GERMANS CLAIM STEADY INROADS ON GREAT DRIVE

Germans Claim Steady Inroads On Great Drive

By Joe Alex Morris
United Press Foreign News Editor

Axis armed forces drove deeper into the eastern front at the cost of heavy casualties today, but late dispatches reported the Red army stiffening before Moscow, Rostov and the Crimea.

The Germans reported they had taken the important Ukraine city of Kharkov after a battle and bombardment that left large sections in flames and there were indirect reports that they had smashed to within 20 miles of both Moscow and Rostov.

Berlin admitted, however, Red army resistance was strong and that most and shab made operations increasingly difficult, while Russian dispatches said that counter-attacks had been made against the dangerous enemy push toward Rostov and had suffered the Moshalsk sector before Moscow after penetration by Nazi tank waves.

No Specific Claims

The Germans made no specific claims regarding the Moscow front, but Soviet newspaper Pravda reported that fresh axis forces (said to include Finns and Rumanians) had been sent to the eastern front and that an unprecedented battle beneath the walls of the Russian capital would "break the backbone of the enemy."

In several days of fighting, the Russians reported they had driven back the enemy's most dangerous breakthrough into the Crimea but acknowledged that enemy attacks continued with great intensity.

There were reports from Japanese sources that the Russians had freed half of their far eastern army of Soviet troops and that they were on the next-to-last leg of their flight when they abruptly after noon they entered a huge bank of fog over the Tshinghai.

Solons Ballot to Remove All Ban On Ship Courses

By John R. Beal

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25 (UP)—The senate foreign relations committee voted 12 to 11 today to amend the house-approved ship arming bill to remove all neutrality act restrictions against movement of U. S. ships into belligerent ports and combat zones.

The committee, on the motion of senate Democratic Leader Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky, struck from the bill sections 2 and 3 relating to ship movements.

Sen. Walter P. George, D., Ga., former chairman of the committee whose vote on the issue was considered doubtful in informal polls taken prior to the committee meeting, supported Barkley's proposal. Sen. Wallace H. White, R., Me., the other doubtful, voted against the motion.

Roosevelt Says Destruction Of Hitler U. S. Aim

Report's Entire Measure

The committee then voted to report the entire measure—including repeal of section 9 which now bans the arming of merchant ships—to the senate, where leaders expect to call it up for debate starting on Monday.

Informed of this senate committee's action, Speaker Sam Rayburn predicted the house would accept the amendment by a margin of about 60 votes.

House Report

As originally approved by the house, the measure only authorized the arming of merchant ships for duration of the undeclared national emergency proclaimed by President Roosevelt on May 27.

The committee took one hour and five minutes to reach its decision on the measure, Sen. Henrik Shipstead, R., Minn., an isolationist, was the first out of the door. He said to reporters:

"It's all in the bag."

White's vote was the first he has cast against any important administration measure since the decision of the administration leaders that the United States should announce the sinking of two more American ships—the Lough, which was sunk by a German U-boat off the coast of West Africa, and the Bold Venture, which was sunk about 900 miles south of Iceland on Oct. 16.

8th and 10th Ships

They were the eighth and 10th U-boat sink since start of the European war.

The vote on reporting the amended bill to the senate was 13 to 10. The lineup was the same in both motions, with exception of White, who voted against repeal sections 2 and 3 but approved reporting of the bill.

Barkley offered the measure to repeal three sections of the existing neutrality act as a substitute for all but the enacting clause of the house bill. He acted on behalf of the committee, Chairman Tom Connally, D., Tex., and George.

The vote:

For the substitute (12)—Connally, D., Tex., George, D., Ga., Wagner, D., N. C., and Connally.

Instructors Challenged to Teach Pupils "Gratitude for America"

GATHERING VOTES ON NEW OFFICERS

BULLETIN

Tabulation of votes this afternoon showed H. D. Fry, Castleford, elected president of the South Central Idaho Education Association and Floyd Bowers, Boise, elected vice-president. Bowers won his office by one vote.

O. A. KELKER

Teachers of the south central Idaho district today were challenged to teach their pupils an "enormous amount of gratitude" for the United States of America.

The challenge to instill love of country into the hearts and minds of the children was made by Dr. J. R. Jewell, dean of the college of education of the University of Oregon. Dr. Jewell spoke this morning and again this afternoon to editors attending the annual convention of the South Central Idaho Education Association.

The college dean's talk this morning followed a business session which saw Twin Falls selected again as site for next year's convention after invitation had been extended by the Chamber of Commerce and which also saw a "stormy" period during which time various changes in the conference, advocated by the teachers' association were discussed, with some being accepted and others turned down.

Report Adopted

Gerald Wallace, vice-principal of the local high school and chairman of the nominations committee, made his annual report which was adopted by the association. Those nominated for the post of vice-president were Floyd Bowers, Buhl; J. A. Doering, Hartsell; and Ed Foster, Hailey. Teachers deposited their votes in ballot boxes before they left the high school building this noon, but voting was not scheduled to start until after the noon recess, it was doubtful if the outcome would be known until afternoon.

Helding officers are H. Maine Sholin, Jerome, president, and Carl Albertson, Kimberly, vice-president. The secretary-treasurer is appointed by the association.

Officers Corner Trio of Outlaws In Hailey Hills

With three escaped Pocatello prisoners cornered in a canyon not far from Hailey, seven Twin Falls county, municipal and state officers rushed to Blaine county this afternoon to assist in the hunt for the armed outlaws.

The contingent of officers, all fully armed, headed for the Hailey area at request of Sheriff Ward Beck, Blaine county, who telephoned that Edgar LeRoy Pruett, Bliss; W. L. Rector, Twin Falls, and L. R. Walling, Boise, were cornered in a canyon after discovery of their stolen auto.

The intensive man hunt climaxed a four-day series of holdups, robberies and burglaries which officers said the escaped trio committed at Buhl, Bliss, Wendell and Fairfield.

These Rush North

Officers who left this afternoon to help capture the "criminal" bandits included Sheriff Warren W. Lowery, Police Chief Howard Gillette, State Officer V. K. Herron, Deputy Sheriff Virgil R. Borden, City Patrolmen Pete Rountree and A. E. Perkins and Constable El O. Govea, Kimberly.

Sheriff Beck's telephone call from Blaine county gave few details but said an armed posse was being instituted after discovery of the escapees' stolen Blainock county auto.

The car which has been identified as belonging to the robbers was recovered in south Idaho in swift cooperation following escape of the trio.

Pheasant Hunters Get Bag Limits First Day

That heavy boom around village and countryside this morning was no pipe-dream. Yet the country wasn't being invaded.

It was canvassed of south central Idaho for the opening of this year's 30-day pheasant season.

At the crack of dawn, thousands of southern Idaho hunters took to the fields this morning. And early reports coming in showed that almost every hunter would return with a full bag before night fall.

In fact, here in the Twin Falls sector, hunters reported in as early as 7:30 a. m. after getting their bag limit.

A rainfall that covered most of the southern Idaho region last night, had stopped before morning and the sun came out bright along with thousands and thousands of pheasants.

Stubble fields, best fields, corn fields—and even the sagebrush—were reported to be literally "crawling" with the birds as the state game department issued a bulletin today, stating that the "best hunting season in many, many years" was the prospect for sportsmen of this area.

COURT REDUCES SLAYING CHARGE

BOISE, Oct. 25 (UP)—The Idaho supreme court today ordered the first degree murder conviction of Ore. W. Simpson, Grant county, reduced to manslaughter.

The order was based on a three-to-two decision of the supreme court, in a majority opinion written by Justice William M. Morgan, the court held evidence was insufficient for a murder conviction but would support conviction for manslaughter. Simpson was convicted in May, 1939, for the slaying of Roger E. Allen after a beer-drinking bout.

RUSSIANS ADMIT GERMAN ADVANCE ON SINGLE SECTOR

SOVIETS CLAIM NAZIS REPULSED ON ALL OTHERS

By HENRY SHAPIRO KUIBYSHEV, Russia, Oct. 25 (AP)—Special dispatches reported today the Russians had repulsed the German advance in one sector of the southern front under a terrific German offensive. It said the Germans were known back heavily in all other sectors.

The newspaper Pravda admitted the situation was alarming on the southern front. Dispatches admitted the Germans were pouring tens of thousands of reserves into the line. The Russians are strengthening all their positions, it was said, as the German onslaughts become steadily heavier.

A Russian division was credited with killing 1,500 Germans and wiping out an Italian cavalry squadron in the Stalino area between Rostov and Kharkov. Heavy fighting was reported in the Stalino-Makeyevsk sector 100 miles northwest of Rostov, and it was said both sides were suffering heavy casualties.

It was indicated the Germans, with aid of Rumanian, Hungarian and Italian troops, were seeking to break through the entire Donets industrial basin and Kharkov as well as Rostov-on-Don was threatened.

FIR PLEADS FOR NO WALKOUT BY U. S. COAL MINERS

FEARS SHORTAGE OF FUEL WOULD HAMPER DEFENSE

By United Press

Only favorable reaction to a direct appeal from President Roosevelt for continued production of coal specifically earmarked for the steel industry to prevent a walkout of 53,000 miners in four states at midnight tonight.

The President's request for continuation of work in the "captive" coal pits controlled by steel companies highlighted multiple developments in other defense labor disputes involving aircraft, shipbuilding, gun mounts and tank parts and the economic far-flung building construction program.

Ranking as most important of secondary developments was a government-obtained settlement of a long and strife-marked strike of CIO United Automobile Workers at Dearborn, N. J., plant of Air Associates, Inc., working on $5,000,000 in airplane parts orders.

Asks Continued Production

President's intervention in the scheduled walkout of coal miners, affiliated with the United Mine Workers of America (U. M. W.), came in the form of a request to the U. M. W. President John L. Lewis and U. M. W. Executive Board chairman W. C. Clegg, to "arrange in the name of the U. M. W. for continued production of coal."

Taylor was asked to act for the coal operators because of his former work with the U. M. W. in 1935, which was the year that the U. M. W. won most of the mines involved. Lewis' union has scheduled the walkout for midnight tonight.

Taylor was asked to grant a puffed shop in the captive pits of West Virginia, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and Alabama.

A month-long trust was obtained in the dispute by the defense mediation board but Lewis filed a lawsuit to nullify its expiration last Wednesday.

Fears Shortage

Mr. Roosevelt's request, calling for continued production and offering them for direct negotiation or arbitration of the closed shop demand, was interpreted as a move to prevent those who are coal supply, already depleted because of the month-long shutdown last spring, from "pulling out" on the presidential request.

Undersecretary of War Robert Patterson and OPM Director General William S. Knudsen announced the settlement of the 25-day-old air associates strike—agreement by the company's board of directors to accept the union's recommendations pending negotiation conferences Nov. 8.

At Seattle, Wash., the AFL metal trades union pressed to import 500 welders from other western states to replace 1,800 men whose four-day-old strike in California cost 100,000 worth of government orders at five Puget sound shipbuilding yards.

Walkout Spread

The striking workers, seeking a separate union within the AFL, called action of draft boards in re-classifying them as immediately available for service would be more than shorten the strike. The walkout already has spread to a shipyard at Florence, Ala. Sixty work on $3,000,000 worth of gun mounts and tank parts was crippled by a new walkout of 800 AFL members at the Buckeye Ordnance Plant, a plant company, Findlay, O., to protest alleged violation of a union shop agreement.

At Portland, Ore., the CIO industrial union of marine and shipbuilding workers threatened to strike the Oregon Shipbuilding corporation which is building 43 liberty-type vessels for the U. S. maritime commission. The union set no time limit for carrying out its threat and informed the office of production management. It would call the men from their jobs unless "fair labor practices" were corrected immediately.

MAN, 27, HURT AS AUTO HITS TRAIN

Raymond N. Robinson, 27, Eden, injured when he drove his car into the side of a moving freight train about 12:40 a. m. at a point a mile west of Kimberly yesterday, in "good" condition at St. Valentine's hospital at Wendell.

Robinson was said that Robinson, who suffered a broken knee cap, will undergo an operation Monday for treatment of the fractured bone.

As reconstructed by investigating state police, Robinson failed to see the train moving in front of him and drove directly into one of the cars. The auto rebounded and ended up in the ditch. Members of the train crew did not hear of the accident until the slightly damaged freight car was noticed at Pocatello.

Robinson apparently was unable to move for some time but finally made his way to the farm home of Floyd S. Jones, about three miles about 1:30 a. m. He spent the rest of the night in the office of a private physician and was taken then to the Wendell hospital.

5018 TONS ON HOES

Aluminum Shortage Imperils Russian Efforts in Conflict

By THOMAS M. JOHNSON (NEA Service Military Writer)

WASHINGTON—Win, lose or draw, "Mother Russia" has astonished the world—all-minded—Germany most of all—by hitching a brood of fury to lighting eagles: The Red air force. Success or failure for the Soviet, with all its implications for Britain and this country will depend on the Russians' ability to "keep on flying."

This is the most important simple truth behind the welter of conflicting communiques and muddled maps from the battle front and information just received here indicates that the Nazis are now making a prodigious effort to clip Russia's wings, to ground the Red force. If they succeed, Russia is beaten.

Need Air Superiority

Important though the present Nazi effort on the ground may be, this information indicates that particular concern on the battlements will only speed the final phase of the battle of Russia. In that phase, the battle of the air, the final decision will rest on the battle of the air.

The crushing superior air power of the German Luftwaffe, which has set the pace of virtually every country in Europe save Britain. This war has shown that against such crushing air superiority no army, no nation, can survive. The Russians have survived thus far because the astonishing Red air force has done almost as good a job in crossing up the Luftwaffe as has Britain's R.A.F.

Fought Like

Aided by Russia's poor roads and marauding guerrillas, Russia's eagles have made the Nazi strategy of double duty—as transports for men and supplies; and as artillery. The Red air force pulled out of the hat new types of planes, especially fighters that flew around the Nazis' vaunted Messerschmitts like Britain's Spitfires and Hurricanes have done.

And the men at their controls were spitfires in action. They were well-trained aviators who fought so bravely that even the famed Nazi pilots, fabergasted, named them as "maniacs." The Reds might keep on fabricating them but for one thing—aluminum.

You can't wage fighting planes without aluminum. But the Russians have never produced enough of it. What they have come mostly from the Dnieper and Leningrad areas now captured or encircled in Russia. The Soviet capital is also itself—so the dangerously high proportion of sixty per cent of the total. Hitler need only take Moscow or Leningrad to cause havoc.

Transport planes and pilots gone to war, too. The planes fly ammunition to guerrillas behind the Nazi lines. The peacetime Moscow-Berlin pilots still fly Berlinward—now carrying with bombs.

Stronger in Air

But Russian aviation is stronger in the air than in factories. It takes twice the number of workers to do any given production job in Russia as it takes in Germany. And then the job is cruder. Though skilled workers have been reinforced by conscripted boys, and though recent American observers are pleasantly surprised at factory conditions, effort was recently estimated at less than a thousand planes a month—only half output for all our days.

Which helps explain what an aluminum shortage would mean to Russia, not for today's battle alone but for the whole war. If Russia loses aluminum and her planes are grounded, then Germany will race east to gain oil.

Which helps explain what today's Nazi war machine's only crucial shortage.

Auto Overturns, Rancher Unhurt

SHOENHORN, Oct. 25 (Special)—Most Johnson, Richfield farmer, escaped without injury when his automobile belonging to his father, O. A. Johnson, Richfield, in which he was returning to Shoshone from Twin Falls Wednesday evening went over a bank, leaving the road and turning over, came to rest bottom side up in the barrow pit.

The accident occurred a short distance south of the Jerome-Lincoln county boundary line. It appeared that the driver momentarily lost control of the car while lighting a cigarette. Mr. Johnson said recovery from a broken arm suffered in a recent automobile accident.

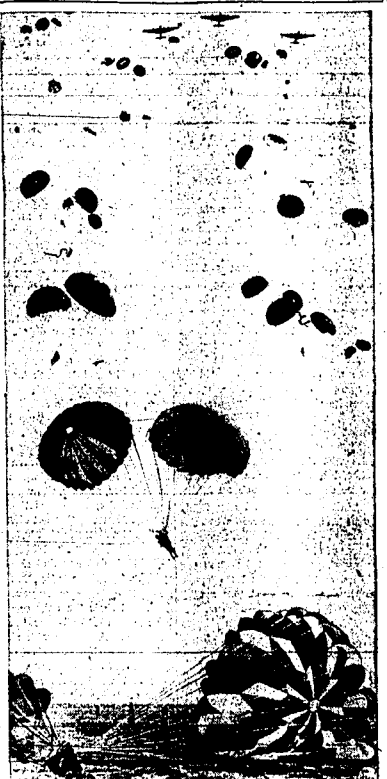

The accident resulted in extensive damage to the auto.

Closed cars of the Lincoln line have no separate bolins and frames. Instead, body, floor and sides are welded into a single unit with the heavy steel tube type members.—Adv.

Western Brand Gladhand Given Faculty Guests

Hospitality, western style, was extended to visiting teachers last evening at the Ellis hall, when the Junior Chamber of Commerce and other cooperating men's organizations staged a Homecoming Western Dance which reached "gigantic" proportions.

The ballroom was "jam-packed" for the occasion, the leading extra-curricular social event of the two-day annual fall conference of the South Central Idaho Education Association.

Walter Grate, chairman of the Jaycee committee, received profuse congratulations for the smoothness with which the dance was carried on, and the dude ranch setting was authentically western.

Will Wright's orchestra played the music for dancing; western play dancers were distributed to the women guests, and Twin Falls men left their wives at home for the evening, acting as dancing partners for the feminine guests, whose membership in the I. E. A. outnumbered the men's.

ANN ARBOR—Oldest Michigan man can't remember when the Wolverines were more determined to win than they were in sharpening up for this fall's edition with Minnesota.

It was a story of a strange football paradox and four men, Herbert Orin Crisler and his assistants, Earl Marlineau, Clarence Mann and Benjie Oosterbaan, the boys who caught Benny Friedman's passes.

Fritz Crisler coached Minnesota to 1930-31, and lost to Michigan by one touchdown both years.

Marlineau played in the Minnesota backfield in '21-22, and coached the Copfers, '28-30, '35-37 and '40.

Mann was a great lineman with the Glants of the North in '23-30-31, and Michigan trimmed Minnesota all three seasons.

Oosterbaan was an all-American end at Ann Arbor in '25-26-27. In those years, the Wolverines whipped the Norsemen, 20-0, 26-0, 7-0, and 10-0, respectively.

But with the men all on one staff, they just couldn't seem to win the game they wanted most, the one with Minnesota.

The Glants were bidding for their eighth straight victory. They prevailed, 7-8, in '38 and again last season.

That was one of the principal reasons why the 87,000 seats of Michigan stadium were sold weeks in advance. On Sept. 15, five days after
