Ann Sheridan In Middle of College Fight

"Grace our madhead instead. Struggle under our wing." Our madhead's mind thinks more than one thing.

"And with us on the first of November, dear daughter, you'll see the rude Harvard's butchered in Sheridan's."

The poem (it is a poem) reached Miss Sheridan on location on the Warner Brothers' ranch, where she was preparing a play, and as she left a former Princeton, Tex., school-marm, came up with a poem of her own. It follows:

LABOR STRIKES HIT SHIP BUILDING, PANZER VEHICLES

WORK IS HALTED ON COMBAT CARS, TANKS FOR ARMY

By United Press
An overall strike at U. S. industry—beginning with the only steel plant to produce tanks—today reached labor trouble sick again in shipbuilding and production of panzer division vehicles and an explosive situation in the vital steel industry.

The shipping and motorized vehicle lines-up, however, played little part in the steel workers' leaving hundreds of thousands of others busy keeping production lines humming around the clock to make the "arsenal of democracy" promise a reality.

In an AFL-CIO jurisdictional dispute, crippling production on 70 per cent of the nation's tank and combat cars, the national steelworkers' union today sent a request to the union factions and the company to resume operations, pending mediation by the board.

To Mediation Board
"The dispute, involving the Spicer Manufacturing (Mach) Steel Products Co., was certified to the mediation board yesterday after government mediation failed to bring the parties to a settlement. The workers' strike for recognition as a separate unit forced 3,000 non-strikers on the committee at the company called for "drastic" government action.

Steel Situation
The potentially dangerous situation in the steel industry resulted from a dues inspection campaign by the U. S. Steel Corp., which is in charge at Gary, Ind., plant of Carnegie-Illinois Steel company—largest steel mill in the world.

Movie Offered to Prevent Damage Over Halloween

GLENN'S FERRY, Oct. 15 (Special)—Members of the Commercial club here decided at their regular meeting last week to entertain the school children at a picture show at the Opera theater, Nov. 4, providing they sign and keep a pledge to refrain from causing any property damage during the Halloween time.

The school children of Indian Cove, Hammett, Pasadena Valley, King Hill and Glenn's Ferry are included in the plan. The plan in the local schools is being the appointing of a captain in each room. Pledges will be given all students who wish to sign. These are then held by the captain and his assistants until after Halloween. If the students have kept their pledges they will be returned and will become a free ticket to the picture show. The other schools are expected to carry out somewhat the same plan.

Last year this plan was carried out with the cooperation of E. H. Dickinson, operator of the picture show, and the damage here was almost nil. For several years the Parent-Teacher association and the male teachers of the high school had entertained the local boys at a party, but the Commercial club took it over last year.

Those supervisors have been trained in this work.

He Objected—But Now He's In the Army!

CHICAGO, Oct. 15 (AP)—Mathew Irmiller, 25, broke a chair into kindling wood, smashed down a door and baited a squad of military and city police at central selective service induction yesterday.

But he's in the army now.

Irmiller, 220-pound, six-foot, truck driver, looked like the makings of a good soldier to medical officers who examined him. But he had other ideas.

"What are you going to do with me?" he demanded when told he was to be drafted.

"You'll find out," an officer promised.

"Not to that," said Irmiller. He picked up an office chair and broke it into bits. When officers looked him in the room, he hurled his bulk against the door and smashed it open to plunge into the arms of city and military police. They carried him to a police station.

LON STINER PUTS OSC GRID TEAM ON TOP

CLASS B SCHOOLS HOLD SPOTLIGHT IN GRIDIRON PLAY

Beaver Mentor Is Chosen as U. S. 'Coach of Week'

By JACK GUENTHER
NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (U.P.)—Far from the crowded crossroads where press agents' drums thrum loud and long, toils away a coach who rarely rises to national fame for the simple reason that every season he must spot his richer rivals everything but brains and sweat. Out of this group, from the far northwest, the United Press selects as football's coach of the week—Lon Stiner, the giant killer of Oregon State.

For the last five years Oregon State squads have been undisputed masters of their back-country hillside. For the last three seasons they have finished no lower than third in one of the roughest leagues in college football—the Pacific coast conference. Yet only twice since he became a head coach eight years ago has his name of Lon Stiner reached the headlines of the nation.

LOGAN, Utah—Coach Dick Romney today stressed precision in running plays against a mock University of Idaho team. Romney told this squad only "heads-up" football would defeat Idaho at Moscow next Saturday.

BALT LAKE CITY—Ike Armstrong, coach of Utah university, today cautioned his team against over-confidence in the Redskins' game with Brigham Young university here next week-end. Armstrong said BYU was able to "upset" Utah.

PROVO—Coach Eddie Kimball said today he would pit his Brigham Young university's strength against University of Utah at Salt Lake City Saturday in a 17-10 victory. The Redskins' unusual offensive formation, Kimball said he would try various offensive combinations.

BERKELEY, Calif.—Coach Stib Allison drilled the California Golden Bears today, emphasizing their play for the Oregon game at Portland Saturday. The first string showed the "best blocking" at practice at the scrimmage against the Ramblers.

STANFORD UNIVERSITY—Pete Knutson today said he would try to definitely out of Saturday's game between Stanford and University of Oregon at Portland Saturday. A three-ship pass plays with Quarterback Frankie Albert on the throwing end.

OHIOAGO, Oct. 15 (U.P.)—Michigan's tremendous line and Northwestern's tremendous backs made the first showdown of the Big Ten football campaign as near a stand-off as the league will see all fall. Victory will go to the team that seizes the break.

This is the first of three games involving Michigan, Northwestern and Minnesota which probably will settle the championship. Although neither Michigan nor Northwestern has been tested fully enough to claim to greatness, it's on the record that Michigan has played three games with only one defensive error and Northwestern never has failed to capitalize on an enemy mistake in its two games.

Favorites of the week are Ohio State over Purdue, Iowa over Wisconsin, Nebraska over Indiana, Illinois over Drake, and Minnesota over Pittsburgh.

Albion Prepares for Homecoming Battle With Weber College

ALBION, Oct. 15 (Special)—Albion Normal Panthers, still alternating on a 15 to 0 defeat by the Boise Junior college Broncos, the first since competition between the two schools began over a period of ten years, turned out in full force Monday night with more pep and drive than have exhibited all season. The Albioners readily admit that they were out-manuevered, out-played and out-scored by a hard-driving, hard tackling side the greater clan, playing before their annual homecoming crowd.

A seriousness has developed in the Albion camp for more reasons than one. This is their annual homecoming game with Weber college, a game that has never been lost in the past seven years. Then too, the game will determine the ability of the boys to come back, which will decide the kind of season they will have. Thus far, the most a Panther team has ever lost is three games in one season over a period of six years. Their record to date shows two wins and two losses. They are conquerors of Eastern Oregon college of education, 15 to 2, and the Cowan Field Flyers 25 to 2, and looked to the College of Idaho 20 to 0 and to the Boiseans last week 18 to 0.

Navy Gets Test Against Tough Cornell Team

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (U.P.)—Maneuvers are over for the navy football team. The midshipmen get a taste of the real thing this week end against Cornell's "mystery" team about which only this is certain: it's no pushover.

While the Navy has been blasting William and Mary, West Virginia and Lafayette off the field, Cornell has moved along with the aid of fanfare that is downright suspicious.

Cornell Snively lost almost all his first and second teams after his first tilt at Ithaca. But the big red spotted by upsetting Syracuse's V-formation and last week edged Harvard. Both were by one touch-down victory and were so touch-downer that those who remember the Ithaca Snively employed in Cornell's hey-day are convinced he has cooked up something special for the kiddies.

Shoshone, Glens Ferry, Wendell and Hagerman Play Top-Flight Battles

Four powerful Class B high school grid teams will meet in games that highlight play in south central Idaho this week-end.

And the winners will be over their stiffest hurdle on the route to a championship for the 1941 season.

Currently, the Shoshone, Wendell and Hagerman grid teams boast the best records, neither having lost a Class B encounter. However, they will get their only week-end tilt that will prove whether they have the right to claim for the championship later in the season.

Shoshone goes to Glens Ferry, favored to knock over the River Pilots. Coach Speed Rush has a club that has been bowing over all Class B opposition—and most Class A—with the greatest ease. The Indians' only defeat came at the hands of the unbeaten Class A Burley Bobcats, after the Lincoln crew had humbled such big-school outfits as Piler and Jerome, plus a pair of B schools, Heyburn and Fairfield.

Ferry Gridders Slip
Coach Kenneth Barrett at Glens Ferry has a little less power this year than he has had in recent seasons, but the veteran mentor can be counted upon to come up with a good sound club, with the possibility of an upset not too much out of the range of realism. So far this year the Pilots have beaten Richfield, (Ted Buhl and lost to the strong Wendell club.

Wendell goes into its game with Hagerman boasting one of the few perfect records in southern Idaho. The Trojans have trimmed Halley, Glenn Ferry and Twin Falls second on successive weeks. Coach Bob Childs has a veteran crew at his beck and call and he's making the most of his material.

Tough Opposition
The Trojan opposition is being furnished by one of the toughest of the smaller Class B schools—year in and year-out—the state. The Hagerman Pirates' season after season has been putting top-notch athletic teams on the field and this year's Pirale crew is no exception. Coach Gene Cooper, the former Albion Normal and University of Utah flash, is doing a good job in his first season as head coach.

The Pirates have turned back such clubs as Don Kimbly and Richfield on three successive weekend and they enter this game with the best of confidence. In the Class A ranks, Jerome and Piler will tempt on the Piler field—gunning for their first victory of the season, while Buhl and Gooding meet on the Senators' gridiron. The Indians have yet to taste victory, although they did get a tie with Glenn Ferry.

Gooding Favored
Gooding will be favored on the strength of a victory over Piler and hard close battles with Burley, Rupert and Twin Falls, which were lost.

Other Class B 11-man games for the week-end and Richfield to Halley and the Gooding "C" squad to Fairfield.

In the lone six-man encounter, Hagerman is slated to tackle King Hill. Spud vacations have forced most of the other schools into idleness. Burley, tied with Rupert for the Big Seven lead, plays an inter-sectional tilt, traveling to St. Anthony to tackle the tough Class B club in the eastern area.

Cage Season Will Honor Dr. Naismith
NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (U.P.)—The golden jubilee of basketball will be celebrated during the next six months by a campaign designed to commemorate the name of Dr. James Naismith, its inventor, with a suitable monument at Springfield, Mass. The celebration begins in Madison Square Garden Nov. 18 with a golden Jubilee tournament that will conclude on Nov. 24.

Fred Apostoli Wins Another Comeback Tilt

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (U.P.)—Fred Apostoli, whose smashing fist won him recognition as world middleweight champion a few years back, climbed another rung on the comeback ladder last night with an impressive six-round technical knockout over Ed Brookman of Washington in a scheduled 10-round bout.

A 10-round non-title affair between Chalky Wright, California and Maryland featherweight champion, and Chicago's Leo Rodak was the feature attraction but Apostoli's hard-fought battle with Brookman had the 4,000 spectators on their feet during most of the six rounds. The Wright-Rodak bout, which went to the champion by decision was slowed by frequent clinching.

In another 10-round, Joe Archibald of Providence, R. I., lacked punch that earned him the featherweight crown but he was too rigorous for Washington's Billy Banks and earned a decision.

20,000 Hunters Set for Opening of Duck Season

BOISE, Ida., Oct. 15 (U.P.)—Twenty thousand Idaho duck hunters, residing in one of the nation's most abundant game bird areas, today awaited the first crack of sunrise Oct. 16 when the buckshot starts to fly for the 60-day open season on migratory waterfowl.

Officially, the season will open Thursday at four different times in the state. Sunrise when shooting may legally start, has been set for 6:11 a. m. PST in the 10 north Idaho counties.

In the Boise-Nampa area will come at 7:01 a. m. MST; in the Twin Falls district at 6:53 a. m. MST, and in counties surrounding Pocatello and Idaho Falls at 6:45 a. m. MST. Thereafter, sunrise daily will come one or two minutes later than the previous hunting hour.

Same day limits

Bag limits hunting regulations this year are little changed from the 1940 season, but sportsmen have purchased guns and ammunition well know the war-time emergency is taking its toll on their favorite pastime.

Sporting goods dealers report reduced but ample supplies of shotguns and ammunition for this year. An unobtainable gun for many years, however, for 1942 when guns may not be available and hunters will be serious about looking up an increasing amount of gunpowder is diverted to war weapons.

Evidence of the impending gun shortage was indicated by an average increase of $5 in the price of better grades of pump guns and automatics. The cost of shot and shotgun shells has risen five cents to 10 cents a box over those of a year ago.

Guns Hard to Get

One gun dealer said he had been unable to get delivery on a number of different standard models this year. Gun shipments which were received were those made before small arms factories completely looked up exclusively for production of weapons to fill military orders.

A survey of local shops shows dealers have a sufficient supply of shells to last through this season, but some express concern that small supply would be available next year.

But if Idaho hunters are facing prospects of a shortage of hunting equipment, there certainly is no lack of birds in prospect.

Game officials said surveys indicate an increase in the migrating duck and goose crop this year, some placing the figure as high as 20 percent greater than last year.

Both Flights Here

A total of 60 million ducks and geese are expected to migrate over the North American continent this year and Idaho hunters—because of the state's unique position—will have a good portion of them. Idaho lies in an area in which two great flyways of migrating ducks and geese are the Pacific and the Central flyways, which originate in the vast Arctic wastelands extending from Baffin bay to western Alaska.

Idaho's Snake river valley is the principal route followed by ducks and geese winging southward across the state on both these two great air routes. From the Snake river they turn west and west to head down the midwestern wheat belt, and down the Pacific coast to winter feeding grounds.

Idaho hunters to share in the extensive crop of ducks which spend the summer nesting period in the marshes of the Bear river of Utah and Idaho.

These flocks of Bear river ducks, which have their principal nesting place in the migratory bird refuge near Brigham City, Utah, are unique among waterfowl of the United States. Although they nest in relatively small areas, they migrate in opposite directions.

Go Two Directions

Some of the Bear river ducks swing into southwestern Idaho and across central Oregon to the Pacific coast and inland valleys of California. Others fly north and east, swirling across Wyoming, then south through Colorado to end their migration along the Gulf coast and in Mexico.

The hunters may take home 10 ducks in a single day but will be allowed to have more than 20 ducks in possession. The daily goose

Social Crisis on Cauliflower Canyon Following Suspensions

By HARRY FERGUSON
NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (U.P.)—The worst social crisis since Gene Tunney's withdrawal from the letter "A" has developed overnight in cauliflower canyon. People are cutting each other dead. At high tea time the atmosphere is buzz-buzz with gossip. Eyebrows are up near the hair line. It's definitely time for the protocol division of the state department.

It started yesterday when Mr. Red O'Connell, welterweight champion of the world, sent an R. S. V. P. to promoter Mike Jacobs, regretting his inability to be a party to the back-busting soiree scheduled for Madison Square Garden on Oct. 31. Mr. O'Connell is miffed because this manager, Monsieur Willie Giltzenberg of the Newark Giltzenbergs, is persona non grata with New York state boxing commission. That means Mr. Giltzenberg would not be able to be in Madison Square Garden to watch the blood and give counsel when the gladiator does battle with a dark-skinned bundle of dynamite named Ray Robinson.

Promoter Jacobs, upon receiving the R. S. V. P., summoned his social secretary and instructed an invitation be dispatched to Mr. Fritzle Zivic of the Pittsburgh Zivics. Mr. Zivic, according to his first footman, will be delighted to trade blows with the dynamite.

All this is preliminary to the reason for the feud between M. Giltzenberg and the boxing commission. The monster is not without his adherents. Two other prominent box vivants of cauliflower alley also are persona non grata with the commission, and for the same reason. They are Ray Arcel, who trained Lou Nova for his fight (if I may use the word) with Joe Louis, and Ray Charles, the aforesaid Nova's manager.

It seems the two Rays counseled Nova to stay away from Louis during the early rounds to box feint and otherwise indulge in pugilistic subterfuge. M. Giltzenberg gave the same advice to Mr. O'Connell just before a recent engagement with Lew Jenkins. The commission, upon hearing the charges, suspended Arcel, Charles and the Monsieur.

The boxing commission is made up of a general (John Phelan), a surgeon (Dr. Charles Brown) and a private (William Brown), but none of these former soldiers believe in the tactics of subterfuge of retreat. It was pointed out to them that all famous generals, from General Harcourt to general delivery, moved backward of

THE SCOREBOARD

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEW YORK Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 (U.P.)—M. visited Manhattan to play New York University. Homer Hill Norton saw the situation and brought them here put the Aggies off in the New Jersey side. He wanted the boys to take the Liberty 5th such en route to the hotel.

The Violets offered cars to take them to Yankee Stadium for a practice session, but Homer Norton saw that the lads from the cow country had a ride on the subway.

Not one of the 30 athletes had ever been in the big town before. The lads and M. led into cars, as if in a group as you would care to see.

Gone are the All-Americans, Fullback, John Kimbrough and Marshall Robnett, the guard, Marion Pugh, the quarterback, is now chugging passes for the New York Giants. Jim Tomlinson, the blocker, was graduated. So were Bill Buchanan, the strapping end; Ernie Starnell and Chis Stout, the tackle; Charley Henke, the all-Southwest conference guard, and Tommy Vaughn, the center.

No one at College Station is conceding Texas, now rated No. 1 in the nation, will have any trouble with the Aggies. They will be disappointed if they fail to turn back the Aggie horns in their big game on Thanksgiving day.

The reason for this is that a lot of young men are demonstrating that they have vastly more than the splinters they gathered while sitting on the bench last fall and the year before. The departed Aggies were 60-minute football players.

This edition of Texas A. and M. has an amazing end in Bill Henderson, a 6-foot 4-inch 205-pound, four-letter man with a 10½-inch hand spread.

Norton tells you he has the counterpart of John Kimbrough in Dennis Andriks, a sophomore.

Marlin Kimbrough smashed straight ahead. They simply had to get out of his way.

Andriks does that and goes under, over and around 'em, too. He passes, Kimbrough didn't.

There are 8,500 boys at College Station and they are the pick of the lot.

Texas and the other southwest teams will have no picnic the day they tackle Texas A. & M.

The Aggies proved that when they routed the Violets by that 49-7 count.

occasion and thereby lived to fight and win another day.

The boxing commission, like the late Marshal Foch, cling to the theory that an offense is the best defense. When in doubt, they say, charge.

At any rate, it's a new day in boxing. From now on a fighter will be afraid to take a backward step. And it will stoch a classic phrase that managers have been yelling at fighters for years—"Go in there, he can't hurt us."

She told the court she went to Placerville, Calif., in May of 1940.

The suit was heard by Judge J. W. Porter here after change of venue from Burley.
