There Are Lots Of People Looking For a Pet
If you have a nice pup or a litter of kittens that you think would make a nice pet for a lonely child, why don't you advertise them in the Classified? We have a special column headed "Pets". It doesn't matter if they are pedigree or not. They will still delight the heart of some kid. There are few people who would know they have been completely abandoned through no fault of their own, other than in the United States.

And Here's the Result

Shifting on this big pile of old aluminum, these three 20-30 club members smile cheerfully to indicate that the club's collection of aluminum for defense purposes was a success. In foreground, Frank Giese; at left, Paul Hardesty; at right, Bob Schumacher. Members of the 20-30 club will now put in general amount of hard work separating the aluminum from other metal—after which the aluminum will be sold and funds used to promote safety in Twin Falls. The metal itself will reach defense channels although it cannot be used in airplane manufacture. (Times Photo and Engraving)

By GEORGE E. REEDY, JR.

Grange Cleanings

By A. HARVESTER

MINDOKA-CASSIA
 Heard through the Twin Falls area that the Mindoka dam, and having a hankering for REAL country-fried chicken, I hid the wife, Carolyn, and myself over the way last Sunday, and sure enough there was the picnic. The drive over was a most delightful one, with the crops on either side of the road alternating between the fresh light green of luxuriant bean crops, alfalfa, peas and the golden yellow of ripening grain, with here and there a bit of pasture where sheep or cows grazed placidly.

Don't believe the folks over Rupert who go in for darning as much as we do around the Twin Falls area. Crop looked exceptionally good along the northside highway and I hope this isn't treacherous, but the high way seemed a wee mite smoother and the water a bit softer to drink. As we rolled into view of Lake Walcott, the beautiful blue of the water merged with the green of the trees in Camp Walcott to make an inspiring picture. Good music had been brought through making the earth when he came to the intermountain west and had a lot of beauty left, for he carried the lavish luxuries of the east and beauty and grandeur to make a land a paradise for the nature lover. All we do is to see that the water in the dam and we have Lake Walcott, a beautiful spot in Snake river, with water so blue and stretching 30 miles away to near American Falls. And the government and the CCG boys have made the camp so easily accessible that it should be in use all summer long.

Governor There
 I don't get lost when I get away from home that far, so I easily found the Grange gate and the chicken, but apparently I missed Clark likes chicken too, for he treated the visitors around awhile before the lunch stamped. Saw quite a few familiar faces, though I couldn't place their names. I'm that way. Must have met them at State when I saw my good friend Jim Handy, but he wasn't so belligerent as at State Grange. Chicken sort of softens a fellow, I guess. And there was the Jones family and the State Master Taylor and his excellent wife and Luke Williams. These folks are old standing in the Grange and I've known them for many a year. Met quite a few new friends, too, and told them about this column, so we may have some new neighbors in the "Grange".

The dinner was served three ways, standing, sitting and reclining. We were very happy and I thought we were making some headway with the plus, but from the appearance of the tables they must have a surplus of food. I saw some old standing in Cassia and Mindoka counties.

400 or More
 Dinner over at the 400 or more Grangers at ease on the greenward. Bro. Bowman, I believe Master of Cassia county by Pomona Grange, led the assembly. The first introduced "Kool-Aid" Clark. Mr. Clark spoke briefly, scrupulously sticking to the facts of the case. Instead of calling Britain our first line of defense, Mr. Clark said the first line of defense was our first line of faith. He asked that we have faith in the things that made our country great and expect the best of the future. He said that people would not lose sight of the destiny we are to fulfill. It was a very good Sunday afternoon and was quite a change from the usual type of speech we have to listen to. At all events, he didn't deliver a political address that would have violated the Grange code.

At this time, A. Harvester briefly spoke on behalf of "Grange Cleanings" and was followed by Miss Sylvia Gilson with a reading, "St. Peter at the Gates." Pomona Master Eric Jones was called on for a few words and announced the dairy show to be held at the Piler fair ground starting Aug. 12 to 20, p. m. He gave a general invitation to all the Granges of the two counties to attend the meetings. The night they were scheduled for. Bro. Bowman, inspired by the feeling of cooperation that pervaded the afternoon, made a strong plea for the Grangers and others of the farm group to patronize the Grange cooperatives and back them in their efforts to help the farmers. State Master Taylor was the last speaker and warned the Grangers that troublesome times were ahead for the farmers. There is a plan to make the farmer provide cheap food for the highest price labor class in the history of this or any other country, and this is a cheap scheme to cater to the labor. In my opinion, such action is unwarranted by any political group of any party affiliation and should be bitterly opposed by the Grange.

sent some significant observations about what he saw. Mrs. Wyland gave a reading, "Our Fishers" and Master Jack told about the famed ice caves near Shoshone.

By the way, the Idaho folk go miles to see sights in other states—and yet we've got one of the most unique sights of all in the ice caves at the foot of the Snake range at the switch. Have YOU gone through the ice caves?

The subject of the evening was called "Find the Car." Fred Locke was winner.

Refreshments were sandwiches, cookies and coffee, served by Mrs. Jacky and Mrs. Metz.

LUCERNE
 Lucerne Grange met Friday, July 11, with a fair attendance. During the business meeting, a resolution submitted by the Elmer Grange relative to the pegged price of beans, was amended and approved. It was decided to hold the annual picnic in Bull park July 20. The safety program as suggested by the National Grange was adopted. The call, one rule for safety on the highway; song by members having birthdays in June and July; reading "You and Your Car." Mrs. Emil Wavra, talk "Safety on the Highway." Mrs. Pete Tesar, stunt, "Back Seat Driving." Mr. and Mrs. Tom Helmanek, contest, "Find the Car," won by Ed Kuy. The program was under the direction of June Burmes, lecturer. Refreshments were served.

CLAREMONT
 Claremont Grange, of which Russell Helges is master, put on a program at their last meeting that should have been of interest to Twin Falls county Grangers. On July 2, they put on the Grange play written by Eric Jones, "The Grange Goat," and had as visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Jones, Mother Jones, and Mrs. Ed Jones. They say they played very well and gave the patrons much amusement.

Claremont is in Cassia county and they are having a traveling show contest up there. Claremont took the show to Burley last Monday night. They put on the play, "The Grange Goat," for Burley Grange.

ACHIEVEMENT
 Here is something for the Grangers to shoot at. Raft River in Cassia county, over near the Utah line, wanted a Grange home. So some of the live members went to the lumber dealer and paid cash for the lumber, first signing their personal notes for the money. In the time since then, a little more than a year, they have paid off the notes and they have a home costing between $1,500 and $2,000, all paid for. They have made a great increase in their membership and are now a live Grange instead of a dead or dying one. We will have a good correspondent from this Grange soon, Frank Olsen.

Without being inspired by the above example, Burley Grange is planning some sort of building program and will find that the best way to make a Grange a live one is to have something to work for. Mrs. H. N. Van Hook is lecturer.

A. HARVESTER
 During the first 11 months of last year, 2,661,017 new passenger cars were registered in the United States as compared with 2,406,833 for the same period of 1939.

Kiwanians Satirized In Novel Music Skit

A day in the life of Johnny and Georgia Kiwanian, as they prepare for and attend a Kiwanian ladies' night dancing party, with clever "take-offs" on local Kiwanians and their families, was a hilarious feature of the Twin Falls Kiwanian club's father-daughter banquet last evening at the Park hotel.

The skit was arranged by Miss Helen Thomas, reader, and Miss Patricia Smith, who as the "story" unfolded, a few bars of various popular songs were played in dedication to those attending the affair. Climax to the skit came when all of the daughters, some "backed" for the evening, sang "Daddy" in honor of their hosts.

Song Dedications
Among the many dedications humorously received were: To O. F. Duval, "You Talk Too Much"; to Dr. and Mrs. Frank J. McAtee, "Let's Get Away From It All"; and "Goodnight" to Leonard Ferrin. "Everything Happens to Me," and to his daughter, Miss Ann Perrine, "Daddy"; to Mrs. U. N. Carver and W. S. Hill, most artistic. Each guest drew for the date on which she is to send her gift, so that Mrs. Griguhn will receive them continuously for several days.

Recent Bride Feted At Shower-by-Mail

A shower by mail from her friends here will be received during the next few weeks by Mrs. Gordon Griguhn, Los Angeles, who was Miss Ethel Hansen before her marriage June 16.

Mrs. Griguhn was absentee honoree at a shower last evening given by Miss Rosemary Clark for a group of the bride's Twin Falls friends.

Wrapping presents for the honoree was one of the diversions of the evening, with Miss Mildred Albee receiving prize for the most artistic. Each guest drew for the date on which she is to send her gift, so that Mrs. Griguhn will receive them continuously for several days.

Prize winners for games played during the evening were Mrs. Otto Hansen, mother of the honoree, and Miss Ruth Wilcox. Mr. and Mrs. Griguhn now reside at 1532 Whitaker boulevard, Los Angeles.

Nursery School Kids "Play Circus"

"First one to the top of the man on the flying trapeze," shouted one of the youngsters, and what a clamor followed! The Lions club entertained the entire personnel and the kiddies with free admission and free refreshments this week at the "playing circus" and the youngsters had fun on their playground apparatus ever since.

Quintet Returns From Outing at A. T. Reat Cabin

Mrs. A. T. Reat and her daughter, Miss Lois Reat, accompanied by their guests at a three-day house party at their recently completed summer cabin at Nat-Soo-Pah, returned to Twin Falls last evening.

Other members of the party were Mrs. Grace Coggins, Jerome; Mrs. Belle White and Mrs. A. A. Timm, Twin Falls.

All the women are bridge devotees, and a contract tournament was in full swing during the three days, swimming and picnicking being the only other diversions that took them away from their card table.

Well-The Women

By RUTH MILLETT (NEA Service)

The week-end host, as much as the bridegroom, is the forgotten girl.

Every person who goes visiting has a pretty good idea—whether he follows it or not—of how to set in order to charm his hostess, and win himself a return engagement.

WEST INDIAN DISCUSSED AT MEET

Importance of the West Indies to the United States at this time of international turmoil, was emphasized by Mrs. W. A. Howard at a meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the Presbyterian church yesterday in the church parlors.

GENERAL W.C.S. WILL ATTEND PICNIC

Circle No. 2, W.C.S. of the Methodist church, will entertain the general organization of the church in August, a picnic to be arranged with the regular business session, and then attend a picnic, each member to bring a guest. Hostess committee members for the day will be in charge, and will announce the picnic site in the near future.

CLEANING BLINDS

A good, hard coating of wax will keep the dust clinging to Venetian blinds. Frequent use of the small brush attachment to your vacuum cleaner and a special fingered lambs' wool brush is a big help, too.

Self-Help and Hygiene Taught Pre-School Age

While children at the nursery school have fun in their cooperative game periods, it isn't all play. They are given typical pre-school training, taught self-help and hygiene.

There are now 22 children registered at the Twin Falls nursery school, which reopened July 9. They are children from low income families.

A similar nursery school is being started next week at the farm labor camp.

Hilda Patton is the head teacher; Hilda Hughes, the assistant teacher, and Goldie Chapman, the cook.

Fawn McFarland Marries in Logan

HANSEN, July 18 (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Charles McFarland attended the wedding in Logan, Utah, of their daughter, Miss Fawn McFarland, recent graduate of Utah Agricultural college, to Elwood West Rasmussen, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. Gunner Rasmussen, Logan.

A brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George Bennett, and the bridegroom's father also attended the ceremony, which took place in the L. O. E. temple, with I. Tolman, formerly of Murtaugh, now a resident of Logan, officiating.

In compliment to the young bride and bridegroom, a wedding breakfast was given at the Blue Bird banquet room following the marriage ceremony, with members of the two families attending. Mr. and Mrs. Rasmussen left later for a wedding trip to the Yellowstone park, planning to return to Logan where they will make their home.

Bible Display Adds Interest To Baptist Meet

The Bible, "Book of a Thousand Tongues" in its many translations and editions, was discussed and played at a meeting of the Baptist Women's Missionary society yesterday afternoon at the Baptist building.

A tiny Bible one and one-half inches high and one inch wide, purchased by the mother of Mrs. Ed. Wells at the first World Fair in the United States, was an object of special interest.

Miss H. H. Burkhardt was chairman of the educational program on the translation of the Bible, and Rev. Roy F. Barnett, Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Burnett and Mrs. C. Bobler were program speakers. Mrs. Myrtle Johnson conducted the mission Bible class.

Mrs. Lucy Gardner, Mrs. Charles Patton and Mrs. Marvin May served a delectable luncheon preceding the program. Mrs. Herman Dutton presided at the business session, and Mrs. A. S. Martin offered a report on the annual Idaho picnic, also, assembly, which closed today at the camp site above Ketchikan.

Mrs. J. P. Tucker was named prayer chairman for the coming year. Mrs. Marvin Mayo has been appointed to write to the boys in the Park avenue hospital, in line with a plan adopted at the summer camp.

The group planned a picnic for August at the city park, with Mrs. Bernard Martin to be in charge of the program.

Doris Erpelding Weds in South

SHOSHONE, July 18 (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. L. Erpelding, Shoshone, announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Doris Erpelding, and Lieut. Jack Schuch, July 11 at the annual Idaho picnic, also in Montgomery, Ala. Dr. Oscar E. Rice performing the single ring ceremony at the city park.

The bride was attired in a floor-length white marquisette gown trimmed in lace, and a finger tip length veil. The hair was arranged in a classic wave, worn by the bride, belonged to her grandmother, Mrs. Lida Dunn, Twin Falls, who had worn it at her own wedding. She also wore her mother's pearls, and carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses.

The bride was attended by Miss Laura Galvina, Cincinnati, O., who wore a floor length flowered gown, and a large picture hat. The bridegroom appeared in full military dress. His best man was Lieut. Gordon Ripston, Montgomery, Ala., a classmate.

The bride is a graduate of Shoshone high school, and was graduated from Colorado Woman's college at Denver last year. She is a talented musician, having continued her studies in piano and violin, and has also studied piano and electric organ.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Westcott, O. high school and graduated from advanced flying school at Maxwell field, Montgomery, and was commissioned second lieutenant on the day of his marriage. He is one of 12 appointed from the class to act as advanced instructor in flying school, and will make his home for the present at Montgomery.

WOMEN'S AUXILIARY OF THE D. A. V. will meet Monday, July 21, at the home of Mrs. W. R. Wolter for a no-hostess luncheon and devotion, beginning at 11 a. m. Members are asked to bring their own wayside.

Wayside club will meet Sunday for the annual picnic at the Twin Falls city park. Each family is asked to bring a basket lunch and table service and a quart of fruit juice for punch. Dinner will be served at 1:30 p. m.

Morningglade club members and their families will hold the annual club picnic Sunday, July 21, at Birch Glen, up Rock Creek canyon. Members are asked to meet at the C. R. Holland home at 10:30 a. m. and those desiring transportation are asked to telephone Mrs. Holland.

Among them will be Charlotte Babcock, Doris Jean Durbin, Dorothy Harrison, Bob Burnett, Doris Durbin, June Powell, Marie Naves, Dixie Hinkson, Dale Clark, Lucille Jacklin, Stella Grant, Ruth Grant, J. B. Wainman, Martha Barnett, Ruth Barnett, Junior Irwin, Vernon Smith, and Lyle Gordon.

Mrs. L. L. Holloway and Mrs. Theodor Larsen accompanied the group, and Rev. Roy E. Barnett, pastor of the church, was also a local delegate.

CIRCLE NO. 3 HIAK CITY PARK SESSION

Mrs. M. Stege, Chicago, guest of Mrs. L. H. Benton, was a guest.

CLEANING BLINDS

A good, hard coating of wax will keep the dust clinging to Venetian blinds. Frequent use of the small brush attachment to your vacuum cleaner and a special fingered lambs' wool brush is a big help, too.

HERE'S "REQUEST" RECIPE FOR PICKLING ROSE PETALS

Gather ye rose petals while ye may, for all too soon, even the aster and pansy petals will be in bloom.

This is written expressly for one of the Constant Readers of the Idaho Evening Times—a man, mind you—who telephoned the club yesterday asking this department to print a recipe for "pickling roses."

He thought that maybe a lot of gardeners besides himself would like a successful formula for making rose jars, and here it is.

First, set your alarm clock for very early in the morning. When the dew is still on the petals. Then, set up when it rains. No fair turning over on the other side, and going to sleep again.

After you've gathered the freshest and most fragrant roses from your garden, pluck the petals and clip off the fleshy part at the base. Scatter them over a flat surface and let them lie until all dew has dried from them. Place a two-inch layer of dried petals in a two-quart earthen jar with a light-fitting lid. Sprinkle a scant handful of salt over the petals. Add more petals from day to day until the jar is filled.

Allow the containers to stand covered one week. Then take the contents into a large pan and add one-eighth cup (one-half ounce) each of rose, netiropole, lavender, and violet.

WCS Circle to Help Red Cross

Circle No. 8 "laid out" yesterday for Red Cross work, agreeing to get either knitting, crocheting or straight sewing material from the Twin Falls chapter, American Red Cross, to help along the production of clothing for the war.

The women agreed to this service project at a meeting at the home of Mrs. F. Bracken, 118 Tenth avenue, and were for crocheting at the home of Mrs. Sturgeon McCoy, 927 Elm street.

Pins were made to attend the annual picnic in August for the entire W. C. S. membership, and for the next circle meeting at the city park in August, with Mrs. Alva Pickett as hostess. Miss Jean Pierce and Miss Joyce Pierce were guests. Refreshments were served.

Now That He Has Answer, Hitters Can't Solve Young Elmer Riddle

By HARRY GRAYSON

(NEA Service Sports Editor)
NEW YORK—Elmer Riddle, current pitching phenom of the majors, has with no fewer than a half dozen clubs as recently as two years ago.

That would indicate that nobody was exactly crazy about the new ace of the Cincinnati.

Elmer Riddle was credited with winning only one game for the world champion Reds in 1940. He dropped two. He was repulsed by the Cardinals in his only start.

Offhand you wouldn't expect a pitcher with a record like that to be gunning for his 12th straight victory without a reverse in the season half completed, but there he is.

William Boyd McKechnie wasn't fooled by the averages, especially with Riddle having an earned run mark of 1.85 in 15 appearances, 14 of them as a relief worker.

Riddle, a soft-spoken Georgian, learned by observation. He really had a pair to watch—William Henry Walters and Paul Derringer.

Deacon Bill McKechnie wasn't surprised when Riddle didn't give the opposition a single run in spring exhibition games.

The 24-year-old right-hander completed the sale of himself to his manager when he shut out the hard-hitting Red Sox for eight innings in Columbus, Ga., before home town admirers augmented by 16,000 soldiers from nearby Fort Benning.

Riddle picked up 10 victories as a fireman before Bill McKechnie started him. In the five appearances prior to his bid for his 12th triumph, there was no occasion to confer about taking him out.

He has defeated every rival outfit save Pittsburgh, Whipped St. Louis, New York, Chicago and Boston twice. His ninth victory was a three-hit shutout of the Cardinals, who wanted Lon Warneke, Spud Krst and Harry Gumbert in an effort to stop his streak.

He whiffed in the ninth inning with five hits for his 10th. He repelled the Dodgers with six hits, 4-1.

Riddle didn't pitch until he was graduated from high school in 1935. He played second base until he attempted to fool batters for an amateur club in Columbus.

Riddle is Scotch-Irish and as powerful as a bull and weighing 172 pounds could easily be the star of any and every thesis of the fictional pop-off, Elmer the Great.

He is quiet and does not brag about himself. An attack of bolts kept him from pitching in Brooklyn this trip. He couldn't screen one on his track, but McKechnie had to find out for himself that his find also had one on his left forearm.

William Taggart Riddle credits Jimmy Wilson, who coached the Cincinnati before moving to Chicago as manager, with much of his success.

"Nervousness and anxieties made me pitch too fast," he explains. "Wilson made me hit very hard, but more motion into the pitch and get my body behind it."

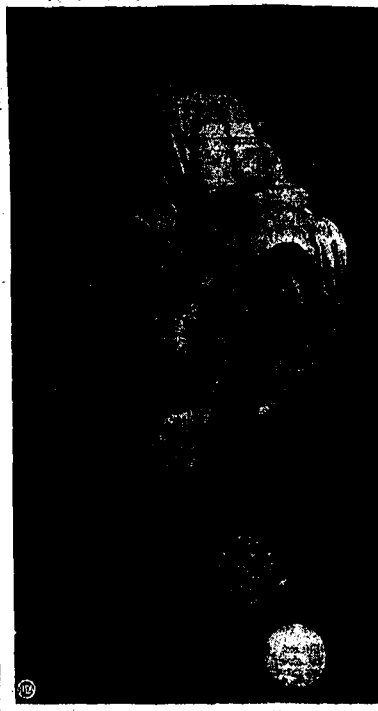

"The pitcher dies and there is a tendency to grow careless when he works too rapidly. Wilson kept after me until I got into the habit of being very forward and picking up the rain bag. Hank Gowdy reminds me to slow down now."

Riddle, who purchased a home with his 1940 world ace check and spends the off season as a route checker for a Columbus soft drink bottling company, usually throws straight overhead, but occasionally comes in with a side-arm fast ball or curve by way of mixing 'em up.

He developed a fine eye for pace. Ernie Lombard compares Riddle with Billy Walters.

"The throws Walters' heavy ball which isn't easily hit for a home run," says Schonsale Lombard. "He has Riddle's line for ball and strikes. His pitch does something at the last second and consequently seldom gets into trouble. It's ahead of the batter."

Having found the answer himself, Elmer Riddle puts the problem directly up to the hitter.

The aptly-named young Mr. Riddle.

THE SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON

NEW YORK—Once he skyrocketed into the 50s, Joe DiMaggio's goal was to crack his own AA league record by hitting in 62 consecutive games.

DiMaggio recalls how his minor league string was snapped at 61 when his long fly landed the winning run to score in the ninth inning. That was in 1932, the Yankee Big Boy's first season in organized ball. He was only 18 at the time, and Jimmy Caveney, the San Francisco manager, had him leading off as a get in as many times as he could.

DiMaggio's American league bow was held up a year by a knee injury, which wasn't suffered on the ball field at all, but in a jitney bus. Something snapped when his long legs were jammed into the rear seat of the crowded vehicle.

Accident kept DiMaggio out nearly half the season of '34 and while everybody was gasping him up, scout Bill Eask took the youngster to Dr. Charles Spencer, the famous Los Angeles ophthalmologist who once trained the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Assured by Dr. Spencer that the knee would be as good as over, the Yankees gave the San Francisco club $35,000 and five tummy Dimples for DiMaggio, who would have brought $75,000 had everybody suspected he would be sound.

The New Yorks Joe DiMaggio remained on the coast for another campaign to see how the knee would respond.

You know the rest. Joe DiMaggio was so badly crippled that he batted .358 and drove in 154 runs.

At a bargain basement rate, the Yankees had the lad who was to bat and field them to four straight world championships and who is now leading them to a fifth as the most magnetic single attraction in the game.

Zack Taylor never believed he would live to see the day when a ball player would welcome a little sunshine.

But the old catcher says that's the most pleasing thing about his being switched to the Browns as coach to make room for Fred Haney at the Toledo manager.

Taylor offers a sure cure for the Coming football season will be a jaw-breaker from the start. First three eastern college All-Stars picked to oppose New York Giants in fresh air fund game at Polo grounds, Sept. 1, are DeFulippo, Mastromack and Tocoywood. It is suggested that the fans go into training by reading the war news from the Russian front.

There really was nothing new in Joe Louis participating in that exhibition in Minneapolis, where he knocked out one Jim Robinson with a nudge to the panty. Joe Louis, it strikes a lot of people, was appearing in exhibitions right up until he bumped into Billy Conn.

Oakley Fixes Beauty Pageant Date—Challenges Other Areas

Sunday, Aug. 3, was set today as the date for the annual Estabrook beauty pageant at the City of Rocks, near Oakley, an event expected to attract 1500 spectators. It was announced here this afternoon by Charles Brown, Oakley publisher.

Gov. Chase A. Clark will be present at the contest to crown the winner as "Miss City of Rocks."

A pageant, sponsored by cooperating L. D. B. church leaders, will be staged that same day under direction of Mrs. Maude M. Clark. Brown said the contest will be the most beautiful entry from the various communities. All these winners will be listed in a magazine "Miss City of Rocks."

Oakley Challenges All "People in other localities who want to accept the Oakley Herald's challenge that the most beautiful girls are found in Oakley, are invited to load their favorite beauties in a car and bring them to the City of Rocks Aug. 3," Brown said. "The action will move more loudly than argumentative words."

Among the judges for the contest, according to Brown, will be C. A. Heiker, Times reporter-photographer; Orlan, here will be announced in the immediate future, as will actual time for start of the contest winner, selections of winners in each age group and from each locality for the annual Estabrook beauty pageant at the City of Rocks, near Oakley, an event expected to attract 1500 spectators. RUSSIANS CLAIM GERMANS HELD UP ON ALL FRONTS

NAZIS SAY ARMY NEAR LENINGRAD IN NORTH AREAS

By HENRY SHAPIRO
 MOSCOW, July 18 (Special)—The Russian high command indicated today the Red army for the fourth day is holding off a "decisive" German attack in the Smolensk sector where Nazi troops are seeking to break through along the route toward Moscow.

It was believed here Soviet troops still are entrenched in their initial positions in the Smolensk sector and that the Germans, despite fierce attacks, have been unable to dislodge them.

A second major Nazi offensive was in progress in the Pskov-Porkh region southwest of Leningrad where the Germans were concentrating for an attack second only to that in progress around Smolensk.

Nazi Plan

The Nazi high command was believed attempting to envelop northern Estonia and cut off the Baltic coast from Leningrad.

To the south the Germans, after a fortnight of hard fighting, were still unsuccessful in their efforts to break through east of Bobruisk to the Dnieper. The Russian counter-offensive launched in this area seven days ago has brought the German armor divisions to a standstill.

On the Bessarabian front, according to reports here, the Red army stands firm and no important changes in the fighting lines have occurred. There was no news from the northern Finnish front.

NEAR LENINGRAD
 German forces have fought their way to the region of Leningrad, an authorized German spokesman indicated today.

The single German battalion, in a surprise attack on a small town "in the region of Leningrad," annihilated or made prisoner all Russian forces opposing it. The spokesman asserted, killing 1,000 Russian troops and capturing war materials.

The German indicated the victory was won by the German forces advancing along the Estonian coast north of Lake Peipus.

The spokesman said German troops thrusting forward suddenly yesterday in a surprise attack toward Leningrad, captured a large air field with 1,000 grounded planes.

The high command said in its communique, issued from Adolf Hitler's headquarters, the fighting in all sectors of the German-Russian front was proceeding successfully for the Germans.
