"Hitlerism" termed Real Issue of European Fight

HULL FAILS TO PLOT IMMEDIATE AID FOR SOVIET

WASHINGTON, June 23 (U.P.) - Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles, speaking on behalf of President Roosevelt, said today while all forms of dictatorship are inimical to the American way of life, the immediate issue is to stop "Hitlerism."

Welles said this is the immediate outstanding consideration in connection with the German attack on Russia.

He cautioned, however, against speculation on the probable decision to be made by the United States on the question of extending lend-lease aid to Russia in her resistance.

Welles said that the question now before him would not be whether to give sympathetic treatment here, but whether to give aid.

Welles' statement, the first official comment by the United States government since the German attack on Russia, was made in a press conference.

Welles said that the United States government is not in a position to make any commitment at this time.

Twin Falls Meets a Jag-olot!

Anybody want to pet the kitty? Well, it wasn't exactly a kitty that visited here this morning but the jag-olot shown above in a picture taken at the sheriff's office. The animal, which is tame and which is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Eddie G. Yost, Idaho Falls, was not in trouble with the law, but rather followed his master and mistress into the court house this morning. His appearance attracted no little attention. Above, the jag-olot poses on a leaflet. (Times Photo and Engraving)

South American 'Kitty' Startles Courthousers

"Bosco" attracted no little attention at the sheriff's office this morning as he passed through town with his mistress and master, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie G. Yost, Idaho Falls. "Bosco" is a South American jag-olot, being a cross between a South American ocelot and a black jaguar.

His and one-half years old and as playful as a pet house cat, the jag-olot tips the scales at 40 pounds. He was captured where a "kitty" in Colombia, South America.

The Yosts used to live in Long Beach, Calif. and during their stay there the "cat" appeared in several motion pictures where the jungle theme was required.

Mr. Yost this morning declared that "Bosco" was tame enough for any man, woman or child to pet with safety. Many spectators who crowded the sheriff's office to see the animal visitor took the owner at his word and did just that. They reported that "Bosco's" heavy coat of fur was "just like a feather pillow."

Yost carries the cat over his shoulder when walking down the street. He has a harness on the animal "just in case he sees some dog he believes he can lick-or in case a dog sees him."

Mr. Yost declared that the animal was "the best pet that we ever had."

GERMANS REPORT PANZER DIVISIONS DRIVING FORWARD

By FREDERICK C. OCHSNER BERLIN, June 23 (U.P.) - Adolf Hitler's panzer divisions and five bomber today were reported driving forward against the Red army, smashing into Soviet territory in blitzkrieg style.

No official figures were released but Nazis said that on the basis of information available it was believed as many as 1,200 Soviet airplanes may have been destroyed in the air and on the ground in the first 24 hours of fighting.

The German high command said only that the invasion was proceeding "successfully" according to plan, but other reports indicated without disclosing specific details the Nazis were making progress on the 1,700-mile front.

Blitzkrieg Advance Propaganda company reporters in dispatches to newspapers and radio broadcasts said the German armed forces were advancing in the blitzkrieg manner, rolling back the Soviet army in the first phase of the battle.

Reports from the eastern war front said the Luftwaffe was blasting Soviet air bases and communication lines on a scale comparable to the first two days of hostilities against Poland.

The official news agency said six German bombers destroyed 12 Soviet planes, formations had inflicted "severe destruction" on Russian railroads, highways, tank and artillery columns. Russian columns advancing to the front were reported smashed by the Nazi air attack.

Munitions Destroyed Many tanks and heavy guns as well as munitions dumps and troop barracks were destroyed, the official agency said. A large number of Russian planes were destroyed on the ground, it added.

Russian and British air attacks on East Prussia, Nazi Germany and the Rhineland were admitted officially.

The high command said German submarines in the north Atlantic and on the west African coast had sunk six enemy merchantmen totaling 10,000 tons.

The official news agency reported several Soviet coastal vessels had been sunk by Nazi speedboats in the Baltic sea.

Huge Armies Ready For Conflict Along Gigantic East Front

Germany claimed today that her blitz armies had cracked through Soviet fortified defense lines and driven forward toward the main Russian troop concentrations with whom battle was expected to be joined at any moment.

An air attack on a Russian submarine base on the Black sea, presumably at Sebastopol, was reported, and there were indications the Nazi army had smashed into the important fortress of Brest-Litovsk.

German and Rumanian troops were reported driving hard for the former Russo-Bumanian frontier and the Bessarabian capital of Chisinau, 20 miles east of the Dniester river, where it was presumed Russians will attempt a strong stand.

The Germans were attempting to raise the flag of revolt in the former Baltic states, presumably with aid of the thousands of Baltic Germans who were evacuated from that region when Russian forces took it over last summer.

Finns Enter Front Finland still stood aside from the German offensive against Russia but entered a strong protest with the Soviet against Russian bombing of Finnish objectives.

Summer Finds Weather Man Is 'in Season'

There just isn't anybody in south central Idaho who can rightfully claim the title of weather man.

And those complaining about the cold, damp, rainy, clammy or dusty climate prior to last Saturday had better remember that it was because it was the first day of summer.

But being an honest man, come Saturday, June 21, the United States maintains that freedom to worship God as their conscience dictates.

Which satisfies just about everybody... it true.

West Solons Oppose Uruguay, Argentina Trading Concessions

WASHINGTON, June 23 (U.P.) - Senators and congressmen from western farm, cattle and mining states headed opposition to proposed American trade agreements with Uruguay and Argentina at hearings conducted by the committee for reciprocity information today.

Twenty-three congressional witnesses scheduled appearances before the committee, which first heard Sen. Arthur Capper, R., Kan., urge it give to "our farm neighbors" in the midwest consideration equal to the "good neighbors" in Argentina and Uruguay.

The witnesses in general opposed granting concessions to the two Latin American countries on exports of agricultural and livestock products, other farm commodities and tungsten.

YOUTH KILLED BY GAS TRUCK CRASH

KETCHUM, June 23 (Special) - Fatally injured when a big gasoline tanker truck crashed off I. 20 and overturned at least twice at 2:30 p. m. Sunday, Robert Spencer Horne, 20, Hailey, died about 40 minutes later just before a physician arrived on the scene.

Horne was hurled out of the tank truck cab, according to State Officer Earl B. Williams. The accident occurred one mile north of Ketchum.

The young man was driving the empty tanker back from Hailey for S. J. and Mrs. Conoco distributor at Hailey.

The crash victim was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert R. Horne, who was born 20 miles at Hailey.

Officer Williams said investigation showed that the steering knuckle of the truck apparently broke.

SEN. PAT HARRISON Dies after serving in U. S. congress for 38 years.

Death Takes Pat Harrison, U. S. Senator

WASHINGTON, June 23 (U.P.) - The body of Sen. Pat Harrison, D. Miss., president pro tempore of the senate and chairman of the Finance committee, will lie in state today in the chamber where he served his nation for 38 years.

The 60-year-old statesman died yesterday of exhaustion following a major intestinal operation performed last week ago.

Harrison had been in congress for 38 years. He had been a member of the house of representatives for seven years when he won election to the senate in 1918.

He was recovering today from a dislocated shoulder—the result of poor timing of an anesthetic. Ashen when he left the hospital last night, he died in his own bed.

His funeral will be held at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday for burial Wednesday following services at the Methodist church.

$265,000 PHONE BUILDING SLATED

Plans for construction of a new telephone office and for installation of new equipment in Twin Falls were confirmed today by M. E. Dolling, local manager of the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph company.

The entire project, including the new building, general office equipment and outside plant is expected to cost in the neighborhood of $265,000, Mr. Dolling said.

Bids will be asked at 10 a. m. next week for construction of a two-story building to be located on company-owned property at the east corner of Broadway street and Third avenue east.

The new structure will be located half block northeast of the present exchange. The building will contain a basement in addition to the two stories; will be fire-resistant and will be approximately 57 by 67 feet.

Steady increase in telephone demand in Twin Falls, together with anticipated growth this year and in 1942, Mr. Dolling said, will exceed the capacity of the present central office equipment.

Additional work was previously made to the present building constructed in 1918 and additional switchboard facilities have been added several times.

SHOCK DENVER - George Ashen, 19, was recovering today from a dislocated shoulder—the result of poor timing of an anesthetic. Ashen when he left the hospital last night, he died in his own bed.

His funeral will be held at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday for burial Wednesday following services at the Methodist church.

Late FLASHES

STOCKHOLM, June 23 (U.P.) - Berlin dispatches, published in Stockholm newspapers, reported tonight revolve in Lithuania, Estonia and Latvia were assuming "desirable proportions" and about 150,000 insurgents already were in full "struggle" against Russian troops.

It was reported also that sabotage, on a large scale, was creating a real bottleneck for the Soviets in the Baltic.

Well-informed Russian quarters in Stockholm admitted there had been some recent but not serious reports as saying it had been successfully put down.

BERLIN, June 23 (U.P.) - German's armoured, striking squadrons in Lithuania were reported by official Nazi news agencies today to have made extensive gains in Soviet Russia, opening the way for a blitz with the main strength of the 2nd army.

Tremendous clashes between the main Russian army and German expected momentarily, the news agency said following reports that the Germans had smashed through with an unprecedented barrage of 600 tanks and 2,000 trucks.

CASABLANCA - PROVOCATIVE - The French army has been ordered to evacuate the city of Casablanca, Morocco, and to move to the coast.

JAPAN LEADERS PLEDGE FIGHT ON COMMUNIST EVILS

FRIENDSHIP WITH BOTH NAZIS, REDS TO BE RETAINED

TOKYO, June 23 (AP)—Premier Prince Fumimaro Koyama and Wang Ching Wei, head of the Japanese sponsored Nanking government, pledged themselves in a joint statement to collaborate in eradicating the "evils of Communist aggression" in establishing a new order in east Asia.

The national Chinese (Wang) government will endeavor to make its people understand Japanese-Chinese collaboration in the reconstruction of the peoples of Japan and China, the statement added.

Wang pledged cooperation of his government in the political, military, economic and cultural spheres and Japan promised to give him increasing assistance to realize "the national government to demonstrate its independent free authority and thereby share responsibility in establishing a new order."

The Japan Times and Advertiser, organ of the foreign office, said: "Japan, under terms of treaty with Germany and Russia, maintains friendship with both. This implies neutrality while the nation's future path is being determined."

Usually reliable quarters reported Germany would not ask Japan to take part in the war against Russia under the German-Japanese-Italian alliance.

Russia was expected to ask the foreign office to observe strict neutrality under terms of the Japanese-Russian non-aggression accord.

ROAD OILING FOR CASSIA ASSURED

BURLEY, June 23 (Special) — Twenty-one and one-half miles of new oiled farm-to-market roads will be finished in Cassia county this summer, according to Lewis Freymiller, chairman of the board of the Chamber of Commerce.

This plan was announced when Mr. Freymiller, Highway Commissioner Lee Wright, and Harry Schmidt, clerk of the board, returned from Boise where they received "go ahead" from the governor and Allan O. Merritt, commissioner of public works.

Governor Clark was a guest of the chamber on May 29 at a special road meeting. At that time he gave a promise of cooperation with the Burley highway district No. 1 in oiling the roads, building a new Overland street bridge and other work.

On June 5 Sen. K. C. Barlow, Mr. Freymiller and Jack Stevens went to Boise and presented the matter of matching state highway funds with $35,000 available from the highway district.

This matching of funds to make possible a $70,000 project was completed last week in Boise. Mr. Freymiller explained that this total would make possible the oiling of 21 and one-half miles of road, which will be completed by the summer under the supervision of the state highway commission.

Farm-to-market roads slated to be oiled are as follows:

From Overland avenue's oiled surface, east to the Albion grade, eight and one-half miles; from Springdale south to connect with this new road, four miles; from Unity south to connect with this new road, two miles; from Overland avenue's oiled surface, west to the Charles Hoin corner, three and one-half miles; from John's corner north 2 miles to the James Tillyer corner connecting with the old highway, 20 south.

During his connection with the department, Winterholer has specialized in fingerprint and camera work. He also aided departments connected with the law enforcement agency.

SALT LAKE CITY, June 23 (AP) — Government forecasters today promise "some relief" from a blistering heat wave that sent temperatures into the high 90's throughout the intermountain west.

Forecasters and meteorologists were predicted for Utah where a Sunday heat wave broke existing records. A maximum of 93 was recorded in Salt Lake City, and Greenriver, Utah, reported 100 degrees.

Idaho and Montana also reported high temperatures. A maximum of 98 was recorded at Boise, 95 at Twin Falls; 94 at Pocatello; 90 at Butte; 86 at Havre, and 84 at Kalispell.

The forecast for Idaho was "fair and cooler" tonight and Tuesday. Lowered temperatures also were predicted for Montana.

Nokios weeds, especially cockleburrs and wild thistles should be destroyed, but the campaign is directed against all types of weeds.

The campaign this week is planned to kill the growth of weeds before they go to seed. Later in the summer another week will be asked to assist in the campaign against weeds.

PROBE OF INQUIRY SLATED ON SUBMARINE SINKING

RESCUE EFFORTS GIVEN UP AS 33 LIVES ARE LOST

PORTSMOUTH, N. Y., June 23 (AP)—Navy officials arranged today for a court inquiry to determine the cause of the sinking of the O-9 crew in their steel tomb 28 miles at sea, revealed first reports concerning the O-9's activities at "secret" landing grounds off her were not entirely accurate.

Edwards said so far as he had been able to learn, the O-9 gave no signals, reported no trouble and attempted no communications after she disappeared.

Naval observers believed an explosion might have occurred in engine or battery rooms to send the ship plunging to the mud bottom 40 feet down where pressure water crumpled her plate-steel hull. It was believed the two officers and 31 men died almost immediately when the O-9, relic of World War days, recommissioned because of the Japanese emergency, was subjected to the 400-foot pressure. The O-9's hull was built to stand pressure at only 200 feet.

At noon Sunday the O-9 crew was given up for dead and salvage operations were abandoned.

Beautiful Spy Warbles Her Intrigues in Film

By LUCIE NEVILLE

HOLLYWOOD—Island's most beautiful spy, Iona Massey, made a bewitching invasion of America today, stepping from an Atlantic clipper to Broadway in 100 hours before departing from Lisbon. But not even such clever dodging could shake the dogged Mr. George Brent of the P. B. I. and Mr. Basil Rathbone of Scotland Yard, who have had her under surveillance for a week. They came off the plane with her.

"The clipper is a permanent set in Warner Brothers' picture, on a tank on the back lot. On the outside, it's a perfect full-scale, all-metal model that cost $30,000.

"For a few scenes, Iona Massey, 'Lady', Producer Edward Small rented the seaplane set for a day and an evening. The night shots would show Miss Massey and her shadow boarding the ship in Portugal, and the day was devoted to the arrival in New York, with a good deal of fast-cracking dialog.

George Plags for Annie

Reporters and photographers swarmed around the gangplank, and every time one of the players muffed a line all the cameras had to go back and huddle in the plane until Director Tim Whelan signaled for another try. This went on for hours, with everybody getting jittery and even the cool Mr. Rathbone saying "One of the biggest works in the country."

Even in the confusion, Brent managed to add a plug for his girl friend, Ann Sheridan, and it'll sail in the picture, too. She always is grumbling: "One of the biggest works in the world, and you haven't a word to say for me!"

But they let him say it after that. "International Lady" is a copy-and-poppers picture set to martial tempo, and the first non-musical in which Miss Massey has appeared. She'll bring a couple of songs in this one, but they're essential to the story. As a foreign agent who also warbles on the radio, she uses an elaborate musical code to signal accomplices who are trying to wreck a bunch of American-made bombers.

Incidentally, there are a few international complications in Miss Massey's own life. A Hungarian admitted to this country three and a half years ago on a working permit obtained by Metro, she can't apply for citizenship.

As the result of her long term of solitary confinement at Metro, which groomed her to stardom in "Bala-Jaka" and then let her go, this current picture is only the third leading role for Miss Massey. The second, "Now, Wine," in which she appeared with her new husband, Alan Curtis, is about to be released. It's a musical.

Donna Massey hopes there'll be a lot of stinging pictures now, though her own picture is for nothing to make her cry. Nothing in years has made her so happy as "Penny Serenade," which she said "is mostly about little children dying." She got so tear-drenched that she caught cold on the way home.

Scholastic credit for completion of the Civil Aeronautics Administration's citizenship test is being offered by 302 colleges and universities.

Come war and these spy movies...

DRAFT AFFECTS JOB PROSPECTS

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Economists call this the best job-hunting year since the depression started but since University of Texas graduates are having difficulty in landing that first job.

It's hardest on the men because of that little white card they carry—the card by which the government determines if they are finally eligible for a year's military service.

Close inquiries as to their possibility of being drafted are being made of many male job applicants. However, university deans and heads of departments are optimistic about the chances of graduates getting early employment for the simple reason that trained employees in all industries and fields are in great demand.

Three Groups in Demand

Lucky for the graduates who will go into defense industries this summer—industries such as engineering, chemistry, and medicine. So vitally are they needed for the country's defense that they will not only find a chance of jobs but their service will be deferred from military service.

In at least one instance it has been found that employers were asking for girls in preference to boys of draft age; Paul J. Thompson, chairman of the department of journalism, said that about half of the employers have the question possible military service in mind in their employment queries.

Dr. J. Anderson Fitzgerald, dean of the school of business administration, said that employers in some instances are saying that they have lost so many men to selective service they can't stand to lose any more.

Some Companies Ignore Draft

On the other hand, Fitzgerald added, some companies were making no distinction, declaring that they would rather hire the graduates and that "their jobs will be ready for them when they come back." But he described these instances as "exceptional."

Nevertheless, Dr. Fitzgerald said he had more students for 212 business administration graduates this year than ever before. About 60 of these graduates will go into the army this summer or next fall.

A pantomime, "Cinderella Goes Modern," was given by Ruth Van Zant, Harlan Strickley, Irene Moriarty, Glenna Schmitt, Ted Thompson, Bob Kimbrough, Edward Prichard and Gladie Moore.

Mr. Alfred Kramer was the reader and also announced all numbers.

The audience sang "God Bless America" as a concluding number after which the people were seated at long tables where the serving was done by league members.

ECLIPSES SHOWN IN MODEL FORM

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—An "eclipse" device illustrating how eclipses of the sun and moon occur, has been presented to the University of Wisconsin by its inventor, Francis D. Winkley, 66, retired engineer whose hobby is astronomy.

"Most people don't know that eclipses, and they're mystified when they try to figure out how they happen," he said. "My aim in building this new machine was to make it so plain that the average layman and student just starting astronomy could visualize the phenomena clearly."

Winkley's "eclipse" is made of aluminum castings and stainless steel and weighs about 10 pounds. A steel ball in the center of a 10-inch disk represents the sun and a smaller globe at the side represents the moon. As the parts rotate and the bodies pass each other a spotlight illuminates the scene such as an eclipse would make.

Winkley's interest in astronomy first was kindled in 1918 when he was working as a janitor in Washburn observatory here while attending the university. Steel and machines were his first love as a student, but he also worked in the observatory and helped build some of the state's finest equipment still in use there.

"The tall, elderly man didn't lose his interest in stars during his 43 years as a research engineer for Madison and Chicago, Ill., firms.

"I didn't have much time to experiment," he said, "but I always wanted to figure out ways of making astronomy easier to understand."

He retired from engineering 13 years ago and returned again to the study of heavenly bodies. Three years ago he presented the university a model planetarium.

Winkley also writes poetry and builds furniture in the woodworking shop he has set up in the basement of his home.

CHECK-UP SET ON ALL FOOD PRICES

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP) — The government today began daily, if necessary "hourly" checks on unregulated commodities in order to forestall possible speculative activity in foodstuffs such as coffee, tea, pepper, cocoa and a wide range of imported commodities.

The surveillance, to be undertaken by the securities and exchange commission for Price Control Administrator Leon Henderson, includes transactions on rubber, hides, silk, tin, lead, zinc and copper.

It has been disturbed by the volume of speculative activity in essential foodstuffs in certain of these unregulated exchanges and, in cooperation with exchange officials, has taken steps to increase margin requirements and tighten various trading practices, Henderson said.

"It is my feeling in this emergency period there is need for a close watch on the trading in these markets to the end that the public is not victimized by undue speculative activity."

The surveillance, to be undertaken by the securities and exchange commission for Price Control Administrator Leon Henderson, includes transactions on rubber, hides, silk, tin, lead, zinc and copper.

Church Gathering Faces Big Issues

LAVERNE, Calif., June 23 (Special) — The 15th general conference of the Church of the Brethren, which concludes here Tuesday, has faced the most momentous issues of its history, its mission work in China, its world relief program and the civilian public service program for religious objectors received major attention.

Dr. C. Ernest Davis, president of La Verne college of California, served as moderator of the conference. In his opening address he pointed up the need of Christian faith as the only victory which will be meaningful for the world. Delegates elected from the 1,017 churches comprising the membership of 170,000 sent more than 300 voting delegates and the total attendance was estimated at more than 8,000.

The Church of the Brethren dates its origin to 1708 in Germany when the church made strong protest against war and pleaded for democratic freedom in the church.

INDIES MINIMIZE ATTACK BY PLANE

BATAVIA, Java (AP) — Enemy pilots attempting long distance raids to cities and military centers in Java would face difficult and dangerous as accurate anti-aircraft fire.

Across Borneo and Sumatra a crash, or balling out, would mean almost certain disaster. It is terrain which is unbroken by a single open space. The few rivers that can be seen are not wide enough for a panicle landing.

Surrounding Bandoeng, Java's main army base, are treacherous mountain ranges whose negotiation by experienced pilots still remains a distinct hazard.

Many Aviators who have flown all over the world declare that night flights over Java are among the toughest assignments ever given them. Dutch fliers are trained in long hours of duty flying over Bandoeng, Borneo, and the Celebes. Their job is not without its perils, but, at least, they know something of the country below.

Netherlands, Indies roads are usually flanked by large trees that shade the concrete. Whole divisions might be rolling along yet be invisible from spotting planes.

Emergency landings, except at flying fields, would be extremely difficult for enemy ships in trouble. Airdromes are well protected — the experience of Holland's airdrome object lesson painfully learned.

No Landings

Amide from airports, Java is honeycombed with rice paddies. Effecting a landing amid these is nearly impossible. The water-filled paddies are from two feet to four deep, and walled with mud dams on all sides.

The Dutch maintain extensive patrols over all approaches to the Indies. Dornier flying boats keep ceaseless vigilance over sea and land approaches.

Then enemy would send an air fleet southward without these patrols giving ample warning.

Then fighter ships fast Curtiss Howlers — would wait to swoop from the clouds upon the Interloper.

UNIFORMS HURT GIRLS' CHANCES

LONDON (AP) — Complaints that their uniforms is a hindrance to romance and scares soldiers away are made by some of the auxiliary territorial service in a big northern command training center.

"Soldiers seem to think that the A. T. S. is either the odd maid or last hope or else that to see out with one of us indicates that a soldier has been unable to get a girl outside the barracks," said one of the girls.

What do the soldiers say? "We want girls who are not in khaki," said one of them. "We see too much uniform. The A. T. S. is a part of the army just as much as the officers and other staff are part of it, and we treat them accordingly."

"Just as few men fall in love with the girl who works in the same office as themselves, so the soldier wants to get his girl friends from a different class from that in which he spends his working day."

But A. T. S. headquarters in London were shocked at the suggestion that their girls weren't popular.

"This may be true of one unit," said an official, "but we have records of hundreds of marriages between A. T. S. girls and soldiers they have met at work."

"There are few units that cannot boast at least one wedding," continued the official.

"I have always found that the boys like to be with the girls off duty and on duty."

"They tell me that if a girl is sweet, pretty or charming, uniform make no difference."

Of course, there are always some willows just as in civilian life, but it's a question of a girl being shy, not of the uniform she is wearing."

Suit Asks Money Under Old Decree

Because Pay Cox has asserted pay nothing on a probate court judgment for $204 and 418 cents decreed June 20, 1938, R. C. Falt has filed suit in the same court in an effort to collect $300 of that amount.

Falt's complaint said the total amount now owing is $359.54. In order to bring the matter under jurisdiction of the probate court, the plaintiff waives all sums above $500.

New Draft Signers, Can Name Their Permanent Residences

If you're a young man who has reached the age of 21 since the first draft registration, you're going to have one advantage your earlier selective service buddies didn't.

Chairman Walter C. Musgrave of area No. 1 board, said that the state office has announced the new regulations can name their own residence in case they spend part of their time in one place and part in another.

Last October such registrants were somewhat confused. Some of them thereafter wanted to change the address they had given for the place of their residence after registration day. In other instances, the addresses given were incomplete or ambiguous, and the cards reached the wrong local boards.

New Regulations

The new selective service regulations, prepared for the July 1 registration, require each registrant to name definitely the place of his residence so that his location may be easily determined. This once and for all fixes the local board which will have jurisdiction over the registrant. The mailing address, however, can be changed when necessary and local boards will send their notices to the mailing address without regard to the place of residence.

Indicating that each registrant would be free to designate his residence without interference, Chairman Musgrave said:

"The right of the registrant in each case to select his residence ad-

Hitler Objective Seen Only As Ukraine, Caucasus Region

By United Press

Reports from several sources, including an Ankara dispatch quoting the host of Germans in Turkey, said that the Nazi schedule in the campaign against Russia calls for attaining the desired objectives in three weeks.

While it sounds improbable, if there is anything to report at all, it provides a possible clue to Adolf Hitler's aims. Vast Russia obviously could not be subdued by military force in three weeks, if it keeps on fighting.

However, Hitler could conceivably attain his objectives in eastern and southern Russia in a short campaign and halt there, strong enough to hold what he had against counter-attacks.

The Führer's chief objective is believed by most informed observers to be the Ukraine and the Caucasus region. There lies a vast storehouse of grain, other food, oil and minerals. It is almost the life supply of European Russia.

Would Fertilize Hitler

With control of that area, Hitler would be fortified for his war against Britain and in a much better position to carry it on into next year and even beyond, if necessary.

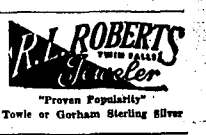

Hitler undoubtedly needs the wheat and oil in question, especially the oil. Once he has his hands on it, German organization and transport would insure that it reaches the Reich. A terrible famine might result in Russia but Germany would not go hungry.

If the Ukraine is Hitler's main objective, the military nature of his campaign can be surmised. The drive through Bessarabia would be the main action. The drives from East Prussia against the central front and through the Karelian isthmus towards Leningrad would be partly designed to keep the Russian forces occupied over a vast front and prevent them from concentrating on defense of the Ukraine.

Would Seal Russia

The pattern would seem to be to seal Russia in from Europe from the Baltic to the Black sea and render her impotent, protecting Germany from attack from the east while she YESTERDAY'S excessive speed is now considered today's normal driving. This speed intensifies the punishment which motor oil must take.

That's why you need a balanced motor oil — every quality balanced with every other quality. Vico has all the properties which a good oil must have in correct balance. It stays oily when hot; it helps resist formation of contaminants; it helps resist bearing corrosion; it provides perfect lubrication at all speeds under all temperatures and under all conditions.

NAVY ASKS SPEEDY SETTLEMENT OF SAN FRANCISCO STRIKE

RETURN TO WORK THIS WEEK SEEN BY U.S. OFFICIALS

Navy officers expressed hope today for speedy settlement of the seven-week-old machinists strike which has hampered production of 11 San Francisco shipyards.

Rear Admiral John Willis Greenleaf, 12th naval district commander, said he would meet today with "all parties concerned" and that the navy had "every hope" that a complete return to work will be effected by the early part of the week.

Eight hundred AFL machinists and 600 CIO members have been on strike at the 11 yards since May 10. Other AFL craftsmen returned to work at the request of national leaders who branded the machinists' walkout as a violation of the coast-wide labor agreement.

President Philip Murray of the Congress of Industrial Organizations and President William Green of the American Federation of Labor joined today in asking congress to defeat legislative proposals intended to check strikes in defense industries.

In separate letters to congressmen, both labor leaders urged them to kill the Vinson bill calling for a 30-day "cooling off" period for mediation and other curbs on labor strikes.

Murray also asked defeat of the Connally "draft" proposal, amendment to the selective training and service act which would require that no more than 100,000 employees in shipyard plants.

The national defense mediation board has asked the U.S. AFL to postpone a walkout scheduled for tonight, at the Sealord Power Corp., Muskegon, Mich. The union demanded a wage increase for a union shop for 1,153 employees producing motor parts for defense manufacturers.

At Trono, Calif., the United Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (U. M. M. S. W.) continued their strike against the American Chemical and Smelter company, most prolonged work stoppage affecting defense industries. The union rejected company proposals to end the 90-day strike by a vote of 260 to 174.

FARM HEADS AT REGIONAL MEET

SALT LAKE CITY, June 23 (UPI)—Farm leaders of 11 western states opened an American farm bureau regional conference here today with demands that agriculture be protected and prepared both for efficient production management during the war and any post-war price slump.

Edward A. O'Neal, Chicago, national federation president, said America "could easily become the leader of the world" with current supplies, but that more legislation was needed to maintain parity prices and keep those prices stabilized after the war.

It is certain, however, that this time the farmer is not going to be defeated as he was after the last war. "Optical aid," Congress is busy now on more steps to keep surplus under control through continued quotas and protect agriculture financially through price stabilization and various credit agencies. "All things considered, the outlook is bright."

Regional problems under discussion included transportation and marketing costs and a long-range plan to increase production of dairy and concentrated meat products needed under the lend-lease program with de-emphasis on output of grains and other commodities in which surplus exist.

BURLEY, June 23 (Special)—Full support of Rupert's July 4 celebration was voted when the Burley Merchants' association assembled. Following the unanimous vote of support, the group sent a check for $25 to the rodeo committee of the celebration as an evidence of active cooperation.

Whatever Your Taste May Be, There Are New Books for You

A fascinating hodge-podge of reading matter is rolling off the presses these days to remind you that, whatever the world may be these days, there's practically no place you'd rather be. You can take your pick—travel biography, a bit of yearning for a lost era, a smattering of philosophy, technical books and novels. You haven't anything to do with war.

You won't love Hitler any better after you've read "The House of Kew" by Elizabeth Neilson (Houghton Mifflin: $3). All the warmth and sunshine of a bygone Germany come out in retrospect, in Miss Neilson's book. This is an autobiographical story that reflects the old heart of Germany, warm and tender and peaceful and full of good cheer.

Miss Neilson paints with tender humor the strength and frailties of her own parents, typical pre-Nazi Germans—the affectionate family relationships and the dependence of each member of the family upon every other. Read it and prepare to grasp your seat.

For travel lovers, Alice Duer Miller's latest volume, "I Have Loved England" (Putnam: $2.75) would be an apt travel companion under the circumstances. It is something different—something that will make you shake your fists at ralding bombers quite as passionately as Londoners do. Perhaps it is a rare collection of photographs, showing England in all its splendor, with aptly written descriptive matter by Miss Miller. It is a volume you will cherish for your library.

Two recent books designed to entice you to some serious thinking are "The Intent of the Artist" (Princeton University Press: $2.50) and "Invitation to Learning" (Random: $3). The first is a symposium by four men, each of whom achieved distinction in his own field. Participants include the late Sherwood Anderson, author; Thornton Wilder, playwright; Roger Sessions, composer; and William Lescage, architect. Each has his own idea of what the artist is driving at, but none is as clearly presented as that of Anderson, who lacked the problem on the premise than an explanation of the thing he was writing could be given as simply and effectively as the writing itself.

Radio Discussion

The other book is a series of conversations among Huntington Cairns, Allen Tate and Mark Van Doren, taken from radio discussions on the world's greatest books.

Nothing in the way of fiction can be filled with quite so much bloody adventure as the true story of Ali Pasha, recounted in all its gory detail by Byron Christie in "Lion of Yanina" (Doubleday: $2.50). Despot, tyrant, thief, wholesale murderer, lecher, the incredible Ali has become almost a legendary figure. Mr. Christie's astonishingly consistent flow of irony is effective enough almost to make you like Ali. Of course, you really won't like it if you have any slight acquaintance with the Golden Rule.

Another book that is sheer delight to read, just as reading is a pleasure, is "Columbia" (Doubleday: Doran: $3.50). Besides being an unusually understanding, thorough and sympathetic study of the nearest South American neighbor, the whole thing is done with an urbane wit and delightful style that makes it outstanding.

Biography of an Industry.

Though primarily the survey of an industry as such, E. D. Kennedy's "The Automobile Industry" (Reynolds and Clayton: $2.50) will bring many a recollection of bouts with the old E. M. P. or Stanley Steamer in the days before air-landing.

The serious student of industrial society as it exists in America today will find plenty of material for thought or for reference in these pages.

You'll be taking a vacation soon, and don't forget to pack a few books in with the sports equipment. Here are a few of the current releases recommended for vacation reading: "H. Allen Smith's 'Low Men on a Tropic Isle'" (Doubleday-Doran: $3) is ideal. You can quit any time after the title page—but you won't. Fred Allen's riotous introduction sets a tempo for this New York newspaperman's recollections. "No more than 23 in close proximity to a stain or a frosted glass."

There's another Zane Grey western out, too. "Two Bombers" (Harper and Brothers: $2) doesn't rank with the late author's best but it is adequate, although the shooting is a bit cluttered up with unnecessary fire, and the love element is stressed more than usual.

Mystery Stories

No summer schedule is complete without a couple of mysteries, entirely different from the usual "whodunit" are Will Curtner's "The Trial of Vincent Door" (Simon and Schuster: $2) and "Pencil Points to Murder" (Crime Club: $2).

"Vincent Door" is the court record of a murder trial, with speeches by attorneys, testimony of witnesses, with footnotes by an associate of the defense counsel. There are plenty of clues in this unusual treatment of a murder mystery and you must look for or against conviction.

Willetta Ann Barber and R. F. Bonabelli's more amusing hit in "Pencil Points to Murder," a lady comes to "Murder Draw a Line." Clues will be found in the sketches, if you're sharp enough to find them.

Peccaries Freed T. R.

Theodore Roosevelt hunted many of the world's most dangerous animals but the only recorded instance of any wild beast forcing him to climb a tree was when peccaries, pig-like animals, chased him, after he had emptied his rifle into the herd.

UTAH DISCARDS OUTMODED LAWS

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, June 23—Because of conflicting, outmoded traffic laws will be thrown out by Utah courts and enforcement authorities on July 1 to make way for a new uniform traffic code which will be promulgated by the recommendations of the national traffic commission.

Embodied in three bills recently passed by Utah's 24th legislature and signed by Gov. Herbert H. Maw, the code marks the successful end of a vigorous campaign by traffic safety groups to provide Utah with uniform laws.

Limit Raised

Daytime speed limits have been raised from 50 to 60 miles an hour. At night, the speed limit will be the present maximum of 50.

Drunken driving laws, already stern, have been modified only slightly, but penalties levied against hit-run drivers will be more serious after July 1.

The code sets up exact definitions of "drunken" and "driving under the influence," and provides for direct reports to the highway commission of all accidents resulting in personal injury or more than $25 property damage, and sets up mechanical safety requirements for all vehicles.

Conform With ICC

Rules governing pedestrians have been codified and trucking regulations have been made to conform with the Interstate Commerce Commission rules.

In addition to the foregoing principal sections of Gov. Maw's "master code," two other newly signed acts further regulate drivers' licenses and provide for extended control of "junior police" safety patrols at schools.

THE SPIRIT OF 16

by JOHN CLINTON

My neighbor's car has been stolen. I'm pretty smart. I thought the ought to do about it. And, let me tell you, I'm very well. I recommended Trilon Motor Oil. "On account of why?" asked the lady.

Well, passing the obvious fact that she had stolen her own car, I suggested that she might be using the wrong kind of oil. "No, no, my car is very well," she said. "For you see some oil form more carbon than Trilon Motor Oil—give you the performance and top protection."

Now because Trilon forms very little carbon, it stays down on the cause of sludge and dirt. And just to show you how mighty I am, I got in my car and drove down to the Union Oil station with her and had them drain the crankcase and fill up with Trilon.

Now, she thinks I'm kidding. If you, too, want to be wonderful, I'll let you switch over to Trilon Motor Oil. Tell me Clinton sent you!

MAN-SIZED JOB HELPS DEFENSE

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (UP)—Four brawny Negro laborers are doing the bit for machine work on the railroads of Mississippi. They don't ride the box cars. Their jobs aren't work for the office workers. They are doing insulating cross ties on their shoulders, stride up a gangplank to a waiting box car and pile the huge timbers in order.

Chief credit for the one-man idea of loading the ties goes to James Lyon, who hails from "above Philadelphia" in the old days, two and three men handled each tie.

Today, however, the rush of armaments and materials to southern ports has made strengthening of roadbeds necessary.

Lyon was convinced that the old way would have to go. Three men to a cross tie got in each other's way and were too slow. The brawny Negro hustled back into Shoshone county, rounder for husky, fancy hands who bragged of their strength. They went to work on the railroad.

Their bragging soon turned to grips, however. One by one, they sagged under the heavy timbers until there were only three left.

Next Man Get Load

One of the men "heads up" the ties for the other three. Catching the timber at the balance on half a horse collar pad, a leader heads for the box car while the next man is still in the yard.

Handling 400 ties comprises an average day for a loader. The ties weigh roughly from 150 to 400 pounds, depending on whether they are pine or oak, with gum coming between the two figures. Thus, one man may be hauling 400 ties of wood in a 10-hour period. His legs give him trouble if he moves more than 100.

They are willing to bet their hard-earned money that loading the ties is the hardest job in the country. Piling the ties for the day, they say, is only a warming-up exercise.

Ogden Reds Boost Pioneer Leadership by Defeating Boise Twice

Brooklyn Captures Two From Reds; St. Louis Beaten

NEW YORK, June 23 (AP)—If the Brooklyn Dodgers—those glorious bums from Flatbush—win the National league pennant, they can look back to Sunday, June 22, as the day the golden gates opened wide for them.

The Dodgers, hustling like champions, wrested two dog-eat-dog games from the World Champion Cincinnati Reds before 35,792 persons at Crosley field, Cincinnati, winning the bitterly-fought opener in 16 innings, 3-1, and the night-cap, 3-2. Those were two wonderful triumphs for the Dodgers but who'd ever have thought that at this critical juncture they had won the pennant.

Professor Mack

Playing as though they were in the thick of the race themselves, the Glants throttled the Cards twice, 4-3 and 3-2. Thus the Dodgers' double win and the Cards' twin loss left St. Louis on top by only one game.

Double Win for Braves
The Braves plastered a double defeat on the Cubs, 6-3 and 3-2. They beat Vern Olsen out in the opener.

Cowboys Drop Two More to Delancey Club

South Central Idaho baseball fans got to see some of the finest hitting ever presented in Jaycee park over the week-end—but the hitting wasn't done by the Twin Falls Cowboys. Not even in a small part.

The blasting fireworks was presented by the Pocatello Cardinals, who pounded out a 4-2 victory last night after dropping the Wranglers on Saturday evening by a count of 12-4.

Well Armed

The three new pitchers signed by the Cowboy management saw action over the week-end and all got a baptism of fire. The new pitcher, although one, Indian Hank Bushman, presented quite a defense to the Cardinals, but he finally decided to try himself there last night.

The result was that Andy went to the hospital with a broken arm. The other two pitchers were not so lucky.

Sacs Increase Loop Lead To 13 Games

Sacramento Cardinals once more held a 13-game bulge on the Pacific Coast league field today by winning yesterday's double-header, 9 to 0 and 2 to 1 over Oakland's Acolts. The Senators took the series, four games to three.

San Diego won its series with Hollywood, five games to two, by splitting a pair. The Twinks took the opener, 3 to 1, behind Julio Bonetti's five-hit pitching. In the rematch, the Twinks' pitcher, Bob Brown won his own game, 1 to 0, when he honored in the sixth with two on, Seattle took the series, five games to three.

Pilots Drop to 4th; Salt Lake Bees Trim Idaho Falls by 6-1

Ogden's Reds today were assured of leadership "at least for a few days" in the Pacific Pioneer league race, after a 3-1 series victory that plunged their Boise rivals into fourth position.

Red Pitcher Carl Lambert held the Pilots to three hits in the afternoon engagement while his mates were collecting nine from the offerings of two Boise hurlers for a 3-0 win.

Trojans Walk Off With Track Meet

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Calif., June 23 (AP)—It must be tiresome for eastern athletes to put forth their best Sunday efforts and find the University of Southern California track and field team still cock of the walk.

The Trojans of Coach Dean Cromwell walked off with their seventh straight National Collegiate Athletic Association title Saturday, and of the 81 1/2 points they scored, 58 1/2 will be represented on next year's squad. California's team will be able to muster only 12 points of their own Saturday, which was sufficient to give them third place, 8 1/2 points behind Indiana. It looks like the Trojans again in 1942.

Complete results:
 Shotput—Boha (Georgetown), 44 feet 10 inches; Harris (Indiana), Merritt (UC) (Clemson), 42 feet 10 inches; (Ohio State), Houser (UCLA).
 Discus—Houser (UCLA), 220 feet, 1 inch; Peoples (USC), R. Bites (California), 210 feet, 10 inches; (California), 200 feet, 10 inches; (Stanford), 190 feet, 10 inches; (Ohio State), 180 feet, 10 inches.

Bobby Joratz Boosts Average, Widens Lead

Bob Joratz, Pocatello outfielder, added another ten points to his batting average this week, but he didn't need the increase as he now leads his nearest opponent by 35 percentage points with a mark of .370. Joratz made eight hits in 20 trips to the plate during the past week, and leads all hitters in hits with 41, total bases, and is tied for the lead in runs scored with 20. He leads the association in home runs, and of the 81 1/2 points they scored, 58 1/2 will be represented on next year's squad. California's team will be able to muster only 12 points of their own Saturday, which was sufficient to give them third place, 8 1/2 points behind Indiana. It looks like the Trojans again in 1942.

50,000 Fingerling Trout Planted by Elmore Sportsmen

Sixty thousand fingerling Rainbow Trout were released in the rearing pond of the Elmore County Wildlife Club on the first of the week. The fish were brought here in two trucks from the Eagle hatchery. They will be fed until fall when they will have attained a length of six to eight inches. They will then be released in Snake river to help build up the already good fishing being enjoyed in the river. Thirty thousand were released from the pond this spring. WAVES OF HEAT BLANKET NATION

By United Press

Two heat waves billowed across eastern and middle western states today with a cool trough between them.

Temperatures dropped from their abnormal peaks in the Mississippi and Ohio river valleys and in the Great Lakes region. Thunder showers dotted the area where the cool mass of air drifting down from Canada touched the warmer atmosphere.

However, the mercury clung to torrid levels in middle Atlantic states and began rising again over the Rocky mountains and western plains in the wake of the first heat wave.

Phoenix, Ariz., and Blythe, Calif., recorded the nation's official maximum temperature of 108 yesterday. High readings in the eastern and central states included 97 at Chicago; 96 at New York, 94 at Kansas City, 93 at Boston.

In the far west, temperatures remained mostly in the 60s and 70s. Rain was reported across the southern states.

Emma Glouchek, county chairman, said this afternoon that donations in Twin Falls city today reached $1,053.80 with the quota being $1,000. Several reports are yet to be received from the city proper.

No figures were available today on the county totals as many of the communities have not handed in reports.

The drive will close sometime this week, exact day to be announced later.

U. S. EXPECTED TO OFFER REOS HELP

LONDON, June 23 (AP)—United States Ambassador John G. Winant visited Russian Ambassador Ivan Malsky today and was believed to have indicated to him America's readiness to follow Britain's lead in aiding Russia in its fight against Germany.

Winant, who arrived Saturday after having visited President Roosevelt in Washington, was understood to have spent considerable time with Prime Minister Winston Churchill in the country yesterday.

It was reported but not confirmed that Churchill and Winant talked by telephone to administration leaders in Washington.

Winant was believed to have told Malsky that in the United States, as in Britain, any hope by Germany of splitting sentiment, on the ground that Germany is fighting "Bolshevism," would be disappointed and that President Roosevelt was determined to intensify aid to Britain.

SOLOM SAYS U. S. ON WAR'S BRINK

HIGHLAND PARK, Ill., June 23 (AP)—Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D., Mont., said last night the only achievement of the American foreign policy "has been to lead us to the brink of war."

"Our leaders have inaudible belligerent and neutral alike until today we stand isolated," Wheeler told an America First committee rally. "Isolation not because of anything said or done by some of our greatest statesmen, the Johnsons, the Borahs, the LaFollettes, but because of Franklin Delano Roosevelt."

He said it was "absurd" to speak of the nation's "good neighbor policy."

"It is apparently a policy based upon insults, namecalling and disregard of international law and practices," he said. "The one achievement has been to lead us to the brink of war."

He said the principal purpose of American foreign policy should be maintenance of peace.

DRAFT PROPERTY CHANGE OFFERED

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP)—Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson today proposed a substitute "draft property" bill greatly limiting the scope of the administration measure which has aroused a storm of congressional opposition.

Patterson presented the proposed substitute to the senate military affairs committee at hearings on the original proposal.

The substitute carried a definition of what kind of property the government would be authorized to take over any property, tangible or intangible.

"This will meet the objections that the bill would permit the government to take over a man's watch or would affect freedom-of-the-press," Patterson told the committee. "Not that it was intended, but in any event it could not be done under the new bill. This measure has a much narrower scope."

The new measure would confine the President's commandeering authority over private property generally to military materials, machinery and tools required to produce them, and materials and patents or designs which go into their manufacture.

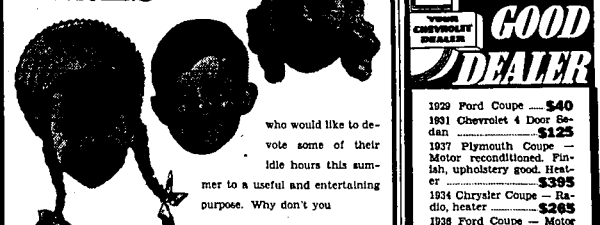

U. S. Borders Are Closed to Italy

WASHINGTON, June 23 (AP)—The United States today ordered all border exits closed to Italian nationals until further notice.

The justice department ordered immigration and border patrol officers to prevent Italians from leaving the country, while the treasury department issued similar instructions to customs officials.

The action was taken to prevent Italians from leaving the country with an excess of funds. Italian and German holdings in the United States recently were frozen by President Roosevelt.

No matter what the season, "CATERPILLAR"

GETS THE JOB DONE BEST

"Caterpillar" Diesel tractors are famous for their adaptability — their ability to handle the job whether it's to "lug" a heavy plow through tough going or treading lightly over a newly planted field. This great feature makes "Caterpillar" ideal for farming methods in Magic Valley where a large variety of crops demand power that will fit the job at hand and get it done on time.

"Caterpillar" Diesel economy fits right in too. On light work like cultivating, fuel consumption is even lower than enthusiastic owners report for heavy duty work such as plowing.

"Caterpillar" Diesel can give you the power for your farming at lower fuel and upkeep costs plus getting the job done best. Ask us for information and details.
