MADE NO STUDY INTO ECONOMICS, CLEMENTS SAYS

Resigned Secretary and Brains of Townsend Plan Called as First Witness

TELLS OF PLAN'S START

Declares Founder Approached
Him First in October and November, 1933

By MACK JOHNSON
WASHINGTON, March 26 (UP)—Robert H. Clements, resigned national secretary and business brains of the Townsend old-age pension organization, told a congressional committee today that he had never made any "fundamental study of economics" in connection with the $200-a-month pension plan.

"Do you know the difference between 'economy' and political economy?" asked Committee Counsel James R. Sullivan. "I don't know that I do," Clements replied.

The resigned secretary was the first witness at a politically significant investigation into old-age pension movements designed to reveal the "inside story" of the Townsend and other plans.

Leaving forward on the committee table and clapping and unclapping his hands as he testified, Clements said that he had not made a detailed study of the Townsend plan and of opinions of economists. He added that he had read treatises on the ability of the nation to produce and consume, but admitted that he had never studied any textbooks on economics or taxation before the Townsend plan's conception.

Followed statistics. He had followed statistics and had made a diligent study of rates on transactions taxes, he said, but never made a study of the Townsend plan.

NEW FLOOD CREST MENACES WHEELING AND COMMUNITIES OF UPPER OHIO RIVER AREA

Nazis Unleash Flood Of Ballot Propaganda

By EDWARD W. BEATTIE
(Copyright, 1936, United Press)

BERLIN, March 26 (UP)—Election propaganda was dinned into the ears of Germany's 67,000,000 people unceasingly today, it started at them from windows of shop and home, replaced the news in their newspapers—all but formed the words "vote yes" in their alphabet soup.

It was the beginning of the climatic stage of the campaign for Sunday's election, nominally one to name a new Reichstag but actually intended to show the world that Germany is united behind Adolf Hitler.

Every locomotive in the country was garlanded with flowers, smeared with Nazi insignia in red and black, and with streamers bearing slogans such as "Germany's garlands are garlands of peace," "Hitler brings peace and work," "Then give Hitler your vote." Orators shouted defiance to the world.

At 10 o'clock, smoking was strictly a man's prerogative, the nationalist recalled. "No woman was to be seen in the streets," he said. "The women were to be seen in the streets, but only in the streets."

When Fuehrer Hitler speaks at Leipzig tonight, theatrical performances—even the opera—will be interrupted so that he may be heard. When he speaks, his final speech Saturday at Leipzig, men, women and children all over the country will sing the "thanking" hymn.

Every election carries new pictures of Hitler. "The workman's friend," "Hitler brings peace and work," "Then give Hitler your vote." Orators shouted defiance to the world.

PITTSBURGH MENACE
TEMPORARILY ENDED

By United Press

Wheeling, W. Va., March 26.—Other communities of the upper Ohio valley were unharmed by a major flood crest today, while cities of the lower valley anticipated a heavier river level.

Hundreds of refugees from last week's devastating floods fled from their homes again in the Wheeling district where the river, already above flood stage, was rising steadily.

The Monongahela and Allegheny rivers were receding at Pittsburgh, ending, for the time, a new flood threat there. The river Ohio halted.

Intense suffering from the flood crest that wrecked many communities of the upper valley last week continued in the town of Covington, Ky., where a new flood threat there.

MUSIC FESTIVAL PLANS SPEEDING

Outdoor Marching and Concert Already on Tentative Program

Plans for the district music festival to be held here April 17 and 18 are proceeding rapidly under the direction of V. L. Luba, P. E. general chairman, and Vincent C. H. Hoop, of the Twin Falls high school.

Present arrangements include plans for four divisions using the schools—elementary, A. B. C. and D. A system of judging similar to the one used last year will grade the entrants in each division. Tentative features for the year's festival include an outdoor march, a concert of outstanding numbers, selected by judges, the following night. Instrumental groups and vocal groups will be outstanding musical features. Probably the most important musical feature will be the school bands.

In addition to the high school, several churches will probably be used as contest halls.

U. S. DRIVE SEEKS NEW FARM HELP

Program Underway to Secure
Scientific Outlets for Surpluses

SAN FRANCISCO (U.P.)—Scrapping of the AAA has led California industrialists, economists, scientists and farm leaders to launch a nationwide movement for complete rehabilitation of American farming through normal scientific and economic channels.

At the basis of the movement will be two fundamental principles: Development of non-food outlets for agricultural products. Utilization of all farm waste products.

In California alone, backers of the movement declare, a new income of $26,000,000 annually is possible for the farmer through proper utilization of the waste materials of California vegetables alone.

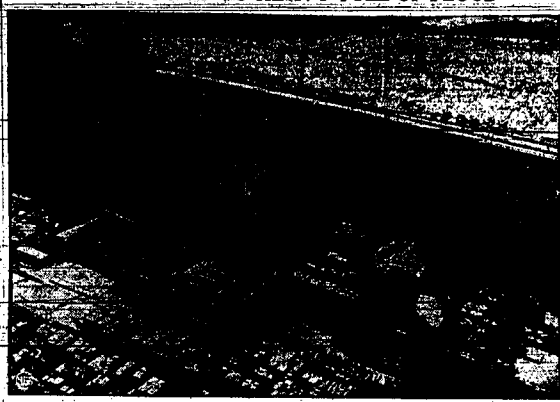

At the preliminary meeting of backers of the new movement, steps were taken for a far western states conference on the subject to be held at Fresno, Calif., this week. From this regional meeting, it is hoped the movement can be launched on a nationwide basis.

Aided by Chemists
The fundamental program for the new drive for the re-establishment of American agriculture as a profitable industry had its origin last May at Dearborn, Mich., when the Farm Chemurgic council was organized under the sponsorship of the Chemical Foundation.

Carl B. Fritzsche, of the Farm Chemurgic council, will preside at the Fresno meeting. He will have the help of Dr. Robert A. Millikan, of the California Institute of Technology and Dean Hutchinson, of the University of California college of agriculture.

Use of Surplus
The underlying principles of the program by purely scientific, economic and industrial methods instead of by statutory regulation are embodied in the following program: Gradual absorption of much of the domestic farm surplus by domestic industry.

FLAMES ADD TO HEAVY TOLL OF FLOOD

As waters of the Allegheny river mounted to record depths, submerging houses and factories along its banks, this six-alarm fire raged in the two-block-long plant of the Waverly Oil company, five miles from downtown Pittsburgh, in the Elm district. Smoke is seen rolling up in tremendous billows, following blast after blast of oil drums. Streams of water are shown being played on the flames, as firemen battled waist deep in water, to quell the blaze. Across the stream the water is shown barely below the level of the highway between the river and the high bank beyond.

Profitable utilization of idle acres. Increase of the purchasing power of the American farmer on a stable and more permanent basis.

Complementary increase in the demand for manufactured products.

Ultimate creation of new work for idle hands, revival of American industry, restoration of American fiber to productive enterprise and relieving of economic distress of the nation.

Urges New Approach.

"We must get rid of the idea," declared Fritzsche, "that there are no new frontiers to conquer and of the belief that the farm problem can be solved by enacting statutes."

"We feel that we can go a long way toward solving the problem by developing new uses for farm surpluses through the application of the discoveries of science."

The program, according to Dr. Alonzo Taylor, of the Stanford University Food Research Institute and a member of the Western Research council of the Farm Chemurgic council, "is something which economists have been awaiting for years."

Non-Food Outlets.

"It is a question," declared Dr. Taylor, "of directing agricultural surpluses into profitable non-food outlets. The products of American farms are being used less and less proportionately for food and more for the production of goods and services, as the standard of living rises."

Backers of the new movement are confident American inventiveness and initiative will find ways of turning all of the productive possibilities of American farming into a profitable use that will entirely rehabilitate agriculture.

According to Fritzsche, the Farm

Chemurgic council already has a definite program of projects not only for the use of waste farm products but for the non-food absorption of agricultural products in various forms of industry.

For example, Fritzsche points out that the Mississippi valley has demonstrated that the soy bean crop is capable of being utilized in production of an oil used in paints and varnishes.

"Artificial wool," he asserts, can be made from caseln extracted from dry milk. Furfural also is obtainable from the waste hulls of oats and forms a solvent for cellophane, paneling, etc.

.. How it keeps your new car as good as the salesman says

He told you the truth about the fine-fitting parts. It would be hard indeed, to over-praise the precision work in any car today. And from precision comes the power, the smoothness, the quiet that sells you a car.

After that, the "demonstration feel" of your engine is at the mercy of your oil. Of course any oil can promise. But only Germ Processed oil is alloyed.

So what?

Plainly this: Say that your bearings—new type or old—provide two-thousandths of an inch of oil space. Then the usual oil would just fill that space. But Germ Processed oil—different because it's alloyed—will MORE than fill every oil space. Actually, you can have more oil protection than there seems to be room for!

It's far from magic; it's Germ Processing. This patented method alloys this oil so that engine surfaces take it IN. Your engine gets this complete internal "plating" of oil, plus the higher durability of the Germ Processed film. Multi-protection! Real reasons why all the heat, speed, passengers and suitcases that hangings pile on your car, won't hasten its newness away. Real reasons are all we can give you here. Your helpful, responsible, Conoco man can give you Germ Processed oil, the real alloyed oil. Continental Oil Company.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

BUTTERFLIES, DRAGON-FLIES, MAY-FLIES, SAW-FLIES, SCORPION-FLIES, LACE-WINGED FLIES, AND MANY OTHER "FLIES" ARE NOT FLIES AT ALL.

The U.S. COAST GUARD

ANNUALLY SAVES ABOUT $42,000,000 WORTH OF VESSELS AND CARGO... WITH THEIR 20,000 PASSENGERS AND CREWS... AND ACTUALLY PULLS FROM THE WATER ABOUT 3,000 DROWNING PERSONS.

...IN KANSAS...

AGRICULTURAL AUTHORITIES ESTIMATE THE ANNUAL DAMAGE TO ALFALFA CROPS BY ROCKET GOPHERS AT ABOUT $5,000,000.

There can be no exact estimate of the number of persons actually saved from drowning by the United States coast guard, since only a portion of the crew and passengers on distressed ships would have been lost, but, in the last decade, approximately 30,000 persons already in the water have been rescued.

COUNTY HEALTH UNIT EXPLAINED

Nearly Every School District Represented at Meeting; Reports Urged

Practically every school district of the county was represented at a public meeting held in the district court room last evening to consider the possibility of establishing a county health unit through cooperation of the county with state and federal governments.

The proposed set-up was explained by Dr. J. D. Dunstons, state health adviser, and James L. Barnes, Hansen, chairman of the board of county commissioners, and presiding officer at the session. It was estimated that the county and school districts would contribute about $7,000 a year and $12,000 would be furnished by the state and federal governments. All present the county budget has $4,000 available.

All school representatives were urged to bring to the meeting reports of the health conditions in their districts and report to the county commissioners. The meeting was held at the county health unit, Dr. J. D. Dunstons, state health adviser, presiding.

Other physicians introduced at the meeting were Dr. C. D. Walsh, Dr. W. F. Passer and Dr. George C. Halley, formerly the director of Twin Falls county health unit.

APPEAL PLANNED IN LIQUOR CASE

Appeal is to be taken from conviction of Gaby Cobb, found guilty of a jury of six men in district court of H. M. Holler, on misdemeanor charges of illegal sale of intoxicants, according to Cobb's attorney, W. L. Dunn.

The attorney relied upon his conviction that the state liquor control act does not prohibit the sale of state store liquor.

The jury in the case was W. F. Nelson, Lloyd Gilmore, H. L. Dulake, Dr. E. E. Shumway, J. N. Clyde and H. M. Henderson.

Senator Pope Turns Poetic

At the Idaho State Society banquet and dinner in Washington last month, Sen. J. W. Pope, with apologies to Mulhgan, author of "In Kentucky," prepared and read the following poem:

The moonlight falls the softest
In Idaho.
The autumn days come offest
In Idaho.
Friendship is the strongest
In Idaho.
Love's light glows the longest,
Yet, wrong is always wrongest,
In Idaho.
Life's burdens bear the lightest
In Idaho.
The home fires burn the brightest
In Idaho.
While players are the keenest,
Cards come out the meanest,
The pocket empties cleanest
In Idaho.
The sun shines ever brightest
In Idaho.
The air craves ever lightest
In Idaho.
Pain little are the softest,
Their little hearts are the truest,
Maiden's eyes the bluest
In Idaho.
Criticism is the toughest
In Idaho.
Politicians are the toughest
In Idaho.
Political schemes are the vilest,
Politicians' skins are the thickest,
And wits are ever quickest
In Idaho.

Alfalfa waves the bluest
In Idaho.
Men's words are the truest
In Idaho.
Moonshine is the clearest,
Champagne is the dearest,
And yet it acts the queerest
In Idaho.

Potatoes are the finest
In Idaho.
Mountain trout are the gamiest
In Idaho.
The hars are the coldest,
The sun is the warmest,
And have men are the boldest
In Idaho.

Mountains tower proudest
In Idaho.
Prairies ring the loveliest
In Idaho.
The dove notes are the sweetest,
The mountain streams are the purest,
And mountain fawns are the gentlest
In Idaho.

The song birds are the sweetest
In Idaho.
The jackrabbits are the fleetest
In Idaho.
The miners are the surest,
The mountain lakes the purest,
And human hearts are the truest
In Idaho.

Sage brush plains are the wildest
In Idaho.
Mountain tops are the whitest
In Idaho.
The apples are the reddest,
The forecats are the gramest,
And politics—the dimmest
In Idaho.
