Roosevelt Calls Solons to Study Labor Situation

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (UP)—President Roosevelt today invited a large group of congressional leaders to meet with him at the White House tonight to discuss labor legislation.

This development indicated the administration had decided finally to proceed with bills to curb strikers regardless of the fact the latest captive mine strike had been ended with an arbitration agreement.

Chairman Robert D. Thomas, D., Utah, of the senate labor committee meantime introduced a bill authorizing U. S. circuit courts of appeal to grant injunctions prohibiting strikes in defense industries.

The measure, Thomas told reporters, is designed as a substitute for a bill sponsored by Chairman Tom Connally, D., Tex., of the foreign relations committee which has already been approved by the war and navy departments.

Thomas bill would permit the courts, upon application filed on direction of the President, to enjoin any changes in the open or closed shop status of a plant, the beginning of a strike or slowdown by employees, or the use of the "lock-out" policy by employers.

The White House said the President had invited to house members headed by Speaker Sam Rayburn and Democratic Leader John W. McCormack, together with Secretary of Labor Perkins and Assistant Secretary Daniel W. Tracy to meet him.

Also invited were Chairman Mary Norton, D., N. J., of the house labor committee; Reps. Robert Ransmeyer, D., Cal.; E. C. Cox, D., Cal.; Carl Vinson, D., Ga.; Howard W. Smith, D., Va.; Joseph G. Cannon, D., Ill.; Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin, and Rep. Richard J. Welch, R., Calif., ranking minority member of the labor committee.

Closed Session
Mrs. Norton's committee, preparing a bill for house consideration, held another closed session at which Chairman and Speaker discussed the labor affairs committee's bill, Rep. Howard W. Smith, D., Va., testified on the labor bills which they have introduced.

House unrest over the labor situation flared again as the chamber started consideration of the administration's price control bill.

Rep. Cox said the captive mine strike had been ended by Lewis in control. John L. Lewis is head of the mine workers' union.

And when you have an arbitration board set up with Lewis and Stearnman the public has no representation at all," Cox declared.

Rep. Arthur Hays Sulzberger, D., N. Y., said his remarks were not "contributing to a peaceful settlement of the labor question."

Cox replied.

The census bureau reported department stores led the upswing, as noted by 301 cooperating retailers who had total sales of $2,237,880.

Department stores showed a 32 per cent gain for the state, followed by the lumber-building-hardware group with 25 per cent and apparel stores with 25 per cent climb.

U. S. TO PROTECT DUTCH AREAS IN SOUTH AMERICA

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (UP)—The White House announced today a contingent "of the U. S. army" has been sent to Dutch Guiana on the north-east coast of South America "to cooperate with The Netherlands forces in assuring the protection of the bauxite mines in that territory."

A White House statement said the force was sent to Surinam, the Dutch name for Dutch Guiana, with the consent and cooperation of The Netherlands government and Brazil, which borders it on the south.

Danger Reported
"This contingent will, of course, be withdrawn as soon as the present danger to the mines is removed and at the latest at the conclusion of hostilities," the White House announcement said.

The statement did not specify nature of the present danger to the mines. It said The Netherlands government would in normal circumstances draw on the armed forces of The Netherlands East Indies to strengthen the defenses of Surinam.

Sell to U. S.
"In view, however, of the present situation in the southwestern Pacific, it is thought inadvisable to follow that course," the statement said.

White House Secretary Stephen Early, in releasing the information, said the contingent would be sent to Surinam "upward of 50 per cent of the requirements of the United States aluminum industry" which is vital to the defense of the United States and all nations relating aggression.

Old Man Winter
Old Man Winter blew into Twin Falls and the Magic Valley over the weekend whistles and all.

The thermometer, which had been hovering around the 18-20 mark for the week, plunged to a measly nine degrees below zero on Sunday morning—the recorded low for the current winter months.

In fact, it was the lowest temperature recorded since 1938, when the thermometer registered a record-shattering five above on Nov. 23.

However, the cold here was exceptional for this part of the country, it was much colder in many other climes.

While the thermometer was registering nine above here Sunday a.m., it was touching 17 below at Butte, Mont., to the north and even lower at Elly, Nev., to the immediate south, proving again that the Magic Valley is in the "warm belt."

Other cold spots on Sunday were at Pocatello, where the mercury hit one below and at West Yellowstone, with below.

And while the temperature in Twin Falls got to only 28 above Sunday afternoon, only the cities along the coast could claim much better for the western half of the United States.

The prospects for better weather in the Magic Valley were better today—when the mercury was only 14 above—and a forecast of "fair tonight and Tuesday—no quite so cold."

NAZI SPEARHEAD AIMS AT MOSCOW

KUIBYSHEV, Russia, Nov. 24 (UP)—"German spearhead" aims at Moscow, a high Nazi official said today in an offensive that named four main wedge units into the army lines and created a grave threat to the north flank of the capital's defense area.

The greatest German pressure appeared to be in the Klin sector, midway between Moscow and the capital, and only 81 miles north of the capital, where the enemy spearheads smashed eastward to the railroad line between Kalinin and the capital.

(Berlin claimed that the Germans were only 31 miles from Moscow in this area.)

Non-Stop Fight Flares to Gain Libyan Control

CAIRO, Nov. 24 (UP)—A "gigantic, non-stop tank battle" that may decide control of Libya is raging in the desert southwest of Tobruk, British military spokesmen said today, with casualties mounting on both sides and British infantry pushing westward to join in the conflict.

"The jerries have everything at stake and are fighting like hell," the spokesman said following announcement that the British had taken Gambut, half way between Bardia and Tobruk.

Heavy hand-to-hand fighting was reported in the Gambut coastal sector.

The tank battle is continuing with "unabated intensity" at 48 hours on a fluid front in the Sidi Barrani sector, southwest of Tobruk, from which British Imperials are fighting to break through to the main invading force.

Tank Fatalities Heavy
"Each side is becoming poorer in the number of tanks available, and infantry has gone into the picture more and more," the spokesman said. "This continuous effort is costing both British and German men and material and the outcome may depend on whether one side or the other can gain even momentary superiority."

British infantry, he said, is "doing hell for leather" in the Libyan desert, after using heavy tanks and Tommy guns in attacks at close quarters.

"Hordes of tanks and weapons fighting men" are pushing into the "decisive encounter" in the Sidi Barrani sector, the spokesman said. 21 miles of desert with the capture of Sidi Barrani, the British and Polish and Czech units that joined the British at Tobruk.

At general headquarters the lines, the British spokesman said, are "being pushed forward" in the center of the front, where the British are making a "big push" to break through to the main invading force.

May Determine Fate
The battle, it was indicated, may determine the fate of the British offensive in Libya and the fate of the axis armies in Africa.

It has been in progress for more than three weeks, the British commander reported, and is being waged "with utmost resolution by both sides."

The British, it was reported, are attempting to drive a tank barrier across a two-mile wide gap which separates their emerging corridor in Tobruk and the main armored striking force—a gap through which Gen. Erwin Rommel is believed to be moving his forces westward for a new stand on the fortified mountain range in the Derna region.

Already the six day battle was reported to have cost the Italian-German Africa corps about 15,000 men. Erwin Rommel is believed to be estimated to be half of the armored machines available to Rommel.

In the air, the axis had lost 78 machines at last count while at sea the royal air force and eastern Mediterranean fleet, guarding the sea path against reinforcements from Europe, reported the torpedoing of at least two cruisers and one destroyer.

Of these cruisers and the destroyer were believed sunk. In addition, two transports were torpedoed and believed sunk and another ship or ships were hit by bombs.

Despite the narrow corridor between the imperial forces at Tobruk and the British force which has driven up from Benghazi, the cost of large groups of Rommel's forces appeared impossible.

Four axis forces already have been reported by the troops of Britain's eighth army.

The main battle of the campaign was raging between Benghazi and Tobruk. (Continued on Page 2, Column 5)

BOYS, 14, BLAMED IN $30 BREAK-IN Action in juvenile court was being prepared today by Prosecutor Everett M. Sweeley after Twin Falls police investigation had cleared the boys of burglary of the 400 cleaners.

Two 14-year-old Twin Falls schoolboys had been apprehended by police and turned over to Probation Officer John A. Brown. Further probe was underway this afternoon in connection with other schoolboys who are understood to have "high-jacked" the first two youths into sharing the loot.

Sweeley indicated definite action, including decision as to nature of the juvenile complaint, will await outcome of the pending investigation.

The burglary of the cleaning establishment, located in the former bus depot, occurred last Wednesday night, according to city police officers. One youth stood guard outside while the other broke into the shop and took $30 plus "odd change" from the cash register.

He indicated the three other youths did their "high-jacking" by agreeing to reveal who committed the burglary.

All the youths involved are 14 or 15 years old.

THREAT ENDS ON COMMUNICATIONS

Union spokesmen said the strike "frustrated from rank and file membership belief the company was 'stalling'."

Resumption of negotiations was expected today. The union reported that management and labor resumed wage negotiations.

President Roosevelt's report carried a collapse in the negotiations Saturday and obtained a promise that conference would continue.

Union spokesmen said the management representatives insisted on sticking to the wage proposals of President Roosevelt's fact-finding board. The brotherhoods have rejected the board's recommendations.

A prolonged jurisdictional dispute between AFL machinists and holding engineers resulted today in a general strike order for approximately 8,000 machinists in the St. Louis metropolitan area.

Filer Sophomore, 16, Dies In Auto Crash Near Buhl

BUHL, Nov. 24 (Special)—Death of a 16-year-old Filer high school sophomore in an auto crash near here Saturday night brought the Magie Valley traffic toll to 39 today.

The victim in the west end crash was James Hyram Comegys, who was killed instantly when he was hurled from a 1930 coupe driven by Ernest Beardslee, route one, Filer.

Beardslee was unhurt. Thelord owner of the machine, Harold House, Filer, suffered two fractured bones in his right arm and was given emergency treatment by a Buhl physician.

Returning From Dance
Rouse and Beardslee are also 16 years old. They and young Comegys were returning from a Castleford dance when the auto failed to make the turn on the oiled road one-eighth mile west of Buhl. Finding he could not round the curve, Beardslee tried to keep the machine going straight ahead onto the gravel road which continues north from the oiled highway.

The car, however, smashed into roadside boulders and then crashed into a cement culvert.

Both Comegys and House were hurled out of the car through the door on the right-hand side.

Mechanical Failure
Investigating officers said the driver declared "something went wrong" with the steering mechanism of the old auto. They indicated speed was not excessive, since the car was apparently traveling about 30 to 40 miles per hour.

The fatal accident occurred about 9 p. m. Saturday.

The crash victim received his elementary education in the Filer grade schools. He was born Oct. 18, 1925.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. L. J. Laughlin, Filer; his father, William Levi Comegys, Clarkston, Wash.; his step-father, L. J. Laughlin, Filer; two brothers, Irvin and William Comegys, Filer; a sister, Barbara Lot Comegys, Filer; and two grandparents, C. G. Williams, Filer, route two, and Hyman Comegys, Lewiston.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday, Nov. 26, at 3:30 p. m. at the Filer Methodist church, Rev. E. L. White officiating. Interment will be in the Filer Odd Fellows cemetery, under the direction of the Albertson funeral home.

brut where the reinforced defenders of Tobruk were driving south against fierce opposition and the main British armored force was pounding north. The two British lines were so close they held the corner constantly under artillery fire at easy range.

However, because of the mobility of desert fighting the British admitted there was no certainty that the escape of the German armored units could be prevented. The British were striving desperately to force a decision in this battle in the belief that if the main tank force can be knocked out, the fighting of the desert campaign will be over.

EXPLOSION ROCKS U. S. CONSULATE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—The state department announced today the United States consulate at Saigon, French Indo-China, was wrecked by a bomb last night. No one was injured.

Members of the staff of the consulate are Sidney H. Browne, consul, and Kingsley W. Hamilton, vice-consul, and one American clerk, Miss Carolyn G. Jacobs. State department records indicated Brown's home is in Short Hills, N. J.; Hamilton's in Worcester, O.; and Miss Jacobs at Richmond, Mo.

The department said it had no further information. Details were eagerly awaited in view of possibility the incident might affect conversations between Japanese envoys and Secretary of State Cordell Hull. These talks have been deemed a final and decisive effort at solving the problems which threaten the peace between the two countries.

Japan is strongly entrenched in Saigon and reportedly has made demands on France for additional concessions in Indo-China. It was Japan's march into Indo-China which caused the United States to freeze Japanese funds in this country and impose an almost complete embargo on trade with that country.

COAL MINERS RETURN TO JOBS TO END WEEK-LONG STRIKE

ACTION AVERTS FULL SHUT-DOWN OF STEEL MILLS

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 24 (AP)—Coal miners returned to work today, ending a week-long strike which had threatened steel production.

Members of the United Mine Workers (UMW) approved with only minor criticism the action of President John L. Lewis in submitting the union shop demand to arbitration. More than 5,000 miners to the captive mines owned by steel companies, had struck for a union shop, and were joined by approximately 100,000 workers in commercial mines who walked out in sympathy.

The miners' return forestalled wide-spread shut-downs of steel mills because of coal shortages. Several plants had curtailed operations.

Loss to Miners

Neutral observers familiar with the industry estimated commercial miners who struck lost $2,747,000 in wages and the captive miners, $1,510,000. In addition, the commercial miners, under terms of their contract, face an aggregate union fine of $500,000 for calling an unauthorized strike. The fine is levied on the basis of $1 a man per day. Whether the fine will be imposed is problematical.

Some of the miners returned to work on midnight shifts last night after attending union meetings at which the strike settlement was approved.

Response Surprising

"Frankly, the response of the miners to the settlement was better than I expected," John P. Bussarelli, vice-president of UMW district five, said. "I've checked every local in my district and the agreement was 100 per cent. Every mine in district five will produce coal."

In Payette county, pickets who had faced gun-fire from non-strikers, complained "the settlement didn't win us anything."

STEEL FACTORY IS CLOSED AGAIN

PITTSBURGH, Calif., Nov. 24 (AP)—The Columbia Steel company, biggest steel plant in the west, was again closed today by a strike of 3,200 members of the steel workers organizing committee (CWO) after a 24-hour truce.

The plant holds $5,000,000 in defense contracts for San Francisco bay shipyards working on a half billion dollars worth of vessels for the navy, maritime commission and the British government.

Union members, meeting at the Pittsburgh ball park, rejected a company wage proposal and voted unanimously to resume the strike. Pickets returned to their posts at 2 p. m. yesterday and the company shut down the plant.

The next move, said the union, is up to the company. The company said it was up to the union to break the deadlock. The dispute is over demands for wage increases for 12 classifications of 218 workers in the foundry. They asked increases from 50 cents an hour to $1.05 and $1.15 cents an hour, equal to the scale in those categories paid in the San Francisco area. The company's counter-proposal was not disclosed.

U. S., German Tanks Drive In Brazil Parade Together

Brasilian anti-aircraft guns, pictured during recent military display in Rio. Anti-aircraft guns were among the few items of $50,000,000 worth of war material, ordered from Germany, that filtered, mysteriously, through the British blockade.

By FRED S. PETERSON
President of NEA Service
RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil—At this center of international hodge-podge, a lot of funny things can, and do, happen. For instance, in this day you can imagine German and American tanks rolling along the streets in the same parade.

And the war office exploding with anger at the Germans one day and the British the next, and then all hands joining in a round and round of denunciation of the United States because of tardy delivery of supplies. And then German anti-aircraft guns being delivered to a Brazilian port by boat that certainly wasn't German, or English or Swiss, with three guests allowed as to what nationality it was.

Without going into too many details of a story that dates back before the start of the present war, the tale of the tanks and the anti-aircraft guns is substantially as follows:

Brazil placed an order for $50,000,000 worth of military equipment with Germany just before the start of the war, and sent over a "mission" to receive it. In spite of the war, the Germans proceeded to turn this equipment out from the Krupp works. But the British blockade wouldn't permit the Brazilians to get the material. This made the Brazilians very peeved at the British.

Unnamed Ship

Eventually a Brazilian boat picked up some of the equipment at Lisbon last January. It was the good ship Siqueira Campos. The British stopped her on the high seas and took her to Gibraltar. They claimed to have found a lot of stuff aboard that wasn't supposed to be there.

A young Brazilian hot-head officer leaped to the defense of his country, and was plunked in the arm by a shot from a Britisher. Brazilian Minister of War Gen. Eurico Dutra, an old army top-sergeant, was all for declaring war on England. That didn't happen, but Brazil was still without its contracted for and needed equipment.

So, the Brazilians turned to their good neighbor, the United States, and said, "How about some equipment to take the place of that which the British won't let us get?" The United States didn't have any. Eventually, however, a "taken" delivery of 10 light tanks was made to Brazil around the first of September.

The Brazilians were so delighted they hurried up and learned how to operate them and the 10 American-made tanks rumbled through the streets of Rio in this country's national holiday parade of Sept. 7 along with German-made tanks which had been delivered to Brazil before the war.

The German embassy was right on the job in calling up the Brazilian war office, and pointing out how inferior the American tanks were when compared with the German.

Brigadier General "Duke" Miller, in charge of the American military mission, however, was just as much on the job with an answer. He dispatched some young Brazilian officers who had been trained in the United States with American tanks to the war office, and they quickly made it clear that the German military machine was just an old World War tank man and didn't know what he was talking about.

You Guess Who

Then there was the question of those German anti-aircraft guns resting at Lisbon. So a Brazilian ship apparently picked them up and deposited them at an unnamed north Atlantic port, and there they were picked up by an unnamed ship of an unnamed nation, and now they are in Brazil.

The economic battle also has its strange twists. Some concerns on

DRAFT REJECTION CAUSES OUTLINED

Magie Valley draft boards had 12 inductees rejected at reception centers during the October gals, according to a summary received at area No. 1 headquarters from Dr. R. D. Simonson, state medical officer for selective service.

The Idaho total of rejections for October reached 73 or 15.3 per cent of the 477 inductees sent by the various boards in the state.

Mental Factors Lead

Psychiatric defects and mental disqualifications led the list by just one man over the group turned down because of possible tuberculosis lesions. The former bracket included 73 men; the number rejected because of possible T. B. was 12.

Strange Twists

There is little indication, as yet, of any American inductee upon men's clothes or women's fashions in Brazil. Helena Rubinstein and Elizabeth Arden are big shots in cosmetics, but the Brazilians make their own clothes and shoes. There have been an American fashion show, by alluring models, and a British fashion show.

Neither left any lasting imprint. As some Brazilians view the shows, they thought the American exhibition emphasized the models, which they couldn't buy, and the British emphasized the English-made fabrics which they knew about anyhow.

American cars, of course, are everywhere. You can get run over by any model you like of General Motors, Chrysler or Ford within any city block. Some time back there were quite a number of fire-flooded low-priced German cars humping around, but they have worn out. That point, too, is one of the bright spots in the air line situation. The Condor planes still in operation are getting no younger very fast. Without replacement, which hardly seems probable at the moment, the line can't last forever.

In the night-clubs, which are operated more or less as side-lines of the faster money-getting Casino, the floor shows are loaded with balancing acts, strong men and others of the old vaudeville school.

There are some girl revue numbers and every chorus girl and principal in the cast seems to be blinding an eye in hopes of being taken for another Carmen Miranda.

Odd Society

In the early 1880s, New England had an organization known as the Society for the Suppression of Eating, whose members were pledged "not to eat more than twice daily; not to eat after eight p. m., and to go without dinner once a week."

GOTHERS COP 2ND STRAIGHT MYTHICAL TITLE

Notre Dame and Duke Put in Bids For Championship

NEW YORK, Nov. 24 (U.P.)—Minnesota gained its second straight national football crown today as the season entered the final week with five conference races settled and three more due for decision on a climax program which will solve the bowl riddles and bring together those perennial favorites—Army and Navy.

The Golden Gophers set Saturday's pace by wrapping up the Western conference pennant and while Notre Dame and Duke matched them almost stride for stride by finishing without defeat and lodging bids for the mythical national bauble themselves. A triumph over Southern California gave the Irish their best year since 1930.

Another than won a title on a bye. That was Texas A. & M. which clinched the Southwestern championship when Texas Christian lost its claim by tying Rice. The Aggies can be displaced even if they should lose to Texas.

Missouri on Top

Missouri returned to greatness by beating the last nail in the big six pennant and Penn and Utah repeated in the Ivy loop and big seven.

The other three conference races—Pacific Coast, Southern and Eastern—will be washed up Saturday.

Here are the week-end developments:

The Middle West—Minnesota without Wisconsin, for its 17th straight triumph and the clincher in the Big 10. Michigan and Ohio State battled to a 20-20 tie and for second place in the conference. Northwestern gave Bob Zupke a sad send-off by plating Illinois, 27-0, and Indiana won the open bucket by shading Purdue, 7-0.

In the Big Six, Missouri wound up with a 46-0 conquest of Kansas to finish undefeated in the conference. Kansas State tied Iowa State within the loop, while Nebraska beat Iowa, 14-0, and Oklahoma shattered Marquette, 61-14, outside. Notre Dame topped the independents, shading Southern California, 30-18.

Penn Wins Title

The East—Pennsylvania won its second Ivy wreath, blanking Cornell 18-0, while Harvard defeated Yale 14-0, and Colgate blanked Columbia, 30-21. Fordham paced the independents, knocking St. Mary's, 34-0.

St. Louis State and Washington State, 31-7, and both the service teams came through. Navy whipped Holy Cross and Boston College defeated Boston University.

The South—Duke emerged as a challenger to Minnesota's title claim by beating Wake Forest, 20-0, in the Carolina State game. Duke's victory in the conference and can do no worse than tie with the Irish for the title. Clemson defeated Furman, 20-0. Two results shook the Southeastern conference. Vanderbilt beat Alabama, 7-0, and Mississippi upset Georgia Tech, 14-7.

Florida and Arkansas tied, 10-0, while Mississippi State breeched over Millsaps. Georgia shelled Dartmouth, 35-0, and Tennessee defeated Kentucky, 20-7.

Rose Bowl Contestants Get Final Tests on Saturday

Stanford and OSC Given Inside Track

Bruce Smith Nominated As Grid Star of Week

By JIM SULLIVAN

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 24 (U.P.)—It's "big game week" in the Pacific Coast conference football race, and trying to pick the western Rose bowl team is still like playing poker with a pinhole deck.

The week-end action will see the pack, each beaten twice, W. S. C. and Oregon have lost three each. Washington and U. S. C. each have three conference losses, plus defeats outside the league.

Traditional rivalries end the season of both leaders here this Saturday. Oregon State meets a tough Oregon team at Eugene while Stanford has an easier task with California at Palo Alto.

Best Chances

Discounting possibility of ties—and there hasn't been one between major teams on the coast this year—the three best picture slimes up like this:

1. If both O. S. C. and Stanford win, O. S. C. appears to have a slight edge because the Beavers beat Stanford.

2. If both lose, W. S. C. will make a strong bid for the title bowl, especially if the Cougars beat Texas A. & M. Dec. 6 at Decatur.

3. If only one loses, the winning team will have a clear track. Washington meets U. S. C. Saturday in the only other conference game. W. S. C. and U. C. L. A. will rest up for games the following week. Idaho and Montana have completed their regular seasons.

Oregon Wins

Last Saturday's top conference game saw Oregon upset Washington, 10-16, whipping over three touchdowns in the second half to come from behind and win with an intestinal safety that soaked up the closing minutes of play.

Oregon State has its reserves through Montana, 27-0, Washington and Ohio State fans and Idahoans are probably howling as loudly as ever right now. Coach Paul Hunsinger said one and did one game this year—considered a very poor season in the Buckeye child.

Schmidt got "reanned" because he won six and lost two in 1939 and won four and lost four in 1940.

ella, Calif., to be the all-around champion cowboy.

Vandals End Good Season With 39-0 Win at Boise

BOISE, Nov. 24 (Special)—Coach Francis Schmidt and his University of Idaho Vandals were back in Moscow today after ending the season on a high note here Saturday before some 5,000 fans.

The Vandals, using their razzle-dazzle to perfection, routed the Montana State Bobcats by a score of 39-0 as big Bill Micklich scored five touch-downs.

The victory gave the Idaho club its best record in several years and strengthened the hopes of Idaho fans that Schmidt would eventually develop a winner.

The Idahoans won four and lost five this season. Last year under Coach Ted Bank the Vandals were able to gain only one win, one tie and six losses. The year before that they won two, lost six.

Year's Record

This year's record:
Utah 28, Idaho 7.
University of Oregon 21, Idaho 7.
Idaho 21, Gonzaga 7.
Idaho 18, Utah State 0.
Idaho 18, Willamette 0.
Oregon State 23, Idaho 0.
Washington State 28, Idaho 0.
Montana 16, Idaho 0.
Idaho 30, Montana State 0.

In most of those games Idaho led, or at least had a tie, at the halfway mark. And it was largely through lack of reserves that the Vandals lost Pacific Coast conference clashes.

Now Coach Schmidt is looking forward to next season when Idaho becomes a full member of the big Coast loop and takes part in the round-robin play.

Great Fresh Squad

With one of the finest freshman squads in history coming up, Schmidt has hopes of developing a club that will bring Idaho more glory than any football team in history.

Saturday at Boise the Idahoans could do no wrong. They scored at will and pushed the Montanians all over the field. The Vandals collected 18 first downs to 3 for the invaders and had 425 yards from rushing, compared with a -29 for Montana State.

Micklich, the West Allie, Wis. boy, punched big holes in the Bozok line and when they tried to close in the Vandal razzle-dazzle worked in the open.

Idaho scored once in the first quarter for six points, added 20 in the second and then counted once each in the third and fourth as Coach Schmidt gave his entire squad a chance to play in the final game.

Lineups:

Idaho 39, Montana 0. 20 0 0 0. Idaho scoring: touchdowns, Micklich 18, Franklin. Points after touchdown, Anderson (place-kick), Franklin (pass from Davis), Manson (place-kick).

BYU Gridders Take Most All-Star Places

DENVER, Nov. 24 (AP)—Big Seven conference football coaches today decided individual performances and whose reports often decide games—joined with sports writers and coaches today in naming four Brigham Young University players to the 1941 United Press all conference team.

Basing their judgment on the information they had compiled while seeing each team in action at least once and sometimes twice, the 16 counts participating in the poll served as final judges in several close contests.

BYU, which fought down the home stretch with the defending championship Utah Vics, placed Mike Mills at end, Reed Niles at center, Garth Chamberlain at tackle and Dee Chipman at quarter back. Utah placed two men on the all-star club while Denver, which clinched at third place in beating Colorado, also had two; G. U. two, and Colorado State one.

Vote Close
The backfield vote was close for two positions—quarterback and tackle. Paul McClung, Colorado's great runner and passer, won out over Guy Adell of Utah in the tightest race, winning by only 10 points out of the votes cast for first and second teams. Heron Longhurst of BYU was only 30 points behind in the race for a good field general and kicker, out-battled Huck Adair of Utah by a more comfortable margin. Paul Izzy, center of Utah and Duke Dent of Colorado State won by walkovers.

It was the third straight year that McClung and Specter had made the first United Press team and the second for Floyd Spendlove, Utah's center for the last two years. McClung, Specter and Spendlove were the only holdovers from last year's team, although Dean Gardner of BYU slipped to the second string in favor of Dent and Lloyd Oliver of Colorado dropped from the first team to the third.

End Ballot Close
The end votes were exceedingly close, with Mills and Niles leading ahead of Stan Hendrickson of Colorado and Mac Spendlove of Utah. A fact considered significant was that most of the ballots were received before the Denver-CU game, in which Hogan played perhaps the best ball of his career, justifying the voters' premature choice.

Spendlove and Dent each had 200 points behind the great Stan Hendrickson, who was the only sophomore to make the first team, was paired with Spendlove at tackle. Chamberlain, a senior, edged out his teammate, sophomore Ken Bird, by only 10 points.

Carl Demple also earned his place at guard with his fine performance against Colorado, although most of the choices had been mailed a week or more before the game. Gus Shannon, Colorado's big guard, the only sophomore to make the first team, was paired with Demple—just five points ahead of Capt. Chick Hansen of Utah.

Center Choices
Reed Niles of Brigham Young and Bert Davis of Utah were almost unanimous choices for first and second centers. Niles polled 180 points—mostly first team votes, and Davis got virtually all of the second place selections. Ralph Maughan, Utah State sophomore, and Jim Platorious of Utah, both at scattering of votes. While failing to place more than 100 points on the first team, Utah took the lion's share of the second, even. The Adair brothers, Hansen, Spendlove and Davis were teamed with Hendrickson, Bird, Al Lokano, Wyoming guard, Dean Gardner, BYU fullback, and Fred Allen, Utah State's "back of all trades" who had played all backfield positions this year.

Training Table May Be Voted For Big Seven

DENVER, Nov. 24 (AP)—Adoption by Big Seven conference schools of training tables for football players was forecast today after Denver university officials announced that almost half their players were anemic because of lack of proper food.

Dr. Brodie Barnes, head of the D. U. physical education department said 11 of Denver's 25 first string players were anemic with three in a "potentially serious" condition.

He said the anemia, in some cases, reflected lack of funds for food. "We found some of the anemic players are living on coffee and hamburgers at the campus eating places," Barnes said in his plea for sponsored, supervised training tables.

"Each year around the country a number of football players lose weight or even die as result of injuries," he said. "In many cases these are underfed athletes."

Carlson Lifts Leadership In Pin Race

Early Carlson's 195 average topped all opposition in the Twin Falls bowling league, according to averages released today by Fred M. Stone, secretary of the Twin Falls Bowling association.

Rolly Jones and Hugh Boone were tied for second with 181 each—giving the southpaw ace a four-point lead, enough so that he doesn't have much chance of slipping out of first place in the standings of three weeks. The feminine league failed to bowl last week—probably being busy about the turkey, so there were no changes in the standings or averages of those two leagues.

Utah Clinches Crown as BYU Takes Beating

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 24 (AP)—Brigham Young university fell, as fast and as surprising as it had risen on the wings of an "upset" victory series, and the resulting crash today left University of Utah resting in the top notch of the Big Seven football conference for the third time since its inception.

The Utes, ending their legitimate season with four wins and two ties had prepared to share their spot in the sun with BYU's Cougars, but a passing offensive launched Saturday afternoon by Colorado State ended—by the time of 22 to 7—the first real chance BYU ever had to at least hold part of the championship spotlight.

BYU scored first quarter of the game and scored its seven points then. After that, it was Colorado State—with the visiting Farmers taking to the air behind the losses of Chester Maeda and Lewis Dent for their victory.

Colorado State made its three touchdowns in the last three periods —and added a field goal in the final quarter for good measure. The Colorado Aggies also made seven serious threats that placed them within the BYU 50-yard line without scoring.

In Second Place
The defeat pushed BYU into a final second place tie in the conference with Denver—the allegedly "weak" team whose power plays dumped the Golden Buffaloes of Colorado U. 27, to 0 Thanksgiving day. Colorado State, winning the final conference game, netted a fourth place tie with Colorado, ended its season with three wins, two losses and a tie.

Wyoming, the squad that took a 50 to 6 drubbing at the hands of mighty Utah early in the season, finished its year in sixth place, while Utah Aggies who rallied throughout to unseat the Utes in their curtain game, wound up in the cellar.

BYU's season was a disappointment, but it was a good one for the school's football program.

The Utes, who had a record of 10 wins and 2 losses, were the only team to win all four of their games against the Big Seven.

BYU's record was 4 wins and 2 ties, which was a good record for a team that had been expected to win the championship.

ANTI-COMINTER PACT WILL BE RENEWED AT BERLIN

ENVOYS OF MANY NATIONS ATTEND SPECIAL SESSION

By Frederick C. Ochsner

BERLIN, Nov. 24 (AP)—Authorized sources said today the anti-comintern pact of 1936 would be extended for another five years tomorrow when representatives of Germany and 19 or more of her satellite states meet at the chancellery.

Eight foreign ministers, including German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, will attend a "state ceremony" at noon, when a five year extension of the anti-comintern pact, signed originally by Germany, Italy, and Japan will be signed.

They said the French Vichy government will not be represented nor will Sweden nor Switzerland.

Envoys to Sign

The extension agreement will be signed by the foreign ministers of Germany, Italy, Spain and Hungary, and the ambassadors of Japan and Manchukuo. All these nations signed the first anti-comintern pact, which expires tomorrow.

They said the following officials are to be present: Foreign Minister Rolf Johan Witting of Finland, Foreign Minister Sven Hedin of Denmark, Foreign Minister Ivan Pavlov of Bulgaria, Foreign Minister Milan Lovric of Croatia, Prime Minister Bela Tuka of Slovakia and Deputy Premier Mihail Antonescu of Romania.

They refused to say whether Adolf Hitler would attend, but it was assumed he would. They would not say whether other non-signatory countries would adhere to the pact.

Highlight of the conference will be high light of the conference, which will conclude with the departure of the various delegations tomorrow afternoon of Friday morning, they said.

The official news agency, making a curt announcement of the conference said: "Many leading statesmen of powers united in the battle against Communism, will arrive in Berlin Monday and Tuesday in order to express their fighting spirit against world Bolshevism. The German people will begin Tuesday with a solemn state ceremony."

A White House statement at Washington yesterday forecast the meeting. It said Germany was planning a European conference that would be headed by a "high-ranking German official" and would include a discussion of economic rehabilitation and restoration of independence for all European nations, but a dozen would be left open for Germany to break any agreement.

WATER STORAGE SHOWS BIG GAIN

BOISE, Nov. 24 (AP)—Reports of a 30 per cent increase in storage of carry-over water in Snake river reservoir today brought a prediction of favorable conditions for the 1942 irrigation season.

State Reclamation Commissioner E. V. Berg said early winter conditions in southern Idaho had been favorable for water storage. A late frost permitted much moisture to seep into the soil, and heavy snowfall in some areas will also seep in later when thaws occur.

The increased carry-over water supply—which will cut down the needs for a heavy run-off next year—was due to a larger supply at the beginning of the season and a smaller need for an early supply of water because of rain.

Berg reported Jackson Lake reservoir held 222,150 acre feet on Nov. 16 of this year, compared to 202,930 acre feet in 1940. American Falls held 127,000 acre feet on the same date, compared to 284,000 and 17,940 acre feet, respectively, last year.

Colorado and Wyoming are the only two states bounded by four straight lines.

SUPREME COURT CUTS OAKIE LAW

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—The supreme court today declared California's anti-oakie law unconstitutional, in a decision affecting validity of similar statutes in 27 other states.

Described as the "Okie" law when it was enforced in a few instances during the great mid-depression exodus of farmers from the dust-bowl states of the central plains, the California act made it a misdemeanor to "bring or assist in bringing into the state any indigent person who is not a resident of the state, knowing him to be an indigent person."

The constitutional act involved the case of Fred P. Edwards of Marysville, Calif., who was convicted of driving his public brother-in-law, Frank Duncan, from Spur, Tex., to Marysville in December, 1939. Because of his bearing on civil liberties, the law was assailed as a violation of the constitutional right of freedom of movement which, it is argued, would be nullified by the federal state legislation converting the United States into 48 "economic concentration camps."

States having anti-immigrant laws similar to California's are Alabama, Colorado, Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

has asserted that it has no plans for the future unless congress increases the army and provides funds. Notwithstanding this reiterated statement, the war department has hired architects to map and draw blueprints for buildings and complete plans are prepared now for a half dozen cantonments and group centers. Mr. Roosevelt is now requesting funds to build cantonments and, as has been repeatedly asserted on the floor of the senate, the administration intends creating an army of from eight to ten million men and is purchasing equipment for them.

Program for the air corps has been worked out; sites tentatively selected and it is ready to go. The schedule calls for increasing the number of fliers by thousands and training 7-angiers between 18 and 25 years of age as ground mechanics. These mechanics will be given six weeks training, after they have taken a civil service examination. They will be civilians, not in uniform.

Owing to the arrangement to send bombers and interceptors in quantities to Russia, China and Britain, the expansion of the air corps up to the planned requirements will be deferred until a year from now, which will give time for the building of housing for the groups and have it ready when planes are available.

In this request for seven billion dollars there is another item which will concern Idaho. This is for transportation of troops and 270 million dollars for an army in the United States. War departments have for weeks been canvassing Idaho guardians and selectees to volunteer for three years in the regular army. The same estimate in the President's proposal is to send American troops out of Puget sound to the Philippines, where they will be with the federalized troops of the Philippines. This is Mr. Roosevelt's answer to the Japanese threat in the Pacific.

Agents of the department of state are in London negotiating with top men of the British government to abrogate or revise the Ottawa agreement, signed in 1932, as part of the compensation the British are to pay for the billions of dollars of food and war supplies sent there in American ships. This agreement keeps the markets of the empire for the "colonies" and imposes such high duties that Americans cannot break in. Until two months ago Secretary of State Cordell Hull would not consider protests of members of the United States senate against the treaty.

Principal sufferer from this agreement has been the Pacific northwest, the producers of wheat, and the producers of cotton, who shall have access to such raw materials as they need, not exporting Germany, and the United States and Great Britain will plan the world. This is part of the plan to meet the coming depression.

The negotiations look forward to after the war when, according to Churchill and the President at their Atlantic conference, all nations shall have access to such raw materials as they need, not exporting Germany, and the United States and Great Britain will plan the world. This is part of the plan to meet the coming depression.

LDS Troop Will Handle Awards at Scouting Session

Investiture of tenderfoot Boy Scouts and awarding of other honors will highlight the court of honor announced today for 7:30 p. m. Wednesday at the Twin Falls high school auditorium.

The investiture will be sponsored by troop 56, L.D.S. first ward, which will also make presentation of the other awards. Gordon Gray, district advancement chairman, is scheduled to preside.

DEATH

Bill, 14-year-old imported dark canary, belonging to Mrs. Julia Skinner, died this morning.

Mrs. T. A. Grakli, who sold the bird to Mrs. Skinner, said she had never heard of a canary living that long.

A great slinger, Bill had been eating a few minutes before Mrs. Skinner found him dead in his cage, apparently the victim of a sudden heart attack.

"People talk about dogs being perfect pets, I'd say the same for Bill," said Mrs. Skinner.

WOMEN AID SEEN IN 1942 HARVEST

WASHINGTON, Nov. 24 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, assistant director of the office of civilian defense, disclosed today the O.C.D. is planning to organize a "women's land army" to help harvest next year's crops.

The need for "farmettes" she said, is due to the lack of farm labor caused by the migration of young people from farms to industrial work.

Mrs. Roosevelt, pointing out that a house committee on migratory labor is now in the middle-west studying the impact of national defense on the farm labor supply, said she thought there was "no question" but women would be needed in next year's harvest.

She told a press conference she had suggested today that the divisions of the O.C.D. concerned with this problem start work immediately to learn probabilities of the need and the training of women, both in physical fitness and in skill to work on farms next summer. The youth, physical fitness, and volunteer bureau divisions were instructed to undertake the study, she revealed.

FOUND

It may be the U. S. marines to the rescue overseas, but in Twin Falls it's the city police.

A Twin Falls mother, according to the police "blotter" today, called for help in finding her five-year-old son. He started for church Sunday morning and apparently didn't get there.

Entry on the police register: "Boy located and at home."

Work Starts on State Building

BOISE, Ida., Nov. 24 (AP)—Gov. Chase A. Clark today ordered the frozen ground in Julia Davis park with a shovel to launch construction of a new state historical building.

State and city officials and members of the Idaho historical society also took part in the ground-breaking ceremony.

The $102,000 structure will be used to house Indian and pioneer relics now displayed in the basement of the statehouse. The state sold a $40,000 bond issue to finance construction and the work project administration contributed another $20,000.
