

rites Arranged For A. Peterson

PAUL, June 30 (Special)—Death came Saturday at 10:40 a. m. to Andrew M. (Andy) Peterson, well-known Paul farmer, near Soda Springs, where he was employed since early spring at a sheep camp. His wife, who was with him, reported he was in his usual good health until Friday evening, when he suffered a heart attack. He seemed to rally, and Saturday morning sheared 10 sheep. Shearing was later stopped at the camp because of rain.

Mr. Peterson said that he felt especially good, and had gone into another camp to visit when he was stricken with another heart seizure, and died before his wife could be summoned.

Body at Burley

The body rests at the Payne mortuary, where it may be viewed from Tuesday until Wednesday at 11 a. m. when it will be taken to the home of Bishop and Mrs. K. C. Merrill, Paul, until time for the funeral.

Their daughter, Mrs. H. J. Bixler, Burley, and their son, Ernest Pocatello, upon receiving word of their father's death, left at once for Soda Springs, and brought their mother to Burley, where she is now at the home of her daughter.

Mr. Peterson was born in Denmark May 3, 1883. He came to America at the age of five, and located with his parents at Bear City, Utah, where he met and married Miss Eva Holmerson, Dec. 12, 1906. Bishop J. P. Johnson officiated at a home wedding, and the couple later went to the D. S. temple for additional rites.

Mr. Peterson moved with his family to Jerome in 1921, and from there to Rupert in 1925. The family had resided in Paul since 1930.

Surviving Relations

Besides his wife he is survived by seven children, one daughter, Mrs. Bixler; and six sons, Ray Peterson, county agent at Emmett; Lee Peterson, Pocatello; and Don, Homer, Lytle and Floyd, all employed at Moscow, One daughter, Mrs. Alice Wills, preceded him in death, July 19, 1939, at the Soda Springs hospital.

Six grandchildren, two brothers and one sister also survive. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday at the L. D. S. church in Paul, with Bishop K. C. Merrill in charge. Interment will be in the Paul cemetery, under the direction of the Payne mortuary, Burley.

FRANCE SEVERS RED RELATIONS

VICHY, June 30 (AP)—France severed diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union today and posted mobile guards at the post office, railroad station, bridges and roads to round up Communists in Vichy.

The government charged "Soviet diplomats red conspiracy" against France had engaged in activities "detrimental to public order and national security."

Guards were posted at all exits from Vichy, while other squads halted persons in the streets, ordering them to identify themselves.

The Soviet embassy reported two members of its staff were taken into custody this morning.

Since outbreak of German-Soviet hostilities, police have intensified efforts throughout unoccupied France to round up Communists, to destroy secret Communist printing presses and confiscate Communist literature.

All miles flown increased from 7,000,000 miles per fatal accident in 1936 to 40,000,000 miles in 1940.

Barrymore Loses Decision to "Zombie" and Man's Punch

HOLLYWOOD, June 30 (AP)—John Barrymore, the "great profile," no less, lost a one-round decision early today in an exotic drink called a "zombie" and a young man who resented the actor's remarks to his girl friend.

Barrymore wound up on the sidewalk after getting the old heave-ho from Marcel LaMaze, maitre d'hotel, and a corps of waiters.

Earl Carroll's theater and theater was the scene of the one-punch battle and the audience of 800 included the Rev. R. Anderson Malone, who performed the marriage ceremony for the duke and duchess of Windsor. The cleric was present in his official capacity, for he joined in holy wedlock Evelyn Sexton and Jimmy Mandrix, jitterbug dancing champions.

The wedding was to have been the main event of the evening but the unscheduled bout between Barrymore, a zombie and young Clarence Reed of Bakersfield, Calif., took the spotlight.

Only one punch was thrown—except for the zombie—and it barely grazed the southwest corner of the great profile.

"I would not go so far as to say Barrymore was thrown out," said LaMaze as he flicked the dust from his boiled shirtfront.

"We merely hustled him to the door to prevent further damage. I don't think that punch hurt him, but the next one might have."

John arrived early to assure himself a front seat at the wedding.

As he entered, "Think-a-Drink" Hoffman was concocting strange liquid refreshments on the stage, after reading the minds of his heavy drinkers.

Hoffman asked Barrymore to think of a drink. Barrymore "furrowed his brow" and thought.

He thought of a zombie, and Hoffman's eyebrows lifted as he read the great mind. A zombie, to the uninited, is practically a lethal weapon, and one to a customer is the limit.

"Do you know what a zombie is?" asked Hoffman.

"I ought to," said Barrymore. "I was married to one for several years."

Hoffman began to pour the multi-colored concoction. Barrymore swallowed it, then began perambulating through the club.

He limped at the table occupied by Reed and his attractive but unidentified companion. His remarks, said Reed, shouldn't be repeated in nice society.

Barrymore addressed Reed's girl friend and Reed swung from the

SHOP ON WHEELS AIDS MECHANICS

Used car mechanics of the Glen G. Jenkins Chevrolet garage in Twin Falls will be put through a rigid training course beginning today when the Chevrolet "reconditioning shop on wheels" starts operation here, it was announced by Glenn E. Jenkins, manager.

Mr. Jenkins announced that beginning immediately the garage will materially increase the number of employees, both in the service and sales departments.

The training school during the next two weeks will be directed by J. Harold Bates, operator of the reconditioning shop on wheels.

The service shop truck which Bates operates and which arrived in Twin Falls yesterday, carries a complete line of supplies for reconditioning, and the company's mechanics will be given the latest information available on reconditioning of used cars, Mr. Jenkins said.

STOCK FREED AS TRUCK CRASHES

Several persons escaped possible serious injury late Saturday night when a heavy cattle truck and a private car both left the highway east of the city toward Kimberly, police reports show.

The cattle truck apparently turned out sharply to avoid hitting the private car which was traveling in the same direction. The private car, after swinging out, struck an object and veered back in front of the truck.

Both the truck and the car left the highway and the front portion of the truck-trailer overturned, giving liberty to 14 head of stock which "walked away" over the surrounding area. The animals were all rounded up later.

The truck was operated by Buell C. Vanderpool, 25, Twin Falls, Noreman Cahow, a cattle buyer from Burley, was riding with him. The private machine was driven by Wesley Ball, 26, Jerome. With him, in addition to his wife, were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Tipton, also of Jerome.

DAM TO ENRICH VALLEY IN UTAH

PROVO, Utah, June 29.—The approach of summer has brought renewed activity to construction of the $15,000,000 Deer Creek reclamation project in being rushed to completion by March 29, 1942. However, E. O. Larson, construction engineer for the U. S. bureau of reclamation, predicted it would be finished by this fall at the very latest.

Other units of the project are also moving ahead of schedule. The entire project was designed to irrigate the 100,000-acre area and delivery of a supplemental water supply for 100,000 acres of farm lands in the rich central valleys of Utah—the valleys known as Utah and Salt Lake.

In Wasatch Mountains

The water to be stored behind Deer Creek dam, located on the Provo river about 16 miles northeast of Provo in the heart of the towering Wasatch mountains, will come from the Weber, Provo and Duchesne rivers.

The dam will impound a reservoir that will have a storage capacity of 150,000 acre feet, extending up the Provo river canyon for 65 miles from the face of the 153-foot high, earth-filled dam.

The dam will be more than 1,000 feet thick at the base and thick enough for a 35-foot roadway across the top. It will contain around 3,000,000 cubic yards of earth and rock—making it the largest earth-fill dam ever constructed by the bureau of reclamation.

A concrete-lined tunnel was blasted through solid rock at the left abutment of the dam to divert the river during construction operations. Later it will serve as an outlet for surplus water and will be used in conjunction with a spillway over the top of the structure.

High Lift

One of the major tasks in connection with construction of the dam was construction of new grades for a state highway that traverses what will be the bed of the reservoir and realignment of a branch of the Denver & Rio Grande Western railroad that also goes through the canyon.

Both these projects are expected to be completed soon.

A six-mile tunnel must be built through the hill near the dam to the headwaters of the Duchesne river to divert water from that stream into the reservoir. Work on this started last fall and a crew of 60 miners has cleared the mountain for more than 1,000 feet.

Canals below the dam are being enlarged to carry water to Utah valley farmers. One of the new, enlarged canals will be 23 miles long.

Construction of two tunnels was necessary to provide means of bringing water from the dam to the Salt Lake valley, immediately north of Utah valley.

One of the tunnels, the 3,600-foot Olmsted tunnel, was completed last fall, while the 15,000-foot Alpine-Trapper tunnel was "holed through" recently and is now being lined with concrete.

HUGE DAM GETS WATER COOLING

GRAND COULEE, Wash., June 29.—Engineers at Grand Coulee dam, Wash., have done in five years what might have taken nature a century to do—cool 10,200,000 cubic yards of concrete.

Newly-placed concrete produces heat which, unless dissipated, causes expansion and contraction which can easily result in serious damage to a structure. At Grand Coulee, the danger was obviated by circulating cold river water through steel tubing imbedded in the dam.

The job required two large pump barges, 2,000 miles of pipe, 2 miles of 34-foot inspection shafts, nearly six miles of other galleries, and shafts—all at a cost estimated at $1,400,000.

The pumping system reduced concrete temperatures from as high as 132 degrees to the uniform required temperature of 45 degrees.

It required 40 to 60 days of cold water circulation to cool the concrete in each section as block after block was pyramided until the dam reached its full height of 550 feet.

Engineers estimate that through ordinary radiation the cooling would have taken a century.

The two barges—one with six pumps, the other with five—pumped cold water out of the Columbia river, circulating it day and night at the rate of four gallons a minute through each of the thin-walled one-inch pipes.

Fifty Americans Remain in Besieged Chinese Capital

By GEORGE A. FITCH (NEA Special Correspondent)

CHUNGKING, China—About 50 Americans will pass the glorious Fourth in Chungking. The personnel is constantly changing. The few of us who have been here since Chungking became the war-time capital of the Chinese government are veterans.

We are all used to air raids now. Those who couldn't get used to them are gone long ago. If one cannot control the feelings in the pit of one's stomach during the raids or get over the noon-time "fidgets" or the five o'clock "hitters" (the hours when the most likely to occur), one might as well cut out—for high blood pressure, nervous indigestion, and other forms of nerves will wreck one's health. Those who are still here have been able to develop a certain degree of "intrinsic fortitude."

limited social life is made up of a ment hostel, Chialing house, when correspondents, advisers and experts assisting the Chinese government, embassy officials, business men and missionaries.

Professional Men

The American embassy personnel changes for a time in China. We have just seen Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson go, and his successor, Clarence Clausen, come. A farewell to Ambassador Johnson on Washington's birthday was the occasion of a welcome to President Roosevelt's special envoy, Lauchlin Currie. The Chinese present were very much impressed when Mr. Currie said: "You are so little, and we have so much to give, I pray God we may not disappoint you!"

Professor J. Lossing Buck (former husband of the well known author, Pearl Buck) serves the American government as a special treasury department observer in China. He also maintains his connection with the Chengtu.

Most of the missionary members of the community are Methodists, as the Methodist work is strong in Szechuen province.

L. K. Taylor, manager of the Wm. Hunt Engineering corporation, had just finished installing the machinery for a new cigarette factory when the building and adjoining warehouse were destroyed in a raid, with the loss of $500,000 Chinese and more than $100,000 American firm.

Other Americans come and go, and we have frequent distinguished visitors to this one American firm.

ITALIAN SEAMEN ASK ABOUT WAR

MISSOULA, Mont., June 29.—A thousand Italian seamen, intended for the duration of the war at Fort Missoula; eat, sleep, laugh and play games, but are lonely.

"My life at Bella Vista (the interned seamen's name for the fort) is fine—but Italy is home. We have families there," they say, wistfully.

When newspapermen were permitted to inspect the camp, the Italians, many of whom speak English, hurled a barrage of questions about the outside world.

"How is the war? How far is it to town? Do you have any newspapers and has Mussolini made any speeches? Has Greece fallen? What about Ethiopia?"

But the reporters were not permitted to answer.

Quarters Are Cramped

Some of the men were beginning to show the strain, although there was little grumbling. Quarters, now cramped, were to be enlarged by erection of 12 fabricated houses shortly, and the chain-link fence, now enclosing about five acres, was to be extended to take in an additional five acres.

For the men in the camp, time weight heavy. They listen to a daily concert by the 24-piece band and brass ensemble from the luxury liner Conte Blancmanno, but for the most part, individual musical instruments hang silent on the barracks walls. The men apparently have no desire to play them.

Carve Ship Models

On the other hand, however, the seamen are busy making models of ships, many of them beautifully carved.

On the playground, the men play the game of "Booze," similar to the bowling game of Scotland. They are adept at soccer, but have abandoned it with the approach of not weather.

So, for the most part, the men merely loaf. They have little interest in their daily routine, although

Parents of Selectees Pledge To Maintain Draft Fairness

SOUTH BEND, Ind., June 29.—Shorn of control over their sons in military training, South Bend parents of draftees believe they should have something to say in the administration of selective service.

To make their parental influence felt they've organized The National Parents of Selectees, Inc., a group with the avowed purpose of fighting for the impartial conduct of a draft.

The organization adopted a militant attitude after hearing Vernon R. Heimann, secretary of a South Bend draft board, warn that corruption in any phase of the selective service system will undermine public confidence and seriously cripple the national defense effort.

Spurred by the warning, the organization announced that it would investigate all complaints against administration of the draft and work with the prosecutor's office and the grand jury in prosecuting negligent or willful violations of regulations.

Through Frank J. Murray and Clyde J. Jordan, acting executive officers, the group made known its favor an absolute one-year limit on training and abolition of the 10-year reserve clause in the selective service act.

Other points in the program included:

1—Public listing of the names of men who "apparently" should be in class 1-A but are deferred for call

2—Suspension of poll tax, state income and property taxes for trainees.

3—Exemption of trainees from fishing, hunting and trapping licenses fees.

The National Parents of Selectees, Inc., had its inception in South Bend, but leaders and members hope its organization and purpose spread throughout the nation.

TOWNSEND CLUBS OPEN CONVENTION

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 30 (UP)—Indoors by sultry clouds and intensified dressing preparation, some 10,000 Townsend club delegates from every state assembled here today for their sixth annual convention, which lasts until July 4, to formulate new plans for remedial pension legislation.

The pension seekers, representing a total membership of more than 2,000,000 persons, will have addresses by more members of congress than have ever been gathered outside Washington, except during political conventions. Butler G. Rankine, convention director, said seven senators and fourteen members of the house had accepted invitations to speak.

Fifteen special trains and scores of buses have been chartered to bring delegates from every section of the country.

Unity to Be Stressed

National unity, patriotism and strict observance of the law will be the keynote of the convention, according to Rankine. Delegates are almost entirely Democrats, however, that congress immediately pass a national pension program with uniform annuities throughout the country, revising the present federal-state matching system.

Dr. Francis E. Townsend, originator of the pension plan, has stipends for the aged, again will be the main spring behind the conclave. Now approaching his 75th year, the pension leader behind his age by working constantly from 12 to 14 hours daily.

One of the principal activities of the convention will be mapping of a program of action in Washington and every state to be carried out immediately after delegates return home. The program is expected to envision rapid extension of activities throughout the southern states.

Wheeler Versus Pepper

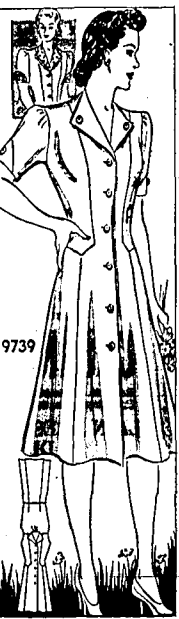

The closing session of the party line of the government will attempt to equal the Lincoln-Douglas debates of a bygone day. At that session, two of America's most able orators — Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, and Sen. Claude Pepper — will discuss their opposing views on the issue of isolation or intervention.

Others scheduled to speak include Sen. Charles McNary, of California and Rep. James F. O'Connor of Montana, who introduced the latest Townsend bill in both houses of congress.

Rankine declared that immediately following the conclave the organization would swing into an intense campaign to force congress to enact more liberal pension legislation at this session.

"We are going to aid the other democrats in their war efforts," he said, "and we can certainly give materially to aid to our own elderly American citizens. A strong economic defense at home is as essential to national defense as giving assistance to other nations."

BOY SCOUT CAMP DATES ARRANGED

Summer camping plans for Twin Falls district Boy Scouts had been chartered today by Scoutmasters and committeemen of Flier, Hazelton and nine Twin Falls troops.

Michael Throckmorton, Twin Falls, will be camp director for the week starting July 20. During that week the camp at Boardman creek will be host to Scouts from troop 85, Christian church; troop 87, Methodist church; troop 88, American Legion; troop 84, Kiwanis club; troop 89, Baptist church; troop 71, second ward L. D. S. church.

Plans for three other Twin Falls troops are not yet completed.

Troop 89, first ward L. D. S. church of Flier, and troop 48, Hazelton, will be in camp the week of July 6.

Committee leaders said that a "double check" physical examination is planned for each scout who attends the camp. The boys are to receive thorough checkup within 10 days of the camp opening, and must have a checkup one day before camp.

Although an adult will supervise each troop, the Boy Scouts will be in charge of their own training and outdoor life. Each troop is to camp separately but all will participate in various group Scouting activities.

LONDON—Germany's blitzkrieg against Russia is lagging behind schedule and Nazi armies are striking with terrific force on three fronts in an attempt to catch up, military experts asserted today.

NEW YORK—The Rome radio reported today German motorized columns had occupied the Russian city of Minsk, 80 miles inside the year borders of Russia, Cbs said today.

LONDON—Authoritative sources said today that the next two or three days would probably be of great importance in the Russo-German phase of the war. It is estimated that a decisive test might be imminent. The key situation was in the Minsk and Luck areas.

WASHINGTON—The agriculture department today reported that unfavorable weather conditions delayed spring sowing in the Soviet Union from two to three weeks behind last year's crop which also was late.

FAIRBANKS, Alaska—An army flying fortress established a record of seven hours and five minutes yesterday in a flight to Fairbanks from McChord field, Tacoma, Wash. Capt. Dale Gaffney, accompanied by eight officers and enlisted men, made the flight.

LONDON—Royal air force bombers, in one of the boldest daylight raids of the war, flew over northwestern Germany and bombed docks at the big naval base of Bremen, the air ministry said today.

WASHINGTON—Informed military sources today said that the Nazi drive into the Soviet Union has spurred work on the Alaskan defense program, especially air, submarine, anti-aircraft and heavy artillery installations.

BERLIN—A special communiqué from the German high command on the eastern front today claimed the "ring around surrounded Soviet armies" on the central front is being tightened.

WASHINGTON—The navy department today sought information from London concerning a report a number of United States marines were aboard a British ship which was sunk in the Atlantic.

- All pictures will be displayed in the Dry Goods Dept. of the Idaho Dept. Store from the time the picture is taken to the end of the contest.

750,000 MEN TO SIGN ON JULY 1 REGISTRATION DAY

EARLY INDUCTION INTO ARMY SEEN FOR 21-YEAR-OLDS

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—An estimated 750,000 young men of 21 will register for selective service tomorrow, and a large proportion of them will be inducted into the army during coming months.

The 4,000 draft boards through the country will register tomorrow all the young men who have become 21 since the first Friday last Oct. 16. At that time, more than 16,000,000 men from 21 to 35, inclusive, registered for possible service.

A high percentage of the 21-year-olds will be chosen for the army because they are in better physical condition than older men because few of them have dependents that would cause deferments; and because of the new policy of automatic deferment of men 28 or older.

Mr. Roosevelt, in an executive order in "the national interest" announced at Hyde Park, N. Y., authorized the army to induct 900,000 selectees from July 1, 1941, to June 30, 1942. This is the maximum the law permits to be in service at any one time, and presumes the 650,000 inducted thus far will be released as they complete their one-year training. Chief of Staff Gen. C. Marshall has indicated, however, a few selectees may be retained longer in the army.

Officials said a lottery to determine the order in which tomorrow's registrants will be subject to call probably will be held in about two weeks.

U. S. GOODS BAN HURTS THAILAND

BANGKOK, Thailand dip—American business men are fretting over loss of an increasing number of orders to Japan because of the tightening of the American export licensing law.

The United States ban on the export of machinery, tools and similar material is affecting business in unrelated fields as well. American business men said. Some buyers, resenting the application of the licensing law to peace-time equipment, are placing their orders in other countries—mainly Japan, according to these quarters.

Orders for machine parts, stainless steel and solder, having been refused export permits by the United States, were filled in England. Other orders have been filled by Japan. The population of Bangkok, a city of 2,000,000, is estimated to be between 2,000 and 3,000 at present, compared to an estimated 600 to 800 six months ago. Most of the increase comprises business men hoping to establish offices here.

Small orders for machinery and tools have been refused export permits by the United States for the past 10 years, for manufacture of wristwatch bands for the local market. American business quarters point out that many Thailand factories have standardized on American machinery. Replacements have been purchased regularly in the United States. Within the last year, however, export licenses have been refused for many orders, these quarters said. As a result, many buyers have turned to Japan to fill the orders.

The Thailand air force was standardized on American planes. Recently export licenses were refused by the United States for the export of replacements of parts for these planes, according to American business quarters.

Plane shipment halted—Last year the United States stopped shipment of 10 American planes purchased by the air force. Japan immediately offered to fill the order and since has sold more than 25 military planes to Thailand, according to these quarters.

The commercial airlines operated by the Thailand government also flies American planes. A recent order for the replacement of worn-out instruments for these machines was refused export license by the American government. It was said. Before the outbreak of war in Europe, the government railway standardized its railroad equipment with German material. The European war closed the German market and the railway turned to the United States to obtain replacements for the little wood-burning trains that are gradually thrusting their way into the undeveloped wasteland of eastern and northern Thailand. American business men expect to get a foothold in this expanding field, according to these quarters.

The United States government, however, refused to grant export permits for many of the orders, according to American business circles here.

CONTEST STARTS IN BABY PHOTOS

Officials of the Idaho Department of Agriculture today had announced plans for the second annual baby photo contest which starts tomorrow and continues through the month of July.

Babies from three months to six years old, residing in the Magic Valley, are eligible to enter. Through payment of a small fee the photograph of the child is taken at the Idaho studio and is then displayed in the Idaho Department store. This fee is $1. Prizes to be given at the end of the contest include $41 in merchandise by the store and $40 in prizes.

Local judges will select the first 10 winners. These photos then will be sent to Miss Margaret Bennett, Hollywood's ace photographer of babies, who will select the grand prize winners.

WHOLE TOWN TO BATTLE BLAZES

CALEDON EAST, Oct. 4 (AP)—The next time the fire-bell sounds in this village of some 400 citizens all but the lame, the halt and the blind will drop whatever they're doing and rush to the fire-house.

The "chicken-few" will don helmets, put raincoats over their heads and grab axes and jump aboard a trim, new combination pumper, hose and ladder engine as they slide out to the fire-scene. They're the veterans and they've received thorough grounding on how to douse the most stubborn blaze. They have to be good. For in Caledon East competition is tough with every man a fireman and the rest of the townsmen hoping the day will come when they'll ride "our bright-red engine" to a fire.

Those not elected to man the "fire-red" won't be spectators while their buddies fight.

Auxiliary Training Squad Fire Chief Bill Cannon saw to it that they too received training and their job is to haul additional fire-fighters and other fire-fighting equipment which the engine cannot carry.

Those people say proudly that they have a fire-fighting system second to none for a community its size. "And," they beam, "all this hasn't cost us a cent."

Progressive citizens launched the cooperative fire-department idea a little over a year ago. The idea took hold, blossomed and spread and three nearby towns have started a cooperative of their own.

Money for the project was put up by Town Trustee T. R. Evans, also fire insurance agent in Caledon East.

Water Supply Stored An ingenious system of water supply in various sections of the town is fitted for the most part by public-conscious residents who either supplied materials or pitched in to do the actual building.

Thousands of gallons of water are stored in underground cisterns, some fed by rain-water through roof-drains.

But the town hasn't had even a grass fire since the system was inaugurated. The equipment, however, is tested frequently and every so often the alarm rings out in practice.

Lack of Good Books Will Hit Next Season's Film Production

By PAUL HARRISON (NEA Service) HOLLYWOOD—About 50 per cent of the new and forthcoming books seem to be blither war stories and political-historical stuff unfit for filming, so the studios are going to have pretty slim pickings from the new literary season. There will be fewer books anyway, with almost nothing coming from Europe.

The picture-makers, anticipating the famine, bought more Broadway plays than ever before and have bid them in at generally higher prices. Paramount's $283,000 "Lady in the Dark" was the top bid. Columbia forked over $253,000 for "My Sister Eileen."

No telling what fantastic sum will be paid for the rights to "Life With Father." No telling, either, what mayhem will be committed on the bodies of various scripts before they're rewritten and reach the screen.

Flop Successes It's likely, though, if precedent means anything, that the best pictures and largest profits will come from adaptations by good craftsmen of cheaper offerings costing maybe $15,000 or $25,000. Look at "Shining Victory," a top play titled "Jupiter Laughs," made into a truly distinguished movie.

War stories are not unacceptable film fare except that topical ones are too likely to be outdated before they could be released. There's rarely a yarn such as Geoffrey Household's "Rogue Male," and I've never seen such an exciting and sustained melodrama as "Man Hunt," the screen adaptation.

The plot is unforgettable because it deals with the possible assassination of Hitler. As a piece of craftsmanship the picture is practically perfect, with most of the credit going to the expatriate German director, Fritz Lang.

Guests Go Tourist Now that it's all over, Hollywood can laugh and maybe feel a little flattered about that big convention of exhibitors held here. It proved, if nothing else, that theater owners discussions but most of the speakers found themselves talking to audiences of a few trade-paper reporters, a stenographer, four Los Angeles exhibitors and a couple of old ladies who had gone to the wrong floor in search for a scene conducted by an Eskimo myopic.

Where were the conventioners? Why, they were tipsoaring around sound stages, seeing how movies are made, and gawking at the stars. They were riding around Beverly Hills white guides pointed out the dwelling places of oomph and color-bored variety. They were attending cocktail parties given by various companies to meet Gloria Goussor or Sandra O'Schultz. Or they were out at Hollywood Park watching the movie folk who were watching the races.

Let me tell you why I believe THERMO-CHARGED 'RPM' is the greatest lubrication development the motor world has seen so far!

Super-heated points protected as never before

"This means Thermo-Charged 'RPM' is absolutely outstanding in its ability to stay put at the hot points in your engine where lubrication and cooling are needed particularly. The result is the most complete protection so far.

"In addition, this new oil will not deposit harmful quantities of carbon, gum and varnish which can clog engines and take the fine edge off performance.

"And I will go even farther. Thermo-Charged 'RPM' does a better job of cleaning out deposits left by other oils.

Longer engine life—definitely finer performance

"Because Thermo-Charged 'RPM' keeps engines so clean, it materially reduces wear. Diesel engines which are far harder on lubricating oil than any automobile engine have proved this in millions of miles of operation. Thermo-Charged oil has more than doubled the service life of their piston rings and cylinder walls.

"Thermo-Charged 'RPM' actually brings you nine important advantages. It is now available at 80¢ a quart. We believe no other oil at any price can equal its value."

Our Company has never made a statement like this before about any product—

"We do so now because Thermo-Charged RPM Motor Oil does things for your engine no other oil can do. The addition of a newly developed compounding (Patents Pending) gives 'RPM' amazing qualities.

"For example, this Thermo-Charging increases tremendously 'RPM's' power to spread over and lubricate hot metal surfaces. Other oils actually will run uphill to escape scorching areas which Thermo-Charged 'RPM' refuses to leave!

HOOVER PROPOSES 7-POINT PLAN TO KEEP U. S. OUT OF WAR

FORMER LEADER OPPOSES AID FOR RUSSIAN REGIME

CHICAGO, June 30 (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover proposed a seven-point program last night to give the nation a "non-defeatist, non-isolationist, non-interventionist" policy toward the war.

In a radio address over the NBC Red network, he said it would be a "travesty to enter the war to aid Russia, which he condemned as "one of the bloodiest tyrannies and terrorists ever erected in history."

Hoover's program:

1. Give every aid we can to Britain and China but do not put the American flag or American boys in the zone of war.
2. "Arm to Teeth"
3. Arm to the teeth for defense of the western hemisphere and cease to talk and to provoke war until we are armed.
4. Uphold congress steadily in assuming the responsibility to determine peace or war.
5. Stop this notion of ideological war to impose the four freedoms on other nations by military force and against their will.
6. Devote ourselves to improving the four freedoms within our borders that the light of their success may stir the people of the world to their adoption.

Wants U. S. Strong.

"We can hope a peace table will assemble some day, whether it be the result of stalemate or victory."

"When that day comes the other nations will be sufficiently exhausted to listen to the military, economic and moral powers of the United States."

"We should go to that peace conference without the hats which come with war. We should go with a plan thought out and matured. We should prepare a new concept of human relations that will give the world some hope of permanent peace."

OFFICERS NEEDED IN SIGNAL CORPS

Indicative of the vital importance of the organization of the regular army as a whole, the war department has just released a call for 500 second lieutenants for appointment in the signal corps reserves. It was announced this afternoon by Sgt. Frank Morris, local army recruiter.

This number, Sergeant Morris said, is to be drawn chiefly from among qualified civilian candidates, and from among commissioned and enlisted personnel already in regular army service who meet the prescribed requirements.

The course of instruction candidates will undergo after appointment will thoroughly cover the field of electrical engineering as pertaining to radio and telephonic communication, and will offer an exceptionally large field for experimental research in this science.

Sergeant Morris said the department has fixed requirements as follows:

Applicants must have a college degree, or its practical equivalent, in electrical engineering and have specialized in radio communication, or be electronic physicists; be unmarried, without dependents, between the ages of 21 and 35 and be able to meet physical standards prescribed for appointments as reserve officers. The successful candidates must agree to accept active duty outside the continental United States if necessary.

Further details may be had by contacting Sergeant Morris at the local recruiting office which, after the first of the month, will be located at the city hall.

Carbide Tools Used to Bore Big Artillery

WATERSVILLE, N. Y. (AP)— Cemented-carbide tools have reduced the time of manufacturing processes and speeded production at the Watervliet arsenal turning out all sizes of guns.

Carbide is combined with other elements to form a toughened boring service, equalled only by diamonds, which are not obtainable in sufficient supply for operations necessary at the plant.

Recent patent expirations have made the process available. The cemented-carbide blocks are used in the turning and rough-boring of metals, ranging all the way from 37-millimeter guns to 18-inch rifles. They have reduced the time of boring and turning operations by one-eighth.

New tools, also are used for rifling 37-millimeter guns, cutting the time for this operation from eight to two hours. Rifling gives big guns accuracy and is one of the most precise operations in armament manufacture.

Blind Man Uses New System To Train "Seeing Eye" Dogs

LOS ANGELES (AP)— One of the most skilled trainers of "seeing-eye" dogs for the blind is Otis Gathright, who is blind himself.

Gathright uses a special technique and trains a dog in about four months. He has trained 10, and now is at work on Prince, a tawny German shepherd which he rescued from the pound as a pup.

"Prince first had to learn that I was blind," said the trainer. "I would stop on him purposely and then have some one else avoid him as he lay down. Thus he soon caught on to my condition."

"I use a close chain, with which to teach Prince to stay on my left side. Thus I can carry my white cane in my right hand and hold the dog with my left."

Fride spurs the dog to learn his job. The dog learned that his life work is to look after the blind master. Only about one in 50 German shepherds is fitted for the task, Gathright said.

"Prince already can guide me

Population Down

The population of Philadelphia, third largest city in the United States, dropped from 1,800,961 in 1930 to 1,515,088 in 1940, recent census figures show.

Gathright said it "takes a lot of courage" for a blind person to go out upon a city street at first. But with a white cane and a "seeing-eye" dog the hazards vanish and the blind acquire an amazing self-confidence.

Annually, more lumber is yielded by the Douglas fir of the Pacific coast than by other species in America.

Town Prepares for Blitzkrieg

GREENWICH, Conn. (AP)— At least one Connecticut town is prepared for any contingency up to and including an aerial blitzkrieg. The Greenwich town board of estimate and taxation has approved a $3,885 appropriation for the purchase of 50 additional pistols; two transportable steel boats; 100 folding cots with mattress, sheets, pillows, and other equipment.

The emergency defense plan was worked out in cooperation with the Connecticut state police. The pistols would be handed out to members of the fire-police patrols, or to "any other group of special officers" in periods of serious emergency.

The two 14-foot steel boats are complete with trailers that can be attached to automobiles so the boats could be speeded to any lake or pond in town where they might be required. The 100 folding cots are to be stored away until needed. After a survey of available spaces it was decided to set up these beds in the Y.M.C.A. and in schools in case of a shortage of beds in the hospital.

Town selectmen are not anticipating any immediate wartime use for this equipment but feel that it would be invaluable in event of any disaster, such as flood, hurricane, or fire.

Hey! You on the Right! SMILE!

German censor passed this new picture but he should have cut off that doleful kid on the right, who obviously isn't cooperating with the official photographer. Maybe he's one of Hitler's parachutists now floating down onto Russian soil. Photo was made in a troop transport plane.

War Veteran Can Read Letter Of Sympathy Over Own Death

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)— If a certificate of death and letters of sympathy from President Wilson and other national officers means anything, then Fred a salesman, is among the American World War dead.

Actually Hynes is in good health. He was discharged from the army at Camp Funston, Kan., in 1919, after a period of service with the army of occupation in Germany.

Following the battle in the Argonne forest, Hynes' family received word that he was dead. A more thorough check revealed that he had been wounded and was in a hospital at Vichy, France.

Almost a year later, however, the family received an official death certificate from the adjutant general declaring that Hynes had died with honor in the service of his country on the 31st day of October, 1918.

The secretary of interior sent a letter of sympathy, as did President Wilson. Offers were received for construction of a tombstone at Hynes' grave in France, and they continued to pour in even after he was mustered out of service and had returned home.

"The only time they really had any reason to believe I was dead," Hynes says, "was once when we were in Germany and the outfit ran across a barrel of wine in a freight car. We opened it, and during the party the fellow in command lost all our papers. Officially then none of us existed for a while."

It is said that stammering has become more common among girls in recent years.

Record "Raspberry" Looms for Davis in Bout With Fritz Zivic

By HARRY FERGUSON
United Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, June 30 (UP)—It would be nice to say the crowd at the Fight Grounds tomorrow night is going to maintain a fine sportsman-like attitude of benevolence during the passage of arms between Waterbury Champion Fritz Zivic and Al Davis, but actually a host of industry collectors of customers will be hoping Davis gets his brains scrambled.

A group of the pugilist literati, as the fight writers style themselves, were sitting around debating the question of who was the most impetuous fighter ever to appear in a New York ring. One bloc held out for Jack Sharkey, the Boston fighter who has an evil gait going over every time he crawled through the ropes. There was no one particularly fond of Sharkey selected such a bumper crop of raspberries, but it's true the mere sight of him induced the most hearty.

A majority, including yours truly, thought Davis should be awarded the poison by laurel. There may be about 10,000 persons in the Polo Grounds tomorrow night. And 20-922 will be there on the offchance that Zivic will knock Davis into the bleachers. Flatons are being organized among the blasphemers to kick Davis around a bit if he lands among them.

Nothing but a 21-veve, 16-cylinder hatred for Davis would explain why so many persons are going to lay in wait on the line for tickets. It is a 12-round affair and Zivic's title will not be at stake. The bout is likely to be filled with in-fighting which doesn't look like much from the back row. And there is always a chance Davis will quit before his way to victory, in which case there may be a riot.

Davis is a tough kid from the Brownsville section of Brooklyn where anybody who can't open a can of tomatoes with his teeth is a Boston man, who has an evil grin and a vicious tongue and a Boris Karloff sneer, which has helped him to win the unpopular championship. He already had two legs on that championship when he went in the ring to fight Zivic last November, but that night he won permanent possession.

He fought Zivic so often and so thoroughly he was thrown out of the ring by the New York boxing commission. The commission is tented and allowed Davis to come back because a share of the proceeds will go to the army relief fund. Zivic is a tough kid from the Bronx who was a champion of Queensberry circles. Far be it from me to deny Zivic's adoption of the strategy of "bludge up" that night, for he is a fairly tough customer, too, and easily handles Market Wise, judged an aided Davis was the villain of the piece and waited patiently for their chance to unload a record crop of raspberries on him.

That chance came the night of the Louis-Conn fight. Davis joined the army after the commission barred him and when he entered the ring to be introduced the other evening he was swarmed in a drive. He appeared in the role of patriot, and he greeted the customers with a snappy salute. So did they relate and cheer him? They did not. They boomed him so loudly he beat a retreat to his right side.

The customers are well rested from that demonstration and will be in fine fettle tomorrow night. As the crowd is expected to arrive at 10 o'clock eastern daylight time, think nothing of it. It will be Davis getting the beans.

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbraith

Arcoo looked like a jockey in an old English print. It was not until he had whirled straightened out and was ready to make his run that Arcoo shortened his hold and rode with his hands above the middle of the neck like the others.

Oddly, says Arcoo, Whirlaway wanted to lug out a bit but stayed in North America, where the temptation was much less than on the upper turf.

It was when Arcoo changed holds on him entering the stretch that Whirlaway tried to get out to the extent that George Carroll, handler of Market Wise, lodged an objection. Basil James had to pull Market Wise inside for the challenge.

But Aqueduct was the acid test and it may now safely be said that Whirlaway has definitely been cured of his crazy habit of running wide on the turns.

HOLD EVERYTHING

Energy

It would take the labor of 11,000,000,000 men, or more than five times the population of the world, to furnish all the energy required by the world in one year.

Mount McKinley, loftyest mountain in North America, is to be plated for 14,600 feet below its summit.

Hit Rampage Boosts Bob Joratz' Average

Bob Joratz, Pocatello outfielder, went on another hitting rampage during the week, and when the hits were tabulated by the Howe News Bureau statisticians another 12 points was added to his mark to give him the highest lead for the straight week with a high percentage of 382. Joratz made more hits than any other player in the Pioneer league, 76, grossed most bases, 119, and took the lead in home runs when he hit two last week giving him a total of seven.

Mel Wesley, Pocatello third baseman, remained in second place with an average of 343, an eight point increase since the last averages were issued. Pat Ambrose, Idaho Falls pitcher, went to 10 hits and made 15 hits last week hiking his average up 50 points into third place with a .356 mark. Chas. Hansen, Salt Lake City outfielder, kept fourth place with the same mark he had last week, 328. Ted Kakoulis, Pocatello outfielder, dropped the mark to 319. He had a record of 325, a loss of eight points. Mervyn Benamir, Pocatello second baseman, scored most runs, 67, and the highest number of runs, 22, and is tied with Joratz in most two-base hits with 16 pieces. William Enos, Salt Lake City outfielder, drove in most runs, 59.

Joe Gambero of Salt Lake City, still tops the pitching with a record of seven wins and no losses.

The Pocatello Cardinals created what is believed to be a record in the Pioneer league when they scored in every inning of the first game of June 23 against Boise, running wild in the fifth, final of the seven inning game to chalk up 12 runs, the highest number of runs in one inning so far this season.

THE SCOREBOARD

By HARRY CRAWSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK—Whirlaway is off for Chicago with only a New World to contend for the title.

Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt's hands-on New World is the lone high grade 3-year-old which Whirlaway has not trimmed in his march to the triple crown and victory in the historic Dwyer Stakes at Aqueduct.

Boiseans Qualify For Public Links Golf Tournament

BOISE, June 30 (UP)—Three Boiseans were qualified today as southwestern Idaho runners-up in the national public links tournament at Spokane, Wash., July 14-18.

R. H. White shot 76-77 for a 73-hole total of 153 and won the district medal for qualifying rounds. G. P. Williams and Jules Brown runners-up. Williams scored 76-79-154, and Brown 78-77-155.

While indicated, however, press of business might prevent him from entering the national tournament.

Nevit Carter, state amateur champion, finished fourth with 150, and was expected to complete the tournament.

Other alternates were Don Lindsay, of Nampa, and A. O. Campbell of Boise.

The matches were played over the Plantation course yesterday.
