Many of us have lost sight of the principles and ideals upon which the foundation of this country was built. We no longer see the foundation because we cradle our necks to see the top story which has just been added.

One of the first acts of the D. A. R.'s new president general was to urge the over 300,000 members—who have traced their ancestry back—to training themselves in some useful occupation to aid the nation, and in line with this, she has sent out a membership roll call for defenses. Through a questionnaire, the society can determine in just which line of the country that the women who know telegraphy, nursing, can speak foreign languages, can do gardening, clerical work, drive a car, cook, sew or do recreation work.

D. A. R. chapters in all sections of the country are working on their own individual plans to aid in the defense of the country. Mrs. Pouch announced with quiet pride.

D. A. R. Plans Defense

It is through the Committee of National Defense, incidentally, that the D. A. R. is doing some of the most effective work in its all-out campaign to aid in American national defense. They have set up their own investigation bureau, and D. A. R. members are delegated to attend anti-democratic meetings,

The selective service leader made his statement in pointing to the duty of local boards in determining the status of deferment for important workers.

Handled Individually

He added case No. 1 board here that each case must be handled individually "and on its particular merits." He stressed the necessity of all local selective service boards in Idaho to make certain that no man is drafted for national defense if his civilian occupation is needed for military training.

Stressing the need for this careful selection, Director McConnel called attention to the recent announcement by national headquarters of the War Relocation Authority and other national defense agencies reporting growing shortages not only of skilled mechanics and other vital professions, but also of local draft boards against calling men needed in factory or field work and in the production of munitions to complete professional training.

No Interference

"While the recruitment of a large peacetime army is essential to national defense," Director McConnel said, "it is equally important that there be no interference with the production of defense supplies and material. We must arm, feed and clothe the military forces of demobilized troops and we must also maintain the morale of the civilian population. To do so, we must make careful and intelligent investigation of every registrant to be deferred in each case that a call to military training will not interfere with equally important civilian work for national defense."

Intelligent deferment of registrants must also include students in 17 specialized professional and technical fields, the Twin Falls board was told.

The eight in which the more critical situation exists are: Civil engineering, electrical engineering, chemical engineering, mining and metallurgical engineering, mechanical engineering, chemistry, medicine and dentistry. The other nine are: Agricultural engineering, sanitation, engineering, pharmacy, physiology and bacteriology, and forestry, biology and geology (geophysics, hydrology and hydrogeology).

Students in these fields should be deferred, the director said, "so long as they continue to be necessary men in preparation or training for activities necessary to national defense." Such deferments, he emphasized, must be made individually under the "necessary man" provisions.

JAYCEES SPONSOR SKI LODGE MOVE

Provisions for a fund-not to exceed $500 which will go toward construction of a ski lodge in the Magic Mountain area on Rock creek, have been made today by members of the Twin Falls Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The Senior Chamber had previously donated a like amount toward the construction of the lodge. The Jaycees also voted, at regular session yesterday, to be sponsoring organization for the project. Such a move was made after a meeting which was declared by Gene Osterlander, following a conference with forest service officials at which time it was pointed out that continuation of the CCC camp depended largely on procurement of a project of this type.

$1,500 Total Cost

Osterlander estimated that it would cost $1,500 to complete the ski lodge. Principal speaker at yesterday's session was Dr. Max P. Schranck, director of the district health unit. During his discussion on topic of cancer, its causes, control and cure, he displayed a film "Choose to Live." Dr. Schranck said that if cancer is discovered and given medical attention before spreading, it can be cured in 90 per cent of cases.

"Cancer is the second leading cause of death in the civilized world," the physician said. "In the United States nearly 150,000 people die annually from it and the rate in Idaho is about 440 every 12 months."

Announces Policy

Dr. Schranck was introduced by J. Spracher. Mr. Spracher announced that in the future information programs would mark each meeting of the organization.

Making a report yesterday was Ray Robbins, chairman of the July 4-5 observance here. He said that the arrangements were progressing in a satisfactory manner.

Members also voted a change in the organization of the constitution which will change the annual meeting from the fall to the spring to coincide with the state session. Election this year will be June 14. Robert H. Warner has been named chairman of the nominating committee.

FEDERATION LOOKOUT WALL AVERTED 2 DEATHS

Editor, Evening Times:

As president of the Rural Federation of Women's Clubs of Twin Falls, I wish to enter this protest against the statement in the Evening Times of Monday regarding the accident that took Lorraine Tiffany in the hospital with a broken leg.

The article I have reference to stated that the road on North Washington street, "Federation Lookout" is located was a dead end road. Such is definitely not a true statement as the road curves west at this point and continues around the canyon for miles.

If the rock wall known as "Federation Lookout" built and paid for by the Rural Federation had not been there, there would have been two black flags flying in Twin Falls county Monday morning as the canyon at this point is hundreds of feet deep. As a result of the wall being there, Lorraine is in the hospital with a broken leg instead of in the cemetery at this time.

I think in all fairness to the women who worked for this wall to beautify the point and to prevent serious accidents, that this letter be published. Perhaps it may serve to prevent another wreck.

Yours sincerely,

MRS. R. E. COMMONS,
President of Rural Federation
Twin Falls, May 27.

WHEAT PROGRAM EYES FAIR PRICE

Plenty for all, and a fair price for the producer—these are the two aims of the wheat program now being presented by the producers of wheat in the Twin Falls area.

The wheat marketing committee is to be voted on May 31. E. Wilson, Twin Falls county AAA committee chairman, said today. The referendum will be Saturday.

Actually, consumers have been getting $200,000,000 worth more of wheat every year than they have been paying for in the past, because when prices have been just far below parity," he pointed out. "That many sound like a good thing for consumers, but it really works against them by reducing the buying power of all wheat farmers."

The wheat farmer now gets only about one cent from a loaf of bread that sells for 10 cents or less, the committee said. If farmers get paid the full cost of the loaf would be increased more than three-fourths of a cent. The additional cost would be met, he said, by the increased farm purchasing power.

Experience has shown that when prices have little effect on wheat consumption of wheat. Very little more bread was eaten when wheat sold for 15 cents a bushel, according to Wilson.

Growers of more than 15 acres of wheat are eligible to vote in Saturday referendum.

BRITISH, GREEK ARMY FALLS BACK IN CRETE FIGHT

NAZI PARACHUTE TROOPS GAIN IN FIERCE BATTLES

By EDWARD W. BEATTIE, Jr.

LONDON, May 28 (U.P.)—British and Greek defenders of Crete fell back to new positions in the face of strong attacks by reinforced German troops on the vital western end of the island, it was disclosed officially today, while the defense situation at Candia on the middle north coast was being pursued. Furious fighting continues, however, following landing of fresh British troops to relieve exhausted imperial soldiers.

(At Berlin, the Nazi high command claimed capture of Candia, said British forces were being pursued south of Suda bay and that dive-bombers were hindering British attempts to evacuate the island.)

The situation on Crete does not present a very rosy picture, authoritative quarters said. "The worst place is the Maelmi area. The position about Candia and Suda bay is not clear but it undoubtedly is precarious."

Authoritative quarters said the strain on Crete troops is being increased by "appalling" and that this strain, imposed by continuous aerial bombardment, severely could be understood by those not experiencing it. The effects of the German bombardment were said to be not only physical but mental.

AROUND the WORLD

With United Press LONDON—British planes started big fires in an attack during the night on Cologne, in the 20th industrial Rhine area, and bombed German-occupied territory in France, the air-ministry said today.

LONDON—The admiralty said today that a French tanker of 4,000 tons, en route to Tripoli under escort of an Italian warship, had been torpedoed and sunk and that a list of about 18,000 tons carrying about 3,000 troops to Libya had been hit by two torpedoes and could be considered sunk.

BERLIN—The high command said today that Admiral Gessler, one of Germany's most famous naval commanders, Captain Lindeman and crew (probably 1,400 men) of the German battleship Bismarck went down with their ship after battling strong British naval and air forces in the Atlantic.

LONDON—Official British quarters said today that 561 German and Italian ships totaling 2,873,000 tons had been sunk, captured or scattered from the beginning of the war until the middle of May.

SAN FRANCISCO—A light earthquake lasting six to eight seconds shook the San Francisco peninsula and San Francisco Bay today, but no serious damage was reported.

LONDON—Warships of all types and German submarines, together with the coastal command combined the immense stretch of the Atlantic in their operations against German cruiser Prinz Eugen.

HOLLYWOOD—Cartoonists for Walt Disney productions struck today in an effort to force Disney to recognize the screen cartoonist guild (SAG) as their bargaining agent and sever relations with an independent union.

WASHINGTON—The war department notified commanding officers today to put all their "residuals" of modern combat, including nerve-wracking sounds and noises into training exercises to toughen army "for the first shock battle."

INDIANAPOLIS, May 28 (U.P.)—Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D., Mont., isolationist leader, asserted today that President Roosevelt's hesitancy to "virtually designate the Axis" and that the only way the President could add to his powers by declaring an emergency would be to "take over labor, industry—and even the press."

"The President talks about cold, hard facts and fear," Wheeler said, "but his message in America is to create fear in the minds of the American people more than President Roosevelt since March 4, 1933."

"I don't know what the President meant by declaring an emergency. What more powers can he take under the emergency than he already has taken without it unless he takes over labor, industry, communications and even the press," Wheeler said.

The Montanan will address a rally tonight of the American First organization, in an answer to the President's fireline chat.

"Meaningless" ALBANY, N. Y., May 28 (U.P.)—Sen. Charles McNary, D., Ore., called President Roosevelt's speech as "meaningless, highly inflammatory and adding nothing new to the already existing foreign policy of the administration." Clark speaks under auspices of the America First committee tonight.

Near-Tornado Strikes Utah

BOUNTIFUL, Utah, May 28 (U.P.)—Winds of near-tornado velocity sheared across a narrow area near Bountiful late yesterday, partially wrecking one residence and damaging several others.

The home of Karl Haacke suffered damage. Part of the roof was torn away, and nearly a half ton of bricks was shaken from the walls.

No one was injured in the sudden storm, which lasted only 15 minutes. However, quick action by 15-year-old Jean Park of Farmington probably saved the lives of two children.

The girl rescued Martin Haacke, 3, and Ann Park, 5, from a parked automobile in the path of the blowing bricks from the Haacke residence. The car was badly smashed.

CHANCE AT JOBS AWAITS H. S. BOYS

High school students of this section of Idaho, who are unemployed, today were urged by W. Clyde Williams, manager of the local Idaho state employment service office, to try for national defense jobs in the aviation industry, providing they care to set into the industry on the ground floor.

Williams said records show very few unemployed high school graduates of this section are adding in farm field work at the present time, and also that very few of them have been in the unemployment office seeking jobs.

But thinkers are needed first now, Williams said, and any high school graduates can find work in the field, through the employment office, if they want it.

He added that application classes for prospects for jobs with the aviation industry in national defense work are held at the local employment office each Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 9 a. m. High school graduates, 18 years or older, are urged to investigate the employment possibilities by attending one of these classes in the immediate future.

UNITED SERVICE PLAN UNDERWAY

Possibility of placing the program of the United Service Organizations into effect in Twin Falls county was seen here today following announcement W. W. Dillon, Boise, who represents the USO, would be here the evening of June 6 to confer with local civic leaders.

The USO is being organized on a national basis to provide for the voluntary cooperation of the various communities with the federal government in setting up 980 service clubs near army camps, naval stations and defense industry centers in order to provide social, recreational and spiritual opportunities for the boys in uniform and national defense efforts.

Under the present setup, the federal government would construct the buildings and would lease them to the USO at low rate. The plan to sponsor such work in Idaho would be carried out on a community-cooperation basis.

The national campaign to promote the United Service Organizations will start June 3 when President Roosevelt, Wendell Willkie, Thomas Dewey and others speak over national broadcasting systems. The Idaho committee is headed by Gen. Chase A. Clark. Selection of a Twin Falls county chairman will probably be made at or shortly after the June 6 session here.

Organizations which are members of the USO include the Salvation Army, Y. M. and Y. W. C. A., National Catholic Community service, Jewish Welfare Board and the Travelers Aid society.

A preliminary discussion session, at which local representatives of most of these organizations were present, was held last night.

COLLEGES OFFER FLIGHT COURSES

Young men who want to become airline pilots can enroll, in the future, to take a flight course in a university or college and will receive academic credits just as in a "pre-medical" or law student or engineer now receives credits. Frank H. Giesler, local flight instructor for the CPTP, was informed today in a communication from Washington.

Government officials informed Giesler that 565 colleges and universities scattered over the nation are now giving credits for students taking the flight and ground school training.

At the same time Giesler pointed out that the youth who finishes a college course in flight training will find he needs more hours to obtain an airline job, just as now a medical student must serve an internship before he practices.

A letter to the department of commerce, civilian aeronautics authority, Washington, D. C., will bring an official list of the colleges and universities now offering flight courses along with other work.

Foreign Comment

By United Press

BERLIN—Germany's official radio said today that President Roosevelt's speech today was an "important statement of fact in President Roosevelt's speech" that regarding British shipping losses.

"Roosevelt knows as well as we do that a German attack against America is impossible and laughable," the radio said.

Germany is seeking world domination. But whenever Hitler said his speech was for world peace, the radio said, he was really seeking to control the European continent but to establish order and peace.

Hitler and Joachim von Ribbentrop, his foreign minister, studied the newspaper, awaiting orders as to the particular line they should take in denouncing it, published editorial calling the President a gambler whose closest advisers were Jews.

LONDON—President Roosevelt's speech was a "final warning to Hitler that America is ready to fight for the freedom of the seas and must be prepared to meet any unrestricted sea warfare or bringing the United States into the war, British newspapers said today.

ITALY

Virginia Gensini, writing in Giornale d'Italia, characterized speech as "bombastic, alarmist, aggressive and... extremely ambiguous and confusing." Official news agency said speech disappointing to Britain who expected war declaration.

Supreme Test Given Value of Navy as Security for Nation

By United Press

The value of a naval power as a weapon to keep a nation secure is being put to the supreme test today.

President Roosevelt declared in his speech that we must be prepared to meet any unrestricted sea warfare or bringing the United States into the war, British newspapers said today.

The President did not expand on the point of how Hitler is going to dominate the seas with an inferior navy. Official news agency said Hitler is trying to do it by other methods which, while a strong navy would still be an important factor, would not be all-important.

Britain has stakes much on naval power. Hitler is out to prove she has staked too much. The progress of this conflict should indicate to the United States the offensive and defensive course which it must follow henceforth.

Relies on Fleet

For centuries, Britain has relied on the fleet as her bulwark, as a protection against invasion and as a means of moving land forces to distant parts. That was how the far-flung British empire was built.

Now the time has come when she is challenged by new methods of warfare. Hitler has not only built up the largest army on earth, but he has supplemented it with the world's greatest air force. He stakes control of land and sky against surface control of the waters.

He has further tried to offset sea control with the supersonic submarine. In conjunction with fighting planes and long range bombers which can take off from land bases to effect anything which an enemy controlling the sea could launch from aircraft carriers.

In the time of his disposal, Hitler could not outfit the British navy. So he threw his resources into the air force, into mechanization of land troops and into submarines—plus enough surface vessels to plague the enemy.

Parachute Attack

He developed the parachute method of attack to overcome the other side's control of the waters. Its efficacy, at least in a comparative small operation, has been shown in the battle of Crete. That battle, while not demonstrating their air power alone can overcome a superior fleet, has shown what damage it can do. The battle of Crete has not been decided, but Berlin claims today that British resistance there has been "broken," while London admitted that the situation is "precarious."

BRITAIN, GERMANY SEE FIGHT NEAR

Main Battle Coming

The fact that Cairo said the British withdrawal in western Egypt was "temporary" indicated that the main battle was yet to come.

The British reported continued progress in mopping up Italian forces in Ethiopia, while the entire Italian division was surrendering, and said the military fronts were unchanged at Tobruk and in Iraq.

In London, official sources said 501 axis ships totaling 2,873,000 tons had been sunk, captured or scuttled since the war began.

On the sea front, Britain reported an enemy liner of about 10,000 tons carrying probably 3,000 troops to north Africa had been torpedoed and that a French tanker of 8,000 tons had been sunk and probably sunk, the admiral said.

British warships and planes were pressing the search in the north Atlantic for the 10,000-ton German cruiser Prinz Eugen, which fled when the royal navy closed in Tuesday morning to sink the 25,000-ton German battleship Bismarck.

America on Brink of Undeclared Conflict

Hitler would say: "I am now completely satisfied. This is the last territorial adjustment I will seek. All I want is peace, friendship and profitable trade relations with you in the new world."

See Opposition to Armament

"Those in the new world," Mr. Roosevelt continued, "who were seeking profits would be urging that all that the dictators have desired since peace." They would oppose toll and taxes for more American armament. Meanwhile, the dictators would be forcing the enslaved peoples of their world conquests into a system they are even now organizing to build a naval and air force intended to gain and hold and be master of the Atlantic and the Pacific as well.

"They would fasten an economic stranglehold upon our several nations. Qualities would be found to subvert the governments of our republics; and the Nazis would back their fifth columns with invasion. If necessary," Mr. Roosevelt was talking face to face with the Canadian minister, the diplomats of South and Central America and their families. They were assembled in the east room of the White House.

"We do not accept, we will not permit this Nazi 'shape of things to come,'" the President continued. "I never will be forced upon us. If we do in this present crisis with the wisdom and the courage which have distinguished our country in all the crises of the past."

But Mr. Roosevelt had a note of hope: "If the axis powers fail to gain control of the seas 'they are certainly defeated.'"

Blowout Cause of Auto Wreck

The blowout of a tire was blamed today for an automobile accident on Kimberly road, just outside the city limits, which saw a machine crash into a culvert and end up in the borrow pit.

Three men in the car, all salesmen, escaped injury, according to a report by State Policeman V. K. Burton. The mishap occurred at 9:30 a. m.

Driver of the car was E. F. Cowperthwaite, jr., Denver. His passengers were Edward Cowen, also of Denver, and P. C. Tuck, San Francisco. The car was going east.

After striking the culvert, the machine continued some distance down the borrow pit before coming to rest astride another culvert. Damage to the machine was confined to the running gear and springs. It did not overturn.

GONE

The county didn't want him and the farm camp didn't want him. So the county decreed a 30-day jail sentence against Merlin Smith, 37, mechanic from Garland, Utah, and then suspended the sentence on condition that he depart in 24 hours.

Smith departed with no loss of time.

He had pleaded guilty to intoxication and disturbing the peace, although he told Judge C. A. Bailey he wasn't intoxicated at all. Sheriff's officers, however, almost had to "pour" him into a jail cell when he was first arrested early yesterday.
