DEPOSITS URGED ON FUTURE LOAN

Twin Falls county farmers who have Federal Land bank loans not only can protect their future but can make a profitable investment by paying into a new future payment fund plan inaugurated by the bank, J. W. McDowell, Twin Falls, secretary-treasurer of the National Farm Loan association serving Twin Falls county, announced today.

McDowell said such funds will make a real contribution to national defense.

Future payment funds are deposits against future loan installments and interest, McDowell said. They are designed specifically to protect the farmer against future loan years. Such funds will not be applied on the loan until the farmer so instructs the land bank unless by some mistake he is unable to make his regular payments, in which case the deposit would be applied automatically.

Future payment funds will draw interest at the same rate the farmer pays on his mortgage loan, McDowell explained.

"A future payment fund created by farmers through the bank is the amount available for the Federal Land bank to invest in government bonds for the farmer," he pointed out. "That means that while the farmer is protecting his farm and home for the future, and while his investment in the bank earns a rate of interest, his money at the same time will be doing service for national defense through reinvestment by the land bank."

Rumor of Raider Hunt Stirs Action Aboard U. S. Cruiser

By PHIL CURRAN

ABOARD A U. S. PACIFIC FLEET CRUISER, Sept. 26 (U.P.)—It was apparent at dawn that a climax was approaching.

For one thing the ship's pulse was more rapid than it had been any time since we sailed into the Pacific for the first time since President Roosevelt's "shoot first" order.

"We were heading under full power for somewhere in a hurry."

We tried to guess where. The ship's newspaper said an axis raider was on the prowl off the Galapagos islands.

Everyone remembered the merchantman that had appeared so interested in the return of the ship's scouting planes.

The captain had remarked: "She must be headed for Panama. The Galapagos are within striking distance of the canal."

It suddenly dawned on everyone that we hadn't seen the rest of our "black force" for some time. We had been on our own, without benefit of a destroyer escort.

It seemed probable that we had turned off our course to hunt the axis raider.

But with their ship on a full power run officers had little time to answer questions. Even the chief engineer had discarded his dress whites in favor of blue jeans and a work shirt.

If our cruiser went hunting for a raider we were never able to verify it. At any rate, we found none.

The full power test was a signal success. Not a trace of telltale smoke from the stacks, a fact indicative of perfect combustion in the mighty power plant below.

Before it went on a war-time operations basis, the cruiser had a foot-high "E" painted on her stack. The symbol meant that her engineering was rated the best among all the cruisers of the fleet.

There was plenty of time to observe the beauty of a trim man of war splashing through the waves. Forward the bow evoked a rainbow from the spray. Astern a frothy white wake extended for more than a mile.

The chief engineer appeared in his whites again for dinner, happy because the ship had performed in "E" style.

Three tables were at play. Mrs. O. R. White and George Marshall, Buhl, were guests of the club. Mrs. Alan Allen, Mrs. Wallace Bookwick and Mrs. Oscar Tate won prizes. The hostesses presented partly filled defense savings stamp books as prizes.

Mr. and Mrs. Walt Daggert moved to Boise Saturday. He has been working here for the Idaho Power and will be employed now at Swan Falls.

Keith Clark, who is stationed on the U. S. S. Cushing at Pearl Harbor, is spending his turmoil with his parents. He will report back at San Diego Oct. 3.

Mrs. J. E. Jones, Mrs. T. Sullivan and daughter, Jeanne, Milwaukee, Ore.; Mrs. Pete Ringstead, Astoria, Ore.; Mrs. Louis Post, Boise, and Mrs. Flora Willis, Portland, were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andy Willis last week-end. Mrs. Willis, who is the mother of Mr. Willis, remained for an extended visit with her son and wife.

Mrs. Baple, Dorothy and Jerry Greene, Boise, visited with friends this week. Miss Nedra Bergert accompanied them home for a brief visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Bergert.

Mrs. Philip Kenniott and Mrs. Harry Frazier attended the Republican Women's club in Wendell Monday.

HANSEN

Members of the Hansen school band are preparing to participate with other bands in the Kimberly harvest festival, and look forward to appearing in full uniform between 1 and 2 p. m. Saturday.

Editor, Evening Times:

We want to thank you very much for the article in the Idaho Evening Times dated Sept. 20, 1941, about the soldiers of Twin Falls.

Your article expressed the thoughts of many of the boys and that was exactly the way most of them were treated. It seems as though the medical detachment, 118th engineers, has been either forgotten or else considered part of Company E, 118th engineers.

Let's not forget they are from Twin Falls and they are a separate unit from Company E. It is mostly composed of men from Twin Falls, 20 to be exact. We would appreciate your help in making this understood.

Sincerely,
MEDICAL DETACHMENT,
118th Engineers,
Fort Lewis, Wash.

COFFEE EGGNOG

An egnog is a nourishing but not "heavy" refreshment when a pickup is needed to renew flagging energy. Combine a cup of strong, black coffee with a pint of milk and a whipped raw egg. Add sugar and nutmeg to taste. This is the recipe of Tamara, Transvaal, premiere danseuse with the Monte Carlo Ballet.

POT SHOTS

WITH
The Gentleman in the Third Row

Dear Pot Shots:
Have you a "In Can Alley" in your home?
Tut-tut, then you aren't up-to-date.
They called it "hoarding" in World War No. 1. Today it's called smart home economics—this buying up of canned goods, vegetables, lunch meats and fish interspersing the home canned produce, mostly by glass jars.
It's getting so that a person's prosperity is being measured by the number of dollars worth of canned goods he's storing, while he can get it.
Contract bridge conversation is getting more "snooty" all the time. "I buy two of everything now—and put one can away," one gal will say. Another will pipe up, "If you run short of coffee, just look in my basement."
But someone WOULD have to spoil this "sn't-it-in-to-fo-ya" squirrel game.
The other day at a bridge party a local dame blurted out something the government should suddenly decide that it needs all the tin cans there. Another with her hand "lick through" with your cans like you did your gold a few years back!
Oh, well, maybe she's the kind that believes in "hoarding" and she'll have her best instead of in her tummy, anyhow.
And that's about in line with the ironical remark of the local grocer who was heard to say, as one of his customers carried away a dozen cans of assorted fruits:
"Wouldn't it be a good job if the police on canned goods went down this a memorandum on this subject."
—Hesse Bole

WE DINGO—T'WAVE ALL SHIPPED AWAY!

Dear Pot:
I'm getting worried. If all our canned goods have been shipped away two to Dr-Spock, what are we going to do for potatoes this winter? Are number ones edible?
—Ex-press

OKAY—JIM HERREY GETS HIS NAME IN THE PAPER!

There is a man up here in Carey, a few hours, who has been complaining all summer because he never gets his name in the paper. His name is Jim Colman. Jim has always been a good and abiding citizen. He sort of celebrates occasionally but he never gets troublesome. He just goes on and lets the rest of the world do as it d-m-pleases. But the other day Jim Colman happened to Jim. Jim got in Carey, but as he says, he'd add get out here to get notorious.
He went down to Shoshone and double parked his pick-up and right away one of them smart-alecky city cops jumped him all over Jim. Jim took him up before the judge and slapped a fine on Jim—and Jim had a party.
The next night with Jim, he paid, and therefore wants his name in the paper, but if you should ask me, they ought to do that to Jim. Jim Colman is a just man and he ought to get more attention to them little yellow stripes on the sides of it.
I hope you can find out when they get out away from home.
Hoping you are the same.
—May N. B.

PHILOLOGICAL CORNER

Dear Pot Shots:
The English of Report says it's a funny thing but there always seems to be more words in a big one.
—Mildred Deane

BUT HOW ABOUT LADIES WHO BUY STAMPS?

Dear Pot:
One fellow told me he thinks the merchants would sell more defense stamps if they were given the job instead of letting men clerks do it.
I say, though, that all depends on the figures.
—Justin Bruns

MATTER OF MORALE

The Pot Shots office guy wandered in today with a clipping which would give tips to manufacturers how they should go about making their products. It was a list of things that would be made more quickly if the manufacturer would look at a word full of women with bloused tips.

RAMBLING RUMORS

Every American owes his country the duty today of swatting wild rumors.
Rumor is a weapon, the totalitarian propagandists have never hesitated to use it. Dull its edge by skepticism and investigation. Never repeat harem-scarem stories from unknown sources; challenge the man who does.
Typical example: Word goes 'round that the army has ordered 7,500,000 chevrons. What! For an army of a million and a half men? Waste! Inefficiency! Terrible!
But wait a minute! Every lance corporal, corporal, sergeant, warrant officer and the whole non-commissioned hierarchy must have chevrons on every shirt, blouse or coat they wear. At least 16 pairs for every such man. Now figure it out again.
It was simple when you stop to think, wasn't it? Well, stop to think!

BRITISH WOMEN WHO WENT BACK TO THE SOIL ARE GIVEN A REWARD HARVEST. The good of sowing circles is as destructive as picknickers.

BRIDE FROM THE SKY

BY HELEN WELSHIMER

COPIRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

I'd pull your hair—oh, how I'd pull it! As soon as we land . . .
"I'll win you over by that time," he said. Half-turning, he blew her a kiss.
"Sandy," her voice echoed again, "please let go down. It's time for the wedding. Why, I won't even have a chance to powder my nose."
"Any way, your lips will be dim rose and virginal. Most lips, brides' lips. I mean, look like bright strawberries!"

FLIGHT TO NOWHERE

CHAPTER XVI

AS quickly as Sandy deposited Judy into the cabin he released her hands and legs, removed the gag from her mouth, and motioned to her to get up. He started to taxi down the field.
It seemed to Judy, screaming, talking, crying, biting her lips in anger, that the ship went straight up. Sandy turned around and grinned at her.
"Happy?" he asked.
"Ecstatic!" she answered in a madened voice. "I hate you!"
"Nice to know that you're thinking about me?" His voice was gay and ironic. "Grand view, don't you think?"
"She looked over the side of the plane unconsciously. Oh, yes, it was a wonderful view. Tens of thousands of people moved down there, free to get married, or go shopping, or telephone the police, or do anything they felt like doing. People who knew all about stability and safety and fires and candlelight and how much it cost to have a wedding with bridesmaids wearing cherry bouquets and both a bridal cake and a wedding cake and a husband you met at the altar.
Maybe if she kept her voice steady she could make Sandy hear her.
"Sandy," Tenderness, softness, intrigue hidden behind the cadent consonants, wrapped themselves around the name.
"Yes, Mat? Here!" the friendly voice in front answered.
"If you didn't have to wear your helmet and weren't too far away counting stars with you. Absolutely I won't."

"Kind of you, honey. I know Paul's dad. Nice guy. He's one of those who'll do anything to look at my parachute. See how I love you? Risking my chance at a plane unless you'll come along."
His voice was dead and unfeeling, but Judy did not notice. Night had come, and with it a mist of rain. She fingered the thread in the wedding gown, found the injured lace and unraveled it again.
If Sandy had turned his head just then, he would have seen such honest misery in the brown eyes, such anguish on the white lips, and he might have changed his course.
Instead his voice was sober as he spoke now. The galaxy was gone.
"Judy, you don't love Roger. You only think he's a bait hook. I'll tell you in your library. Maybe his talk of stability looks pretty good to you. The plane swung about in the air and he abruptly it back quickly.
"You think everything that is dangerous isn't right. Love, loyalty, faithfulness haven't anything to do with four strong walls and a lot of land. I'll buy you a house some day, a whole apartment block. If a house will do, I happen to love you too much to let you trust your own impulses this time."
The mist was heavier. The night grew darker. Judy was cold. There might be a feather jacket some place around. Her cheeks were numb. She had nothing to search. Phil never would have left her without a warm outer garment.
"I'm sure as my own impulses!" she asked, still yearning.
"Oh, telling Skyways you were my fiancée and then starting west to look for a house?"
"You knew?" Her voice was almost a sob.
"Not all of it until yesterday when you told me you'd do. I'll give you up to anyone now that I know you care at all!" His voice was tender and the sky was dark and lonely. Judy did not notice, though. A little while ago Sandy had mentioned his parachute. He kept folded like a seat cushion, she knew.
She had taken parachute jumps at the World's Fair amusement park. Her hair was a ball of lunatic could go to prison. Carefully she put her hand under her hand and found the packet that she wanted.

EDSON IN WASHINGTON

By FRED EDSON
Evening Times Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—Fred Edson, who has been in Washington for a week, is busy with the program of armament U. S. merchant vessels sailing the seven seas is simply a matter of time.

The number of U. S. merchant ships now in foreign commerce, the largest fleet of its kind in the world, is about 600. This includes ships in the coastwise trade and ships on the 3-11-11. In addition to these, it was deemed advisable to arm U. S. ships in coastwise and international trade, guns and gun crew were to be produced for another 700 vessels. On top of that, there would have to be arms provided for the 1,400 ships now being built by the maritime commission.

Change of naval rifles of caliber 1.5 inch was a sub issue. Any shooting on sight done in the immediate future would have to be done by destroyers or cruisers actually conveying the merchantmen.

There is a limited supply of deck guns left over from the last war, while they might do in a pinch for surface craft, this present war has one real hazard which was merely a matter of time. The danger from aircraft bombers and dive bombers. To fight off bombers effectively, the navy would have to have in anti-aircraft weapons, and as the world well know, the United States lacks in anti-aircraft guns.

WAR OUTLOOKS

INTERNATIONAL LAW

One idea of how out-of-date international law has become can be seen by destroyers or cruisers actually conveying the merchantmen.

The Hague conference of 1923-4 made some broad generalizations that the law affecting surface craft should also apply to aircraft. But since the advent of the airplane, the sinking of merchant ships specifies that war vessels can determine the character of the craft by search by visit and search, and that the true character of a merchant ship must be determined and provision made for the safety of the crew and passengers before sinking. Determining the true character usually means checking the cargo, the passenger list, clearance papers, log and cargo manifest.

It is impossible for an airplane to do any of those things. For a plane to radio a merchant captain to abandon his ship would be tantamount to the plane's position, and make it an easy target for anti-aircraft guns.

All these points can be kept in mind the next time your bridge table debating society meets to complain about the way the axis planes are flying. The freighter Fleet Admiral on the sea.

MR. SMYTH'S STILL HERE

In case you have missed him, J. Henry Smyth, Jr., is still underfoot. In case you don't remember the face, though the name is familiar, Smyth—Sloan Smyth, they call him—is the fellow who started the campaign into newspaper offices since 1922, asking for photographers and then being a member of the editorial board how much I look like FDR! The cameramen do their stuff and millions of newspaper readers look at the picture of the man who was why "No, You're Wrong Again." Besides being a professional look-alike for the laws of the United States for a living, but his contribution to the defense efforts haven't been clicking very well.

Country boys the war, maybe that's why. "Save to defend—Defend to Save America" and "Stop the Ralston" through the Rockefeller's on Hitler, are the best he has been able to do since Roosevelt's last election. He has been a member of the Facet union on the tall side of the dime. "Americanize the Dime" is the name of the union. In effect, he thinks the likeness of Lincoln should be promoted from the penny through the Rockefeller's on Franklin put on the penny. So far, he hasn't suggested putting FDR's on the dime. It might look like a dime, but it's not. Smyth, and Smyth's a Republican.

Detective Story Given Honors on 100th Birthday

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (AP)—The detective story celebrated its 100th birthday today, according to a report by the state department to promote cultural relations with the American republics.

The state department estimates 6000 plants working on defense orders will hit 272,000 new workers before Jan. 1, half of them going into reform. If it is so many radio-equipped planes are now flying around that civil aviation authority has had to request private pilots to hold their charter to a minimum. . . Philadelphia WPA is making a study in the history of trucks, buses and trailers for the army. . . Largest U. S. army hospital is at Ft. Monmouth, near Dover, with 22,222 beds. . . Farm labor, as of Sept. 1, was estimated by department of agriculture at 11,000,000 last September. The figure in the 18 years that statistics have been compiled.

BUYING RESTRICTIONS TERMED HEALTHY FOR NATION

PURCHASING BY INSTALLMENT IS TO BE CONTINUED

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The tightening of installment buying by the emergency as an emergency measure in no way will affect credit buying as the foundation of American industry, according to Ray C. Wilson of Salt Lake City, president of the National Association of Credit Men.

"The abolition of installment buying would lead to disaster, but merely placing an 18-month limit on it, as has been done, will serve to make the public credit conscience and will lessen the current credit risks at little decrease in present buying power," he said.

Call System Permanent — "Installment buying is here to stay," he declared.

He pointed out that 95 per cent of all purchases in the United States are on credit. Without it, he said, the country could not have developed into such a great industrial nation.

"It is up to the members of the National Association of Credit Men to study their needs and to extend credit on a sound basis and then protect them against failure."

DAY-TO-DAY BASIS FOR U. S. IN WAR

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP) — United States relationship to the war is on a 24-hour basis — or less — President Roosevelt said today in a Collier's article which charges Republican and Democratic opponents of his policies with hastening outbreak of the conflict.

He referred also to the existing "so-called" neutrality act which the administration now seeks to change or abandon.

Blames Republicans — Mr. Roosevelt assessed blame against practically all congressional Republicans and some 25 per cent of Democrats who prevented repeal of the arms embargo clause of the neutrality act in July and August of 1939. Since that brink of war period, he said, the American people have had "strict neutrality and aloofness."

The magazine article, written last July and now published, appears only 48 hours after revelation the administration probably shortly will ask for further neutrality changes to permit arming American flag merchant vessels. Mr. Roosevelt pledged all American "resources, industry and manpower" to the job of rearmament and to "help to the limit" in the anti-axis states.

Events Happen Quickly — "International events happen so quickly," he wrote, "that it is impossible to tell exactly what the relationship of the United States to its people in this world conflict will be next week, or tomorrow or, indeed, before the ink on this page will have dried."

The Collier's article, fourth of five each of which is a reprint of the volume of state papers covering the second Roosevelt administration, reviews futile American efforts for years from 1933 to the outbreak of the war.

Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy will leave today for Salt Lake City, where they will participate in a benefit program sponsored by the Kwanan club Monday when a California, Lou Nono, steps into the ring with Joe Louis for the world heavyweight boxing title.

Actress Ann Hanson, Miss Finland of 1939, has applied for U. S. citizenship papers. She has appeared in the movies as actress and dancer.

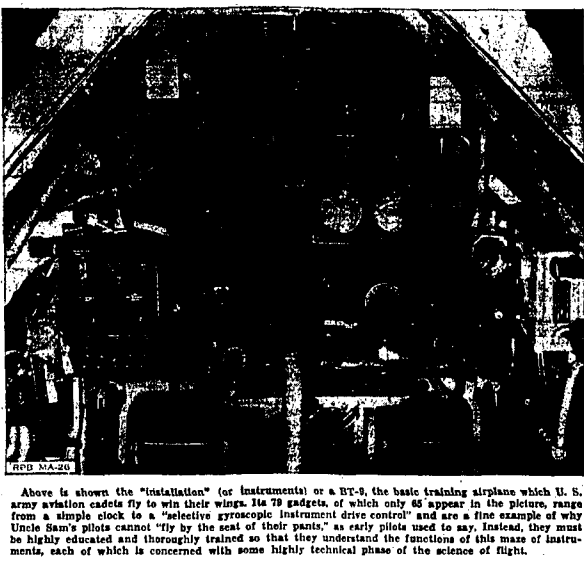

Mrs. Christine Cortes, former wife of Andy Cortes, former boxer, left an estate of more than $100,000, her will disclosed today. She died Sunday of burns suffered when she fell asleep while smoking a cigarette.

Anna Burns, who was leading lady in "Native Son," has been signed by RKO-Radio picture.

Italiane Gloria Vanderbilt is wearing a six-inch skyscraper high-heeled which beauty author Max Factor, Jr. says is the "only" way to keep within realm of attractiveness.

Alto Faye, actress, singer and wife of Band Leader Paul Harris, will retire temporarily from the stage to become a mother, she announced today. She said she expects the child early next year.

Why Aviation Cadets Can't Be "Dumb"

Above is shown the "installation" (or instrument) of a BT-9, the basic training airplane which U. S. army aviation cadets fly to win their wings. The 79 gadgets, of which only 65 appear in the picture, range from a simple clock to a "selective" microscope instrument drive control and are a fine example of why the cadets cannot "fly by the seat of their pants," as early pilots used to say. Instead, they must be highly educated and thoroughly trained so that they understand the functions of this maze of instruments, each of which is concerned with some highly technical phase of the science of flight.

JEROME, Sept. 26 (Special) — William A. Peters, president of the Jerome Watermen's association, returned home this week from Santa Fe, N. M., where they attended the 15th annual meeting of the Rocky Mountain Sewage Works association. Mr. Peters, prominent pioneer business man, is chairman of the watermen's association.

The first day heard addresses by Paul S. Fox, public health engineer of the New Mexico state health department; C. R. McIntosh, consulting engineer of Santa Fe, and a panel discussion followed on the subjects of damage to sewage treatment plants by floods.

Experts on water works conducted by John Z. Miles, governor of New Mexico, delivered the welcoming address, being introduced by the chairman, Mr. Peters, who gave the response.

Following appointments of committees, D. A. Bryce, special agent of the FBI, El Paso, Tex., spoke on "Damage of Public Water Supplies."

Oakley Water System Ready Before Nov. 1

The Oakley water system project, which started Dec. 6, 1940, is now 95 per cent complete and there remains but one additional piping connection to the main water supply line, Robert W. Hampton, district WPA manager, announced here this afternoon.

As of Sept. 1, a total of $13,078.41 had been contributed by Oakley, sponsoring unit, which covers engineering fees, material, truck hire involved in the transportation of men from Oakley to the site of operation.

Federal Share — The federal government has expended $14,047.17 of which 90 per cent covers labor and 10 per cent non-labor charges, covering hand tool supply fund rental and the purchase of 1,722 lineal feet of eight-inch pipe.

The project will be completed by Oct. 31, having operated 11 months and completing one month ahead of the estimated schedule. Project operations have been under the direction of C. L. Smith, project superintendent. All other labor was obtained from the local certified public relief rolls with an average project employment of 25 men.

Widely Expanded Capacity — While under the old system, which was entirely inadequate, it was possible to furnish each connection with only 4,000 gallons monthly, the new system will permit supply of approximately 20,000 gallons during a like period, Hampton pointed out. Because the Oakley reservoir is now full to overflowing, the insurance rates of the community have been cut one-third.

Prior to the time this project was started, Oakley had insufficient domestic water to supply municipal needs during all seasons of the year, it was pointed out.

WHEELER DENIES RACE PREJUDICE

OAKLAND, Calif., Sept. 26 (AP) — Charges the American first committee has stirred up racial and religious intolerance were denied tonight by Sen. Barton K. Wheeler, Montana isolationist, who said:

"That comes from the other side." Wheeler spoke before 5,000 persons—including numerous hecklers—in the civic auditorium under auspices of the American first committee. Police ejected one man.

The senator said he opposed war because "it is not our war; (2) We have no arms with which to fight; (3) our participation in the war would destroy our democracy." He assailed "the Knuxes, Stinsons, Dorothy Thompson and Morgenthau" as war-mongering group trying to force the nation into war.

Wendell L. Wilkie, he said had "business connections" that should be examined.

DOGGER TRIUMPH ENDS WILD PENNANT RACE

Follower Tear Shirts off Backs of Brooklyn Baseball Players on Return to Homes

Night-Long Parades Held in Flatbush

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
BROOKLYN, Sept. 26 (UP)—The patience of the country's most loyal baseball fans had its reward today — the National league pennant bestowed upon the erstwhile Bums of the sports world, the Brooklyn Dodgers, at end of a frenzied, nip-and-tuck race.

Next Wednesday these Brooklyn Dodgers open the 1941 world series in Yankee stadium against the New York Yankees, again champions of the American league. It will be another of the "subway world series" which have been deplored before as centering baseball in this city, to the detriment of baseball in the rest of the country. But this one will be different. The sterling qualities of the Brooklyn fans who had remained doggedly loyal to "The Bums" through the lean years, had won practically the entire country to their side.

—And the Brooklyn Fans Cheer

There was a tumultuous celebration in Grand Central Terminal in Manhattan last night when the team arrived from Boston where it clinched the pennant by defeating the Boston Braves, 4 to 3, with the Pittsburgh Pirates were defeating the runner-up St. Louis Cardinals, 3 to 1. The hysterical, frenzied mob tore the shirts off their backs and there were too many policemen on hand. There was tumult on a smaller scale at the various hotels here where the players, who they arrived from Manhattan, but police kept it mild.

Small bands of fans closed at 4 a. m., fans filled the night with a frenzied laboring, intermingled with cheers. There were impromptu parades along Flatbush Heights, but on the whole the night passed without major incidents. The fans had waited 21 years for their pennant and now they had it, they found it difficult to believe.

21-Year Wait

The loyalty of these fans challenges language. Not since 1920, when "Uncle" Wilbert Robinson brought a team down in front, have they had a team they could take pride in. They have had to remain loyal to some of the worst teams to participate in the major leagues, to submit, uncomplainingly, to clownish ineptitude that earned those past seasons the well-deserved appellation, "the Bums." It seemed that the stockholders felt there had no need to spend money on the team, since, no matter how bad the team was, these fans filled the Ebbets field stands.

This state of affairs lasted some 15 years. Then there began a drastic lull of attendance and the stockholders engaged Jimmy McPhail, baseball's ace troubleshooter, as general manager, and loosened the purse strings. He bought players with a lavish hand and attendance bounced up. MacPhail presented his fans with the championship.

Kimberly Grid Club Triumphs Over Fairfield

KIMBERLY, Sept. 26 (Special)—The Kimberly Bulldogs bated the home town football fans farewell with a bang last night as they pounded out a 25-14 decision over the invading Fairfield high school Minutemen in the largest crowd of the season. It was the last home game of the season for the Bulldogs, and the Bulldogs were victorious in the first quarter, the home club played the advantage throughout in the second quarter, scoring three times here in yardage and one in yardage gained than there will in any of the state of Idaho this week-end.

All told, there were 436 yards from scrimmage, with Kimberly getting 276 of them and the Minutemen collecting 162 — mostly by passes. This was net. And the Bulldogs had 16 first downs, compared with 10 by the foe.

Woodland and Tate

Featuring Woodland and the end sweeps of Clarence Tate, Coach Ole O'Connell marched 76 yards for the first quarter, with Woodland hitting center from the one-yard line after about five minutes of play. Tate try for point was no good.

The second score came a few moments later when Fairfield fumbled the ball on the 10-yard line and Kimberly recovered. Tate ran 16 yards around end and then Woodland again punted center for the counter-attack. Tate try for extra point was no good.

Field Goal Scores

The Bulldogs tied with the Minutemen in the second quarter, as Tate's offense started to click and with the ball on the 20, Clyde Cox, a hard-hitting back, skirted end for the first visiting punter. Tucker went over from center for the extra point.

Woodland came right back for the Bulldogs to score again and the half ended 14-0.

Third quarter again found Woodland on the scoring end of a touch-down drive when he went over back from the six. Hill Savage cracked the line for the extra point to make it 20-0.

Came Tate to Air

Coach C. D. Merrill's club then took to the air and passed for four consecutive downs and a touchdown, with Tucker tossing the ball to Cox for the score. Brian Jones hit the line for the extra point just before the game ended—25-14.

Gus Lesnevich May Spar With Nova

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., Sept. 26 (UP)—Lou Nova may have a secret workout tomorrow with light heavyweight champion Gus Lesnevich, who is winding up his training for his fight with champion Joe Louis Monday night.

GREENWOOD LAKE, N. Y., Sept. 26 (UP)—Champion Joe Louis, training for Monday's title defense against Lou Nova, had only two sparring partners today, George Hick and George Nicholas, who were able to work with the champion. The other two, George Hicks and Babe Ralston, were recuperating from beatings suffered in camp earlier in the week.

New Coaches, Plays Feature Coast Games

By JIM SULLIVAN
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26 (UP)—From the standpoint of new angles, the Pacific coast football season, set down to start tonight and tomorrow, offers more than any season of recent years.

There are these things of "newness" about the campaign which gets its start this week-end with three Pacific Coast conference games, a major intercollegiate and a dozen other interesting combats:

1—New coaches — Sam Barry at U. S. C., which plays Oregon State at Los Angeles, Saturday; Francis Schmidt, formerly of Ohio State, at Idaho, which meets Utah Saturday; Jeff Cravath, formerly of Denver and U. S. C. at University of San Francisco, which meets Santa Clara in San Francisco Sunday.

New Formations

2—New stuff—"The Q. T." formation which Babe Horrell's U.C.L.A. Bruins unveil tonight against Washington State in Los Angeles; Stub Allison's "guards back" shift which California offers Saturday against St. Mary's in Berkeley; Schmidt's own razzle dazzle in the game at Moscow tomorrow; Barry's basketball technique innovations in the Jones power plays at U. S. C.; the dozen or so imitations or revisions of the "T" formation which Coach Shaugnessy introduced so well at Stanford last year.

3—New heroes — Potential stars do over tonight. Among the most publicized of early season Jim Jurkovich of California; Pedesto of Modesto at St. Mary's; Neil Sheridan at U.S.C.; Jimmy Newquist at Oregon; Ernie Case at U.C.L.A.; Billy Beyer of Washington State.

Week-End Schedule

The week-end schedule:

Friday, U. C. L. A.—Washington State at Los Angeles; Pacific Lutheran-Gonzaga at Tacoma; Brigham Young-Montana at Provo; San Jose State-Utah at San Jose; New Mexico-Flagstaff at Albuquerque; Willamette-College of Idaho at Salem; Lewiston-Whitworth at Lewiston.

Saturday: Washington-Minnesota at Seattle; Stanford-Oregon at Palo Alto; California-St. Mary's at Berkeley; U.S.C.-Oregon State at Los Angeles; Idaho-Utah at Moscow; Notre Dame-Arizona at South Bend; Montana State-Wyoming State at Bozeman; Fresno State-Texas at Fresno (night); Nevada-Cal. A Few Facts and Fancies on Brooklyn's "Beautiful Bums"

By HARRY FERGUSON
NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (UP)—Facts, fancies and figures about the team that is going to represent the National league in the world series.

They got the name of Dodgers when street cars first made their appearance in Brooklyn and the natives had to hop nimbly across the pavement to keep from being run down.

They also are known as the "Robins" (after Uncle Wilbert Robinson who was their manager for years), as "The Bums" and, of course, "The Bums." Only a dyed-in-the-wool Brooklyn fan dares to call them "The Bums" in the world series.

Anybody who gets a sarcastic twang in his voice when he calls them "Bums" puts his life in jeopardy.

An unknown philosopher spoke the words of wisdom ever heard about them: "They may win, they may lose—but Lord knows they're never dull." Any game they get into is almost certain to develop something unusual.

In 1920 the Dodgers met the Cleveland Indians in the world series. In the fifth game Elmer Smith of the Indians hit a home run with the bases loaded—first time it ever happened in the world series.

Dodger fans are the most loyal to the players they like and the most terrible on the ones they dislike. They never liked Ivy Olson, Brooklyn's first baseman, but loved him even when he made good plays. Nobody knew why he was unpopular. Olson used to stuff cotton in his ears so he couldn't hear the fans.

South Idaho Cowboys Sign up for 2-Day Rodeo at Kimberly

KIMBERLY, Sept. 26 (Special)—The stock to perform in the rodeo here tonight may be the toughest in the west—but it isn't scaring away the south central Idaho's own amateur cowboys, who do the same kind of riding daily for living wages.

Because the boys who ride here tonight and tomorrow have assured rodeo officials that they'll "take a chance on anything the Hillside company has to offer."

To prove it, 23 southern Idaho boys plunked down their entry fees last night—totaling over $100—and by the deadline time for entries today it is expected that another half dozen will have entered and paid entry fees, which will be added to the $300 in purses offered.

Brone Riders

The bareback bronc riding drew the most entries—11—but the mad scramble got 10; wild cow milking, nine; bronc riding, eight; calf roping, seven; Brahma bull riding, seven.

The cowboys met here last night and voted on judges, with Doc McCarley, Kimberly, and Tom Paris, Piler, secretary manager of the Twin Falls county fair, getting unanimous backing.

Members of the rodeo committee today announced that no professionals would be allowed to compete in the events. A professional performer, who has toured with some of the big R.A. troops, was denied entrance last night.

Utes Take "T" Plays Northward to Moscow

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 26 (UP)—Grid fans in the west looked with apprehension at their favorite team today as squads of the Big Seven and other conferees prepared to go into action for the opening games of the season.

Biggest question mark in the media line was the game at Moscow Saturday where the Idaho Vandals are pitted against the Utah Redskins. The game will show for the first time what Coach Francis Schmidt, formerly of Ohio State, may have up his sleeve. So far he has given no indication of the kind of football he intends to spring on his opponents this year.

Meanwhile, the Utes will also be giving a demonstration of something different in football tactics—at least different to them. In past years, Coach Ike Armstrong based his plays on power and line drive, using the famed wingback formation almost exclusively. He was forced to abandon that type of playing to some extent this season because of a general lack of strength in his line.

He substituted the "T" formation. Armstrong lost a number of veteran lettermen who last season pushed the Utes to the top of the Big Seven conference.

He pitched the Giants to a 3-2 victory over the Phils.

No American league games were played.

Cincinnati Red Rookie Hurls 2nd Shutout

By United Press
Actively in the National league dropped off sharply Friday following clinching of the 1941 pennant by the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Only game scheduled in the senior league sent Pitcher Johnny Vander Meer of the Reds against Ed Brandt of the Pirates. The American league had a full program with a Washington tie with New York double-header topping the bill.

Brooklyn beat the Braves, 6-0, and Pittsburgh clipped the Cards 3-1 to end the tightest National league pennant chase in years Thursday.

Ray Starr, 34-year-old Cincinnati importation from Indianapolis where he led the American association in shutouts, hurled his second straight shutout for Cincinnati, 6-0, over the Cubs. Bob Carpenter

ATTACKERS GAIN GROUND IN SOUTH

By United Press
The Red army defending Shreveport in the final phase of the battle against the Blue forces today was falling back toward the gates of the northern Louisiana city under constant pressure of the attacking Blue forces.

Correspondents with the opposing forces disagreed on full extent of the Blue retreat but agreed on the fact that the Reds were retreating.

Richard C. Hotellet, United Press war correspondent now with the Red forces, reported the Blues had advanced 24 miles but still were 35 miles from Shreveport. Leon Kay, who covered the Balkan campaigns for the United Press and who now is with the attacking Blue forces, said the Blues claimed they had advanced 45 miles and were 65 miles from their objective.

The armies actually had not met in a major engagement, however. The Reds were employing a mobile defense and were falling back with their forces intact after destroying bridges, sowing land mines and engaging in guerrilla warfare with small anti-tank units.

The Blues were progressing cautiously through the "Red" zone, and the high command of the attacking forces expected to meet the main Red army before the gates of Shreveport.

The final battle of the maneuvers was expected to begin late today when the armies would meet in the war games coming either Saturday or Sunday.

GUILTY PLEA IN U. S. FRAUD CASE

In lieu of $2,500 bond, Alan DeGriffiths, 19, Salt Lake City, is in county jail here today awaiting the next term of federal grand jury to charge officers of impersonating an army officer with intent to defraud.

DeGriffiths, who is held Sheriff W. Lowery here, has an army deserter from the Gower air base at Boise, charged before United States Commissioner J. O. Pumpary yesterday afternoon and pleaded guilty to the charge. He was then bound over to the grand jury under bond of $2,500. The complaint against him was signed by an FBI agent.

Prior to this charge he also had been charged with car theft in a complaint signed by Lowery and filed earlier in the week in probate court. He is alleged to have stolen a car from Caldwell Sept. 16 after deserting Sept. 10.

DeGriffiths was arrested shortly after he was injured in a fall from the rim of the Snake river canyon at the corner of Washington street early last Saturday morning. At first he was believed to be Lieut. James P. Wilson, of the Boise air base, but later it was discovered that the man he carried with Wilson's identification cards had been stolen. The FBI alleges he impersonated Wilson as the cashier at a local store and obtained cash for the check.

DeGriffiths was released from the hospital yesterday morning after treatment for a broken jaw, cuts and bruises received in the fall. He landed on a ledge 35 feet down the canyon wall. This saved him from certain death in a 200-foot drop.

The youth's father, who came to Twin Falls after his son's injury, told officers that DeGriffiths is a member of the 42nd material unit at the air base.

House Shortages In Salt Lake for LDS Conference

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 26 (UP)—Thousands of LDS conference delegates will have difficulty next week when they attempt to get rooms, the church bishopric said today.

Defense industries in the Salt Lake area have caused a housing shortage which probably will make it difficult for the conference members to get places to stay.

41 Men Removed From Freighter

BLOCK ISLAND, R. I., Sept. 26 (UP)—Coast guards removed the 41-

man crew from the 3,000-ton freighter Essex today a few hours after she was beached on southeast light shore when battering seas threatened to sink her.

It looks as though she's going to stay there," said coast guards who previously had reported an attempt would be made by salvagers to float the Essex.
