

HITLER OFFENSIVE AT 'FULL FLOOD'

Roosevelt Denies U. S. Defense Program Is Bogging Down

PRESIDENT RAPS BYRD'S CLAIM OF PRODUCTION LAG

By T. F. REYNOLDS
HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 22 (UP)—President Roosevelt asserted today that charges of Sen. Harry F. Byrd that the defense program was bogging down were based on almost completely inaccurate statistics and added that he probably sold the senator down the river.

On the average, defense production is up to estimates, and in some cases actually exceeds estimates, Mr. Roosevelt said at a press conference. While he said he still is not satisfied with armament production, he cited exact figures to prove that Byrd's charges were considerably wide of the actual production record.

At the same time Mr. Roosevelt struck at opponents of his foreign policy, recalling the classic words of Sen. William Borah in July, 1939, on the prospects of war. At an historic White House conference he recalled Borah told Secretary of State Cordell Hull that his information was better than that of the state department, and predicted there would be no European war that year.

"The war came a few weeks later, the president recalled, and he pointed out, Borah's information as a spokesman member of the Senate Foreign Relations committee, was undoubtedly superior to the information possessed by many of the present day opponents of his foreign policy.

Defense Program. Mr. Roosevelt's defense of the armament program was detailed and somewhat extensive. He said that the program was not bogging down, and that it was producing more than enough to meet the needs of the war.

Byrd had charged that the production was bogging down disastrously, and had the president centralized control of the defense program under a single, central figure, he said, he did not discuss the centralization idea, but, item by item, he cited war department figures challenging Byrd's accuracy.

Tanks All British. Tanks—Byrd said not a single tank has been produced in England, he said, actually hundreds of tanks.

LENINGRAD READY FOR NAZI DRIVE

MOSCOW, Aug. 22 (UP)—Leningrad's 3,000,000 residents, threatened by German armored forces from the sides and behind, almost constant attacks by the Luftwaffe, threw up fortifications in every street today for a fight to the last drop of blood in defense of the city.

Gen. Mikhail Goltovskiy, air chief for the Leningrad area, reported in the official army organ Red Star that his troops were ready to meet the Soviet second city without let-up but said not a single German tank had fallen in the metropolitan area since start of the war.

More than 100 German planes already have been shot down by night fighters and anti-aircraft batteries in the Leningrad area, Pravda stated.

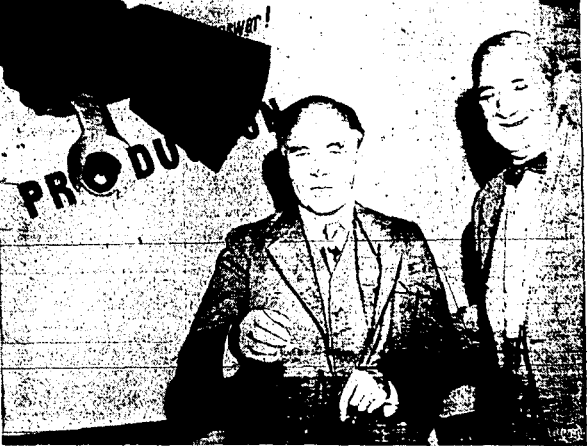

German planes were said to have made 17 attempts to raid Leningrad yesterday.

Having failed to break through the metropolitan area, the Luftwaffe is trying to destroy the airfields in the vicinity of the city to facilitate bombing of the city later.

Russia Asks Billion Dollars From U. S. in War Supplies

WASHINGTON, Aug. 22 (UP)—Authoritative sources said today the Soviet Union has requested war supplies totaling $1,000,000,000 in the United States and that 10 per cent of the supplies will have been delivered within the next few weeks.

This government has been able to meet all Russian requests for aviation gasoline with immediate deliveries, it was said. Some fighter planes—originally built here for the British—already are in Russia and others are on the way.

Medium bombers which the United States has promised the Soviet Union to meet the increasing pressure of German attacks have not yet been assembled for delivery, but they are being allocated to the Red air force from current production.

While we have accomplished more than we expected at the outset of our efforts to help the Soviet Union, it is nothing to be elated about.

It was recalled, however, the United States was able to send the British a 40-mile battle line in southwest Washington, were being relieved by units of the 42,000 men of the seventh division from Fort Ord, Calif., and the 40th division from Camp San Luis Obispo, Calif.

As the third division retired, its command claimed destruction of 20 "enemy" tanks in four days. Major Lewis C. Buckner, third division anti-tank officer, said mines and anti-tank guns had been theoretically successful against the panzer columns of the "invaders," represented by the skeletonized 17th infantry from Fort Ord.

The numerous problem is the defense of the Pacific Coast from an "enemy coalition" force assumed to have seized Hawaii and struck on the islands in the return to our help in her struggle against Germany." He added these islands, situated in the hands, would create a potential threat to the west coast.

The administration, in another move to speed supplies to Russia, has authorized the export of a list of important war materials, including chemicals, machine tools, and steel products, and non-ferrous metals.

A source informed source said a sizable quantity of machine tools already is on the way to Russia from the United States, but the shipment has not yet satisfied the needs.

Russian war orders, it was understood, are largely for guns—light and heavy—and ammunition.

FINN FREIGHTER BURNS TO WATER IN N. Y. HARBOR

By EARL B. STEELE
NEW YORK, Aug. 22 (UP)—The 4,956-ton Finnish freighter Aurora was destroyed by fire today at her anchorage in the Hudson river where she had lain two weeks awaiting orders from her warring homeland.

Policemen in motorboats rescued all but one of the 21-man crew. The body of First Mate Conrad Frazee was found floating in the water. The Aurora was the second ship destroyed by fire here this week.

The New York and Cuba Mail line freighter was destroyed by a Brooklyn waterfront disaster that killed 26 men.

Policemen aboard a commandeered pleasure launch rescued Aurora's master, Capt. Albert Bjorklund, 59, out of the water after he had jumped overboard. He was taken to hospital suffering from burned hands.

Waifettes Rescued. The fire was discovered by Naina Anderson, of the crew, who was on watch. She called the fire alarm and traced it to the pantry, where the ship's two waifettes, Ulla Gronlund, 21, and Ann Gronlund, 43, who were asleep in a room near the pantry, then woke the crew.

Anderson, the fire was ignited by the malfunctioning of a stove. The New York Central train, which blew such blasts from the train whistle that a police radio car used to investigate and was able to spread the fire alarm.

The federal bureau of investigation notified immediately. FBI agents have been investigating burning of the Aurora all week and were reported to have found no evidence of sabotage, although they are still assigned to the case.

Mile From Bridge. The Aurora was anchored a mile north of the George Washington bridge, 1,000 feet from the Manhattan borough bank.

Anderson said by the time the crew got the hose in action the fire was out of control.

The captain suffered his burns when he dashed to the pantry to get the bodies of missing crew members. One was recovered early this morning, raising the list of known dead to 19.

Tariff Increased On Japanese Crab

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Aug. 22 (UP)—President Roosevelt, in another economic blow directed at Japan, today raised the tariff on Japanese crab meat imports to 27 1/2 per cent.

Japan is the United States' principal supplier of crab meat, and the new tariff will increase the price of the product.

Boise Flier With RAF Now Officially Missing

LONDON, Aug. 22 (UP)—It was stated authoritatively today that Victor Olson, Boise flier, who had been flying with the Eagle squadron of the RAF, is now officially listed as missing.

Olson flew out of his plane over the English channel Tuesday after a battle with a German fighter plane. Eiler reports said Olson had been picked up by a British rescue launch but RAF sources said today these reports apparently are false.

Olson was shot down on his return toward England, participating in a sweep of the French channel coast. A fellow member of the Eagle squadron saw Olson go down and tried to direct Olson and the Idaho pilot's disabled plane toward England.

GREAT BATTLES REPORTED ALONG TWO BIG FRONTS

By JOE ALEX MORRIS
United Press News Staffer
Germany claimed new successes today as Adolf Hitler's offensive surged to "full flood" against Russia but the Red army reported it was "crushing" the main Nazi drives against embattled Leningrad and across the lower Dnieper river in battles of increasing violence.

An epochal battle appeared to be developing rapidly in the fortified zone around Leningrad, where the Germans are attacking with definite progress. The Russians said they stemmed the enemy with a live-line of defense and had sent back the Luftwaffe so furiously that not a single bomb had fallen on the huge industrial city. Moscow also reported German planes were being shot down in great numbers.

The German high command claimed that Finnish forces, driving down the Karelian isthmus, had captured Karkkila (Karkkila), on the shores of Lake Ladoga about 80 miles northwest of Leningrad. Thus Russia's second city was hemmed in from the north, and a westward advance in imminent danger of being checked.

The German high command was reported to have dispatched columns of the Red army to carry on the fight in the north, and to have sent large quantities of equipment and large industrial and farming areas.

Pierce Battle. The high command emphasized that the thrust through the Russian central defenses at Gornal was of unusual importance and had resulted in the loss of the Harcovt sector of the war.

Descriptions of a terrible attack of Russian troops on a bridgehead near Brest-Litovsk were reported. The bridgehead had been reduced to flaming ruins as the Germans pressed through for flanking attacks on the city.

The tons of the German reports, without making definite claims, was that the offensive had now reached a climax and the Red army was cracking up. The German reports were increasing discussion in Berlin of the prospects for winter war in Russia.

The appeal for volunteers for the crack "88" troops that have suffered heavy casualties in the Russian front. The appeal was made in a radio broadcast from Moscow.

In the east, the massing of possibly 200,000 German troops on the Polish border in Bulgaria continued the threat of a Nazi move in that direction and both Britain and Russia were said to be ready to take action to prevent the Nazis from France.

The British, emphasizing that the Red army was not in a position to hold the first report of the Russian military observer at the Russian front in the east.

ROOSEVELT HITS AT 'APPEASERS'

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 22 (UP)—President Roosevelt raked out "appeasers" before Congress yesterday, last night and said it was apparent the nation could escape a shooting war only if aggressor states were defeated "before they reached our shores."

In a message to the national convention of the Young Democratic clubs of America, Mr. Roosevelt said he preferred to accept the advice of any man who would lead the nation to a world flooded with war.

Must Match Aggressors. "Against naked force, the only possible defense is matching aggression with greater aggression," he said. "The aggressor makes the rules for such a war; the defenders have a choice of matching destruction, slaughter with greater slaughter."

He said the United States had "observed a 'main hope' that it would be unclouded by the war but that events in Europe 'laugh' at our policy. We have no safety; we have no sanctuary in isolation."

WHEAT STORAGE URGED BY GROUP

GOODING, Aug. 22 (Special) — Gooding county AAA committee this week urged the state to encourage in excess of the farm marketing quotas as "better from everybody's standpoint" than payment of marketing quota penalties.

County agriculture conservation office at Gooding reported Tuesday that many farmers in this county were building new wheat storage on their farms or are arranging to store both "hot" wheat and "frozen" wheat. The number of acres in excess of 1941 wheat acreage allowed to be stored to postpone or avoid payment of the 40-cent per bushel penalty levied under the marketing quota law, according to Ed Bell, chairman marketing committee, is about one-third the number of acres of marketing quota penalties.

He forecast a definite labor pinch in some localities this harvest season.

He said the farm labor sub-committee of the land use planning commission has been studying every available source of labor. It was apparent from studies that about one-third the number of farm migratory workers would be available this year.

It is considered desirable that every community in the state handle its own labor problem locally so far as schools are concerned," Robert declared.

"It will be necessary in many instances for school authorities to cooperate in the release of youth labor in the successful harvesting of some crops is not to be jeopardized."

"I suggest that school authorities consider carefully the judgment and advice of the people in the community closest to the labor problem. Those who include the county land use planning committee, the U. S. department of agriculture, county defense board, the employment service, and WPA." Roberts advised school officials to take steps that seem to fit best the needs of the entire community keeping in mind the interests of the school but not forgetting that we are facing an all-out defense emergency.

Brive an Leningrad

The call came as military informants asserted German armies were driving irresistibly on Leningrad from the west and south behind artillery and airplane bombardments so intense as to resemble one gigantic sheet of flame, reported capture of the Ukrainian town of Nikolop near the west bank of the Dnieper below the great power dam.

Newspapers today published the call for volunteers of three categories:
Youths and men of from 17 to 45 to enlist for the duration of the war, those under 25 to be acceptable for infantry, tank and signal corps service.
Youths and men of from 17 to 25 to enter for 4 1/2 years, those of 20 to 23 for the normal 12 year enlistment of the "SS" men, which from the elite picked corps of the Nazi hierarchy who always hitherto have been selected with great care for their build and political and racial background.

Proud Deeds Cited
Appealing for youths and men to answer the call, the newspaper cited "the proud deeds of the armed SS men. . . Now standing in the most forward battlefront against Bolshevism."

Authorized Nazi informants said the call for volunteers was a "purely technical measure" which would give youths and men who were of conscription age anyway, an opportunity to join troops who will be plenty of battle action and who also will be used in special duties in occupied and conquered areas.

"They denied the call meant that the "SS" regiments had suffered unusual" losses on the eastern front."

Strangely becoming shapes and peacock hues are important hat news in the fall, 1941, preview, and these four felts make the most of those two trends. The model at the left in the photo above is vivid green. It has red-eyes, red-cord feathers, cord and brim stitching. Next is radio actress Ann Eden in Sally Velez's big bonnet that reminds you of the curious figures in a geometry textbook. This also is a two-color hat. The triangular turned brim, of brushed wool, is black; the crown is powder blue suede.

WORKING GIRLS: FILE THESE TIPS ON AUTUMN WARDROBES

By MARGUERITE YOUNG
NEA Correspondent
The business girl may have to put down somebody else's ideas from 9 to 5, but when it comes to the clothes she wears, it's her turn to dictate.

That seems to be the slogan of several outstanding houses nowadays. They are featuring dresses, suits and blouses designed especially for Uncle Sam's 7,000,000 odd working girls. So shopping may be easier this fall for the girl who's doing her part for defense by stepping up efficiency in her own job.

"Working Wardrobe"
You can begin better work out of your wardrobe. Here's a very simple key to improving your wardrobe. Just look at it. Write down on paper what you need and what you have. Then go to your closet and see how many of last year's things are in good condition. Think over the whole thing, decide what to buy and when to buy it. You'll be surprised how much this helps in shopping, especially if you've been a haphazard shopper.

You'll be surprised how much this helps in shopping, especially if you've been a haphazard shopper.

Every working wardrobe requires some basic garments, and those are easier to choose now than ever before. Clothes are plentiful. You need at least a good-looking, comfortable blouse or a wool dress for work or an informal party, another dress that dresses "up" for a date or "down" for work, and a fur-trimmed coat.

sign up for courses that give her an insight into the needs of a community and the way in which individual citizens can respond to those needs.

She won't look any different from the college girls of a few years ago, and she won't be any different so far as her concern with getting and having fun are concerned. But she will be more serious than they ever will be about doing anything that will help to meet the future.

We--The Women
By RUTH MILLETT (NEA Service)
The college girl with brains and a serious attitude for the future will be adding some courses to her schedule this fall that she might never have considered a few years ago.

Before present conditions made it obvious that women's big role in raising the standard of living of the home economist, a college girl might have turned up her nose a little at the courses that taught home-management.

But if she is thinking about the future—her country's future and her own—she isn't going to take that attitude when she enrolls in college this fall.

Home Management
Picturing herself as a future housewife, and the how many college girls do picture themselves, no matter how they talk about careers, will be interested in learning all she can about running a home as economically as possible.

She won't be prompted entirely by the patriotic belief that today it is a woman's job to know how to manage a home with as little waste as possible. She will also be influenced by the knowledge that, as a future homemaker, it will probably be necessary for her to know how to manage on a little if she is to be able to marry at all. She will consider the mounting cost of living and the prospect of greatly increased taxes.

So she'll be registering for courses in foods, where she will learn about balanced diets and how to achieve them at any income level. She will be learning about budgeting, and what are actual necessities and what things a family can painlessly get along without.

Time for Dates
She may even find herself learning how to make her own clothes, and how to get the best value for clothing dollars.

If she is determined to do something constructive along community lines in whatever town she happens to make her future home, she will

Open Season Starts for Hunters Against Big League Managers

By HARRY FERGUSON NEW YORK, Aug. 22 (AP)—Don't shoot while they're sitting on the ground, men. Get 'em on the rise and give the poor devils a sporting chance.

The open season on major league baseball managers today and tomorrow has started. The shooting is especially heavy in Cleveland, Philadelphia, Detroit and New York, but that doesn't mean the legal limit is confined to the managers who shall be discussed in this essay.

You, too, can shoot at a manager. The earliest target for the hunters is poor old Roger Peckinpaugh of the Cleveland Indians. What right has he got to blow the pennant when everybody told him last spring the Indians were a cinch? It seems Peck's chief crime is that he is too easily going. He doesn't crack down on the players and make them hustle. Why, he even told them last spring they could take a beer now and then if they wanted it. What that Cleveland bunch needs is somebody to crack down on them, to bowl the boys out. Let's see, somebody like Oscar Vitell would be just the ticket. Don't remind me that the hunters got 'em last season because he was too tough and the boys ran to the front office crying. That was 1940; this is 1941.

Grant, Bobbitt Given Even Title Chance

CHERRY HILL, Mass., Aug. 22 (AP)—They come down the home stretch in the 60th national doubles championships today. Bryan (Billy) Grant, Jr. and Russell Bobbitt of Atlanta, Ga., on the strength of their winning performance in Wednesday's 102-game record match and aided by a day's rest, have virtually an even chance of whipping the third-seeded duo of Gaston Gillie, Cornell Gables, and Wayne Sabitt, Portland, Ore. Both contestants doubles players but unimpressive as new partners in this tournament.

William O. Dila, of the labor headquarters in Salt Lake City, and a representative of the Barbers' International will visit here soon, Mr. Froehlich said.

Warehouse and potato handling workers, barbers, beverage dispensers, hod carriers, auto and fender men, and others have been urged to organize more effectively. International, Mr. Froehlich stated.

Pickup Truck Hit By Auto at Carey

CAREY, Aug. 22 (Special)—Wynn Rock, Howe, driver of a coupe white Buick from Sun Valley to his home, collided with a pickup driven by J. R. Peck about 18 feet from the Carey Motor garage.

Mr. Peck was turning his truck around to start out of town when the coupe, traveling at about 40 miles per hour, struck the pickup.

Other than a slightly dented fender the truck was not damaged but the coupe had a tender, the bumper and one door torn from its side. The coupe was damaged to the extent of about $70. None of the occupants of the truck nor the coupe was injured.

Crumbling Shack Yields Old Ketchum Newspaper of 1892

The mining days of old Ketchum—the Ketchum of the west before the railroad realized its possibilities as a winter and summer resort—were revealed this week when a group of Twin Falls men uncovered an 1892 issue of the Ketchum Keystone, yellowed with age, in a broken-down shack in the Sawtooth basin north of Galena summit.

The paper, which claimed to be the "sole representative of the great upper Wood river mining region," was found by Rex Warren, Harry Neen, Gus Olson and Harry "Bud" Wallace along with two eastern Negro miners. The shack, which apparently had been unoccupied for 49 years, was taken over by pack rats, the roof had caved in and the sides were falling.

The Ketchum Keystone, long since folded up, sold for 15 cents an issue for a year and appeared every Sunday in the thriving mining community. The front page was covered with editorial plus one column of advertisements. News was printed on the second and third pages and was primarily news of the Republican national convention in progress, and of mining incidents.

The other two papers found in the tumbledown shack here the Detroit Flannder and the Freeman published in Indianapolis, Ind. Motto of the Freeman was "And Ethiopia shall stretch forth her hand."

Excerpts from the Ketchum paper show the now-obsolete style of news writing and gave indications to life in the gay nineties.

Baseball

Baseball was just as prominent in the spotlight then as it is today as indicated by the following paragraphs:

While the G. O. P. pow-wow was going on last Tuesday at Minneapolis, President Harrison was enjoying a match game of baseball at Washington, apparently betraying no concern as to the result of the convention.

Reporting for the early newspapers was no different than today and the news-sounds had their difficulty in finding names of people. The following is taken from the Ketchum paper:

"A man whose name we failed to learn, and his wife, from Boise City, passed through town this week on their way to Sawtooth. They had with them their household furniture, chickens, etc., preparatory to opening a hotel at the later place."

John D. Rockefeller, millionaire Standard Oil magnate, had started his charity contributions as early as 1892. An item in the paper mentioned that he had just contributed $10,000 for relief of sufferers in a flood and fire at Turville, Tenn.

Jesse James slayer

Another item:

"Joe Ford, the slayer of Jesse James, was shot by Edward Kelly at South Creede, Colo., on the 18th. Kelly used a shotgun and fired both barrels at once, hitting Ford directly under the chin and killing him instantly." An item in the yellowed chronicle said:

Idahoans who were delegates to the Republican national convention at that time were mentioned prominently at the national meeting. C. C. Lockwood being chosen chairman of the permanent organization committee and W. E. Heyburn being appointed to the foreign relations group. Other Idaho delegates were Willis Sweet and James M. Sheup.

But even in the old days of Ketchum, saloons and bars weren't the only form of entertainment. One short item mentioned that "a social hop will be given under the auspices of the Triumph Silver club at Wednesday's hall, East Fork, next Wednesday evening. A pleasant time and the kind of entertainment that the kind fantastic should not fail to attend."

SCHOOL OPENING SET AT GOODING

GOODING, Aug. 22 (Special)—Gooding public schools will open Sept. 2 and students of the high school will register Thursday and Friday, Aug. 28 and 29, according to Supt. M. W. Tate. A heavy enrollment is anticipated. School will remain in session all day on Tuesday, Sept. 2.

Enrollment is scheduled for freshmen and sophomores for Thursday, Aug. 28, and juniors and seniors, Aug. 29. Students should enroll on proper dates in order to get into the classes and sections of their choice.

Preps for tuition and books will be approximately the same as last year. The school board has ruled that all fees must be paid in full at the time of enrollment unless successful petition has been made for free books and waiver of book fees.

Bus routes and schedules for the morning will be the same as last year. There is a possibility that the afternoon bus schedule will be moved up three-fourths of an hour depending upon the feasibility of holding 8 a. m. classes for the first bus students. Detailed information regarding any part of the transportation program may be obtained from Walter Raby or Mr. Tate.

On Tuesday morning, Sept. 2, all grade school pupils are asked to return to their last year's rooms. From these they will be assigned to their rooms for this year. As in the past, one section of the fourth grade will be held in the high school building and one in Lincoln building. The divisions of pupils for these sections will be based on proximity to the building. All parents who have special requests concerning particular rooms or teachers for their children are asked to confer with Miss Ida Frim, principal of the junior high building, or Mrs. Lida Taylor, Lincoln principal.

Scaffold up As 'Ad' for Burley Fair

BURLEY, Aug. 22 (Special)—Stark realism stalked U. S. highway 30 at Main and Overland in Burley this week as an authentic hangout scene and scaffold was erected to help advertise the Casalia county fair and Old Oregon Trail stampede.

As if the scaffold and noise were not gruesome enough, the committee has added more flavor and terror to the scene by placing a long, wooden box by the scaffold, ready to receive "the body."

Tourists Gape

Tourists gaped at the business-like death machine as carpenter completed final details of the heavy well-braced gallows, and exact replica of one constructed 45 years ago at Alton, to exact early cow-country justice from Diamond Field Jack, convicted slayer of two sheep herders in a famed western range war.

Scores of eastern motorists have pulled over to the curb to ask discreet questions about the purpose of the hangman's outfit, and then they read the signs announcing the fair and stampede, and understand what it is all about.

Vigilante Crew

The gallows are being used as a site for a vigilante crew in Burley to exact levies from citizens who do not conform with regalia proclamations requiring the wearing of cowboy attire.

Wednesday was the official day set for the donning of cowboy regalia, and most of the business men and their employees have already complied with the edict.

Only 1 per cent of the accidents on dry roads involve skidding; on wet roads, the percentage is 27; while on snow-icy roads, the percentage leaps to 50 per cent.
