FEDERAL AGENTS CURTAIN ON HAMM KIDNAPING

Three Abductors Arrested, Trio
in Prison, Two Dead and—Karpi's Still Free

HOOPER ENDS MYSTERY
G-Man's Leader Tells Facts
of Sensational St. Paul Ransom Case

WASHINGTON, April 18 (UP)— Federal agents today lifted the curtain of mystery from the kidnaping three years ago of William A. Hamm, Jr., with announcement that three alleged abductors had been arrested, three are in prison, two are dead and one—the notorious Alvin Karpis—is still at large.

The Hamm kidnapping case was one of the most sensational in a series of abductions dating from the Lindbergh crime and drawing the federal agents into a nationwide drive to stamp out the racket.
Escaped in Gun Fight Karpi once escaped the agents by a hair's breadth when he shot his way out of an Atlantic City hotel.

"Later, agents arrested 'Doc' Barker and held him in Chicago and later released at on Fred Barker
in Florida.
In a machine gun battle with the outlaw who were hiding out in an isolated house, Fred Barker and his mother, known to gangsters as "Ma Barker, were killed. Mrs. Barker said they found a smoking machine gun in the dead woman's hand when they finally rushed the house.

Hamm was abducted shortly after March 25, 1933, just as he left his home for his job.
Held at Hideout
The hideout in the Tennessee
hideout, held there until June 18
and then released at a point near Wyoming Minn. after an intermediate had made the ransom payments.

J. Edgar Hoover, G-man chief, said today that the case was officially the "Hamm kidnapping."

2-CENT RAILWAY FARES DECREED

I. C. G. Ignores Protest from Eastern Lines, Sets June 2
as Effective Date

WASHINGTON, April 18 (UP)—
Ignoring protests of eastern railroads, the interstate commerce commission today ordered two-cent
passenger fares to take effect June 2 in railroad coaches throughout the nation.

The carriers had asked for an 18-month delay while they experimented with a 3-cent mile fare.

The commission reiterated its order placing the date of the change at June 2, saying that it was a "more assumption" as to the effect of the order—reductions on charges for the complete test of an experimentation, the commission announced.

The test, however, that a test of lower reductions would not be at all conclusive as to the advantage of those which were ordered as is shown by evidence of record in this proceeding. If experimentation is desired, conclusive results can be obtained only by putting to the test the fares which the commission has ordered.

The commission said it was its decision, whereupon the matter was submitted to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Clayton Warner, 45, former boiler

section of the city by three trees which were blown down by the train.

NEW TAX PLANS PUT INTO SHAPE FOR HOUSE VOTE

Committee Majority
Bill Without
Levy Provisions

FALLS SHORT OF GOAL
Measure Decries Tax Against Undistributed Profits
of Corporations

By EDWARD W. LEWIS
(Copyright, 1936, United Press)
WASHINGTON, April 18 (UP)—
The new tax plan for 1936, which was ready for house action next week, democratic members of the house today and means committee voted a secret meeting last night to approve it as drafted by a subcommittee.

Inasmuch as there are 18 Democratic and only seven Republicans on the committee, Democratic approval was tantamount to final committee endorsement, expected tomorrow.

Democratic members admitted
they may fall short of the President's request for $125,000,000 annually for three years and $200,000,000 annually a year thereafter to finance refined and bonus costs.

They will not include new processing taxes spread over about three years, but otherwise cleaves to his main proposals for balancing the budget.

It calls for tax reform in levying a tax on undistributed corporate profits, provides for a "windfall"
to collect unpaid processing taxes and temporarily continues the existing income tax on profits
and capital stock.

Chairman Samuel B. Hill, D.
Wash., of the tax sub-committee, said he was not working to the definite end of balancing the budget but he was hopeful that the committee will approximately balance
the ordinary budget.

Emperor Pleads For League Help MUSSOLINI SEES GREAT TRIUMPH COMING NEAR

By STEWART BROWN
(Copyright, 1936, United Press)

ROME, April 18 (UP)—Premier Benito Mussolini awaited confidently today what he expects to be the greatest triumph of his dramatic career.

He visualized the collapse of Ethiopia, the abdication of Emperor Haile Selassie, the virtual annihilation of a country nearly three times as big as Italy, the humiliation of Great Britain and

Asks Geneva to Aid Ethiopia's Desperate Fight Against Italy

MESSAGE DISCOUNTS
ITALIAN ASSERTIONS

GENEVA, April 18 (UP)—Emperor Haile Selassie telegraphed personally to the League of Nations today, again appealing for aid in his country's extremity.

Rhine is more resolute than any other in the world to repel the unworthy invader of his territory.
He referred to the failure of existing sanctions and said that this long period of waiting, Ethiopia is entitled to ask whether the principle of collective security is not really a dead letter.

Chief League Obligation
Haile Selassie indicated his hope that the league will act in Italy inasmuch as the "covenant" imposes specific obligations on its members. And any aggression established by them against any member.

Refusing upon the covenant, Ethiopia firmly and formally in-voques the right which the covenant confers upon her of appeals to all states which are members of the League to take immediate measures to halt this invasion which is contrary to the covenant and unanimously condemned, the message concluded.

Emperor Haile Selassie's plea for League of Nations help in his country's extremity, it indicated today that Mussolini's confident belief in surrender
and abdication is premature.

Non-Scholarship Army
ADDIS ABABA, April 18 (UP)—
A non-scholarship army, hastily recruited from the city's streets, was marched northward today in an attempt to stem the Italian advance
in a last desperate stand.

Haile Selassie's detachment of taxi cabs was gathered by British troops, mayor of the capital, and other volunteers to assist in the last stand of the city's defenders. The army was trained for six days in French barracks and left the city.

Hitler Holds Key
BERLIN, April 18 (UP)—Hitler today held the key to the peace of Europe and called upon the world to follow his lead.
In Germany as a step towards European good-will.

Hitler's speech before his parliament today, the prime min-store the "solidarity" of Europe.

Europe, pledged Italy that Britain
did not seek its "defeat and humi-

dred Days war, and the failure

California Board Suspends Brubaker, Newest 'White Hope'

DOPING OF HANDS GIVEN AS CAUSE

Drastring Order Hints Smashing Blow at Promising Ring Prospect

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18 (UP)—The California State Athletic commission today delivered a smashing blow to the star aspirations of Phil Brubaker, Dubuque, Calif., heavyweight "white hope," suspending Brubaker, his manager, and two associates indefinitely for allegedly "doping" Phil's hands to ease the pain of injuries.

Affected by the decree were Billy Hunsfeld, his promoter, manager and confidant, and George Hunsfeld and Ernest (Tully) Herman. Long investigation of the suspension followed extended investigation of Brubaker's fight some months ago with King Levinsky, the former Chicago fish peddler, whom Brubaker defeated in 10 rounds after flooring him three times.

Brubaker was present at the hearing at which the commission took its drastic action, but was temporarily a cowering, frightened figure as he regarded as extremely humiliating.

As a result of the decision, a pending rematch between Brubaker and Levinsky, scheduled for May 1, is canceled. The 21-year-old Dubuque and Abe Feldman, New York heavyweight, were expected to be canceled.

SEALS PURCHASE VETERAN PITCHER

Pete Daglia May Offer "Shot in Arm" to Revive Club's Lagging Drive

By United Press
A "shot in the arm" which may elevate the fifth place San Francisco Seals to a contenders' position in defense of their 1935 Pacific coast league championship, some of the wrinkles lining the brow of Manager Lefty O'Doul today.

Noticeably weak on the mound, the Seals have been assisted in their 1936 title efforts by the return of Pete Daglia, a two-time pitcher, who was acquired from the Seattle Mariners.

Backed by 11 years of professional experience, Daglia was purchased in a cash deal while still recovering from a shoulder injury. The Seals were guilty of five errors and Seattle won.

As a measure of thanksgiving, the Seals turned on the Seattle Indians in a night game at Seals' stadium Friday night, defeating the newcomers 10-1. Daglia, who pitched the last four innings, won the series. Both teams scored 10 hits. The Seals were guilty of five errors and Seattle won.

Pure Lead
The defeat pared the Indians' lead over the third place Mission Seals, who defeated Sacramento, to half a game.

The Seals of the Sacramento-Mission game was 13 to 5, for the Indians. It was a "shot in the arm" for the Seals.

Beck's first successful pitching venture in five starts. The Seals were guilty of five errors and Seattle won.

ROOSEVELT LUCK HOLDS

If President Roosevelt could find time to witness each of the Washington Senators' games this year, the Nat would be a clinch to win a pennant. The chief executive never has seen the Capital team lose a game, and his July 4th hold-as-viewed-the-season's opener against the Yankees, which the Senators capped 1-0. Here's the President with Manager Joe McCarthy of the Yankees, center, and Buck Harris, right, Nat's boss, as Mr. Roosevelt threw out the first ball.

NEW YORK EARNS FOURTH STRAIGHT

And Terry's Manoeuvres With Hurleys Play Big Role; Reds Whip Cubs

By HENRY SUPER
NEW YORK, April 18 (UP)—The late John McGraw used to say, "Boys, they count as much in April as they do in September."

With the major league campaign only four days old, the Giants have yet to put the game on ice. In only one game shot of the pace they set in 1934 when they won the first five games and then lost better than a year ago when, with floundering in the cellar with no victories and two defeats.

Behind the early Clutch success is keen strategy of working pitch. "We'll get the most of Manager" Bill Terry. In taking those four games—three from Brooklyn and one from Boston—Terry has managed to make most of the pitching burden on new members of the corps, and giving the Terry look over the field.

Only one of the New York victories have been turning out to be a relief work. If they are not overburdened at the start.

Yesterday Fitzsimmons, who is being worked easily for fear of aggravating the elbow which he injured last year, relieved Carl Hubbell.

Great Pitching
American league hurlers were featured by the two best pitchers. The former low mark of four runs was not only a "no-hitter" but a "no-run" game.

SAME SPEED

If the automobile industry wins its case for motor cars capable of speeds from 80 to 100 miles an hour, it will apparently do so without the support of more than two-thirds of the people of the United States.

"The Automobile Manufacturers' Association, in its report to Secretary of Commerce Daniel Roper, contends that 99 per cent of all accidents occur at speeds of less than 50 miles an hour. But a recent poll conducted by the magazine Fortune reports that 70.3 per cent of the public favors limitation of the speed of the automobile to 50 miles an hour.

In the final analysis, it would appear that the great majority of the public is justified in seeing danger in the ultra-speedy motor car. For one thing, the problem of the ultra-speedy driver is more and more to be reckoned with. And, in any event, the human equation is too highly uncertain to justify unlimited speed.

THE PROFESSORS WIN

With the advent of the "brain trust" under the New Deal and the consequent ridicule and criticism that followed, the dignity of the college professor suffered a severe drubbing.

But now the picture has changed appreciably—so much, in fact, that the Republican opposition has hired a brain trust of its own. The best minds of many colleges now are being enlisted by the G. O. P. to get on the trail of government problems, with a view to finding just how the machine runs and how it can be improved.

Now, whether you ascribe this latest triumph of the professors to politics or just sheer force of knowledge, it at least ought to stop the jokes about brain trusters. And, after all, isn't it logical to assume that these college heads can fill useful public roles?

Each has devoted years to the study of taxation, economics, social sciences, and political economy. It is significant that both parties now are asking their aid.

MAN'S COURAGE

A steel worker lost his footing while working on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay bridge the other day, and plunged 160 feet to his death. It was the 19th fatality recorded during construction of the bridge.

Away back in the days of the ancient Romans it was the custom to start every big construction job with a human sacrifice. A slave would be killed and his body sealed into a crypt beneath the cornerstone. Every great building, bridge, aqueduct, or monument was thus, in a way, a sort of memorial to a nameless person who had given his life that the job might be finished.

We do the same sort of thing nowadays, but we don't do it intentionally.

It would be hard to find a record of any large-scale construction job in this country which has been carried through without taking the life of some workman. This isn't due to carelessness or slackness on the part of the engineers and foremen; construction work is just naturally dangerous, and the mere law of averages decrees that it has to take a life every so often.

This is worth remembering. We like to cut ourselves the greatest builders since the days of the Caesars, and we probably deserve the title; but we should never forget the price that has to be paid for this achievement by the unsung workers who take danger as part of the job.

These men are our national heroes, in a very real sense. Whenever there is a hard, dangerous, exacting job to be done, they come swaggering in, in overalls and leathery gloves, and take it on.

Whether we are bridging San Francisco Bay or putting a railroad out across the Florida Keys, or damming an Idaho river or thrusting a 50-story skyscraper toward the clouds, we can always find men to accept the risks and put over the job.

Think what we owe to them! They took square-riggers around Cape Horn; they mined the hard-core rocks of the great lumber industry; they built our cities and harnessed our streams and mined our minerals; they smelted our ores and herded our cattle and established our fisheries. Ignoring danger and hardship, rolling up a casualty list that would make the battle of Gettysburg look like a summer picnic, and doing it all without benefit of brass bands, medals, or newspaper photographers.

The ordinary human animal, in other words, is a pretty plucky sort of chap. It is not only on the battlefield that he proves his mettle. That, perhaps, is the least of his achievements. No job is too tough for him, no danger too great.

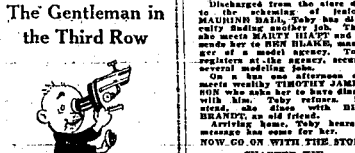

Beyond all our inventive genius, our organizing skill, and our gift for planning, we owe our material progress to the countless courage of the man in overalls.

The boy who was lost in the midwest dust storm proved none the worse for his experience, except for a little crease about the neck and ears.

"In Spain, Beat Olive Away Mine," Caty, him giving away his.

TOBY read the penciled message.

"Thank you, Mr. Becker," she said. "I suppose I'd better call right away."

She went to the telephone and dialed a number, aware that though the rooming house keeper had stepped out of sight, the door of her room remained open. Mrs. Becker, ever curious about telephone calls, was listening to the interest in Toby's. Privately, Mrs. Becker admitted that a job like Toby's—being to have her picture taken—might be all right.

It was Harriet Holm's voice that came over the wire. "Hello," she said. "I just came in and got your message. I hope I'm not bothering you, calling so late—"

"Not at all," Toby, then, went to the door. "You're coming to see me, aren't you?"

"Yes, I'm coming to see you," Toby said. "I'm coming to see you."

"I don't know why I'm here," Toby said. "I'm here to see you."

PAUL MALLON'S
An Exclusive Evening Times Daily Report on the Fast-moving Events in the Nation's Capital By an Expert Interpreter and Commentator. (Copyright, 1933, By Paul Mallon)

WASHINGTON.—Army high commanders these days look like the private who was caught with a spy, ordered out two companies of troops, and then sent to the front, as is well known, is political death.

They dare not say it aloud, even in an executive session of a congressional committee, but they would like to get further separated from political influence or else borrow Charles McNichols from the Democratic national committee to tell them how to make accurate excuses for political mistakes.

The turn of two recent events has flustered the whole inner army circle to the core.

Tommy Tate.—Latest embarrassing moment developed when Major General Boyle, commanding the third corps, ordered out two companies of infantry and a band to whop up a Democratic rally in Baltimore.

Music Teachers Honor National Club Leader

Plans are being completed for the visit of Mrs. John Alexander Jardine, president of the National Federation of Music Clubs, here Monday afternoon and evening. Members of the local organization of music instructors have arranged for her entertainment in the afternoon and a banquet at 7 p. m. at the Park hotel.

Mrs. Jardine has been elected president of the national organization for two consecutive terms and has held other offices in the federation. Under her leadership the organization is doing more than any other single group for the promotion of American art music. She has been instrumental in the organization of county, state and national festivals held under federation auspices.

Promote Music

To further promote American music Mrs. Jardine is urging during her present tour of the country that music clubs engage at least 50 per cent American artists and that half of these artists be those that they include in their concert series each season at least one of the winners in the Young Artists contest conducted biennially under the auspices of the federation, that American compositions be given on every program and that amateur performances be emphasized and amateur groups be encouraged.

Mrs. Jardine is a member of the Sigma Alpha Iota musical society and Pi Gamma Mu, honorary academic fraternity; she is also a member of the National Council of Women, a member of the national advisory committee of the music division of the Motion Picture foundation, the advisory board sponsoring the National Broadcasting company music appreciation hour, the National Music League board, the national committee for music in education, the national advisory committee of the music project of the WPA.

In charge of arrangements for the banquet is Miss Helen Parker, with whom reservations may be made until noon tomorrow. Mrs. Billie Hinton is chairman in charge of the president's visit.
