NAZIS CLAIM GREAT SEA VICTORY

Reds Claim Nazi Offensive Halted In North, South

By United Press
The Red army was reported today to have thrown back the German offensive both north and south of Moscow and to have taunted the Nazis by radio for their failure to break through the snow-covered and fiercely-defended approaches to the Soviet capital.

On the south, the important city of Orel was said by the Moscow radio to have been recaptured by Russian counter-attacks. On the north, the communications center of Kalinin was again in Russian hands, according to a British report via Stockholm.

On the west, the Germans admitted they had been repulsed through the Moshalsk sector on the Napoleonic route to Moscow but the Russians said they still were holding strong positions.

Plan Hard Fight
"We are going to meet Moscow and the Red army is going to fight hard for it," a radio broadcast from the Soviet capital, directed at the Germans and heard in London, said. "The weather has changed now, hasn't it? You call it winter. You know your soldiers are freezing. To us, winter is really coming later. We are used to this sort of weather."

Both Germans and Russians reported battles on three main fronts around the Soviet capital, with snow covering great part of the battleground and temperatures lowering.

Although the Germans claimed an important break through on the front 60 miles west of Moscow in the Moshalsk sector, reports broadcast by British radio said that the Red counter-attacks that stopped the enemy at points 30 miles from the capital.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (UP)—The office of production management was understood today to be preparing a powerful public appeal to labor and industry to observe the production drive for national defense and for axis foes can be checked unimpeded during the critical period ahead.

Usually well-informed officials said this will constitute the action which will be taken by the OPM in connection with the strike and other stoppages on defense contracts.

Officials said they doubted the OPM contemplated any action, least of all, to limit. But they added the forthcoming statement, expected next week, will be strongly worded and will urge the congress to enact recent jurisdictional and inter-union strikes which have delayed defense production.

Both labor and industry will be asked to accept a plan to settle disputes until all efforts by the government to conciliate or mediate disputes have been exhausted.

JAPAN ASKS FOR CONTINUANCE OF U.S. PEACE TALKS

By H. O. THOMPSON
WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (UP)—The Japanese government has communicated to the United States a desire to continue peace talks, despite Japan's political upheaval, it was learned today.

The Japanese acted to ease tension in the Pacific after a recent election had coupled the collapse of the Komei cabinet with the possibility of a new thrust by Japanese armed forces. The overtures were received with some skepticism but the make-up of the new Japanese government led observers here to a more optimistic outlook.

Officials declined to comment on the cabinet headed by Lt. Gen. Hiroto, pending clarification of its policies. This country has not closed the door to continuation of the "peace talks" but they would have no difference between the new government but highly nationalistic.

3 Strikes Hamper Steel Production

By United Press
Steel production was hampered today by three sizeable strikes and walkouts threatened at two major aircraft factories.

Of 10 defense strikes affecting 15,500 workers in progress, the three in the steel industry were among the most important.

An 18-day strike of 1,400 United Automobile Workers at the Midland Steel Products company, Cleveland, O., was believed near settlement.

The walkout not only affected defense work at the steel factory, but forced 14,000 automobile workers at Detroit and South Bend, Ind., into idleness because of lack of body frames from the Midland company.

Other Two Strikes
The other two strikes involved 400 out of 2,000 workers at the Great Lakes Steel Corp., Ecorse, Mich., and 1,000 CIO steel workers at the Neville Island and Sharpville plants of the Shenango Furnace company, Pittsburgh.

Aircraft production, already menaced by threat of 27,000 men strike on $70,000,000 worth of airplane orders at Consolidated Aircraft Corporation, San Diego, Calif., was further threatened by a dispute at Bell Aircraft Corporation, Buffalo, N. Y.

At Buffalo, the CIO aircraft unit announced it would take a strike vote Sunday to enforce demands for a 20 cents hourly wage increase.

APL machinists, claiming 23,000 members at Consolidated, have threatened to strike unless wages are increased agreed upon by the company and the union.

The company has refused to pay the increases unless the government guarantee to bear the cost of the strike. The union has charged the company with "stalling," but union officials are outworking the walkout, pending conferences with Sidney Hillman, OPM labor chief.

Sinking Reported For 2 Destroyers And Ten Vessels

By JOE ALEX MORRIS
United Press Foreign News Editor
Germany claimed a victory in the north Atlantic sinking of two destroyers and 10 merchant ships en route from America to Britain today but on the eastern front the Red army was reported pressing back the Nazi encirclement offensive against Moscow.

Both Berlin and Radio Moscow reported fierce battles on three sides of the Soviet capital, with the Russians claiming recapture of Orel on the south and of Kalinin on the north.

German sources claimed an advance in the Moshalsk sector due west of Moscow but the Russian radio taunted the Nazis with their failure to break through and said they never give up the capital.

Wintry weather was reported closing down on the battlefield. A German submarine pack roaming the North Atlantic inside the so-called axis blockade zone—which includes the waters around Iceland controlled by American warships—reported sinking of two destroyers and 10 merchant vessels of a convoy en route from America to Great Britain.

The submarine attack was made over a period of several days, according to the Germans, and included a "mighty battle" against the destroyers as they entered the Atlantic. Although the action took place far from where the U. S. G. Keary was torpedoed, Berlin insisted, however, it knew nothing of the American warships being involved recently in any clashes with U-boats.

The receding of the Keary, which did not sink, aroused a brief period of speculation in Britain of whether the "U-boat battle" would be described as "the greatest" in the history of the war.

The German high command also reported sinking of a British patrol ship off Gibraltar and of a 4,000-ton merchantman off the British coast in renewal of Atlantic warfare, which the Germans are seeking to force America to join in the Soviet Union.

Renewal of the scale attacks in the Atlantic after a period in which the British attacked the Keary, however, protecting convoys, with aid of United States patrols as far as possible, has been the German policy.

U. S. SHIPPING TO ARCHANGEL GAINS AT STEADY RATE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (UP)—Growing Russian need for military supplies on her northern fronts and Japanese-American tension in the Pacific today placed new emphasis on movement of American war supplies to the Soviet Arctic port of Archangel.

Large-scale shipments to the Pacific port of Vladivostok apparently were being delayed—at least temporarily—by the Russian blockade of Archangel over the north Atlantic.

Certain American merchant ships in the Pacific were ordered by the navy yesterday to steam to friendly ports on the west coast pending the collection at San Francisco said he had been instructed by the treasury not to permit any ships to leave the Pacific placed new emphasis on movement of American war supplies to the Soviet Arctic port of Archangel over the north Atlantic.

Authoritative quarters here predicted a sharp diminution in traffic to Vladivostok pending a further Japanese move in a controlling position to halt shipments to Vladivostok.

The navy insisted the action was necessary to avert a possible shortage of ships affected as the ships involved will not continue to ply their trade in the arctic zone, the navy added.

SHIP ARMS FIGHT WILL BE SHORT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (UP)—Senate non-interventionists, privately contending that the bill to authorize the sale of arms to the Axis powers today their floor fight against the house-approved legislation will last only a few days.

They planned to save their heavier ammunition for an expected attempt to repeal the neutrality act's ban on arms to American ships into combat zones.

The ship arming measure was also a key to the majority in the house yesterday amid tension reminiscent of World war days. Army legislators—both supporters and opponents of the bill—urged upon the torpedoing of the American destroyers Kearny and the uncertainty presented by the Japanese cabinet shake-up to emphasize their arguments for and against the legislation.

Senate Democratic Whip Lister Hill of Alabama was confident of passage. He predicted the Kearny incident would be a catalyst for the Janio shakings of American-owned merchant vessels would give proponents a few more votes than they have in other foreign policy victories.

New Class Holds Play-Time Party

At a play-time party members of the young married people's class of the Methodist church entertained in the basement room of the church last Wednesday evening with 25 attending.

In charge of the games were Mrs. Pearl McCann, Mrs. C. H. Nye and Mrs. H. C. Ferguson, while members of the refreshment committee were Mrs. M. Throckmorton and Mrs. Don Miller.

Plans were made for the class to meet each Sunday morning in the main auditorium at 8:45 for study lessons, under the leadership of Rev. McCullister, but the election of officers and more class organization will not be undertaken until in November.

Appointing to arrange the November socials were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Nye, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Dillon and Mr. and Mrs. Mallory Fisher.

At the close of the evening's activities refreshments in the Hallway were served, at small quartet tables.

Magnall will meet Monday evening at the home of Miss Jean Ormsman.

Capable Second Cast Draws Applause in Douglas Drama

By FRANK ELLSWORTH

Before a near-capacity audience, second cast performance of the Twin Falls high school play, "Magnificent Obsession," by Lloyd C. Douglas, was presented last night in the high school auditorium.

Despite the fact there were no changes of scenery, the fast-moving plot and strong characterizations held the interest of the audience throughout the production.

Musical touches adding to the effectiveness of the drama were provided by Judy McBride, who played "Lead Kindly Light" on the violin at the close of three scenes, and by the orchestra.

Special music also was played at intervals by the high school orchestra, directed by Richard R. Smith.

To introduce the play proper and to keep the mind of the audience alert, a prologue was given, with Dawson, and Betty Lou Woods, Marion Dawson.

NAVY ENGAGES IN GIANT HUNT FOR SUBMARINE ATTACKER

DESTINATION OF U. S. DESTROYER STILL UNKNOWN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)—The navy engaged today in a gigantic air and sea hunt for a submarine which torpedoed and damaged the new 1,630-ton destroyer Kearny while it was on patrol 350 miles southwest of Iceland.

While secrecy surrounded operations to avenge the first American warship casualty of the war, the navy issued a further report from the Kearny. The crippled destroyer was en route to an undisclosed port. There was only a terse announcement from the navy yesterday that the ship had been torpedoed and damaged, but apparently without casualties among her 13 officers and 177 men. Extent of the damage and whether the destroyer attempted to sink the boat with her five-inch guns and depth charges, and other details were still a mystery.

Officials were confident, however, that Lieut. Cmdr. A. S. Danz, 42, skipper of the destroyer, would forward all details as quickly as possible. They assumed he had ordered his boat to proceed until he could reach port to prevent a second attack.

Observers believed the navy was doing everything possible to destroy the submarine, presumably German, under President Roosevelt's recent order to "hunt for five-inch axis marauders entering our defensive areas."

Wholesome Fun for Camp Fire Girls

Baby Born as Mother Hears Radio Music

CHICAGO, Oct. 18 (AP)—The strains of Tchaikovsky's concerto in B flat minor, a five-pound, two-ounce boy was delivered by Caesarian section Friday to a 100-pound mother, who hummed a happy accompaniment.

Mrs. Pauline Siegal had only a local anesthetic but the music, which came to her by frequency modulation radio through special ear plugs, so distracted her, she reported afterward, that she felt very little pain.

The operation, performed by Dr. Edward L. Cornell, a prominent Chicago obstetrician, took 14 minutes. During that time "Tales From the Vienna Woods," excerpts from Victor Herbert's "Fountain of Youth," "My Calfy Headed Baby," "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," "I Amour, You're Yours," "I Amour, You're Yours," and other selections flooded into the ears from an FM radio station a few miles away.

Hospital attaches said the baby arrived during the Caesarian section, which was one Mrs. Siegal had chosen. Seeing Mrs. Siegal lips moving, a nurse bent closer to ascertain whether she was in pain. To her surprise she discovered the mother was humming to the music.

Throughout the operation, the father, Allen Siegal, paced the corridor—but not to music.

Camp Fire Girls Foster Physical, Mental Growth

(One in a series outlining Community Chest activities in Twin Falls.)

Physical, mental and spiritual growth for the steadily increasing number of girls joining in the Camp Fire movement finds prominence in the local program, officials pointed out this afternoon.

The Camp Fire Girls form one of the several organizations participating in Twin Falls Community Chest funds. The drive for funds this year gets underway next Tuesday morning with a "pick-a-boo" breakfast at the Park hotel at 7:30 a. m. Harry Bond, local attorney, will be speaker.

14 Groups

The office for Camp Fire Girls is located in the basement of the Wiley drug store and all official business is handled there. The 14 local groups of Camp Fire Girls in Twin Falls, is transacted there.

In the program for the younger girls the three local Blue Bird groups are very active with a membership of 27.

Leadership in both the Camp Fire Girls and the Blue Bird group is voluntary, according to officials, the best obtainable in the community.

Big character is made in leisure hours, then Camp Fire, with its wide field of activity, provides the answer to a real need in Twin Falls, one official said.

Citizenship Training

During the past year the local Camp Fire girls received training in citizenship assisting in the following local and national projects:

Peony sale for the library fund, various other flower sales for other organizations, ticket sale for Lions club eighth benefit dance, aluminum drive, shared by the Boy Scouts of the Mountains, attempt published clean, usable clothing and toys at Christmas for distribution through the Parent-Teacher association, mother-daughter banquet for all Camp Fire Girls and also as a fundraising unit in the Memorial day parade.

The Grand council fire was held here in March with all Camp Fire girls in Twin Falls and other districts in attendance. A total of six girls took Torch Bearer rank, the highest offered in Camp Fire, and one of these was in social leadership.

Camp Highlights

Summer camp always a highlight of a Camp Fire girls life. The camp this last summer was at Nilsdal, on Wood river. Records show that 150 girls attended, at least half of these coming from Twin Falls.

Not a cent of Community Chest money is spent on the camp, officials pointed out. The camp is entirely self-supporting, expenses being met from paid registration of the girls attending. There was a paid director, a trained nurse and a teaching staff of eight in regular attendance.

Supplies for the camp were purchased in Twin Falls.

Another active program for benefit of the young girls is planned for this coming year.

FBI AGENT TALKS TO ROTARY CLUB

BURLEY, Oct. 18 (Special)—J. E. Nitsche, federal bureau of investigation agent at Twin Falls, was the principal speaker at the "Law Enforcement" meeting of the Rotary club Tuesday, with R. W. Peterson, Earl J. Burns and J. S. Hanzel in charge of arrangements.

Burns introduced Mr. Nitsche who spoke on "Activities of the F.B.I. in Connection With Crime Detection and Law Enforcement." He described the national police academy maintained by the F.B.I. at Washington, D. C., where law enforcement officers may obtain 90 day courses equivalent of two and one-half year college courses. He highly recommended this course and said he desired to see some one from Burley take advantage of the opportunity to attend.

Special guests at the meeting were Mayor L. F. Holtz, Sheriff of Police Clarence H. Phillips, Sheriff Bill Mahoney and Deputy Sheriff Bill Williams.

Next Tuesday night the Rotary will entertain teachers from the elementary schools at a dinner at the National hotel, with I. H. Harris and Oscar Weldon in charge of arrangements.

12-16 Per Cent Gain Noted for Retail Business

NEW YORK, Oct. 18 (AP)—A decided let-down in forward purchasing held retail trade to more seasonal proportions this week, Dun and Bradstreet, Inc., reported today.

With "the feverish protective buying which boomed sales at the end of September" virtually disappeared, retail trade dollar volume showed an estimated gain of 12 to 18 per cent over a year ago, the smallest rise in a number of months. That compared with a year-to-year rise of 15 to 20 per cent last week.

Wholesale prices "suffered a moderate set-back, sufficient, to offset the advance of the last two months," the trade authority said in reporting a dip in wholesale ordering.

IDAHO SELECTEE APPEALS TO FDR

BOISE, Oct. 18 (AP)—State selective service headquarters said today Hewitt Rhodes, Jr. of Nez Perce county has filed an appeal for draft reclassification directly to President Roosevelt.

Rhodes sought to escape military service because of dependency but the Nez Perce county draft board turned down his appeal for deferment.

Lieut. Col. Norman B. Adkison, state executive officer for selective service, explained that the selective service act permits direct appeal to the President when the appeal board is divided or when the government appeal agent certifies hardship will follow if the registrant is inducted.

The board unanimously voted in Lewiston against Rhodes' deferment and alleged his "recent marriage" was to avoid military service. R. E. Durham, appeal agent in Moscow, upheld Rhodes' information on his appeal and said he would forward it transmittal to the President.

CLARK HEADS FOR FDR CONFERENCE

BOISE, Oct. 18 (AP)—Gov. Chase A. Clark will leave at noon today for a discussion of Idaho defense and priority problems with President Roosevelt.

The governor has a conference scheduled with the President for Tuesday afternoon.

Priorities for Idaho mines, construction of roads to bring strategic minerals to market, and location of an air corps tactical unit at Rathdrum prairie near Coeur d'Alene will be the chief items on which the governor will seek action while in Washington.

He will also seek support for a proposed dam and location of an air corps tactical unit at Rathdrum prairie near Coeur d'Alene will be the chief items on which the governor will seek action while in Washington.

TRANSIENTS PREFER DEPARTURE TO JAIL

Two transients, arrested by local police and charged with petty larceny, are "on their way" to other parts, records of municipal court showed today.

The two yesterday afternoon, entered pleas of guilty to the petty larceny charges and were given their choice of serving a term in the city jail or leaving the city. They left.

Albert Ramsey was charged with theft of seven pairs of socks from a local department store while Jack Stone, Negro, was charged with theft of a butcher-knife from a cold storage plant.

Fairfield Merchant 'Hero' of Saturday Evening Post Article

Business in a boom town's not good business, as far as Ray Jones, operator of a big store in the little town of Fairfield, is concerned.

The story of Mr. Jones' business operations in Camas county, where he has spent more than 30 years as a merchant, and has had two prosperous terms where he was in business "go right out from under his feet," is told by Jesse Radford Sprague in the Oct. 18 issue of the Saturday Evening Post.

Sprague, veteran writer of business articles and stories for the Post and other nationally known magazines, is the brother of George F. Sprague, Twin Falls.

Data for the article was gathered by Mr. Sprague when he was here on a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Sprague last spring. He made several trips to Fairfield at that time.

Sam began his stockbreeding career as Old Soldier, which later became a "shoot town," and at Hill City. He reached his peak in merchandising sales during the latter part of World War, doing a $104,000 business in 1918. He thought he was a rich man.

NO 'OAKIE' PROBLEM ON COAST—ALL HAVE JOBS

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17 (AP)—That fellow who just got past in a second-hand automobile may be one of those widely-publicized "Oakies" going to work in some branch of California's wartime defense industry.

You all remember the "Oakie" who was the farmer from the dust bowl of Oklahoma, who, a few years ago, piled his family in an old "jalopy" and struggled west along highway 66 because someone told him jobs were plentiful in California.

Someone has misled the "Oakie" and soon he came to generally any one who was down on his luck in southern California. The woods were full of "Oakies." Hollywood even made a movie about their sorry plight.

Now all that is changed. The "Oakie" has found a job. All southern California is gripped in a big war boom, and the "Oakie" is getting his share.

Many of the "Oakies" lack the skill necessary to hold key spots in the aviation industry of southern California. But the unskilled have replaced workers who could qualify for the better-paying defense jobs. Others found work on the farms and ranches. Still others worked on private and government construction projects.

Some of the younger "Oakies" were drafted and eventually there was no "Oakie" problem in southern California.

DYNAMITE ROCKS NORTHERN IDAHO

KEELOGO, Oct. 18 (AP)—A mysterious explosion of 1100 boxes of stored dynamite damaged property near the Sunshine Mining company holdings in north Idaho Friday.

There were no known deaths or injuries in the explosion, which occurred about 3 a. m. at the company's powder magazine six miles east of Keelogo at Sunshine.

Officials reported that windows were broken in buildings more than a half-mile away from the scene. A fireball was witnessed for a time when the explosion damaged high power lines. Union Pacific railroad tracks near where the dynamite was stored were blown up. There was no damage at the mine.

Authorities have begun an investigation.
