U. S. Bataan Army Smashes 2 More Japanese Drives

By EVERETT R. HOLLES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3 (U.P.)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's forces on lower Bataan peninsula in a savage night battle have smashed two more Japanese attempts to land shock troops from a large fleet of invasion barges for a knockout assault on Corregidor fortress, an army communique said today.

Under the pounding of MacArthur's artillery, machine guns and the bombs of low-swooping U. S. pursuit planes, the attempted landings on the west coast of the peninsula were crushed with heavy losses, the communique said.

At dawn a number of shattered Japanese barges, some ablaze and others bullet-riddled and adrift, were seen along the beach.

It was evident that the Japanese, using their best troops including the "Tairo," which correspond to the famous British Commandos, were making a desperate and costly attempt to drive MacArthur's American and Filipino forces from their last foothold on the Philippine mainland.

"Desperate" Drive
A war department communique Monday told of the shattering of a "desperate" double-barreled Japanese offensive, unleashed on both the east and west coast of mountainous Bataan about 17 miles north of stubbornly resisting Corregidor in Manila bay.

On MacArthur's right flank, presumably in the Pilar area of the east Bataan coast, American and Filipino troops surged upon them, Gen. Nara's 65th Japanese division, swept across three lines of enemy trenches, and captured "considerable equipment."

The counter-attack was unleashed in the rugged region where Nara's crack forces had attempted to drive a wedge between the American forces, as described in Monday's communique.

The American counter-attack apparently was designed to regain full possession of the important highway junction at Pilar.

The attempted Japanese landings from a large number of barges under naval escort along the Bataan west coast began under protection of darkness.

The first assault was carried out by special shock troops but their attempted landing was "frustrated by our artillery fire," the war department said.

Barges Try Landing
"A second and more serious attempt was made at night," it was related. "A large number of barges under naval escort approached the coast. The raid was discovered by a few of our night flying pursuit planes which immediately attacked the convoy with light bombs and machine gun fire."

"As the enemy troops approached the shore our beach defense force attacked with artillery and machine guns," the communique said. "The Japanese force suffered heavy casualties in men and boats."

The Japanese naval vessels were unable to protect the barges against the fire of MacArthur's guns and planes and fled out to sea.

The communique revealed that MacArthur's gallantly resisting forces were using night fighter planes in their defense. For the first time in recent days, the communique told of heavier Japanese aerial attacks in support of the desperate efforts to mop up all of Bataan peninsula.

On the flanks of MacArthur's lower Bataan line there was only minor action, except for the American counter-attack, it was stated. Pockets of Japanese troops were found in isolated spots and mopping up (Continued on Page 2, Column 2)

BILL ASKS SHIFT IN IDAHO'S TIME

BOISE, Feb. 3 (U.P.)—The attitude of Idaho citizens on establishing uniform time throughout the state was sought today by Rep. Compton E. White, D. Idaho, who placed a bill before congress to shift the entire state to Pacific time.

Earl Murphy, secretary of the Idaho Chamber of Commerce, said he has received copies of White's proposal for study by groups interested in making the time change. Murphy said White had submitted the bill to find out the attitude of Idaho on the time change question.

If adopted, the part of Idaho which now uses mountain time would not gain an hour when daylight saving time goes into effect next Monday. However, the Idaho area which uses Pacific time would set clocks ahead.

The Idaho chamber adopted a resolution at its annual meeting to shift all the state to the Pacific time belt. Later, Murphy was informed by the interstate commerce commission that an act of congress would be necessary to permit the time change.

Murphy said that after the emergency Idaho would revert to the same time setup as at present under provisions of White's bill.

These Signs Will Blockade Roads During Blackouts

Here are some of the special new signs prepared under direction of Sheriff Warren W. Lowery for blocking strategic roads in the county during blackouts and actual air raids. Officers will blockade all roads entering the county and will cooperate with city and village authorities in closing highways entering the various municipalities.

The signs utilize gold paint against a black background, with reflectors at the upper corners. Sheriff Lowery, county director of policing and vital services in the air raid precaution program, holds one of the signs above. There will be enough of the signs to cover all necessary roads. Blackout Plans Will Be Outlined At Meet Slated Thursday Night

BUSINESS EMBARRASSING TO THIS MAN

AURORA, Ill. Feb. 3 (U.P.)—Edward West, filling station operator, found that too much business can be very embarrassing especially when the customers are competitors.

West was the sole operator among 80 in town who did not close shop at 7 p. m. He stayed open.

Shortly after seven, a battered wreck of a car pulled up at West's gas pump. "Check the water, oil, windshield wiper, clean the windows, and give me a gallon of gas," said the customer.

West served the car and the owner gave him a $20 bill to pay for the 18 cents purchase.

Hardly had the wreck wheeled down the driveway, until another jalopy pulled up. Same request, same purchase and a $100 bill.

Within a short time, the drive way was filled with a caravan of antiquated cars waiting for service, all of them manned by West's competitors.

Finally West found it necessary to sit down and wait, too. He was out of change, a condition which didn't deter his competitors from maintaining their patient wait.

At last reports a deadlock prevailed.

"As long as you stay open we'll be here," said a customer, a gallon at a time, they told him, and he replied:

"As long as there's business to be had I'll stay open."

HUDELSON TO BE AT SESSION HERE

Twin Falls county and Magic Valley preparations for the Feb. 8 test blackout moved forward on several fronts today.

Location was announced for the blackout preparation conference Thursday at which Homer Hudelson, state air raid warden, will outline details of the Feb. 8 test to defense leaders of all Magic Valley counties. Simultaneously six more air raid wardens for Twin Falls county were appointed by Leonard F. Avant, Twin Falls, chief warden for the entire county.

The meeting with Hudelson will be held at 8 p. m. Thursday in Legion hall, Twin Falls, Judge J. R. Bothwell, civilian defense council chairman, said. Law enforcement heads, air raid wardens and others directly connected with the blackout program will be on hand from Twin Falls, Cassia, Minidoka, Jerome, Gooding, Lincoln, Blaine and Camas counties.

Reports indicated the Japanese thrust toward Rangoon was being directed along a 50-mile front from the Salween river mouth below Moulmein to Paan.

The Japanese were attempting to cross the wide, treacherous waters of the Salween by hop-skip-and-jump methods, utilizing the numerous small islands and mudflats which dot the estuary.

"Thus far, reports indicated, they have had scant success. Their sea landing efforts north of Chongson were carried out by small craft but the small Japanese landing boats were beaten back."

Royal air force bombers and fighters were flying low over the Salween front, attacking with bombs and machine gun fire the Japanese positions.

Meanwhile, Chief Warden Avant and the district wardens working under him were pushing ahead with alignment of their blackout staffs. Announced as additional district heads today were the following:

Japanese Planes Start Ferocious Singapore Drive

By HAROLD GUARD

SINGAPORE, Feb. 3 (U.P.)—Japanese planes opened a ferocious dive bombing attack on Singapore today while the emperor's guards massed on the mainland across the narrow strait from the besieged island.

Sweeping south from new bases in the lower Malaya peninsula, the Japanese planes raced over the city and, roaring down in precipitate dives, hurled their bombs indiscriminately on objectives in the city area and the island generally.

British planes hurried out for a blasting attack on the chief Japanese air base at Kluang, 47 miles up the central Malaya railroad.

Other British planes made low-level attacks on Japanese motor columns which crowded the highways moving toward the lower peninsula for siege operations.

It was admitted that the Japanese planes had caused some fires but military casualties were slight.

As the dive bombers began their attack on the island, big formations of heavier planes bombed from high altitudes.

No Ground Attack
A general headquarters communique, announcing the new first overt move in the siege operations, said that so far the Japanese on the ground had made no gesture against the British, Australian and Indian troops who, refreshed, re-equipped and reinforced, faced them across a widened causeway.

The text of the communique was: "Enemy activity over Singapore has been considerable during the last 24 hours."

"High level and dive bomb attacks were carried out, causing some fires. Military casualties were slight."

"There has been no enemy ground activity against our defenses."

JAPANESE CROSS SALWEEN RIVER

RANGOON, Feb. 3 (U.P.)—Japanese forces crossed the Salween river barrier, it was reported today, but imperial troops quickly mopped up most of them and prevented a large-scale crossing.

The Japanese forces also attempted to land along the Burma coast in the gulf of Martaban north of Chongson Island but were said to have been repulsed.

U. S. Pacific Fleet in Action On Wide Front, Says Leader

HONOLULU, Feb. 3 (U.P.)—Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander in chief of the Pacific fleet, said today in a message to America that every ship, every plane and every man in the fleet was in action over the vast Pacific war zone to safeguard the country and take the war to Japan's front door.

Following up the communique in which he announced that the fleet had done extensive damage in a bold raid on the Marshall and Gilbert Islands with little loss to itself, Nimitz said:

"Your fleet is busy every moment of every day and night across the vast reaches of the Pacific; especially in those areas where we can most effectively harness the enemy and contribute to our own security."

He recalled that he had said when he assumed his command Dec. 31

Axis Toll Climbs To 34 in Raid on Macassar Strait

By JOHN R. MORRIS

BATAVIA, Feb. 3 (U.P.)—United States army battle planes have sunk two more Japanese transports and probably a third in a continuation of the deadly allied aerial and naval offensive in the Macassar strait, a communique of the united nations southwest Pacific command said today.

The new victories brought to at least 34 and probably to 35 the total of Japanese warships and transports sunk or damaged in the Macassar strait battle off the east coast of Borneo.

One of 26 Japanese planes that raided the Soerabaya naval base was shot down by furious anti-aircraft and Dutch fighter plane action. The Netherlands news agency said.

Soerabaya on Java is the main allied naval base in the Indies as a result of the investment of Singapore, which has been made useless for warships for the time being at least.

A second Japanese plane was shot down during a raid on Madjoen and a third at Malang during attacks on Dutch air bases. Damage was reported slight.

New Successes
The allied command communique, released at Pacific headquarters somewhere in Java through The Netherlands Indies news agency, disclosed that the American war planes scored their new success yesterday off Balikpapan, Japanese invasion objective.

It said that in another part of the same area a Netherlands plane shot down a Japanese plane, to bring to at least 17 the number of Japanese planes shot down by allied action in the aerial phase of the battle of the strait.

The communique said that in recent days allied planes within Japanese shipping in the strait had shot down nine enemy planes against their loss of one.

This, unless there were duplications in reports, would bring the toll to 25-30 Japanese planes.

(A communique issued at Washington last night revealed that four American flying fortresses had shot down nine Japanese planes for a loss of one in the Macassar strait while hunting down remnants of the Japanese fleet, and that flying fortresses also had heavily bombed the Japanese invasion and air bases at Kuala Lumpur and Kuantan on the Malaya peninsula.)

Heavy Attack
As the Pacific command issued its communique, a communique of The Netherlands Indies command, issued through The Netherlands Indies agency, said that Japanese planes in what might be foretold an invasion attempt, were attacking Soerabaya, the greatest naval base in the Dutch Indies and other towns in Java.

A fleet of 26 Japanese bombing planes, escorted by fighters, made the attack on Soerabaya.

Japanese planes also attacked Malang, Madjoen, Magetan and Rembang on the east Java coast. To offset the new Japanese threat, The Netherlands Indies command was able on the basis of new reports to say that guerrilla fighting by Intrepid Dutch troops against overwhelmingly more numerous Japanese invasion forces continued in the Minahassa area of Celebes island.

It said that the Dutch Indies troops, by brave stands, had won local successes in which many Japanese troops were killed.

HAGLER GETS ONE YEAR IN PRISON

BOISE, Feb. 3 (U.P.)—Federal Judge C. C. Cavanaugh today sentenced William Elmore Hagler, Twin Falls draft violator, to 12 months imprisonment.

Hagler, who claimed he was a member of the Jehovah's Witnesses sect, pleaded guilty to charges of violating the selective service act. Place of imprisonment will be decided by the U. S. attorney but it was believed he would be sent to the federal prison camp at Kootenai in north Idaho.

Hagler, 26, was classified by the Twin Falls draft board as a conscientious objector, and was arrested after he refused to go to a labor camp for conscientious objectors.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 3 (U.P.)—The German radio, quoted by the British Broadcasting company in a broadcast picked up here by NBO today, said the German soldier "is fighting to prevent invasion of his homeland" against a Russian offensive of "unprecedented scale."

By day and night, the Russians are throwing more men and horses into their attack on the eastern front, the German radio was reported broadcasting.

STRIKING WELDERS RETURN TO JOBS AT SEATTLE SHIPYARDS

GOVERNMENT TRAP AT ACTIONS PUTS END TO WALKOUT

SEATTLE, Feb. 3 (AP)—A jurisdictional strike of independent welders in Puget Sound shipyards was pronounced "all washed up" by an employer spokesman today, with only a handful of strikers left in Seattle and union members reported "straggling back" to their jobs in Tacoma.

A bitter indictment of the strike by the government's four top war agencies encouraged all but an estimated "20 or 25" welders to return to work at the Seattle-Tacoma Shipbuilding corporation's Seattle yard.

A personnel executive said 50 men of a crew of slightly more than 400 were absent, but said half that many absentees was normal because of sickness and vacations. Other defense industries here reported full crews.

Effective at Tacoma

The strike—first major work stoppage since America entered the war—was still most effective at Seattle-Tacoma's yard in the latter city. Only 10 of 50 welders had reported by mid-morning, but they continued arriving individually and in small groups.

Union leaders had announced they adopted "new strategy" after the government's statement was released late yesterday, but the undisclosed plans apparently failed to halt defections within welders' ranks.

The striking United Workers, Cutters and Helpers union (independent) refused to indicate whether it would call off its four-day walkout in the face of new demands from the war production board, maritime commission, army and navy, who joined in denouncing the strike.

Union leaders said they were forced to follow a new program but they refused to reveal its details.

Hold Mass Meeting

Strikers held a mass meeting to consider the government demands last night after Sheldon O'Kutsa, secretary of the union, estimated that only about 30 per cent of the union's membership had remained on strike.

Charles Brinkerhoff, secretary of the local at Tacoma, however, asserted that only 40 workers reported yesterday at the Tacoma plant of the Seattle-Tacoma Shipbuilding company. He said they included 31, imported from Portland, Ore., schools, who were "so incompetent they are doing more damage than good."

J. Lamont, president of the Seattle-Tacoma company, said the AFL bolshemakers' union was providing men to fill the strikers' jobs and that in "the Seattle picture as a whole" 65 per cent of the men were working. Five other Puget Sound shipyards are involved in the walkout.

Theater Lobbies Offered Here as Blackout Refuge

Twin Falls theater lobbies were offered today as a haven for pedestrians caught on the streets during next Sunday night's test blackout.

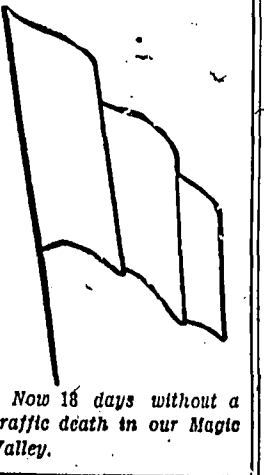

Under municipal ordinance it will be unlawful for any pedestrian or motorists to remain on the streets during any blackout. All must seek cover immediately.

Breck Fagin, manager of the Orpheum and Idaho theaters, announced today that both showhouses will blackout all lobby and marquee lights and any illumination that could show from outside. But both will definitely carry on with their regular Sunday night movies. Mayor Joe Koehler, Roxy owner, issued a similar statement.

Fagin invited any pedestrian to use the blacked-out lobbies as a refuge to comply with the ordinance. The Roxy owner, whose interior lobby is smaller, said any pedestrians caught in the blackout may "duck" into the theater until the all-clear sounds.

The Orpheum manager said a practice blackout was tried at that playhouse Sunday night. "It worked very well," he reported.

BATAAN TROOPS STOP JAPS AGAIN

operations are underway, the communicate said.

Flying Fortresses
The latest success against Japanese attempts to land on the west coast of Bataan peninsula is one of a series of heavy blows being dealt by MacArthur's troops and U. S. air corps flying fortresses to Japan's three major offensives along a 2,500-mile Pacific battlefield.

The latest successes—in the wake of the U. S. Pacific fleet's surprise bombardment of Japan's outer zone of island defenses—spread along an are anchored to the besieged fortress of Corregidor and Singapore.

Communications revealed that the blows were rained upon these vital Japanese routes of conquest with costly effect.

1. The widening 800-mile straits of Macassar between Borneo and the Celebes—pathway to Java and its wealth—where four flying fortresses blasted the refugees of remnants of the Japanese naval force which lost 32 vessels in the four-day battle of Macassar. Nine enemy planes were shot down; one American bomber was lost.

Jap Base Raided
2. The Japanese bases of Kuala Lumpur and the Kuantan on the Malayan peninsula, about 200 miles north of beleaguered Singapore, which also were targets of huge flying fortresses.

3. Lower Bataan peninsula and its approaches to Corregidor fortress in Manila bay where MacArthur's men crushed a savage nut-cracker offensive of two crack Japanese divisions and piled the beaches and underbrush with enemy dead.

The U. S. assaults were timed to augment determined counter-blows by British and Netherlands Dutch forces in defense of the invasion routes to Singapore and Java, and apparently anticipated a possible Japanese attempt to bite off not only Singapore but the entire western half of the Netherlands East Indies.

MERCHANTS PLAN SIGN BLACK-OUT

Aimed chiefly at blackout control of neon signs and interior store lights, the Twin Falls merchants bureau today prepared pledge sheets for cooperation of store managers in the Feb. 8 test and in all subsequent blackouts.

The pledge calls for turning out of all lights, including night and safety lights, immediately following the air raid alarm. Each store manager or owner is to designate one person from his staff to carry out the task, and is to name one alternate. The chosen employees are also to be responsible for turning on the lights when the blackout all-clear sounds.

The pledge sheets, according to Chairman Voy Hudson of the merchants' bureau, will be delivered to all retail establishments in the entire downtown sector. Distribution will probably be made Wednesday.

Decision to issue the pledges was made at the bureau luncheon Monday noon. Sheriff Warren W. Lowery, in charge of county policing and vital services under the air raid precaution program, discussed the blackout setup and asked cooperation from every merchant.

GUERRILLAS KILL 200 NAZI TROOPS

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3 (AP)—Radio Khabarovsk today broadcast a report that a three-day battle between Yugoslav guerrilla fighters and the German-Italian occupying army in the Balkans has resulted in the deaths of 200 German officers and men, according to a recording of the Columbia Broadcasting system's listening station.

"As a result of the three-day battle," the broadcast said, "the guerrilla fighters have cleared the town of Sajan Koudaliy of Hitlerites. The Germans had about 200 officers and men killed."

"On the Souho-Zagreb railway, a military train was thrown off the track. A chemical factory which was being worked by the Germans was blown up."

High Schoolers, All Ready to Challenge, Find 'Lost' Verse

All in good faith, Twin Falls high school—which regards itself as being just as patriotic as anybody in the land—was at the point today of challenging the students at McMinnville, Ore.

A United Press dispatch Jan. 20 carried the news that the McMinnville high schoolers challenged the nation with this patriotic call: "We ran and do sing all four verses of the Star Spangled Banner—or sing it better—than we do."

Here They Are
And in case you want to know, here are all four verses:

I.
Oh, say, can you see, by the dawn's early light,
What so proudly we hail'd at the twilight's last gleaming;
Whose broad stripes and bright stars, through the perilous fight,
O'er the ramparts we watch'd, were so gallantly streaming;
And the rocket's red glare, the bombs bursting in air,
Gave proof through the night that our flag was still there.

II.
On the shore, dimly seen thro' the mists of the deep,
Where the foe's haughty host in dread silence reposes,
What is that which the breeze, o'er the towering steep,
As it fitfully blows, half conceals, half discloses?
Now it catches the gleam of the morning's first beam,
In full glory reflected now shines on the stream.

III.
Tis the star-spangled banner, oh! long may it wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

IV.
And where is that band who so vauntingly swore,
That the havoc of war and the battle's confusion
A home and a country should leave us no more?
Their blood has wash'd out their foul footsteps' pollution;
No refuge could save the hireling and slave
From the terror of flight or the gloom of the grave.

And the star-spangled banner in triumph doth wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

Oh! thus be it ever when freemen shall stand
Between their loved home and the war's desolation;
Blest with vict'ry and peace, may the heav'n rescued land
Praise the Pow'r that hath made and preserved us a Nation.
Then conquer we must, when our cause it is just,
And this be our motto, "In God is our trust."

Fourth Chorus:
And the star-spangled banner in triumph shall wave
O'er the land of the free and the home of the brave.

"As in the last World war the Boy Scouts are doing those things of which they are capable to help the home front in its fight for the democratic way of life. Scouting prepares boys for many 'good turns' and America has learned through war and peace a Boy Scout is dependable," Day said.

FEB. 6-12 SLATED AS SCOUT WEEK

Plans had been made today in the Snake river area council for observance of Boy Scout week, Feb. 6 through Feb. 12, it was announced by Gordon A. Day, executive.

Day said that the observance will mark the 32nd birthday of the Boy Scout movement in America.

"This is an anniversary that the whole nation could well celebrate," Day said this afternoon. "The aim and purpose of Scouting, character and citizenship, are the aim and purpose of every democracy. Without these two ideal qualities democracy becomes a sham."

The executive pointed out that as the 32nd anniversary of Scouting nears, the present world conflict recalls the service rendered the nation when Scouting was only seven years old, during the days of 1917-18.

Early in 1941, Day said, before the country became involved in actual war the Boy Scouts of this section and the rest of the nation were asked to distribute defense posters. They responded by distributing more than 1,700,000 of them.

It was pointed out that in the drive now on in this section, tons of waste paper have been gathered by the Scouts.

RUSSIANS STEADILY ADVANCE IN UKRAINE SECTORS

GERMANS PUT UP STIFF FRONT TO HALT RED GAINS

By M. S. HANDLER
MOSCOW, Feb. 3 (U.P.)— Marshal Semyon Timoshenko's Ukraine army was reported advancing steadily today toward the Dnieper river line despite intervention of exceptionally large Nazi dive-bombers, level bombers and fighters seeking to halt the Soviet attack.

Heavy air fighting was reported raging over the southern front. The Nazi Luftwaffe was reported attempting to regain air supremacy over a wide area in an effort to halt the Soviet advance.

However, Soviet bombers were described as pacing the advance of Timoshenko's men, attacking railroad junctions, troop trains, supply columns and rear concentrations.

One Russian bomber unit in a week's work reported the destruction of 230 freight cars, three moving trains and several railroad junction points.

Cover Land Troops
Soviet fighter planes were covering land troops as they advanced in order to fight off Nazi dive-bombers. Increasing numbers of German planes were reported thrown into the fight as the Russian advance gained momentum.

(The Soviet communiqué, heard in London by the United Press listening post, is broadcast by radio Moscow, reported that in pursuit of the remnants of the 208th and 216th German infantry divisions west of Sukhichi 200 Nazi troops were put out of action in one day's fighting. Another 300 Germans were killed and wounded on a southwestern sector and 1,000 Nazi casualties were reported in the vicinity of Yan).

German Counter-Attack
German tank units were reported counter-attacking on the southern front but were unable to halt the Russians.

Fighting was said to be reaching new heights of ferocity as the Russian and German armies engaged in a "race against spring." The Russians were seeking to shatter or cripple German offensive power before the Nazis can launch a spring offensive. The Germans were throwing counter-attacks to prevent the Russians from achieving their objective and enable the Germans to reach their second and third defense lines which the Red army Star said were being hastily constructed.

Railway Workers Push Bond Sales

Union Pacific employees in Twin Falls are taking an active part in the defense bond-stamp program by which workers of the entire road had paid for nearly $2,000,000 in bonds up to Jan. 25, according to Fred C. Farmer, freight agent, and J. L. Fuller, passenger agent.

In addition the railroad staff in all departments here is participating in the voluntary payroll allotment plan, the agents said. A message they received from President William M. Jeffers stated that 30,000 Union Pacific employees are averaging about $10 per month in bond purchases through the payroll program.

The Jeffers statement indicated that both monthly deduction and cash purchase figures are steadily increasing.

Oil Imports

The United States, during the first half of 1940, imported 2,280,249 pounds of oils other than castor, cinnamon, bergamot, citronella, geranium, lavender, lemon, lemongrass, lime, orange, rose and sandalwood oils.

HOSPITAL TOTAL SHOWS 246 GAIN

With no increase in bed space—and with an actual decrease because of strict over-crowding regulations enforced from last October—the Twin Falls county general hospital cared for 3,703 patients during 1941. Daily average was 87 although the bed capacity including the maternity home is only 85, according to the annual report submitted to the board of county commissioners and the hospital control board Saturday by Supt. H. C. Jeppesen.

The total was 246 more than the 3,457 patients cared for during 1940, the report showed. Average for that year was 83 daily.

Number of births at the hospital was 673, an increase of 138 over 1940 aggregate.

Earnings of the hospital last year reached $146,088.67. Cash receipts, with inclusion of $24,760.71 paid by the county for indigent patients, were $131,495.68. For the previous year these figures were $145,435.67 earnings; $127,629.03 collections.

Our Strength in Truth

The American people ask no more than to be told the truth. They will not be content with less.

Three times in recent weeks, Uncle Sam has held up a mirror in front of himself and said, "There, old ugly mug, how do you like THAT?"

MIRROR NO. 1 was the Truman report, which showed that our pre-war industrial production setup with its dollar-a-year men, its persuasive methods, its half-measures, was not good enough.

MIRROR NO. 2 was the Senate Naval Affairs committee report, which showed that shocking profits have been made on some contracts.

MIRROR NO. 3 was the Roberts report on Pearl harbor, which showed childish lack of co-operation between Army and Navy heads before Pearl harbor, and complete miscalculation of the danger of attack with corresponding failure to prepare for it in the face of plain warnings.

We didn't like what we saw. None of us liked it. What are we going to do about it?

First of all, the production setup has been changed; Donald Nelson has been given full charge and full authority to make it hum. The old half-way setup is already gone. The new all-out setup is already beginning to function. The warts should have been removed from this one already.

Second, the matter of war profits is up to congress. The entire American people are agreed on this: nobody shall get rich out of this war. It is up to congress either to thin out the contract gravy or skim it off in taxes. Congress is working on this. It can't work too fast or too thoroughly.

Third, it is to be presumed that the shock that must have run through the whole Army and Navy command at the deficiencies that led to Pearl harbor more or less assures that the same mistakes won't happen again immediately. The appointment of supreme commanders in the Pacific war zones with full authority, and of the new AEF in Britain, with all branches responsible to them, indicates that the danger of lack of co-ordination has been sensed and partially remedied.

That's good, but not enough. The whole military setup, and the whole habit of military thinking must be revamped to fit modern conditions, and that as quickly as possible without fatal confusion. Here again the revelation of the whole truth is of the greatest service.

A free people can function only by knowing the truth. The greatest possible service has been done by these three brutally frank reports.

We want to know the worst. It's when we've been told the worst that we start doing something about making it better.

There is no other way to deal with a free people.

Remember?

A few years ago when some American newspapermen were just discovering South America there were a lot of stories about President Vargas of Brazil. Admittedly a good deal of a dictator, he was, some of the writers added, practically a Fascist, and all too sympathetic to totalitarianism.

So comes the Rio de Janeiro conference to form a united front against the axis, and who stood firmest against the axis, who insisted most strongly on the most drastic action? President Vargas.

Thus we see again demonstrated a truth about South American politics. Latin America has dictators, but Latin America is patriotic and nationalistic. Even those rulers whose regimes fail to show up as 100 per cent democracies by the standard of American liberalism, are pretty sure to stand firm against foreign influence, and especially the subversive kind practiced by the totalitarian countries.

Old Blut, New Boden

Far out in front on donation of blood for the Army and Navy-Red Cross plasma bank is Cleveland, where the thousandth pint of blood in 17 days was just given.

And that thousandth donor? Dr. F. S. Koppel, who left Germany as an enemy of Hitler and Hitlerism in 1933 after practicing medicine in Cologne for 18 years.

Hitler's slogan is blut und boden—blood and soil. Well, here is some good German blood being offered on a new and different soil to defeat the man who ranted of blood.

Not the blood, we believe here in America, but the cause for which it is shed; not the soil, as such, but the use that is made of that soil as a home for free men.

How to Start A Riot In 35 Words

(POT SHOTS: We hardly think the following could be aimed at us. It came from Gooding and we trust is intended for the edification of a fond parent and/or parents in Gooding.)

Dear Pot Shooter:

There are many things I'd like to say in this life.

Ranking right up near the top would be the following, spoken face to face to Mr. or Mrs. —

"Have I ever seen a baby as cute as yours?"

"Well, frankly, I have."

"Dozens of them."

"Maybe hundreds."

"I've seen 'em prettier, cuter, smarter, cleaner and better natured."

"How do you like them apples?"

MORAL—READ THE SCHEDULE

Dear Pot Shooter:

Moral: People who ride on the Twin Falls bus should carry schedules.

A local woman decided it was too slippery to walk home from a friend's house the other afternoon, so she boarded a bus in the east part of town.

For a time she got a ride into South Park and back and eventually to within a block of her home.

And then she fell sprawling on her own door steps.

Here's another about a bus rider.

Seems a young man got off work early and decided to go home and get some extra chores done.

He boarded the bus, 45 minutes later he greeted a neighbor with "Well, home eventually."

ADD POSTMAN'S HOLIDAY

One Mr. Hal Wood, who sports editors the Evelines, went to Boise with the Cowboy baseball directors for the Pioneer league meeting.

Saturday night, prior to the meeting, he took time off from his arduous sports duties.

So what did he do?

Yeah, you guessed pretty close. He went to the Boise-Idaho Falls basketball game and "covered" it for the Statesman.

QUIP, A-PLUS LOUSY

Pot Shots has heard many quips and wisecracks but we believe we've now heard the loudest.

In spirit of razzing, one gent in a local business house called a young lady worker a worm. Up spoke another gent brightly (?) to declare: "She isn't a worm she's not the same at both ends."

If you think of any wisecracks of this same caliber, just send 'em to the dead letter office.

BUSY DAY

The editor tossed over a memo to him. He said his general city reporter silently laid it on the editor's desk. Here's the reporter's memo, verbatim:

Army—nawthing.

Navy—nawthing.

Marines—nawthing.

Rest of beat—about ditto.

AN ALLEGORY

For years and years Mr. Gold had dwelt practically alone in the Hall of Precious Metals.

Now, however, he hears a loud knocking.

When Mr. Gold answers the door, he's shoved aside by Aluminum, Steel, Copper, Lead, Iron, and other folks from the other side of the tracks.

Says Mr. Gold: "Here, here. Get out of this place. Why, I could buy you all and not even make a dent in my fortune."

Says Mr. Steel: "Ho, are you so valuable you're under priorities and rationing?"

And they kicked Mr. Gold out of the Hall of Precious Metals. He's wandering lonesomely now, just an orphan.

After all, you can't make bombers or tanks out of gold.

WHY WE DIDN'T MENTION BREXER GROUNDHOG

With the passing of that Pot Shot's stalwart, Guy Stoddard, the annual survey of the groundhog's findings out near Magic hot springs was conspicuous by its non-appearance in this column Feb. 2.

Guy always used to keep us informed about the groundhog. Come Feb. 2, without fail, he roamed into our sanctum and told us what he'd said to the groundhog, what the groundhog said to him, etc. It got so we began to believe this low-lived humbug really did talk to Brexer Groundhog, although we've been told by Jap-panted scientists that there aren't any such animals in Idaho.

Guy automatically became the Pot Shot's groundhog editor. We turned the annual reminder and chuckle over to him and forgot about the matter. So this year, with Guy gone, we hadn't the heart to disturb the groundhog he knew so well. Let that be his tribute. We feel he'd prefer it to a marble headstone any time.

CHAPTER XXV

NEXT morning was one of those days that starts wrong and gets worse. A lady in a trailer got premature with a baby, and I had to help her scared husband pack for the hospital at 8:15, with our truckies yelling for their grub.

A couple in Cabin Five planned to cut down their night's overhead by swiping a pair of sheets, and threatened me with the law when I made 'em open up their suitcase.

Dolf got hungry and pinched a couple of flapjacks so hot they burnt his mouth, and waved his tail at me when I jumped him.

And there was a love letter from the bank, reminding us of a note and mortgage due in a month, and wasn't it about time we paid it off—a little matter of $4078.60 with interest! Like it paid off, would they? So would I. Fat chance. On top of all that, it was raining and I was cross.

Doc was eating his breakfast in the corner when Juddy pushed open the door. He got up. She looked at him without seeing him, and he made a quick change from red to kind of white. Juddy said, "Mom, what's the matter with that trailer under the Pride of India tree?"

"Broke," I said. "On their up-pers."

It was one of those things that happen in every camp. The wife was a young, pretty thing, thin as a stick of spaghetti and worn to a frazzle tending her half-sick husband who shaped up like a t. b. to me. They'd got this far on their way from Oklahoma to her brother in Florida, and I don't reckon they could have raised the change for a dollar between them. You could see they were scared.

I thought I heard the girl crying. Juddy said:

"That was me when they hung me up for the parking fee." I said.

"The man got a fill of gas."

"Also on tick. Every camp gets gas grafters. It's part of the overhead."

"Do you suppose they've got anything to eat?"

DOC OLIVER got up. "As he passed us, Juddy drew her skirts aside and leaned away, registering that if he didn't have leprosy, it was at least seven-year itch. From the window I could see him bracing the trailer girl, who was taking in some of the raggedy things she'd hung out to air. She lifted her head and spoke and he walked away, blinking like somebody had hung one on his chin. I stepped to the door.

"What are you up to now, Doc?" He turned the eye of a sick fish on me. "Mom, what's wrong with me?"

"I haven't got time to go into it now," I said.

"I never can seem to do anything right," he said. "Not with women."

"Well, tell Mom."

"I tried to give that girl a little money."

"What did you say to her?"

"What was there to say?"

"I see. You wait till her husband isn't around and just go up and push a twenty on her. That's fine. That's swell. Doc, haven't you got that notion of what a good-looking woman is up against on the road?"

His eyes looked at me, kind of glazed. "No," he said. "Have you?"

Inside the wagon Juddy giggled right out loud. "Tact!" she said.

"Never mind, Doc," I said, for he was looking unhappy and rattled. "You meant well."

"I did," he said. "What made her act that way?"

"Hellfire and campfire. Doc! Where's your savvy? She thought you were making a pass at her!"

Juddy giggled again. Doc sort of gulped.

"For money?" He took the bill out of his pocket and stared at it like it was poison.

"Gimme that twenty," I said.

It didn't require two minutes of my valuable time to negotiate and report. "It's okay, Doc. She's crying. I guess they're both crying. You get that way when you haven't eaten properly for maybe a week. Doc, you must be rich."

"No," he said. "Not rich."

"Speaking as man to man, about what would you say?"

"Mom!" Juddy said.

"You let me run this," I said.

"Doc, the bank down at Leverton is getting itchy about—"

Juddy grabbed me. "No, Mom! No! No!" She almost bit my ear.

"Well, pardon me," I said. "I'm speaking out of turn again. But maybe you'll tell me how we're to pull Tambay through this knot-hole any other way."

She put her teeth over her lip. "I'd rather take Hendy's money than this."

Doc walked out. I was sore. I gave it to Juddy straight.

"You needn't be so nasty about his money. You've had seven hundred of it."

"Seven hundred!" she said. "What seven hundred?"

"Use your intelligence."

"The hell!"

"That's it."

"Was that Loren Oliver's money? How rotten! Angel must have spent the money—"

"Lost it."

"While he was on that drunk, and then gone to Loren Oliver?"

"To me. I'm the one that got it from Doc."

"Did Angel know where it came from?"

"Yes."

SHE didn't say anything more; just sat there, thinking. After a while I said,

"Was that on the up-and-up about going to your husband—Hendy Kent for the money?"

The color all went out of her face. "You know what it would mean."

"You'd have to take him back. Or would you?"

"I wouldn't be such a rotten sport as to take his money and not make good."

"No, I reckon not."

"Oh, Mom! I don't know what to do. Why, even Loren Oliver would laugh at me if I went back to Hendy! Did you see his face when I suggested it?"

"I did. He didn't look to me like he was laughing. Now, I want to ask you something. Do you still think Oliver shapes up like a crook after seeing what he did about the trailer couple?"

"Oh, that's no argument," she said. "Lots of crooks are generous. They can afford to be. Why, Mom, President Gilchrist has practically admitted that they struck gold at Tambay."

It was true, too. A reporter had got to him, and the old boy said that all would be explained in his report to the trustees.

"Look, Juddy," I said. "You won't let me borrow the money from Doc. Okay. How about getting it on a business deal?"

"What kind of a deal?"

"Straight business. If Mommy—I mean the bank—forecloses on Tambay, what becomes of Doc's Wandos? As soon as the Welliver lease is up, he loses them."

"What of it?"

"God give me patience! I'm banking on the hope that Doc will make us a loan on those dead injuns."

"You mean on the gold."

"Have it your own way. The point is, will you give him a lease as security for the loan if I get it?"

"Oh, I suppose so! But you'll have to do it all!"

With Kelly at Washington

Department of agriculture is preparing the machinery for another vote by wheat farmers in a couple of months. The issue will be whether the growers wish crop control or prefer raising all the wheat they desire. Of all the crops wheat is the one where there is a great abundance and the department wishes to curtail even the present average. There is, at present, sufficient wheat on hand to care for domestic requirements for the next two years, say the economists, and they favor reduction of acreage to cut down production.

In this war, unlike the first World war, there is no export market for wheat, and the department prefers that farmers raise some other crop for which there is a better outlet.

Under such a control (which must be approved by a majority of the farmers voting) a grower must stick to his quota and can not sell or feed wheat above that quota. In the main, wheat farmers of the northwest are satisfied with the arrangement, but complaints have come from farmers in Pennsylvania and Ohio where farms are small.

Back of the proposal to give an annuity to any member of congress who has served five years, and who elects to come under the plan, is the thought that, if assured of security and not having to worry about elections, a member will cast his vote more frankly and not try to dodge kind teller votes and voice votes which are not recorded. That is one theory, at all events, after it had sufficient weight to carry the measure through both house and senate.

To the desk of Donald Nelson, boss of work production board, came a letter from a northwest senator relative to selection of a site for the aluminum rolling mill, for which Idaho applied. "To sum up the situation," says the most interesting paragraph, "Mr. Jones (Jesse H. Jones) whom I originally believed was the determining factor of the matter, deferred to Judge Patterson (assistant secretary of war); Judge Patterson deferred to Mr. Knudsen; Mr. Knudsen deferred to the army, and the army disclaimed any responsibility. Who was actually responsible for locating the rolling mill where it was sent remains a mystery."

Rev. Albert B. Parrett, pastor of the church, delivered the funeral oration. Music consisted of two vocal selections, "Going Down the Valley" and "The Old Rugged Cross," sung by Mrs. Fred Scheupbach and Mrs. Leroy Jones with Mrs. Fred Rucker at the piano.

Interment was in the Pioneer cemetery.

Increase of Idaho's Income by Millions Predicted by Speaker

"A coordinated program to promote the production, processing and fabrication of farm products into finished or semi-finished manufactured articles offers Idaho an opportunity to increase its income by many millions of dollars," E. A. Olson, of the Idaho Power company, Boise, division, told members of the Twentieth Century club at a luncheon session this afternoon at the Park hotel.

He used charts to show how business has been an ever-recurring cycle of prosperity and depression. New and higher standards have emerged from each cycle, he demonstrated, and the problem of all industry has been to meet the constantly changing conditions.

A motion picture showing new uses of farm products in industry was shown at the meeting.

Chemurgy and Idaho

How farm chemurgy can be applied to Idaho was discussed by Mr. Olson, and examples of new crops which bring high returns per acre were shown.

"We cannot expect Idaho to spring forth to great wealth from every acre of land over night as a result of chemurgy," he continued. "But we will gain nothing unless we make a start."

He mentioned several herb and drug imports which, by reason of war conditions, have risen phenomenally in price. Most of these can be produced in Idaho. Sage leaf, coriander seed, mustard seed, sunflower seed oil and lavender oil are among the imports in this category.

"That the chemurgy program is already bringing tangible results to Idaho is established," Olson said.

"by the organization and operation of the Magic Valley processing company here in Twin Falls."

The Twin Falls plant and a similar one in Blackfoot were established under the sponsorship of the Idaho committee of the National Farm Chemurgy Council, organized last May. The plants process readily marketable, high quality starch from cull potatoes.

Mrs. E. Elcock Presides

Mrs. H. A. Elcock, vice-president, presided in the absence from the city of Mrs. H. L. Hogsett. Mrs. George Ward was program chairman.

Mrs. Martha Hansen, superintendent of nurses at the Twin Falls county general hospital, spoke briefly on the fundamentals of home nursing, her talk replacing the international relations discussion.

Her appearance at the club was arranged through the efforts of Dr. A. A. Boston, chairman of the medical advisory group of the Twin Falls county civilian defense council, Mrs. Elcock announced.

Mrs. E. H. Gyer, chairman of the Red Cross benefit dance at Radio Row, Feb. 14, sponsored by the Twentieth Century club, presented a report.

Mrs. H. J. Wall gave the salute to

Chemurgy

Chemurgy goes farther than influencing industry these days. It may, in time, even change part of the vocabulary. Can you hear Idaho women gardeners in the near future referring to their extra income as their "seed" money, instead of their "pin" money?

Idaho women are finding that small plots of condiments and drug plants can add to the family income, and several farm women participated in the first planting program last year, Earl O. Olson, Boise, told the Twentieth Century club this afternoon.

"Garden seeds, both flower and vegetable, are in great demand, and women with available garden space can grow these seeds for a ready market," he said.

Both locally and nationally the chemurgy program is affecting housewives, Olson stated. Many new synthetic products used in kitchen utensils, brushes, cabinets and light fixtures have been created under the chemurgy program. Others are on the way. New fabrics for both clothes and furnishings are being produced from milk and other farm products, he observed.

the American flag, and community singing was led by Mrs. Russell Potter.

In keeping with the patriotic theme, cherry tree limbs and hatchets were featured in the decorations, arranged by Mrs. E. F. Ross and Mrs. George Wilcox.

Reviewer Places Emphasis on Wit of Lincoln Book

Bringing out the robust humor of the book, and tracing the development of Abraham Lincoln's theories of government and union, Mrs. Wallace Bond presented an excellent review of Lancaster's "For Us the Living," at a meeting of the Book Review group of the American Association of University Women last evening at the home of Mrs. Donald Murphy, 222 Ninth avenue east.

A special guest was Mrs. Elinor Thomson, Swampscott, Mass., house guest of Mrs. J. H. Seaver at Coulaine ranch.

Latin America Next

Mrs. Frank Haynes will review "Broad and Allen is the World," at the March session of the group, Mrs. Garry Reid announced. Place of meeting will be made known later.

The book to be reviewed was the prize for the outstanding work of fiction on Latin America.

Lancaster has woven the life story of Lincoln with that of Hugh Bruce, from the time they were families of "movers" in Kentucky; through the time Lincoln was a captain in the Indian wars, and during Lincoln's "debating days" in Salem, Ill.

Split-Log, a Yankee, painfully honest, intolerant and illiterate, is one of the strongest, and also one of the most hated characters in the book, and Prudence North, who stands out like a jewel from a background of crudeness, is the outstanding feminine character in the book, Mrs. Bond pointed out.

"For Us—the Living"

That Lincoln formulated his ideas at an early age is indicated in this conversation between himself and Hugh Bruce, his friend with the crippled arm.

"They ain't any fun to dying, they (meaning the soldiers who fought in the Indian wars) done it for us, the living."

Executive board of the Washington Parent-Teacher association, meeting yesterday at the school house with Mrs. Harry Baskin in charge, made plans for a Founder's day tea and program next Monday at 2 p. m.

The association voted to sponsor Mrs. Arthur Beckwith's Camp Fire group.

Mrs. Paul Rowan, during the study group session, talked on learning to live with others and the need of the child to be accepted in his own group.

She urged parents to avoid the loneliness that begins with isolation in childhood and ends in the loss of the permanent joys and satisfactions of friendships and warm, comforting human relations.

2nd Ward Forms Dramatic Group

The special arts department will be in charge of the preliminary program at the second ward L. D. S. M. I. A. session Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at the second ward chapel.

A biography on Will Rogers will be presented for the special interest group.

A dramatic organization will be effected under the direction of Mrs. Gilda King, immediately following M. I. A. sessions tomorrow night.

At that time, try-outs for a short assembly play will be made. All M. I. A. members are eligible.

Views in Verse

Oh, the bustle and the flurry
Of the white clouds in their hurry
To east their feathery burden on the pass—
Caused the shaggy mountains' rumble,
Caused the jagged rocks to grumble,
Sent a terrifying whisper
Through the withered leaves and grass.

Then the winds began their capers,
Whirling flakes about like papers,
Bringing chaos as they snapped the icy
Particles of glass.
Sang a mournful song—a crying
Drifted to a breath—a sighing
As they quickly, softly laid
A cleanly blanket on the pass.

(With weather being censored these days, it was too much temptation for the editor of Views in Verse to resist this contribution by Alice Judge, Burley. There's no ban on "snow" when used in verse form, you know... especially 48 hours after it has fallen. This is Mrs. Judge's first appearance in Views in Verse.)

Music Club Will Plan Assembly

Past two meetings of the Music club of Twin Falls high school, honorary music organization for students who have participated as soloists during the spring's music festival or during any of the cappella choir's major concerts, featured discussion of plans for a program to be given by the group for a high school assembly.

The first meeting, held at the home of Miss Doris Ann Sherwood, was presided over by Marilyn Sweezy, president, and the program was on George Gershwin's modern opera, "Porgy and Bess."

Verdi's "Rigoletto" was discussed for the club by Miss Mary Jane Shearer for the latter session, and she will be hostess at the next meeting, Feb. 10.

Membership is limited to 10 who qualify, and other members are Miss Norma Andrews, vice-president; Clarence Dudley, secretary; Miss Eva Dunham, treasurer; Miss Grace Burdick, Carol Higgins, Miss Verla Petzold, and Carl Barnett.

On the program committee for the year are Miss Andrews, chairman; Miss Sherwood and Bob Barnett. Refreshments committee for next time has as chairman, Miss Petzold.

Women Assured "Beauty" Will Remain: Corsets to Be Made

By LOIS HAGEN

CHICAGO, Feb. 3 (UPI)—American women were assured today that there's no need to sacrifice glamour for national defense.

The cheering news came from official spokesmen for the corset industry. They told the nation's buyers that despite rubber shortages—

"There'll always be a corset industry and there's good foundation for optimism along these lines."

By "these lines," the manufacturers added that they meant any one of the seven basic type figures to which they plan to limit wartime corset production. Manufacturers said they were through with making odd assortments for the duration.

Henceforth they will concern themselves with putting the curves in the right places only for those women who possess one of the following "best selling" figures: an "average figure," "junior figure," "misses figure," and "average short," "average full," "average tall," and "short full figure."

And, there's no use in trying to cram your way into a "short full" if you're a "short fullest," they added. Corsets will have much less rubber and can't be depended upon to stretch to the wearer's proportions.

They said, however, that de-rubbed corsets won't be put on the market until present prewar supplies en route to retailers are exhausted which may not be until late summer. By that time, manufacturers said, designers with some "close figuring" may have worked out a wartime foundation garment to satisfy all buyers.

At other gatherings of the 1,600 buyers attracted to Chicago's spring and summer style preview, it appeared that some American

We The Women

By RUTH MILLETT

Grandma's theory of the way to tame a man was to "feed the brute." Grandma didn't have any scientific research to back her up in that theory. But her granddaughter does.

Dr. William Armstrong, nutritionist at Oklahoma A. and M. college, says that two out of every five persons are suffering from hidden hunger, which, while not severe enough to cause deficiency diseases, may result in making them irritable, nervous, and emotionally unstable.

"Hidden Hunger"

So Grandma was on the right track when she fed Grandpa a hearty meal before telling him that she spent more than she should have for a new bonnet or that some of her relatives were coming for a visit.

But if she had known what Granddaughter is now being taught—and had made proper use of the knowledge—she wouldn't have had to cook the special meals to sweeten up Grandpa's disposition.

She would have checked his daily diet for all the essentials, getting that he ate his quota of eggs, fresh fruits, milk, vegetables, meat, and whole grain cereals every day, and the emergency measures for ridding him of rouches wouldn't have been necessary.

Edge on Grandma

Granddaughter has the jump on her there, because she knows that the essentials of an adequate diet are: And if she isn't patriotic enough to feed her family accordingly in the name of home defense, she will certainly do it to keep Papa in a nice mood.

Her motto will be not the old-fashioned "feed the brute"—but "feed the brute an adequate diet." Still and all, it's just a new scientific twist to an old feminine theory.

WOODEN UTENSILS

You can keep wooden cooking utensils years and years with little danger of warping or cracking if they are cared for correctly. Salad bowls, if washing is desired, or chopping bowls should never be soaked or immersed in soapy water. Wipe out immediately after use with a clean cloth; scrub with a small kitchen brush dipped in lukewarm water, then dry carefully with a dish towel. Wooden utensils that have been used with flour or dough should be scraped off before washing with a rubber scraper. Scrub with soap and water, use sparingly, rinse and dry at once. Another point is to keep them away from heat. Cared for this way, wooden utensils will be sweet and clean and give long service.

for tea... or anytime—pinwheels the KARO way

You've dreamed about biscuits like these—tender pinwheels with luscious fruit and spice filling in every "curve"... They look complicated, but they're really easy to make. Treat the family to a batch tonight.

PINWHEEL BISCUITS

2 cups all-purpose flour 3 tablespoons butter
3 teaspoons baking powder 1/2 cup KARO (blue label)
1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 cup shortening 1/2 cup prunes, drained and chopped
1/2 cup milk 1/2 cup candied red cherries, drained and chopped

Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Cut in shortening. Add milk slowly, to form a soft dough. Roll out on a lightly floured board into a rectangle about 1/4 inch thick. Now cream butter until softened; add KARO, cinnamon, and mix until well combined. Stir in prunes and cherries. Spread dough with this mixture; roll up as for a jelly roll. Slice into 1/2-inch pieces, and place in a greased baking pan. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 15 to 20 minutes or until browned. Makes 1 1/2 dozen tea biscuit pinwheels.

WALKER BALKS AT "CONDITIONS" IN BOISE

Owner of Pilots Issues Threat to Withhold Team

BOISE, Feb. 3 (U.P.)—Troubles of the Pioneer Baseball league were doubled today by a declaration from Haydn Walker, owner of the Boise Pilots, that he would not operate a team in the circuit this year unless conditions were changed.

Walker objected to a proposed schedule under which Boise would open and close its season on the road. Walker contended that league directors were not giving him a square deal in working out the amount of traveling to be done by each team.

Walker's threat to tie up the Boise Pilots franchise and refuse to let another team play in Airway park added to troubles of league directors who hoped to maintain the loop on a six team basis by bolstering the financial support of the Twin Falls Cowboys.

It was expected that a decision on the Cowboys' position in the league and Walker's threat of withdrawal would be decided finally at a league session in Idaho Falls on Feb. 15.

Play for 42 Anyways, league president, issued a statement in which he said "regardless of whether the Boise franchise is operated during the 1942 season, the Pioneer league will play a complete season."

"At this time," Halliwell continued, "it is apparent that Mr. Walker does not intend to give the fans of Boise the baseball they've had since 1939. If at all possible the league would move in and operate but we are powerless to do so as he holds the lease on Airway park. Under those circumstances, we feel it advisable to offer the franchise to another city in Utah or Idaho. We have in mind at present Provo, Utah. That town has asked us repeatedly for a franchise since 1940. They are prepared to assume the obligation."

Business men of Boise business men contacted him in regard to taking over Walker's interests in Boise, but Halliwell was undecided whether another team would be able to operate in Boise with Walker holding the franchise and baseball field lease.

Meanwhile, Lou Gariand, business manager of the Idaho Falls Russells, announced four Idaho Falls business men had purchased the Russel franchise from Sam Collins of Lewiston. The new owners were John Hart, Fred E. Ring, Dr. Andrew McCauley and Earl Nelson, all of Idaho Falls.

Big Seven Cage Quintets See Action Tonight

Southern Idaho's Big Seven cage swing into action again tonight on all fronts—with the championship race now a wide-open scramble after the Rupert Pirates scuttled the Burley Bobcats last week-end.

Couch Bill Powers and his Flier Wildcats journey to Gooding where they will test out the strength of the Gooding Solons. Flier lost to Buhl in its last start, after holding the Twin Falls Bruins in an even battle earlier in the week.

The Solons will be favored in this one. Coach Dee Keller has put together a well-balanced squad and it has been causing troubles in nearly every game it has played.

Rupert vs. Buhl. Rupert, fresh from its victory over the previously unbeaten (in conference play) Bobcats, invades the camp of the Buhl Indians.

This game gives promise of being one of the better basketball shows of the season for the fans in Buhl. Coach Rex Hunsaker's squad has been coming along in good shape after early season loss of three boys to the navy, and in late games has been showing a lot of power.

Of course, the major difficulty will be in trying to stop big Ed Schenck, Rupert center and the conference's leading scorer.

Oakley Meets Bruins. Another battle of the evening will send Oakley to Twin Falls. This isn't a conference encounter—but for the boys from Cassia county and for Coach Dode Cranney of the Bruins, it's an all-important tilt.

Since leaving Oakley and coming here last season, Coach Cranney hasn't had much luck with the Oakley boys. Coach J. S. Halliday of the Hornets again boasts a squad that is making it plenty tough for all opposition.

However, the Bruins, coming along the way they have in recent games, should be given the edge, with their great height.

Plans Set for State Women's Pin Tourney

Plans for the state tournament of the Idaho-Women's Bowling association were completed Sunday at a session of feminine legions from the southern half of the state.

The tourney has been set for the 20th Century Bowling center at Boise March 27-28.

Entry fees have been fixed at $1.50 per event, which includes the bowling. Every individual on a winning team will receive a trophy, plus prize money and an all-event trophy will go to the scratch-score champion.

With bowlers present from Boise and Pocatello, the women engaged in the following pin matches:

Norm Standlee in U.S. Army Now

PALO ALTO, Calif., Feb. 3 (U.P.)—Norman (Big Chief) Standlee, full-back for the professional Chicago Bears and member of Stanford University's 1940 championship team, was in the army today.

Standlee was drafted after failing in earlier efforts to enter other branches of the armed service. He was color blind.

that Oregon State pulled even, then ahead, and only a long toss by Idaho's Cliff Benson knotted the score at the end of the second half.

The score was tied five times in the game's opening ten minutes, and again at halftime, 24-24.

Reiser Sees Dodgers. Recapturing Pennant

By CARL LUNDQUIST

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 3 (U.P.)—Sturdy little Pete Reiser, who won the National league batting championship in his first full season with Brooklyn, thinks the Dodgers will be even better this year than they were last season when they won their first pennant in more than 20 years.

Most of the experts favor the St. Louis Cardinals for the 1942 flag. Reiser, who spends his winters here in the home camp of the enemy, isn't a bit awayed by the Red Bird pessimism.

"Sure, the Cards are going to be tough," he said, "they've got lots of good, young pitchers and a red-hot infield. It's too early to predict how they're going to hold up but for me it's Brooklyn all the way."

Two Rookies Coming

"We have two new pitchers coming up from Montreal—Chet Kneen and Ed Head. Both should be consistent winners. The remainder of our staff is always intact. We'll miss Cookie Lavagetto. That guy was one of the best defensive infielders in the league but the hitting power of Arky Vaughan will more than make up for Lavagetto's loss."

Reiser is ready to go to camp at playing weight. He has kept in condition by bowling, ice skating and playing golf.

Still Major Rival. However, he can't understand Mel Ott's idea of patching up the long-standing feud between the Giants and the Dodgers. As far as he's concerned there won't be any punches pulled all summer.

"There's no club we'd rather beat than the Giants," Reiser said. "They're our biggest rivals. I still don't like them."

He's uncertain whether he can repeat as batting champion but is sure night baseball doesn't bother him. According to Reiser, the lights have never given him any trouble and he'll be glad to see an increase in the number of night games.

Rupert Edges Beavers in Close Battle. RUPERT, Feb. 3 (Special)—Coach Jerry Dellinger's Rupert Pirates continued their mastery over the 1941-42 American Falls athletes by scoring a close 25-23 victory here last night on the basketball court.

The game was a terrific struggle from the opening whistle, with the Pirates always in front—with a good-sized advantage until the closing moments of play when a Beaver rally nearly closed the gap.

The locals took an 8-2 lead in the first quarter, and boosted this to 15-7 at the half. Third period ended with the score 24-18 for the locals. However, from there on it was all American Falls and the locals barely eked out the victory.

Scoring honors went to Ed Schenck of Rupert, who collected 11 points. Zahl topped the losers with nine.

Lineups: American Falls Pos. Rupert Zhal (0) F. Fagg Stitt (2) F. (2) D. Goff Quinlan (8) C. (11) Schenck Cotterall (1) G. (4) Berlin Aguirre (2) G. H. Goff Substitutions: American Falls—Heaton (1), Kelly, Thornton, Rupert—Garner (5), Bell, Craven, Urquien, Turner, Rawson (3).

Lon Stiner to Return to Oregon State. CORVALLIS, Ore., Feb. 3 (U.P.)—Coach Alonzo Stiner turned down tenders of better paying jobs at other colleges today to remain at Oregon State college, whose football team he led to a "Rose Bowl" victory over Duke university on New Year's day.

Stiner conferred with athletic director Percy Loecey and Prof. C. V. Ruzek, chairman of the athletic board, and announced he would sign a four year contract tendered him by the state board of higher education.

Although terms of the agreement were not settled, it was known Stiner had been offered a $400 yearly increase to $7,000, with a $2,000 bonus for piloting the Beavers to the Rose Bowl.

He admitted he had been approached by other schools, but declined he preferred to remain at Corvallis where he was assistant coach for five years before becoming head coach 10 years ago.

Plan Huge Fund. The majors are planning to raise $500,000 in the next two years for the bat and ball fund. Already $25,000 has been contributed but it was estimated that this sum would purchase only one ball and half a bat for every 750 men in camp.

The sum raised by baseball will go toward purchase of equipment only for men in camp in this country. The government is providing equipment for the expeditionary forces.

The two leagues agreed to install a voluntary payroll allotment of 10 per cent for defense stamps. They will apply to players, office workers and everybody from the two league presidents on down.

Landis also is expected to adopt the same measure in regard to his own $65,000 salary.

The question of admitting service men in uniform to the major league parks will be decided by the individual clubs. The Yankees already have announced that they'll admit all soldiers, sailors and marines free.

Landis Will Settle Squabble Over Plan For Nocturnal Tilts

NEW YORK, Feb. 3 (U.P.)—The two major leagues were in accord today on everything except night baseball and Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis was expected to settle their differences in a joint session.

The American league apparently wants to allow its clubs to play an unlimited number of night games at home.

strictly mild-but, he says, he can't get the sugar to make it.

The last football he played was last summer, a couple of games for fun, one of them against Camp Grant, Ill. "I played 25 minutes and next day I was so sore I couldn't walk. I'd wrestled all up and down the case, and around the house, but I found some muscles I hadn't used for 10 years."

It was 10 years ago, he said (farewell to the sport in two charity games, against University of Southern California alumni, at Los Angeles and against a squad headed by Ernie Nevers in San Francisco.

"But you can't say goodbye to it," he concluded. "I want to get back into it, as a coach. Then at least Joy won't have to wrestle every kid on the block to show what a great wrestler the old man is."

SLIGHT ADVANCE SCORED IN GRAIN

CHICAGO, Feb. 3 (U.P.)—Grain futures scored small gains in quiet dealings today. Wheat, however, was held steady by the better tone of cotton futures sent prices up after an irregularly lower opening. But trading activity was restricted by continued uncertainty over the government's price-control policy.

Chicago prices were near the highs for the day. Wheat finished with gains of 1/4 to 1/2¢; corn was up 1/4 to 1/2¢; oats up 1/4 to 1/2¢; and soybeans up 1/4 to 1/2¢.

COUNCIL STUDIES CITY HALL PLANS

Councilmen today had studied a rough draft of contemplated remodeling plans for the city hall, the plans being prepared by Holmes G. Lash, architect.

The study was made last night during the regular council session. Remodeling of the interior of the city hall would permit utilization of approximately one-third of the building which was formerly used as the city workshop. Equipment formerly housed at that point is now kept at the new city garage, only recently completed.

Plans call for a police court, a radio equipment room, a fingerprint room, a special small meeting room, a police locker room with shower, a public toilet and also a restroom for women, separate rest cells for men and women, enlargement of the city vault. Under present plans the space now occupied by the city clerk and the water department office would not be changed.

The improvement at the present time is only in the "drawing stage," councilmen pointed out. Estimated cost was placed at $17,500.

Councilmen last night also discussed air raid precautions but decided that no action as regards the signal to be sounded here would be taken until Homer Hudson, state air raid warden, arrives. Tuesday and meets with civilian defense officials of Magic Valley that night.

CAMERA CONTEST WINNERS CHOSEN

Winners in the Magic Valley Camera club's contest for artistically-lighted photos were announced last night at the election meeting of the organization.

Paul Magee, who was elected president to succeed Mrs. O. T. Koster, captured the lion's share of contest honors. He took first and second in child pictures, and first award in animal photos. Leland Cook won second in the latter division.

For still-life studies, C. C. Dudley took first and Howard Wiseman second.

In the election, Mrs. Koster was named vice-president and Mr. Wiseman, was reelected secretary-treasurer.

Display of the winning contest prints will be made in downtown store windows this week.

Judges for the competition were Miss Agnes Schubert, high school art instructor; Vic Goertzen, Times-News photographer, and O. A. Keller, Times staff photographer.

New members admitted to the club last night were Oliver Johnson, Oliver Johnson, Jr., and Martin Foss.

BUHL PATROLMAN RETURNS TO JOB

BOISE, Feb. 3 (UP) (Reynolds)—Bertheau, state patrolman who has been stationed at Buhl, was reinstated Monday by J. L. Balderson, state commissioner of law enforcement.

Bertheau and Milton Kohl, patrolman at Jerome, were ordered suspended by Gov. Chase A. Clark pending investigation of a revolver "experiment" at a Jerome night club. Balderson's announcement that Bertheau has been reinstated did not mention Kohl.

J. L. Sater has succeeded Kohl at Jerome.

Although no details of the night club-battle were released by Balderson, it was understood unofficially that the incident involved shooting bullets from two different revolvers into the wooden floor to determine which had the most impact.

NEW UNIT PLANS BULL PURCHASES

Board members of the Twin Falls bull stud service plan will convene Saturday to take action on the purchase of bulls and selection of caretakers.

O. L. McCoy, Twin Falls farmer, was elected chairman of the board yesterday at offices of County Agent Bert Bolingbroke. Ralph Teague, Kimberly, was named secretary. Third board member is Al Knefel, Twin Falls.

Directors said that membership sign-up now includes dairymen with 250 cows. Division of breeds points to purchase of two Guernsey bulls and one Holstein. The board has fixed service fee at $3.50.

Gooding School's Herd Rates High

BRATTLEBORO, Vt., Feb. 3 (Special)—The Idaho State School for the Deaf and Blind, Gooding, owns nine registered Holstein cows that produced enough milk during the past test-year to provide 34 families with four quarters of milk daily for the entire year. The herd average was 367 pounds butterfat from 11,795 pounds milk per cow.

This butterfat average is more than twice as much as that of the country's average dairy cow, using U. S. department of agriculture statistics as the basis of comparison. If all the nation's herds were producing at the rate the school's herd does, there would be an abundance of dairy products for the United States and its allies. The herd was on a twice-daily milking schedule.

was given the Grange obligation by Willard Hayward.

Two Pomona Grange officers were present, Mrs. E. J. Moldenhauer, West End, who was installed as Pomona secretary; and L. F. Candaux, Rupert Grange, who was installed as Pomona overseer. Other Pomona officers will be installed at a future meeting.
