Prisoner, Eye Blackened And Nose Swollen, Blames Ghost But Won't Amplify

(Continued from Page One) The trial, Van Vlack said that he didn't know anything about criminal procedure before the trial began and he wasn't able to pass judgment on it. He thought that Leo Trott and Raymond A. Johnson, had given him a satisfactory showing in court.

Some of the witnesses had expected the case to be not only the others, like Mrs. Barbara, surprised me. That's what I'm saying. There were many times when I was the only one in the courtroom who could tell the truth and not get into any trouble.

Larson said that the defense is now 90 days in which to prepare an appeal. It will take from 30 to 60 days to get a writ of habeas corpus and the re-examination of the jurors.

A copy of the transcript will be sent to the state attorney. If either side believes there are any mistakes, then it may be set for the setting of the transcript in the district court. The court records, from information to the judgment, will be filed with the clerk of the supreme court.

Within 60 days after the transcript is prepared it is up and set for the appeal and the state attorney. The appeal automatically takes execution in capital punishment cases. There are two procedures in appeal. Larson said that a motion for a new trial. The latter, a direct appeal, is the one which will be used.

The court may either rule for reversal of the findings of the district court and recommend a new trial or set aside the death penalty in favor of a life term in prison or place the defendant in an insane asylum.

Sheffert E. Pratt, Twin Falls, father of the condemned man, met the attorney with a bottle of whisky when he came to ask permission to see the prisoner. He told Larson he was sure why he had such a man, guilty of such murder. Larson replied that the circumstances around the case made Van Vlack different from a deliberate, cold killer.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hook left yesterday for a visit in Salt Lake City. Parents Leave Leaving here also yesterday were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Van Vlack, and their two children. They returned to their home in Tacoma by auto, after deciding not to await the next court appearance of the defendant. The 2 p. m. when he is scheduled to be sentenced to death by Judge A. H. Barclay.

(Continued from Page One) was just a family matter between these young people and they were going out into the country to settle their differences and would be back in eight or nine days.

"When I told him I had a witness to the fact that Van Vlack had taken her at the point of a gun, Dennis replied that no jury in the world could ever be convinced that his friend was not his willingly. The witness to the conversation was Mrs. Jesse Jones, wife of the late state representative, Jesse Jones.

Dennis gave me no answer to leave those people alone as a family squabble. When told to connect the Van Vlack defense trial. Dennis refused to do so. On Monday morning at 9 o'clock I went to the federal building, Tacoma, with my daughter's lawyer, and again demanded government aid to the master. Again Dennis refused and on the same grounds as before, that it was just a family matter and that it was a violation of the Mann act, we were informed that before the federal government did anything about it, we would have to prove that Van Vlack took Mildred Hook across the border for immoral purposes.

Then we were told that government men would assist the state in trying to apprehend Van Vlack. The record of the case proves that government men, looking for a man who is sentenced to death for the murder of my daughter.

PITTMAN LASHES JAPANESE POLICY

Denounces Program in China as Threat to Open Door and U. S.

(Continued from Page One) "Congress will not be bulldozed into the abandonment of our national interests, the protection of our legitimate foreign trade or our commerce with China." Blames Propagandists are apparently attempting to influence the public opinion of people in this country through deceptive articles and threats of war, with the obvious purpose of having public sentiment restrain the proper action of our government.

Pittman, who aroused a furor last fall by a speech in which he was quoted as forecasting war between Japan and the United States, said there was a policy of denunciation against Japan and the Monroe doctrine.

He referred to a speech by Saltonstall in which he had implied that the United States was in a position to take any action it sees fit, voluntarily or on behalf of its citizens. "Such doctrine may have similarity as to the threat implied against foreign conquest," he said, "but under the Monroe doctrine we did not arrogate to ourselves the right of conquest or domination in the Americas."

"We were seeking to preserve the republic of Latin America, not to destroy them." Turning to pending neutrality legislation Pittman said: "The United States does not intend to surrender the freedom of the seas and recognize no jurisdiction."

THE MAN FROM THE CARNIVAL

THAT COLT, OVER THERE, WAS PICKED UP ON THE STREET THE OTHER DAY, AFTER RAISING CAIN WITH EVERYTHING THAT GOT IN HIS WAY!!

I'M AFRAID HE'S TOO SMALL—HE COULDN'T STAND THE GAFF!

WHAT DO YOU WANT HIM FOR?

A CARNIVAL! WE OFFER PRIZES TO PEOPLE WHO CAN RIDE OUR BUCKERS, FOR TWO MINUTES, AND WE CAN'T TAKE THE CHANCES ON GOING BROKE, RAYING OFF!

WELL, THAT COLT'S NAME IS DYNAMITE, AND HE LIVES UP TO IT! YOU'RE AN EX-JOCKEY, BUT IF YOU CAN STAY ABOARD HIS HORROR-HORROR DECK, I'LL GIVE HIM TO YOU!

ACCORDING TO HORSEMEN, THERE ARE EIGHTEEN TRICKS A HORSE HAS FOR TOSSENG YOU— THAT BLASTED COLT KNOWS NINETEEN OF THEM!!
