SUPREME COURT KILLS AAA FARM RECOVERY STATUTE

ROOSEVELT OFFERS BUDGET BALANCING 'REGULAR' COSTS

Excludes Needs For Work Relief Plans

Requests Billion For Army And Navy Needs

Sees Revenues Larger, Conditions Improving

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (UP)—President Roosevelt today submitted to congress a balanced budget for regular federal expenditures in the 1937 fiscal year but forecast a work relief deficit of $1,000,000,000 for that period.

Mr. Roosevelt withheld from congress estimates of the size of the work relief appropriation to be sought this spring. He said, only that the appropriation would be "far less" than the $1,880,000,000 which congress grudgingly voted last year.

Revenues Larger
The message forecast the second largest annual revenue in American history, the next fiscal year—$2,854,000,000. Mr. Roosevelt said that income would rise to $1,400,000,000, and receipts over regular expenditures in the 1937 fiscal year—still well below the level of the 1936 fiscal year—will be determined and revenue in excess of $1,000,000,000.

This budget showed that even depression rates will more than double the national debt from $1,000,000,000 in 1935 to $2,000,000,000 in 1937. Mr. Roosevelt forecast that the 1937 fiscal year will be the first in which the government will have a surplus of $1,000,000,000.

SWEEPING VERDICT OUTLAWS PROGRAM

They Upset New Deal's Farm Recovery Program

Sweeping reversal of the New Deal's program for aiding agriculture was returned today by the nine supreme court justices shown here. The verdict was termed the most important in political significance since the Civil War, and outlawed the AAA act with the crop production control and the processing taxes that brought cash benefit payments to farmers. Seated, left to right, Justices Brandeis, Van Devanter, Hughes, McReynolds and Sutherland. Standing, left to right, Justices Butler, Stone, Roberts and Cardozo.

Heiress to Sue Mother For Sterilization Plot

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 6 (UP)—Attorney Russell P. Taylor announced today that Ann Cooper Hewitt, supposedly one of the nation's wealthiest heiresses, instructed him to file suit in San Francisco seeking $500,000 damages against her mother and two prominent San Francisco surgeons charging them with conspiracy to deprive her of her motherhood.

The suit, which was filed in the name of the late Peter Cooper Hewitt, of New York, noted inventor.

Will file today.

"I will file this suit today," Taylor said. "It will be against Miss Hewitt's mother, Mrs. M. O. Bruggier-Dunning-Hewitt, Dr. E. J. Bruggier-Dunning-Hewitt, Dr. E. J. Bruggier-Dunning-Hewitt, and Dr. Tilton B. Tilton and Samuel C. Boyd."

Dr. Boyd told the United Press and the San Francisco News that he had assisted Miss Hewitt, "but it was at the request of the girl's mother because the girl was feeble-minded."

Boyd said Mrs. Cooper Hewitt wanted the operation performed "not because she was feeble-minded, but because she was afraid that her mental condition would lead her into moral difficulties."

Tilton, who described himself as a childhood friend of Mrs. Hewitt, said he was present during the operation but took no active part in it.

McNary Plans Drive For Three-Way Program

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (UP)—President Roosevelt received news from McNary that the supreme court had invalidated his farm program while legislation is expected to result from the supreme court act to control program today which outlawed the agricultural adjustment administration.

News of the President's first reaction was given by Secretary of War George H. Dern, who was with Mr. Roosevelt.

"He just told the sheet of paper in front of him on his desk and smiled," Dern said. "Earlier the White House had announced that the President had 'no comment.'"

G. O. P. Gratified

Word of the court's adverse decision spread rapidly through the capital, with Republicans in congress generally indicating gratification and Democrats cautious in their comment.

Democratic leaders, retaining from commenting until they had had an opportunity to study the decision, indicated they believed it would not be difficult to remedy the situation.

Republican Leader Charles McNary of Oregon announced he would introduce his three-way farm program as a substitute for the AAA. It provides for export subsidies, stabilization, and domestic allotment plan.

"If the AAA is dead, it's dead," McNary said, "and something will have to be done about it."

The decision was not unexpected, McNary said, and Vice President John N. Garner.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (UP)—New taxes and new crop control legislation are expected to result from the supreme court act to control program today which outlawed the agricultural adjustment administration.

Process Tax and Crop Regulation Decreed Invalid

Opinion Declares Act Exceeds U. S. Powers

Justices Divide, 6-3, in Ruling Measure Invades State Rights

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (UP)—The supreme court today struck down the New Deal's farm recovery program provided for in the AAA by holding the law an unconstitutional attempt to control production.

The court divided 6 to 3. The decision was rendered with an opinion so sweeping as to make reenactment of any similar measure seem impossible without constitutional amendment—a long and difficult task.

Striking at the very heart of the law, the decision held that control of crop production even by such agreements and the payment of bounties exceeded the limitations placed on the power of the federal government.

A stunning blow at what the New Deal considers its outstanding recovery achievement, the decision left officials at least momentarily uncertain as to their immediate course.

The decision was in such force that it left no doubt that the banished crop control would also be declared invalid.

It also appeared definitely to scrap the Kerr-Smith tobacco act and the potato control law.

The decision served to strike down processing taxes on wheat, cotton, corn, hops, beans and sugar cane, paper, peanuts and rice, as well as cotton, wool, and other commodities.

The decision was considered the most important in political significance since the Civil War.

Briefs and arguments submitted during consideration of the case showed the deepest cleavage between the insistent advocates of farm defense and A. A. A.

Political Issue

Reverberations over the court decision were expected to sound through the coming political campaigns.

The issue of a constitutional amendment was regarded as an almost inevitable outcome. Beyond the exact form it would take was uncertain.

WOMAN HELD IN BABY DROWNING

Cham Police Believe Former Inmate of Asylum Pushed
Infant Into River

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (U.P.)—Gussie Horowitz, 36, a woman who was held in an asylum for 10 years, was held today under suspicion of drowning a 10-month-old infant.

The missing baby, Jacob Horowitz, was kidnapped in his home, a block from the waterfront, on an east-side tenement. More than 400 policemen and thousands of neighborhood residents searched the district all last night.

Police believed Gussie pushed the Horowitz baby, asleep in a carriage, into the East river.

Her second infant—suspector faltered on her defense she had been found, less than an hour after little Jacob disappeared, wheeling another infant with frenzied speed toward the river. Four high school boys hunting Gussie stopped her.

That a block from the waterfront, Gussie surrendered the child, Doris Maslin, 2, without a struggle. "You can have the boy," she screamed at the boys, and then laughed.

Jacob, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Horowitz, was left in his perambulator on a sidewalk while his parents went into an apartment to visit friends. They left another son, Seymour, 4, playing at the river's edge but never took a chance to watch other boys at play.

Baby Gussie—Ten minutes or so later Mrs. Horowitz, who is 38, came from her friends' house to look after Jacob and Seymour. The baby and his carriage were gone.

When Gussie Friedman was found police questioned her in Yiddish, English and Hungarian. She answered everything with wild laughter or senselessly.

Republicans Select Moscow and Focastello as Bids for 1936 State Conventions

Leaders of Twin Falls county and state Republicans are home from a meeting of the state central committee conducted over the week-end in Boise, where it was voted to hold the state delegate convention of the party in Moscow Saturday, May 9, and the platform convention at Focastello Aug. 1.

Those from here at the session included R. C. Perry, state chairman, who announced he would not seek reelection at the convention next fall. Mrs. Emma Clouch, a national committeewoman, and Miss Isabella McCoy, chairman of the Republican Women's league of Washington county.

At the Moscow meeting delegates to the national convention will be chosen. The former delegation numbered 17. National convention will be in Cleveland June 3.

The meeting authorized the naming of a committee headed by Edwin R. Rockwell, Bellevue, which submitted a resolution endorsing the candidacy of Sen. William E. Borah for the presidency.

"Missions in the Air" which is now playing at the Idaho. The cast includes John Howard and Maude Warren, and William Howard, Benny Baker, Robert Cummings, Eleanor Whitney, and George Raft.

NEW CORN ENDS RAIDS OF BORER

Golden Bantam Variety That Is Distasteful to Worms Is Developed

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UP)—A new variety of Golden Bantam corn, so distasteful to the destructive European corn borer that it would rather starve than eat it, has been developed at Michigan State College's experimental station here.

Its development, and the fact that it is not a new variety, were disclosed at the recent convention of the Michigan Vegetable Growers' association at Grand Rapids, by Prof. C. H. Mahoney.

"We have been working on this new corn for six years," Mahoney, college vegetable specialist, said. "We have placed as high as 80 borer eggs on each plant. As the eggs hatch the larvae crawl off the leaves and starve to death searching for edible corn."

"Distasteful Element Mystery" "We don't know exactly why the borers won't eat this corn, but we do know there is something distasteful about it."

The new corn is a cross between the European corn borer and a South American field corn known as the Maine Anjou. Mahoney said, adding that it is believed the South American variety has provided the quality in the blood which the borer finds unpalatable.

"The new variety, however, is an sweet if not sweeter than Golden Bantam," Mahoney added. "The destruction."

MYSTERY CLOAKS DOCTOR'S KILLING

CHICAGO, Jan. 6 (UP)—Mystery surrounding the brutal murder of Dr. Silas C. Peacock, prominent "child specialist," began yesterday to be cleared up.

Peacock, 41, a chiropractor, was shot in the back by a man who identified himself as "Doc" Thompson. Thompson, 41, a chiropractor, was shot in the back by a man who identified himself as "Doc" Thompson.

Thompson admitted he was intensely jealous of a "Doc" Peacock, whom he believed to be associating with his estranged wife, Adeline Johnson Thompson.

He also admitted to visiting Peacock last October and was forcibly ejected from the doctor's office when he accused the doctor of paying attention to Mrs. Thompson.

RAFT-BENNETT STAR IN ROXY'S FUN TALE

George Raft and Joan Bennett starred in the new comedy "The Boatniks" at the Roxy today.

Headed by the stellar pair and cast with a long list of excellent players, the picture is a rollicking tale of an ex-convict who undertakes to manage the affairs of a society prominent.

Under the direction of the writer-director, Raft and Bennett give a performance that is both amusing and entertaining.

SOME FEATURES ... Of Federal Savings and Loan Associations Which Make Their Services to The Public OUTSTANDING:

A Federal Savings and Loan Association is a locally owned and locally managed mutual, thrift and home-financing institution. It is chartered by the Federal Government under an Act of Congress approved June 13, 1933. These associations are specifically of a private nature operating under Government charter, subject to supervision by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. They are subject to Federal rules and regulations pertaining to Loans, Policies, Investment Safeguards, Repurchase Privileges, Insurance of Accounts, etc.

The primary purpose of such an association is to serve its own community in both the savings and borrowing features of its operation.

Some of the features which make this new type of financial institution outstanding in the field of home financing are:

Four different plans of investment designed to meet the requirements of every investor, large or small.

Bonus paid to investors on long-term systematic investment.

Uniformity in by-laws, accounting system type of loan and general plan of operations.

Mandatory insurance of investor's accounts up to a maximum of $5,000 each by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation.

A flexible provision for repurchase of investors' share accounts by the association.

Automatic membership of all Federal Associations in the Federal Home Loan System, with access to its credit reserve resources.

A direct reduction type of loan whereby interest is paid by the borrower only upon the disappearing balance of the principal month by month.

Restrictions of loaning operations primarily to the territory adjacent to the office of the Association.

Provision that no loan can be made in excess of $20,000.

A flexible provision for repayment of mortgages over a period of five to twenty years.

Exemptions of Federal Savings and Loan Associations from any taxes (except surtaxes, estate, inheritance and gift taxes) which may now or hereafter be imposed by the Federal Government or any State Government.

Combination of Federal supervision with private local management which is making possible the establishment of a unified national home financing system based upon the highest ethics.

STATIC SHOCKS TUNNEL DRIVERS

BOSTON (UP)—Motorists passing through a tunnel under the city of Boston yesterday were shocked recently.

The shock was caused by a large amount of automobile that reacted as a Leyden jar in storing static electricity. Thus, when the motorists touched the hand of the toll collector in passing a coin, it caused a static and both felt the shock.

Now, motorists have been informed with rubber-soled shoes and there have been no more shocking experiences.

SLUMP FROM '33

Emergency Expenditures Drop Despite Gain in General U. S. Outlay

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP)—The federal government's past emergency recovery and relief expenditures have shown a substantial slump from the 1933 peak, Treasury's annual report, covering the 1935 fiscal year, showed today. They year 1935, however, showed a decrease in emergency expenditures of $7,376,800,000, a gain of $270,800,000 over expenditures of $2,145,000,000 in the preceding year.

Total recovery and relief expenditures, aggregated in the government's accounts, showed a decline to $4,420,200,000 in the 1935 fiscal year from $4,820,000,000 in the previous year, a decrease of $341,000,000.

Low Than 1934—Since June 30, 1935, recovery and relief expenditures have continued to run below the corresponding figures for the same period of the previous year. Between July 1, 1935, and Jan. 2, 1936, total emergency expenditures were $3,014,190,415, of which $1,094,126,700 went for relief and recovery, compared with total expenditures of $3,038,749,010, of which $1,124,000,000 went for relief and recovery.

The previous fiscal year, 1934-35, showed a record for emergency expenditures, which was attributed to the high unemployment rate at the end of the fiscal year of 1934, when the unemployment rate was 24.9 per cent.

The report also shows that the public debt to $18,700,899,624 at June 30, 1935, a decrease of $1,000,000,000 from the $19,700,899,624 at June 30, 1934.

BALANCE SEEN IN DAIRY FORECAST

Good and Bad Factors About Evenly Distributed, Say Moscow Experts

MOSCOW (Special)—Favorable and unfavorable elements are about evenly distributed in the outlook for the dairy industry in 1936, it is indicated by the University of Idaho department of agricultural economics.

Although the outlook for the number of milk cows in the country for the next two years, milk production in 1936 is expected to be about four to five per cent greater than in 1935, due to more liberal feeding.

It is estimated that total supply of dairy products this winter will be heavier than last winter. Storage stocks on hand October 1 were 18 per cent larger than a year earlier and 28 per cent above the five-year average for that date.

With improvement in business conditions and employment, the consumption of fluid milk again should show an upward trend, the outlook men believe. This trend may offset the present heavy production of cheese and evaporated milk, both of which are heavily stocked in storage.

Shortage prices in 1935 are expected to average considerably higher in relation to feed prices than they have averaged during 1934.

BIGGEST LIAR

Champion of all three and a proof of it is the man shown here after he had won the championship of the world in the game of lying. He is a man of many talents and is a great liar.

JAPAN'S EXPORTS

SHOW INCREASES

Favorable Trade Balance For First Time in 18 Years Achieved

TOKIO (AP)—Japan pushed forward an active and diversified export business all over the world during 1935, and succeeded in attaining a favorable trade balance for the first time in 18 years.

Exports of commercial goods with transportation and other important trading nations symbolized the growing prestige of the Japanese economy. Japan's exports in the same time as her commercial and private "business" were up 10 per cent over the corresponding period of 1934.

In the first 11 months of the year Japan's exports of goods over seas amounted to $1,000,000,000, against an unfavorable balance in the corresponding period of 1934 of $7,000,000,000. This was the first favorable balance since 1917.

During the year she received economic missions from Germany, China and the United States to visit Japan and to study the Japanese economy.

Here's Swift and Direct Action to Relieve That Cold

External treatment helps and relieves colds without taking of "Constant" Dosing.

JUST RUB IT ON AT BEDTIME

Two generations of mothers have proved VapoRub the most effective treatment for colds and flu. It is external and safe. It uses avoids the risks of constant internal dosing, which so often upsets digestion and irritates the throat. VapoRub starts to work immediately—two ways at once.

1. By stimulation through the skin, like a poultice or plaster. 2. By inhalation of the penetrating medicated vapors, released by body heat and absorbed in direct to inflamed air passages.

Continued through the night, this powerful poultice and vapor action loosens phlegm—relieves related members—eases difficulty breathing—helps break congestion.

A Practical Guide for Mothers Each year, more and more mothers are being helped to relieve colds and aches and pains by VapoRub. VapoRub has been clinically tested by practicing physicians and further proved in everyday home use by millions. Full details of the Plan in each package of VapoRub.
