Dancing to music by Glen Bates and his orchestra, with circle two-steps called by Hector Bates to follow the evening, members of the Mars Dancing club entertained the first of a series of dances last evening at the American Legion Memorial hall.

A pre-Armistice dance is the next event on the club calendar, being scheduled for Nov. 6 at the same place. Board of directors and officers will meet soon to plan the event, details to be announced later.

Greeting the guests were officers of the club and their wives, including Ray Sluyter, president, and Mrs. Sluyter; Earl Walker, vice-president, and Mrs. Walker, and Lyle Frazier, secretary-treasurer, and Mrs. Frazier.

COAST GUINS TO RETAIN GRIDIRON PRESTIGE

Santa Clara and Michigan State Tangle in Feature

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17 (U.P.)—The slightly tarnished prestige of Pacific coast football, as compared with the mid-western brand, may get what amounts to a shot in the arm tomorrow when Santa Clara plays Michigan State here.

Santa Clara is king of the far western independents and the only unbeaten major team west of the Rockies. Michigan State is the No. 2 independent team of the middle country, yielding only to mighty Notre Dame.

Santa Clara should win and thereby something toward the lustre of western football, which defeats of Washington by Minnesota and of U. S. C. by Ohio State had dimmed.

While Santa Clara takes on the Michiganians led by Charley Buchanan, two of the Pacific Coast conference's present "big four" will be seeking to improve their first division standings.

Washington, which got back on the track last week after two setbacks, plays U. C. L. A. in Seattle, Oregon, the surprise team so far in the West. California plays California in Portland, Washington and Oregon are favored.

In a third conference game U. S. C. and Washington State, both considered out of titular chance, play in Los Angeles. The outcome is a toss-up.

These four games top the Saturday football offerings. Oregon State, from the conference, plays Idaho, Idaho, and Stanford, the old champion, plays a virtual set-up in Eugene, Ore. Stanford, steadily improving Idaho shows Utah State some of Francis Schmidt's hard-dance at Logan and Montana takes on Gonzaga at Missoula.

"Class B" Competition
In the "Class B" ranks of the west, lots of action is promised in the game between unbeaten Williams and Whittier at Salem tonight; the International at San Jose between San Jose State and Harvard-Simmons tonight and the Nevada-Presno State clash at Reno Saturday.

Other games for the week-end include: Friday: Loyola-Texas Mines, Los Angeles; Greeley-Montana State, Greeley.

Tennessee to Face Tough Alabama Club

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 17 (U.P.)—When the men who do the hiring at Tennessee looked around last night for a successor to Maj. Don Neyland they handed the top coaching assignment to Line Coach John Barnhill and the second to Bill Vols.

As an after thought they asked him if there was anything they could do to ease the tough job ahead.

"Get 'em to relax the rules," said Barnhill. "And return Buftridge, Mitchell, and Rex for another year, and we'll have another unbeaten team."

Vols Got Bumped
They could not change the rules and the rules seldom happen, so Tennessee was bumped off by Duke 19 to 6—the first time since 1937 that the Vols had lost a regular season game.

NEW YORK — Their miserable season finished, the New York Giants were sold by Charles Willie Tiffany to write their weights on slips of paper and hand them to the boss.

With Joe Louis out of action, Frankie Johnson is directing the team of his big and heavyweights against other Black Menceses managed by Lou Nova, Buddy Beer and others.

Ample Abe Simon, Jimmy Johnson's dreadnought, looks Lem Franklin in Cleveland, Oct. 20. They will meet for the $50,000 prize.

Close to 200 heavyweights are expected to compete in a white hope tournament in Chicago, Nov. 2. Frank Barbery, the promoter, seems intent on splashing lead all over the Motor City.

Bruins Tackle Pocatello Saturday in Grid Feature

Coach Hank Powers and his undefeated Twin Falls Bruins today were all set in tip-top condition for their important joust with the Pocatello Indians—at the Gate City on Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

With Lyle Pearson likely to be available for a limited amount of service, and with Don Kottraba back in the line-up, the veteran Bruin mentor will be able to field the strongest club that is available this year at the Twin Falls school.

Pearson had been all and missed the last two Bruin games, but he is reported to be back in condition for the all-important tilt and if he is able to play, the Twin Falls chances are expected to be considerably better. Only a sophomore, he was the early-season savior for the Bruins.

However, with a fine reserve in Red Higgins and other good backfield material in Mel Hubert, Glenn Gibb and Glenn Terry, the Twin Falls club is expected to give the highly-favored Indians a strong run for their money.

Coach Powers won't be able to field a club with such individual brilliant stars as Kelly, the all-state back; and Thompson, the new Pocatello Negro sophomore sensation, but the Bruin backs probably will do better work as a unit.

When it comes to comparing the two lines, the Twin Falls boys will be outgunned for the first time this season. Coach Jimmy O'Brien of the defending champions boasts a line that averages over 190 and 200 pounds which, added to his speedy backs, gives him a well-balanced club.

Well Coached Line
However, when it comes to coaching lineups, Coach Powers will take back seat from no one in the state of Idaho and if the Twin Falls club should happen to lose, the blame will be his own.

Both teams enter the fray with undefeated state records and they are tied at the top of the long list conference standings. Winner of this tilt is nearly assured of going through to a championship.

In the last few years, Pocatello and Twin Falls have each won a title, with the Indians being defending champions. And it appears that the two teams are going to continue monopolization of the biggest of Idaho conferences.

Lem Franklin likely could be the best possible opponent for Joe Louis at that.

After a lapse of several years Buhl and Twin Falls school athletic departments resumed relations yesterday in a "oneak" preview game between the Twin Falls Cubs and the Buhl freshmen squad.

The Cubs won the battle, played on the Buhl field, by a 6-0 score in a game that was evenly matched all the way through.

Following the contest, coaches of the two schools announced that the teams had signed for two more such contests in the 1942 grid season.

The Buhl boys played on even terms with the Cubs for the rest of the game.

Atherton Code Equalizes Pacific Gridiron Power

Small Schools Get Breaks In Material

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Service Sports Editor

Oregon State stopping the Stanford streak and Oregon beating Southern California for the first time since 1915 is something in the way of evidence that Pacific coast football power is equalized as it hasn't been since World war.

Northern schools have an idea that the Atherton code has fared as a leveler and consequently helped that section.

You may recall that the Pacific Coast conference engaged Edward N. Atherton, a former G-man, to first investigate and then police its members.

Commissioner Atherton last fall denied eligibility to a group of athletes at colleges for which they were headed.

It obviously has curbed rushing and pass play, and in the past it was quite plain that more than one California institution offered just a little more than their neighbors in Oregon and Washington.

Washington and Oregon State have been strong contenders since the round robin type of play went into effect on the Pacific slope five years ago.

One-Time Galloping Ghost Takes Bride

Meet Mr. and Mrs. Harold "Red" Grange of Chicago, "Red" immortal "Galloping Ghost" of University of Illinois, wed Margaret Hazelberg of Sagola, Mich., at Crown Point, Ind. She was an airline stewardess. Grange is a football writer for NEA Service clients.

With the exception of Washington, the Pacific northwest schools do not have as many players as the southern schools, but those they do have are just as good.

With an even break in material, Jimmy Phelan will do all right at Washington, and so will Babe Hollister at Washington State, Lon Bliner, at Oregon State and Tex Oliver, the old Army man, at Oregon.

In connection with Oregon State shutting out Stanford, 10-0, it is significant that the Cardinals celebrated their formation in their first acid test on wet field.

Weather was ideal for the Red Indians all last season and until they bumped into the Cardinals at Corvallis in a good, old-fashioned Oregon mist. There is no getting away from the fact that the execution of the T designed by Clark Shaughnessy, with the man-in-motion running all over the place, is based on speed, timing and a dry field.

Oregon State lost 17 lettermen, but 41 returned—11 seniors and 10 juniors. A dozen sophomores were picked as fine performers at the outset, yet not one of them started against Stanford, so you can't really say that the seniors were expected to be soft for anyone.

Oregon State has a sturdy line built on the side in sufficient strength, an alert center, Bob DeHman and Don Durdan smash, airtight and pass. Joe Daly is all fullback. Coach Liner even has a blocking specialist in the sophomore quarterback, Warren Sines.

Penitentiary Passer-Funter

Curtis Meacham, six-foot south-paw passing and kicking star, turned in one of the outstanding performances of this or any other campaign as Oregon blanketed Southern California, 20-0, in the Los Angeles coliseum. Meacham fired three touchdown passes and kept the struggling Trojans in confusion with a remarkable display of power and control punting.

Oregon closed its 1940 season with such a scoring rush that the Wolfpack had to be considered a possible dark-horse entry in the current race on the golden slope. This despite the fact that Coach Oliver lost 10 lettermen, including what he held in his starting backfield.

The trick was that Oliver had a

Entries for Big 'White Hope' Tourney at 56

DETROIT, Oct. 17 (AP)—Frank Barbera's international White Hope heavyweight tournament, which opens tonight at Detroit's Olympia, has shrunk to less than half its intended length.

Revised figures show 58 fighters, instead of the scheduled 128, will vie for the $15,000 in prize money and the "White heavyweight" championship of the world.

The schedule calls for 28 three-round elimination bouts. The survivors will meet each Friday until Barbera's "hope" is found.

Oregon this season fields a veteran team with the exception of the fullback, where Oliver now starts with a young man named Dunlap. The key back spot, which is left half, is amply filled by Tom Roblin, a hard-driving runner, who is backed up by Frank Boyd, a fine passer and punter. Duke Everson and Roy Kell alternate at quarter.

Oregon has a line to match. The Eugene outfit will stir up trouble for its coast rivals and Texas, which it tackles in Austin Dec. 6. The Lemon-Yellow tackles Santa Clara, too, in Portland, Nov. 11.

Oregon certainly can't be charged with picking its spots.

Japanese Army Leader Named to Form New Cabinet

GENERALS OFFER SUPPORT; PAPERS MORE CAUTIOUS

By ROBERT BELLAIRE
TOKYO, Oct. 17 (AP)—Gen. Hideki Tojo, one of the army's "big three," undertook to form a new Japanese cabinet at the imperial command of Emperor Hirohito today and was given immediate support of Gen. Gen Sugiyama, chief of the general staff, and Gen. Oozoo Yamada, inspector general of military education.

Sugiyama and Yamada, with Tojo, form the army's big three. Tojo, 53, is regarded as a conservative nationalist in politics. He accepted the emperor's commission to form a government to succeed that of Premier Fumimaro Konoye, in which he was war minister and which resigned yesterday because of differences in national policy.

Announcement that Sugiyama and Yamada had given their support and encouragement to Tojo meant that the army was solidly behind him in his efforts to form a cabinet but as yet the approval of the navy, also essential, had not been announced.

Follow Same Line
Navy spokesmen, however, for several days have taken the same tightly nationalistic line followed by the top councils of the army. Navy spokesmen also have guided three lines of newspapers which renewed attacks on the United States. Latest editions of the Japan Times and Asahi said that the Japanese navy was a match for that of the United States and urging confidence by the Japanese people.

Tojo was selected at a meeting of elder statesmen, including six former premiers, who were summoned to the emperor's palace to receive the imperial mandate.

Keen Military Mind
Tojo is called Kamisori (razor) because of his keen-edged military mind. He was called to leadership when Konoye, after guiding three cabinets, resigned yesterday under a bombardment of nationalist criticism, led by the army, because of his failure to effect better relations with the United States without sacrificing Japan's ambitions to form a "greater east Asia co-prosperity sphere" extending to the far south seas.

The immediate future of Japanese-American relations was not clear. Japan had made no secret of its dislike for the shipment of American war materials through the sea of Japan to Russia.

Only Wednesday the government had sent a liner, the Tokoku Maru, to Honolulu and the United States to embark Japanese citizens who wanted to return home in view of strained relations. The ship is due at Honolulu Oct. 23 and San Francisco Oct. 30. At least two more liners are to be sent.

Newspapers Cautious
Newspapers were cautious in their comment on the cabinet change but it was emphasized in all Japanese quarters that Prince Konoye had fallen because of his failure to negotiate an agreement with the United States on Japan's terms. It was emphasized also that, before the fall, there was a split among cabinet ministers on the policies to be pursued.

Newspapers generally said that no matter who succeeded Konoye, the country would expect the new premier to pursue the Chinese war to victory and to establish Japan's "greater east Asia co-prosperity sphere."

Last "Practice" Before National Competition

Kimberly, Buhl FFA Teams Head for National Meeting

Joe Hilliges, Lyle Magnuson and Anton Britt, members of the Kimberly FFA meat judging team, accompanied by John H. Darby, FFA instructor, left this afternoon for Kansas City to enter the national judging contests in connection with the American Royal livestock show in that city.

The Kimberly team, under the direction of Earl Hansen, won the Idaho state FFA meat judging contest this summer and the right to compete in the national contest. Bob March, of the Independent Meat company, Twin Falls, has a worked with the boys each week in meat grading identification.

Join Others
The Kimberly equipment from here to Pocatello by train this evening they will join other judging teams from Idaho and Oregon for the trip east by train. The itinerary calls for all day stops at Denver and Omaha. In Denver the group will be shown through the large packing houses and will be guests at a luncheon there. In Omaha they will visit the railroad shops and will also make a trip to the famous Boys Town. They will return to Kimberly on Sunday, Oct. 26. The trip was made possible through the financial assistance of the Kimberly school district, the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce, the Kimberly Lions club and the Kimberly FFA chapter.

The Buhl boys also went to Pocatello by car and joined the other judging teams at the train there. After the convention the Buhl boys will be given tours of Omaha, Denver and Salt Lake City.

While Mr. Jackson is on the trip his classes will be taught by a student teacher from the University of Idaho.

Supplemental Loans
"Supplemental loans will be made available for sound expansion of livestock enterprises or for repairs and improvements necessary to bring livestock numbers up to the amount of feed available on the farm."

Castleford Has Harvest Vacation
CASTLEFORD, Oct. 17 (Special)—School has been dismissed for two weeks of potato harvest and will reconvene Monday, Oct. 27.

Dr. F. F. McAtee and Dr. Frank McAtee Announce the removal of their office to 115 Third Avenue East.

FSA FAMILIES TO AID IN DEFENSE

Two hundred farm families cooperating with farm security in Twin Falls county are "geared to do their part in the department of agriculture's food for defense program and this diversification will enable them to adapt themselves to the food goals being set up by the country," Wiseman said.

Financing for additional community and cooperative services to provide joint ownership and use of farm machinery, purchased sites and other operating goods is available and should help meet prospective shortages next year in farm machinery and dairy breeding stock, the supervisor explained. Cooperative associations may be established to provide processing plants, group purchasing, medical programs and land leasing activities.
