MacArthur Units
Take Prisoners as
Japs Delay DriveAIRPLANE ACTION
ALONG BIG FRONT
ON BATAAN QUIET

By HARRISON SALISBURY
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (U.P.)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported today that his forces captured some Japanese prisoners and "frustrated" repeated enemy attempts to infiltrate his Bataan province lines.

Action was only on a "sporadic" scale, MacArthur reported. The Japanese apparently were continuing to shift their forces in preparation for a new heavy assault on the virtual siege lines held by American and Filipino troops on the narrow peninsula.

"There was sporadic fighting on the Bataan peninsula," the war department communique reported, "during the past 24 hours. Determined enemy attempts at infiltration through our lines were frustrated. Some Japanese prisoners were taken. Practically no hostile air activity was noted."

Aircraft sparse
The continued absence of Japanese planes seemed to indicate that Japan is throwing virtually all the aircraft at her disposal into the siege of Singapore and the developing attack on the Dutch East Indies and the approaches to Australia.

At Manila, Jan. 29, appeared a major Japanese attack—the fourth since the fall of Manila Jan. 2—may burst along the jungle and mountain lines which have held out for four weeks against constant battering.

MacArthur's forces were unmoved—either by frontal Japanese attacks or a Japanese propaganda campaign, crudely designed to separate the Filipino and American troops.

Burden of the propaganda—disseminated by leaflets dropped by Japanese planes—was that if the Filipinos gave up their fight they could erect "your new Philippines" for and by the Filipinos.

The appeal, MacArthur advised the war department, "has occasioned much mirth among the Filipino soldiers."

Tyranny Rule
The Japanese appeal appeared to be motivated by the actual treatment accorded the Filipino population by the conquering forces. Reliable advices from the islands said that actually the Japanese have introduced a type of rule comparable to the worst meted out by the Germans in occupied Europe.

NAMING OF NEW
JUDGE DELAYED

BOISE, Jan. 31 (U.P.)—Appointment of a successor for Federal Judge C. C. Cavanaugh today appeared to be delayed, possibly for several weeks, as the result of Cavanaugh's assignment to preside over the February court term.

Cavanaugh retired effective Feb. 1, but as a retired judge he was assigned by Judge Curtis Wilbur of the circuit court of appeals to conduct the court term which starts Monday. Judge Wilbur asked him to serve pending appointment of a successor.

The court term will last until March 5 and during the period Cavanaugh will have the same powers as a regular judge.

Wilbur commended Cavanaugh for his work on the federal bench and thanked him for carrying on work until a successor was named.

Program Launched to Lure War Industries

BOISE, Jan. 31 (U.P.)—The newly-appointed state board of publicity today launched a program to lure war industries to Idaho and speed up the state's contributions to war production.

Gov. Chase A. Clark, chairman of the committee, said an immediate check-up will be made to determine to what extent Idaho's present industrial and agricultural activities can economically be expanded, keeping in mind the present and post-war effect on the economy of the state.

"Contacts with governmental agencies or private contractors, having to do with war production, should immediately be strengthened and multiplied to close the gap between them and Idaho citizens," Clark declared.

In his declaration of policy for the new board, Clark said that we have a duty to the state of Idaho to conserve the productive facilities of the state to the end that taxable wealth shall not be destroyed and the burden of taxation increased on those that survive the necessarily drastic changes which now appear inevitable.

The board should serve as a clearing house of information, relaying inquiries and private industries involved in war-time productive efforts," he said.

"Idaho's duty to the state of Idaho may aid the war program, the board will survey items that the government wants and which can be produced in Idaho with existing facilities, equipment and material; items that can be produced with reasonably small dislocation of existing economy and items which would cause considerable dislocation or importation of labor, facilities and raw material.

Water Front
Ban Hardship
To Fishermen

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31 (U.P.)—Federal orders barring enemy aliens from defense zones brought sternation today to Neapolitan fishermen facing loss of livelihood.

About 1,500 of the 2,200 fishermen who embark from Fishermen's wharf here fall under the order covering the San Francisco waterfront. Some of the fishermen have sons in the armed forces; many took their first citizenship papers but failed to become citizens because they could not write.

The Crab Fishermen's association said only 75 of its 250 members are citizens.

"It will cause many hardships when they are forced to remain away from the waterfront," said Paul Agretti, association manager. "They have been fishing many years, they have trained their sons to be fishermen and have raised families and purchased homes. Now they are barred from the Embarkadero."

Luciano Maniscalco, 58, has been fishing out of San Francisco for 40 years. He has raised 12 children. Buster is in the merchant marine. Tommy has been in the navy for eight years, Vincent is in the army and Marlene drives an ambulance.

"I try, try, try to become a citizen," said Maniscalco. "My head, she is too hard. Can't learn, can't write. Go to school. Get first papers in 1921. Go back get second papers. Can't write. Can't get papers. I want to be citizen, want to fish. What I do now? Can't get a job. Not a citizen, I can fish good as anybody, but can't write."

TRAPPED

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (U.P.)—The United Press needed a holder for its maps and commissioned a firm to design one.

Today a member of the firm telephoned asking for measurements of the doors and elevators of the Daily News building to see if they were large enough to admit the holder.

Before these could be taken the same man called back and said: "Never mind, we can't get it out of our office."

JAPS CLAIM VICTORY

TOKYO, Jan. 31 (U.P.)—Official broadcast received by United Press in San Francisco. The navy section of Imperial headquarters announced today Japanese air units destroyed 11 enemy transports last Tuesday and Wednesday in a series of attacks on the Sumatra port of Padang.

GERMANS MAKE
SUICIDE ATTACK
TO DELAY REDS

By WILLIAM DOWNS
LONDON, Jan. 31 (U.P.)—German troops on the Moscow front have resorted to suicide attacks, such as they used when the tide turned against them at Leningrad, in desperate attempt to halt the Russian drive, a Russian war communique said today.

In the first suicide attack on the Moscow front—a suicide attack, the Russians call it—German shock troops marched in close order to counter-attack a village, designated as "K," held by a Russian tank unit, the communique said.

It was asserted that, as had been the case at Leningrad, the German soldiers have been given intoxicants before the attack.

The Germans marched up like automatons, according to the Russian advices, toward the village.

Hold Fire
The Russian tank men held their fire until the Germans were at close range and then blasted them with every gun they had.

Scores of Germans fell at the first volley, the communique said, and the entire German formation broke and fled, leaving behind them a light field gun, 18 heavy machine guns and other arms.

Indicating that the Red army continues its persistent snatching attacks on the Leningrad front, the communique said that in the last few days one Russian unit had destroyed 14 earth fortifications and 60 pill boxes and dugouts which the Germans had constructed for their "winter defense line" in the Leningrad zone.

Kill 1,100 Nazi
The Russians destroyed eight heavy machine guns and many trucks filled with war supplies and killed about 1,100 Germans, the communique said.

Russian planes, increasingly active along the whole front and ruling the air, heavily bombed a railroad station in the German area and blew up a big gasoline dump, it was asserted.

Regarding individual exploits by Red army men, the communique, recorded here from the Moscow radio, said a soldier named Nazarev stole up on a German pill box and threw two hand grenades down its chimney. The Germans ran out, it was added, and two Soviet machine gun squads which had their guns trained on the exit killed 40 of them.

BRITISH ESCAPE
GERMANS' TRAP

CAIRO, Jan. 31 (U.P.)—Two columns of the seventh Indian infantry brigade, feared trapped in Benghazi when it was retaken by axis troops, have battled their way through to a junction with main British forces in western Cyrenaica, a communique said today.

Indicating that Col. Gen. Edwin Rommel's German Africa corps has not yet succeeded in pushing its counter-offensive beyond Benghazi, British general headquarters said there had been no change in the situation around the western Cyrenaica port.

Meanwhile, Rommel's German and Italian columns, both motorized and infantry, were subjected to terrific attacks by the royal air force.

American-built planes, although hampered by dust storms, have attacked Rommel's forces for several days, destroying tank and truck columns and inflicting heavy losses on troops.

Here's Full Information on
Price Control Legislation

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (U.P.)—Here in question and answer form, is information about the new price control legislation.

Q. When does price fixing start?
A. It already has been put into effect with respect to some commodities, and may never be applied to others. The system is selective and the price administrator is authorized to place ceilings on the price of any commodity which shows signs of getting out of line with other commodities.

Q. Will a license be required to do business? A. Not necessarily. The price administrator, however, may require dealers in certain commodities to operate under a license.

Q. In such case, how could a license be obtained? A. By applying to the office of price administration.

Q. Can the price administrator refuse a license? A. No.

Q. Can he revoke a license? A. Only for a second violation of his price regulations, after a dealer has ignored a first warning, and then only on application through the courts.

Q. What happens then? A. The dealer whose license has been revoked cannot do business for 12 months.

Q. Suppose the dealer is a drug-

DRAFTEES GIVEN
ADDRESS CHOICE

Men who register for the draft Feb. 16 throughout Magic Valley were informed today that they may choose the address they wish to have recorded as permanent.

A bulletin from Gen. M. G. McConnell, state director of selective service, advised the area No. 1 board here and the other eight boards in Magic Valley that:

(1) Registrants who have more than one place of residence may choose the one they want designated as "permanent."

(2) Thereafter the local board in the designated location "will always have jurisdiction" over those registrants.

(3) No strictly transient address may be recorded as the permanent one.

(4) The registrants who assist at the Feb. 16 sign-up are forbidden to interfere or dictate when a registrant is making his choice of permanent home address.

Capt. J. H. Seaver, Jr., chief clerk of area No. 1 board, said that volunteer officers of assistance are being used in a fair rate here. Many more helpers, however, are still needed since about 50 such registrants will be used simultaneously for the sign-up in Legion hall. The hall is the Twin Falls city registration spot Feb. 16.

BRITISH RETREAT
TOWARD RANGOON

RANGOON, Jan. 31 (U.P.)—British forces have evacuated Moulmein, the Salween Estuary port 100 miles east of Rangoon, and have fallen back to a point between Rangoon and Moulmein.

Moulmein has been under attack by Japanese and Thai troops who also have occupied Tavoy and Mergu, Burmese ports on the "finger" of Burma south and southeast of Moulmein.

Moulmein, the oldest British port in Burma, is only 100 miles from the Salween from where it is crossed by the Burma road. Vital line of supplies of free China from Rangoon, Chinese troops have been transferred from China to Burma to aid the British in defense of the road. The Chinese were not in action in the Moulmein sector, however. They have been sent into positions farther north, in the Shan states, directly across the border from Thailand.

Tropical Storms
Halt Jap Attack
On Troop Convoy

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 31 (U.P.)—A large convoy carrying troops, planes and war supplies to Singapore was saved by a tropical rainstorm from a heavy Japanese aerial attack, Australian army authorities disclosed today in a broadcast from Canberra heard here by the Columbia broadcasting system.

"Bitter enemy planes were circling about the convoy and were dropping their bombs when the storm broke and completely blotted out the ships," the report said.

"None of the action was not revealed."

SUBMARINES GET
ANOTHER TANKER
OFF EAST COAST

By SANDOR S. KLEIN
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (U.P.)—German submarines prowling the Atlantic coast from Nova Scotia to Florida struck new blows today at the tanker fleet—those oil-laden ships so essential to the American war effort.

The 6,836-ton Socomby-Vacuum Rochester was the latest submarine victim. Although the navy did not disclose whether the ship was sunk, there were indications that it had suffered an extremely serious, if not mortal blow.

Addition of the Rochester's name to the casualty list in American territorial waters of the Atlantic did not, however, affect the total of ships sunk or attacked—11. One of the ships previously listed as sunk, the 7,236-ton tanker Pan Maine, sailed into an Atlantic port last night unscathed, and members of its crew reported that a submarine periscope had been sighted but that heavy weather apparently had saved the ship from attack.

Vessels Confirmed
So far, authorities have confirmed the actual sinking of five tankers and four other vessels, including the passenger liners Lady Hawkins and the City of Atlanta. The Rochester, if sunk, would raise the total of tankers to six. One other ship, the tanker Malay, was torpedoed and shelled but reached the safety of an Atlantic port.

Indications that the Rochester was not expected to survive the attack appeared in the navy's announcement that five minutes after it was hit, the ship was abandoned. Thirty-one survivors were put ashore at Norfolk, Va., today. The attack on the Rochester was the first announced by the navy since Tuesday when it reported the tankers Francis E. Fowle and Pan Maine—the latter, prematurely—had been torpedoed.

Wide Disposition
Although the navy announced Thursday that counter measures "increasingly effective," the German craft apparently were present off the Atlantic coast in sufficient numbers to permit their disposition between Nova Scotia and Florida.

Announcement of the Rochester attack took the edge off the good news of the Pan Maine's safety, which had been made public a few hours earlier.

The true status of the Pan Maine was known for at least 48 hours in naval circles but was not made public until it reached the safe haven of an Atlantic port. Its arrival apparently was delayed by storms. The navy described the voyage only as "an exciting trip of which the last few days were through very heavy weather." There were nine officers and 30 men aboard.

CHINESE DESERT
JAPANESE ARMY

CHUNGKING, Jan. 31 (U.P.)—An entire division of the Japanese—equipped Nanking army, spurred by United States participation in the war—has deserted the Japanese-sponsored Wang Ching-Wei government, joining the Chinese army with its arms and equipment, the official Chinese Central News agency said today.

Desertion of the 15th division to the Chinese side was regarded as presenting an important problem for the Japanese, who had counted on Wang Ching-Wei's "peaceful national salvation army" to hold vast areas of occupied China for them while Japanese troops were campaigning in the South Seas. Other Nanking forces were expected to follow the 15th division into Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's army.

2 Happiest Americans:
FDR, 60; Gerry King, 4

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
WASHINGTON, Jan. 31 (U.P.)—Possibly the happiest persons in the United States today were Franklin D. Roosevelt, just turned 60, and Gerry King, 4.

The President was happy, as he told the nation in a broadcast last night, because his countrymen were willing to take time "during the grim business of war to work for the cause of little children."

Gerry, an infantile paralysis victim from New York's Hell's Kitchen, was happy because he had lunch with the President—a "nice man"—and the opportunity to show him how he had learned, for a few halting steps, to walk without his crutches.

Although the President spent most of his birthday anniversary hour at work; millions of other Americans danced until early today at 12,000 "diamond jubilee" balls for the benefit of just such unlucky youngsters as Gerry.

"None of the action was not revealed."

British Withdraw
Troops to Island
For Final Stand

SINGAPORE, Jan. 31 (U.P.)—British empire forces, beaten back by an overwhelming Japanese offensive, abandoned the mainland of Malaya today and this island with a garrison of British, Australian and Indian troops and 751,000 civilians, is under siege by a merciless foe.

The battle of Malaya was over; the battle of Singapore was beginning.

The defense forces, aided by navy men and ground personnel of the royal air force, took up defense positions on the north end of the island for a fight which they promised would be to the death.

They hoped to hold the island, 26 miles by 14 with an area of 220 square miles, until allied reinforcements can reach the southwestern Pacific, and turn the tide.

Open Bombardment
British, Australian and Indian troops who had fought for weeks under impossible odds against more than 100,000 picked Japanese shock troops, withdrew from Malaya to the island during the night under cover of a rear guard which held the causeway across narrow Tebrau strait, and a bombardment by all guns of the island garrison which could be brought into action.

They faced the Japanese across the dynamited rock and concrete causeway, connecting the island with the mainland, 60 feet wide and about three quarters of a mile long, in which royal engineers and navy men made a breach as the last of the rear guard crossed.

They looked forward to a merciless attack by all the land and air forces the Japanese could muster, and possibly an attack by sea.

Japanese planes, flying in formations of 24 and 30, tried savagely and persistently to blow up the causeway yesterday as the imperial forces prepared to withdraw across it. I watched as the bombs dropped in the water and again, from a foxhole on the north shore of the island, as bombs showered on the ground and shook the earth.

Throughout a poignant night, the hundreds of thousand of helpless civilians listened to the detonations in their homes where they had to remain because of the military curfew.

Hear Artillery Roar
As they listened, the distant sound of the Japanese airplanes was punctuated by the roar of distant artillery, and they realized that they were under siege at last.

Through the night the imperial forces effected their withdrawal, moving southward on the island while fresh forces moved toward the north shore to hold the causeway and the whole coast line, facing the Japanese across the strait which on the northwest side is only about a mile wide.

Great columns of smoke rose from the mainland side of the causeway as the Japanese planes kept up their attack.

Naval forces, at the naval base at the northeast side of the island, and planes of the British and Australian air forces aided in covering the withdrawal.

The general headquarters communique announcing the withdrawal said: "Today we stand beleaguered on our island fortress."

"Our task is to hold this fortress until help can come as assuredly it will come."

Japanese forces, pursuing their usual cautious tactics despite overwhelming numerical strength, made little attempt to interfere with the withdrawal.

PRIORITIES EASED
FOR 'SMALL MAN'

Priorities assistance henceforth will be faster and easier to get for small manufacturers for Magic Valley.

That cheerful information came today to the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce from Ralph E. Bristol, Salt Lake City, district manager of the industry operations of the new War Production Board.

The WPB agent revealed that a simplified production requirements plan has been made effective for concerns throughout the mountain states whose annual volume of business is less than $100,000. The plan requires filling out of only a one-page form. Formerly the procedure involved tedious application.

Bristol said the program is designed to assist the small manufacturer engaged in war or essential civilian production.

The C. O. C. was informed that applications will be received immediately under the modified production requirements plan for the full three-month period ending March 31. At the same time small manufacturers may also apply for their priorities needs for the full quarter ending next June 30.

Necessary blanks will be available "in a few days" at the WPB field office in the David Keith building, Salt Lake City.

He is survived by his wife and two children, Carol Ann, 4, and James, 2. He was born July 1, 1908, in Ireland.

He came to this country when he was 18 years of age and made his home for many years with his uncle, Thomas O'Neill, owner of extensive land and livestock interests in Gooding county, Ida.

MACARTHUR UNIT TAKES PRISONERS

are being allowed clean and fairly comfortable quarters but have been provided with little food because the Japanese occupation army of 200-300 troops or more is living off the land. Both civilian stores and homes were said to have been looted.

Most of the Americans in Manila, it was reported, have been gathered in ancient Santo Tomas university. They have been given fairly decent living quarters but only a few handfuls of rice per person per day.

Norman H. Davis, chairman of the American Red Cross, said that information regarding Japanese-held American prisoners of war probably will be forthcoming shortly. He said he had been informed that Japan has accepted a telegram from the international Red Cross and is ready to "transmit through the central agency, Geneva, information concerning prisoners of war on the basis of reciprocity."

Information Exchange

Information concerning interned non-combatants also will be exchanged "as far as possible," Davis said.

Plans also are going forward for shipment by the Red Cross of food, some types of clothing, and other comforts as soon as anticipated Japanese consent is obtained.

Filipinos were said to have been harshly treated if they transgressed the strict rules of conduct laid down by the Japanese. Many Filipinos were said to be displaying their resentment at the Japanese occupation forces through mass action, including strikes.

Vegetables and Fruits Needed In Lunch Plan

EDEN, Jan. 31 (Special)—Hot lunches sponsored by Eden Parent-Teacher association are being served to approximately 130 grade and high school pupils. This project is being seriously hampered, however, by a lack of cooking equipment, especially large pots, pans, dripping pans and so forth, sponsors pointed out today.

At the last P.-T. A. meeting it was voted to sponsor a kitchen shower. Parents were requested to bring any suitable kitchen utensils that they could spare, to the grade school as soon as possible.

Due to the fact that the program was started late in the year, the lunch project is faced with a shortage of vegetables, both canned and fresh.

School patrons who have potatoes, cabbage, onions, carrots and other suitable vegetables they can spare are asked to donate them.

Q. Does the price administrator have authority over all commodities? A. Yes, except that he operates under certain restrictions with respect to agricultural commodities. Q. What is the necessity for price control? A. To prevent inflation.

Q. Will the price control law prevent inflation? A. Its sponsors do not claim it will provide an absolute check, but do believe it will put a strong brake on price rises.

Q. How long will price control remain in effect? A. Until June 30, 1943, unless renewed or repealed by congress.

Idaho May Lose Taxes on Loss of Electricity Need

BOISE, Jan. 31 (Special)—The state of Idaho may lose revenue as a result of daylight saving time, officials of the kilowatt tax bureau believed today.

Collections from the five-mill per kilowatt hour tax increased slightly last month over the same period in 1940, but an expected decrease in the use of electricity under daylight savings may cut state income from that source as much as 10 per cent.

During 1941 the state received $266,190 from the kilowatt tax. December revenue collections amounted to $34,233, as compared with $34,116 for the same period in 1940.

Faculty Gets First Part of Pay Boost

KIMBERLY, Jan. 31 (Special)—Kimberly teachers received their salary increase today when pay checks were distributed.

The increase is $50, to be spread over the final five payments.

Supt. L. A. Thomas said the Kimberly board has secured oral opinions from the attorney general and the state superintendent of public instruction, upholding the legality of a pay increase in mid-year. The board was advised that if any question should arise, the consent of the teachers and the board can be gotten to cancel the existing contracts and issue new ones.

The assumption, if such a move were carried out, would be that added pay was given because the instructors have more work to do. Supt. Thomas pointed out that the teachers are actually doing extra duty now, and cited first aid classes and teaching of first aid as examples.

Architects of Destiny

(Final of a series of articles, "Architects of Destiny," prepared for the Idaho Evening Times by the Twin Falls Parent-Teacher association council in cooperation with the nutrition for defense committee and the home economics division of the United States department of agriculture for the "Nutrition for Defense" week, Jan. 26-31).

TEN ADDED YEARS

Thrifty folk, if they can, arrange to lay a little money aside for "old age financial security."

Similarly, over a period of years, we can do much to build for "old age health security."

Dr. Henry Sherman, one of the country's leading nutritionists, says that present day nutrition offers 10 extra years to the life of anyone who lives under its guidance, and further—that these 10 years probably can be added to life at its prime—thus postponing the effects of advancing old age.

Older Persons Diet
In some ways a good diet for an older person differs from a good diet for a younger person. The home economists of the U. S. department of agriculture outline the important points for normal, elderly people.

"There are three main things to keep in mind. First—older people need fewer calories, because they use less energy. Second—their need for minerals and vitamins remains the same. Third—food needs to be easier to chew and easier to digest.

The best way to cut down on calories is to go slow on foods that supply little else than energy—rich desserts, pastries, fats and rich dressings.

"The minerals and vitamins should not be reduced, therefore there should be plenty of protective foods

Daily Food List

MILK, 2 to 3 cups a day, chiefly for calcium; tomatoes, oranges, grapefruit, green cabbage, salad greens, one serving or more a day. If raw fruits are hard to eat vitamin C can be obtained in the juice of orange, grapefruit and tomato, and if raw vegetables are hard to handle, eat only the tender salad greens, have them chopped shortly before eating.

LEAFY GREEN or YELLOW VEGETABLES—one serving or more a day for vitamin A. They may be cooked.

OTHER VEGETABLES or FRUIT—look them over and take your choice. Potatoes probably will be one.

EGGS are valuable for iron and high quality protein and certain minerals. Get one a day, or at least three or four a week.

LEAN MEAT—there is no general rule as to how much meat an older person should eat, but instead of steaks and chops use chopped meat and poultry and flaked fish.

CEREALS AND BREAD—one or two servings of the whole grain variety for vitamin B-1 and iron daily. And Now Goodbye.

We hope that those who have been following this daily column have found some little inspiration. After all "the proof of the pudding is in the eating."

After one gets into the habit of eating the correct amounts of each food daily, HABIT makes the DOING very easy.

Raymond Wolfe Claims Berkeley Woman as Bride

JEROME, Jan. 31 (Special)—Friends in Jerome have received word through announcements of the recent marriage of a former Jerome resident, Raymond Lewis Wolfe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Wolfe, to Miss Marion Blackfer, Berkeley, Calif.

The wedding was performed at 8 p. m. Christmas eve at St. Clement's church, Berkeley, in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Howard Eugene Brown, the former Mildred Blackmer, who became the bride of Lieut. Brown of the United States army last spring at Randolph Field, Tex., was not able to attend the wedding so the honor attendant was Miss Norma Prenzen, Berkeley. The bridesmaids were Miss Susan Duff, Miss Jean French, Miss Dorothy Layman, and Miss Polly Ann Drescher.

Harold Galsford, Berkeley, was best man and ushers were Robert Black, Jack Dougherty, John McJullian, and Roger Whitcomb. Rose Kohn, New York, sang "Ave Maria."

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Myron John Blackmer, 50 Lennox Road.

The bride is an aviatrix, having completed her CAA course and has received her pilot's license. She attended the University of California, and is a member of the College Women's Club Juniors.

Mr. Wolfe, a graduate of Jerome high school, attended Gonzaga and the University of Washington and is established in business in Berkeley.

At the present time however, Mr. Wolfe, an officer in the United States army, is stationed at Escondido, Calif., with members of his company.

Mrs. Hazel Ingalls and Mrs. Lizzie Durling were guests. Mrs. Minnie Cross was welcomed as a new member, and the names of Mrs. Jeannette Nelson, Mrs. Ingalls and Mrs. Lizzie Durling were nominated for membership and will be voted on at the next meeting. It is planned to make Mrs. Durling an honorary member of the club.

Twin Falls Parent-Teacher association council will meet for the regular monthly business session at the Idaho Power company auditorium Monday evening.

Miss Lucille Johnston, home service advisor for the Idaho Power company, will give a demonstration on simple ways of preparing, cooking and preserving defense foods in order to conserve time and energy as well as money in the busy home.

Norsk Group Aids In Defense Work

What they are doing for national defense, was reported by Norsk group members, meeting yesterday at the home of Mrs. L. N. Nelson. The group went later to the home of Mrs. William Slimp, Mrs. Nelson's daughter, for a social hour and refreshments.

One woman reported knitting 14 sweaters, and another said she had completed edging 10 blankets for the Red Cross. Mrs. Theo Rangen, Buhl, was in charge of contests, awarding to Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. M. W. Hendricks and Mrs. Sara Krueger and Mrs. A. Rommelvedt the prizes.

Mrs. Livin Westby, Buhl, won the "surprise package." Later pinochle and rummy were played at the Slimp home, before refreshments were served at a lace-covered table, centered with crystal candleholders containing red lighted tapers.

Mrs. Hendricks and her daughter, Gloria, and Lois Olsen, Oakland, Calif., who accompanied her grandmother, Mrs. D. N. Englebright, Filer, were guests of the group.

Mrs. Westby will be hostesses to the group Feb. 27 in Buhl, with Mrs. Clara Halverson, Twin Falls, as program chairman.

ANNIVERSARY DINNER FOR CLAUDE MILLIGAN

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Milligan were honored at a surprise dinner party Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Hall, in celebration of their ninth wedding anniversary. The Halls are parents of Mrs. Milligan. They received a gift from the hosts.

Pink and white-sweet peas and lighted pink tapers decorated the dinner table, and heart-shaped favors were at each cover. Guests were members of the personnel of the local office of the Union Oil company, where Mr. Milligan is employed.

At pinochle and bridge, honors went to Mrs. Lawrence Leonard and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Holste.

NATIONAL REPRESENTATIVES

WEST-HOLWAY CO., INC. Mills Tower, 220 Bush Street, San Francisco, Calif.

And What of Russia?

This is a ticklish subject, but it is a subject that needs dealing with. Unpleasant to think about, it is easier to gloss over than to look squarely in the face. It must be faced.

One hears it said, and more often suggested slyly than said outright, that the thing to do is to fight Japan and let the European war stew on in its own juice in the hope that Germany and Russia will yet exhaust one another in a no-decision bout. Many of those who were most ardent isolationists before the war now swing toward some such view. It is based on the idea that a Communist Russia too triumphant over Germany will turn the whole continent of Europe to Communism and from that vantage point Communize the world.

Quite bluntly let us say, "It could happen." There are no sure things in war, greatest of all gambles. The results of a war can never be accurately foreseen.

However, the results of losing are so plain, so terrible, and so imminent that there can be no doubt about them. We know what imposition by military force of Hitlerism means. Balancing that all-too-definite menace against some possible later outcome leaves only one decision.

The war, in its total phases, must be supported in every way that will bring victory, including every possible assistance to Soviet Russia. The choice between a present certain evil and a possible future evil is a simple one.

It is an odd thing that the same people who assume that Britain and the United States face sweeping social changes as a result of the war also assume that Russia will emerge unchanged. It seems unlikely. Already Stalin seems to have called off the anti-religious campaign for the duration, and it may never be revived. Men returning from a war usually demand greater freedom than before, and Russia is just as likely to move toward democracy as the democracies are to move toward Communism. In Russia, Communism has already passed through three systems in which all changed but the name. The war may well bring on a fourth. There is no reason to assume that Russia will be exempt from the general expectation that no country will be quite the same.

It is because we have faith in our American institutions that we fight to uphold them against military aggression. We must have faith that we can uphold them equally against whatever condition (and no one can guess what it will be) may arise in the war's aftermath. Right now, our guiding star in the war effort must be this:

Any holding out, any reservations, in the united drive for victory is terribly likely to result in universal disaster for all.

The Good-Will Wooden Leg

College football squads for generations have heard the exhortation to "Give a leg for dear old Siwash!" Some of them have come pretty close to doing it.

Many a sacrifice has similarly been laid on the altar of international good-will, but until now the exhortation to "give a leg" has been confined to rowdier fields. Now, however, it has been proposed to send back to Mexico the wooden leg of Santa Anna, Mexican general who left it behind in a battle near Vera Cruz, whereupon some American soldiers brought it home. Return of this intimate little souvenir, it is felt, would be a gesture which Mexico would deeply appreciate, though the museum which now holds the trophy is reluctant to part with it.

How Mexico feels about all this we haven't heard, but it seems a lumbering approach to good-will.

And Still Smaller--

Five years ago, when air service across the Pacific to China was first set up, the world marveled at traveling from San Francisco to Hong Kong in five and one-half days.

War has come now, and the normal Pacific route by air has been temporarily cut by the Japanese invasion. But nothing stands still. American, British, and Chinese interests are pioneering a new air route to China, simply by going around the world the other way, from the east coast to Brazil, to Africa, to India, and to China.

And the time to China by this new route? Five days.

News stories indicate fear of tropical diseases in the Pacific war. Worst of 'em seems to have been sleeping sickness.

The C. of C. Writes a Letter To Mr. J. Benny

One Mr. J. Benny, radio and movie gent of much fame, has now received a 60-pound box of Twin Falls potatoes from the Chamber of Commerce. Sometime today, by airmail and special delivery, he'll also receive the letter that followed the spuds.

You constituents who are interested in Benny, Mary, Rochester and Carmichael, the polar bear might want to see the letter. Potatoes and letter were the result of national publicity Benny gave Idaho spuds last Sunday.

Says the letter: Dear Mr. Benny: By now you should have received the box of choice Twin Falls potatoes—and we warn you, you'd better watch Carmichael. The instant he discovers select Idaho spuds he's going to try eating them all. You can't fool a bear.

While these potatoes may seem large to folks who think a potato is just a potato, they are actually very small Idaho spuds. A bushel of our really big Idaho spuds, if dropped from a flying fortress, would level two-thirds of Tokyo. We feel that these small spuds should reduce the Maxwell-vintage potatoes they feed you down in California. Like Jell, they are delicious.

While we wouldn't refer to you—well, shall we say circumstance at the belt—we want to reassure you on one point. Idaho potatoes are the most nourishing food available... but they are positively NOT fattening. You might mention this to Don Wilson in case you pass along a few of these spuds to him.

This gift is just a small expression of the esteem in which all Idaho holds J. Benny and his troupe. And thanks for the plug you gave the world's finest spuds on your program last week.

RAY J. HOLMES

President, Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce

P. S.—If Dennis Day is spending his salary foolishly again, we suggest paying him with three Idaho spuds per week. He just couldn't be foolish with an Idaho spud.

IN DEFENSE OF 133½-POUND AMERICAN LADIES!

Shoto: Your estimable attention is hereby directed to the Evening Times of Jan. 28, where we read that American women are "dumpy." Since when is 133½ lbs. too much for a nice wholesome American woman? Are we to consider our substantial women as "dumpy?"

And many men will agree that 5 feet 3 inches is much nicer than 5 feet 6 inches for a woman's height. Furthermore when we are to believe that a scarecrow of a wasp-waist will be a better housekeeper and all-around companion than a comfortable-looking lady who is as comfortable as she appears?

Need I add that my wife is 5 feet 3 inches?

ECHOES FROM SANDBURG

To all aspiring writers of The Magic Valley, we repeat one remark made here last night by Carl Sandburg, the soft-spoken, cigar-smoking poetry gent, biographer and whatnot.

Said silver-thatched Carl: "The Idaho baked potato is noble enough to have a folk song about it—but none has come yet."

We feel that you have a chance to enshrine yourselves in the hall of fame, Magic Valley division, section 2-a, corridor to the left.

Just slap the ration program on rubber checks.

SERIAL STORY

TAMBAY GOLD

BY SAMUEL HOPKINS ADAMS

COPYRIGHT, 1941, NEA SERVICE, INC.

DOC PUZZLES JUDDY

CHAPTER XXIII

FOR quite a few minutes Juddy did nothing but think. What her thought produced was this: "Loren Oliver's all right, of course. But what does a movie star see in him?"

"Meow, with whiskers," I said. "Don't be silly," she said. "It's nothing to me. But I don't understand it. She's so lovely—"

"He's male, white and twenty-one, isn't he?"

"I suppose he is, at that," she said.

I pretty near said, "Keep it in mind," but held in.

After that, I'd notice her watching him with a puzzled frown. Sometimes they'd walk around together, taking Dolf along, without a chaperone.

"He has got a kind of queer charm, Mom. I'll give you that."

Most of her spare time, though, she spent with Angel. She was making him study, too.

He cleaned up all right; passed his Am. Eth. test honestly this time. All that was now left of the hangover was his thesis on the Wandos.

"I told you Oliver was a rat," he said.

"You've got to show me," I said.

"And me," Juddy said.

"I've got the proof all right. He's been taking gold out of his stockade right along. Your gold, Juddy."

"How do you know?"

"The best job you ever did for yourself was sacking me onto the Wando diggings. Over in the library I got on the trail of a missing report and followed it into the department's private office.

There, sacking out of the Tambay envelope marked, 'Estimated Value of Gold; Tambay, Private'.

Before I could get it open—"

"Before you could what, Angel?" Juddy said.

"Well, why not? It was in your interest, honeybunch. Anyway, old Gracely, head of the Am. Eth. department, wobbled in and grabbed it out of my hand and gave me the bum's rush."

"I think Loren Oliver has some explaining to do," Juddy said.

"I'll say he has! Let's go over there."

Juddy thought for a minute. "No, Angel. I'll handle this. Mom and I."

I hope never to see a colder eye than hers when we stood Oliver up in his enclosure.

"What about the gold you found on my property, Loren?" was what she said, but the general effect was Prisoner-is-there-any- reason-w-h-y-o-u-s-hould-not-be-a-g-e-d-b-y-the-neck-and-may-God-have-mercy-on-your-soul!

DOC's face went deadpan. "I shall have to refer you to President Gilchrist."

"I'm asking you, Loren Oliver."

This time he didn't answer. Just stood there, looking sunk.

"And you had the nerve to try and make me believe that Angel isn't straight!"

"I never said he wasn't straight by his own standards. I think he probably is. But his standards might not be yours."

I put in my ear. "This isn't getting anybody anywhere."

Juddy wasn't through with him, though. I think she was trying to forth her case for herself. It was hard to look at Doc and believe he was a crook. She said:

"I suppose you'll claim it wasn't for yourself but the University."

"I claim nothing," he said.

"Then you know that any metals or ores mined at Tambay belong to the estate. Those are the exact words. Aren't they?"

"I believe they are."

"And you've been pretending to be a friend of mine—of ours."

"Pretending?" he said, and I thought I saw her blink.

"I'm going to ask Maurice Sears if we can't have the lease vacated for fraud!" Her lips began to tremble. "I don't want to breathe the air till you're off the place forever," she said.

By this time the poor guy must have had about all he could take. He turned on her and his manner was much pleasanter than hers.

"If there is nothing further, may I remind you that you are trespassing on University property?"

For all Doc's frozen-faced referring, I didn't go to Presy Gilchrist. After turning it over in my mind, I'd go to old Dr. Sheldon on the geology department, and put it up to him.

"Gold?" he said. "At Tambay?"

He dragged out a topographic relief map and a lot of blueprints and gave me a free lecture. The nearest gold strike, he said, was 80 miles away in the hills. "If gold has been found at Tambay," he finished up, "someone has been sacking the place. Do you understand what is meant by sacking?"

"Since I was 10 years old," which made no sense at all. But I felt better about Doc Oliver.

Could I make Juddy see it that way? No; she was through.

A COUPLE of afternoons later, while I was trying to make a liar out of my bank statement and having no luck at all, a million dollars worth of rolling stock eased into camp and played sweet music on its horn. A guy in Fifth Avenue sports clothes gave me a smile I'd like to have framed for a souvenir and said,

"I've heard about you, Mom."

"Lots of folks have, that I don't even know who or what they are."

"Who or what I am? You might call me an entrepreneur, if you know what that means."

"If you're planning to entertain Tambay for gold, you're late," I told him.

"The gold's only a sideline with me," he said. "Next week's aviation meet over at Keraw is what brought me down."

"In the air business?" I asked him.

"Well, I've got a few patents," he said. "Also I've backed a Broadway show or two, taken a crack at financing radio, and hit 'em up a couple of times on Wall Street."

"Say, who are you?" I said.

"Eddsel Ford? Or where did you get all the money in the world?"

"Only part of it," he said. "I got it by being born into the right family."

"Wouldn't it be sink—invest some capital in a sound, reliable tourist line, would you?"

"Not my season for tourists. I'm buying up athletes this winter. Got an option on a pro football franchise. All I need is a team, to make a killing. Do you know a bird at Welliver named Todd?"

"Angel? Do I know my own right leg? Angel's liable to be around this evening."

"Is he? Then why don't I settle right here?"

I sang my little song. "You couldn't find a better place for a home in these United States. Electric light and heat. Shower bath. All for two dollars."

"Fair enough. Todd isn't living here, is he? I understood he was still at Welliver."

"So he is. But he comes around. He's sort of interested in my partner."

"Is that so? I had a half interest in her once, myself. I'm Henderson Kent."

BURLEY'S GUARD TROOP SWORN IN

BURLEY, Jan. 31 (Special)—Formation of Company C, first battalion, fifth regiment of the Idaho militia, was completed here Wednesday night at the Burley high school under the supervision of Brig. Gen. M. C. McConnell, state adjutant, assisted by his aide, Captain Walters.

Company lieutenants are Harvey Rogers and John E. Rue, both former officers with the national guard here, and a captain will be named later. Drills will be held every Monday at 8 p. m. beginning Feb. 2, and uniforms, rifles and ammunition will be furnished by the government.

Thirty-five men were sworn in out of the 60 men who registered with Dale Rustay and M. W. McLaughlin, of the American Legion.

GOODING

Fourteen members of the Gooding camp of Modern Woodmen of America attended a district rifle shoot at Shoshone Wednesday evening.

Gooding men were high in the rifle contest and Russell Robinson was individual high score man with a score of 23.

Mr. and Mrs. George Carrio, formerly of Gooding, are the parents of a baby girl born Jan. 22 at the Twin Falls hospital. The baby has been named Judith Dawn. The Carrios now live in Buhl.

HANSEN

The meeting of the sewing class of the Hansen Red Cross unit, under direction of Mrs. P. K. Kenworthy was held Friday afternoon in the basement of the Community church, which will be used in the future for a central place, and from where women will be allotted home sewing.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Carlson, Jerome, and Mrs. Carlson's brother, Robert Hofffield, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hofffield, Hansen, left Thursday for Portland, Ore., where the men will secure employment.

Bill Sherwood, who has spent the past year working in Alameda, Calif., arrived Sunday for an indefinite visit at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Sherwood.

Contributions in the form of $1 from each organization, are coming in by request of the finance committee of the Council of Social agencies, which is made up of the several civic groups of the communities of Kimberly, Hansen, Rock Creek and Pleasant Valley. Much work in the way of charities is being done by the agencies. The finance committee is composed of Rev. John C. Coke, and Mrs. Frank Trunkley, Hansen, and Bob Denton, Kimberly.

Following two weeks at the Twin Falls county hospital, and further attention at the St. Alfonso hospital, Boise, Mrs. D. J. Koenig, Twin Falls, who received a broken hip, a fall at her home, was moved Saturday to the home of her son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Harold Koenig, Hansen, where she will make an indefinite stay. Mr. D. J. Koenig is also at the Hansen home.

Grange Gleanings

By A. HARVESTER

WEST POINT

West Point Grange met last Friday night and saw a film shown by the Idaho Power Co. before Grange formally opened with 47 members present, despite the cold wind. My scribe says she thinks the wind must have blown them over to get out such a good crowd on such a night. Opening in due form, the Grange sang "America" as an opening number.

And you folks that do not have a Juvenile Grange, read how they build the membership in Granges that do have Juveniles. Glenn Mae Brand, Betty McCloud, Norma Smith and Marion Goble were received into the Grange by ballot. These are members of West Point Juvenile Grange, whom many of us have seen in action on various occasions, and they will add to the strength of West Point Grange as they are enthusiastic youngsters.

The official installation charge was given to Ervin Roth and Homer Goble, as they were both ill and unable to attend the regular installation ceremony of the Grange officers. Three new members were also taken into the Grange. (I'm either going to have to move that letter farther away from h or trim the nail on my peck finger.)

Not all the auditing committee were able to be present but those who were on hand did the auditing and gave their report. The home economics committee met in town on the previous Wednesday night, with the county agent, and discussed the farmers' part in the war effort, and especially the home garden on the farm. And in order to conserve canned food and tin, everyone is urged to plant and care for a garden this year. I put that "care" in because most of us plant a garden every year, but caring for it is something else again. P. C. Boss was named as the man on the home economics committee.

The closing song was "We Are the Grange of the Future," and refreshments of sandwiches, cookies and coffee (without sugar?) and a pleasant social time followed.

CEGAR DRAW

Cedar Draw Grange also met last Friday night with a good turnout and an interesting business meeting. The Grange voted to buy a $25 bond and to give $5 to the Red Cross war chest. The pair came up for discussion also, as all sorts of rumors are afloat concerning the fair and its management. Also discussed rise in sugar price.

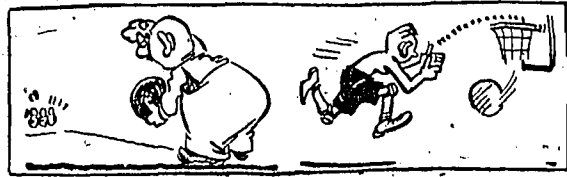

An interesting feature of the meeting was the celebration of the birthday of Fred Blenz and Mrs. Blenz had made a big cake and all the "fixins" and this was served to the members of the Grange. It was announced that Lee Coblanitz, the assistant steward, was in Boise for consultation with a physician concerning a bone ailment that refused to yield readily to treatment. We trust Mr. Coblanitz will return soon and in good health.

DEEP CREEK

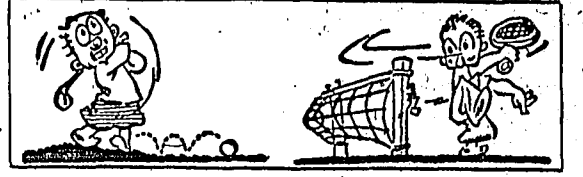

Deep Creek Grange met last Friday night at the Richard McRae home, with a good attendance, but due to the fact that Master Groden was suffering from a lumbago attack and was confined at home, the meeting was open and no business was transacted. They had a good visit though and had a good program.

For an opening number the Grange sang, "The Old Rugged Cross," with LaRue Phillips accompanying. R. A. McDonald read an article from the Idaho Granger, "Food for Defense." Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Esther Mae, Mrs. Mauley, sang "I'll Be Back in a Year, Little Darling," with Mrs. Phillips at the piano. A poem, "The Kind of a Grange We'd Like," was by Alice Tilley. Another duet by Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. McCauley.

Hogan and Sneed Play Today for Shot at Finals

By RONALD WAGONER
DEL MAR, Calif., Jan. 31 (U.P.)—Favorites Ben Hogan and Sammy Sneed, paired with film stars Bob Hope and Bing Crosby, went out today to challenge the early first round lead taken by Ralph Guldahl of Rancho Santa Fe and Joe Brown of Des Moines, Ia., in Crosby's $5,000 pro-amateur golf tournament.

The slow-playing, dark haired Guldahl and Brown, lanky surprise entrant, fired brilliant 68s yesterday when the first flight of pro-amateurs teams played an 18-hole qualifying round.

Brown, playing his third Crosby tournament, fired straight for the pins for a 33-38, leading all pros until the Rancho Santa Fe professional came along in the setting sun to match his four-under-par card for the 6,814-yard Rancho Santa Fe course.

Lead in Best Ball
Guldahl "bettered" Brown's 33 for the first nine by one stroke, but coming in his game was none so sharp and he took 38, despite birdies on the 11th and 12th holes. In addition to sharing a first place tie for the initial 18 holes, he teamed with Cliff Garner, La Jolla, Calif., amateur, for a best ball of 62 to lead the day's pro-amateur play.

Little Benny Hogan, Texas-born Hershey, Penn., pro, and Sneed, who has thrice won the Del Mar winter golf classic, were installed as the early favorites, but it was certain Guldahl and Brown would be serious contenders in tomorrow's finals because of their impressive start.

The leaders, however, also must outplay Byron Nelson, former National Open and PGA champion, teamed with amateur Pete Young of Los Angeles, Harold (Jug) McSpaden, teamed with Film Actor Randolph Scott, and a host of other ranking pro-amateur combinations.

Big Crowd Expected
A gallery of 2,000 followed the foursomes yesterday, but a large crowd was expected today. Yesterday's round was intended for lesser lights, but Guldahl was included to give the competition a little class.

The 15 teams which shot 69 or better yesterday qualified for Sunday's finals, and 10 more will qualify today.
In first round play, Ray Mangrum of Pittsburgh and Emery Zimmerman of Portland, Ore., followed Guldahl and Brown with 69. Next came George Scheller of Ogden, Utah, and Bill Nary of Rancho Santa Fe, with 70s. Frank Rodia of San Diego, Bill Barbour of Becksville, O., and John Perrelli of San Francisco, came in at 71. At even par, 72, were Willie Gooding of White Plains, N. Y., Walker Keller of Chicago, Al Krueger of Bolot, Wis., Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., and Fred Sherman of San Diego.

HANSEN, Jan. 31 (Special)—Led by Farmer, who scored 11 points, the Hansen Huskies turned back the Hollister Hawks here last night by a score of 34-24 in a well-played basketball game.

Hollister moved into an early 7-2 lead in the first quarter and still hung onto a 14-12 advantage at the half. However, in the last half the locals spurred to gain a 24-24 tie in the third stanza and then held the visitors scoreless the last quarter while running up their 10-point margin. Dean and Parrott each got six points to top the Hollister scoring.

Preliminary went to the invaders by a 25-24 score. B. Rowley got nine points for Hansen scoring honors while White collected eight for Hollister.

Wendell Trojans Win Over Bliss

WENDELL, Jan. 31 (Special)—Coach Cy Adkins' Wendell Trojans had one of their better nights over the invading Bliss Bears.

The home quintet took a strong 21-7 lead in the first half and never let up all through the last two stanzas.

Scoring honors went to Lancaster with 11 points for the winners. Payne got six to top Bliss.

Bliss gained an even break for the night by scoring a 31-16 victory in the girls' game.

Although there are only 340 cadets in the U. S. Coast Guard academy, more than 80 turned out for varsity football.

TWIN FALLS TRIPS POCATELLO

Bruins Score 45-31 Victory In Loop Tilt

Pocatello Indians today were of the opinion that big game hunting in southern Idaho isn't what it's cracked up to be.

As proof of this they could point with no pride to a sound beating administered here last night by Coach Deane Cranney's battling Bruins. For the Bruins chalked up a 45-31 victory in as easy a win as they have scored this year—and it was the fifth straight triumph for the Twin Falls boys.

Coming into Twin Falls with a record of five conference wins against a single loss, the cocky invaders found the local club on a hot streak that took so much starch out of the Indians that Coach Rip Gledhill finally had to bench his ace forwards, Wally Kelly and Jay Jensen.

The victory knocked the Big Six conference race into a mad scramble with any of the top four clubs having a good chance at victory—with Twin Falls now reckoned as at least a co-favorite after its recent showings, despite the fact it is still in fourth place. The defeat for the Indians pushed Boise into first place with three wins and one loss against five victories and two defeats for Pocatello.

For just one quarter and a half did the Bruins find the visitors much opposition. After that it was a rout and Coach Cranney used his second string most of the last frame. Prior to that the first team had counted 13 points each quarter. And to make it unanimous, Glenn Gibb, top scorer for the evening, came through with a grand total of 13—boosting his conference scoring for seven games to 82.

Pocatello's lone bid for victory came in the opening minutes of play. Bill Wheeler, big center scored a basket and Glenn Terry tied it at 2-2. From there the Indians ran the count to 8-3 before Twin Falls took stock of things and put on a drive that swept the invaders nearly off the court. With three minutes to play before the end of the stanza, Twin Falls sank everything that was tossed at the basket and they came to the rest period with a 19-8 lead.

The second quarter saw the lead continually increase. They had a count of 20-14 with four minutes to go on shots by Gibb, Mel Hulbert and Tommy Cartney. Then Otto Florence made it 22-14 and Hulbert got another to make it 24. Terry added another and it was 26-14.

Just before the half Sattgaff tossed one in for Pocatello to make it 28-16 at the intermission.

Start of the third frame saw the real commencement of the rout. With all five members joining in the firing, the Bruins ran up 10 points without Pocatello even threatening to score and they held a 40-20 lead at 36-16 before they let up on any extent. It was Hulbert, Gibb, Cartney, Gibb, Cartney, and the shots were from all angles—long and short.

Reserves in Action
That was the biggest advantage and with a lead of 18 points in the last quarter, Coach Cranney put in five youngsters from the bench.

boys who will be wearing the Bruin regular stripes next season. They scored six points in the last frame. The play of the five regulars was so even that there wasn't one man who stood out from his teammates. Florence and Gibb played some grand defensive ball under the basket while the other three boys came in for their share of the glory with their passing and basket-tossing. Hulbert, usually sturdy on defense—but a little short of what could be expected on the offense—came through with five field goals. And Tommy Cartney hit the basket like he did when he was a freshman and soonhomore a knock he lost for a time last season. He collected 11 points. Terry, the best ball handler on the club, was steady throughout.

Preliminary saw the Twin Falls Cubs edge the Hazelton Class B quintet by a score of 33-29. The Cubs led 17-13 at the half. Scoring honors went to Pearson of the Cubs with eight counters, while Hochhalter of Hazelton collected 11.

RUPERT, Jan. 31 (Special)—Led by big Ed Schenck, who tossed in 14 points, Coach Jerry Dellinger's Rupert Pirates handed the Burley Bobcats their first defeat in the Big Seven conference here last night, after six consecutive victories.

The final score was 26-21 and the game was played before a great throng in the Civic auditorium.

The Corsairs were in front all the way through, taking a 15-9 lead at the half and blanking Coach Rulon Budget's boys in the third stanza. Count at the end of that quarter was 20-9 as the Rupert boys played some fine defensive ball and Burley had a bit of tough luck on basket-tossing.

Buhl Edges Wildcats In Tight Game, 25-23

BUHL, Jan. 31 (Special)—A powerful last-quarter rally by the Filer Wildcats fell two points short and the Buhl Indians chalked up another victory in the Big Seven conference here last night—by a score of 25-23.

The Indians were held to a 7-7 tie in the first quarter, but moved into a 19-11 advantage at the intermission. Third period count was 21-13 and in the last stanza the Wildcats counted 10 points while Buhl was held to four. However, the lead held and the Indians stayed in the top ranks of the conference.

Cowboy Bosses Head for Boise League Meeting

Carl Anderson, business manager of the Twin Falls Cowboys, accompanied by Hal Wood, Evening Times sports editor, head this afternoon for Boise and the Pioneer league meeting that is slated to get underway tomorrow morning—a session that may decide the fate of the three-year-old Class C professional baseball circuit.

Several of the other Twin Falls directors, including President Frank Magel, Secretary Carl Hoag and Bill McRoberts, will also be in attendance from here.

With club owners from the six cities in attendance, plus representatives of several big league organizations, plans will be laid out for the 1942 season—including the future life of baseball in the city of Twin Falls.

Official Representative
Mr. Anderson, who recently offered his resignation as executive of the Cowboys—a resignation that has not yet been accepted—will represent the local club at the meeting officially.

The main "fly in the ointment" of the Twin Falls men is lack of a suitable tie-up wherein baseball talent can be landed to perform in Magic Valley. That little item will be the chief topic of their conversation at the league meeting. Any representative at the session with big league connections is due to get a lot of arguments telling that a tie-up with Twin Falls would prove advantageous—to both organizations.

Tiger Offer
The offer of the Detroit Tigers to tie up the Cowboys with Beaumont of the Texas league is still hanging fire. It isn't exactly what the Twin Falls bosses want—but it would be better than nothing.

Besides the Twin Falls situation, the league directors will have plenty of other problems on their hands. It was reported today in Idaho Falls that the sale of the Russetts by Sam Collins of Lewiston to a Los Angeles group, will be announced after the meeting by President Jack Halliwell.

There is also talk of boosting the salary limit of the league to $1,800—tops for any Class C circuit in the country.

The schedule will also be drawn up for the 1942 season and there is talk—by Hady Walker of the Boise Pilots, at least—of lifting the limit on veteran performers.

Gooding Turns Back Jerome Quint, 29-20

JEROME, Jan. 31 (Special)—It was the same old story for Coach John Norby and his Jerome Tigers here last night.

They put up a great battle for half the game, but a powerful drive by the Gooding Senators resulted in the seventh straight defeat for the Tigers here last night by a score of 29-20.

The two clubs battled on even terms for the first half with Jerome in front 4-3 at the quarter, but Gooding holding an 8-7 edge at the half-time. However, in the third frame, the Solons pulled away and held a 21-16 margin going into the final stanza.

Scoring honors went to Averett of Jerome with 12 points, while Crocker topped the winners with 10.

Gooding reserves took another heart-breaker from the locals in the preliminary—this time by a score of 27-26.

GOODING: Peterson (4), F. (4), (12) Averett, Adamson (4), F. (4), Freeman (4), Schmitt (6), C. (1), Metzner (4), G. (4), (5) Stanger, Jordan (4), G. (1), Lewis (1), Mewer, Aspitarte, Crossh-walk, Boyer (1), Jerome—Merrill, Walters, Arnold, Messenger (1).

Hagerman Cage Quint Beats Indians, 29-26

SHOSHONE, Jan. 31 (Special)—Shoshone's state championship Class B cageers took another beating here last night at the hands of the strong Hagerman Pirates.

The final score was 29-26 after the local quintet had trailed by a wide margin through the first half. Hagerman was in front 9-4 at the quarter and 17-10 at the half. They closed the gap to 23-19 at the end of the third period, but couldn't quite catch up in the last frame.

Hendrickson of Hagerman scored 12 points—the last five in succession. Dean Baumann and Murphy each got seven for the losing quintet in the last contest that saw considerable rough play with 29 fouls being called.

Preliminary encounter went to Shoshone youngsters by a 34-18 count—the 14th consecutive win for the local juniors.

The varsity game went to the invaders by a score of 25-19 as Woodland came through with 17 points for the winners. Kimberly trailed 14-19 at the end of the third quarter, but put on a great rally in the final stanza for the victory. Thompson topped the losing quintet in scoring with seven points.

First game went to the visitor reserves by a score of 15-11 over the local frosh-soph club.

"Spoiler" Easily Wins Decision in Battle At Madison Square

By JACK CUDDY
NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (U.P.)—Bob Pastor, "spoiler" scourge of the heavyweight division, has blasted the dreams of another aspirant for the golden crown—Gus Lesnevich.

Pulling a mallet-like left hook from his bag of tricks, veteran Pastor gave Light-Heavyweight Champion Lesnevich such a pasting at the Garden last night that the sandy-haired Jersey scrapper regretted stepping out of his class to try for a shot at Joe Louis.

Fortunately for Gus his 175-pound title was not at stake, since both came in as heavyweights for their 10-round brawl.

Paste won the unanimous decision by an impressive margin and was hammering under such a full head of steam at the finish that he might have knocked out Lesnevich had the bout been for 15 rounds.

Campaign Ruined
Pastor, with his disconcerting left hooks and mongroose body-fencing, ruined the 175-pound ruler's heavy-weight campaign just as he did those of Bob Nestell, Chuck Crowell, Roscoe Toles, Tiger Warrington, Turkey Thompson, Maurice Strickland and Booker Beekwith. Although Rapid Robert of New York has had two unsuccessful bouts with Louis, himself, he seems destined by the fickle fists to act as a perennial barrier between rising contenders and the champion.

However, this role of "spoiler" may be ended abruptly on Feb. 24 when Pastor tackles Lem Franklin, Cleveland's dark dynamite, in Lem's home town. Smart-money men say Franklin will be favored at 2-1 or 3-1.

Disappointing Crowd
Meanwhile Promoter Mike Jacobs, who announced the disappointing figures of $20,728 and 9,592 persons for the last night's show, seems virtually certain to match Mello Bettina, the Beacon, N. Y., southpaw and Joe Louis for his army relief fight at the garden, March 27. With Lesnevich out of the picture, Bettina should have an open road, if he can defer induction into the army for a couple of months.

And Lesnevich is definitely out of the picture because he learned last night that adding poundage to his squat frame makes him merely a fat man instead of a heavyweight. The Russian blond for Cliffside, N. J., came in at 181 pounds, eight more than his normal fighting weight. This excess blubber slowed him pathetically after the sixth round and made him an easy target for Pastor's portside leather. Pastor sealed 1934.

Good Fight at First
It was a good fight for six rounds, with Lesnevich taking the first, fourth and sixth sessions by virtue of aggressiveness and landing the cleaner shots, and they fought on even terms in the fifth. But after the sixth, Pastor came on to click off four straight rounds, battering his opponent with increasing vigor.

Lesnevich suffered a gashed right brow in the second round. This bled profusely in the later milling. Pastor's left brow was slightly cut in the ninth. There were no knock-downs, although Gus staggered Pastor with a hard right to the chin in the sixth.

OREGON STATE TIPS WSC
PULLMAN, Wash., Jan. 31 (U.P.)—Battling all the way, Oregon State college defeated Washington State college last night, 38-34, in the first of a two-game basketball series, but the Beavers had several close squeaks. The teams played again to night, Oregon State led 20-12 at halftime.

Dietrich Defeats Carey Club, 42-33

CAREY, Jan. 31 (Special)—Invading Dietrich high school taggers scored a 42-33 victory over the local club last night after running up a 22-1 advantage in the first half.

J. Bartholomew scored 15 points for the winners to top the scoring. Preliminary went to Dietrich by a 33-23 count after the visiting frosh-soph club had taken a 17-13 lead.

STOCKS DROP ON BRITISH SET-BACK

NEW YORK, Jan. 31 (UP)—Stocks declined today as the British left the island of Malaya and settled down in Singapore for a Japanese siege. Trading volume was around the smallest for a Saturday since early October and volume for January finished at the lowest level for that month since 1919.

Wall street predicted uncertain markets until Singapore's status is definitely established. Thus the war took place in the list of adverse market factors, which include taxes, restrictions, labor demands for higher wages, and the price control bill.

Losses in the main list were small and the industrial average held slightly above its low for the year, set on Jan. 22. All major groups registered losses and some recently strong special groups also reacted downward. Sugars joined the decline. Numerous special issues had been trading to more than 2 points. Rails, steel, motors, oil and copper were fractions lower. Mercantiles had losses ranging to more than a point in many departments.

Guantanamo Sugar preferred, biggest gainer of the week, lost 3 1/2 points to 70 1/2.

This stock closed last week at 84. Its common stock equaled its high and then declined. Holly Sugar was off nearly a point. F. K. Smith made a new low at 4 1/2. J. C. Higgins and Vicks Chemical also made new lows. Procter & Gamble equaled its low.

New Jones preliminary closing stock averages: Industrial 109.11, off 0.06; rail 28.24, off 0.07; utility 14.02, off 0.06; and steel 37.28, off 0.11.

Stock sales approximated 230,000 shares compared with 200,000 in the short session a week ago. Cash stock sales were 45,000 shares against 48,000 last Saturday.

JAPS OPEN FULL-SCALE DUTCH INDIES INVASION

TROOPS CLAIMED LANDED ON ISLE WITH NAVY BASE

By JOHN R. MORRIS

BATAVIA, Jan. 31 (UP)—Japanese invasion forces have opened a full scale attack on Ambon Island, in the Moluccas east of Celebes, on which the second most important naval and air force base in The Netherlands East Indies, a community of The Netherlands Indies command announced today.

(An Australian army communiqué said that Japanese forces had begun landing on the island.)

Swarms of Japanese bombers and fighting planes opened a furious attack on the island yesterday morning.

As they bombed and machine gunned, a Japanese invasion fleet steamed southward to the coast last evening. Japanese cruisers and destroyers joined in the attack, covering the troop transports.

At 6:20 a. m., today, the real bombardment by warships and airplanes was started.

Plan Destruction

The communiqué did not make plain whether enemy forces had yet succeeded in landing men anywhere on the island, which has an area of 262 square miles, but it was announced that as soon as the attack was started preparatory destruction of vital points in Ambon town and its vicinity was carried out by demolition squads.

In announcing the attack, the command revealed that a Netherlands warship in a night action had destroyed a Japanese submarine with depth charges, but it did not specify where. This brought to 55 the number of Japanese warships, transports and supply ships as sunk or damaged by Netherlands forces in 55 days—a ship a day.

The Japanese attacking in the eastern end of The Netherlands Indies were 140 miles from New Guinea and only 660 miles from Port Darwin, the town and important base of the north coast of the Australian continent.

Saw Invasion Fleet

Australian royal air force planes had seen the invasion fleet north of the island and The Netherlands forces had anticipated the attack.

Netherlands troops already by guerrillas were fighting fiercely still in other invasion areas of the Indies, especially as in the Papuan area.

Though for days it had been indicated that the Dutch had retreated, latest advice was that they were fighting not only in the suburbs but in the town itself and that the Japanese so far had been unable to enlarge the foothold which they won in their first attack.

Dispatches of The Netherlands Indies News agency made it plain, however, that if the defense troops were forced out of Balikpapan, they were prepared to melt into the jungle and fight on with guerrilla tactics.

Lincoln, Mein Kampf and Ballads—
Carl Sandburg Lectures, Then Sings

A Bell to an Old Fire-Horse

Carl Sandburg, whose U. S. fame is based on poetry, biography and collection of American folk songs, forgot all those as he scanned the Evening Times "style sheet" of headlines. An old newspaperman, the 65-year-old Sandburg promptly began to talk shop along those lines. (Times Photo and Engraving)

Sandburg Befogs Office With
Cigar; Raps Lecture-Bureaus

One of America's most famed white-hatlers wandered around downtown Twin Falls yesterday, then roamed into the Evening Times office, found a fellow-Illinoisian—and promptly began to talk shop.

The visitor was Carl Sandburg, whose rugged poetry has been "must" reading in many schools for years, whose monumental biography of Abraham Lincoln is tops, and whose collection of Americana in the form of folk-songs has dignified the rollicking ballads of a people.

He Hates Fuss

Sandburg reached Twin Falls unheralded and unattended. He remarked simply that he doesn't like welcoming committees because "there's always something I want to see and you can't see it with welcome around your neck."

Putting a cigar, he borrowed the desk and typewriter of the Evening Times sports editor, who happened to be out at the time. One hour and 59 minutes (and two and a half cigars) later, Sandburg had jabbed out the weekly column he syndicates throughout the United States. One portion of the column revealed a fact about the Pearl Harbor bombing that hasn't yet been printed. But it's no fair stealing Sandburg's stuff.

The poet-biographer-folksinger was highly impressed with Idaho's rolling open spaces. He likes open spaces anywhere despite his Chicago background. But he was considerably irked at the route by which his New York lecture bureau sent him to Idaho's western vastnesses.

Assembly Line Staff

"These bureaus," he said, puffing at his cigar, "handle speakers like the assembly lines do the 20,000 different parts of a bomber. They sent me up here to Twin Falls from Los Angeles. From here they've got me routed to Sacramento and Ellensburg, Wash. And then they ship me back into Idaho to talk at Boise."

"That's some smart fellow for you, sitting at a desk in New York."

He befogged the office atmosphere with cigar smoke for a minute. Then he added reflectively: "I may cancel that Boise lecture."

Sandburg, a Spanish-American war volunteer and press correspondent, brightened the moment he spotted an NEA service envelope.

"Good old NEA," he said. "Let me open that envelope. Haven't opened one of 'em for years. You know, I used to run their Chicago office."

With which dip into the past he opened the package from the Evening Times feature service and had a look at telephoto "mats" airmailed from the Pacific war zone.

Comments on Headlines

Looking over the Evening Times headline "Style sheet," the 65-year-old poet, picked out headline types he thought were best. He knew whereof he spoke, too. Sandburg was on the Chicago Daily News in 1917 and was sent to Sweden as a war correspondent for NEA. He came back to the Daily News in 1918. Before the war he worked on four different papers at Milwaukee, Wis.

Completing his syndicated column after much pecking on the sports editor's typewriter, Sandburg made a few farewell pecks at the keyboard. He chuckled.

"Just like the machine I've been cussing for 30 years."

From Lincoln's humor... to "snobbish" Mein Kampf... to a guitar and "Frankie and Johnnie"...

Carl Sandburg, white-haired and austere of face but humorous himself at heart, spoke and sang to the Twin Falls Town Hall last night.

The noted poet, biographer and folk-song compiler whose down-to-earth charm is more evident in personal contact than from a formal lecture platform—recited dozens of Abraham Lincoln's anecdotes and bits of grass roots humor. He told his listeners that laughter to Lincoln was an essential outlet in times of stress, and modern America in troublous days of 1942 has need of the same formula.

Lincoln, he said, "had a sometimes desperate and lovely irony."

Solemn but Humorous

Sandburg pointed out as significant that "the most solemn man in White House history had the greatest sense of humor of anyone who was ever there." The three foremost humorists of the day "were with him and showed an affection for him." According to Sandburg they were, by pen names, Orpheus C. Kerr, Petroleum Veevus Natchez and Artemus Ward.

Referring to Lincoln's "wiscracked" in time of momentous problems, Sandburg called the presidency "a man-killing job as in Lincoln's time."

He termed Lincoln "the first man in the White House to give the country speeches and state papers of greatness in the American language." The emancipator, in the opinion of the noted Chicagoan, "has an enduring place in American literature," and his use of words proved "his sense of music."

Lashes Nazism

Changing his theme to modernity, the white-haired poet-biographer emphatically lashed at Nazism, its effort to foster the race issue in the United States.

"The amount of Berlin money used to deepen race feeling the past few years in America, nobody knows. When it is disclosed in the future, the amount may be immense."

Mein Kampf, the credo of Hitler, Sandburg flayed with his most emphatic outburst of the evening.

"The most infamous document ever born of the brain of man... It glorifies the German people as born to rule the world... More snobbish per page than any book I ever read. In a certain sense you could say the snottiest book ever written."

Sandburg said that scientists of his acquaintance term Mein Kampf "drivel."

"They told me," he said, "that if Hitler is right, then this America with its mixed bloods is headed for hell in a hanging basket."

Concerning Nazism itself, the speaker condemned it in a sentence: "The dark, clammy, subhuman thing operating in Germany now is not easy to look at."

Veering to poetry, Sandburg (a "stuffed shirt") offered two score definitions that revealed the humor and insight with which this Illinois-born poet regards one of the crafts in which he has gained renown. Samples of his definitions, which he said were revised to make them more understandable to the common man than was the list he originally printed in the Atlantic Monthly:

"Recognize Poetry in These?"

"Poetry is a spot about halfway between where you listen and you wonder what it was you heard."

"Poetry is a stack of telegrams in code, leaving out the 10 words and giving you a few hunches about the stars you were born under."

"Poetry is where you know how little you know, and you tear your hair trying to get that little on paper."

"Poetry is where you hope to God you'll always have pipe dreams with enough horse sense not to lose your shirt."

He read, in his own style, an excerpt from the chapter regarding Lincoln's talk at Gettysburg. The excerpt was from "Abraham Lincoln: The War Years," which won for Sandburg in 1939 the Pulitzer prize in biography.

Sings and Plays Guitar

The famed Sandburg guitar made its appearance as the Town Hall guest presented several songs from his own compilation, "The American Song Book," and one which he said he discovered after that publication was issued.

Mrs. Willis Sampson, Hansen introduced Mr. Sandburg. Quoting Mark Twain, she gave the shortest introductory speech in Town Hall history—and won Sandburg's praise in his prefatory remark, that he

ARMY Q. M. CORPS
EYES SPECIALISTS

Civilians experienced in commerce and industry including some holding responsible executive positions will soon have the opportunity of obtaining an army commission in the quartermaster corps, which used a great number of specialists, Sgt. Frank Morris, local recruiting officer with headquarters at the city hall, said this afternoon.

A radiogram received by headquarters at Ft. Douglas, Utah, a copy of which has been received by Sgt. Morris, explains the procedure for earning an army commission as follows:

"Early increase in number of candidates for all officer candidate schools necessitate immediate steps be taken to institute submission of applications and examinations for candidates."

"Division, army corps and army commanders will be authorized to establish examining boards and their decision will be final in all cases concerning their personnel. These instructions do not cancel action on candidates previously allotted."

"Existing restrictions covering qualifications as to age and date of enlistment are removed. Age limits will conform to new age limits for selective service and age limits for enlistment. Enlistment ages are 18 to 35 and selective service ages are 20 to 44. A candidate upon graduation from any officer candidate school must not be over 46 years of age."

Camp's Siren
Will Help in Raid Signals

A second siren today joined the Twin Falls fire siren as a warning signal which will be used in the event of air raids and other emergencies.

The new siren is located at the farm labor camp south of the city and this afternoon Roy C. Lane, camp manager, announced that the camp would "cooperate with the city and the rest of the county in the practice blackout set for Sunday night, Feb. 8, and also at any other time."

Covers Wide Area

The camp siren, in addition to serving as a warning signal for the camp proper, will also be valuable as an aid to the Twin Falls siren. The camp signal, Lane said, can be heard two or more miles in any direction. It will be mounted on top of the administration building.

Only recently Lane offered all facilities for use in case of an emergency. The camp can house persons whose homes may be destroyed and physicians announced that clinic facilities there would be a "great aid" in supplementing local hospital use.

Lane said today that Frank Smith, general mechanic and safety man at the camp, will have full charge of operation of the new siren. Smith and the camp manager will confer with county civilian defense leaders next week to work out details of the cooperation plan.

Same Signals

In any event the camp will adopt the same air raid signal code to be approved by the city.

"When the city officials decide on the number and length of siren signals to be used, we will adopt the same signal system at the camp," Lane said. "The installation of the siren here will augment that in the city and will assure residents of a great area south of the city proper 'warning time.'"

The new large siren at the camp is in addition to two small ones which are now used for fire signals. One small one is located on the community hall building and another on the community hall building.

foundation for infantile paralysis had been authorized to use part of their share of this year's funds to give special assistance to the children of soldiers, marines and sailors who fall victims to infantile paralysis.

"That," he said, "will be good news and a well-deserved boon to the fathers who are serving their flag on land and on sea in many parts of the world, and to the mothers who have been left at home to do their brave parts."

The President said "thank you" to the nation and concluded:

"I am sure we shall have added strength to face the days of trial which lie ahead until peace with victory is assured. The lives of all of us are now dedicated to working and fighting, and, if need be, dying for the cause of a better future—the future that belongs to our little children."

Gerry's lunch with the President was a 100 per cent success except for one incident. Dressed in his sailor suit the New York child, chosen by the foundation to represent the thousands of similarly stricken children, limped into the dining room where his host was and said, "Happy birthday, Mr. President." He grinned when the President replied, "Hello, little admiral." Later he laid aside his crutches and walked four steps while the President watched admiringly.

Then, when the luncheon was over, a shameful thing happened to Gerry—a girl kissed him. That the girl was lovely Dorothy Lamour made no difference to Gerry. He swung, landing a light left on her nose.

Miss Lamour survived, however, and after Gerry had been put to bed she joined the other stars in a round of receptions, banquets, dinner dances, balls and theater appearances that continued until the small hours.

His new promotion by the navy for the marine corps designates the rank he will hold if called away from Pan-Am to active duty with the marines.
