REDS DYNAMITE AM I Nazi Armies Oud Russian 'Last Man' Leningrad Defense

GIANT STRUCTURE REPORTED BLOWN TO SLOW NAZIS

By EDWARD W. BEATTIE, Jr.
LONDON, Aug. 21 (U.P.)—Russia, prosecuting its scorched earth policy to the limit of sacrifice, has blown up its gigantic Dnieper river dam, pride of Soviet industry, as the last of its main army of the Ukraine retreats across the Dnieper river, it was reported today.

Marshall Semyon Budenny, commander in chief of the army of the Ukraine, was said to have ordered the dynamiting at dawn yesterday after Premier Josef Stalin, in a telephone conference, had given his approval.

Not Confirmed
The reports came from Stockholm and were not confirmed. Some military quarters here doubted them. Authoritative sources, aware of the determination with which Russia is fighting, said if the reports were true, it was not surprising.

They had heard, they disclosed, the Russians had removed parts of turbines and other machinery to the interior for safety long in advance, but, too, was unconfirmed.

(Berlin admitted that the Russians had blown up several small dams along the Dnieper river but claimed that the Red army attempts to destroy the $110,000,000 dam near Dnepropetrovsk had failed. The structure was too big to damage much. The floods unleashed from the smaller structures, Berlin said, were doing little trouble although it was admitted they may slow the German advance temporarily.)

According to the Stockholm reports, Stalin and Budenny agreed on destruction of the $110,000,000 dam after moving nearly 500,000 men across the Dnieper.

President of Giant Bank Fears U. S. Can't Stay out of Fighting

By BOB LEEBRIGHT
"I hope we can stay out of the fighting—but I don't believe we can. . . We're already in the war, economically."

That's the president of one of America's largest banks speaking, as he is Lawrence Mario Giannini, president of the Bank of America, which has 97 branches throughout California. The bank's main office is located in San Francisco, Calif., and it has assets totalling $1,900,000,000 throughout California. The Bank of America has been president of the large banking concern for five years and has been connected with the firm for 23 years. His father, the noted A. P. Giannini, organized the Bank of Italy, which later merged with the Bank of America, and the concern rose to great heights in the early 1900s on gold speculation.

The Bank of America is the largest earning bank in the country, Mr. Giannini claimed, as he tossed his head in a gesture of disgust for juggling his usefulness down to his car.

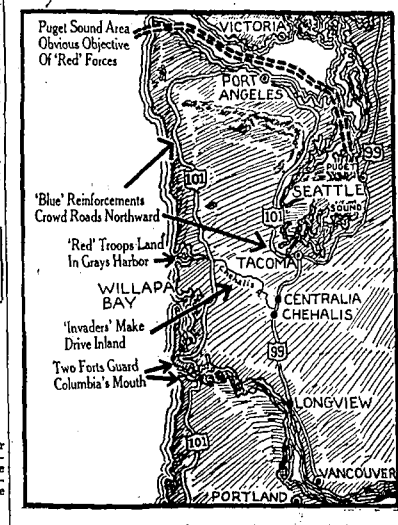

and 90 1/3 bushels of Federation wheat per acre on two plots in Twin Falls county, reported in yesterday's Evening Times.

"I've talked to several farmers in this area," Mr. Giannini said, "and they are glad to get the wheat for a prosperous autumn. All the farmers seem to be enthusiastic over good yields and high prices."

British Bombing Of Enemies Hits All-Time Record

By SIDNEY J. WILLIAMS
LONDON, Aug. 21 (U.P.)—Big formations of British bombers smashed at night the German cities of The Netherlands and northwest Germany today, and an authoritative source reported Britain now had more planes over German cities at night than the Germans ever had over England "in the darkest days of the winter of 1940-41."

Replying to a question whether the present British air offensive was living up to the promises of several weeks ago that British attacks would be heavier than anything the Germans ever produced over Britain, the informant said:

"There will be far more in the future."

He declined to estimate the number of planes involved in the night operations.

Strong Daylight Raids
The royal air force meanwhile struck at German-occupied France and Narva in their Dnieper Leningrad, which the Russian populace was said to defend to the last. German troops indicated that the "immediate defense of the city was being maintained."

On the southern front, the British reported bomber-fighter squadrons shelled the German lines across the channel throughout the morning and into the afternoon. The operations appeared to be the most intense since the outbreak.

New Placement Methods Help Handle Farm Laborer Supply

BOISE, Ida., Aug. 21 (UP)—Methods developed by the Idaho state employment service in recent years and field studies of the number of workers needed for harvesting will solve Idaho's farm labor shortage problem this year without loss of crops, Terry Prater, federal farm placement supervisor, said today.

Prater said that field workers have studied Idaho crop conditions, know how many acres of each crop has been sown, and how many workers are "absolutely necessary" to harvest it.

Sufficient Labor Supply

This knowledge, he said, has led to the conclusion that Idaho farmers will not lose any crop because of a labor shortage.

He expressed confidence that by directing the flow of migratory workers from one harvest area to another, by tapping the full supply of unemployed labor in each local farming area, a sufficient labor supply will be available.

He admitted, however, that farmers might be pinched for workers at a certain time but said that lack is usually overcome in a short time by the service's system of keeping persons close to the labor supply advised of needs elsewhere.

Prater pointed out that Idaho does not have an over supply of farm workers in the past and that some panic has been noted among farmers because this year there are not two men looking for ever job.

Another untapped supply of farm workers is available through an agreement between the employment service and the WPA and NYA. The agreement may also be extended to cover CCC enrollees.

New Agreement

Under this agreement, when a farm labor shortage develops representative of the employment service go to local WPA project directors and submit a list of the number of farm workers needed and the qualifications they must possess. The WPA then checks its lists for men to meet the demand. These workers, Prater explained, are told they may find farm work at a certain place and are given a release from their WPA work.

If the WPA workers fail to report for the farm work they are severed from work rolls of the agency. If they do accept the farm work, they may return to WPA rolls at expiration of the private employment without loss of status.

NAZIS POUND AT LENINGRAD DOOR

cent police roundups aided by German troops. The total of persons arrested in France was boosted to an estimated 40,000.
The ability of the Red army to keep fighting back turned attention more directly to the possibility of a winter campaign in Russia, which Berlin dispatches mentioned with increasing frequency. In Ankara, diplomatic sources expressed belief that the Germans might strike toward the rear coast again if they were unable to smash the Russian army before the snow falls.

Nazis in Bulgaria
Fresh German forces were reported by Turkish sources to have moved into Bulgaria. These were said to include both air and infantry units, apparently in addition to Nazi forces sent to Bulgaria for a rest some time ago. Pears were revived in Ankara that the Germans would demand passage for ships through the Dardanelles to challenge the Red fleet in the Black sea and passage for troops through Turkey to strike at the Russian Caucasian oil front from the rear. In this connection, London reported that President Roosevelt had approved at his meeting with Prime Minister Churchill a new Russian plan for stern action against Iran unless that country's political positions or visiting Persian territory as "tourists." Ankara heard that the Russians had an army of up to 60,000 men in the Caucasus and that a large part of it had been shifted to the Iran frontier in preparation for any military action that London and Moscow might order.

Plasticraft, Sadly Neglected Art, Gets New Facilities Here

About 15 new models will be obtained by the Twin Falls recreation center for use in plasticraft classes this winter, Jasper Stewart, instructor, announced today. The unit already has 125 models and molds from which the plaster of paris articles can be cast.

"Plasticraft is an interesting, but sadly overlooked art," Stewart said, as he took one of the rubber molds, put it on a plaster of paris backing and began pouring a mixture of plaster and water, whipped to the thickness of cream, into the mold. Start Sept. 9

Plasticraft classes for the winter season will begin Sept. 9 and will be held every Tuesday and Thursday afternoons. At present about 40 or 50 youngsters and adults are being instructed in the craft each Monday.

A Disney-created dwarf is the largest figure that is being made in the plasticraft work at the local unit, Stewart explained. The figure holds 15 pounds of plaster and requires several days to set hard enough to be removed from the mold. Other figures can be removed from the mold within a few minutes.

Pliable Rubber
Molds are constructed from a pliable rubber creation that is either sprayed or painted on the figure by a small point brush. Eighteen layers of rubber must be put on the figure before the mold can be completed, according to Mr. Stewart. If humidity and temperature conditions are normal three layers of sticky rubber mixture can be put on a day.

After completion of the rubber mold, from which the finished figure is cast, a plaster backing is made for the mold. The backing is one of the most important steps in the plasticraft art, Stewart said, as it holds the mold in place while the plaster for the finished product is setting.

The local recreation unit has molds for 125 figures including ash trays, book ends, wall plaques and other ornaments. A wider variety of molds is obtained by exchanging with other recreation units throughout the state. Some of the ones with which exchange agreements are made are Burley, Idaho, Boise, Pocatello, Lewiston, Twin Falls and Nampa.

Plaster Whipped
Plaster poured into the mold is whipped to the thickness of whipping cream and is free from any clots. The mold is allowed to set for about 20 minutes or longer before the plaster is removed from the mold. When taken from the mold, the plaster is warm, the heat being caused by chemical action of the lime.

Gellac is applied to the figure after it has set a full week. It is then painted by members of the class. Should any air bubbles occur in the finished product, the holes can be filled up by hand application of the plaster.

"The finished product is much heavier and sturdier than an ordinary kempt doll," Stewart explained. "Some of the best industrial work sells for thousands of dollars."

WE wish to thank our friends for their kind expressions of sympathy during the illness and death of our beloved mother and great-grandmother.

FRESH NAZI TROOPS IN BULGARIA POINT TO SOUTH DRIVE

ITALIAN ARMIES REPORTED ACTIVE IN THRACE AREA

By DANA SCHMIDT
 ANKARA, Turkey, Aug. 21 (UP)—Authentic information that fresh German troops and air force units had arrived in Bulgaria caused sudden anxiety here today over possible German intentions to demand facilities for passage of troops across Turkey and was prepared to move them by force if necessary.

News of the troop arrivals came simultaneously with reports of intensified Italian activity in Thrace, bordering on Turkey, and the Aegean islands adjacent to the Turkish coast.

The Ankara dispatch ment "new fresh" troops. German troop movements into Bulgaria recently caused alarm in Turkey, and it developed that the troops were being sent there from the Russian front for rest.)

Take Reports Seriously
 Diplomatic and Turkish quarters took the new reports seriously because they said other developments supported possibility of a German demand on Turkey for troop facilities for an attack on the Russian Caucasus, on the British in the near east.

One development was the increasing likelihood that the German campaign against Russia would go into the winter months without a decision.

Military experts said that after autumn rains bogged the fighting fields in Russia about two months of fighting weather would remain in Bulgaria and Turkey, and hence Adolf Hitler might be tempted to try a diversion on a new front.

Explosive Situation
 A second development was the increasing explosiveness of the situation in Iran and a third was the unexplained intensification of German-Turkish diplomatic activity.

Diplomatic quarters heard Germany was urging Iran to break off relations with Britain, which with Russia has demanded expulsion of up to 4,000 Germans from Iran.

Germany, despite its failure to give the promised aid to the rebels in Iraq several months ago, was said to be planning a "revanche" in Iran if it opposed Britain and Russia.

PRELIMINARY AND FINAL CITIZENSHIP HEARINGS SET

Although exact naturalization procedure seems highly vague — because of a confusing exchange of correspondence between the Immigration Bureau and District Court — it was certain today that a portion of 50 citizenship applicants will appear for preliminary hearing Friday morning and apparently the entire group will have final court hearing Tuesday, Aug. 26.

Four Counties
 The 50 alien-born persons are from the four counties of the 11th judicial district plus one whose residence is listed as being Hermiston, Ore. The Aug. 26 hearing is the first under the new program by which the entire 11th district centers in the Twin Falls court have citizenship hearings.

Word from M. F. Lence, Salt Lake City, director of the district office of the naturalization bureau, advised Court Clerk Walter C. Musgrave that a preliminary hearing is necessary at 8:30 a. m. Friday of this week, Aug. 22, for applicants not found eligible at the time of filing petitions.

Regular date for the final hearing will probably be in court, since regular calendar business is scheduled for that day. At the final hearing Tuesday in the courtroom, Judge J. W. Fox will be on the bench and bureau inspectors will handle procedure. That session is set for 10 a. m.

The complete list of petitioners summoned for the final hearing Aug. 26:

- Two Falls—Jose Ceterino Yragul, Heinrich Dick, Toralf Skrudland, Jose Junisti, Mrs. Mary Mann, Conrad Heinrich, Mrs. Mary Fovall, Herbert James Alexander, Irene Helen Gray, Ernest Holmer, Edna Dillon Luke, John Valline, Maria Franziska Heise, Katherine Heise, Bertha McVey, William Thomas Davis.
- Blaine—Mrs. Emily Ingoberg Anderson, Karel Petras, William Ernest Schultz, John Pagac, Isabelle Mary Hannan.
- File—Carolyn Schlaht.
- Muriel—Castora Christina Moline, Peder Jensen Toft.
- Castelford—Adolf Herbert Becker, Juanita Guery.
- Jerome—John Kindstater, Daniel Christopherson Johnson.

PROJECT LISTING TO BE COMPILED

BOISE, Aug. 21 (UP)—County agencies will be organized soon to assist the Idaho department of the public works reserve in compiling a list of potential and necessary public projects to be undertaken if an emergency arises after the defense boom is over.

E. P. Horsfall has been appointed state director of the public works reserve.

Under the agency potential public works will be listed on a national scale, plans and cost estimates will be developed and revised from year to year.

STEEP REDUCTION FOR BONDED DEBT

BOISE, Ida., Aug. 21 (UP)—A steep reduction in the bonded debt of Idaho governmental agencies has resulted in lower ad valorem levies since 1929, a report by Earl W. Murphy, secretary of the Idaho state Chamber of Commerce disclosed.

All units of local government in the state reduced bonded indebtedness between 1929 and 1940, the report showed.

In 1929 state bonds amounted to $1,174,000 while local bonded indebtedness of $51,176,017 brought the total to $52,350,017. The 1940 study showed a 73.2 per cent reduction in state bonded debt to $320,500, a 48.4 per cent reduction in local bonds to $25,901,587, and an average drop of 51.5 per cent in the total state and local bonded indebtedness to a total of $27,282,087.

Last year the ad valorem taxes levied by state and local governmental agencies were 23.5 per cent lower than in 1929, although the assessed valuation of property—upon which this tax is levied—showed a 10 per cent decrease.

The Chamber of Commerce report pointed out, however, that during the 11 year period a new trend was reflected in methods of financing costs of state government. While the ad valorem was heading down, state excise taxes showed an increase of $6,300,000 from 1929 to 1940.

Bees in Auto Bring Wreck; Man Escapes

JEROME, Aug. 21 (Special)—Add to the list of unwelcome hitchhikers causing accidents — a swarm of bees.

The bees invaded the auto driven by A. W. Hayes, of the Jerome IERA office, as he was traveling on the highway between here and Eden.

Hayes tried to dodge the bees, his car swerved off the highway, invaded a lava outcropping, and was damaged by the rocks.

Work Proceeds on New Starch Plant At Blackfoot, Ida.

BLACKFOOT, Ida., Aug. 21 (UP)—Construction was proceeding rapidly today on the new starch factory here.

The building, being constructed by the newly-formed Idaho Potato Starch company as a means of absorbing the state's crop of cut potatoes, was expected to be ready for operation shortly after the potato harvest season.

Ralph E. Gale, president of the company, disclosed new technical information has been received which might simplify the process of reducing the potatoes into starch.

ACCUSED SLAYER WAIVES HEARING

RUPERT, Aug. 21 (Special)—Carroll Fincham, 25, waived his preliminary hearing on a charge of first degree murder when arraigned before Probate Judge H. A. Boyer yesterday afternoon.

Fincham, although only recently released from the Stuppet general hospital, is rapidly regaining his strength and was able to walk to the courtroom.

The fatal shooting occurred Aug. 3 following a party at which he had been the guest of honor at the home of Dale Hanson, Paul Fincham allegedly returned to the Hanson farm, shot and killed Hanson, wounded his wife, Gladys, and then fired two bullets into his own body.

today he expects the price scale to climb higher.

Just back from a California trip, Kaavner said the crop there is 25 per cent short this year, and elsewhere in the U. S. it is 15 to 25 per cent short.

His advice to Magic Valley onion farmers is to hang on for a price increase that will mean thousands of dollars to them.

"If they get panicky about it," he said bluntly, "I'll personally be willing to buy all their white onions."

Auto Dealers See Plymouth Display

A display of new 1942 Plymouths and motion pictures showing many phases of defense production in the Chrysler corporation plant highlighted a business session here yesterday for Plymouth, Dodge, DeSoto and Chrysler salesmen and dealers in this area. About 85 attended the session, one of the 22 of its kind being held throughout the nation for auto dealers.

R. C. Burhan, district manager of the Chrysler corporation, told of the accelerated pace which is being maintained by the automotive industry to meet defense demands. He urged dealers to do their part by assisting owners in maintenance of vehicles for the most efficient performance.

Youths Released In Forgery Case

Ernie Jean and Dean Mays, former filler laborers, were released yesterday afternoon following preliminary hearing before Justice Guy T. Swope because of insufficient evidence. The youths were recently returned from Lee's Summit, Mo., by Sheriff Warren W. Lowery to face charges of forgery after they had waived extradition.

Ernie Jean Mays turned state's evidence at the request of Prosecuting Attorney E. M. Sweeley and both were turned loose when the hearing did not bring out sufficient evidence to hold them. The youths were charged with forging a $1 check at a Twin Falls department store.

Travelers From Plains Regions Visit at Peaks

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo., Aug. 21 (Special)—Visitors from the plains have a deeper desire to see the mountain tops than the folks who live among the mountains, according to Dan Turner, ranger-naturalist stationed at the Mount Washburn lookout in Yellowstone national park.

Although California is leading all other states in the number of cars to enter the park, Californians rank second when it comes to visiting the mountain lookout. Out of the total number of visitors to enter Yellowstone 29,944 motorists, or 15 per cent, have found time to drive up the mountain road and view the 5,900 square miles of surrounding country from the lookout. Illinois residents exceed those of any other state to visit the lookout station with California second, followed by Washington, Utah and Minnesota.

The many tourists who drive the mountain road are thrilled by the beauty of the wild flowers and the numerous Rocky Mountain Bighorn sheep along the slopes. One of the most popular trips is the sunrise trip made by those interested enough to forgo a few hours sleep to enjoy a real thrill. At 10,217 feet they watch the sun rise out of the east at an early morning hour.

The lookout station located between Tower Falls and Canyon is easily accessible to all visitors in the park. Just last year a three-story concrete structure was completed on top of the mountain to house the fire lookout who surveys the area for fires as well as houses the ranger-naturalist who is stationed there to dispense information and aid the tourists.

THOMAS HITS AT NEW BEET PERIL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21 (Special)—Notice by the state department of intention to negotiate another reciprocal trade treaty with Cuba constitutes a new threat to the sugar beet and livestock industries of the west, Sen. John Thomas, R., Ida., declared in a statement here.

More Concessions "Sugar is one of the products on which the United States will consider giving additional concessions to Cuba in the coming negotiations. Molasses, tobacco, wool and beef are others."

The committee on reciprocity information has announced that the closing date for briefs to be filed in connection with the pending negotiations is Aug. 23. Persons who file briefs may appear before the committee at the public hearing which will start on Sept. 8.

TOURIST TRAVEL SETS NEW HIGH

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo., Aug. 21 (Special)—Tourist travel is soaring to a new high, and the half million visitor mark will be reached in Yellowstone national park by the south gate is third in entering visitors with 18,641, it trails all other entrances in the percentage of increase with 22.8. The north gate re-robbed our growers of the protection which they must have in order to compete with cheap foreign labor," Senator Thomas said, "I intend to oppose vigorously any further concessions to any foreign country at the expense of the western beet grower."

Calling attention to the manipulation of the sugar tariff, Senator Thomas said, "The rate has been reduced from 42 to 50 cents a hundred pounds, and it is intimated that the intention now is to reduce it still further, to 75 cents a hundred. This represents about half of the difference in production costs between Cuba and the United States, and therefore places our growers in an exceedingly unfair position. I expect to call this to the committee's attention."

WIFE KILLER, 58, NEAR LAST MILE

McALESTER, Okla., Aug. 21 (UP)—Warren Abby, 58-year-old Okla. farmer, is scheduled to die Aug. 29 in the McAlester penitentiary electric chair for the slaying almost two years ago near Clinton of his 16-year-old wife, whom he met through a matrimonial advertisement.

Gov. Leon Phillips can save Abby with an act of executive clemency and Phillips has refused thus far in his administration to grant Abby a re-hearing. He was charged with murdering his wife, Julia Abby, Oct. 6, 1939, on the roadside between Bridgport and Clinton.

The two had met through a matrimonial advertisement and were secretly married Jan. 20, 1936. Mrs. Abby continued to operate a drug store at Cherry Valley, Ark., and Abby operated a cooperative farm in Louisiana.

Paid Off Mortgage

Late in 1939 Mrs. Abby sold her drug store for $1,500. She paid off the mortgage on Abby's farm and the two decided to go to California after disposing of the rest of her property in Arkansas. Mrs. Abby owned stock in a fine company but when they attempted to sell it they found it was worth only a fraction of the $10,000 at which she had valued it.

They started for California, however, opening the first night at a tourist camp near Cherry Valley. They left the camp before dawn and Abby killed his wife about 6 a. m.

He struck her on the head and ironed her eight times with an iron rod that had been placed in the automobile during their trip. Abby decided to tell officials that she had been struck by a hit-and-run driver while he was repairing a tire on his car.

He carried her body to Clinton and told the story to officers. They went to the scene of the crime, however, and in a field found the rod with which he had struck her. Abby confessed to the crime and pleaded "self-defense" and "insanity" at his trial.

Defense Pleas Rejected

He testified that he struck his wife once and that everything went black and that he did not realize that he had hit her seven other times. The jury and Judge H. B. Baroford, presiding over the criminal court of appeals, refused to accept this theory and gave him the maximum sentence.

The jury Judge Baroford stated in the court's opinion, "was justified in finding that this marriage to the deceased was because he believed she had valuable property and that the proceeds of this property could be used by him in carrying out his co-operative farming scheme."

Judge Baroford concluded in the court's opinion that Abby married the elderly woman "not for the purpose of love and protection but for the unholy purpose of securing her few worldly possessions."

The trial in district court before Judge W. P. Keen at Clinton revealed that the state was corresponding with several other women concerning matrimony and that he had placed a marriage proposal advertisement in several newspapers.

Grange Gleanings

By A. HARVESTER

HOLLISTER

Although many of the members were out to the dairy show on Tuesday night, they turned out a much larger attendance than usual at Hollister. The chaplain, Rev. Walker, tendered his resignation as he is going back east to attend school. The night had been designated as children's night and there were plenty of children on hand to make an excellent program. Master Frank Eastman reported on the dairy show at Filer, and urged all the members who could do so to attend the meetings. The program furnished by the children was as follows: "In an Old Dutch Garden," Betty Flora and Betty Larson, accompanied by Mrs. Farrar; a play, "The Spelling Contest," Betty Larson acting as teacher and June, Betty and Mrs. Farrar.

Lucerne met on Friday with a good attendance. They discussed plans for their attendance at the dairy show on the 29th of August, at which time they will be hosts to the members of the Twin Falls City Grange. Lucerne is very glad to welcome the Ewing family back to Lucerne Grange as they have been near Hollister this summer. Refreshments of sandwiches, cookies, cake and lemonade were served.

NORTHVIEW

Northview Grange met on Friday with a larger attendance than usual. Committees were appointed for the fair booth and sheaves were made. The members were to meet on Tuesday night to complete the sheave making. A winter roast is being planned at a date to be named later, the event to be held at Bannock, Mr. and Mrs. Neal served refreshments at the close of the meeting.

LUCERNE

Lucerne met on Friday with a good attendance. They discussed plans for their attendance at the dairy show on the 29th of August, at which time they will be hosts to the members of the Twin Falls City Grange. Lucerne is very glad to welcome the Ewing family back to Lucerne Grange as they have been near Hollister this summer. Refreshments of sandwiches, cookies, cake and lemonade were served.

DIETRICH

The folks from Dietrich had had a hard time meeting in the winter time as they are snowed in so much of the time. Talked to Mr. Gage, the first time I had seen him since he left for his attendance at Lewiston in 1937. Same old Gage and friendly as ever. Mr. Brummitt, master of Gooding Grange, had the motorcycle he had bought in a car accident, through no fault of his, and his car was damaged somewhat. Fixation of this summer. Refreshments of sandwiches, cookies, cake and lemonade were served.

DAIRY SHOW

The Grange folks are doing a nice job of getting a crowd out to the meetings at the dairy show. Ask your neighbors to come as everybody is welcome but bring your own food and eating tools. There is a fine place to meet and you just as well take your time eating as the cows like to have you quit eating until they are all milked.

And the programs that follow the feeding of the cows and the people are worth while. I've promised to send one of those chemurgic fellows over to Dietrich to see if he can make alkali dressings out of some of that surplus snow they have every winter. And cows are like folks; some are generous and give freely of their milk, while others hang on to every drop they can. I don't mean you nice cows at the dairy show.

The population of Boston decreased from 781,188 in 1930 to 769,520 in 1940.

Galloway, Boise, one of the "smallest, fastest-moving convention programs" in the history of the organization.

Final details to insure everyone attending the get-together by time are being prepared and will be completed soon.

On schedule for the first day is recreation at the Bannock hotel; a golf and card parties for the ladies; a tea tournament for the men, to be topped off with a banquet and entertainment.

Colorful Reminiscences Will Feature 79er Meeting Sept. 3

BURLEY, Aug. 21 (Special)—Under the leadership of Hyrum S. Lewis, one of Cassia county's most prominent pioneers, members of Southern Idaho's well-known 79ers organization will again convene at Albion State Normal school for their 21st annual meeting Wednesday, Sept. 3.

President Lewis has held the key position in the organization for 17 years, and has attended every meeting of the group, and it is through his efforts that the progress of the 79ers has been made. The organization is mainly for those pioneers who entered Marsh basin, now Albion, in 1879 or shortly after that time, and for the descendants of these pioneers. Others interested in the early history of southern Idaho are invited to attend the meeting.

Pioneer Lore

Rich and colorful in pioneer lore and Indian stories will be the reminiscence exchanged by the 79ers at their Albion meeting. The life stories of many of these early pioneers would make exciting novels, and the historical facts which are part of their memories would indeed be valuable to posterity. One of the outstanding features carried on each year is the exchanging of early day pioneer experiences.

One of the most beautiful and unique features of each year's program is the candlelight memorial service honoring the pioneers who have died during the year previous to that meeting.

In inviting the 79ers to this year's meeting, President Lewis stated: "The atmosphere is clean, by liberty and freedom, is called the 79er. If you want to enjoy the big rating at 11 a. m., all the good things the earth has provided at noon, and served by the best cooks and waitresses obtainable, you will attend."

"A pageant will be presented portraying liberty and freedom, and the historical fact which are part of their memories would indeed be valuable to posterity. One of the outstanding features carried on each year is the exchanging of early day pioneer experiences."

Dinner and Ball

At 6 p. m. there will be a dinner served in the dining hall, and the grand ball will close the day's activities. The grand ball will be in itself, as the 79ers gather for a real old-fashioned dance.

Last year about 350 people attended the meeting, and at that time a memorial fountain, built before Swanger hall, the first building erected at the Normal school, was dedicated. The fountain is built of native stone from nearby Mount
