

JAPS ADVANCE ON SINGAPORE

Japs Mass for All-out Bataan Assault

MacArthur Gets Ready for Huge Nippon Attacks

By HARRISON SALISBURY
WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (U.P.)—Powerful Japanese forces massed against Gen. Douglas MacArthur's forward lines, today, the war department reported, in obvious preparation for an all-out assault on Bataan province and Corregidor fortress.

An ominous calm before-the-storm atmosphere was indicated in the terse official communique, the first word of MacArthur's stand to be made, public in 24 hours.

Devoting almost their entire attention to redistribution of their forces and the movement up to forward areas of strong reinforcements, the Japanese virtually ignored MacArthur's positions as they concentrated on preparations for the climax of their month-old campaign to win domination of the Philippines.

MacArthur's report said "combat operations have dwindled to desultory skirmishes in various sections of the front" for the second day running.

Brief Calm
The calm was expected to be brief.

"The enemy continues to move troops into the forward areas, apparently in preparation for a renewed attack in force," the communique said.

"Even the Japanese air force sustained its heavy bombardment of Corregidor and other fortified American positions and confined itself to reconnaissance flights."

The reticence of U. S. officials on the status of MacArthur's position was matched only by the scanty reports from the Japanese by the Manila radio.

The only reports from Japanese sources told of the recruiting of a force of 500 Japanese fishermen to aid in clearing Manila harbor of mines and other obstructions to navigation. This indicated that before the Manila positions were abandoned the army and navy tried to place the harbor in condition which would cause the Japanese greatest possible difficulty in utilizing their occupation of this key port.

What A Gain?
The Japanese also—claimed—the sinking of the U. S. S. Langley, 11,050-ton seaplane tender. The U. S. navy, on an previous occasion when the Japanese have issued propaganda claims, said it had no information to support the contention.

It was the third or fourth time since start of the war that the Japanese had claimed a claim of the loss of the Langley.

The Japanese also admitted damage to a 2,250-ton freighter in waters so close to Japan that it appeared likely U. S. submarines are now operating as near to the Japanese coast as Japanese U-boats did off the California coast.

IMPERIALS PRESS FLEEING ENEMIES

CAIRO, Jan. 9 (U.P.)—The main axis north African force fleeing into Tripolitania is hard pressed by British mobile columns supported by the royal air force and the guns of British naval units shelling German and Italian positions from the sea, British middle east headquarters said today.

Enemy troops, which two days ago began withdrawing from Agadebia, 90 miles south of Benghazi, under cover of a sandstorm were fighting a stubborn rear guard action and the British pursuit continued to be hampered by bad weather and mine fields, headquarters said.

All Must Buy Share in U. S. Future, Stamp Leaders Told

Everyone—from poor to rich and including all those persons working on a salary—must share in the future of America by purchase of defense stamps and bonds.

That was the message brought here last night by John Churchill, Boise, deputy administrator of the state staff. He met with an estimated 20 chairman and sub-chairmen of defense savings organizations from Buhl, Glendon, Twin Falls, Shoshone, Jerome, Burley and Rupert at a session staged at the Park hotel last night.

Payroll Plan
Churchill, during the session, expressed the hope that every employer with eight or more employees would have the payroll allotment plan whereby each employee gives a set part of his salary each payday, in full force by Feb. 1.

This system, he explained, should be in full working order before other steps are taken to put into effect a new method of reaching everyone in the United States who has an income.

This latter method will be accomplished by means of pledge cards which will be distributed to 30,000,000 people. Not only will those already participating in the payroll allotment plan be asked to sign, but also everyone with an income, including professional, industrial, agricultural, mercantile and various other classifications.

Master File
"The pledge cards will be distributed and collected as a means of providing the government with a master file for determining the extent of the American people's response," Churchill said. "While it

44,000 DEALERS IN CARS OPPOSE FULL SALES BAN

By JOHN D. GONZALES
WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (U.P.)—The 44,000 automobile dealers in the United States and their half-million employees are being swept "virtually without notice or consideration" into bankruptcy under the government's ban on the sale of new cars, a spokesman for them charged today.

L. Clare Cargile, president of the National Automobile Dealers' association, in a statement prepared for delivery before the senate small business committee, said dealers were being neglected while enormous contracts were being awarded to the second unit of the automobile industry—the manufacturers. He offered an eight-point plan for alleviating the dealers' hardships.

"The automobile dealers of America are typical small business men," Cargile said. "They are located in every city and town of this country. Ever since the bombing of Pearl Harbor, they too have known that this country now stands united as never before, and they have upon every occasion pledged their support to the prosecution of this war to a glorious victory and they shall continue to do so regardless of the hearing that is accorded this plea."

Modification Announced
Before Cargile's scheduled appearance before the senate committee, the office of production management announced a modification of the restriction on sales of new passenger cars and trucks. Purchases by the army, navy, and certain other government agencies will be allowed immediately. Prime contractors for the army or navy may purchase new vehicles if army or navy officials confirm that they are needed for construction work on armament projects. Automobiles and trucks may be sold where an "essential user" obtains a priority rating of A-1-J from OPM Priorities Director Donald M. Nelson.

The OPM's automotive branch also ruled that all 1942 model passenger cars and trucks—regardless of how many miles they have been driven—come under terms of the ban on dealers' sales. This interpretation halts sale of "demonstrators" which, it was reported, were being sold despite the ban. The ban also extends to sales of earlier models which have been run less than 1,000 miles.

Plan Outlined
Cargile told the senate committee, that the dealers "submit that the cost of this war should be so far as possible spread over all the people, and that it is unfair for this single business group to bear so large a

LaGuardia Keeps OCD Post; Landis Named Executive

By GEORGE E. REEDY, JR.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (U.P.)—"Partial reorganization" of the office of civilian defense with James M. Landis, dean of the Harvard law school, as "executive" and Fiorello LaGuardia continuing as director was announced today by the White House.

The OCD reorganization was announced by White House Secretary Stephen T. Early who said President Roosevelt, LaGuardia and Landis had worked out an agreement "satisfactory" to the three of them.

Landis, who will serve at a salary of $10,000 a year, will be responsible for the "creation of the organization to effectuate policies outlined by the director in consultation with the executive."

Landis also will have charge of personnel.

Policy Matters
Early said broad matters of policy will be worked out by LaGuardia in consultation with the executive.

Early said, in response to questions, he had heard nothing about the status of Mrs. Roosevelt, an assistant director of OCD, in connection with the reorganization. This was regarded as indicating that Mrs. Roosevelt would continue in her present OCD capacity.

LaGuardia, whose dual job-holding as OCD director and as mayor of New York City has provoked wide criticism, will continue to represent OCD in cabinet meetings and on various federal boards.

There has been widespread criticism of OCD's operation and charges that it has failed to do what it was created for.

Executive Order
It was established by executive order, Congress is considering legislation to give it statutory authority. The senate passed a bill retaining it as an independent agency but the house yesterday passed a bill to place it under the war department.

LaGuardia has been assailed for trying to hold two major jobs at once—New York's mayoralty and directorship of the OCD. Many critics charge that the weakness of OCD stems from the fact that La-

Budget for County Placed at $483,439

Tentative budget for operation of Twin Falls county government and services in 1942 was set today at $483,439 by the board of county commissioners.

The preliminary budget—which can be reduced but cannot be increased—is $34,049 but is $2,766 less than the final 1940.

The 1941 final was $440,200; 1941 tentative, $490,000. The 1940 final budget was $488,205.

Public hearing for this year's budget, commissioners said, will be held Feb. 9, the second Monday of next month. Following the week of that hearing, the board will place approval on the final budget which is expected to remain unchanged from the tentative outline listed today.

Salaries Increased
As announced earlier, salaries of appointive clerks and deputies are increased under the tentative budget in line with similar boosts being given by other public units because of the rise in the cost of living. Salaries of elective officers, however, cannot be increased until 1943.

"Unusual feature of the 1942 preliminary budget is inclusion of a 'contingency' figure of $200,000 for county hospital expansion if voters should approve a bond issue in 1942. The $200,000, however, is not included in the $483,439 actual budget and no levy is set for it.

This was inserted simply because we want to be prepared to go ahead in case the people wish to vote bonds," Chairman C. B. Lindsey said.

For Contingency Only
Both Lindsey and Commissioner Ben E. Potter emphasized that "we're not trying to push a bond issue." They said that if taxpayers themselves inaugurate a new bond effort, and approve it by vote, the fact that a budgetary item has been included would permit action immediately. Otherwise, even if bonds should be approved, nothing could be done until 1943.

The budget item of $200,000 "is just in case," Chairman Lindsey said.

No levy will be set for the hospital "contingency" fund because a bond vote would set the levy itself.

Said Mr. Lindsey: "This is just a safety-measure in view of the fact that no one knows what hospital demands might arise in the defense emergency."

Largest item in the $483,439 tentative budget is $140,320 for the expenses and maintenance of the hospital.

BOARD SET FOR JOHNSTON CASE

BOISE, Jan. 9 (U.P.)—The Idaho pardon board today cleared its January calendar in preparation for a hearing tomorrow on the clemency application of Duncan McD. Johnston, former Twin Falls mayor and convicted slayer of a Salt Lake City jewelry salesman.

A special hearing for Johnston was scheduled to begin at 10 a. m. his application was to be opposed by Wayne Decker, Salt Lake City jeweler. Decker was the employer of George L. Olson, victim of the slaying.

The board was also to hear a report on investigations into a note which was received by Gov. Chase A. Clark last spring and which "confessed" the Olson murder.

The board had only to act on a few cases remaining among the 79 convicts who petitioned for pardon this month. So far the board has granted conditional pardons, two straight pardons and committed, one sentence, and denied 31 applications.

Late yesterday a conditional release was granted to former Probate Judge Robert S. Galla, Pocatello, who was sentenced to one to 14 years for embezzlement.

Other releases were given John W. Crane, Lincoln county, convicted of assault; Guy Pethel, Bannock, robbery; George Bush, Owyhee, drunken driving; Kenneth Claydon, Canyon, forgery; Thomas R. Johnson, Ada, burglary; K. A. Draper, Lincoln, burglary; Edward Dean, Ada, forgery; Ernest W. Bingham, Twin Falls, grand larceny; Wendell Shumway, Bannock, grand larceny.

BRAVE

EMPORIA, Kan., Jan. 9 (U.P.)—A class I-A draft registrant appeared before his draft board to report a change of marital status.

"I married a widow with four children," he said.

"That was a brave deed," said a member of the draft board, "but your classification will remain unchanged."

JAPANESE CLAIM BRITISH FORCES ARE COLLAPSING

TOKYO, Jan. 9 (Official radio recorded by United Press at New York and San Francisco)—Reports from a base in Malaya said today that British forces defending the northern sector in Selangor were collapsing before the Japanese drive and in general retreat south toward the adjoining state of Negri Sembilan.

They were said to be hastily destroying bridges and roads and "the confusion was extending even to the southern sectors of Selangor, where British troops are joining the general retreat."

Rome Report
(The United Press listening post at London heard the Rome radio broadcasting an Italian official news agency dispatch that the Japanese, supported by strong mechanized units and formations of aircraft, continued to pursue the British beyond Kuala Lumpur, capital of Selangor, without resistance.

"British who retreated beyond the frontier of Johore have not succeeded in reorganizing on a new line," it said.

American charges that Japanese troops entering Manila regarded all white men as their enemies were denounced as propaganda.

"Japan never bears any ill-feeling against inhabitants of areas where hostilities are now going on," it was said.

Raid Fatalities
Reports from Bangkok, Thailand, said school children and civilians were killed by a British air raid at dawn Thursday.

The enemy planes bombed hospitals, French churches and the branch office of the Bank of Indo China and Chinatown, causing fires at three places," it was asserted.

(The National Broadcasting company's listening post at Los Angeles heard the Tokyo report that fire of undetermined origin destroyed a wing of the Japanese foreign office early today. The broadcaster said it burned for three hours, and that "all important papers were saved from the destructive fire, although great damage was done to the foreign ministry's research bureau.")

Fashions of 1900 May Be Returned To Conserve Wool

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (U.P.)—The government believes it is more important to have the armed forces properly clothed than to have the men and boys at home to have two-trouser suits, vests, double-breasted coat and bell-bottomed pants.

Before the war is over—if OPM suggestions are adopted by the clothing industry—clothing styles of the male population may hark back to the early 1900's.

At an informal OPM meeting with men and boys' clothing manufacturers, the consensus was that wool could be conserved by simplifying styles. New wool restrictions this year are in store for all civilian production.

LICENSES
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9 (U.P.)—A placard at the U. S. marine recruiting station today announced: "Jap hunting licenses issued here—open season now—no limit."

Marines Fired "Point Blank" on Japanese Fleet at Wake Island

Wake Island was made public by the U. S. navy with a revelation that seven Japanese warships—not five as previously announced—were sunk before Wake succumbed after 14 days fighting.

It was accompanied by President Roosevelt's official citation of the Wake marines for "courageous conduct . . . gallantry and heroism . . . devotion to duty and splendid conduct."

The citation listed Maj. James P. St. Devenus, commander of the 1st defense battalion, U. S. marine corps, and Maj. Paul A. Putnam, commander of marine fighting squadron 211 of marine aircraft group 21.

The new information of the battle of Wake made clear for the first time the manner in which Wake's marines managed to take so heavy a toll of the Japanese attackers. Their coolness in withholding fire by their small battery of six five-inch guns and 12 three-inch guns was officially compared by the navy to the feat of the men of "Bunker Hill." By standards of modern armament 4,700 yards—a fraction more than two and a half miles—is as close or closer than "the whites of their eyes" was to Prescott's musket men.

By holding back their fire the men of Wake literally blew a major portion of the Japanese attack force out of the water.

Two accounts were made public by the navy of Wake's fight. One was Bayler's day by day report of the fight by the marine garrison of 13 officers and 365 men—plus a seven-man medical detachment. The other was a brief report by Putnam.

Bayler, like Putnam, was a marine airforce officer, and both accounts dealt chiefly with the action of the tiny marine air squadron. The

Allies Strike Back on All War Fronts

By JOE ALEX MORRIS
United Press Foreign Editor
The united nations struck at the axis from Japanese waters to Russia and north-Africa today but Japan's full-scale general offensive pounded with relentless fury against the outer defenses of Singapore.

An all-out general offensive on the Malayan peninsula and further preparations for a similar attack on American forces holding out in the Philippines indicated that the Japanese were throwing everything possible into the Pacific operations.

They were taking stiff blows in return as an allied submarine sank or damaged a Japanese freighter off Yokohama, British aird American fliers hit enemy bases in Thailand and Malaya and British imperialists took an "incredible" toll of enemy dead in the fighting for Kuala Lumpur, a key city in defense of Singapore.

Dispatches from the war fronts showed:

Lead Offensive
MALAYA—Japanese dive-bombers and heavy tanks lead offensive against Kuala Lumpur, despite heavy toll taken by British guns about 250 miles north of Singapore. Large scale air attacks on Singapore expected.

PHILIPPINES—Japanese still massing reinforcements for big attack on American lines in Bataan peninsula.

CHINA—Four columns of Chinese reported attacking Canton in heavy fighting.

RUSSIA—Red army lifts siege of Sevastopol and battles to throw German back from Leningrad, where London said hopes were held that they would be broken. Although German still hold vital Gisselsburg communications sector.

FRANCE—United States, with aid of RAF, starts leaflet campaign in France emphasizing "historic friendship" of France and America.

Hammer at Retreat
LIBYA—British land, air and sea forces hammer at retreating axis forces; British shoot down seven enemy planes.

Indications that the allied forces in the far east were beginning to get their counter-attacks moving were seen in Tokyo broadcasts saying that the 2,250-ton Japanese freighter Unkai Maru No. 1 had been torpedoed and damaged off Iri peninsula, southwest of Tokyo and deep within Japan's home waters.

It was believed probable that the ship was torpedoed by an American submarine as Washington previously had announced the torpedoing of four other Japanese vessels.

The Japanese high command claimed the sinking of the 11,550-ton U. S. airplane tender Langley near Johnston island, in the south seas, but Washington said there was no information to support that claim.

In the air, British bombers renewed a series of American and British attacks from Burma against Japanese bases in Thailand, again striking at Bangkok.

WAR BULLETINS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (U.P.)—The house today passed a bill providing for mandatory daylight saving time—advancing clocks one hour throughout the country—for the duration of the war.

The vote was announced as 67 to 20.

U. S. Leaflets Distributed in French Areas

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (U.P.)—The White House disclosed today that the United States, with the aid of the British royal air force, has started dropping leaflets on occupied portions of France stressing "the historic friendship" between the French and American people.

White House Secretary Stephen T. Early said more than 2,000,000 American pamphlets had been dropped on Nazi-occupied portions of France by the British.

Other leaflets probably will be distributed throughout other occupied portions of Europe.

The pamphlet was designated as "U. S. Leaflet No. 1 to the people of occupied France."

The RAF dropped 1,380,000 copies of it in the area around Paris, and more than 600,000 copies in the Lillo area this week.

Early said the President had received a report from an RAF official in London saying: "U. S. leaflet No. 1 was acclaimed everywhere in the RAF and the fliers felt it was an honor to be couriers of America and to carry so stirring a message."

The leaflet carried pictures of the American flag and of the status of liberty, which was given to this country years ago by the French people.

Early said the leaflet bore a message "of hope to the French people still residing in occupied France and clearly implied that a very different kind of message would be carried to the enemy in due time."

SALES BOOM FOR WESTERN STATES

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 9 (U.P.)—Department store business in the Pacific states for the week ended Jan. 3 shot up 25 per cent over the corresponding week last year—recovering somewhat from the contras-season slump during the Christmas holiday—a federal reserve survey indicated today.

Dampening effect of the war was manifest in ability of the past four weeks' average to gain only nine per cent over the same period last year, though the average for the year 1941 was up 18 per cent.

Seattle stores displayed the widest gain of 46 per cent, Portland 32 per cent, and downtown Los Angeles 19, and Salt Lake City, 35 per cent. Figures for San Francisco bay area were not available because of strikes—both now and a year ago.

PROOF

CHICAGO, Jan. 9 (U.P.)—Nicholas Tamm, 35, took his job as a defense witness seriously.

He told Judge Edmund K. Karasol he was certain five election officials were innocent of fraud charges because he had performed the alleged offenses himself.

The officials were charged with theft of 15 voters' application blanks and with forging names to them in a judicial election Nov. 4. Jarecki ordered Tamm's arrest and continued the trial to Jan. 15.

RED RESERVES STRIKE AT FALTERING NAZIS ON WIDE FRONT

CRIMEAN ATTACK CLAIMED LIFTED FOR SEVASTOPOL

By ROBERT DOWSON

LONDON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Red army reserves striking at faltering enemy front from the Crimean to Finland today had lifted the siege of Sevastopol, smashed through seven new towns on the central front and launched a powerful drive that cut into the axis rear lines in the Leningrad sector.

The German forces lost 250 dead and much war material in the first phase of the new Russian drive in the Leningrad sector and Polish Gen. Wladislaw Sikorski, just returned from Moscow, predicted that the axis would be thrown back to a defense line 800 miles west of Moscow base on Smolensk and the Dnieper-Luga river line.

Three hundred German dead were left on the field on one sector, the central front, Moscow said, as the Russian took three villages.

On another sector, four towns were recaptured and two enemy battalions annihilated, the radio reported.

Hit Rear Lines

On the northern front, according to Leningrad reports, Red army forces swept through to strike at the German rear lines before the former czarist capital, where the Russians have withstood a siege that began three months ago.

Much booty was taken in the advance, it was added, in addition to numerous casualties inflicted on the enemy.

The Russian forces were apparently going the limit in their drive to prevent the Germans from consolidating on new defense lines.

If the new, full offensive succeeds, it was indicated that the blows the Russians already have inflicted on the invaders will have been a mere prelude.

Reports from Stockholm said the first phase of Russian winter operations—a series of counter-attacks in preparation for a full-scale drive—had been concluded. Now, it was said, huge new armies, just trained and well-equipped, and supported by new tanks, guns and planes had been set upon the Germans.

Full Offensive

The Russians, it was reported, plan to shove the Germans into headlong flight from one end of the 1,100-mile front to the other, giving them no time to dig in or rest, so Generalissimo Adolf Hitler will not be able to borrow from one army to help another.

New Russian landings were reported in the Crimea, and the Sevastopol garrison was attacking its former besiegers, who had been weakened to reinforce the hard-pressed Germans on the Kerch peninsula.

A British military commentator said that so far as was known in London the Germans continued to hold Simferopol, due east of Leningrad on the east bank of the Neva river. So long as the Germans hold that position, the siege of Leningrad cannot be considered raised, he said.

The spokesman said that it was true the Russians had been forcing the Germans to relax their grip on Leningrad. But the Germans still are astride Russian communications east of Leningrad, thereby maintaining their siege of the city.

Man in 'Pen' so Case Here Ends

Because J. B. Ruth is now back at the Idaho state prison as a parole violator, charges against him in probate court here were ordered dismissed today.

Ruth was accused of obtaining money under false pretenses by claiming he was heir to an estate being handled by a Pocatello attorney.

Dismissal of that complaint was ordered by Probate Judge C. A. Bailey on motion of Prosecutor Everett M. Sweeley.

Dr. Kolachov is research director for a Louisville distillery and is noted for studies on various uses of grain by-products.

Dr. Kolachov's speech will be heard Friday as part of the Idaho chemistry committee meeting to be held in connection with the Chamber convention.

Murphy reported that other phases of chemistry—including possibilities of raising rubber-producing plants in Idaho—will be discussed. Information was being gathered on the guayule plant, similar to sagebrush, and goldenrod, both of which produce a milk-like substance from which rubber can be produced.

"We haven't been able to find out yet whether guayule can be grown in Idaho, but we know that goldenrod can," Murphy said.

STUDENT STAMP SALE AT $1.235

At a pep assembly yesterday at the Twin Falls high school preceding the Nampa-Twin Falls basketball game last night, Principal Edward B. Rogel announced that a total of $1,235.15 worth of United States defense bonds and stamps had been purchased by students of the school thus far, through sales on three days.

Wednesday's sales brought a new high of $115, as compared with $10.55 worth bought Dec. 18, and the $47.40 bought the first day of the sale, Dec. 10.

At the assembly, Yell King Dick Lawrence made several announcements concerning the game, and the yell squad led the student body in yells and singing of variety songs.

The pep band made its first presentation of its arrangement of "Chattanooga Choo-Choo," which was well-received by the students.

Pledge of allegiance to the flag was led by Bob Jones, student body president.

NURSE, BUS LINE GET TIRE OKAYS

A public health nurse and a stage line were granted authorization today to purchase new tires as the county ration program swung into its second full day of operation.

Board members were preparing to act on selection of tire and tube inspectors for Buhl. Nominations will be submitted by Mayor C. C. Voeller, Buhl, a member of the three-man board.

The traveling public health nurse who received authorization to buy two new tires and two new tubes was Eva Kaloust. The stage line, which got permission to buy two tires was Sun Valley stages, operated by John L. Schwin. The operator did not seek an O. K. for tube purchase.

Schwinn's authorization was listed as 6R-2 on the ration board records; the nurse's was 6R-3. Authorization 6R-1 went yesterday to J. L. Personius, operator of the Twin Falls-Wells stage line. Personius asked for two tires and one tube; he was given permission to buy one tire and one tube. The tire inspector found one of the tires and the one tube still usable.

Board members stressed the fact that purchase authorizations will be refused if inspection shows tires can be used further or can be recapped.

COYOTE HUNT IS SET FOR SUNDAY

Next coyote hunt for this section will be staged Sunday starting at 10:30 a. m. at a point near the old gun club grounds south of the city. I. G. Prescott said this afternoon.

All persons are welcome to participate in the hunt and Prescott said that more horses and riders are needed. No guns are permitted, the coyotes being run down by six stag and trail hounds and then clubbed to death if the dogs haven't done the job before we get there on the horses.

Sunday's hunt will start at a point one mile south of the airport, the spot being reached by driving out the South Park road, past the store area, and continuing on over the low and highline canals until the airport is passed on the left. The pelts are sold and the funds thrown into a "pot" for a dance and supper which will be staged at a later date.

On a coyote hunt yesterday in that locality several animals were killed. One of the trailing hounds was lost and Prescott asked that anyone seeing the dog report this fact to him. The dog is red and white, has long ears and a bobbed tail. It has Prescott's name on a collar worn around its neck.

WOOL GROWERS RETAIN SOULEN

BOISE, Jan. 9 (AP)—Idaho sheepmen headed back to ranches and camps today to prepare for spring lambing after reelecting officers of their state association and adopting resolutions opposing extension of federal control over public land and urging reduction of governmental expenditures.

Harry B. Soulen, Weiser, was re-elected president of the Idaho Wool Growers' association for a third term. Also reelected were Tom Gooding, Ketchum, vice-president; H. L. Finch, Soda Springs; J. C. Siddoway, Teton; J. D. Little, Howe, and Frank E. Wilson, Hammett. All directors of the board of directors.

"Inasmuch as the state of Idaho has only 28 per cent of its area under private ownership, it is unfortunate that a federal agency should attempt to acquire more land and take it off the tax rolls, especially at a time when government, both state and national, is demanding more taxes," one resolution said.

The group also expressed opposition to continuance of WPA, NYA, the soil conservation service and similar agencies. A resolution urged that all unnecessary expenditure of federal funds be immediately stopped.

The group also asked local selective service boards to defer men necessary to agricultural labor.

ARMY ACCEPTS 51 OF 55 RECRUITS

Sgt. Frank Morris, officer in charge of the army recruiting station at the city hall, this afternoon said he had been informed that 51 of the 55 men he recruited here during the month of December had passed final examinations and have now been accepted in the service.

Morris at the same time announced that Arthur Bruce Painter, Twin Falls, who left here with a group on Jan. 5 for service as an enlisted man in the air corps, has instead been accepted as an aviation cadet and has been sent to Bakersfield, Calif., for flight training. On successful completion of a seven months course, Painter will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the army reserve and will immediately be assigned to active duty with one of the army air squadrons as pilot. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Painter.

Driving Car Over Fire Hose Costs Autoist Here $10

Pleading guilty to a charge of driving over a fire hose, Marion L. Rowe, Twin Falls, today paid a fine of $10 after appearing before Municipal Judge J. O. Humphrey.

The charge against Rowe also included that of operating a motor vehicle without a valid driver's license.

Records at the station show the offense of driving over a fire hose occurred the evening of Jan. 6 after firemen responded to an alarm in the 200 block of Main avenue east.

Police officials pointed out that driving over a fire hose damages it in some cases, causing it to break because of the pressure of water.

MURTAUGH VOTES SATURDAY SCHOOL

MURTAUGH, Jan. 9 (Special)—School defense movement to help relieve the anticipated farm labor shortage widened in Magic Valley today as the Murtaugh board of trustees announced a five-week trial of Saturday classes.

The Murtaugh action follows that of Kimberly, which blazed the way in what may become an areawide step.

Murtaugh trustees said they deemed the Saturday school plan advisable in view of the serious lack of farm workers anticipated when spring work opens up. Parents were urged to cooperate in the plan by keeping students in school.

The program here calls for dismissal on Saturdays at 2:30 p. m., making it possible for parents to do their Saturday shopping even though a little later.

Each five days made up this way, trustees pointed out, sets the spring closing of school one week earlier.

Miss Mabel Porterfield, Bickel school, will be teacher. Husbands and wives of faculty members will be special guests.

Classes in nature study, art and music, and a spelling match will be conducted, and at recess games and relays will divert the guests.

Each attendant will bring a lunch in an old-fashioned lunch pail, and beverages and dessert will be served by the committee.

LOUIS AND BAER TANGLE FOR TITLE TONIGHT

Champion Expects To Score Quick Kayo Over Enemy

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (U.P.)—Joe Louis, fighting for the naval relief fund and personal revenge, defends his world heavyweight title tonight against big Buddy Baer, who knocked him through the ropes and accused him of fouling last May.

Louis, most generous of champions in any division, doesn't get a nickel from tonight's expected indoor record gate of $202,000 at Madison Square Garden, but he anticipates the satisfaction of belting out the California giant in an early round.

Champion Louis wants to do this because such a victory will settle definitely the stormy ring dispute in 15 years. Not since the Dempsey-Turney "long count" in 1927 did any title fight have such a turbulent aftermath as the first meeting of the brown-skinned Louis and the over-sized Californian at Washington.

That night big Buddy amazed the fight world by knocking the Negro champion through the ropes in the first round, only to be stunned later by a blow after the bell ending the sixth round. Buddy was disqualified in the seventh when his seconds claimed "foul" and refused to let him leave his corner.

Contributes All Profits
Promoter Mike Jacobs is contributing all profits of the bout to the navy relief society which also gets Louis' purse. Baer trying to recapture the diadem once worn by brother-Maxie, gets 15 per cent of the net gate and donates two and one-half per cent.

The Garden—house that Tex Rickard built—is virtually certain to be sold out because this is the first important fight of 1942 and because it promises plenty of fireworks, bringing together as it does two knockout artists—two combined weight totals about 450 pounds! Louis has trained for a quick kayo, packing the unusual weight of about 265 pounds. By so doing he will remove the only two remaining smudges on his escutcheon—the trip through the ropes and the charges of foul.

Betting men figure that Jolting Joe will turn the trick with ease. They've made him the lopsided favorite at 5-1, quoting 2 1/2 to 1 that he registers a knockout and even money that "Buddy" doesn't answer the bell for the fifth round.

Rebels Last Bout
Baer, 26 years old and packing about 245 pounds on a five-foot, six-inch beam, laughs down the odds and reminds that he knocked the champion out to the ring apron. He says he was so surprised to see the champion down that he stood back and let Joe's head clear. But he won't make that mistake this time. He would make grim when he talks about the Washington fight. Every one admits that Louis hit him after the bell ended the sixth round. Buddy and his seconds claimed he was fouled, but Louis' favorite referee, Arthur Donovan, refused to call a foul or grant Buddy a five-minute rest period. He merely disqualified Baer at the opening of the seventh round, when his seconds yelled "foul" and refused to leave his corner.

Louis is favored because he was no impressive in training, apparently reaching his physical peak at 27, and because of his amazing record in which he proved the most destructive champion in heavyweight history by knocking out 47 opponents in 55 fights. Baer, too, is a knockout specialist, having belted out 43 of his 54 rivals.

Success In Return Bout
But more important than these figures, in the judgment of betting men, is Bomber Joe's success in return bouts against five opponents: Max Schmeling, Lee Remick, Nat Brown, Bob Pastor and Arturo Godoy. All these he knocked out in the second meeting, although they had been impressive against him in their initial encounter, and Schmeling had knocked him out.

Baer, favored by advantages of weight and height, craves victory tonight not only because of the indignities he suffered at Washington, but also because Louis disgraced the Baer family by giving ex-champion Maxie such a beating in 1935 that Maxie took the full count on one knee.

If Buddy wins, he is under contract to give Louis a return title fight within 90 days, but it is unlikely that such a bout would occur until next summer because as ex-champion Louis—in draft class 1-A—would be shipped up quickly by Uncle Sam. Louis, who, as expected, he probably will depart for the 21st time in March, for the benefit of an army relief organization.

Idaho Game Department Has Own Idea for Bond Selling

BOISE, Jan. 9 (U.P.)—The U. S. treasury department—can cease operating its bond selling program—the employees of the Idaho state fish and game department have it all figured out.

The plan is already being operated in the department. The 10 employees have agreed to put up 10 cents for each Japanese plane destroyed. The times will be used to buy defense stamps. When enough

Golfers Plot Future Fate Of Tourneys

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (U.P.)—The United States Golf association, governing body of the sport, begins its annual two-day meeting today and the exact effect of the war on the game may be decided at the opening session.

In 1917-18 when America was in the first World war, the entire championship golf schedule was called off for the duration of the war and that's just what may happen.

Several of the country's leading amateurs including Dick Chapman and Bud Ward are in military service and victories in major tournaments would not carry much prestige.

During the last war, ranking golfers participated in "Red Cross" exhibition matches.

Williams Awaits Call Into Service

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 9 (U.P.)—Ted Williams, 23, American league batting champion last season, today awaited an induction call into the army after passing his draft physical exam successfully.

Draft physicians pronounced the 183-pound Boston Red Sox slugger a "healthy specimen." Williams was reclassified into class 1-A after he previously had been deferred because of his dependent mother.

Baer Lacks Coordination To Capture Fight Crown

By JACK GUENTHER

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (U.P.)—Some night, when the cigar smoke at ringside hangs in great billowing clouds and the cheers of the crowd crash down from the stands in waves, an arm will whip out of nowhere to thud against a smooth, tan chin and the reign of the greatest world heavyweight champion will be over.

It will all be over in just about the length of time it takes a man to blink his eye. The graceful body of Joseph Louis Barrow will go limp and then it will slump into the resin dust on the canvas just as the raggle-tangle body of a screeching slumps when the props are jerked suddenly away.

But it won't happen tonight. It won't happen tonight because, ironically enough, the amiable giant of a boy you know as Jacob (Buddy) Baer is too big to make it happen.

6 Points of Boxer
When you set out to pick the winner of any boxing contest, there are six points to keep in mind—punch, ability to take a punch, boxing ability, speed, physical condition and incentive. Several of those factors are so integrated that it is often hard to distinguish among them, but generally speaking they are as accurate measuring gauges as can be found.

Buddy Baer is endowed with four of these six qualifications for a good, and perhaps great, fighter. He has the punch, the capacity for enduring punishment, a superb body and all the heart and will to fight that any boxer can have. But he weighs 245 pounds and stands six feet, six inches high, and this very size costs him the coordination that makes for speed and skill.

Body too Vulnerable
It is an axiom in boxing that a good, healthy belt to the chin speaks louder than the combined voices of all the experts in circulation. Buddy proved that last May when he knocked Louis through the ropes. But, in the end, his big body was too vulnerable for survival; Buddy couldn't protect his vast territory against enemy thrusts.

As for Louis, he is a little more doubtful as a factor. He can hit harder and he can hit faster. He is a better boxer and he is in equally good condition. The moot points are his ability to take it and his incentive to win. At least they are supposed to be his weak spots, if any. However, on this I'm forced to dissent vigorously.

Over the long stretch, Louis is the finest fighter I have ever seen. They say he doesn't like punishment. Well, who does? He was knocked out by Max Schmeling but he climbed back from never-never land against Tony Galento, Jim Braddock and Buddy himself, and he went on to win by a knockout. To me, his physical courage is unquestioned.

Louis is popularly supposed to be on the decline as a fighting machine. True, he had trouble with a few of his recent opponents—but he knocked them out and what more can be asked? If he has lost his punch, it wasn't evident the night he poked Lou Nova. If Louis is slipping, it is in some other direction than down.

Matter of Incentive
Then there's the matter of incentive. Did you ever see a champion, no matter how wealthy, surrender his crown without a struggle? Remember the Barney Ross who was hit by Henry Armstrong and Armstrong in his fade-out with Fritz Zivic? Or even the over-sized clown, Primo Carnera, against Max Baer?

No, Louis has the incentive as long as he is champion and it is with genuine regret that I offer my guess as to what will happen when the bell sends the two boys together tonight. If Louis must be beaten, I would like to see Buddy beat him. Buddy is game, sincere, modest and deserving, and he would be a credit to sports as champion as he is a credit now.

But my guess is this: Joe Louis will knock him out in the third minute of the second round after smashing his big, helpless body at will. Buddy may get up once, twice or three times and he may be on his feet when the referee calls a halt. But I hope not. I wish Baer weren't as game as he is, and I hope Louis ends it as painlessly as he can.

Nampa Defeats Cranney Club By 25-24 Score

They may get beaten, but the chances are the Twin Falls Bruins will give the state championship Class A basketball team at Burley the toughest fight of their lives tonight on the Cassia floor.

For, while Coach Dodge Cranney's boys aren't exactly Pavlov on the floor, they are one of the fightingest squads ever to represent Twin Falls high school.

Last night the Bruins bowed to the invading Nampa Bulldogs for the second time this year—25-24. But they went down battling to the last man, even with three regulars out of the game with fouls.

Substitutes who had never been in a varsity game before were on the floor the last quarter and they gave the experienced Nampa club all it could handle. In fact, it was a free throw after the game ended by substitute Nampa center, Warren Wheeler, that decided the contest.

Carty Ties Score
After Tommy Carty had tied the score three successive times with free throws, Mel Hulbert, who had been putting up a fine game at guard for the Bruins, fouled Wheeler just as the game ended and the Nampa reserves stood on the foul line, cool as a cucumber, and dropped the bucket that decided the Big Six conference engagement and pushed the Bruins deeper down the ladder with a record of one win in four starts.

Nampa badly outplayed the Twin Falls club in the first quarter—although they held only an 8-7 edge at the first time. However, in the second frame the Bruins got back into the game and boosted the score to 16-13 for the Cranney club—at the half time.

But before then a lot of damage had been done to the Bruin starting quintet because Glenn Terry and Glenn Gibb each had three fouls on them, Carney, Otto Florence and Hulbert two each.

Score See-Saws
The scoring see-sawed in the third stanza with the Bruins finishing the quarter on top, 19-18. However, early in the period Terry went out on fouls and a few moments later he was followed by Florence, the lowering center.

Gibb went to the sidelines in the early part of the last quarter—and with him went the last chances of Twin Falls to do much scoring.

Carty, who played the outstanding floor game for the home club, kept the Bruins in the game during the last few moments. Nampa went ahead at 22-19 and Gibb scored a field goal just before he went out to make it 22-21. Then with four minutes to play Tommy tied the score at 22-22 with a gift shot.

Reid Taylor, speedy Bulldog forward, put his club in front at 22-22, but Carty again tied it with a free shot. Another free throw by Taylor again put Nampa in front with 45 seconds to go.

Score Knotted Again
Then with seven seconds left, Carty again came through with the tying score. However, just as the gun sounded, a foul was called on the Bruins and Wheeler made his shot as the two teams stood out in the center of the floor with the game already over.

Preliminary engagement saw the Twin Falls club cut out a close 20-20 decision over the Class B Hotster Hawks. The club held a 15-13 lead in the first half, mainly due to the four baskets tossed in by Gibb in a period of about five minutes in the second quarter. Gibb took scoring honors for the winners with nine points, while Colson topped the losers with seven.

Snead and Nelson Are Others Given Chance To Take Top Money

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9 (U.P.)—A field of 200 linksmen tees off in the $10,000 Los Angeles Open tournament today with little Ben Hogan, "golfer of the year" in 1941, in the familiar role of favorite.

The Texas mite could expect plenty of competition since 10 former winners were shooting for the $3,500 first prize money in this richest fixture of the winter golf circuit.

One was husky Johnny Bulla, who won the tourney a year ago while Hogan was placing third.

Sammy Snead of Hot Springs, Va., and Bryon Nelson of Toledo, O., shared the next place among favorites. Others were Lloyd Mangrum, Willie Hunter, MacDonald Smith, Horton Smith, Lawson Little, Dick Metz and Clayton Hearner.

Hogan caught the eye of local bookmakers by firing a brilliant 63 last Tuesday over the playing course. He carded nine par holes and nine birdies. This, along with his record of consistency, elevated him at once to the favorite's position.

The Hillcrest is shorter than Riviera, scene of last year's play, by 500 yards, but golfers say it is tougher. Narrow down the fairways, it is fringed with hazards. Only one hole, the fourth, lies beyond two long ones by these champions for a par 5. A drive and pitch will put most of them within putting range on the others.

In practice rounds there were several 66's and 67's alongside Hogan's 63, but golfers said the course would be tougher by the weekend. Former winners represented in the opening day field were Ed Dudley, MacDonal Smith, Danny Shute, Vic Ghezzi, Harry Cooper, Jimmy Hines, Jimmy Thomson, Jimmy Demaret and Lawson Little. Of these MacDonald Smith was four times victor and Cooper a double winner.

Comparative Weights
In the United States in winter, women's clothing averages about 2.6 pounds, in comparison to men's clothing which weighs 8.3 pounds.

RYE, SOYBEANS SHOW STRENGTH

CHICAGO, Jan. 9 (UP)—Rye and soybeans showed moderate strength today in a quiet and little changed grain market. Rye closed at 1.25 1/2, 1/2 cent higher, and soybeans were up 1/4 cent to 1.05. Wheat finished 1/2 cent to 1/4 cent higher, corn unchanged, and oats off 1/4 cent.

Traders were slow in most pits as the grain control bill now before the senate. The trade generally expected passage of the measure before the end of the week.
