

JAPAN PROTESTS SOVIET MINING OF PACIFIC WATERS

NIPPONESE MAY DECIDE TO BREAK NEUTRALITY PACT

TOKYO, July 15 (AP)—A Japanese government spokesman today said that Japan has decided to break the neutrality pact with the United States, in order to protect its interests in the Pacific.

The spokesman said that the Japanese government has decided to break the neutrality pact with the United States, in order to protect its interests in the Pacific.

At the same time, inspired newspaper articles reflected increasing Japanese interest in possibility of American and British aid to Russia against Germany, Japan's ally.

Ichiki Kishi, speaking for the government, said that the Russian embassy at Moscow had been advised by the Russian admiralty that Russia had established mine fields in "many" zones of the Russian Pacific coast.

Presumably, Kishi said, Russia took its action on the ground that German warcraft might appear off the Siberian coast.

However, Japanese are unable to imagine German warcraft in these waters, Kishi added. "In any case mine measures are not pleasant to Japan."

In reply to a question, Kishi said the Russo-Japanese neutrality and friendship pact still stood.

"But I am unable to comment on the future," he added.

Commenting on the Russian statement that the Russo-British declaration of mutual assistance would not affect Russo-Japanese relations, Kishi said:

"That is the contention of the Soviets."

This figure is $37,540 more than the $190,782 budget for the 1939 fiscal year, and $113 more than last year's budget of $227,600.

The budget for 1940, according to the city clerk, was $174,456. ## LIKES BLASTS AT LINDBERGH VIEW

NEW YORK, July 15 (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes charged last night Charles A. Lindbergh had offered the American people the "Nazi party line" in interpreting events leading to the Russo-German war.

He said "it was clear Lindbergh did not have his cue" when he first was asked to comment on the Nazi invasion of the Soviet Union. "Nine days passed, during which the Nazi party line was worked out and the official Nazi propaganda was broadcast in Germany to Hitler's mouthpieces and Nazi foreign travelers all over the world," Ickes said in an address at a Banquet and celebration of "France forever," the Free French organization in the city.

"Then across the night of the German eagle and offered this Nazi party line to the country," he said. "I believe that Hitler had gone to war against Poland because the British and French had forced him to, he said that Hitler had gone to war to attack France and Britain because he believed it not—the British would not permit him to attack Russia."

Dismissing "this channelled distortion of elementary truth," Ickes said he had never heard Lindbergh utter words of pity for the peoples of the German-conquered European countries.

"As a matter of fact, I have never heard Lindbergh say a word to democracy itself," he said.

Aluminum Output May Fall Short

NEW YORK, July 15 (AP)—Aluminum production is adequate to meet current requirements, but may fall short of future demands, according to a survey of 30 leading defense production enterprises by the National Association of Manufacturers, whose results were announced today.

Walter D. Fuller, president of the N.A.M., said replies to a telegraphic poll showed the low current shortfalls were due to lack of familiarity with priorities procedure or delay in transportation.

He indicated the collection of aluminum in household and other methods of conserving civilian uses of the metal as a means of averting a serious shortage in the future.

From Farm to Farm

with the Times Traveler

Mary, the pet lamb raised by Mrs. C. J. McGraw, northwest of Buhl, can't "roam" on the shade back porch any more, can't stand heat and beat for more milk every hour of the day, can't even push her head through the screen door if it's hard on Mary after five months running loose around the farm home to have the hand that fed her from a bottle when she was a "bum" put a "stop" around the open back porch in the form of a picket fence with a latch on the gate.

Mary was born on Mrs. McGraw's birthday anniversary Feb. 7 and was given her as a birthday present by her husband. She nursed the little "bum" through the cold winter months, named her after their son's sweetheart and gave her to Mr. McGraw on his birthday in March. Now Mary doesn't care which member of the family owns her so long as the fresh green grass is mowed and carried to her with the milk.

Robins, sparrows and other birds have been a nuisance during the small fruit season and have been a pest during the cherry picking season. Dr. J. W. Wurster, Buhl physician, presents this method of combating birds in cherry trees. He recently designed a workable contraption which consists of an electric door bell fastened to the top of a tall pole adjoining the trees. He waited until the birds were all set, and rang the door bell at certain times falling to disturb their feast. With emphasis he fired the shot gun from the back porch a couple of times and got results. Now after the course of several shots following the warning alarms the birds only come near the bell and away they fly—before it is too late.

Dr. Wurster's new home and acreage is located at the Burley corner, the east entrance to Buhl.

Samuel C. Dunn, pioneer resident of the Buhl and Three Creek area, is expected to return to Buhl to make his home with his son, Stewart Dunn, north of town the last of this month. He has been visiting his daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Womack at Lostine, Ore., since last February. Mr. Dunn who is nearly 90 years of age, prefers to make his home in the west end where he knows all the land marks and all the early trails followed on horseback 40 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Brown have their remodelled farm home two and a half miles north of Buhl nearly completed. They now have six large rooms with bath, all completely modernized with furnace stoker and electric equipment. Mr. Brown has done most of the carpenter work himself while managing the farm and taking care of the cows and chickens. He was away several years mak-aging road construction work in Oregon, Washington and Idaho. They moved to their home place two years ago, and have been remodeling for the past several months.

The new modern six room home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kucera, two and one-half miles west of Buhl, is now being painted and decorated. The new home is entirely modern with a full basement. At the present time the Kuceras are milking 25 head of cows from a mixed herd and are getting over 60 gallons of milk a day. He has a Jersey cow that has received special honorable mention from Bernard Law, tester for the dairy herd improvement association, for her unusually high production of butterfat. During the past year she produced 484.3 pounds. This high production rate favorably with the Holstein herd belonging to A. H. Jacobs who recently competed in the butterfat content records and placed among the leading producers in the western United States. His high cow production was 698.4 pounds for the year.

According to the records kept by Mr. Kucera his highest Jersey cow brought him a clear profit last year of $127.43. He is enthusiastic over the dairy herd improvement records and through their efforts last year cut out 12 cows in his herd that were low producers.

Mr. Kucera recently purchased "Nero of Buhl," a Guernsey bull, from the Minnie Miller farm at Thousand Springs.

For the fifth time George Ahlquist, prominent farmer southwest of Buhl, has had his home and barn buildings painted. It has been his custom to have everything "gone on" once every five years, and the first paint job was done in 1921. This year instead of the traditional white, the tenant house, chicken house and brooder, cow sheds, granary and the feeding barns and fencing are painted a light grey with a darker grey trim.

The farm setting with the large shade trees and the clean freshly painted buildings is a lovely picture with the large white house in the foreground. This completely modern home is piped with water and is insulated with diatomaceous earth.

The well is 182 feet deep and is one of the best in the tract. It supplies extra cold water for the two houses and is also piped to the barn buildings.

Mr. Ahlquist drives six miles to his office at the Ahlquist Produce company every morning and home at noon for his lunch. He and Mrs. Ahlquist plan to spend next week-end at the Payette lakes resort. They are also planning an airplane trip to Atlanta, Ga., where they will visit their daughter, Helen, and her husband.

WELLS AND ELY UNITE FOR NEVADA NORTHERN FESTIVAL

WELLS, July 16 (Special)—A celebration will be held in Wells, July 26, to commemorate the inauguration of motor coach service by Nevada Northern railway between Ely and Wells.

Program for the celebration includes the meeting of the Ely delegation at the intersection of highways 93 and 40 east of Wells. Forty or 50 Ely citizens will arrive in Wells on the new buses at 4 p. m. A general meeting will meet the delegation and escort it into the city.

Governor to Speak

Wells high school band will join the procession at the Lone Star station and parade through the city to the Southern Pacific depot. At the depot, platform addresses will be given by Gov. E. P. Carville and G. L. Hickey, vice-president and general manager of the Nevada Northern.

Other guests expected are Congressman Scarborough, Senators Patrick McCarran and Berkeley L. Hunter, supreme court Judge E. I. Taber, and State Senator John E. Robbins. Many officials from neighboring cities are expected to attend the celebration. Mayor George T. Tomboe will welcome the visitors to the city of Wells.

After the speeches at the depot platform for the new buses will be christened. City clerk Margaret Gray, Wells, will christen one of the buses. A young lady from Ely will christen the other one.

At 8:30 p. m. a cocktail hour for visitors will be held in the fraternal hall. A banquet will be served in the Veterans' hall at 8:30 p. m. About 150 townspeople and guests are expected to attend the banquet. In the evening a dance will be held in the Fraternal hall.

Sports Program

A program of sports is being planned for the entertainment of visitors preceding the arrival of the new buses bringing the delegation from Ely. The sports program will be presented on Main street. The committee of the Wells Commercial club in charge of celebration includes J. P. McElroy, John Dyrstad, Phery C. Smith, E. J. Oidermatt and Austin Pettler, president of the Commercial club.

Inauguration of the new bus service is of major importance to both Ely and Wells. It will provide twice daily mail and passenger service between Ely and Wells. A tentative schedule calls for buses to leave Ely daily at 9 a. m., arriving in Wells at 12:15 p. m., and returning, leave Wells at 2 p. m., arriving in Ely at 5:15 p. m.
