MOSCOW, July 2 (U.P.)—The Red army today was reported checking German motorized infantry advances after having destroyed Nazi tank units on the central front, and an official spokesman said the Soviet Union would "never win the war."

The company has announced it would try to resume production of chemicals needed for national defense.

LONDON, July 2 (U.P.)—Russian troops are developing a fierce counter-attack with the object of annihilating advanced enemy tank units on the Dvinsk-Minsk line of the white Russia front, a Russian war communique broadcast by the Moscow radio said today.

A strike of 200 construction workers and laborers interrupted building of a new bridge at the Savannah, Ill., ordnance depot.

WASHINGTON, July 2 (U.P.)—The house ways and means committee today completed tentative schedules for the cheapest tax program in history—one designed to yield more than $3,500,000,000 in annual additional revenue to help pay the cost of defense.

Police Guard Fleet The defense mediation board announced the Pittsburgh trucking firm and an AF of L teaming union have agreed to submit their month-long dispute over a new contract to arbitration.

When the committee met this morning it was told $35,000,000 short of its goal of $3,500,000,000. This deficiency was met and exceeded by additional taxes totaling $44,000,000.

Private police and deputy sheriffs guarded the Tross company to prevent outbreaks of violence.

The committee increased the present withholding tax rate on non-resident aliens and foreign corporations from 16 1/2 to 27 1/2 percent. This was estimated to yield $20,000,000 more.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 2 (U.P.)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, leader of the Townsend plan for the "great-old" advocates, sought today to rally the anti-national Townsend club convention solidly behind a program of "all out" aid to Britain.

It increased the present tax on capital stock of corporations from 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 percent, and that on dividends from 7 to 10 percent. This was estimated to yield $6,000,000 more.

THUNDER OF WAR

By United Press BERLIN—German claim destruction of bulk of Red army trapped behind on the central front, capturing 100,000 men, Nazi panzer gains claimed toward Moscow, Leningrad and Kiev, with a total of 400 Russian tanks reported wrecked or captured.

Asked whether he proposed to "stick by his guns," Knox replied: "Why not?"

Asked whether any American naval vessel had been involved in any encounter with a belligerent craft, Knox replied: "Most certainly not."

When he was asked if he intended to do anything about Gen. Curtis K. Wheeler's demand that the resignation of the speaker, he told his questioner he would let him write an answer to that.

Wheeler, Montana Democrat, said yesterday Knox should "regain or be thrown out" from the cabinet because of the address, which he delivered at Fore River, Mass., Monday night.

Knox declared reports American naval vessels were engaged in convoy duty were "absolutely untrue."

There was a smattering of talk here that Knox should be impeached. There appeared to be no substance behind those threats.

Some 40 congressional isolationists met at Capitol Hill last night to consider Knox' speech and other matters. The impeachment idea did not develop any strength at that meeting.

San Francisco—Two hundred and fifty San Francisco babies cried in discomfort today.

Every resident of famed Virginia City knows that the streets are paved with silver—tailings of low-grade ore—but a first class boom was today being worked manning up ancient wooden sidewalks that recovered more than $100 in gold and silver coins.

Idaho supreme court ruled today $650,100 in state institution improvement bonds cannot be purchased out of permanent educational funds and must be sold on the open market.

The court, voting three to two, sustained a writ of prohibition against State Treasurer Myrtle Eubank. It ruled that only "the people may authorize levying permanent endowment funds on state bonds."

Idaho said the supreme court had no authority to change the amendment, whatever its intent may have been. The action was a test case brought by T. B. Kingsley of Boise.

Robertson's Murder Trial Nearing Close

JEROME, July 2 (Special)—Events in the James J. Robertson murder trial here moved swiftly this morning and early afternoon and the case was expected to go to the jury late today.

The state rested its case against the 60-year-old peddler and handy man early this morning. He is being tried under a first degree murder count, it being charged that he shot Stanley Casto, 35, a laborer, following an argument on April 19.

Admission of shooting of the attorney for the defense, had given his opening statement to the jury. The highlight was testimony given by Robertson as he took the stand in his own defense.

U. S. EXPENSE AT 12 BILLION MARK

WASHINGTON, July 2 (U.P.)—Official treasury figures showed today the expenditures for the fiscal year amounted to $12,100,000,000 including $946,000,000 for defense.

The net results of the financial operations during the fiscal year which ended Monday night were announced today by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, Jr.

The 1941 records dwarfed by comparison the government's financial operations in 1940 when receipts amounted to $5,287,000,000, and expenditures were $4,988,000,000, with a deficit at the end of the fiscal year of about $1,000,000,000.

In the new fiscal year, receipts, expected to be bolstered by the administration's new program, will amount to more than $11,000,000,000, against estimated expenditures of $12,000,000,000.

Both London and Moscow were cautiously encouraged by the fury with which the British army smashed at German advance tank units and attempting to cut off the rear of the enemy on the southern sector.

On the southern (Ukrainian) front, the Germans reported they had captured and destroyed 100 enemy tanks in a battle at Zlocow, 50 miles east of Lvov, and that another battle near Lvov took had engaged Soviet tanks in a big battle near Dvinn on the road to Kiev.

On the northern front the Red high command said an offensive had been started from Finland and the Russians reported they were fighting stubbornly in defense of the Arctic area around Murmansk. Unconfirmed Scandinavian reports said Murmansk had been occupied after fierce fighting along the Arctic coast.

TOWNSEND ASKS AID FOR BRITAIN

Buffalo, N. Y., July 2 (U.P.)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, leader of the Townsend plan for the "great-old" advocates, sought today to rally the anti-national Townsend club convention solidly behind a program of "all out" aid to Britain.

In the most outspoken pronouncement of the organization's foreign policy thus far, the 73-year-old Dr. Townsend called for a united front against the threat of world domination by Hitler.

Aluminum to Be Collected in Big Corral

An "aluminum corral" will be constructed at the major downtown intersection in Twin Falls next Monday for the citywide collection of aluminum as a national defense aid.

The wooden pen, with chicken wire sides, will be set up on Main avenue directly in front of the Twin Falls Bank and Trust company, according to Gene White and Charles W. DeWitt, traffic engineers of the campaign to collect old scrap aluminum.

The corral was given today by Police Chief Howard Gillette after Bank and Trust officials agreed to the plan.

Motorists will be able to toss their aluminum donations into the top of the corral as they pass.

The pen will be built during the coming week-end, and will be in place Monday morning.

In addition to the aluminum collection through the "corral," the 20-city plan an intensive house-to-house canvass for aluminum.

DEFENSE STRIKE WARNING ISSUED

HYDE PARK, N. Y., July 2 (U.P.)—President Roosevelt warned today that any action menacing essential production in the United States will result in prompt federal intervention—perhaps army seizure of the plants involved.

The president issued his warning as he urged back to North American Aviation, Inc., the Hughes Aircraft Co., and the Lockheed Corp. to make a strike which had paralyzed production.

"Efforts be made again to interfere with this essential production. I will not hesitate to take whatever steps may hereafter be necessary to insure the uninterrupted production of the war material."

The troops from Camp Ligon, Calif., who move in on June 9, disrupted production at the strike which had been withdrawn from the Inglewood plant a few days ago and operations had returned to normal.

Although the army had moved out, the war department had retained technical possession of the Inglewood plant under terms of the executive order by which Mr. Roosevelt directed Secretary of War W. D. Stimson to send the troops to the plant.

Siamese Twins—Power, Responsibility

Eleven million Americans are now members of labor organizations. That is not only a far greater number than ever before, but it is a higher percentage of the whole number of workers; about 22 per cent of the estimated 50,000,000.

The measure of that growth is seen in the fact that in 1910 only a little more than two million workers were organized, just above 8 per cent. In 1920 the nearly five million organized workers were just above 17 per cent of the total, which percentage had dropped off to nine in 1930.

This is a momentous change. It means a tremendous concentration of power, economic and political, in the hands of organized workmen.

When there is power, there must be responsibility for the use of that power. A thousand years of history and much blood have been poured out in the effort to make political rulers responsible to the peoples they rule. Blood still flows in that unceasing struggle.

All who exercise power of any kind must be responsible. As Disraeli emphasized, "... all power is a trust ... we are accountable for its exercise ... from the people and for the people all springs. ..."

The labor leader is a trustee of power. He is responsible for its use not only to the members of his own organization, but to all the people. In precisely the same way, the industrial manager is responsible, not only to his owners and stockholders, but to all the people. Whence comes the right to hold and own the property in the first place? From all the people. Whence came the laws and the social outlook which permitted unions to organize to their present high peak? From all the people.

The time has passed when any man can run his business without giving ultimate consideration to the wishes and welfare of all the people. And the time has passed when a labor leader can run his union without giving ultimate consideration to the same thing—the wishes and welfare of all the people.

The more thoughtful leaders of both the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O. are looking gravely on their recent victories and organizing workers. They know that with the victory comes the burden, and with power comes responsibility.

To anyone who holds power in trust may come a day when it will be asked of him as it was of the steward in the parable: "How is it that I hear this of thee? Give an account of thy stewardship; for thou mayest be no longer steward."

Tamerlane, Living and Dead

What Soviet scientists conceive to be the body of Tamerlane, Oriental conqueror of 600 years ago, has been dug up out of a tomb in Samarkand. Mildly interesting, if true. One suspects that further investigations into this ancient conqueror may be postponed for the moment. There happens to be a western Tamerlane battering at the gates of Russia, very much alive, and of more immediate interest than the bones of one who did his slaughtering 600 years ago.

Skyrocket to Signal Light

There will be a little less banging and fizzing this Fourth of July, not only because more and more communities are restricting it, but because the skyrocket and the Roman candle are being enlisted in the defense drive.

Leading manufacturers of fireworks say that most of their facilities these days are devoted to making signal lights, smoke bombs, flares, trench mortar shells, and the like.

A flare dropped from a military plane in the course of training, a signal light thrown up from a Very pistol—these speak louder for liberty today than pinwheel and skyrocket.

About the time grapes are ripe, home-made wine will be the only thing that feels like working.

YESTERDAY, Lita Damon and Jerry Adams are New York's favorite couple. Jerry has a reputation for being a "big shot" in the city. Lita is a "big shot" in the city. They are a "big shot" couple.

CHAPTER II

PEOPLE fluttered and buzzed in Ruth Rastace's luxurious penthouse. There was a low murmur of laughter, low-pitched voices, corks popping, ice clinking, the blare of the radio.

Lita came into the living room, looking at the people milling about. Jerry moved toward her swiftly, catching her hand in his, half dragging her out to the shades of the starlit terrace.

"Here, darling, kiss me quick. Tell me you aren't mad at me. You know I love you so. I'm sorry I was angry."

Jerry loved her, she guessed. He was always telling her so, and now his lips burned against hers. Or was it just part of the picture, the ardent husband, always making over her? And now, as it had been so often of late, his kisses left her cold.

"You're always quarreling and making up. She drew away from him. Was she quite insane? She was Jerry's wife. She loved Jerry. She didn't want to be any more. That was dead. The just went on because she didn't know what else to do, because she had never experienced before, and she realized that she had drawn stiffly away from him. "Still mad, aren't you? You don't like my kisses."

"I do, Jerry, but—" She stumbled for words. She didn't want him to kiss her. She didn't want to be any more. She caught her breath with a start—Ken Richards.

"I'm not up to it tonight, somehow. I'm tired, anyway. You don't really want to kiss me. It's just habit, to make people think that we're madly in love, as we pretend. I'm not mad, just tired."

"You've got to dance with me, Jerry." Ruth was beside them. "You promised you'd show me that new step."

"Beginning now," Jerry turned to her quickly. "I like to dance with you, Ruth. But you know the few who can do what I tell them to."

"But was that really Jerry? The man who had taken Lita and Jerry into his midst, the man who had kissed her lips with his, answering kiss with kiss.

"I'm crazy, mad, and so are you. I'm married to Jerry. I love him. He loves me. We are the ones who belong to each other. You don't want anything. But you're not going to marry me. You're drunk and so am I. Too much champagne. I'm laughing. I'm laughing hysterically. "I've always been able to carry him over. But you hypnotize me. I don't know what I'm doing. You're leading me on. You don't count, really. You oughtn't to kiss me like this. If Jerry kissed me like this, he'd kill you. He'd kill you."

"You, darling, don't fight against love." His arms held her close, his eyes looked down into hers. "We belong to each other, and it doesn't matter about Jerry. He can have Ruth, a dozen other girls, but for us there can't be anybody else, and I'll take you away from all this. You don't belong here in this mad, wild life."

"Where do I belong?" she asked. Perhaps she would find the answer now, the answer everything, the reason why life had become so dull, so tiresome, the reason why her dreams had seemed so far away, someone out of reach, and she couldn't find them any more.

"In a little southern town that I know about, in a little white house, with big shade trees, and flowers about the foundation, with servants to wait on you, where life goes on quietly and easily and there aren't any night clubs. You live in the sunshine and chat with your neighbors. You won't be dancing to mad music until you're sick of it, and you'll get away from the lips out. You'll be smiling, just because you want to, and the smiles will be for your friends, not for dozens of people who don't mean anything."

"CHE listened to his voice. That was the dream she had dreamed so long, a little house of her own, quiet and peace, a garden in the back of the evening, friends and neighbors, the sun, and dogs, a home in a little town where she wasn't Lita Damon wearing a mask, but herself. It was a picture of life that Jerry couldn't phantasm watching children playing in a house across the street.

"No, you're crazy. This is my life, the life that I want. I've lived it, and I've loved it. I've loved the lights, the rush of the city, everything that she wanted to escape. But these things that Ken Richards talked about were the things she had longed to possess since she was a child. She wanted to watch children playing in a house across the street.

SOMEbody PLEASE SQUEEZE A TEAR—POT SHOTS

And now comes the annual time of year when the backdrop makeup men get a chance to put something serious and worthwhile in the space usually occupied by Pot Shots.

In short, we are preparing for a vacation after our arduous labors of the past 12 months. (No remarks, please, about "arduous" or "labors"). So, starting Thursday, we won't be with you constituents for a spell. The column should reappear, we trust, come Tuesday, July 15.

If somebody could please squeeze out just one crocodile tear absent our absence, we would feel vastly compensated.

Honesty

(Time out while the county commissioners swoon?)

From all we can gather, some experiences of a county commissioner would sour the sunniest disposition. Expecting to mean it, a commissioner with people who put the bee on the board for money.

Which explains the somewhat startled look adorning the faces of Ernest Molander when Pot Shots wandered into their august domain. In his hand Benjamin held a Friday.

We wouldn't swear his hand was shaking. But we wouldn't swear it wasn't.

It seems that on June 23 a man and a woman came in, told the commissioners they'd appreciate a little something to buy gasoline so they could finish their trip to Idaho Falls. Just temporarily short of cash, said they. Swore it was only a loan, took up their car title as security.

The board has heard that loan idea before. They've heard it before. It advanced $5. Maybe because the man and wife had with them a jag-plot, combination ocolot, and jaguar. Even a county commissioner looks askance at a jag-plot, tame though it allegedly be.

Eleven days went by they will, too; darn near every time. Came yesterday's letter.

By now, the commissioners are all reported doing as well as can be expected.

TALE OF THE LADY AND THE BOOKS

The class will kindly stop throwing chalk at the teacher and will now turn to The Case of the Lady and the Library Books.

Two Twin Falls girls who live on Fourth street north was rummaging through this and that yesterday—and suddenly came upon no less than five public library books.

With a sinking heart she looked at the page, wherein the library inscribes the time at which its books must be returned.

Every one of the five books carried this dubious legend:

"April 4."

Yesterday was July 1. A little arithmetic conceals the fact that 1, five books, overtime time, two cents per day ... and you get it. Seems her family moved to another location several months ago and the books got lost in the shuffle.

Jerry seemed very far away. Ken's kisses against her lips were sweet. "You're crazy," she said. She wanted to escape, but there was no escape. Ken's arms drew her back.

Behind them there was laughter and music. Before them a million lights twinkled. Below them the city roared. But they were away from all of it, alone in the exhilarating October night, the two of them, as if for them the world did not exist.

"I'm mad about you." His strong arms gathered her close. "I don't want to be, but I am. You're everything I've been taught to stay away from. You're everything I'm not. But I love you. I'm going to marry you."

She listened in stunned silence. She couldn't think. This was something out of a book, something unreal. He made her dizzy and drunk with a new feeling that she had never experienced before. His compliments had been like wine; she loved hearing them. Jerry seemed very far away. Ken's kisses against her lips were sweet.

"You're crazy," she tried to struggle away, fighting against his strength. Instinctively, she knew that this ought not to be. She wanted to escape but there was no escape. His arms drew her back.

"Hearling—listen—listen—Don't you understand? We were meant for each other."

"No! No!" Her voice was saying meaning to him, and she was awaying closer to him, her lips to his, answering kiss with kiss.

"I'm crazy, mad, and so are you. I'm married to Jerry. I love him. He loves me. We are the ones who belong to each other. You don't want anything. But you're not going to marry me. PREJUDICE

But prejudice is as easy as that. At least four million new workers have to be fit into defense production in the next 18 months. Most of them must have skill and training. To keep men with special skills idle is just as silly as keeping machines idle. Hence the special assignment given the minority groups section to see that there is no manpower going to waste.

Tied up with this priority labor problem is the problem of defense industry migration of labor, keeping men on the job near home, and this migration problem has almost eclipsed the minorities' cause.

Take the case of a northern company building Camp Let, near Petersburg, Va. He raised the labor market as far north as New Jersey, even though there were many unemployed Negro carpenters in the southern states. Virginia newspapers and state Chamber of Commerce got after that one and fixed it quick.

West coast aircraft plants have come into Philadelphia and from a hotel room employment office taken out many skilled laborers though Philadelphia is going to need 70,000 skilled workers.

BAR TO CONVENE AT SUN VALLEY

BOISE, Ida., July 2 (AP)—A major stride in untangling conflicting procedural rules in Idaho courts will be taken this month at the annual convention of the Idaho state bar association, officials disclosed.

The annual session will be held at Sun Valley, July 11 and 12. At the meeting lawyers will see partial materialization of several years of effort directed toward setting up uniform court rules throughout the state.

J. L. Eberic, Boise attorney and chairman of the Idaho supreme court rule-making committee, disclosed that a tentative draft of proposed rules will be distributed to members of the Idaho bar at the meeting.

The 13-man committee was named by supreme court justices to formulate the new rules. Under authority of a 1941 statute, the supreme court was authorized to set up rules of procedure for every court in the state.

Mason Ladd, dean of the college of law at the University of Iowa, will describe a new uniform federal code to convention delegates.

SALAD IN 150 POUND LOTS IS TASK OF LOCAL WOMAN

By HARRIOT HITT Perhaps clerks think it rather peculiar when Mrs. A. O. Erickson, 1941 Ninth avenue east, walks into a store and orders 50 pounds of cabbage for a salad. They probably think "Gee, she must love salads." She does, and she realizes that other people do also. With this in mind, Mrs. Erickson started a profitable and unique part time two-year ago. She makes salads to market in a room of her home which she has conveniently fixed up and set aside for the purpose.

Mrs. Erickson writes: "It is my idea to help the busy housewife and the busy man by preparing and marketing salads. The most common question that people ask her is, 'How in the world do you cut the cabbage?' They have wild visions of her energetically cutting it into shreds with a butcher knife, hour upon hour. She simplifies the process by using an electric meat slicer and it serves the purpose remarkably well. Using only one recipe, which originates with her, Mrs. Erickson makes a basic salad which is equally good in lemon jelly or vegetable salad. When she began making salads, her trade was local; now it covers 14 counties. She began with 200 pounds of salad every time she makes it. Her kitchen is under sanitary regulations and inspection. It goes through a special process to remove part of the moisture and she then packs it in moisture-proof bags. She laughingly remembers when she first began experimenting in the art of making salads. She used the wrong kind of cellophane bag and her salads went all to pieces. She recalls the incident for which her salad got its name. She had prepared a salad for a group of 300 at the Camp Fire banquet. A little girl, seated across from her, unaware that she was the artist de luxe, tasted the salad. A rapid expression came upon her face and she cried, 'Oh, this is magic salad!' Since then Mrs. Erickson has called it 'Magic Salad,' another Magic Valley product."

Mr. and Mrs. Bill McGee are present besides 23 members of the club.

PICNIC PLANNED BY WAYSIDE MEMBERS

The Wayside club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Blacy Dietz. Plans were made for the annual summer picnic to be held July 20 at the Twin Falls city park for club members and their families. The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Dietz. Four guests, Mrs. Harry Capps, Mrs. A. W. Waring, Mrs. Ivan Waring, and Mrs. Bill McGee, were present besides 23 members of the club.

The bride, escorted by her father, who gave her in marriage, wore an original model in blue, pink, marquisette, the skirt terminating in a long train. The full length veil in the same shade, fell from a Mary Queen of Scots bonnet. Her formal bouquet was fashioned of white orchids, gardenias, and stephanotis with a cascade of satin ribbons and flowers.
About 700 guests were included in the reception which followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. A large decorated wedding cake, the hollow center filled with pink rosebuds and surrounded by pink pencil tapers, centered the refreshment table which was covered with a blue linen-lace cloth. Mrs. C. L. Magee, Mrs. Walter Melgard, and Mrs. Boyd Martin, intimate college friends of the bride, presided. Assisting in the dining room were Miss Elizabeth Stuckney, Miss Jean Francis, Mrs. J. L. Margaret Scott and Durward Martin Wed

JEROME, July 2 (Special)—The interesting details of the recent marriage of Miss Margaret Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Scott, Moscow, and Durward I. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Martin, Nez Perce, were learned by friends in Jerome this week.
Both young people were high school faculty members of the local high school last year, and will return to this city in the fall where the bridegroom will resume his teaching duties. Mrs. Martin resigned her position in the high school late this spring.

The couple was united in marriage last Monday at the Methodist church of the city. The nuptials were performed at 3 o'clock by Rev. Waldo Pierson, Methodist minister of Seattle.

The couple stood before a background of floral decorations formed by tall baskets of gladioli, iris and blue and white flowers in the light from the candles of many tall seven branch candelabra.

The wedding music was played by Miss Lucille Thompson, who also gave an organ program while the guests were assembling. Mrs. Otho West, Pulaski, and they carried the lighting of the candles, including the single branches which, in tall, similar, cut-glass, trimmed holders, marked each pew. Two young girls, Jean Hansen and Marjorie Tarrant, lighted the tapers.

LEFFY GROVE FACES JOE DIMAGGIO TODAY

Yankee Outfielder Gets Hit in 44th Consecutive Game

By PAUL SCHEFFLES
NEW YORK, July 2 (UP)—It will be 16 years' pitching experience among the American league's topflight moundmen against a five-year performance as the league's most efficient slugger when Southey Lefty Grove of the Boston Red Sox attempts to stop the headlong hitting streak of Outfielder Joe Dimaggio of the New York Yankees at 44 straight games today.

Not since 1897 when Willie Keeler established an all-time mark by hitting safely in 44 consecutive games has a major league ball player scaled the hitting heights as far as Dimaggio.

Dimaggio's supremacy is challenged only by breakneck slugging of a left-hander, Ted Williams of the Red Sox. Williams has a 422 batting average, just .01 points better than Dimaggio but there the comparison ends.

The Yankee slugger's name is found in every major league hitting department. He leads in runs scored with 67; is runner-up for the most hits with 99; is second in homers with 17, and is runner-up in the runs batted in department with 62.

His power that once made Grove's face an object of terror to opposing batters has long since disappeared but the canny brain of the veteran southpaw makes him a difficult obstacle for Joe.

The biggest crowd of the Yankee season and largest week-day turnout in the majors this year—43,839—saw Dimaggio tie Keeler's record yesterday, hitting in both ends of the Yankees' double win, 7-2 and 9-2, over the Red Sox.

The Yankee homer streak ended in the first game. They previously had hit 40 homers in 25 straight games, surpassing the former mark set in 17 consecutive games set by the Detroit Tigers last year.

Overland walked St. Louis, 10-4 last night but slipped to 2 1/2 games behind New York.

The Detroit Tigers drew within 1 1/2 games of the first division by defeating the Chicago White Sox, 5-1.

Phil Marchildon, young Philadelphia right-hander, pitched a four-hitter for his sixth victory in the A's defeat of the Washington Senators, 10-1.

The St. Louis Cardinals regained the National League lead with an 11-5 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates as the Brooklyn Dodgers lost to the Philadelphia Phillies, 6-4.

A six-run uprising in the third ended the Boston Braves to beat the New York Giants, 6-4.

Try This Some Time on Your Fly-Rod, Spinner

Talk about a "great" fisherman it is turning through the mountain country up at Sunbeam dam these days—and the subject is none other than Yale B. Holland, Twin Falls high school agricultural instructor.

While many of south Idaho's fishing-minded populace lauded Stanley basin with the hope of by hook-or-by-crook landing one of the big salmon running in the Salmon river, Mr. Holland quietly went his way trout fishing.

To get away from the mob around Sunbeam he decided to head himself up Yankee Fork to Five Mile creek where he baited his hook with a spinner with a worm, tossed it to the tiny stream with the hope of having a nice comfortable day landing trout—some of which he hoped might measure up to a foot in length and test the power of his line and fly rod.

Well, the first loss, what does Yale get but a terrific "rant" and the fly-rod bends double!

It felt like a sturgeon to the Twin Falls fisherman—but he knew that couldn't be—because the water wasn't deep enough to hide one.

However, by the time a half hour of battling had passed the instructor had a pretty good idea, it was salmon.

And in 45 minutes he landed an 11-pound salmon. All with a fly-rod and 20-pound test line—on an angle worm and spinner!

Cowboys Gun For Third Victory in Row

With an even split assured and a chance to clinch the series with a victory tonight, Twin Falls Cowboys take the field against the Idaho Russets and Hank Anderson on the mound and hopes for prolonging a winning streak into three games.

Last night Cowboy bats exploded in the 10th inning to give Paul Pischov his ninth victory of the year against six defeats—but it was the slugging of the usually weak-hitting Wranglers that featured the game.

Pischov was warded the proverbial March hare for the first five innings with the result that the visitors touched him for six runs and eight hits. But during the last five innings he seemed to lose his old stuff, and allowed only two safe blows and no runs.

Oehler Clinches Game
Meanwhile the Wranglers were going to town and won the game on a disputed decision in the last of the 10th when Vic Oehler smacked a clean single into the center with the bases loaded to score Manager Andy Harrington with the winning run.

Idaho Falls counted twice in the first inning when Shelly McConnell singled and Manager Eddie Marshall worked a double steal. Murray finished the inning with McConnell and Pat Ambrose duplicated the feat to send Marshall across with a second runner.

Many times the Cowboys have been defeated with two runners, but the new California one-two punch has started to click and it appears that from here on in the Twin Falls boys will do something at the plate besides fan the breeze.

The cowboy didn't score in the first frame, although Billy Randall and Vic Oehler singled with one down before Hal O'Banion hit into a double play.

Both Clubs Score
In the second Spiker connected for a run to tie the score, 1-1, and then Twin Falls got a pair of runners. Hal Costello walked and Ed Heffernan singled. Costello scored when Ambrose's Harrington drive got through his legs. George sacrificed and then Heffernan connected on a wild pitch by hurler Fred Bradley.

The home club took a lead in the third frame, knocking Bradley out of the box and then getting a pair of runners. But Oehler singled and went to second when Bradley threw wild to first. O'Banion then hit a base and a double to tie the score.

That made the count 2-2 for Idaho Falls, but the Twin Falls boys knotted the score in the last of the seventh. After two were down, Costello drew a walk and scored when Heffernan slammed the ball high against the right field fence for a double that scored the new first baseman.

Decision Reversed
In the 10th, to get the winning run, Harrington led off with a lucky blow that took a bad hop and went over Ambrose's head at shortstop for a single. Eddie George was instructed to lay down a bunt, but he hit under the ball and Murray caught the pellet—although it never went higher than George's shoulder. Empire McBride's called George out and then called it a double play when Harrington went all the way to third on the play. But when Andy protested the decision was reversed and George was returned to bat. Andy to first while the ball finishing the game under protest.

On the next play George laid the ball down, Harrington going to second. Pischov then hit a single to send Andy to third and Verne Reynolds rounded out. Randall drew a walk to fill the bag and set the stage for Oehler's game-winning single.

For the second consecutive night the two teams completed five double plays, with the Punched again getting three. Outstanding fielding during the day was turned in by Spiker in left field, who reared to

Cowboys Take Majority of Track Events

Some folks won't believe it, but Billy Randall, Cowboy center fielder, is probably the fastest man in the Pioneer league in a 50-yard dash.

The ace Wrangler fly-chaser proved that last night as he ran away from Vic Oehler, teammate, and Bob James, husky Idaho Falls outfielder, in the special matches staged prior to the ball game by the Jesters.

In the center fielder's accuracy throwing contest, Oehler came in first by making three perfect pegs to Catcher Hal O'Banion. Others competing in this contest were James, Shelly McConnell and Ted Kerr.

Circling the bases for speed went to Oehler in 14 seconds flat. Bob James completed for Idaho Falls and ran around in 15 1/2.

In the catcher throwing contest to second base, Earl Kuper took the top prize with pegs that appeared perfect for tagging a sliding base-runner, Eldon Muratore of Lanny McCann completed for the Russets, and Hal O'Banion for the Cowboys.

On the accuracy throw from third to first, Lanny McCann of the Russets edged Verne Reynolds of the Cowboys.

The highly-publicized unprejudiced contest failed to materialize when the rival managers decided they would save their vocal talents for later in the game—a decision that appeared well based, considering the long drawn-out 10th inning controversy.

State champion Troy National softball team of Twin Falls first up tonight by a score of 9-2 in a well-played contest under the lights.

Ray Fries of Twin Falls hurled the local boys to four hits, striking out nine batters.

Only homers of the game was a four-paly avat by Johnny Wells, Twin Falls, in the sixth inning with one man on base.

ST. LOUIS, July 2 (UP)—Roy Weatherly, Cleveland Indians centerfielder, was suspended indefinitely and fined $25 by Manager Roger Peckinpaugh here last night. Peckinpaugh said Weatherly was fined for loafing at bat and for not running out hits.

The incident broke the peace of the Indians for the first time this season. The Tribe players had been accused of insubordination last year by Manager Oscar Vitt.

WESTERN INTERNATIONAL Vancouver 6-10, Wenatchee 3-2, Tacoma 5, Spokane 5, Yakima 9, Salem 1.

Idaho Falls splurged in the fifth to count three times on three hits and a pair of walks, popped out, but Oehler singled and went to second when Bradley threw wild to first. O'Banion then hit a base and a double to tie the score.

That made the count 2-2 for Idaho Falls, but the Twin Falls boys knotted the score in the last of the seventh. After two were down, Costello drew a walk and scored when Heffernan slammed the ball high against the right field fence for a double that scored the new first baseman.

British Officers to Relieve Wavell Arrive in Cairo

ENGLAND GIVES NO REASON FOR SHIFTS IN EAST

LONDON, July 2 (AP)—Britain's two new commanders in the middle east—military and political—have arrived in Cairo to relieve Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell, who goes to India, the Daily Mail said today.

Sir Clyde Auchinleck, former commander-in-chief in India, who changes jobs with Wavell as commander-in-chief of the middle east, was in Cairo when the government announced the shifts today, the newspaper said. It reported Capt. Oliver Luttwig, former president of the board of trade, who was taken to the war cabinet to represent the middle east as chief of defense measures there, had left Britain by plane as soon as he was appointed, and arrived in Cairo last night.

The government gave no reason for the shift. Prime Minister Winston Churchill did not make a statement in common sense, an explanation would be demanded for what some quarters regarded as a demotion for Wavell, heretofore known as Britain's "best general."

Churchill's explanation, it was reported, would be that Germany's invasion of Russia makes it imperative to India and Wavell was needed there to coordinate the Indian defense effort, and that Wavell "needed a rest from his trying job in the middle east. It was believed Churchill would denounce any suggestion that Wavell was being relieved, or that any blame was attached to the general for the loss of the eastern half of the Greek island of Crete and the progress in Syria. Rather, it was said, Churchill would maintain that middle east defense efforts had become too complex for one man to handle, and that in splitting the political and military duties Wavell was being moved to a more important job.

Magic Valley Folks Best, Newspaperman, 81, Finds

Retiring

Twenty-eight years of soliciting subscriptions for the two Twin Falls newspapers—the Idaho Evening Times and the Twin Falls News—will be concluded this week for G. M. Simpson, 81-year-old veteran "subscription chaser."

Mr. Simpson terms the last 28 years of his life "the happiest," he has spent, crediting this largely to the "culture and other admirable qualities of people in the Magic Valley."

G. M. Simpson, 81, blindy and mellow veteran of 28 years as solicitor for the Times and News, is seen here with memories that lead him to term the people of Magic Valley "the best on the face of the earth."

Outgoing Horse
During his years as a solicitor Mr. Simpson has outgrown the days of the horse and eight different automobiles. From 1913 to 1916 Mr. Simpson traveled over a wide area and ran more that became almost as well-known as the rider. Although Mr. Simpson was able to adjust himself to the changing times the mare never did, and many times plied the newspaper solicitor into the irrigation club upon the approach of a rattling early-day automobile.

It is marvelous the way Twin Falls has grown, Mr. Simpson says. "I can remember when an approaching car could be seen two miles away by a cloud of dust."

Newspaper Progress
It was June of 1913 when Mr. Simpson was in charge of the Idaho News. The next year the small paper was purchased by Roy A. Read and later, as the Twin Falls News.

Mr. Simpson has seen the local newspaper field progress from a weekly to a daily publication. His scope of work was widened when the News was brought under the same management as the Idaho Evening Times.

"The people of Magic Valley are the best on the face of the earth," Simpson said. "I have seen them at work and at play now for 28 years." Mr. Simpson adds, "They've always shown me every consideration while I have been calling at their homes for my livelihood, and I appreciate it deeply."
