23 Missing as Sub Sinks Tanker off East Coast

13 ARE RESCUED BY NAVY VESSEL

NORFOLK, Va., Jan. 19 (U.P.)—Twenty-three of a crew of 36 men apparently drowned or were burned to death Sunday morning when the American tanker Allan Jackson was torpedoed by a submarine, burst into flames and sank within five minutes off the North Carolina coast, the fifth naval district revealed today.

It was the third merchant ship sunk within five days close to the Atlantic seaboard. These attacks by enemy submarines and other sinkings in the north Atlantic indicated that the Germans were stepping up their submarine warfare.

There were only 13 known survivors of the Allan Jackson's crew. Six of them, including the skipper and two of his mates, were in the naval hospital here for treatment of "serious injuries."

Four bodies were picked up in the water by the vessel that brought the survivors here last night. There was little hope that any of the rest of the crew survived. The others, it was feared, were trapped and cremated when the Standard Oil tanker became a pyre with flames shooting 100 feet into the air immediately upon being struck by two torpedoes.

The other two ships sunk since last Wednesday were the Panama-registered tanker Norcross, torpedoed three times off the eastern end of Long Island, and the Colombia, a tanker flying the flag of an allied nation, sunk about 75 miles from the port of New York. Two of the Norcross' crew were unaccounted for, and 39 have been rescued. The number rescued from the Colombia has not been revealed.

British Prime Minister Winston Churchill flew all the way when he returned to London last week. Speculation here was that he went by plane instead of boat because of the submarine menace.

First news of the new sinking was released last night by the office of the commandant of the fifth

CASUALTY

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (U.P.)—The straw hat is the latest victim of the war and will not survive after this summer.

Manufacturers say sufficient straw braid is on hand for men's and women's hats for this spring and summer, but loss of far eastern supplies makes the industry dependent entirely on domestic substitutes and Panama from Ecuador. The war already has cut off imports from Switzerland and Italy.

782 CIVILIANS IN GROUP CAPTURED BY INVASION UNIT

TOKYO, Jan. 19 (Official broadcasts recorded by United Press in New York, San Francisco and London)—The official Domei news agency said today that 1,235 American survivors from Wake island, which fell to the Japanese Dec. 23 after a 15-day siege, had reached Japan.

The party included 30 officers, 423 non-commissioned officers and enlisted naval men, and 782 civilians, it said.

The prisoners, most of whom wore heavy beards and unpressed uniforms, brought duffle bags containing their personal effects, the dispatch said. Some of the officers brought trunks.

Stories Differ

They included Commander Winfield Scott Cunningham of Wisconsin, listed as commander of the American forces on Wake, Adm. Paul Putnam, commander of the air force there, and Nathan Daniel, the civilian who had been in charge of 1,505 defense employees, Domei said.

The navy department said in Washington that it could not confirm that Cunningham had been at Wake. It previously had announced that Maj. James P. S. Devereux of the marines had been the commander of the 13 officers and 365 marines who resisted the Japanese for 15 days. Japan has made no mention of Devereux.

First Attack Fatal

Putnam was quoted by the agency that the Japanese attack destroyed eight planes in the first five seconds and wiped out half the American ground personnel. A third of the pilots went out of action, it said, and all aircraft on Wake were incapacitated by the day before the Japanese landed.

The cabinet information board spokesman described the American navy announcement that a submarine had sunk three Japanese merchantmen off Tokyo bay as "absolutely false." He denied American reports that a vessel of the Yawata class had been destroyed but said "one small ship" had been sunk off Izu.

PINBALL PAY-OFF TERMED ILLEGAL

BOISE, Ida., Jan. 19 (U.P.)—District Judge C. E. Winstead, ruling on a demurrer, today declared "pay-off" pinball machines were illegal under Idaho gambling laws.

The ruling came on a demurrer filed by Kenneth O'Leary, Ada county prosecuting attorney. O'Leary, Sheriff Don Hendrick and Police Chief George Haskin were defendants in a suit brought by R. E. Peppel and R. L. Graves, both of Boise, to prevent law enforcement officers from confiscating their pinball devices.

Peppel and Graves contended the machines did not come under provisions of Idaho anti-gambling statutes.

Judge Winstead held that the Idaho gambling law was "a general prohibitive act" and made no distinction between "a lawful gambling game and an unlawful one."

Winstead's ruling on the demurrer cleared the way for early hearing on the injunction proceedings.

Reporter Tells "Inside" Story of Lombard's Life

(Editor's note: Of the press corps in the movie capital, none knew Carole Lombard better than Frederick C. Othman, United Press Hollywood correspondent. He reported her professional career, and, in addition, was a close friend. Therefore, he is particularly qualified to write of her life and her personality.)

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 19 (U.P.)—It is difficult even now to realize that the Lombard laughter never will be heard again, that the Lombard jokes have ended, that the beautiful and gay Carole is gone.

She was the only strictly honest, glamorous girl in Hollywood, and, certainly, the only one who said what she thought when she thought it. She was the girl who opposed war on principle, who once threatened to chain Clark Gable to a barn door if he tried to enlist, but, when her country became involved in war, became one of the most indefatigable war workers in Hollywood.

Actress, Mother—Crash Victims

Lull Reported In Jap. Attack On Bataan Area

By HARRISON SALISBURY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (U.P.)—Japanese forces have sent skirmishing parties against Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Bataan lines, the war department reported today, possibly in an attempt to find an opening for a big new attack.

There was a lull in major operations, the communique revealed, and fighting was of a "desultory" nature.

The pause in the Japanese attack appeared to reflect MacArthur's success in beating off the large-scale frontal and infiltration efforts which the Japanese have launched in the past week.

The communique reported that Japanese patrols engaged in brisk activity but that nothing more than "incidental skirmishes" occurred with "indiscrete results."

Air Force Inactive

The Japanese air force was relatively inactive, confining itself to reconnaissance flights.

MacArthur reported that the Japanese are introducing increasingly harsh measures upon the Philippine areas under occupation.

"Philippines in the occupied areas," said the communique, "have been summarily dispossessed of their means of transportation and other equipment. Native farmers have been evicted from their homes and forced into labor gangs. Harvested crops and food stores have been seized by the invaders."

Casualties' List Runs High After Singapore Raids

By HAROLD GUARD

SINGAPORE, Jan. 19 (U.P.)—Japanese troops attacked heavily today at opposite ends of a 40-mile line on the west Malaya front and forced a British withdrawal below the mouth of the Muar river 90 miles from Singapore.

Strong imperial airplane forces rushed to the aid of the ground troops and made a heavy bombing and machine gunning attack on Japanese transports along the roads in the river area.

A communique of the Malaya command said Japanese fighter planes attacked the imperial bombers and imperial fighter planes intervened. In a dramatic dog fight one Japanese plane was downed, one was damaged and a third was probably destroyed and it was admitted that three imperial planes were missing.

Describing the new Japanese offensive, the communique said the Japanese attacked in the Muar river and Segamat fronts. In the Muar area, toward the river mouth on the west coast, it was admitted that the Japanese succeeded in infiltrating a number of men along the coast and said there had been some withdrawal of imperial troops to meet the movement.

The second attack zone was at Segamat, on the railroad 40 miles up the Muar river, which runs southward to empty on the west coast. The communique said it was now known that three Japanese planes were destroyed during the heavy raids on Singapore yesterday. The casualty list was put at 50 killed and 135 wounded, mostly civilians, bringing the total casualties in raids Saturday and Sunday to 180 killed and 235 wounded.

It was said officially today that 15 Japanese planes were certainly destroyed over Singapore last week and that probably 10 damaged planes crashed.

Despite further withdrawals of the British forces on the west coast, it was understood that the situation at the front continued to be more encouraging.

The Japanese were making their gains by infiltration. Instead of attacking along the whole front, apparently because of the punishment they had taken at the hands of Australian and Indian troops.

The Indians are doing a big job everywhere. I heard this morning something more of their marksmanship. They shot off the tail of a Japanese bomber, flying high, with a single shot. It was the second time Indian anti-aircraft gunners had shot down a Japanese plane with a single round.

Gen. Henry Gordon Bennett, the Australian commander, said at the front yesterday that everything was going according to plan.

He said the Japanese still seemed to avoid major action.

It was agreed here that the Japanese might possibly come much closer than 100 miles to Singapore. It is possible to say that such an advance is probable, but with every mile of the advance now, optimism here rises. There is even talk about driving the invaders back up the peninsula in time.

JEPPESEN NAMED TO RETAIN POST

H. C. Jeppesen, superintendent of the Twin Falls county general hospital, was reappointed today to serve until January of 1943.

The one-year reappointment was made by the board of county commissioners. Mr. Jeppesen has headed the general hospital since 1934.

Other matters announced by the commissioners included:

(1) Reappointment of John P. Hunt, Buhl, as director of the county noxious weed bureau. The term is also for one year.

(2) Reappointment of Carl Irwin, Twin Falls, as member of the county general hospital board of control. The term is three years. Hold-over members are H. O. Belknap and C. H. Hempleman, Twin Falls, whose terms expire next year, and James H. Shields, Buhl, and Dr. John P. Coughlin, Twin Falls, whose terms end in 1944.

Fair Board Hearing

Setting of 10 a. m. Friday, Feb. 13, as time for public hearing prior to appointment of the Twin Falls county fair board. The hearing has not been held in other years but Prosecutor Everett M. Sweely recommended that it be inaugurated this year.

Incumbent members of the board are W. M. Olds, Buhl; R. K. Dillingham, Buhl; Bert A. Sweet, Twin Falls; T. V. Hall, Kimberly; Walter McQuinn, Teton; William Quigley, Camford; Claude H. Dettweiler, Twin Falls.

PROSPECTS BRIGHT FOR TRUCE IN LONG LABOR FIGHT

PEACE SESSIONS AGREED UPON TO SETTLE CONFLICT

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19 (AP)—The prospects for labor peace were brighter today than at any time since the Congress of Industrial Organizations-American Federation of Labor negotiations broke off in April, 1939.

It was believed here that a peace conference would resume this week looking toward fulfillment of former CIO President John L. Lewis' request for a merger of the two warring factions. Lewis called for resumption of efforts to end the labor war last Saturday. AFL President William Green accepted immediately. CIO President Philip Murray has not commented but is expected to go along with Lewis' plan.

Ponder New Leader

Meanwhile, informal speculation centered on the possibility of George Meany, AFL secretary-treasurer, to become the new head of any reorganized labor movement. He has been in ascendancy in power in the AFL and, more than any other AFL official, has been able to work with the CIO.

There was no indication yet what conditions the two factions would place, if any, on the formation of a united labor movement. But it was recalled that during previous peace talks Lewis insisted that Green retire before the CIO would agree to a united labor organization. Green always has insisted that any united labor peace movement be made on the basis of CIO unions returning to the AFL fold.

Not Available

Neither Green nor Lewis was available over the week-end for comments on reports that Green would retire from the AFL to help further the peace moves, or the various reports that Meany would become president of the new organization. Murray, secretary-treasurer, and Lewis, possibly, to become a vice-president.

The Lewis' announcement was cheering news to labor leaders here who have felt for a long time that the only basis for a satisfactory settlement of labor problems confronting the war production program would be settlement or a truce of the AFL-CIO dispute.

Chairman Elbert D. Thomas, D., Utah, of the senate labor committee believed that the "ice had been broken" and that now there was no reason why an understanding could not be reached.

Meat and Dairy Report Is Filed

M. K. Jarvis, deputy city meat and dairy inspector, today filed reports with the city clerk covering the months of November and December, 1941.

The November report shows, 1,554 animals were slaughtered during the period while the December report shows total number of kills at 1,886. Included were 404 beefs, 88 veal, 1,312 hogs and 82 sheep.

CONNERLEY — Funeral services for Fred Connerley, 67, resident of Twin Falls for 14 years, will be held Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. in the Twin Falls mortuary chapel, Rev. L. D. Smith, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, officiating. Interment will be in Sunset memorial park.

SENTENCE TODAY IN DUCK KILLING

Sentence was to be ordered late this afternoon in a probate court complaint asserting that N. L. Dillington shot a wild Mallard duck unlawfully Sunday.

The young man entered a plea of guilty this morning before Probate Judge C. A. Bailey. Complaint was signed by Grover C. Davis, district conservation officer.

Court attaches indicated they understood there were four youths, including some minors, in the shooting party. Dillington, however, was said to have been in possession of the duck when the officer stopped the group.

RULES RELAXED ON DRAFT NAMES

Local draft boards may now furnish the press with names of registrants about to be inducted but are not permitted to give the total number of men "covered by quotas and calls," according to a bulletin received today by area No. 1 board from Col. Norman B. Addison, selective service executive officer.

The formal announcement of a lessening in the draft secrecy policy makes official the change announced a week ago in press dispatches from Washington.

In addition to furnishing the names of men about to be inducted, the local draft boards can now permit publication of photographs of the registrants. The bulletin today added that there is "no objection" to public posting of the names of persons who have entered the armed forces from any community.

ALLOTMENT PLAN DEADLINE IS SET

ment with a master file for the purpose of anticipating the extent of the American public's response to the government's appeal for defense funds.

In the case of those already included in the payroll allotment program, it will not amount to a pledge for additional funds, but will merely provide a further record of the amount of defense stamps or bonds an individual is committed to purchase within a specified time.

Allotment Plan
R. S. Toffelmire, regional coordinator for this district, today urged all employers, particularly those with eight or more employees, to have the payroll allotment plan fully established in their places of business by Jan. 22 so county chairmen of the defense savings organizations may in turn start collecting final report cards from these individual employers immediately after that date.

"In some instances, employers with less than eight employees, cooperating with the allotment plan," Toffelmire explained, "but in all cases where eight or more are employed, the employer is expected to come into the program. In any event, the new pledge cards will afford every employee and all others with an income, the opportunity of pledging themselves to a systematic method of purchasing stamps and bonds."

Urges Early Compliance
"It should be obvious why state headquarters is urging that all payroll allotments be completed immediately so final reports may be sent to Boise before the end of this month," Toffelmire added. "Unless this work is completed by that time, confusion and unnecessary work will result when distribution of the pledge cards gets underway."

Toffelmire urged particularly that all executive chairmen in this district complete the work in their immediate territories without further delay.

Localities in the district included: Twin Falls, Buhl, Gooding, Shoshone, Jerome, Burley and Rupert.

PLANNERS SLATE MEET
Caldwell, Ida., Jan. 19 (AP)—Members of the state agricultural planning committee will meet here Jan. 26 and 27 for further study of plans to increase Idaho's productive capacity under the war program, it was announced today.

SIX MORE RATED AT DRAFT 'TOP'

Six more draft registrants were in class 1-A, the "front line," following announcement of action taken at the latest meeting of Twin Falls county area No. 1 board.

Four were classified 1-A and two were reclassified into the top bracket from the now-eliminated class 1-H (men over 28).

Other results of the lengthy session of draft board members:

Six put in 1-B, limited service; two in 1-C, already inducted; 17 reclassified from 1-A to 1-C; one put in 4-D (minister); two in 3-A, dependency deferment; three in 2-B, defense occupation; two in 4-F, unfit.

Reclassifications included: One from 1-A to 3-A; four from 1-A to 4-F; one from 1-H to 1-C; two from 1-H to 1-B; one from 1-A to 1-B; one from 1-B to 3-A; one from 4-F to 1-B; one from 1-B to 2-B; one from 1-H to 2-B; one from 2-B to 1-B; one from 4-A (previous service) to 3-A; four from 1-H to 3-A; six cases continued.

Education Heads Approve School Defense Program

Coordinated program of school defense activities had been charted today following an area-wide Magic Valley conference in Twin Falls Saturday afternoon.

Educational defense leaders from all south central counties except Blaine mapped the program, approved the emergency and long-range setup outlined in Twin Falls county, and elected chiefs to head the coordinated defense effort. The group endorsed five new points for addition to the Twin Falls county plan it approved.

Morgan, Denman Elected
Supt. A. W. Morgan, Twin Falls, was elected chairman of the south central Idaho district education defense committee. Supt. George Denman, Burley, was named vice-chairman. Those two, with Mrs. Florence Haight, Burley, outlined the district plan.

The five added recommendations were these:

1) All school district employees be offered the opportunity to sign pledges for the purchase of U. S. defense savings bonds and stamps on a monthly basis.

2) Each school to give consideration to local labor needs and meet the situation in terms of local conditions and in accordance with existing state school laws and state board of education regulations.

3) Schools cooperate with existing agencies in the stimulation and promotion of more home gardens.

4) The district education defense committee be used as a clearing house for making available to the public accurate information relative to the defense and war activities program.

5) Hot lunch programs to be developed in all schools.

Up to Each County

These proposals, combined with the extensive Twin Falls county education defense committee's program as given in full in the Evening Times last Thursday, were taken back to each individual county by the representatives who attended Saturday's gathering. The program will be adapted for use in each county, and will be sent to Boise for state approbation.

Those on hand for the meeting were: Mr. Morgan, chairman, Twin Falls county; J. J. Van Every, chairman, and Ralph Nyblad, Minidoka county; George Kink, chairman, Mr. Denman, Mrs. T. H. Harris and Mrs. Haight, Cassia county; Mrs. Nellie Roberts, Jerome county; H. M. Harger, chairman, and Miss Angie Durfee, Lincoln county; C. D. Merrill, chairman, and Mrs. Hattie Lamson, Camas county; Mrs. Florence Hughes, chairman, Gooding county.

SCOTT URGED AS DEFENSE LEADER

Voting unanimous approval of a resolution urging appointment of Howard Scott, head of Technocracy, Inc., as director-general of all U. S. defense operations, the Twin Falls organization in Technocracy joined a nationwide movement in favor of Mr. Scott.

The resolution was approved Friday night in the form of a recommendation to President Roosevelt, according to W. C. Davis, Technocracy organizer in this area.

The motion, as originated by Technocracy, Inc., and sent to the local group, termed Scott "the one man in America who has demonstrated the knowledge, the vision and the capacity to install and execute the strategy of total war for the defense of America."

Aviator Returns; Has Ranking as Instructor Now

Harold Quinn Stokes came back to Twin Falls today after being away for 19 weeks and he brought with him a commercial flying license together with an instructor's rating.

Stokes, who was a graduate of the summer session, 1940 civilian flight class at the local airport, has just completed advanced training at Spokane and will stay here until Feb. 1 at which he has accepted employment in a government-approved training school. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Stokes and his wife accompanied him back to Twin Falls.

Stokes is the only student to achieve such a high rating through CPT channels since civilian classes were first organized here. He obtained his appointment to Spokane on a merit basis through O. A. Kelker, then civilian pilot coordinator for the Chamber of Commerce and the government at the local field.

Stokes said that during his stay here he will "rest" by aiding Maynard Craig, local airport manager and instructor, in teaching students at the municipal field.

MOOSE SCHEDULE SESSION FEB. 15

Moose Legion, including Rupert, Twin Falls, Jerome, Buhl and Glenns Ferry members, will meet in Twin Falls Sunday, Feb. 15, for the next district session, according to plans made at a group meeting yesterday at Rupert Moose hall.

Forty-five guests attended a dinner prior to the business session. C. C. Willis, great north Moose, was toastmaster, and also conducted the meeting. George W. Cole, Rupert, read several poems of his own composition; Dr. Floyd Ham, Twin Falls, and several others gave talks. A male quartet from Rupert sang.

Women of the Moose, Rupert, who served the dinner were Mrs. Blanch Grew, Mrs. Ethel Dockstad, Mrs. Mae Bell, Mrs. Camilla Ralls, Mrs. Mary Coggill, Mrs. Ella Edwards and Mrs. Ella Cole.

O. E. Dockstad invited the group to attend a free public dance in the Pacific building, Rupert, Saturday evening, Jan. 24, with an eight-piece orchestra playing.

OBJECTOR TO BE FREED ON BOND

William Elmore Hagler, 26-year-old Twin Falls draft registrant accused of violating selective service regulations, may be released under $1,000 bond "in a day or two," the Evening Times was advised this afternoon by Paul S. Boyd, assistant U. S. attorney at Boise.

Hagler, now held at the Elmore county jail in Mountain Home for refusing to go to a civilian public service camp for conscientious objectors, was to have been freed under bond today. But the bond, Boyd told the Evening Times, was not in correct form.

The corrected bond is to be filed

Looking Toward The Days Ahead

WITH THE ADVENT of war, we are facing new problems in every state that we serve. These become more complex as the arming of the nation gains impetus. Directly or indirectly, every one of us will play a more important part in this unprecedented endeavor as momentous days roll along in 1942.

Naturally, in this emergency the country turns to the telephone for quick communication. Not only are more calls being made from each telephone, but the average length of calls has increased. We are adding new facilities as fast as obtainable where the need exists, but shortage of materials has already curtailed some of these planned additions. First things must be kept first!

We offer these suggestions with an appreciation of your past cooperation:

1. Don't trust to memory or old lists for telephone numbers. A wrong number is a wasted call.
2. Answering your telephone promptly saves time and facilities.
3. Give persons you call enough time to answer.
4. If there are delays on your calls, we hope that you will realize we are exerting every effort to keep them to a minimum.

We want to continue to give you the best possible service we know how to render under difficult conditions, and we will sincerely appreciate your continuing help.

BROKEN BODY OF CAROLE LOMBARD RECOVERED FROM PLANE

22 FOUND DEAD AFTER CRASH OF BIG TWA LINER

By ROBERT C. MILLER

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Jan. 19 (AP)—The broken body of Screen Actress Carole Lombard, killed with 21 others in the crash of a transport plane Friday night, was prepared for shipment to Hollywood today in the custody of her grim-faced husband, Clark Gable.

Only by using dental charts, flown to Las Vegas from Hollywood, could authorities identify the crushed, burned body of the blond actress. Mountain climbers and soldiers recovered it Sunday from a snowbank beneath the torn wing of the Transcontinental and Western Airlines plane, which smashed into the steep cliff of a mountain peak.

Miss Lombard's body and eight others, still unidentified, were wrapped in brown army blankets and raised with ropes up the face of the 400-foot cliff. They were carried by horses to the mountain community of Good Springs and taken down the mountainside in army ambulances.

Gable remained in seclusion at a Las Vegas hotel last night and did not attend the inquest held to clear the way for the return of his wife's body to Hollywood.

Receivers Composure
Almost frantic Saturday while the search was in progress, Gable recovered his composure Sunday and remained quietly at his hotel. He spoke infrequently, only to his associates and only about decisions necessary to prepare for the return of the body and for funeral plans. His face was pale except for dark circles under his eyes.

Gable, "Pappy" to Miss Lombard, had made two fruitless attempts to join the searching parties Saturday before he returned to the hotel. When the news came, he was sitting with Don McElwaine, of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio, who received a note from the searchers. "Bad news?" asked Gable quietly. "I'm afraid it looks hopeless," McElwaine replied.

"Oh, God," Gable moaned, dropped his head into his hands. A coroner's jury held the inquest in connection with Miss Lombard's death in the rice-straw basement office of Justice of the Peace Malon Brown of Las Vegas. The jury reported that the actress died of injuries received in the crash of a TWA airliner en route from Las Vegas to Los Angeles, near "Double or Nothing" mountain.

Flipped Coin
The name of the peak added an ironic note to the actress' death. Miss Lombard and her agent, Otto Winkler, who also was a victim of the crash, flipped a coin to decide whether they should make their defense bond selling trip to the middle west by plane or rail.

Remains Identified
Miss Lombard's body at the inquest. Strands of the actress' blond hair and letters from her purse confirmed the identification made with the dental charts.

Funeral plans for Miss Lombard were indefinite pending identification and return of the body of her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Peters, another victim of the crash. Burial will be made at the Forest Lawn Memorial park, where Jean Harlow, Will Rogers, Marie Dressler and other Hollywood celebrities were buried.

Only One Identified
Miss Lombard's body was the only one of the nine recovered to be identified last night. Tentative identification of Mrs. Peters rested on papers found in a purse. Others, including some of the 15 officers and enlisted men of the army ferry command, could be identified imperfectly by bits of clothing and insignia on uniform buttons.

Guards were posted at the wreck during the night awaiting the return of rescue workers to recover remains of others who died in the smash.

When the mountain climbers arrived at the wreck yesterday almost at the 8,000-foot level, they found only the tail of the twin-motored ship intact. The word "Skyclub" could be read on one fin. The two motors, broken from the plane, lay close together. The fuselage was torn and twisted. Bodies were scattered, some outside, some inside the wreckage.

The body of Miss Lombard lay beneath one wing, almost buried in the snow. Other bodies outside the plane were covered partially by snow.

All Died Instantly
Those who saw the wreck agreed that all must have died instantly. The plane seemed to have plunged squarely into the side of the precipice a few hundred feet below the summit. A black smudge from oil and smoke marked the point of impact on the brown rock.

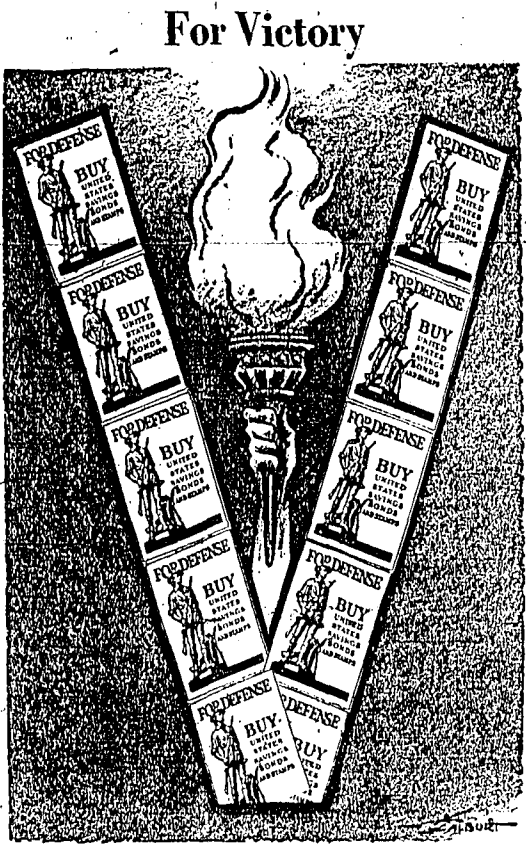

The plane had plowed through treetops and telescoped against the cliff, leaving the tail only a few feet from the face of the rock. Bits of wreckage and passengers' hats, handkerchiefs and pieces of clothing festooned the pine trees.

Strips of warped metal were thrown far from the twisted mass of silver and black wreckage. The plane's tail was upside down.

The plane lay in a ravine with almost sheer sides. Cause of the crash remained a secret, pending release of a CAA report. The plane halted at Las Vegas for fuel just after dark Friday evening, then took off for Los Angeles. A few minutes later it plunged into the mountain.

Mayor Appointed as Defense Board Aide
Gov. Chase A. Clark today announced appointment of Mayor Joe Keebler as executive aide to the Twin Falls county defense council.

"By this designation," the governor wrote the mayor, "you will coordinate your efforts to make voluntary suggestions to our county defense council for their consideration, and more especially give to them the services of your city or organizations under your control and guidance."

WOOL GROWERS ARRIVE IN UTAH

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Jan. 19 (AP)—Advancer groups of the National Wool Growers association arrived here today to complete plans for the association's 77th annual convention which is expected to draw 700 delegates to sessions beginning Wednesday.

The Utah Wool Marketing association will hold its annual meeting with the growers. Delegates, principally from states west of the Mississippi, are expected to attend the two meetings.

Convention officials said that the part wool will play in the "victory" program will dominate discussions. Featured speakers will be Brig. Gen. C. L. Corbin, quartermaster corps, in charge of wool procurement for the army; and J. P. Davis, in charge of leather and textile matters for the office of production management. Both will speak Wednesday.

Convention meetings will continue through Friday.

Books for Buddies

Ten million books will be sought for men of the United States armed forces and merchant marine through this poster, designed by the nationally known illustrator, C. B. Falls. Sponsors of the Victory book campaign are the American Red Cross, American Library association and the United Service Organizations. In Twin Falls the library is accepting donated books for the armed forces; Boy Scouts will call for the books if the library is notified.

WAR VETS GIVEN CHANCE FOR CCC

World war and Spanish-American war veterans of Idaho may be enrolled in the civilian conservation corps on Jan. 28 and enrollment quotas for the state at that time will be 23.

All interested in these openings should communicate with the veterans administration, Boise, at once. Application forms will be furnished upon request.

Veterans selected must be unemployed and in need of employment. Veterans who have been discharged from the CCC within the past three months will not be eligible for re-enrollment during this period. Veterans may be enrolled without regard to public relief requirements. Preference will, however, be given to

SURVIVORS FROM 2 SHIPS RESCUED

AN EASTERN CANADIAN PORT, Jan. 19 (AP)—Forty survivors of two freighters sunk in the north Atlantic were recovering from exposure today in a hospital and seamen's home here.

Six were from the 37-man crew of a torpedoed Panamanian freighter rescued after drifting three and a half days in an open boat. The others—excluding three women—were crew members from a Russian vessel which sank near the Nova Scotia coast after striking a submerged object.

A warship rescued seven men from the Panamanian ship, but one, a Norwegian second mate, died yesterday.

W. A. Finch of St. Johns, N. Y., said the freighter, was torpedoed twice by a small submarine. He and his mates, drifting in an ice-infested lifeboat, sighted two more submarines, he said, one so large it looked like a cave. It fired a torpedo across the bow of the lifeboat but was scared off by flares, he said. Nineteen men were in the lifeboat when it left the ship, Finch said, but 11, including the captain, died before it was sighted by a warship. Eleven others left the ship in the first officer's boat, but survivors believed that boat had been struck by a torpedo fired at the freighter.

The survivors of the Russian freighter spoke little except Russian and it was difficult to determine just how their vessel had been sunk.

veterans receiving aid from public relief agencies. They can enroll only in the state in which they maintain legal residence.

TIRE HELP GIVEN TO BEET-HAULING

JEROME, Jan. 19 (Special)—C. A. Forbes, assistant state director of the rationing, outlined various rulings before the board rationing committee here Friday evening in Wood county courthouse.

Representatives were in attendance from Twin Falls, Jerome and Lincoln counties. Mr. Forbes addressed members of the tire rationing board of Gooding Saturday evening.

New Rulings
From the regional offices in San Francisco, Mr. Forbes stated he had received three new rulings of major importance to beet truckers and to breeders, and also a ruling announced on snow grips.

In the ruling relating to beet trucks it was announced that all farmers hauling beets to factories, and not having spare tires, may obtain one without turning in an old tire. They must in all cases, however, furnish an affidavit to their respective boards.

Breeders hauling stallions or bulls are permitted to have tires for trailers and light trucks, but in no cases may they have tires for their passenger cars.

Snowgrips
Anyone needing snowgrips may acquire them under regulation ruling. If they come within the category so designated by the O. P. A. By relinquishing tires which they may have, until such time as the snow or mud has disappeared, and by returning the snowgrips to the dealer, they may then receive their old tires.

Snowgrips must be paid for upon delivery, and a certificate must be in possession of the car owner, from his respective tire rationing board. In all instances, no tire or tube may be granted without inspection and certification from the county rationing board. In all cases, old tires must be turned in with the certificates.

Mr. Forbes also stressed the fact that in all cases, regardless of their condition at the time of inspection, the rubber must be on the equipment.

Another matter brought out at the session—of high importance to canal companies—was that even company executives cannot get passenger car tires for business use unless present ruling is changed.

SHIPS CRASH OFF JERSEY'S SHORE

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., Jan. 19 (AP)—Six survivors of the United Fruit freighter San Jose, which collided with the Grace line cargo ship Santa Elisa, and sank off Atlantic City, N. J., Saturday night, were recovering from exposure here today.

Coast guard officials at Philadelphia said five men still were missing from the San Jose. Twenty-nine members of the Santa Elisa's crew were landed by coast guard boats at Beach Haven, N. J., and other survivors were understood to have been landed at other coastal points. Neither ship carried passengers.

Third naval district headquarters in New York said that no enemy action was involved in the collision. As a war precaution, both vessels were operating with dimmed running lights.

A hole was stove in the San Jose and it sank rapidly. Fire broke out on the Santa Elisa and was not brought under control until nearly noon yesterday. The Santa Elisa was towed to New York for repairs.

AID

DENVER, Jan. 19 (AP)—Confusion was added to an already unpeddled traffic jam at a busy intersection here last night when a map started shooting.

"Help! Police! Murder! Call the police!"

Motorists jumped from their cars to go to the rescue but were unable to find any victim of foul play. The shouting continued.

"Call the police! Help!" Finally the yell was traced to a police patrol car. There, in the back seat, a man sat shouting to an officer.

It seemed patrolmen had stopped to unsmash the traffic jam on their way to headquarters with 40-year-old John Gallea who had been involved in an auto crash, a short time before.

Today Gallea faced charges of drunkenness, disturbing the peace, resisting an officer, driving under the influence of liquor and reckless and careless driving.

And he didn't want an officer, he wanted aspirin.

ARMY COMMAND MOVED TO UTAH

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 18 (AP)—Headquarters of the new communications zone of the western theater of operations are now in operation at Fort Douglas, Salt Lake City, Utah, the army western defense command announced today.

Transfer of the communications zone and ninth corps area headquarters from San Francisco to Utah placed it in a better position to carry out its supply, transportation and other important administrative duties in the western theater of operations, the army said.

Lieut. Gen. J. L. DeWitt, commander of the western theater of operations, will retain headquarters at the Presidio of San Francisco. His command comprises California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Nevada, Arizona and Alaska.

Maj. Gen. Jay L. Benedict commands the communications zone and the ninth corps area.

His headquarters at Fort Douglas, close to Salt Lake City, is in the midst of a railroad and highway net and is therefore well situated to perform administrative functions.

A small section of the communications zone headquarters will be maintained at presidio of San Francisco, including the civilian conservation corps divisions and sections of a few other offices. This will facilitate transaction of business.

The headquarters of the communications zone closed at the presidio of San Francisco at noon yesterday simultaneously with the opening of the new headquarters at Fort Douglas.

Strange Things Come Crawling

When you turn over a rock that has been long in place, strange things come crawling out. The world is in process of being overturned today, and some remarkable creatures have already begun to crawl toward the light.

Look who's rooting for freedom today! Clip out this strange collection, and paste it in your hat, or preferably in your service cap:

Carol of Rumania, whose royal robes have been off and on more frequently than a Gypsy Rose Lee costume. At present the king of the Mexico City night clubs, Carol was rumored about to come to the United States to try to whip up a "Free Rumania" movement before the U. S. state department frowned on the visit. If there ever has been a time in Carol's checkered history when anybody could tell whose side he was on except Carol's we don't remember it. We don't mean to be critical, but in the plans and ambitions of Carol, the American people just aren't interested.

The two Ottos—Otto Strasser and Otto of Hapsburg. Strasser is essaying to head a "Free German" movement. One of the founders of the Nazi party, he was hand in glove with Hitler until they disagreed on matters of policy. Strasser seems to have believed Hitler was serious in the "Socialism" part of "National Socialism," and he didn't like the way Hitler financed the movement. They split. No doubt Strasser would love to "get" Hitler, but he cannot escape the fact that he helped tear down the German republic, and that there is no reason why, just because he hates Hitler, he should be taken up as a great democratic leader. Otto of Hapsburg, a pleasant and apparently innocuous young man, would like to rule Hungary again, but what is this business of "free" movements under the scions of utterly discredited and moth-eaten monarchies?

As well bring forward Zog of Albania or Riza Pahlevi of Iran as great free spirits and pillars of democracy. The Dutch, the Norwegians, the Danes, were free under kings, and there are kings and queens who have worked and fought for freedom. But none of these Graustarkian royalties has demonstrated a devotion to or any accomplishments toward freedom such as to suggest that they would be serviceable in establishing it after the present war.

Nothing could hurt the cause of freedom more today than to identify it with a lot of comic-strip leaders, repudiated alike at home and abroad. Let us rally to the cause of freedom those who have proved their devotion to freedom in the past, or those who will prove it today in action, not merely use the war as a stepladder to a formerly abused power.

Repudiation by Ford

Anyone who attempts to divide America by stirring up anti-Semitism or antagonism against any racial or religious group, does so without the benediction of Henry Ford. We have Ford's word for that, in a letter to the B'nai B'rith, prominent Jewish organization, in which he disavows any such activities and concludes, as many others have already concluded, that "the hate-mongering prevalent for some time in this country against the Jew is of distinct disservice to our country, and to the peace and welfare of humanity."

If Ford is sincere in this, and there is no reason to doubt it, he completely repudiates anyone who drags out and recirculates the ill-advised matter put out by the Dearborn Independent in the '20's. Let those who have from time to time done this emulate Ford, and they will also help to foil those who would divide the American people and thus weaken their united struggle for freedom.

By the Old Moulmein Pagoda—

The Old Moulmein pagoda probably isn't lookin' so lazy at the sea these days as it did in the days when Kipling and Speaks were providing the ammunition for three decades of baritones in "The Road to Mandalay." The road from Rangoon to Mandalay is a bloody road these days. Rangoon has been bombed, and so has Moulmein.

But the sun is coming up, like the under of China, 'cross the bay, and it isn't the Japanese rising sun, either. There are rays of that sunrise plainly visible now at Changsha. There are rays visible in Chinese reinforcements in Kipling's beloved Burma.

Yes, we can hope for a real sunrise in east Asia after 40 years of dark Japanese clouds, and the only bad feature of that is the fact that it may encourage the baritones.

TAX ITEM, CHEERY

In case any of you livestock owners are interested in which was the guy which introduced the resolution which killed the assessment plan which would have raised the livestock tax rate, our operatives advise us that the guy was George Childs, who county assesses this county.

The Idaho association of such assessing guys wrangled and argued at Boise, boosted the livestock rate, got into a stew between north and south Idaho, frazzled at least 39 tempers—whereupon easy going George finally got up and moved that everything be left as is. So it stays as is. What with the war taxes everybody's going to pay with no heller, "as is" is bad enough on state and local.

IN DEFENSE OF BEING AN OAKLEY CITIZEN

You can't insult Oakley and get away with it. . . . not with Editor Charley Brown still wielding a powerful typewriter.

Pot Shots glanced at the current issue of the Oakley Herald and found therein some matter that ought to interest the Twinees. It seems the Twinees took a crack at a Herald brevity quoting Eugene Pickett of Oakley as saying he doesn't expect the U. S. mainland to be bombed by the Japanese.

Replies Editor Charley, feathers slightly ruffled and typewriter pointed square at the Twinees columnist who pointed out Mr. Pickett "simply is an Oakley citizen" and hoped he knows what he's talking about.

"Mr. Pickett is simply an Oakley citizen" (says Charley). "I could add that I don't regard this admission as being even slightly damaging. What's wrong about being an Oakley citizen?"

"Is it unconstitutional for an Oakley citizen to have opinions on international affairs? Or for the Oakley paper to chronicle them?"

"It is true" (says Editor Charley) "that I think Mr. Pickett is all right and I would fight to the death for his right to express his opinions, but I don't think he knows a damned thing about the war. He doesn't pretend to. . . . I happen to disagree with Mr. Pickett as to the possibility of bombing of the mainland, and I in turn admit that I don't know a damned thing about it."

After which Editor Charley offers to shake hands with the Twinees and expresses the hope that Mr. Pickett proves to be a better guesser about Japan than any of the swivel-chair experts.

We hope so, too.

SERIAL STORY

TAMBAY GOLD

BY SAMUEL HOPKINS ADAMS

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

"TIED STORY: Hope Baumer sets up 'Feeders' in a wooden run-down 'Tambay' plantation, forms tourist camp partnership with the aristocratic, impoverished owner, Jane Ann Johnson, last of the Maures and sourced on the world. Mom tells Juddy she has a daughter! Corvella tells Juddy of a lovely childhood. Other characters: Loren Oliver, Welliver, a pro digger for landless folks at Tambay and harboring old Swoby, a Slovene refugee; Dolf, Mom's pet stinky lawyer Maure; Sears and football star Angel Todd, both in love with Juddy. Juddy defends Angel to 'Doc' Oliver, whose ethnology course he's skipping. Sheriff Hollister Mowry thinks Oliver after gold at Tambay."

AUTOBIOGRAPHIES

CHAPTER XII

"WHERE is your daughter now?" Juddy asked. "Show business," I said. "She's all right. We don't see each other much. There's reasons. Skip Carnie."

She nodded. I went on. "After Baumer eloped I carried on awhile with the animal act. One of the cats went batty on me and I got fed up with the smell of the trained seal. Then an old yen for cooking that I'd always had hit me again. All of which adds up to the Feeders."

Juddy sort of sighed. "There's things to be said for a camp, too," I said. "Instead of going along with the big show you watch it roll right up to your door. I've had people die and get born right in the shadow of the grubwagon, and I've seen hate and love and the break-up of families, the whole human show. From the great deep to the great deep they go, and every now and then you see something that makes life look bigger. Excuse me waxing eloquent on you, pal."

"I like it," she said. "Well, if you think I'm the kind of aunt you can use, I'm your aunt," I said.

"What I don't quite get," I told her, "is this yen of yours for Tambay. You never saw it till a few months ago, did you?"

After a long pause she said: "Yes. I was here when I was a child. It's the only place I've known that had any permanency for me. You see, Mom, my life was—well, perpetual motion. How my parents ever found time to have me, I don't know. So Tambay, where I could stay put, was heaven to me. I didn't cry easily when I was little, but I cried for a day and a night when I had to leave. Other things have happened to me since, nothing ever pressed on my heart quite like that."

LOREN OLIVER wasn't Juddy's only worry about Tambay.

It is planned to hold a series of three of these games, and half of the funds received are to go toward helping the Red Cross.

At the Washington elementary school, Louis Smith, member of the high school faculty, will speak upon safe traffic driving. Robert N. Aupperle, member of the Lincoln junior high school, will present pupils of the music department in a number of selections.

CLEARING UP Federal Income Tax

No. 13

RETURNS OF INCOME OF MINORS

An individual, although a minor who is single, or is married and not living with husband or wife for any part of the taxable year, is required to render a return of income if he has a gross income of his own of $750 or over for the taxable year.

The aggregate gross income of such minor, or from any property which he possesses, and from any funds held in trust for him by a trustee or guardian, and from his earnings which belong to him is $750, a return, as in the case of any other individual, must be made by him for him by his guardian, or other person charged with the care of his person or property. If under the laws of the State the earnings of the minor belong to the minor such earnings, regardless of amount, are not required to be included in the return of the parent. In the absence of proof to the contrary, a parent is assumed to have the legal gross income of his own of $750 or over for the taxable year, and must include them in his return.

Where a minor is married and living with his spouse for the entire taxable year, and each has income and their combined gross income is $1,500 or over, they must each make a return or file a joint return. If only one has income and his gross income is $1,500 or over, only that one is required to make a return.

Where a minor is married and living with his spouse for only part of the taxable year, and each has income and their combined gross income is $1,500 or over, or equal to, or in excess of, there is no personal exemption (not including credit as head of family or for dependents), they must each make a return or file a joint return. If only one has income and his gross income is $1,500 or over, or equal to, or in excess of, his personal exemption (not including credit as head of a family or for dependents), only that one is required to file a return.

From 1880 to 1932, Alaska, which coast the United States only $7,200,000, produced $409,033,000 in gold.

know how she felt about such things. However, she was bound to know. Going across the road, I noticed a lot of activity in the air around the Hanging Tree. It looked like all the buzzards in the county were holding a conference. The two Gullah girls were in the woodshed talking with Uncle Andy, the old darky Juddy had hired from town; their voices were low and close. I asked Uncle Andy if there was something dead down by the turn, where the tree stood. He began to shake. He said:

"No, Miz Mom. Not yet." It gave me a nasty jar.

"What do you mean, not yet?" I said.

Nollie staved whispering. "Them yudda's yeddy the news." "They yudda it an' they waitin'." "Stop it," I said. "What would they be waiting for?"

"I ast my God!" Nollie said. She wrapped her arms around herself, Gullah fashion, and began crooning a bit from one of their praise-house songs:

"Sinnah-man, sinnah-man, yeddy yod doom."

The yearn ain' nothin' but a silent tomb.

Uncle Andy shook his white head. "Them mean birds don't bring no good to black folks. They do spells."

The weather broke bad, shortly after sundown. By 10:30 I figured there wouldn't be any more trade for the Feeders and I could go back to the mansion and hit the hay. The night was full of wind and the noises of wind.

Juddy was at the window in the big room.

"Why aren't you in bed, kid?" I asked her.

"I was waiting for you," she said. "Listen."

The old house was groaning and groveling like a sick old lady.

I sat down and took off my shoes to ease my feet. After a while Juddy said, "Something has happened, Mom."

"What makes you think so?" "The girls. They're terrified. Do you know what it is?"

"You won't sleep any better if I tell you."

"I won't sleep anyway. Not with the house trying to talk."

So I told her what little I knew. She drew a slow breath.

"If they catch him—" she said. "They won't catch him. Not tonight. Not in this storm." I believed it, too, because I wanted to believe it.

I must have been more tired than I thought, for I dropped off pretty soon after denting the pillow.

HISTORY Of Twin Falls City & County

As Gleaned from Files of The Times

15 YEARS AGO

JAN. 19, 1927

Reports of a highly satisfactory nature were made at a meeting of Twin Falls chapter of the P. E. O. Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. F. Johnston, announcing the chapter's share of the proceeds from the "Womanless Wedding," as being $388.85. This amount together with an added sum from the organization's funds on hand, totaling $500, have been deposited to the library fund, a direct gift from the townspeople taking part in and attending the benefit play.

Phil O. Herriman, formerly of Twin Falls, and now a resident of Juneau, Alaska, who returned to the states on a brief official visit, was the honored guest at an attractively appointed dinner party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Del Kennison Monday evening.

27 YEARS AGO

JAN. 19, 1915

The second league basketball game of the season will be played in the Filer high school gymnasium on Friday night between the Filer high school and the home team. This will be the first outside game that the girls have and they promise to maintain the record set last year and the year before. The boys played a practice game with Filer and won by a small margin. Both teams have won games played in the interim and Friday's game promises to be a very close one. No basketball enthusiast can afford to miss such a game. So be there and yell.

Fire Insurance

Company Meeting

BUILD, Jan. 19 (Special)—Twin Falls County Mutual Fire Insurance company will hold its annual stockholders meeting Wednesday, Jan. 21 in the Ramona theater at 2 p. m.

There is to be an election of three members of the board of directors to succeed the three whose terms expire. The three are Will Hatfield, N. J. Jordan, and Joe Kollmeyer. It is understood all are candidates for reelection.

Organized in 1911 in June, the Twin Falls county Mutual began with $100,000 of policies in force and now have $7,200,000 of policies in force.

The policy of the company is directed by nine directors scattered throughout the county. Three are elected each year for a term of three years. At the present time W. R. Hatfield is president; W. F. Fisher, vice-president, and Will L. Hawkins, secretary.

He's in Air Corps Now--And This Local Youth Likes It!

(Editor's note: The following article is by a former Evening Times printer employed, who enlisted in the U. S. army air corps.)

By PVT. DICK YORK

(408th Tech. School Squadron)
SHEPARD, FIELD, Tex. (Special)—Salutations to the Evening Times editorial department gang—and all of Magic Valley.

Hal Wood, who said he'd believe it when he saw it, can believe it—I'm in the army air corps now!

We've been treated pretty darn good up to now—I mean now we've got to go to work, yes work,—seven days a week! They're shooting recruits through their drill period in one-third normal time.

The Fort Douglas reception center, where all men from our area go first to be "processed," has this month tripled its reception quota. But first, to be processed means that the army finds out just about everything you've done and intend to do for about 10 years. "Recruits" (new men) are given a 150 question intelligence quotient test, after which each and every man is personally interviewed to determine which branch of the service he desires to enter or for which he is best suited.

Inoculations Given
Following this, the recruit is given various inoculations for prevention of smallpox, lockjaw and whatnot. He then issued a nearly complete toilet set—just in case he forgot something! Every man is given the privilege of taking out a government insurance policy and may insure his life for amounts from $1000 to $10,000, depending upon how much he thinks he can spare from his monthly $21. After he has been issued his uniform he is then ready to move onto either his permanent post or training center.

In my case we left the Fort Douglas reception center exactly one week after arriving there for Sheppard field, Tex. U. S. air corps replacement training center, near Wichita Falls, Tex. We are not allowed to tell exact numbers of men stationed anywhere but this place makes a fair sized city, studded with anti-aircraft guns and guards. On this field is one of a number of aircraft and engine mechanics schools and those recruits wishing to train for that profession merely "move down" to the other end of the field after his drilling period is completed.

Lots of Opportunities
The United States army air corps. I find now, offers more opportunities to our boys than any other branch of the service. Every trained man in the air corps service has been trained in one or another of the government schools, a few of which are aircraft and engine mechanics training and advance schools, radio operators and mechanics schools, teletype schools, parachute riggers, meteorology, weather forecasting, pilot training—both for college men and non-college men, electricians school, riggers school, bombardiers, clerical, observer, armor and many others.

Having been away from Twin Falls just three weeks I couldn't expect to be a soldier, but under the present system, very little time is lost and the moment a man is sworn in he starts becoming a soldier. The climate in this section is ideal for winter training. Today it is so warm that we have all of the windows and doors in our barracks open.

Eastern "Brogue"
In a place as this one meets people from the four corners of United States and some are very amusing to us of the Pacific northwest. Some of the men from the east have developed such a "brogue" out of the English language that they sound foreign to me.

In the army where many men share the same barracks, eat together, work and play together, I've discovered already that a man attains qualities often lacking in civil life—thoughtfulness and comradeship of his fellow men. The soldiers do not think of themselves as one but as one among many working together.

In years gone by the U. S. soldier wore the clothing in summer which he wore in winter—which were tight fitting and made of wool. Today we are issued a softer, lighter "summer issue" of cotton and khaki. Uniformity is preserved throughout. Students in various trade schools are issued clothing best fitting their jobs. For example the men in the aircraft and engine mechanics school are issued coveralls and work caps.

Warm Weather
Down here in Texas, the weather is warm and "summer issue" clothing is worn nearly all the time. But while we were in Salt Lake at the reception center, nearly all men wore their "long-handed" underwear and we were required to wear our heavy overcoats and our issued overalls and gloves.

Our food is good and you can have just as much as you want. We are served by "K.P.s" and the food is in partitioned dishes. For "seconds" we merely get in line and hand our plates to be filled again. A typical dinner here at Sheppard field, Tex., is tomato soup, mashed potatoes and gravy, roast beef, apple sauce, corn, ice cream, bread and butter and coffee. With food like that and regular hours, (lights out at 9:30, taps at 11 and reveille at 5:30 a. m.)—it's no wonder most soldiers gain weight and become plenty robust!

So long until next time.

P. E. O. Founder's

Day Celebrated

GOODING, Jan. 20 (Special)—

Chapter G. P. E. O., met at the home of Mrs. Wayne Hudson Thursday with Mrs. Fred Barrett as assistant hostess. Mrs. E. L. Silston and Mrs. Bert Plink were in charge of a program in observance of Founder's day.

They told of the lives of the founders of P. E. O. and its early history. Mrs. Silston and Mrs. Plink exhibited an interesting collection of books, dresses, pictures and other relics of the early 1800s which were appropriate to the time of the founding of the order.

Mrs. Lloyd Snively, vice-president, conducted the business meeting in the absence of Mrs. Welliver Miller. The members voted to devote the second meeting of each month to Red Cross sewing. Mrs. Ernest Palmer was named to make arrangements for materials to sew.

Men Invited by Garden Club to Hear Bowden Talk on Chemurgy

C. G. Bowden, Boise, head of the Idaho Council of Chemurgy's committee on test plantings, will speak on "Chemurgy" at a meeting of the Twin Falls Garden club Wednesday, Jan. 21, at 8 p. m. at the Idaho Power company. Mrs. R. E. Dingman, program chairman, announced today. He will also relate his experiences in Russia.

The address will be of special interest to men, and particularly farmers of this section, Mrs. Dingman pointed out. Mr. Bowden defines chemurgy "as putting chemistry and related sciences to work in industry for the farmer."

The Idaho Power company is sponsoring the movement in this state, and it is believed new crops can be found, adapted to local and statewide conditions, which will be profitable for Idaho growers.

Men Urged to Attend
Wednesday's session is one of several night meetings arranged by the program committee of the Garden club. Mrs. H. T. Blake, chairman; Mrs. F. R. Lawson and Mrs. Dingman, to make it possible for men to attend. Mrs. John S. Feldhusen is president of the club.

Mr. Bowden is sales director in the Pacific northwest, for Northrup, King and company, with headquarters at Boise. The former resident of North Carolina is one of the best known speakers in Idaho.

He attended Oxford university, England, as a Rhodes scholar from Missouri, and has an M. A. degree from there.

European Experiences
He served in the commission for relief in Belgium and northern France—territory occupied by the German army—in 1914 and 1915; was then an officer in the British royal regiment of artillery, transferring to the American army when the United States entered the war, and was an officer in the military intelligence section, in which he holds a commission as major in the reserve.

After the war, Mr. Bowden worked in the American relief administration, under Herbert Hoover, in Austria, Hungary, Czechoslovakia and Russia. He spent more than 18 months in Russia, and has since been to Europe and Russia, on a number of business trips, most of them dealing with seed.

20th Century to Stage Dance for Red Cross Fund

Twentieth Century club is making plans for a benefit dance for the American Red Cross war relief fund, to be staged the evening of St. Valentine's day, Saturday, Feb. 14, at Radio Rodeo, club officials announced today. Will Wright and his orchestra will furnish the music. Wayne and Roberta, who have offered their talent free of charge for the benefit, will appear as special dancers. Known in private life as Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Kennedy, the dancing pair scored successfully in eastern entertainment spots until they returned to Twin Falls more than a year ago to establish residence.

Mrs. H. L. Hogsett, president of the club, which has a membership of more than 150 women, in issuing an invitation to the public to attend, pointed out that all proceeds for the affair will be turned over to the Red Cross. Radio Rodeo will be appropriately decorated for the occasion.

Salmon Trout Homemakers' club will meet Wednesday, Jan. 21, at the home of Mrs. A. E. Kunkel. In the absence of Mrs. Margaret Hill Carter, the women will spend the day sewing for the Red Cross. Pot-luck luncheon will be served at noon. Members are asked to come early and bring their thimbles and scissors, and a dime for the Red Cross.

Circle No. 4, W. S. C. S. of the Methodist church, will meet Tuesday, Jan. 20, at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Nelson, 167 Adams street, at 7 p. m.

"Polio" Benefits Include Dancing And Card Parties

Major social event in behalf of the diamond jubilee celebration of the President's birthday for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis will be the President's birthday dance Saturday evening, Jan. 31, at Radio Rodeo.

Mrs. R. J. Schwendman is general chairman of arrangements for the event. Her assistants will be Mrs. J. E. France, Mrs. W. O. Watts and Mrs. J. Ted Davis.

Representatives of several organizations, to be named in the near future, will assist in the sale of tickets. Mrs. Schwendman announced today.

Sale of Tickets
Tickets will be sold at 99 cents each, and Will Wright's orchestra will play the music for dancing. The event will begin at 9 p. m.

Numerous other benefits are planned in connection with "Women's Week for Infantile Paralysis." A benefit card party is planned for 8 p. m. Tuesday, Jan. 27, at the Elks ballroom, with Mrs. R. S. Tofflemire as chairman, and Mrs. J. H. Blandford, Mrs. A. L. Norton, Mrs. B. R. Tillery and Mrs. Marshall Chapman as members of her committee. Mrs. Lionel Dean, Twin Falls city chairman, announced today.

Pinocchio and contract will be played during the evening, with prizes for bridge, four for pinocchios and several door prizes to be awarded. Refreshments will be served at the concluding event. Tickets for the card party are being sold at 25 cents.

Women's Benefits
Mrs. Ray D. Agee, chairman of women's activities for the drive, announced that benefit socials of some nature are planned during the week by the Gen. State Study club, the Y. W. C. A., and the Women's Council of the Christian church.

She also announced that the Panhellenic association, the Star School club, Drama and Literature department of the Twentieth Century club, and the Presbyterian Women's Missionary and Ladies' Aid societies had made cash contributions.

Eating Properly Can Be Exciting—Here's Proof!

Vitamins plus vitamins plus vitamins equals victory on the home front. There are thousands of nutritionists in the United States who are telling you that these days, and they'll keep at it until everyone knows exactly what to do each day to get the maximum efficiency out of "the three square meals."

Eating Can Be Fun
But nutrition isn't the grim thing some people think it is—all roughage and rather dull things that "are good for you." Eating can still be fun, under the new regime, as witness the guest dinner menu and recipes suggested by the Twin Falls Home Economics association.

Serve it during Potato and Onion week, Jan. 16 to 24, or at any time when company comes.

GUEST DINNER MENU
French onion soup
Cushion shoulder of lamb
Golden potatoes
Baked spinach with egg garnish
Gravol-trail-orange salad
French dressing
Wholewheat rolls
Mint jelly
Grape sherbet
Potato cookies
Beverage

FRENCH ONION SOUP

4 large onions
2-4 tablespoons butter
3 cups beef broth or 3 bouillon cubes dissolved in 3 cups boiling water or 2 No. 1 cans of bouillon.
1 cup grated Italian or dehydrated American cheese.
Salt

4 slices French bread of slice hard rolls.
Chop onions, place in heavy sauce pan with butter; cover and cook over low heat until tender but not brown.

Add meat broth or bouillon; simmer for about 20 minutes. Sprinkle bread or sliced rolls with grated cheese and toast in a hot oven. Serve the soup in deep bowls, placing bread on top just before serving. Additional cheese may be passed if desired.

GOLDEN POTATOES

1 quart potatoes, cubed
1 1/2 cups diced carrots
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup boiling water
3 tablespoons milk
2 tablespoons butter
Dash pepper

Put carrots and potatoes in a pan with boiling water. Cover, put on unit turned to high, cook until steam appears, or about 3 minutes, turn to low, cook 15 minutes longer. Turn off for 5 minutes, remove from heat, beat thoroughly, add seasonings, and hot milk. Beat until light and fluffy.

Editor's note: Recipe for potato cookies will be included in tomorrow's column suggestions. Contributor of the Liver Casserole, printed last week, today corrected the time of cooking. It should be baked one and one-half hours, instead of one-half hour, as previously announced.

Karma Kloefer Gets Queenship At M.I.A. Dance

RUPT, Jan. 19 (Special)—The large auditorium of the L.D.S. stake tabernacle was crowded last week when the second ward held the annual gold and green ball there.

An outstanding feature was the ceremony in which Miss Karma Kloefer was crowned 1942 ward queen. She was attended by Miss Salina Garner and Miss Vera Schofield, with Jane Hansen and Ruth Bingham as flower girls; and Hazel Crandall and LaRae Whiting as train bearers.

The crown was presented to the new queen by Claude Bingham, Y.M.M.I.A. president. As a corsage as a token of congratulation was presented to the queen by Arabel Catmull, president of the Y.M.M.I.A. Those in charge of arrangements were Stella Schofield and Fred Blacker, ward activity leaders, assisted by Claude Bingham, Arabel Catmull, George Catmull, Edith Sparks, Ida M. Hatch, Robert Sheen, Fred Abrahams and Earl Craythorn.

Boyd Pond Weds Marie Stebbens In Middlewest

FILED, Jan. 19 (Special)—Miss Marie Louise Stebbens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Stebbens, Kansas City, Mo., and Boyd Eugene Pond, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Pond, Filer, were united in marriage Jan. 1, at 8 p. m. in the Raytown Christian church. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with a profusion of hothouse flowers and fernery. Lighted candelabrae were placed at the altar, where the impressive double ring ceremony was read by Rev. Charles Duncan in the presence of 100 relatives and friends. The bride party approached the altar to the strains of hymnal organ music played by Hans Fell. Preceding the service Mrs. Fell sang "The Sunshine of Your Smile" and "I Love You Truly." The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Gowned in Satin

For her wedding the bride chose a princess model of white duchess satin floor length, with a yoke of real lace, sweetheart neckline and long fitted sleeves coming to a point at the wrist. A long veil of bride's illusion fell from a wired headpiece made of matching lace and veiling and she carried a bouquet of combined calla lilies, fern and baby-breath tied with white satin streamers.

The bride's sister, Nancy Stebbens, as junior bridesmaid, wore a shell pink taffeta formal and carried a bouquet of pink sweetpeas. The maid of honor, a cousin of the bride, wore a blue taffeta model similar to the bride's gown and her headpiece was of net tied in front with a wide bow.

She carried a bouquet of pastel shaded snapdragons in shades of pink. The tiny flower girl, also a cousin of the bride, wore a dainty ruffled pink taffeta frock and carried a white basket tied with a large pink bow and filled with rose petals.

The bridegroom was attended by David Holan. The bridegroom and the bride's father wore gardenia boutonnieres and the ushers wore white carnations.

Reception Follows

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents. The bride took a beautiful tiered wedding cake placed on a musical stand which played during the reception hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Pond left Jan. 2 for Indianapolis, Ind., where he will

Here's What Men In U. S. Service Like for Reading

Want to know the kinds of books that are most acceptable for the Victory Book campaign? Here's a list, compiled by Miss Jessie Fraser, Twin Falls public librarian, who states that the books, to be sent to the men in service, may be left at any convenient place. Telephone the library, 425-W, telling where the books may be located, and the Boy Scouts or Camp Fire girls will call for them.

The list:

NON-FICTION
Applied physiology, current affairs, crime and F. B. I., English grammar, arithmetic, algebra, geometry, trigonometry, calculus. Up-to-date technical books (not before 1935), accounting, shorthand, business and salesmanship, lettering and mechanical drawing, photography, cartoons, books about music, sports, novel and play writing, poetry and individual plays, geography, travel of the last ten years, biography (especially the shorter, more popular type), history (particularly Europe and North and South America since 1900).

FICTION

Adventure, aviation stories, historical novels, humor, mystery, sports, western.

Lucky Twelve Club

Reelects Officials

Officers of the Lucky Twelve club were reelected during a session of the group last week at the home of Mrs. B. C. Huffman, where a dessert luncheon was served preceding the business meeting.

Mrs. Huffman remains as president; Mrs. Charles Smith, vice-president; Mrs. Noel Bailey, secretary, and Mrs. S. E. Crismon, treasurer. White elephant went to Mrs. Roy Smalley, and Mrs. Crismon and Mrs. Smith-Von pinocchios.

CLOTHING FOR BABY

Just as important as having every item of the baby's baggage on hand when he arrives is having every item scrupulously clean. For sake of his protection, his entire wardrobe should be carefully washed and ironed before initial use, whether purchased brand new from the store or handmade. Wash garments with a very mild lukewarm suds; boil diapers, rinse repeatedly until no trace of soap remains. Crib and carriage accessories as well as baby's exclusive towels and washcloths come under this rule, also. Absolutely everything that will in any way be used by or near the baby must be immaculately clean.

Movie Snow

Movie picture show may be marbled dust, table salt, corn flakes, asbestos flakes, potato flakes, shaved ice, ground mica, or plaster.

We The Women

By RUTH MILLETT

Mrs. Jones' son has been in the army only a few weeks, but already Mrs. Jones has started wondering out loud at bridge parties why this young man and that one isn't yet in uniform.

There are good reasons why most of them are still wearing civilian clothes. Lucy Smith's boy friend is working in a defense industry, where at the present time he is of more help to Uncle Sam than he would be in a uniform.

He's Helping
Young Bill Brown doesn't feel free to volunteer because, although he doesn't go around broadcasting the fact, he sends a nice slice of his weekly pay check home to the old folks, who otherwise would have had to go on relief several years ago.

And the Andersons' son, who is away from home finishing his last year, listened to the advice of his dean who told him to keep at the business of getting an education until his draft number came up for consideration.

So Mrs. Jones hasn't any right to look down her nose at these young men just because her son beat them into uniform. And she wouldn't if she knew the circumstances behind each case.

Know Circumstances
But the trouble is we can't know all about the private lives of our friends and neighbors. So we shouldn't start judging and criticizing others if we happen to send a husband, son, or fiance into the army before they do.

Let's make a resolution not to waste time and create hard feelings by wondering other people's business. Each one of us has a job to do and sacrifices to make. That being so, let's do our job and make our sacrifices and let the other fellow take care of his. If we can manage that, we'll be doing something toward keeping civilian morale high.

NELSON COPS TOP MONEY IN OAKLAND OPEN

Professional Golf Aces Head for Tourney at 'Frisco

OAKLAND, Calif., Jan. 19 (U.P.)—Byron Nelson led a field of 150 barnstorming golfers across the bay to San Francisco today to take part in the $5,000 San Francisco open match play tournament after winning his first winter golf crown in California—the $5,000 Oakland Open.

Since 1933 the Toledo, O., golfer, national open champion in 1939 and PGA champion in 1940, has plodded around the west coast courses but not until yesterday did he come home ahead of the field.

He did it with a vengeance, shattering par by six strokes for the four rounds of play with totals of 67, 69, 69 and 69 for a total of 274. The victory netted Nelson $1,000.

Last Round Easiest

The last round was the easiest of the tournament, Nelson declared. He birdied the fourth, fifth and sixth holes, and sank a 20-foot putt on the fourth. With that lead, he never was under pressure.

Not once during the tournament was he headed. He held a one stroke lead the first day, led by two strokes on the second, by four strokes on the third day and was five strokes ahead of the field last night.

In second place was Johnny Dawson, Los Angeles amateur, with a 279. A stroke behind came Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., and Lawson Little of San Francisco. Harper came through with a 69 to tie Little. Each won $650.

Benny Hogan of Hershey, Penn., the nation's top money player who a week ago won $3,500 first prize in the Los Angeles Open, also was in the tournament favorite, tied with Lloyd Mangrum, Monterey Park, and Willie Goggin of White Plains, N. Y., at 281. Each won $375.

Wins $250

Johnny Hines of Great Neck, N. Y., won $250 for his card of 282, and was followed by Ernie Peper, Jr., San Jose amateur, with a 284.

Cashing checks of $175 each were Chick Harbert, Battle Creek, Mich.; Johnny Revolta, Chicago, and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Little Rock, Ark., who were bunched at 285. Joe Brown, Des Moines, and John Perrell, Lake Tahoe, received $112.50 each for their cards of 287.

Sam Snead, Hot Springs, Va.; Harry Cooper, Minneapolis, and John Geertsen, Denver, were tied for 12th money at 288—$85 each.

The San Francisco Open begins Thursday at the California Country club in Colma and the amateurs, for once, will be "in" defense stamps, by authority of the U. S. Golf association. The professionals will work out meanwhile over the difficult course.

Vandals Trip WSC in Coast Loop Battle

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 19 (U.P.)—A basketball triple-header brings the top bay quilters onto the same floor at Civic auditorium tomorrow night.

California and Golden State open the proceedings at 6:30 p. m., to be followed by Stanford and the USP Dons, with St. Mary's and Santa Clara winding up the proceedings at 9 p. m.

The three-way blowoff leads up the bay area opening of the southern section of the Pacific coast conference Friday night at Palo Alto when Stanford engages California. California takes on Santa Clara Saturday night.

Vandals Win

California reversed its form and thumped University of Southern California 41 to 36 Saturday night. Stanford, using second stringers, defeated San Jose State 57 to 38.

In the Northwest, Idaho's Vandals upset the Washington State five 30 to 28, while in a Rocky Mountain conference game Montana State beat Gregory State 42 to 42. Montana University trampled Gonzaga 52 to 31.

The Mater field fliers scored a second victory over University of Nevada, 54 to 51. Santa Barbara evened its series with San Diego State, 32 to 29.

College of Pacific turned the tables to beat University of San Francisco 30 to 23 while Fresno State was making it two in a row over the California Aggies, 44 to 33.

California Skiers Walk Away With All Team Honors

SUN VALLEY, Jan. 19 (U.P.)—California skiers today were credited with a clean sweep in team competition in the fifth annual western interstate tournament, but a Colorado contestant, Barney McLean, walked off with individual honors.

The California men's team scored 755.5 points in downhill, slalom and jumping events during the three-day meet.

California women won in their division with 749 points on downhill and slalom events only.

WAITERS

WALLA-WALLA, Wash., Jan. 19 (U.P.)—A large crowd gathered in the high school gymnasium here and the Walla Walla quintet waited in the locker room for the basketball game with Lewiston, Ida.

In Lewiston there was a crowd, too, and the team waited for Walla Walla to show up.

It took a long-distance telephone call ten minutes after game time to find out someone had slipped up. Athletic department officials aren't certain yet whose fault it was.

Simpson toured the 2.1 mile sun course, accepted as the most difficult in the United States, in two minutes, 51 seconds, eight seconds better than the best previous mark.

Two other skiers, both instructors, won the diamond sun yesterday. Sebby Arriaga negotiated the course in two minutes, 59.2

Ival Goodman, Red Outfielder, To Play as Southpaw in 1942

By JACK GUENTHER

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (U.P.)—A trip to the sports-merry-go-round:

If the tavern owners of Cincinnati note a slump in business after the baseball season opens, they can blame it on Ival Goodman. The Reds' right fielder, an orthodox thrower throughout his career, will debut as a southpaw this year because a shoulder ailment has debilitated his right arm. After one glance at this port-side retrieving, the uniformed fans may be expected to sign the pledge in mass.

Forget those rumors regarding the immediate shift of Carl Sawey from Cornell. The crafty Cayuga has a fine team coming up, for one thing, and is laid down by contract for another.

Two weeks ago the United Press was informed that Mello Bettina, the Beacon, N. Y., heavyweight, had been seriously injured in an auto crash near Pittsburgh. Bettina personally informed the sports department via telephone from his home that he hadn't been near the steel city. Five days later Bettina fought in Pittsburgh, crashed his car while driving to New York and was sewed up with 18 stitches.

Conn McCreary, the turf's mighty, thereby proving that they must be such a thing-up course for jockeys as well as courses for horses.

Tom Gwynne, originator of the elation estimates that the present supply of tennis balls will last only five months even if rationed.

The steel shortage will force golf club manufacturers to standardize irons and weed out a few of the numbers from one to 10. Old timers consider this a boon, holding that a golfer who needs 14 clubs for his shot is just a mechanic.

Here is a prediction: If he isn't drafted, Ray (Sugar) Robinson is going to develop into the greatest little fighting man in history. I have never seen a faster boy with a knockout punch, he is getting better every time he goes to the post and he is only 21.

Maria Lenk, the Brazilian girl who holds six world back stroke records, will remain in the United States to study at Springfield college.

Greg Rice, two-mile record holder, will appear Saturday in the three-mile metropolitan A. A. U. title race here.

Dar-mouth has started the football rolling by rallying Ivy league members to sanction the use of freshmen players on varsity teams next fall.

Major league managers are still rubbing their eyes in amazement at the statements of Clark Griffith of Washington in favor of playing not only seven but 14 or more night games a year now that the President has okayed the 1942 season. Griffith has been the most bitter enemy of night ball in either league.

Sonia Henle returns to the links tonight with another tee show. She is in quest of her second million now.

Hornsby Proposed as Next Choice For Baseball's "Hall of Fame"

By JACK GUENTHER

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (U.P.)—When the hands of the clock reach the witching hour tonight, one or more men will be sanctified as baseball immortals. The occasion is the deadline of the 1942 hall of fame election, and while the ballots haven't been tabulated yet, the identity of the man who stands out as the people's choice isn't exactly a secret.

He hasn't played a full season for 14 years, so he qualifies from the standpoint of antiquity. He was up there in the big time 24 years all told, so he has passed what is known as the test of time. And since he hammered out a life-time batting average of .358, once attaining the fabulous mark of .424, there can be no doubt of his sheer ability.

His name, in case you haven't guessed it already, is Rogers Hornsby—the old right-handed power-house who knocked them near and knocked them far for St. Louis, New York, Boston and Chicago from 1915 clear through 1937. Maybe he isn't the greatest all-round hitter that baseball has known, but he'll come close to matching any player you can name.

A man needs 75 per cent of the votes cast by the baseball writers to gain entrance to the Cooperstown shrine. Last year 274 votes were counted in all and three men were approved—George Sisler with 235 ballots, Eddie Collins with 213 and Willie Keeler with 207. In all, 107 men received at least one vote and 70 received more than 10. A glance at these figures proves that it is easier to keep a man out of the hall than to vote him in.

Hornsby's position in the baseball world always has been surrounded with hush-hush and mystery. While there is no evidence to support the theory, the rumor is that the Rajah's horse race dealings around the late 1920's and early 1930's brought down the wrath of Judge Landis, who has decided opinions about racetracks, and that he can't re-enter the major leagues.

This may be true or it may not. There is no way to nail down the rumors. But history discloses that Hornsby fared pretty well as both a

Burley Drops Two Games in Western Idaho

BURLEY, Jan. 19 (Special)—The Burley Bobcats were back in the home fold today—wondering if maybe this story about the basketball power of Idaho being in the Magic Valley isn't somewhat of a myth.

Last year Burley won the state Class A championship and Shoshone Indians took the Class B crown.

However, this is another season and the Bobcats are finding the sailing anything but smooth around the bigger schools in the state. Friday and Saturday, Coach Rulon Budge's club took first-rate beatings at Boise and Nampa. The Boise score was 39-24 and the Nampa count was 36-18.

Twin Falls, also from the Magic Valley, lost to the same clubs earlier in the season, but by close scores.

To offset that, the Bobcats can point to a convincing 37-17 victory over the Bruins and many another win over competition in the immediate area.

Coach Budge's program, however, calls for a repetition of the state championship. If at all possible, and he'll be building towards capture of the district crown this year—something he was unable to do last season. After that it is a case of getting the breaks in the sudden-death state tournament.

At Nampa Saturday night the Bobcats didn't look exactly like champions. The Bulldogs, one of the outstanding quintets in the Big Six, took an 8-3 lead in the first quarter and boosted this to 16-4 at the intermission and had a 25-10 lead going into the final frame. Red Fayer scored 17 points to lead his team in points. Klink topped the losers with six.

Gooding Lions Win King Hill Outlaw Crown

KING HILL, Jan. 19 (Special)—King Hill's annual outlaw cage tournament was a thing of the past today after the Gooding Lions won their first title in the meet here Saturday night.

The final score was 44-41 over Wendell in a red-hot thriller that forced the favored Lions to come from behind to chalk up the victory.

Following the championship game, the tournament trophy was presented to the Gooding team by Howard Bruins, manager of the meet.

In the title battle, Wendell, playing in its fifth game of the day, took a 25-21 lead at the intermission. However, the heavy duty play started to show in the second half and the Lions rallied to score the victory.

Gibbons was again high-point man for the title winners, copying 19 points. Adkins topped the losers with 12.

To reach the finals Saturday night, Wendell played and beat during the day Bliss 41-40, Fairfield 40-40 and Mountain Home 41-30. They played Gooding in the morning and lost 40-37.

Other games during the day saw Mountain Home down Glens Ferry 40-10, Glens Ferry eliminate Hagerman 32-28.

Tennis Group Plans Full Tourney Slate

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (U.P.)—The United States Lawn Tennis association today adopted with only minor revisions a complete championship tennis schedule for 1942 at its first annual convention.

Despite the war, the only tournament cancelled—and that tentatively—was the men's indoor championships scheduled for Oklahoma City sometime this winter.

This tournament was abandoned at the request of the Oklahoma association because of a scarcity of entries. It may be renewed at another location before spring.

A national singles and doubles title tournament, for both men and women, will be held in one tournament at the west side tennis club, Forest Hills, N. Y., beginning Aug. 27. The doubles were voluntarily given up by the Longwood, Mass., Cricket club, so that the west side club would hold them in conjunction with its golden jubilee celebration.

The Longwood Bowl—invitation tournament, which was abandoned last year, will be renewed, starting Aug. 17, in conjunction with a national veterans doubles tournament and a national father and son's doubles competition.

Holcombe Ward, president of the U. S. L. T. A., commented: "This schedule may be abandoned at any time if the government requests such action, but to date the government has indicated through the health division of the civilian de-

Baseball Writers Vote DiMaggio 'Player of Year'

By PAUL SCHEFFELS

NEW YORK, Jan. 19 (U.P.)—A few weeks from today a dark-eyed young man will take a pen from a bushy-browed old gentleman and sign his name to a baseball contract that will give him the biggest player income in the game.

The young man will be Joe DiMaggio and the old gent will be President Ed Barrow of the New York Yankees and if the task proves unusually difficult the American league club can thank the New York chapter of the Baseball Writers association which has designated the black-haired Italian from San Francisco as the "player of the year for 1941." It was the second time he had been voted the honor.

The position enjoyed by this most potent of three baseball playing brothers has not come through any quirk of the ballot box but has been established through a series of batting and fielding feats—several without parallel in diamond archives.

Won in 1937
Joe first won the "player of the year" honor by batting .346 and hitting 46 home runs in 1937. His 1941 feat of hitting safely in 56 consecutive games eclipsing all former records and sparking his club to its fifth pennant in the six seasons he has been a Yankee, made him the unanimous choice of the writers this year.

DiMaggio will receive the plaque, which first was presented in 1930 when Bill Terry of the New York Giants batted .401 to win it, at the writers' 19th annual dinner Feb. 1.

Others winning the honor have been in order: Lou Gehrig, Herb Pennock, Carl Hubbell, Dizzy Dean, Hank Greenberg, Tony Lazzeri, DiMaggio, Jimmy Fox, Buckey Walters and Bobby Feller.

Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox was the only player to offer Joe competition for the 1941 award. Williams became the ninth 400 hitter in American league history when he won the circuit batting title with .406, but in the opinion of the writers DiMaggio's deeds were more phenomenal.

Batted .357
Joe followed Williams, and Cecil Travis of Washington in the batting race with an average of .357 and registered baseball's most singular feat with his consecutive game streak.

Beginning with a hit off Ed Smith of Chicago on May 15, DiMaggio hammered out hit after hit day after day until Al Smith and Jim Bagby of Cleveland stopped him July 17. During the streak, Joe collected 81 hits in 223 times at bat, a .408 average—including 16 doubles, four triples and 15 homers. He scored 58 runs and drove in 55 more. He was granted 21 passes, struck out only five times and was hit by pitchers twice.

His sensational streak wiped out George Sisler's modern mark of hitting safely in 41 consecutive games in 1922 and Willie Keeler's record of 44 in 1897.

Only three days after his skinn had been snapped, DiMaggio bounced back with one of his best days with four long hits—three doubles and a homer against Detroit on July 20. This performance equaled the league record for extra-base hits in a single game.

Joe wound up his batting feats for the year by winning the runs-driven-in title by batting in 125 tallies, five more than runner-up Williams.

Three Bowlers Keep Average Over 190 Mark

There were only three bowlers in all of Twin Falls averaging 190 or over today—and the prospects are good that before the season ends there will be less than that.

At the top of the averages with no change is Hugh Boone, who has been recuperating from an illness since posting a 194 total nearly a month ago. In second place is Rolly Jones with a 193. Both are in the Major league. In the Minor league, A. Bringer is tops with a 190. These are official averages released today by Fred Stone, Twin Falls Bowling association secretary.

Leading 10 bowlers in each league follow:

Ladies' Minor league—D. Bertsch 153, E. McVey 129, B. McRoberts 128, G. Rieke 125, G. Richardson 120, M. Buchanan 119, L. Lavender 117, J. Kruse 116, H. Gee 112, E. Elcock 110.

Utah Regains Place in Big 7 Sun

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 10 (U.P.)—Utah university, defeated in its first two starts in the Big Seven conference basketball race, today was on the comeback trail after defeating a strong Wyoming team, 66-49, Saturday night.

Utah State also recorded its first victory of the season in downing Denver university, 34-18. Colorado university, meanwhile, held a flying lead in the chase with four wins and no losses and Brigham Young university held to an unbeaten record.

Colorado rolled over Colorado State, 70-28, while Brigham Young was idle after downing Wyoming Friday night.

The Cougars sport a record of two victories and no defeats and should encounter no difficulty next weekend in games with Denver and Colorado State at Provo. The teams are the weakest in the conference on the bases of games so far.

Utah takes on the same teams, Colorado State Friday and Denver Saturday, at Salt Lake City. Colorado meets Wyoming Saturday at Boulder to complete the schedule.

The Indians led Wyoming from soon after the start of the game last Saturday, and held a 20-24 edge at halftime. Kenny Saltors kept the Cowboys in the game with brilliant second-half shooting.

Saltors had 17 points for high man, and Deb Smith led the Indians with 14. It was a rough game that saw three Wyoming and two Utah men ejected for fouls.

The Aggies led 15-6 at halftime in their game with Denver and held the lead throughout. The Pioneers managed to make only six of 59 attempted field goals good. Even though led the Aggie with 12 points and Dick Barger, the Pioneers, with 11.

Australia now in the leading foreign purchaser of United States motor cars.

Social Hour Club Assists Red Cross

GOODING, Jan. 19 (Special)—Social Hour club met at the home of Mrs. Otto Schild Thursday. The club voted $5 to the Red Cross emergency fund and each member agreed to contribute $1 in addition. Mrs. Fred VanAnburg, Mrs. George Jenkins and Mrs. Allan Crist were named to solicit the Southwest community for the emergency fund.

A pledged quilt block 20 inches square was brought by each member to the meeting. These blocks, which were set together during the afternoon, will be completed into a tied quilt by the club and given to the local Red Cross chapter to be used where needed.

"Polio" Roll Of Honor

The fight against infantile paralysis was under way in full stride for Idaho today.

And sports fans and officials of southern Idaho were doing their share.

A total of 13 schools today had announced participation in a program to give 10 per cent of their gross receipts from one game to the fund—and already one of these games has been played.

First game of this group was played at Rupert Saturday night where the Idaho Falls Tigers played the Pirates. Gross cash receipts for this game were $30—so the fund will receive $3 from that game.

However, 12 more tilts will be staged between now and the end of the campaign and some bigger purses are expected—with many more smaller ones.

Campaigns of the same nature as the one in southern Idaho are also under way in other parts of the state and returns are expected from those cities after the first of February, according to Hal Wood, state chairman for the sports committee of the infantile paralysis fund.

Here are the games slated in this sector:

TUESDAY, JAN. 20
Glenns Ferry at Hagerman. Buhl at Jerome. Shoshone at Dietrich. Burley Reserves at Murtough. Declo at Heyburn.

THURSDAY, JAN. 22
Shoshone at Buhl. Caldwell at Twin Falls.

FRIDAY, JAN. 23
Paul at Shoshone. Burley at Filer. Kimberly at Hansen.

TUESDAY, JAN. 27
Gooding State School at Fairfield.

FRIDAY, FEB. 6

BRITISH HOLD BURMA PREMIER FOR AID TO JAPANESE

CHIEF KNEW ALL DEFENSE DETAILS TO GIVE NIPPONS

By NED RUSSELL
LONDON, Jan. 19 (AP)—Premier U. Saw of Burma was held incommunicado today by British authorities, apparently somewhere in the middle east, on the charge that he had been in contact with the Japanese since Japan attacked Great Britain and the United States.

Authorities refused to give details of U. Saw's arrest or of his whereabouts but said he would not be permitted to return to Burma. They said he had admitted contacting the Japanese.

Announcement of his detention came only a few hours after the German radio had broadcast Tokyo newspaper allegations that the sultan and other dignitaries of British Borneo had offered "cooperation" to the Japanese and had asked their people to stop resistance.

Was Disappointed
U. Saw left London Nov. 5 after expressing disappointment that Britain was not ready to make Burma a dominion. He went to the United States, saw Secretary of State Cordell Hull at Washington, and had got as far as Honolulu on his way home when Japan attacked Pearl Harbor Dec. 7.

There was no indication when, how or where U. Saw got in contact with Japanese agents.

Saw Defenses
When he came to Britain, U. Saw discussed Burma defense preparations and was shown the intimate details of defense preparations in Great Britain. It was taken for granted he had obtained much information which would have been valuable to the Japanese.

At a press conference here just before he left in November, U. Saw remarked bitterly of his failure to get dominion status for Burma and added:

"We would rather trust the devil we know (Britain) than the devil we don't (Japan)."

Red Cross Funds
Now Total $766
GOODING, Jan. 18 (Special)—A total of $766.46 has been turned in toward Gooding county's quota of $1,500 for the emergency Red Cross fund. Of this amount Gooding has given $528.21; Hagerman $125; Tuttle $44 and Bliss $69.25.

Volunteer workers are continuing in all communities of the county. Tuttle has turned in the amount of the quota which was allocated to them by the county committee.

W. S. C. S. at Buhl Aids Red Cross

BUHL, Jan. 20 (Special)—At a pot-luck luncheon last Thursday, the Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service voted to give $10 to the Red Cross fund. New names were drawn for the circles and new circle names were chosen.

The following circles met: Esther circle with Mrs. V. C. Burnett for a luncheon, assisting hostess, Mrs. Will Hatfield; Dorcas circle, Mrs. J. P. Hunt, Mrs. Will Chambers assisting; Rebekah circle, Mrs. W. H. Wright for a 1:30 luncheon, Mrs. Guy Newman assisting; Mary Martha circle, Mrs. Chester Hobson, Mrs. Will Cunningham assisting; Ruth and Naomi, guests, night at 8 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Robert Good.

The various circles worked on definite Red Cross and relief work.

Two Cars Crash

JEROME, Jan. 19 (Special)—Automobiles driven by Mrs. Lizzie Peterson, Canyonville district, and Mark Okleberry, were involved in a collision Friday evening near Jerome. It was reported Okleberry attempted to pass around Mrs. Peterson's automobile, striking the front fender. His automobile traveled off into a ditch. No personal injuries were reported. Slight damage resulted to both automobiles.

MINSTREL SHOW HELD AT FILER

FILER, Jan. 19 (Special)—The Filer high school chorus and band gave a Negro minstrel-vaudeville show Wednesday evening in the local high school gymnasium under the direction of Philip Cory, music instructor. The purpose of the show was to raise funds for the purchase of new band uniforms.

Master of ceremonies was Clarence Showers and the negro clowns were Keith Wood and James Brennan. Joke routines prevailed throughout the various numbers.

Those appearing on the program were Georgia Lou Erhardt, song and whistling solo; Beverly Block, accordion solo; Clarence Showers, accompanied by the chorus, in "Dixie Bound"; Shirley Anne Moreland, vocal solo; Shirley and Marjory Spencer and Orville Drexler, guitar ensemble; Roger Vincent and chorus, "The Spanish Main"; Bernice Gulick, vocal solo; James Brennan and chorus, "The Raven"; Marion Wright, reading and the chorus singing, "King Jesus Is a-Listening." The show ended with a rumba dance by Shirley Moreland and Mahlon Hammerquist.

During the evening the band played the Invercargill march, Thunder march, Missouri waltz, Naughty waltz and Midnight Sun overture.

Others assisting in the production were Jack Williams and Dale Hash, electricians; Mr. McDermid, lighting; and Joan Gillilan, accompanist.

PILOT

LONDON, Jan. 19 (AP)—To the list of transatlantic pilots add the name of Winston Churchill.

The British prime minister, beaming and cigar-smoking as usual, took over the controls for a while of the big Boeing flying boat which returned him to England by way of Bermuda from the United States. Boat Commander J. C. Kelly Rogers said Churchill settled himself at the controls like a veteran, made a few banks and commented:

"It is very different from what I flew in 1913."

Churchill, who arrived in England Saturday, began his trip from Norfolk, Va., escorted by American planes.

Lombard's Fame Started When She Added Letter "E" to Name

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 19 (AP)—The world knew her as Carole Lombard. Her friends called her Pete. Her husband called her Queen. But she was born Carol Jane Peters, in Fort Wayne, Ind., on Oct. 6, 1908.

She dropped the "Peters," added an "E" to Carol and substituted "Lombard" because she thought it sounded more like a movie actress.

Legend says Miss Lombard took the advice of a numerologist when she added that final "E" but she always uttered raucous laughs when accused of consorting with soothsayers.

At any rate, her greatest successes came after that one little letter was added to her name.

As one of Mack Sennett's bathing beauties she made the male movie fans look goggle-eyed. As a rip-snorting queen of the horse opera she took many a pot shot at the fans and found herself rescued from fates worse than death more times than she liked to remember.

Face Scarred
In the 20's, when safety glass was only an idea in the head of an engineer, she figured in an automobile wreck which sent slivers of glass into her face and almost disfigured her permanently. Plastic surgery finally removed every scar.

In 1931, when the movie makers looked upon her as a dramatic actress, she married Bill Powell. She still was his wife a year later when she first met Gable, who was cast as one of her leading men.

Nineteen thirty-four was a historic year for the fast-talking Carole. She launched with "Twentieth Century" the craze, which never has died, for screwball movie comedies. Then she made "My Man Godfrey" and "Nothing Sacred" and found herself earning $150,000 for every picture.

Divorced Powell

She divorced Powell on the conventional charges of mental cruelty and on March 29, 1939, she married Gable, who already had that one bedroom house built to her specifications. She furnished it with easy chairs and ankle deep rugs and a bathroom lined with mirrors. In this country house, she spent most of her spare time, while Mr. G. tinkered in the barn with his temperamental tractor.

Between pictures they took hunting trips, wasted entirely too much energy denying they were about to be divorced, and managed to live the most normal lives possible in abnormal Hollywood.

Her death came as a personal loss to hundreds of Hollywoodians, from electricians to L. B. Mayer and from studio hairdressers to every newspaperman in town. Nobody here had ever known a girl with such energy as hers, nor talked with a woman who spoke so frankly on any subject, profane or otherwise.

in a hurry!

UNCLE SAM's fast-moving ski troops put military power in the right place at the right time.

America's electric companies have done the same job with industrial power. They were ready when the crisis came!

They powered new plane plants, tank factories and shipyards almost overnight—and rushed reserve electric power to key points over carefully interconnected systems.

As the demand grew greater, they speeded new construction. Last year, alone, they installed over 2½ million more horsepower—enough to light one-quarter of all the homes in America!

Good business management made this possible. The same companies, the same management, will go on increasing the production of power for protection—until skiing is a sport again, instead of a war maneuver!
