SAVAGE BATTLE SPREADING OVER BATAAN SECTOR

By EVERETT R. HOLLES
WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (U.P.)—Savage fighting spread over the Bataan battlefield today, with American and Japanese infantry locked in close combat in what appeared to be a prelude to an all-out Japanese offensive aimed at complete conquest of the Philippines.

In heavy fighting, Japanese stabbed at Gen. Douglas MacArthur's lines, but the American and Filipino defenders stood their ground, the war department said.

"All attacks were repulsed by our troops," a war department communique said.

Japanese dive-bombers roared down upon the outnumbered defenders, it was stated.

To MacArthur's rear, concealed Japanese artillery batteries for the fourth consecutive day fired on the American forces in Manila bay and harbor defenses from around Cavite, across the bay from Bataan.

But MacArthur's big guns, presumably those on Corregidor and three other island forts, found the location of some of the Japanese guns and answered with thundering salvos of counter-fire.

"Several direct hits were observed and some of the enemy batteries were silenced," it was stated.

10-Day Wait

For 10 days MacArthur's weary heroes of Bataan had waited in the fox holes of the thumblike Peninsula for the zero hour of their struggle knowing that the Japanese were pouring thousands of reinforcements into the Philippines for an attempted knockout blow.

There was no confirmation in today's communique that the enemy "big push" was actually underway in full force, but all signs indicated that the hour of the defenders' big test is approaching, simultaneously with the climax of the siege of Singapore 750 miles to the southwest across the China sea.

Today's communique covered action reported to the war department up to 7:30 a. m. eastern war time.

A war department communique Sunday said fighting was "increasing in intensity" on the western side of Bataan peninsula, with round-the-clock air bombings of MacArthur's lines and a renewed artillery bombardment of the U. S. harbor forts whose guns make Manila bay useless to the Japanese.

Lights on and Lights out—History Turns a Page in Twin Falls

(Photos by O. A. Kelker—Times Engravings)

Here's a portion of Twin Falls' downtown section before the initial test blackout signal sounded last night. The picture was taken from the roof of the courthouse where Homer Hudelson, state supervisor of air raid precautions, and other officials viewed the test. Building at the left is the Methodist church with the Rex Arms apartments and the new telephone building being next in line up Shoshone street. At the far upper right is the Twin Falls flour mill elevator. The white streaks at left and running up Shoshone street were made by automobiles driving along. The intense glow near the upper right corner is from a large neon sign in the 100 block of Shoshone street east. The night was clear and observers on the courthouse roof could see for miles in all directions.

Here's the same Twin Falls view with the lights out. However, in making the print from the negative, the bottom portion was eliminated because there were absolutely no lights showing. Because of this fact, the portion of the negative printed shows area extending from the middle of the "lights on" picture, up to the horizon and into the sky. The white streaks at the top of this picture are stars which left their light paths on the time-exposure negative as the earth revolved. The light in the square with arrow pointing to it was on for eight minutes and was about five or six miles southeast of the city. The streak in the center of the picture is a moving car as is the streak in the lower right hand corner. The negative for this picture was exposed for 14 minutes, or from one minute after the air raid signals sounded to the time the all-clear came. By the time the all-clear sounded there were no lights showing in, the area covered by this picture.

LAND HEADS WAR SHIPPING BOARD

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (U.P.)—President Roosevelt today by executive order established a war shipping administration to have control of operation, purchase and use of all United States merchant shipping.

Chairman Emory S. Land of the U. S. maritime commission was named as the shipping administrator.

Land, a retired navy rear admiral, as chairman of the commission, has supervised the development of the largest expansion of this country's merchant marine in history.

The new agency, the President order said, is "to assure the most effective utilization of the shipping of the United States for the successful prosecution of the war."

Land will be responsible only to the chief executive. He will represent the United States government in dealing with the British ministry of transport, particularly in operation of the combined shipping adjustment board set up recently by Mr. Roosevelt and Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

The executive order empowered Land to control the operation, purchase, charter, regulation and use of all American merchant ships.

GERMAN GENERAL DIES IN ACCIDENT

BERLIN, Feb. 9 (Official broadcast recorded by the United Press)—Major Gen. Fritz Todt, 51, director of German armaments production and builder of the Siegfried line, was killed yesterday in an air accident while carrying out "military tasks in the east."

(A Berlin broadcast recorded by the National Broadcasting company declared that the death of Todt, a key man in the Nazi organization, is "a tremendous blow to Germany.")

(There are rumors that Todt was recently on the eastern front to help establish winter lines and communications for the German army, it said.)

Todt, reich minister for armaments and munitions since March, 1940, designed Germany's speed highways and her major lines of fort.

German papers carried news of his death in prominent articles lined in black.

Hudelson Terms Southern Idaho's Blackout "Best"

By O. A. KELKER

"The best in the state."

Those were the words Homer Hudelson, state supervisor of air raid precautions, used to describe results of the test blackout staged over the Magic Valley eight-county area last night.

Hudelson said that two tests are yet to be staged—one in the Lewiston-Moscow area on Feb. 24 and another in the extreme northern area Feb. 28—but he added: "They couldn't possibly be any better than the one here because they just don't make them that way."

The state official and his aides, together with various other officials, observed effects of the test from the top of the courthouse here.

A few lights were seen to flicker out when the alert sounded at 8:15 p. m. and then at 8:30 p. m. when the air raid sirens and whistles started to blow the town darkened with the speed that comes when a lusty-lunged person blows out the candles on his birthday cake.

Wardens on Job

Once in awhile a car light could be seen to flash on or off. One or two moved a few blocks after the signal but wardens stopped them almost at once.

From the courthouse roof a light was visible five or six miles southeast of the city and it remained on for eight minutes. A small light in a window apparently in the 300 block on Second street north also was visible but it was extinguished before the 15-minute blackout period had ended.

COUNTRY SHIFTS INTO 'WAR TIME'

CHICAGO, Feb. 9 (U.P.)—Americans crawled out of bed an hour early today to help defeat the axis.

At 2 a. m., while most of them slept, the nation's 130,000,000 people began living on "war time" so America might get maximum war production during daylight hours and conserve electric power.

Advancing the clock one hour from "standard" to "war time" was "painless" in most cases, but left some people a bit confused momentarily.

Persons traveling east from one time belt to another lost two hours during the night, but those traveling in opposite direction could leave their watches untouched.

A few communities "held out" for standard time despite the change-over of clocks in telegraph offices and railroads. Malheur county, Oregon, eliminated the necessity of giving up an hour's time by switching from mountain standard time to Pacific war time.

Farmers in some communities turned clocks ahead reluctantly. They objected on the grounds that "cows can't read clocks" and that "farms are run by the sun not by the clock." A Nebraska rural spokesman said the President was "trying to hold back the sun."

ANNOUNCEMENT

Recognizing the need for all business to cooperate with our government in the conservation of strategic materials and supplies, and confronted with war-time obstacles which make it impossible to continue publishing and maintaining the standards of the Idaho Evening Times and Twin Falls News as individual newspapers without an immediate and substantial increase in subscription and advertising rates, the publishers have decided to consolidate the two newspapers, beginning Monday, Feb. 16.

The consolidated newspaper to be known as the Times-News, will be issued every weekday afternoon with the exception of Saturday, and in the morning on Sundays. It will combine all the principal editorial features and comics of both newspapers and will retain the worldwide news services of both the Associated Press and United Press.

Two editions of the Times-News will be published daily, one at the regular hour the Idaho Evening Times has been going to press, for carrier distribution, and the other late in the afternoon for all mail readers.

As a result, readers of the Times and News hereafter will be given advantage of all the outstanding characteristics of both newspapers in the one combined publication. Not only should the consolidation result in a larger newspaper than either the Times or News, but in a much better newspaper as well.

Subscribers having paid-up subscriptions for either or both of the present newspapers will be given full credit by having such advance payments applied to their subscription account on the combined Times-News. Subscription rates for the combined newspaper will be the same as those now charged for either of the individual publications with the exception that the mail rate will be the rate now charged for the Twin Falls News, which represents a minor increase in the price mail subscribers have paid for the Times.

From the advertisers' standpoint, the consolidation will relieve the necessity of an immediate general increase in rates. For several years classified and national advertising have been sold only on a combination basis for publication in both newspapers, and these rates after the consolidation consequently will remain the same. While local display advertising has been sold for publication in either newspaper, in most instances such advertising has been placed in both issues. The combined charge for such advertising will remain the same after the consolidation with relatively few exceptions, and in those cases only where inequalities previously existed.

The Audit Bureau of Circulation's last annual audit of the Idaho Evening Times and Twin Falls News showed a combined circulation of 15,925 as of March 31, 1941. At present the combined circulation of the two newspapers is running slightly in excess of 10,000 copies daily. A survey, just completed, shows that less than 1,000 of this total is duplicated. After the consolidation, this will leave a net circulation larger than that of any newspaper published in either Idaho or Utah, with the exceptions of Boise and Salt Lake City.

Since the Twin Falls newspapers came under one ownership, Jan. 1, 1937, the present publishers have endeavored conscientiously to maintain both publications. They have upheld the highest newspaper standards possible in keeping with good business and reasonable prices for their services.

Invaders Cross Johore Straits In Night Attack

By HAROLD GUARD

SINGAPORE, Feb. 9 (U.P.)—Japanese assault troops slashed ashore on Singapore island today under cover of darkness and a heavy artillery barrage but at 11 a. m. (10 p. m. EST Sunday) British army headquarters reported "the situation is in hand."

This word came after more than 11 hours of bitter fighting against Japanese forces driving forward along a half circle of Singapore's north-west and western coast line.

At some points the British defenders pushed the Japanese back with paralyzing direct attacks. At others, the British fell back, fighting a delaying action in accordance with prearranged battle plans.

It was a back-to-the-wall battle for the defending forces which comprise British, Australian and Indian regular troops and volunteer corps in which Singapore's Asiatic populace is reported.

Army headquarters, describing the opening of the Japanese attack, declared that the enemy launched the most intense artillery bombardment of the far eastern war about midnight.

The Japanese fire was concentrated on Imperial beach positions and the search light batteries which had been set up along the shore to spot any Japanese troops trying to cross the half-mile Johore straits.

Shells Rake Islands

Large shells from the Japanese batteries fell on the British forward positions and raked the island roads, attempting to interfere with efforts to move up reinforcements to the threatened eastern sector.

Japanese landing parties then put out from the Johore side, with many of them wading across shallows where the water is only a few feet deep.

The Japanese scrambled ashore at points from which just west of the destroyed causeway which linked Singapore to the mainland to Paik Lan, a few miles further southwest.

Army headquarters said the Japanese employed small boats, some of them built along the Johore shore during the past week's lull in fighting and other presumably rushed up by truck and railroad.

The Japanese landing was described by the army spokesman as "following the usual Japanese pattern."

The defenders carried out prearranged tactics, shortening their line while forward sorties carried out delaying actions," he said.

A section of the Chinese volunteer corps, the spokesman revealed, was battling the Japanese landing groups but most of the defense was in the hands of Imperial troops well acquainted with Japanese tactics after weeks of fighting in Malaya.

Diversion Used

The spokesman noted the Japanese had preceded their landing on Singapore island with a diversion—the occupation of Pulau Ubin island at the eastern mouth of Johore straits. Meantime, the Japanese were concentrating their forces at the other side of Singapore for the main attack.

The army spokesman said that the landing was effected in a glen of low mangrove swamps, tangled jungles and marshes, which offer advantages to both the attackers and the defenders.

"There is plenty of natural cover," he said, "and two converging creeks provide defensive facilities which have enabled our forces to concentrate on a shortened strategic line."

Because of the terrain the opening phase of the battle was described as a fight, for the most part, between light scouting forces and specially trained shock troops.

Ration for Clothing Is Threatened

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (U.P.)—Pertinent week-end developments on the capital front affecting civilians: The war production board threatened to allocate clothing supplies to check apparent hoarding by wholesalers, jobbers and retailers. Wholesale and retail inventories of men's, women's and children's clothing are growing rapidly, it said, and small retailers may be at a disadvantage in the fall because of inability to finance pre-season purchases.

The Congress of Industrial Organizations—Announced that its demands for wage increases were justified by rising living costs, "inflated profits" increased productivity of labor and by the fact that workers' incomes "have been consistently below minimum health and efficiency standards." It said living costs have increased 12-13 per cent since August and food costs are 25 per cent above those of Jan. 1941; that profits increased 16.3 per cent between 1940 and 1941 and are now 77 per cent higher than in 1939. It predicted, a 15 to 20 per cent further increase in living costs this year.

American Federation of Labor—Said unemployment resulting from industrial conversion to war products is needless and wasteful sacrifice of human resources; proposed subsidies to provide unemployment benefits to those workers.

PRESIDENT SIGNS HUGE NAVY BILL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (U.P.)—President Roosevelt today signed the $20,495,265,474 naval supply bill—the largest single appropriation measure in any nation's history. It was designed to assure American supremacy on the seas and in the air.

The bill's plus net appropriations in bills now pending in congress, brings to $116,000,000,000 the total of war funds authorized since inauguration of the defense program in June, 1940, according to a war production board compilation.

It estimated actual expenditures through January at $17,528,000,000.

The navy measure, passed in congress without a dissenting vote, provides funds for adding 25,000 airplanes to the fleet air arm and for speeding construction of fighting ships ranging from torpedo boats to battleships.

Although the measure carries funds greater than the nation's entire expenditure for armaments in World War I, its grants will be followed by requests for more money to be spent in 1943 for planes and vessels.

BATAVIA RAIDED AS JAPS PUSH DRIVE TOWARD JAVA

INVADERS MAKE SEMI-CIRCLE FOR ATTACK ON ISLE

By JOHN R. MORRIS

BATAVIA, Feb. 9 (U.P.)—Batavia, capital of The Netherlands East Indies, suffered its first air raid today as Japanese planes intensified a series of air attacks on Java, center of united nations resistance in the southwest Pacific.

The raid on Batavia, viewed as possibly a prelude to all-out invasion of Java island, was announced in a high command communiqué, which said details were "not yet available." The communiqué, distributed by The Netherlands East Indies news agency, told of enemy activity over other parts of Java, Sumatra and Borneo.

Today's raid marked the second appearance of Japanese planes over Batavia. Enemy aircraft appeared over the capital in reconnaissance flights Saturday, but dropped no bombs.

Land Drive

Meanwhile, Japanese patrols were pushing south from Balikpapan, east Borneo oil center, "apparently planning to reach Bandjermasin on land." Bandjermasin, important trade center on the southeast Borneo coast, is considered one of the Japanese objectives in their attempt to force a pre-invasion semi-circle around Java.

The communiqué revealed a new air raid on the airfield at Palembang, oil center in southeast Sumatra, but said there were no losses on the allied side "in contrast with the attack on Saturday last."

During Saturday's raid on Seribak, chief Netherlands Indies naval base, at least two, and probably three enemy planes, were shot down, the communiqué said.

A communiqué said that little damage was done at the naval and air base.

Japanese planes bombed Palembang, on the Sumatra coast about 200 miles from Batavia, and Bangka island, off the Sumatra coast about the same distance from the capital.

Planes Destroyed on Ground

Six bombing planes attacked Palembang, and it was admitted that some Dutch airplanes were destroyed on ground.

Dutch defense forces on Celebes island, northeast of Java, were understood to be ready to meet an early Japanese attack on Macassar, the chief town, which is on the southwest coast about 500 miles northeast of Java.

The well informed Netherlands Indies news agency pointed out that possession of Macassar would give the Japanese a valuable advanced base from which to make the direct attack on Java.

It was believed that as part of any such move the Japanese also would seek to seize Bandjermasin in southern Borneo, across the Macassar strait.

There are indications that a stronger defense would be made of Macassar and Bandjermasin than of any other points in The Netherlands East Indies because of their threat to the entire island chain as enemy bases.

Airline officials said the switch was "automatic" and "simple" for them.

To the operation of 24-hour-a-day defense plants the 2 a. m. "zero hour" was least confusing, but it promised a headache for payroll officials, who must decide whether an employee working from midnight (standard time) to 9 a. m. (war time)—seven hours in all—should receive eight hours' pay.

Last Honor Paid To Mrs. Ochsner

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Ochsner, Gooding, were held this afternoon at the Reynolds funeral home chapel. Rev. Mark C. Cronenberg officiating. Rev. H. J. Reynolds assisted.

BLACKOUT VOTED 'BEST' IN STATE

sounded at 8:45 p. m. there was not a light in the room from the court house roof in any direction with the exception of the always, beacon sweeping the sky at Jerome and another beacon toward Hagerman.

Dome Shines

One significant thing was noted by the observers. The high school dome, painted silver, reflected light each time the Jerome beacon swept the sky above it.

The night was clear although no moon shone. Before the test period ended the eyes of the observers had become accustomed to the dark, and by starlight some buildings could be seen and police cars could be glimpsed prowling the streets near the courthouse.

Today reports had been received by the Evening Times from practically all districts in the eight counties and a tabulation of these reports showed 100 per cent effectiveness.

Whole Area Black

Hudelson expressed the opinion that in the eight counties there couldn't have been "more than 50 lights burning" (with exception of railroad right-of-way lights and always beacons) and these were so scattered that an airman, if he saw them at all, couldn't possibly have told what they were.

All Say 100 Per Cent

The counties participating in the blackout with head air-raid wardens in each reporting 100 per cent cooperation, were Lincoln, Gooding, Jerome, Camas, Cassia, Minidoka, Blaine and Twin Falls.

Even Idaho's famed resort, Sun Valley, it was pitch black.

The blackout had hardly started before the air raid warden at Albion called into the central control station at the sheriff's office here to report "all lights out."

Phone Company Aids

At Filer the rural residents were aided by the telephone company. The operator there, sounded one long ring over 27 lines reaching 280 farm families. The operation took two minutes but at the end of that time every farmhouse on the line was black.

Up to noon today no reports had been received concerning any accidents during the blackout period. Likewise there were no reports of looting.

Hudelson praised cooperation offered by all individuals.

"Everyone having anything to do with the blackout is to be complimented," he said. "Without full cooperation it would have been a flop but with the cooperation received it was a success the like of which was never anticipated."

Sheepmen Cooperate

He also lauded cooperation shown by sheepmen in lambing sheds. A report from Castleford said that several "large outfits" were operating in that vicinity but that "they turned every light out right on the dot." Gooding county air raid warden reported all lights out with the exception of one lambing shed.

In Twin Falls hospital officials reported that they were unable to hear the siren or whistles blowing, in town but "blacked out on time anyway."

One small basement light was reported left on in the 100 block of Second avenue north as was a service station restroom light in the middle of the 100 block on Second avenue west.

Leonard P. Avant, county air raid warden, praised all workers highly and said today that persons having charge of the few lights left on would be contacted this week. Similar steps are being taken in all the other counties.

Judge J. R. Bothwell, county civilian defense council chairman, termed the blackout a "remarkable" demonstration of wholehearted unity.

U. S. Tax Deputies Open County Tour

For the purpose of assisting taxpayers in making out federal income tax returns for 1941, two deputy tax collectors today had started a tour of this section.

The two collectors are Cecil A. Post, in charge of the Twin Falls office, and Walter Bithell.

They were in Castleford this morning and in Buhl this afternoon where they will remain all day Tuesday and Wednesday. Thursday they will be in Filer and Friday they will be in Hollister from 9 a. m. to noon and in Rogerson from 1 to 5 p. m. Saturday they visit Kimberly while a week from today they will be in Hansen and Murtaugh.

Two From Burley Will Enter Navy

C. A. Edmondson, local navy recruiter, today had announced tentative acceptance of two Burley men for duty with that branch of the armed forces.

The two are Richard Lionel Yeaman, 34, and Steele T. Proer, 20, who resides on Burley route three. Edmondson also announced two more men from this area had passed final examinations at the Salt Lake station after tentative acceptance here. They were Dean S. Casler, Filer, and Leo E. Alch, Bliss.

Nurse's Mind Snaps—Two Hospital Babies Poisoned

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (U.P.)—Medical science studied today "the snapped mind" of one of its own practitioners—an "angel in white" who betrayed her trust by poisoning two infants in a hospital nursery.

Though Nurse Irma Twiss Epstein was formally charged with homicide because one of the infants died, authorities indicated that hers was not a case for the courts, but for the science in which she was so proficient that her superiors still called her "the best nurse who ever entered a sick room."

In 1940 Mrs. Epstein retired from her profession—after years of caring for babies—to have a baby of her own. It died at birth. A few weeks later she took an overdose of sleeping tablets. Suicidal intent was suspected and she spent four days in the psychopathic ward of Bellevue hospital.

In the still hours before Sunday's dawn, she was alone in the nursery of the Bronx maternity hospital. Six babies were in her charge. Two were crying and had been for hours.

Hiram Comegys Paid Last Honor

Funeral services for Hiram Comegys, who died at Lewiston last Friday, were held this afternoon at the White mortuary chapel.

Rev. E. L. White, pastor of the Filer Methodist church, officiated, and Mrs. G. H. Shearer, Twin Falls, sang two solos.

Interment was in Filer Odd Fellows cemetery.

Palbearers were O. J. Childs, Ed Vincent, Leonard Winkle, Elmer Harding, V. A. Allison, George Erhardt, all of Filer.

8 MORE JURYMEN CALLED TO COURT

Because the regular jury panel proved insufficient, eight additional names were drawn today for the January term by order of District Judge J. W. Porter.

The eight added veniremen, scheduled to report at the courtroom this afternoon for the second civil trial of the term, are Pat Daly, T. A. Grimm, R. J. Hempleman and Harry Holmquist, all of Twin Falls; Joseph J. Kollmeyer, Theodore Rangen, Harlan See and Arthur C. Wilson, all of Buhl.

As originally drawn, the January panel consisted of 36 names. The venire was exhausted this morning without securing a full jury for trial of the Troy-Parishian suit against Detweiler Bros., Inc. The laundry and cleaning concern seeks restitution of funds it paid for an allegedly defective stoker. The machine was purchased, along with various other large equipment, at the time the Parishian building was erected. The company's suit says all other equipment proved satisfactory.

PORK

E. P. Messner, farmer residing south and east of Twin Falls, today had his hog back but you'd never know it by the reference made on the police blotter.

Messner stopped at a local service station Saturday at 5:30 p. m. and the hog—weighing 250 pounds—jumped from a trailer and made a getaway.

The owner asked police cooperation in finding the animal.

Today, regarding the incident, the police blotter read as follows: "Police boys like pork—pork taken care of—good old pork."

SERVICE TUESDAY FOR MRS. SLATER

Mrs. Helen B. Slater, Klamath Falls, Ore., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Roberts, 144 Eighth avenue north, died Friday at Emanuel hospital in Portland, Ore., where she had been a patient the past five weeks.

She was the wife of Lawrence E. Slater, Klamath Falls, whom she married March 5, 1929.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday, Feb. 10, at 4 p. m. at the White mortuary chapel here, Rev. E. L. White, Filer Methodist minister, officiating. Interment will be in Twin Falls cemetery.

Wilton Peck will sing "Crossing the Bar," accompanied by Miss Marjorie Albertson, who will play the prelude and postlude.

Palbearers will be Robert Logan, Dr. J. F. Johnston, Frank L. Stephens, Edward Low, J. A. McGee, all of Twin Falls, and James Wallin, Boise.

BOY, 16, INJURED IN CANYON FALL

Victim of a 20-foot fall onto the rocks in Snake river canyon, Dick Harbour, 16, Twin Falls, was in the county general hospital today in "good" condition. He escaped serious injuries.

The youth lost his footing at 12:45 p. m. Sunday while climbing down the canyon wall on the Twin Falls side, across from the end of the Blue Lakes ranch, according to Deputy Sheriff John E. Leiser. He was alone at the time and was on his way to do some practice shooting with his .22 rifle.

Bruises and Cuts

According to his attending physician, the boy escaped with multiple contusions and abrasions and with small cuts about the head.

The boy is a son of William C. Harbour, west Heyburn avenue, Twin Falls.

Deputy Leiser and Merrill Puckett, highway employee who accompanied the officer, carried the injured youth up the steep canyon wall. They hoisted him the last 20 feet with ropes. Harbour had been carried part way up, when the rescuers arrived, by one of three youths who were in the canyon at the time of the accident. Leiser said two of the boys scaled the wall to spread news of the mishap. The three boys were George Taylor, Billy DeKlotz and Robert DeKlotz, all about 15.

Harbour was unconscious for a time after his fall. He recovered from the coma, however, before he was taken up the canyon wall.

"DEFENSE" CHAIN PLAN UNLAWFUL

The mails in all parts of the country are still being flooded with letters relating to so-called endless chain schemes soliciting defense savings stamps, a practice which is unlawful, Postmaster M. A. Stronk said today.

Stronk made the announcement after receiving word to this effect from the office of the solicitor.

The postmaster was informed that despite a warning issued on July 22, 1941, "patrons of the various post-offices are still depositing in the mails matter relating to schemes of this nature." It continued:

"They should be warned that the sending of such matter through the mails is a violation of the postal fraud and lottery statutes. Notices are served upon persons participating in such schemes whose names come to the attention of the post office department requiring them to show cause why fraud orders should not be issued against them. Such orders forbid the delivery of any mail to the persons named therein."

Farmer's Aid Valuable

Albert Knigge, farmer living three miles north and a mile and a half west of Five Points west, telephoned officers. He speeded the rescue by using his tractor to pull Deputy Leiser's car for a full mile across fields that were virtually a sea of thick mud. Officers said today that without Knigge's assistance young Harbour could not have been rushed to the hospital until at least several hours later. Scene of the accident is directly north of Mr. Knigge's farm.

Officers said young Harbour's father, a painter, was working at the county hospital at the time his son was brought in.

Infant Daughter Called by Death

Ruth Brundige, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Brundige, Hazelton, died at 6:10 a. m. today at the Twin Falls county general hospital.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 3 p. m. at the Reynolds funeral home chapel. Capt. W. Roswall, of the Salvation Army, will officiate. Interment will be in a Twin Falls cemetery.

SOLON SAYS PEARL HARBOR PROVES ISOLATIONISTS RIGHT

WHEELER BLASTS 'GIVING AWAY' OF SHIPS, MUNITIONS

By GEORGE E. REEDY, Jr.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (UPI)—Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, D. Mont., former isolationist leader, today contended that the brief history of United States participation in the war demonstrates the correctness of the position he maintained until the attack on Pearl harbor.

"I repeatedly said on the floor of the senate that we were unprepared to go to war—that we did not have the guns, tanks, powder or TNT," Wheeler said in an interview. "It is now being demonstrated that I was correct."

Wheeler, who assumed leadership of the isolationist cause in congress in 1939, said no member of his group could be accused of voting against measures for military preparedness.

"The Truman report, the Roberts report and other reports show where the responsibility lies, but regardless of that, we are all in the same boat now," he said. "We have got to do everything we can—both isolationists and interventionists—to win the war and attempt to bring about a lasting peace so that our boys in the future will not be called upon to fight all over the world."

Raps FDR Call
He characterized President Roosevelt's call for the election of a congress which has supported administration policies as a call for the election of "internationalists" who "favor his program whether it be for the establishment of the four freedoms or for union now."

"What we need in congress more than anything else are men who will think for themselves and not be rubber stamps for either a Democratic or Republican leader," he said. "Every thinking person realizes it is high time that men be elected to congress who have the intestinal stamina to stand up and vote their own convictions rather than be led around by the nose by the bureaucrats here in Washington."

"The 'interventionists' who favored the President's policy in foreign affairs during the past two years have little to point to with pride. Wheeler said. He declared that their position has not been proven correct by events."

Nothing to Show
"If I had been one of those who favored intervention and thought we could lick the world with bombs, tanks, or who has constantly denounced every nation on the face of the earth, I would want to talk damn little now in the face of the 'showing we have made up to the present time,'" he said.

Asked to sum up his position, he asserted:
"After the war broke out in Europe, I repeatedly stated that if there was any danger of our being attacked, then we should keep our ships, powder, TNT and guns in the United States and our possessions, rather than give them all away, and I also declared that in the event we were attacked by any nation, that I would be one of the first to demand that American interests, wherever they are, should be defended."

REFUNDS LISTED ON INCOME LEVY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (UPI)—The internal revenue bureau scrutinizes income tax funds down to the last penny.

Evidence of its care was disclosed today with the report of a payment to Mrs. Sarah Mellon Scaife, Pittsburgh, of one penny more on her income tax refund than on that of her banker brother, Richard K. Mellon, also of Pittsburgh.

The bureau's list of refunds during the fiscal year 1941 showed that Mrs. Scaife obtained a refund of $147,321.03 compared with a check to her brother for $147,321.02.

The penny difference apparently was caused by the bureau dividing a refund between the two and giving the odd penny to the woman.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., New York, was granted the largest refund for any corporation for income and miscellaneous taxes, receiving $1,514,264.99.

George F. Jones, Chicago industrialist, obtained the largest individual income tax refund, $253,957.57.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, defender of the Philippines, was paid $620.66 in income and miscellaneous tax refunds as executor of the estate of Mary P. MacArthur, Washington, D. C.

Questions, Answers on Sugar Rationing Plan

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (UPI)—The following questions and answers clarify some of the problems arising from the sugar rationing plan.

Q. Who will need sugar rationing books? A. Every person who wants to buy sugar from a retailer.

Q. How do I get my war ration book? A. By registering with teachers in the public schools on a date to be announced later and obtaining the book at that time.

Q. What will the book contain? A. 25 stamps, each good for a designated amount of sugar which may be purchased during a single, specific week.

Q. Can I save the stamps and use them next week? A. No. The stamps will be good only for the week they are designated.

Q. What happens when I go to my grocer? A. You will tear out the stamp for that particular week and give it to the grocer.

Q. Will each individual have a book or will there be one for each family? A. There will be one book for each person, regardless of age.

Q. What happens when I register? A. You go to your neighborhood schoolhouse where you will report the amount of sugar that you have on hand. If you have more than two pounds for each person in the family, stamps covering that surplus will be torn out of the war ration book before you receive it.

Q. What happens if I don't report my sugar surplus? A. False reports subject you to maximum penalties of a $10,000 fine or 10 years in prison, or both.

Q. How much sugar will I be able to buy? A. The office of price administration has not yet decided but it probably will be 12 ounces a week for each person.

Q. When will sugar rationing start? A. The OPA says that it will be in "several weeks, when the tremendous job of printing rationing books has been completed."

Q. If I eat regularly at hotels, restaurants, cafeterias and lunchrooms, do I need a war ration book? A. Probably not but definite plans are being worked out by OPA for institutionalized eating places.

Q. If I live with a family as a boarder or roomer, am I included in the family's quota? A. No. You apply individually for your ration book.

Q. Can a housewife take the rest of the family's ration book to the grocery for the week's supply? A. Yes. She may obtain the family's entire weekly supply at one time.

Q. Will there be enough sugar on hand for all requests? A. The OPA and the war production board are making every effort to see that adequate supplies will be on hand to meet all rationing demands.

Q. What about buying sugar before the rationing plan goes into operation? A. Grocers have been told

BIG FIRE DELAYS WORK ON HOTEL

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (UPI)—Fire that swept through steel framework of the incomplete $8,000,000 Statler hotel, running steel girders and concrete forms, threatened today to delay completion of the much-needed building.

The hotel company and John W. Harris, associates, the general contractors, said damage might exceed $1,000,000. It will depend upon how many of the girders have to be replaced.

The hotel was being rushed to completion to help alleviate the capital's severe winter shortage. Steel work had been completed on the 12 floors of the huge structure and concrete floors were being poured.

The fire was discovered at 5 p. m. yesterday by a watchman and soon was burning the wooden framework half-way up the building. It was believed that a high wind had upset a fire pot which was burning on the ground floor to keep fresh concrete from freezing.

Woman Killed in Highway Accident

NAMPA, Ida., Feb. 9 (UPI)—A weekend automobile accident on the highway four miles northeast of here resulted in the death of Mrs. Martha Francine Ward, 28, formerly of Nampa.

Mrs. Ward was killed when the car in which she was riding ran off the highway and crashed into a fence and telephone pole. Police said a two-by-six inch brace on the fence struck Mrs. Ward, fatally injuring her. The driver of the car, John Calzavorta, Nampa, suffered minor injuries.

ALERT

HOOD RIVER, Ore., Feb. 9 (UPI)—A civilian defense captain, intent on arousing the town for an early morning practice alert, let loose with a booming shotgun blast. Then rushing to the telephone to place a call to see if his effort had served the purpose, he got no answer from central. He had shot down the wires.

50 ARE HURT IN $500,000 BLAZE

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 9 (UPI)—At least 50 persons were injured, a score of buildings destroyed and 50 others damaged and hundreds made homeless today in one of the city's most disastrous fires.

The blaze, believed to have started with several explosions in the Acme Furniture company store, swept an entire triangular block of small stores and homes last night and jumped across a wide avenue within a half hour. Eight alarms were sounded, calling all available fire-fighting apparatus to fight the flames.

Fire officials estimated that damage would amount to more than $500,000.

Thirty-five firemen were injured and one person was reported killed. One fireman suffered a broken back.

COMFORT

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 9 (UPI)—America could return to the horse and buggy days "with very little inconvenience," Actress-Loretta Young said today after trying it herself first hand.

With a rented steed, an old fashioned carriage and a liveried driver, Miss Young kept a day-long round of appointments yesterday, driving from one to another in the creaking conveyance.

"The drive was most pleasant," she said. "I believe we could return to the horse and buggy days with very little inconvenience. It is slower, of course, but very comfortable and relaxing."

She said the outfit attracted little comment, but did arouse the neighborhood dogs which were unaccustomed to seeing such contraptions except through a studio lot fence.

Echoes From That Blackout

One Twin Falls gent thought sure a bomb had crashed into his house during the blackout last night.

However (and don't think us crazy, please), the gent's goldfish is doing as well as can be expected so everything is okay.

Operative SG put us on the trail of this blackout incident. Out at the home of Mel Almsworth all preparations were being made for sounding of the blackout signal. His daughter took a last look around, then hastily changed positions of the telephone and the goldfish bowl.

Out went the lights as the siren roared.

Mel, wanting to be near the phone, groped his way in that direction. He sat down. He reached for the place he'd put the phone.

Crash! The goldfish bowl smashed to smithereens on the floor, water splashed all over. . . and Mel's first thought was that the treacherous Japs had sneaked in to make the practice blackout the real thing.

One of his sons rescued the goldfish, which is apparently going to survive with no permanent injuries.

Seven different sleuths reported this on to us:

At the L. D. S. second ward church, not long before the blackout, the evening services were in progress. At a solemn moment Organist Jay Spracher prepared to play a church melody on the big organ.

Instead, booming out from the organ with startling clarity came this:

"Car No. 2 testing!"

Jay threw up his hands to show he hadn't done it!

(Honest, electrical mixup of some kind brought in the voice from the police radio and which was passing the church at the exact moment, testing before the blackout.)

Another blackout echo: One Wellington C. (Duke, to you) Pierce is warden for his block on Lincoln. The minute the blackout siren sounded last night, Warden Wellington C. P. rushed out of the house to start checking up on other people's lights.

He got out in the inky-black street and looked back.

There was a light gleaming brilliantly from his own bedroom!

As far as we can find out, Mert McVey was the only casualty of the blackout in these parts.

Mert and the Missus were driving over to visit some friends. They miscalculated the time. The blackout warning came. They parked their car, got out and started rushing to the home of the friends. Approaching by the alley, they couldn't get the gate open.

Mert started to climb the hedge . . . but didn't know a fence wire runs through the hedge.

Result: Mert plopped over into mud, darn near sprained one wrist, just about wrecked one trouser-leg.

PROOF ABOUT OUR BLOCK

Pot Shots is air raid warden for his block.

We beg to report to the authorities that our block was one of the best blacked-out in the whole Magic Valley last night.

If the authorities doubt us despite our official position as warden, we submit the following photograph of our block as of 8:41 p. m. Sunday, Feb. 8, 1942, A. D. and etc.

MATTER OF A RING

Before Miss Flora Dierker, a deputy assessor, went on a week-end trip to Boise, the other gals in the office twitted her no end about was there a man involved and was she going to bring back a husband. Flora just blushed and said nothing.

Came Flora's return.

When she returned to work, there was a wedding ring on her finger.

Nobody saw the ring for several days. Finally Jane Jones spotted it. Much hubbub. Flora said nothing. Much speculation.

Answer: Doing a little return twitting, Flora had bought the ring at the dime store.

NOTE TO GUYS WHO HAVE STOKERS

An unidentified chap just telephoned Pot Shots and said he'd thought of something we ought to pass along in regard to moving the clocks ahead one hour as of 2 a. m. this morning.

This gent pointed out that fellows who have automatic stokers for their furnaces should be sure to go downstairs before tonight, and move the stoker-clock ahead, too.

If not, said he, the stoker won't turn on at your usual hour Tuesday morning—and you may get mighty chilly.

We duly pass this gent's advice along. Anything for national defense.

FAMOUS LAST LINE

"Honest, boss, I forgot to set my clock for war time!"

THE GENTLEMAN IN THE THIRD ROW

SERIAL STORY

TAMBAY GOLD

BY SAMUEL HOPKINS ADAMS

CHAPTER XXX

At the moment I didn't think Mowry might take that for more than was meant. He walked over and stuck his face close to mine.

"Yeah," he said. "I've been hearing things. What's Oliver to her?"

Well, that was simply handing it to me on a platter. I gave Mowry the good old mellerdrammer with all stops out.

"Can I trust you, Sheriff?" I whispered. "As one of the family?"

He swelled up like a puff-adder. "Straight talk, m'am," he said. "Well, I've had good practice in my day, but I never told one with a stiffer lip."

I could see his mind working. A percentage on Tambay gold and a hold over Juddy to make her come through. A profitable deal, and Mowry was the savior of the Maurice name.

"Will he marry her?" he said. "How can he marry her if they lynch him?"

"A Maurice of Tambay?" he said. "I had him going! I let out another loop. 'Sheriff, who'll look after her and her fatherless child?'"

"I'm asking you," he said. "Will he marry her?"

Right there is where I played cagy. "That's up to you," I told him.

"He'd better!" he said. "I'll see he does, or I'll shoot him like a dog."

"That's talking!" I said. "But you've got to save him first."

He did some hard, sour thinking. "Can you get him out of the state if he's delivered at Hambay?"

"Yes. We've got an airplane."

He reached his decision. "The jail laundry goes out tonight. Watch for the wagon."

"Attaboy, Sheriff! Once a Maurice, always a Maurice."

"Have the airplane ready. Sears is very low. I just had the word. Be at Tambay gate at 9 o'clock."

"Don't I get to see Doc Oliver, Sheriff?"

They had Doc in a small, flimsy annex. I got the idea. The mob could get him without damaging the jail.

DOC was white, but just as cool as ever. He listened carefully, while the sheriff outlined the plan. "Why should I run away?" he said. "I didn't shoot poor Sears."

"They'll string you up, just the same," I said.

"Shut up, m'am," Mowry said. "She's right, Oliver. I'm willing to take a chance to get you out of there. For the family honor." He was being all Maurice now, putting his preparation of plans for war. Chairman Dies says the hearings were abandoned because he was told the Japanese situation was delicate and nothing should be done to offend the Nipponese while negotiations were in progress.

"I now make this prediction, and I do so deliberately," declared Dies on the house floor a few days ago, "that unless this government adopts an alert attitude toward this whole question there will occur on the west coast a tragedy which will make Pearl Harbor sink into insignificance compared with it. Attorney General Biddle issued his order on enemy aliens the next day."

Also last fall a resolution was introduced in the senate for a special committee to investigate Japanese activities. This was at the request of FBI, but the committee was never appointed. Material for the committee to probe were Japanese consuls in western states; a society of Japanese military veterans that spreads through Washington, Idaho, Oregon, Arizona, California; another society that was raising money for the Japanese war chest; arrest of Charlie Chaplin's house boy; dismissal of a Japanese naval officer caught with American naval plans, etc.

Idaho dairies and creameries will be taken care of by war production board and will not have to go out of business for lack of containers, as they had notified WPB. Under the regulations, dairymen discovered that they could not purchase new equipment or maintain old equipment in proper condition unless an exception was made in their case. The dairymen need tin; the tin is in pounds. They took up the matter with re-tin-allocation to them. Retin-ing is no insignificant business, considering the number of dairymen who must put milk in cans. In the general shut-down on tin the dairymen were completely forgotten until they began to call attention to their plight.

Because of the importance of milk as food and the urging of the department of agriculture that there be increased production of milk, butter and cheese, WPB will issue an order permitting re-tinners to have sufficient poundage of the metal to take care of the containers for the balance of the year.

Every metal working shop in the northwest has received a questionnaire from the war production board asking its needs of metal, what kind, what supply on hand, how much required to operate the plant one year. Replies must be in the hands of the census bureau by February 20. The board is preparing to distribute critical and strategic metals for a three-months period, starting April 1. Plants requiring metals for strictly civilian purposes will be gradually cut off and eventually forced to close their doors unless there is valid reason for continued operation.

On his show, shaping up to high tradition, all that triple. "You know why I'm doing this, don't you? Maybe you don't know that I'm her kin."

"Whose kin?" Doc raised his eyebrows in my direction, meaning it was me.

"A party you owe it to right a wrong, to play the man and the gentleman if you've got it in you and you darn well know who it is."

"I assure you I haven't an idea what you're—"

"Don't pass words with me," Mowry said. "A thought got through to his mind. Lord knows how. 'Maybe he hasn't told you. Has she?'"

"Nothing that makes any sense with what you're saying."

"Then I'm telling you. She's going to have a baby."

"Mom? A baby?" His poor face was a picture.

Considering that my fair name was involved, I figured that it was now my turn to speak. "He's talking about Juddy, Doc."

"Juddy?"

"That's what," Mowry said. "My young and unprotected cousin. Not so unprotected as you thought, though. When this mess is cleared up, you're comin' back and stand up to your responsibilities."

Doc looked like he was on the verge of a knock-out.

"Speak up, damn you!" the sheriff said.

"Y-y-y. Certainly!" Doc said. "If you try any funny business I'll hunt you to hell-and-gone. So now we know where we stand. But she sure oughta have told you," he said.

That was a sweet piece of news to leave with Doc. Of course I couldn't get a word in to explain. On the way out of town I picked up some of the corner talk. Bixie Groff had seen Doc shoot. There had been bad blood between Maurice and him. Plenty had heard Maurice call Doc a dirty coward.

BACK at Tambay, I decided to say nothing to Juddy. Her nerves were shot again, since she'd seen that dummy swinging on Tambay Tree. All she needed to know for the present was that Doc's getaway was fixed.

The laundry wagon rolled in at 9:15. Believe it or not, the sheriff himself was at the wheel. We dug Doc out from underneath a pile of blankets and hustled him over to the airplane where Hendy Kent was waiting. Doc said to me:

"I'm glad she's got you, Mom."

"O. K.," I said.

The buzzer gave a couple of pops and up they went. Juddy must have seen something to make her suspicious for she came bustling out, a couple of jumps late, looking like Ophelia in the mad scene.

"Has he gone, Mom?"

"Yep. Next stop, Long Island."

"Why didn't you tell me? Didn't he leave any word?"

"Goodby and good luck," I said. She wouldn't have understood the message he'd left, and I wasn't feeling up to supplying a diagram. Of course Mowry had to put in his clack.

"He'll do right by you, Cousin," he boomed out, with his manly chest all swelled.

"What did he mean by that?" Juddy asked after he'd left.

I was only thankful the old fat-head hadn't said more. Probably I'd have had further questions about it, if the telephone hadn't been ringing in Tambay Mansion.

Old Dr. Starrow spoke from the other end. He didn't say anything definite. I knew from his voice. Maurice Sears was dead.

After the funeral, to which Juddy insisted on going, Doc Starrow took me aside.

"Get her away from Tambay," he said, "or I won't answer for the consequences."

She made it easy for me. At dinner that night, which she didn't eat any of, or any other meal for that matter, she brought it up herself.

"Mom," she said, "I'm sorry to go home on you, but I'm shot. Unless I get away from this place, I'm going to fade and flop like an anemic Victorian."

"Right," I said. "Where'll you go?"

"Hendy's mother has asked me to take a cruise on their yacht. She's a dear."

"Providence, Rhode Island!" I said. "It's exactly what you need. When'll you be back?"

She didn't look at me but past me and there was a sort of sick horror in her eyes. "That's it, Mom," she said. "I can't bear to think of coming back."

I gawped at her. "Not ever?"

"Not as I feel now. I'd always see Tambay Tree."

"But you can't walk out on Tambay, girl," I said.

"I know," she said.

"And what about old Mom?" I said, with the tremolo stop full on. "You can have Tambay."

"Drat Tambay! What good is Tambay to me with you gone?"

It didn't seem the right time to put her wise to her unfortunate condition. Better wait until she was in shape to stand the shock (To Be Continued)

It is at all possible he will bring pictures, slides to illustrate his topic.

CLEARING UP

Federal Income Tax

Losses to Farmers

Losses incurred in the operation of farms as business enterprises are deductible from gross income. If farm products are held for favorable markets, no deduction on account of shrinkage in weight or physical value, or by reason of deterioration in storage, is allowed, except as such shrinkage may be reflected in an inventory if used in determining profits.

The destruction by frost, storm, flood, or fire of prospective crop is not a deductible loss in computing income since it represents the loss of anticipated profits which have never been reported as income. Likewise, a farmer engaged in raising and selling livestock, such as cattle, sheep and hogs, is not entitled to claim as a loss the value of animals that perish from among those animals that were raised on the farm, except as such loss is reflected in an inventory, if used.

If livestock has been purchased for any purpose, and afterward dies from disease, exposure or injury, or is killed by order of the authorities of a state or the United States, the actual purchase price of such livestock, less any depreciation allowable as a deduction in respect of such livestock, may be deducted as a loss if the loss is not compensated for by insurance or otherwise. The actual loss of other property (with proper adjustments for depreciation) which is destroyed by order of state or federal authorities may likewise be claimed as a loss.

If reimbursement is made by a state or the United States in whole or in part on account of stock being killed or other property destroyed in respect of which a loss was claimed in a prior year, the amount received is required to be reported as income for the year in which reimbursement is made. The cost of any feed, pasture, or care which has been deducted as an expense of operation must not be included as part of the cost of the stock for the purpose of ascertaining the amount of a deductible loss.

If gross income is ascertained by the use of inventories, no deduction can be taken separately for livestock or products lost during the year, whether purchased for resale or produced on the farm, as such losses will be reflected in the inventory by reducing the amount of livestock or products on hand at the close of the year, which has the effect of reducing gross income from business by the amount of the loss.

If an individual owns and operates a farm in addition to being engaged in another trade or business or calling, and sustains a loss from the farming operations, such loss may be deducted from gross income received from all sources in determining the taxpayer's net income, provided such farm is not operated for recreation or pleasure.

If a farm is operated for recreation or pleasure and not on a commercial basis, and if the expenses incurred in connection therewith are in excess of the receipts therefrom, the entire receipts from the sale of products may be ignored in rendering a return of income, and the expenses incurred, being regarded as personal expenses, will not constitute allowable deductions for federal income-tax purposes.

Oddity?

President John Adams and his son, President John Quincy Adams, both were born at Quincy, Mass.; both lived there when elected; and both are buried in that city.

Complimenting Miss Jessie Loyd, Blackfoot, state president of the Idaho Business and Professional Women's club, a dinner was served at the club rooms Wednesday evening. Miss Mary Robinson, past state president, gave a vocal selection.

Harry Denton, manager of the Kimberly Milling company, was a business visitor in Twin Falls for a day the first of the week.

One of the fastest basketball games ever played in Twin Falls took place last Friday evening between the Rupert high school and the Twin Falls high. At the end of the regulation time the boys' game was a tie, each side scoring 31 points. The tie was then played off and Rupert won by two points, making the score 33 to 31. It is thought that the Twin Falls boys were over-confident of winning and when the game became close were rattled. The Twin Falls girls had an easy time in their game with the Rupert girls, winning by the score of 28 to 4.

FAIRFIELD

An ample quantity of artesian water to supply all of Fairfield was brought in last week.

A card from Priv. Darrell Smith states that he is now drill inspector at 402 school squadron, Sheppard field, Tex.

Chester Graham was the lucky winner of the hand-made violin in a Red Cross drive. The violin was donated by C. H. Kinney, whose hobby is making violins.

The Robekall lodge met at the home of Beale Hollow recently. The following officers were elected: Doris Tucker, noble grand; Ethel Lee, vice grand; Beale Hollow, treasurer and Lydia Perkins, secretary. The next meeting will be held at the home of Nellie Leck, Feb. 12. Approximately 100 people signed last week for civilian defense in Cassia county. Persons are still available at the office of county superintendent and probate judge.

The R. E. A. crew started the job of stringing wire in the Manard district. If weather permits the job can be completed in three weeks.

AUSTRALIA MAY BE ALLIED BASE

SYDNEY, Australia, Feb. 9 (UP)—The United Nations are secretly carrying out "many, great movements" of armed forces and Australia may yet become the base for an offensive in the far east, War Minister F. M. Forde said today.

Forde spoke at the launching of a new destroyer.

"Australia may yet become the principal offensive base from which the allies will embark upon reconquest of Asia and the Pacific," the war minister said.

"Many great movements are now under way."

"Many great decisions have been secretly made and are being carried out just as secretly."

(Forde's speech followed an order of the day published at Singapore by Gen. Sir Archibald Wavell asserting that great reinforcements from America and Britain were en route to aid the besieged island. Dispatches from Singapore today said that defense preparations were thorough but that planes were urgently needed.)

Harris Appointed Home Guard Head

BURLEY, Feb. 9 (Special)—I. H. Harris has been named commanding officer of the Burley unit of the Idaho home guard, with Harvey Rogers as first lieutenant. John E. Foe as second lieutenant and H. C. Van Engelen as supply sergeant.

Drills are being held each Monday night at the national guard armory, and the final organization will be made up of 51 men and three officers. Most of the 40 present members were measured for uniforms, and non-commissioned officers will be named later.

Members of the guard are George J. T. Raby, Max Hammond, M. W. McLaughlin, Kales Lowe, L. K. Anderson, L. J. McElwain, Hazen Hatch, Floyd Stewart, Noah Dyer, John Chisholm, Paul Zillner, Charles Long, Paul Mueller, M. E. Parry, George Cox, George Carnody, J. B. Blackout Jottings From Atop Court House Roof

By JEAN DINKELACKER

Things I'll not forget about Twin Falls' first blackout as seen from the court house roof:

The "blackness" not as "all-enveloping" as anticipated, but something tremendously impartial—and waiting.

Lights like giant sparklers in suspension, appearing twice as intense when the alert sounded.

Silvered dome on the high school building seeming to loom up brightly each time the light ray from the beacon northeast of town cut the darkness.

Many more lights in the residential section going off than came on after the 15-minute blackout. Maybe some people really meant it when they said they were going to bed and forget the blackout.

Surprising how discernible are streets, outlines of buildings and rows of trees, even in "total blackout."

The annoyance of that car with its lights on, zig-zagging along the highway southeast of town and spilling the 100 per cent inkiness.

The Idaho theater's neon sign—first off and first on again—when the blackout struck and the all-clear were sounded.

Cut-of-proportion effect of a flashlight's beam, lashing the darkness like a dragon's flaming tail.

Indifference of the stars in their courses, brightening up the night, making a sharp dividing line between heaven and earth. Doing a good job of illumination without the all-star performer, Lady Moon.

Someone on the roof shouting "Shoot that light out!" just before a tardy red globe winked off.

Street lights and park lights going out with a single "puff" like someone blowing out all the candles on a birthday cake at once—and getting a wish.

Dogs barking in all directions, in spite of the fact that an ex-California woman said dogs didn't bark during blackouts. Maybe the Idaho dogs didn't hear what the lady had to say.

The blackout to which I awoke this morning, more inky than last night's as I turned on the only light in our section of town, one hour earlier than usual—and I don't care what the clock says.

And now I'd like to see a full dress rehearsal at the next blackout. Carry out a "blue print" bombing of some section of Twin Falls, with all disaster groups in action.

Have the civilian defense council's authorities tip off air raid wardens in the district where "bombs" would fall and "fives" would start.

Have doctors select "struck" in the area, providing each with a printed description of injuries to pin on their chests.

Then have the wardens flash the information to the sheriff's office—central control quarters—the police and fire departments called out with equipment; the Red Cross volunteer services go into action, and the advanced first aid graduates "go to work" on the victims.

But don't do it until there's at least one canteen corps organized so that "coffee and sandwiches will be served" to the evacuees. I'll volunteer to be one of those.

Miss Betty Fay Perkins, whose engagement to Judd Z. Harris, Quantico, Va., has been announced.

Harris-Perkins Nuptial in June

MURTAUGH, Feb. 9 (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Perkins, Murtaugh, this week announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Betty Fay Perkins, to Judd Z. Harris, son of Judge and Mrs. M. C. Harris, Logan, Utah.

Mr. Harris is stationed at the marine corps officers training school at Quantico, Va. The ceremony will be performed late in June.

Miss Perkins was graduated from the Murtaugh schools and attended the B.Y.U. at Provo, Utah. Mr. Harris both graduated from the Utah State Agricultural college at Logan last year. He was affiliated with the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity.

Woman Reviews 'Perfect Tribute'

BURLEY, Feb. 9 (Special)—Fifty members of the Blue Triangle Guild and the Loyal Workers circle heard a review of the book, "A Perfect Tribute," given by Mrs. A. E. Johnson, Rupert, at a joint meeting of the two organizations Thursday at the church.

Mrs. Will Sowers led community singing, with Mrs. Clyde Gochman at the piano. Mrs. Sam Gochman led the devotional services, and Mrs. Ed Holbrook read the Scripture.

Mrs. Doris Gochman played a piano solo, and Mrs. Johnson's report concluded the service.

Refreshments were served from a tea table covered with a lace cloth and sprinkled with red paper hearts.

The centerpiece was a red and white candy tree arrangement with lighted red tapers on either side. Mrs. Alvin Kleinfield and Mrs. Bradshaw presided. Refreshments were in charge of Mrs. Frank Coffey, assisted by members of the Loyal Workers.

Three Dutch Princesses

"What time do the children get up?" ... The Princess Juliana threw up her hands ...

Juliana and Children Live as Canadians Do

By MAJOR THOMAS WAYLING
NEA Correspondent

(Copyright, 1942, NEA Service, Inc.)

OTTAWA, Canada, Feb. 9 The Princess Juliana, heir to the throne of Holland and the Dutch possessions beyond the seas, stroked the flaxen hair of her youngest daughter, the Princess Irene, and affectionately squeezed the little hand of the Princess Beatrix.

"Canada and the United States have been so good to me and my children ... I can never forget it ... In a little gray stone house in a suburb of Ottawa, the Princess has established a war-time home for her family.

From London, the Princess Juliana's mother, Queen Wilhelmina, still rules the axis-free Netherlands empire. And here in Ottawa, beneath the Deft blue roof of this unpretentious little house, may be found the succession to the crown of Holland. Like the Royal House of England, the succession lies with two small girls.

Heard Like Canadians

Thy Princess Irene is two-and-a-half years old. The Princess Beatrix is four. They live the lives of Canadian children in every respect, mothered and brought up like the Colonel's Baby and Judy O'Grady's.

Princess Beatrix attends Elmwood Preparatory School, where she is rapidly picking up English. At school she is "Trix," and just as Canada has taken the Princess Juliana as a likable guest, who is to be made welcome and live as she desires, so the children of Elmwood treat little "Trix" just as they do other youngsters.

On state occasions, the Princess Juliana is the royal heir of Holland; at home she is herself, wife and mother, free to live simply and well, to work and play as she sees fit, to bring up her children in the normal healthy life of young Canada.

On state occasions Canadians cheer the Princess; in everyday life she shops downtown, goes to movies, walks and skis and skates like any young Canadian matron. She wears plain dresses around the house and economizes by darning the odd run in a stocking. (What she eats is her own affair, otherwise every time she visits someone would serve the same thing).

Live in Picturesque Area

The little grey house lies at the end of a road in a valley. Tall trees surround it and there is no confining fence. Today it is cold, twelve degrees below zero, so after a brisk walk from school the Princess and her daughters are in the cozy green drawing room—a livable room where small feet scramble over furniture, and dolls and toys are strewn all over the place. On the mantel are Dutch boy and girl dolls, a Dutch sailor and a little Canadian birch bark canoe. In the window ledge is a row of books.

With the little princess plays Renee, a small chubby youngster of Trix' age, who came with her mother from Holland. Renee is Trix' constant companion. They go to school together, play together, like any two little Canadian or American girls.

There is no royal household as such—no ladies or gentlemen-in-waiting. The little house couldn't hold them if there were. There are a cook and a maid. Two seasonal friends live with the Princess, one is the mother of Renee, the other takes care of the children. W. van Tels in the Princess' private secretary and takes care of the multitudinous affairs that come up officially and unofficially.

"What time do the children get up?" I asked the Princess.

Miss Halpin Bride Of R. Summerfield

Now on a two weeks' wedding trip to Los Angeles, are Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Summerfield, whose marriage took place Sunday at 3 p. m. at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Halpin, 461 Third avenue north. The bride was formerly Miss Marjorie Jane Halpin.

Following their return, Mr. and Mrs. Summerfield will be at home at 640 Shoshone street east. The bride is a graduate of Twin Falls high school and the University of Idaho, southern branch, Pocatello.

The bridegroom, son of Mrs. Joseph Ruky, Idaho Falls, is a graduate of the University of Illinois at Champaign. He is a member of the firm and manager of the R. and G. Jewelers in Twin Falls.

Judge J. W. Porter, long-time friend of the Halpin family, officiated at the single ring ceremony in the presence of immediate relatives of the families. Twelve lighted white tapers, flanked by tall floor baskets holding white smoggers and carnations, formed illumination for the improvised altar.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a powder blue costume suit, with silk dress and lightweight wool coat, and matching blue hat. Her accessories were of navy blue, and her shoulder corsage was of pink rosebuds.

She carried the antique lace handkerchief that had completed the costumes of several Twin Falls brides, last of whom was Mrs. Clayton Mulkins, Salt Lake City, who was Miss Maxine Doss prior to her marriage.

Miss Dorothy Halpin was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a navy blue street ensemble with a corsage of roses and geraniums.

Ellis Bucky, Idaho Falls, younger brother of the bridegroom, was his best man.

The bride's mother wore a black afternoon dress with a corsage of pink rosebuds, and Mrs. Bucky wore a gold dress, trimmed in brown with brown accessories. Talisman rosebuds formed her corsage.

An informal reception followed the ceremony. The bride's cake stand, that the bride's great-grandmother purchased for the wedding of her daughter 52 years ago, Jonquills in a blue bowl, and yellow tapers in crystal holders completed the refreshment table decorations.

Mrs. Summerfield wore a three-piece soldier blue suit with wine accessories as her traveling ensemble.

Guests at the wedding included: Mr. and Mrs. Chalmers Moore, Gooding, great-uncle of the bride; Mrs. C. O. Robinson, Gooding, aunt of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Robinson, Gooding, grandparents of the bride; and Miss Edna Robinson, Gooding, an aunt of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bucky and Ellis Bucky, Idaho Falls; Mrs. J. W. Porter, and the bride's parents, sister and brothers.

Moss Family Is Feted at Parties

BURLEY, Feb. 9 (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Carl Moss and daughter, Marilyn, spent a few days in Burley visiting with friends and relatives. They left Friday for their home in Waco, after an extended trip to California, Texas, New Mexico and Old Mexico.

While in San Diego they visited with their son, Jack, who is attending the Ryan school of aeronautics. Tuesday evening J. H. Shields entertained Mr. Moss at a special session of the penny ante club of which he was a former member.

Complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Carl Moss Wednesday evening, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Shields were hosts to 11 couples at a Spanish dinner served buffet style.

Mrs. Moss was a guest of the Idaho bridge club Thursday afternoon and was awarded guest prize. Mrs. Everett Hustead was hostess.

Mrs. Hilding Johnson, mother of Mrs. Moss, entertained Mr. and Mrs. Jack Moss and children and Mr. and Mrs. C. Moss and Marilyn at dinner Thursday evening. Following dinner they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Fife, where two tables of bridge were in play with prizes of defense stamps going to Mrs. Andrew J. Meeks and Carl Moss.

TEA CAKES

Here's a trick with tea cakes that will look like a million, and is easy to do and not expensive either. Bake your regular cup cake recipe in tiny muffin pans and when done dip them into seven-minute frosting. Roll in grated fresh coconut and serve with individual dishes of fresh fruit or a mixed fruit compote.

Car makers said that if tires are underinflated six pounds, 13 per cent of the engine power is lost.

PRESERVE LINENS

Keeping the linen closet well stocked is the modern housewife's pride just as it was her grand-mother's. And if shortages are in the offing, taking care of what's on hand is most important. Proper laundering probably ranks first. Clothes should not become too soiled, so as to necessitate rigorous rubbing, harsh soaps or strong bleaches. Tears and rips are safest mended before laundering. Table linens and bed linens too should not be folded in the same manner each time they are pressed. Alternate folding into thirds' one time, quarters the next. Press very lightly along folds so that the creases will not become sharp and the fabric weakened.

Your Weekly Bath

takes care of the OUTSIDE. But what about the INSIDE? After one reaches the age of 40 or 50 digestion and elimination are not as vigorous as in youth. Not enough exercise. Food still tastes good, and it's a constant temptation to eat more than one should. THEN—constipation, aggravating gas, coated tongue, indigestion, try ADLENIA—effective blend of 5 cathartics and 3 laxatives for DOUBLE action. ADLENIA's gentle bowel action quickly follows. Just take this ad to your druggist.

Cancer Control Workers Called Advance Guards

Pointing out that "total war demands that every man and woman do more, not less," Dr. Thomas Parran, surgeon-general of the United States public health service, has written the American Society for the Control of Cancer urging "that no smallest gain along the public health front be lost."

The message was transmitted to Mrs. G. A. Gates, captain of the Women's Field Army of Twin Falls county.

Dr. Parran's letter to Dr. C. C. Little, managing director of the society, said, "It is my earnest hope that no smallest gain along the public health front be lost in our patriotic response to the demands of total war. The Women's Field Army Against Cancer is one of our advance guards. We look to it to hold the line."

The Women's Field Army is the society's lay educational group. Dr. Little announced that in line with Dr. Parran's emphasis, the Field Army's 250,000 members, in addition to conducting an intensive educational and membership campaign in April, will undertake special defense work in accordance with recommendations that shortly will be made by a special committee appointed to study various proposals that have been advanced.

Mrs. R. S. Stringfellow, Boise, state commander of the Women's Field Army, will arrive in Twin Falls soon to confer with Mrs. Gates and other interested women.

Mrs. Anton Sedivy Honored at Shower

SHOSHONE, Feb. 9 (Special)—Mrs. Wes Fuller and daughter, Mrs. Paul Shriver, were co-hostesses at a party honoring Mrs. Anton Sedivy at the Fuller home Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Sedivy, a recent bride, was the recipient of a miscellaneous shower. A guessing game was played by the guests and prizes were awarded.

DRAPED GOWN

Mrs. John "Shipwreck" Kelly, the former Brenda Frazier, wore a slender, beautifully draped New York creation of vivid green crepe with the skirt fullness caught to the side and a dramatically low square décolletage caught lower at one side with a huge diamond clip, when she attended the President's birthday dance at the Waldorf Astoria.

Patriotic Motif for 20th Century Benefit

Red Cross and American flags, other patriotic symbols and the tri-colors of the United States will figure in decorations for the American Red Cross benefit dance Saturday evening, Feb. 14, sponsored by the Twentieth Century club.

Focal points of interest will be two spotlighted decorations, one on either side of the dancing pavilion at Radio Rodeo, according to Mrs. L. A. Chapin, chairman of the decorating committee.

A model dressed as a Red Cross nurse of the last World War, whose uniform will be completed by a nurse's cape, worn in that war, will be on one side of the room.

Opposite will be an American eagle on a pedestal wrapped in red, white and blue. Behind each will be groupings of flags.

The balcony and stairways will be draped with Red Cross flags and posters, and the orchestra platform will be draped in red, white and blue, interspersed with flags.

Lights will be dimmed for the floor show which will be staged between the two spotlighted figures. Dancing will begin at 9 p. m. and the event will be informal.

Committee Heads

In charge of arrangements are Mrs. H. A. Elcock, vice-president, who is acting president of the Twentieth Century club, in the absence of Mrs. H. L. Hogsett; Mrs. E. H. Gyer, general chairman.

Mrs. Howard Hall, ticket sale chairman; Mrs. Chapin, chairman of decorations; Mrs. Tom Alworth, program chairman; Mrs. C. R. Scott, announcement chairman, and Mrs. W. W. Thomas, publicity chairman.

Mary-Martha class of the Baptist church will meet at 2 p. m. Tuesday at the home of Mrs. R. J. Riley, 1303 Seventh avenue east.

COPPER

HAS GONE TO WAR

And New Electric Lines Must Be Curtailed

Copper is precious these days — there's not much more than enough for shells and tanks and planes and ships.

We believe our customers will understand, then, why government orders now forbid all but very small extensions of electric lines, except for defense or public health and safety needs.

Copper is needed more for war than for civilian use — in fact, right now copper is one of the most critical of wartime metals.

When the war is over, and supplies of copper and other materials are once more available, our company will be quick to resume its program of extending low-cost electric service.

UNKNOWN PRO VETERAN WINS WESTERN OPEN

Barron Cops $1,000 in Phoenix Play

By WILLIAM MCENAMIN
PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 9 (U.P.)—Herman Barron, 32-year-old veteran of the pro golf circuit, held the Western Open Golf championship today after a sensational final round which overcame early leads of several of the nation's foremost golfers.

A professional for 17 years and a follower of the winter pro swing since 1920, Barron trailed one to three strokes as the field teed off for the last round, but fired a blistering 67 which willed all his opposition.

Gets $1,000
Barron won $1,000 of a total purse of $5,000 for his victory. Henry Picard of Oklahoma City, Okla., former Professional Golfers' association and Masters' tournament champion, was second, winning $700, and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of Chicago won $500 for third.

Barron started the final round with a birdie four, took par on the second, third and fourth, a birdie on the fifth with a 25-foot putt, par on the sixth and seventh, a birdie on the eighth and a birdie on the ninth for 32 going out, four under par. Coming in, he mixed a couple of birdies with bogies for a par 36. His card for the 72 holes was 138-71-67-276.

Picard's 72-hole card was 137-69-72-278, and Harrison's 137-72-70-279. Harrison was seriously in the running for the title with but nine holes to play. Then he hit out of bounds on the 14th, pitched into a trap and took a six.

Herman Keiser of Akron, O., leader at the end of 36 holes, won fourth place and $400 with a card of 134-72-72-280. Lawson Little of San Francisco, former National Open and Amateur champion, was fifth with 139-69-73-271, winning $350.

Low amateur was dapper Johnny Dawson of Hollywood, a sporting goods salesman and winner of the Bing Crosby tourney a week ago. He toured the 72 holes in 136-72-74-282. He had to pass up sixth place money of $300, and the purse was added to seventh place winnings and divided by Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago and Ray Mangrum of Los Angeles, who split $550 for eighth and ninth.

Smith in Eighth
Horton Smith of Pinehurst, N. C., split $550, eighth and ninth, with Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va. They had 284's. At 285 Harry Cooper of Minneapolis, Joe Brown of Des Moines, Ed Dudley of Colorado Springs and Key Laffoon of Miami, Okla.

Other scores included:
278—Denny Shute of Chicago, Sam Byrd of Ardmore, Penn., Chick Herbert of Battle Creek, Mich., Paul Runyan of White Plains, N. Y., and Dick Metz of Oak Park, Ill.

289—Tony Penna of Dayton, O., Ben Hogan of Hershey, Penn., Joe Turnesa of Long Island, John Percell of Lake Tahoe, Elmer Reed of Nashua, N. Y., and Jimmy Demaret of Detroit.

Cowboy Ticket Sales Meeting Slated Here Tuesday Night

Ticket selling campaign program to get the Twin Falls Cowboys off on the right foot will be plotted at a meeting set for Tuesday night at 7:30 at the Rogers hotel, it was announced today by Wally White, chairman in charge of the drive.

"We hope that every baseball fan in southern Idaho will be able to attend this session," White said today. "Of course, we know that every fan can't—but what we're hoping for is a good representative group of fellows who will get behind the drive to keep baseball in Twin Falls."

The meeting will be held in the sample room of the hotel and all

Interested are asked to be in attendance, says Mr. White. Present plans call for an advance sale of tickets that might gross the local club owners at least $5,000 before the start of the season.

Of this amount, at least $900 must be on hand before Feb. 14—to take to Idaho Falls to be posted as a forfeit on the Pioneer league meeting on Sunday, Feb. 15.

Meanwhile, word was received that Carl Anderson, business manager of the Cowboys, had arrived in California and had started contact work to get the Wranglers some kind of playing help for the 1942 season.

While on the coast, Mr. Anderson is expected to contact owners and managers of Pacific Coast league clubs, plus scouts from big league organizations who are "nosling" around the winter leagues in the San Francisco bay area.

If no direct tie-up is available, it is thought that several players may be obtained on option from individual clubs.

At the session here on Tuesday, baseball fans will be asked to give opinions on "how to make the Cowboys a financial success" and speakers will be heard. Among those already slated to talk is Joe Blanford, attorney for the Cowboy owners.

Serving on the ticket sales committee with Mr. White are Fred Stone and Harry Walters.

Warmerdam Sets New Vault Mark

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (U.P.)—Cornelius Warmerdam, the cloud-combing pole vaulter from Piedmont, Calif., hopes to boost his new indoor world record Saturday night at the Boston A. games, one of the three track meets scheduled this week.

Warmerdam, who leapt over the bar at 15 feet 3 inches with a borrowed pole in the Millrose games at Madison Square Garden last Saturday night, expects to do better at Boston with his own favorite pole which is scheduled to arrive today or tomorrow, after being delayed in transit.

The Boston performance will be his second and last appearance of the indoor season, he believes. He will not participate in the Penn A. C. games at Philadelphia Friday, nor in the New York Metropolitan intercollegiate Thursday.

"I'm returning to California after the Boston meet," he explained today. "and I don't think I'll be able to come east again this season—not even for the nationals on Feb. 22."

Warmerdam, who has done 15 feet 5 1/2 inches outdoors, knows of no reason why he can't do just as well indoors. He emphasizes "the board runways are just as good. If not better than the outdoor cinder approaches. You can get a real purchase with your spikes on the boards."

Meanwhile, adds Smith, who is west on the winter swing, Californians and tournament professionals think that the U. S. G. A. should rescind its action and reschedule the national championships.

The players, he concludes, consider that holding the Open in Minneapolis, June 18-20, would help golfing spirit and country clubs generally, and provide a publicity foundation and a new champion upon which to build charity matches.

This is one time when I cannot agree with level-headed Horton Smith.

Determining national championships with so many men and women in the services is unfair. Bud Ward, the national amateur champion, is in the army air corps. Vic Ghezzi,

Horton Smith writes that professionals and leaders in golf on the Pacific coast are opposed to U. S. G. A. decision to cancel all 1942 national championships except the P. G. A. over which it has no jurisdiction.

The reason for this is that the ruling blocked out the National Amateur, which was scheduled for fashionable Del Monte, Calif., Sept. 7-12.

California golfers had hoped to spark the summer season in the basis of the national amateur. The cancellation of the amateur may give the pros a break, however, for there is talk now of holding the P. G. A. over the famous Pebble Beach course.

S. F. B. Morse, president of Del Monte Properties, Inc., is considering putting up the $20,000 required to book this event, reports Professional Smith.

Under the conditions, the money players might have trouble digging it up elsewhere.

Great Rookie Crop Hopes To Make Big League Grade

The Old Sarge and the New

Set. Hank Gowdy, first major league player to enlist at outbreak of World War I, tells it to Sgt. Hank Greenberg as Detroit slugger is awarded plaque for extraordinary service to baseball at New York baseball writers' dinner.

Star Minor Leaguers Get Chance

By PAUL SCHEFFELS
NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (U.P.)—Military demands for stalwart young men are hitting the minor leagues but even the most dogged diamond pessimist must admit that the smaller circuits are singing their swan song in elegant style today by sending an impressive 1942 crop of rookies to the majors.

By a happy coincidence, although several big league clubs have frantically combed this freshman fodder for replacements for players lost to the armed services, the three hardest hit—the Boston Red Sox, Detroit Tigers and Cleveland Indians—are singularly blessed as far as star newcomers are concerned. Respectively, these teams lost Ted Williams, Hank Greenberg and Bobby Feller, all top men at their posts.

No Replacement

Replacing a hitter of the Williams' caliber (406 in 1941) if he should pass his soon-scheduled physical examination, is practically impossible. The Red Sox have only one new outfielder and he is Johnny Werba from Washington where he hit only 280 but they do have a youngster—Johnny Pesky—who may be one of the stand-out infielders in the circuit. Pesky—real name Pavsekovich—has played only two years but led his league each season in hits, 187 in the Piedmont in 1940 and 195 in the American association last year. He hit 325 both seasons.

The Tigers too, would be hard-pressed to find a suitable substitute for a great slugger like Greenberg but they have a formidable group of experienced outfielders to choose from and have been considerably consoled by the acquisition of a prize infielder. He is Billy Hitchcock from Kansas City who has already been assigned to the shortstop post vacated by Frank Croucher, now with Washington.

The 23-year-old Hitchcock hit 296 with the Blues last year and fielded brilliantly.

Wide Breach

Feller's enlistment in the navy left the Indians with a huge breach in the pitching department but Cleveland has been rewarded with two exceptionally promising recruits. One is pitcher Red Evers from Wilkes-Barre of the Eastern league where he walked off with nearly all hurling honors.

Embree, 22 years old, fanned 213 batters in 220 innings, led in earned run averages with 1.69, topped the won-and-lost column with 17-9 percentage of .668 on 21 victories and five defeats. He notched eight shut-outs.

Owner Gives Reasons for Alsab Loss

ITALEAH, Fla., Feb. 9 (U.P.)—Two important factors contributed to the failure of Alsab in his debut as a three-year-old and the $700 wonder horse of 1941 is "still the best horse in the country," owner Al Sabath said today.

Jockey Conn McCready apparently was not strong enough to handle Alsab and the colt was a victim of "bad racing luck" in the $5,000 added Bahamas handicap at Hialeah park Saturday, Sabath said.

Alsab had been the odds-on favorite in the Bahamas but finished sixth to Mrs. A. P. Sherman's American Wolf, an 18-1 shot.

Sabath said he thought the horse would come along fast and be "right in there" for the rich $25,000-added Flamingo stakes on Feb. 28.

McCready said he had no "excuses" for Alsab's performance and said he thought the horse had a "good ride."

"He just wasn't ready. What he needs is more races to get him in condition," McCready asserted.

Alsab's trainer, Sarg Swenke, said he thought the high 128-pound impost had nothing to do with the horse's first defeat in 11 starts.

Rupert Boosters Top Burley Elks

BURLEY, Feb. 9 (Special)—Visiting Rupert Boosters handed the Burley Elks a 60-40 defeat here Saturday night in an outland cage tilt.

The Rupert club took a 35-24 lead in the first half and were at one time in front by a 20-point margin.

Scoring honors went to Jack Smith with 21 points for Burley. Dellinger got 17 for the winners.

Lineups:
BURLEY: RUPERT H. England (6).....F.....(4) Freeman L. England (4).....F.....(6) Croft Turner (14).....C.....(15) Gibson Bradley (4).....G.....(2) Williams Smith (21).....G.....(17) Dellinger Substitutions: Rupert—Whitley (14); Burley—Anderson, Brown.

Southern association is the major impressive arrival. He took a major share of his league's hitting honors with an average of .414 and 155 hits in 374 times at bat. Of that total, 71 were for extra bases and included 20 homers.

Rodak Quits Bout With Jack Wilson

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 9 (U.P.)—For his last-minute refusal to meet Leo Rodak in a charity bout at the Gardens tonight, Featherweight Champion Jackie Wilson today faced possible suspension from the national boxing association.

Wilson cancelled his bout with Rodak yesterday, announcing as his reason the Chicagoan's weight advantage—"A lightweight, Rodak normally fights at 134. In six previous bouts, Rodak defeated Wilson and fought him to a draw, three times each."

The Wilson-Rodak fight had been slated as a co-feature 10-round welterweight championship bout with Raul Carrabantes, last-stepping Chilean, the benefit of the infantile paralysis fund.

Wilson originally was scheduled to meet Jimmy Hatcher, but Rodak was substituted—with the titleholder's contest—against the South Carolina fighter injured his hand in training. Wilson won his title several weeks ago, defeating Richie Lemos in Los Angeles.

Here's No. 1 Tip: Johnny Vander Meer to Have Great Pitching Record for 1942

By JACK GUENTHER

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (U.P.)—If I were inclined to gamble on baseball hunches instead of investing wisely in parimutuel tickets and inside straight, I'd dedicate a couple of quarters to the gilded proposition that Johnny Vander Meer of Cincinnati will finish the 1942 season with one of the best five pitching records in the National league.

Since I'm not so inclined, I'll pass along my calculations for the benefit of the reckless souls in the crowd. I realize there are more angles to pitching than you'll find in a miler box or on a six-cent diamond, but this wager is as safe as a defense bond. The reason is that the war has altered the national machine—but plenty.

The major change involves night games. The majors will play twice their usual number of contests under lights in 1942. A second departure is the reduced supply of balls. Ordinarily a ball is tossed out as soon as it is scratched. This is more serious than the gasoline and the schurchnob.

Both switches will aid pitchers, particularly speed artists like Vander Meer. The pitcher always has had a slight advantage over the batter at night. He holds a similar fractional edge over the batter when he is permitted to throw a ball that has been dirtied or cuffed about. He can get a better grip and his offerings are harder to see.

Vander Meer should benefit tremendously because he depends mainly on speed. His theory of delivery is simple. He leans back, snaps his arm and fires the ball past the man with the stick. When he has control, he can't be touched. He proved this twice in 1939 when within five days he pitched two no-hit mazes.

John was a very good pitcher in 1939, before he went into his slump and back to the bushes. But he has come back nicely and I, for one, think he was a better workman in 1941 than he was in his first big year. He won more games than struck out more men and he compiled a lower earned run average. The figures, respectively, 16, 203 and 2.83—and they are excellent.

At 203, Vander Meer had the best strikeout average in baseball. And 16 games was plenty to win for a weak offensive unit like the Reds. This year he thinks he will do better and Manager Bill McKechnie agrees. Two of the reasons, unofficial ones of course, are the extra number of night games he can work and the spots the batters will see when he serves up a dirty ball.

A few days ago I asked him what it was that made him a good night pitcher. He answered that question without even considering it. A knock of tossing them fast and tossing them low, he said. Speed and a low trajectory make the ball hard to see and when it is hard to see it is hard to hit.

"Of course some boys can knock anything off," he grinned. "Dolph year they will be used until they Camilla is like that. He tees 'em over the fence no matter if they are high or low, soft or slow, inside or out. But most batters can't do their best against a ball that is fast and low. They have a job finding it at night."

John is confident as he goes into what is his crucial season, and rightly so. He is in excellent condition, he has regained his control and he has plenty of fire on the seams. There has been some talk that he is 27 now and not getting any younger. That makes much less difference to a pitcher than you think. Just check the records.

Johnny's mate, Paul Derringer, had his best year at 33. Tommy Bridges didn't start going until he was 29. Johnny Allen was sharp at 31 and Carl Hubbell at 30. Look at Thornton Lee, who was 34 last year, or Bob Newsum, who blossomed out at 32, or best check Lefty Grove. Old Man Mose didn't get rolling until he passed 20, but, wow!

"The bet is yours, brother. Just remember who tipped you."

Funds Flow in to Aid Fight on Paralysis

Receipts from south central Idaho high schools have topped all other districts in the fight against infantile-paralysis, according to early funds.

Today, over $70 had been received from schools which donated part of the funds from one basketball game to help in the battle.

However, most other sectors have not yet fully reported and there may be considerable funds turned in from other sectors before the campaign closes.

Hazelton Leads
Biggest single assistance came from the little town of Hazelton, where a band concert and program was staged. The full receipts of this event were divided between the Red Cross and the fight infantile-paralysis campaign, with the split amounting to $13.62.

Second largest contribution came from another small city—Sugar City, north of Rexburg, Ida., up past Idaho Falls toward Yellowstone park. This school turned over $12.82—net receipts of a game staged for the fund.

Other contributions received to date:

Gooding grade school $310, Bliss $147, Allion $1, Jerome $1, Duoio $0 cents, Shoshone $1.00, Wendell $4, Hansen $2.43, Heyburn 65 cents, Twin Falls $3.15, Buhl $2.97, Rupert $3, Gooding high school $3.20, Hargerman $2.40, Carey $1.50, Burley $6.20, Richfield $2.50, Murtaugh $1, Oakley $2.50.

Oil Tanker Sinkings May Force Rationing in East

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (Special) - The continued sinkings of tankers by enemy submarines off the Atlantic coast may force the curtailment of petroleum consumption along the eastern seaboard, it was believed today.

The 8,403-ton Socoyo-Vacuum tanker China Arrow, which the navy announced yesterday had been torpedoed and sunk 100 miles off the coast last Thursday, was the ninth tanker victim of the U-boat warfare which began Jan. 14.

Six other vessels are known to have been attacked in American waters and six other sinkings - presumably off Canada - have been revealed by the landing of survivors at an eastern Canadian port. In all, 21 ships are known to have been attacked in the north Atlantic since Jan. 13, and only one made port.

Oil dealers here acknowledged that the heavy toll of tankers would "cause a tightening situation" in the industry along the eastern seaboard. One company spokesman estimated that at least 90,000 tons of oil had been lost by submarine attacks. Such a loss, he said, would have a "grave effect" on the east's oil supply and might force curtailment of consumption.

Urge Rail Use
The government has suggested that oil distributors use railroads as much as possible to ease the demand for tankers. This also would remove the possibility of loss of cargo to enemy submarines.

The navy has indicated progress in its counter-attacks against the U-boat marauders, and has asserted that some would "not enjoy the return trip." There has been no announcement of the exact number of submarines destroyed, however.

The entire crew of the China Arrow, which was the victim of a bold daylight attack at 11:15 a. m. last Thursday, arrived yesterday at Lewes, Del. Only four seamen were injured sufficiently to require hospitalization.

Capt. Paul Hoffman Browne, 48, of West New Brighton, Staten Island, N. Y., said his ship was torpedoed without warning and then shelled 15 times by a U-boat which came to the surface 500 yards away and stood by until the crew pulled away in three lifeboats.

Browne and his radio operator, Kenneth W. Maynard, 29, of Belknap, Wash., remained aboard for 45 minutes after the first torpedo struck the China Arrow's engine room, hoping help would come. Maynard, whose radio equipment was destroyed by the first explosion, which was followed by fire, rigged emergency equipment and sent calls for help. He said he withheld the

FIVE FARM LOAN GROUPS TO MEET

Plans had been completed today for the annual meeting of the Twin Falls, Kimberly and Hollister national farm loan association in Twin Falls on Tuesday, Feb. 10, and for the annual meeting of the Buhl and Castleford groups in Buhl on Wednesday, Feb. 11. J. W. McDowell, secretary-treasurer, said this afternoon.

Attendance at the Twin Falls session is expected to reach 250 while number expected to attend the Buhl meeting was placed at 150.

Locations

Business sessions for the Twin Falls meeting will be at the Methodist church, while complimentary luncheon will be served by ladies of the Methodist church in the church basement at noon. At Buhl the meeting place will be the I.O.O.F. hall. Both the local and Buhl sessions will start at 10 a. m.

Principal speaker at both meetings will be R. B. Tootell, supervisor of the association service department of the federal land bank, Spokane.

A short talk will also be given by County Agent Bert Holmboe and in Twin Falls readings will be given by Mrs. J. M. Pierce, route one. Reports of the board of directors and also the secretary-manager's report will be heard in both instances.

The Twin Falls unit will elect one director during the afternoon, the Kimberly unit four directors and the Hollister unit two directors. Buhl and Castleford will each elect one director.

Terms Expire

Director whose term expires in the Twin Falls unit is F. W. Neale, while Kimberly will elect directors to succeed N. A. Olsen, the late Oren Dolan and also C. Bruce Requa and W. M. Van Houten. Hollister will elect to fill the expired term of P. C. Hills and the unexpired term of Wesley J. Wohlhaib, who paid off his loan in full.

In Buhl the election will name a successor to S. C. Orr and for the Buhl unit and John Meyer, st. for the Castleford unit.

W.S.C.S. Circles Elect Officers

GOODING, Feb. 9 (Special)—Women's Society of Christian Service met in two circle groups Wednesday afternoon for the first circle meetings of the year. Each circle held election of officers and year books for the W.S.C.S. were distributed.

West circle met at the home of Mrs. Harold Brown with Mrs. Fred Hendricksen, Mrs. B. M. Coolidge and Mrs. Otto Joslin, assistant hostesses. Mrs. Erle Whippley, retiring chairman conducted the meeting. Mrs. Earl Schreiber was chosen chairman and Mrs. C. A. Reynolds, vice chairman. The circle voted for the vice-chairman to keep the records.

Mrs. Blythe Clemons led the lesson study and Mrs. Ray Stone the devotional period. Material for quilt blocks was given out to the members. These blocks will be made into quilts for the Red Cross.

East circle met at the home of Mrs. J. W. Proctor with Mrs. T. E. Bennett, Mrs. Marlan Potte, Mrs. Alice Reynolds and Mrs. W. A. Hurdolph, assisting. Mrs. William Hudson, vice-chairman presided for the meeting. Mrs. W. D. Teller was elected chairman; Mrs. M. F. Ryan, vice chairman and Mrs. Jim Boyer, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Teller led the lesson study and the devotions.

O. E. S. Cosmopolitan Chapter Has Dinner

GOODING, Feb. 9 (Special)—Cosmopolitan chapter O. E. S. met Tuesday evening following the dinner served at 6:30 p. m. by Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sullivan and their committee. Table decorations carried out a Valentine theme.

Mrs. J. H. Cromwell, worthy matron presided for the regular monthly chapter session. The treasurer reported the purchase of six defense bonds; the worthy matron announced the Past Matrons and Past Patrons would be honor guests at the March meeting.

Visitors included Mrs. Grace Weber, a past matron; Mrs. Emily Whitbread, Mrs. Pauline Tischer, Mrs. Divilissa and Mrs. Edith Nelson.

HANSEN

Following a two weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Durk, and other relatives about Hansen, Mrs. Carrie Stimpson, Boise, left Friday for an extended stay with friends at Denver, Colo.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Ray, who have been living in the Hillgas house in town, have completed their move to the Goller farm, south of Hansen, which they purchased last fall. Mr. Ray has been ditch rider for Hansen for a number of years. The Gollers moved last week to their new farm near Wendell.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Prior were hosts to the 12 members of the Tuesday Evening Bridge club. Honors went to Mrs. Pay Pruhm, Mrs. Max Gally, Tom Gally and Floyd Patterson. The theme of the evening was "A Skating We Will Go," with appropriate decorations.

Mrs. Edgar Swanson and her sister-in-law and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stansley, left Sunday for a visit with relatives in Arizona.

Mrs. Harold Koenig will entertain Sherman circle, Ladies of the G.A.R., Tuesday at her home, where the group will further plans for the patriotic entertainment being staged for the community, Wednesday evening, Feb. 18.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Harmon, are weekend business visitors at Glenns Ferry. Mr. Harmon is night watchman at the diversion canal south of Hansen, and is relieved by his father-in-law, R. W. Higgins in the day watch.

Members of the freshman class are preparing for the "strictly sports" dance Saturday evening, Feb. 14, at the auditorium of the Hansen high school.

Miller Urges Prosecution of Parents Of Children Who Won't Salute Flag

BOISE, Feb. 9 (UP)—Prosecution of parents and guardians of school children who refuse to salute the American flag was suggested today by Attorney General Bert H. Miller.

In a letter to William S. Hawkins, prosecutor for Kootenai county, Miller said parents who teach their children not to salute the flag should be prosecuted for contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Hawkins had informed Miller that several students in his county had refused to salute the flag and their parents were members of a religious sect which opposes participation in flag exercises.

"The trouble with the matter is that if the pupils expelled as a result of convictions impressed upon them by their parents, or otherwise, as a result of such teachings, they are the ones that are penalized and made to suffer, when those directly responsible for inculcating such belief escape the effects thereof without punishment," Miller wrote.

"The question of the refusal of pupils and students to participate in flag exercises and attending ceremonies is a violation of law and carries with it a penalty. If those pupils and students are expelled it places them in such position that they must or may commit all sorts of delinquencies."

Miller said he was suggesting prosecution of parents and guardians "as I think it would be a step in the right direction rather than expelling the pupils for the commission of acts which we have every reason to believe are urged and imposed upon them by their parents."

ALIENS TO MOVE ON WEST COAST
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 9 (UP)—Federal authorities announced today they would start sending out notices by tonight to 10,000 enemy aliens who must move from prohibited zones in California this month.

The removal orders became effective in 69 areas on Feb. 15 and in 28 areas, including the San Francisco waterfront and the Los Angeles shoreline and airport areas, on Feb. 24. It was estimated 10,000 Japanese, German and Italian aliens would be affected by the order forbidding them to live in, work or visit certain zones surrounding defense installations, power plants, bridges, docks, radio stations, airports, lighthouse districts, dams and defense industry plants.

Holy Name Party

JEROME, Feb. 9 (Special)—Holy Name Society of St. Jerome's church, is sponsoring a card party, which will feature both pinocle and bridge, next Wednesday evening, Feb. 11 in Civic club rooms. Refreshments will be served. Committee in charge included Emmett Smith, A. Grosse Rhoad and John Housman.

MEET WILL PLAN MACHINE CLINICS

Plans will be set up in Jerome Wednesday, Feb. 11, to conduct farm machinery clinics in various counties. Milford J. Vaught, chairman of the Idaho state USDA war board, announced here today.

Place of the Jerome session will be the county agent's office at that point and the meeting will get underway at 1 p. m.

Present at the session will be chairmen of the county war boards in this district, county agents, implement dealers, hardware men, blacksmiths, repair men, representatives of electrical repair and appliance shops and also Smith-Hughes instructors.

Discussion leader will be Robert Beresford, professor of agriculture engineering at the University of Idaho, Moscow.

Similar meetings will be held for the districts at Idaho Falls, Feb. 9; Pocatello, Feb. 10; Boise, Feb. 12; Coeur d'Alene, Feb. 17 and Lewiston on Feb. 18.

Idaho Quota for Model Planes Set

BOISE, Feb. 9 (UP)—Idaho's quota for construction of model airplanes for use as aircraft spotters has been set at 2,400. C. E. Roberts, state superintendent of public instruction, announced.

The planes will be built as scale models of those used by axis and allied nations in aerial combat, Roberts said. The models will be used to acquaint army, navy and civilian defense aircraft spotters with characteristics of the various types.

Students in manual arts classes were expected to be asked to build the ships, specifications of which will be mailed by the bureau of aeronautics.

Patriotic Program For Lucerne Club

Buhl, Feb. 9 (Special)—Sixteen members of the Lucerne Social club held their meeting at the home of Mrs. Otto Rine. The lives of George Washington and Abraham Lincoln were discussed by the members. Plans for Red Cross knitting were discussed and also the pot-luck dinner for the husbands to be held at the Lucerne school Feb. 12.

The club members honored Mrs. Thelma Hays with a pink and blue shower. Refreshments were served.

Camp Fire Elects

JEROME, Feb. 9 (Special)—Miss Nora Atwater is new president of the Idaho Camp Fire group, Jerome. Other new officers elected at a recent meeting of the group are Miss Mary Awater, vice-president; Miss Ella Mae Lamm, secretary; Miss Shirley Crouch, treasurer; Miss Beverly Silbaugh, reporter and Miss Leanne Morgan, social chairman.

Women of Moose Aiding Red Cross

Buhl, Feb. 9 (Special)—Women of the Moose held a committee meeting at the home of Mrs. Dick Kreigh with Mrs. John Priluck, Mrs. Raymond Hise and Mrs. Ed Hall, Twin Falls, assisting hostesses. The war relief committee reported 14 knitted garments had been turned in and 12 more were nearly ready. The lesson on the training and care of children was given.

The committee appointed by Mrs. A. J. Finke, Red Cross chairman, Mrs. Cecil Harris, Mrs. Jim Randall, Mrs. Dick Kreigh and Mrs. Vern Kreigh, reported that they had solicited three city streets for the Red Cross war relief drive.

The Local Order of Moose held the officers' meeting at the home of Vern Kreigh and at the conclusion of the meeting joined the women at the Dick Kreigh home for a plate lunch.
