DAYS PICKED FOR WOMEN'S CAMPS

Five Vacation Projects Mapped For Feminine Residents of Varied Districts

MOSCOW (Special)—Definite dates for the five women's vacation camps to be held in Idaho this summer under the direction of the University of Idaho—agricultural extension division have been announced by Miss Marion M. Heworth, state home demonstration leader. They are:

Northern district, Hauser Lake, June 24-26.

Southeastern district, Fish Hawk or Bear Lake, July 15-17.

Eastern district, Lava Hot Springs, July 19-21.

Northeastern district, Ponderosa Lake, July 29-31.

Western district, Fayette Lake, Aug. 5-7.

Local committees now are working out a schedule of events for the program at each camp, Miss Heworth reports.

FUNERAL HONORS EDW. BODENSTADT

Funeral services were held Saturday at the White mortuary chapel for Edward Bodensadt, who died Wednesday at the hospital. Rev. L. D. Smith, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, officiated at the rites.

Music was furnished by Mrs. Grifard and Miss Maxine Smith, who sang two numbers, accompanied by Miss Smith. Pallbearers were C. B. Lidsay, A. J. Ikegami, W. A. Fox, C. J. Hampton, Fred Hession and Byron Walter.

Burial was in Twin Falls cemetery under the direction of the mortuary.

CLIMBING OUT OF RED HONOLULU UP—Hawaii expects definitely to pass out of the red with the close of the biennium on June 30, 1937. It expects that its surplus of territorial funds will then total $832,000.

Hollywood Rivals Major Hoople's Freak Ideas and Peculiar Gadgets

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD—This is a sleek period of production, and the Major Hooples of movietown are turning their fancies to the squirrely realm of gadgetry and pseudo-science.

Grace Bradley, I hear, has a playground slide attached to her second-story bedroom window. Upon belated, she vaults into a brief "little" aquatic nuptial, plunges through the window, down the slide and—plunges into her swimming pool. The splash awakens the maid, who plugs in the perlator and gets out nodding breakfast negligee.

Harpo the Marx is about to build a house. There will be no ordinary stairways; only escalators. By running up the down-escalator and dashing down the up-escalator, he will be able to get plenty of exercise on those days when the studio fails to provide any. He is going to get him a slightly little blonde for him to chase through a couple of scenes.

The Marxian manner also is to have a soundproof, harp-practice room—those "singing" Grouchoes—where they can "research" in their attempt to develop a noise-free harp. Another feature is to have a wailing wall complete with crying towels. Also a motor-driven window closer with bedside controls.

Catch to Alarm Plan—Most elaborate prowler-alarm system has been installed by Warner Baxter. He has a window on the estate without setting off all sorts of bells, and lighting off the house. Or, rather, all this would happen if Mr. Baxter ever remembered to turn on the alarm system.

Wallace Beery has a "one-way" vision window in his front door; from a study and get them up in the poultry house. The lights are turned on and off at two-hour intervals, and Herbert still hopes to get 12 eggs a day per hen.

Olney, skip it. I don't believe it, either.

Chaire Trever has invented peppermint-flavored fog. Or maybe she hasn't, but that's the story. For movie fog scenes, they vaporize a mineral oil that doesn't taste

Automatic Smoke Control—Pat O'Brien, the human chimney, says his study is equipped with a ventilating machine actuated by a photo-electric cell. When the smoke reaches a certain density, the blower is turned on automatically and saves the actor from asphyxiation by his own pipe fumes. He first tried keeping canaries as they use them in mines to detect noxious gases. But the birds couldn't take it.

I understand that William Powell's home has tables and chairs that pop in and out of walls at the pressing of buttons. This makes for speedy clearing away of furniture when a party is over. It is said to be a Paul Jones, or a game of Rummy, or something, in the living room.

Dangerous Idea—Tom Mix can fill or empty his swimming pool by pushing a button near his bed. Or so I'm assured. Friends got into the habit of going over to "Good Old Tom's" for midnight swimming parties, and their shrieks and splashing were playing hell with his sleep.

So he put in this remote-control valving system, and now probably doesn't dare use it.

For what if he drained the pool, and his friends didn't notice the receding water, and dived in and drowned? Or worse, he might have who try to go swimming at midnight?

Here's the Cholesterol—Hugh Herbert raises chickens on his ranch. The day the NRA was declared unconstitutional, he borrowed a couple of big red lights from a studio and set them up in the poultry house. The lights are turned on and off at two-hour intervals, and Her-

Ross Will Speak—CASTLEFORD, May 23 (Special)—Gov. C. Ben Ross will speak Wednesday at 8 p. m. before the newly-organized men's club at the First Baptist church. It was announced today by E. D. Logan.

A woman smugler in Germany was a scolding fan. She was arrested for smuggling five pounds of butter into the country from Lithuania, in the tires of her bicycle.

POLITICAL CIRCUS DUE NEXT MONTH

Nation Will Watch as Parties
Convene in Two Sections to Nominate

By LYLE C. WILSON
WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's biggest and best political circus will convene in two sections next month when Republicans assemble in Cleveland and Democrats in Philadelphia to nominate presidential and vice presidential candidates.

The Republican race is wide open with Gov. Alf Landon of Kansas at the head. The Democrats will re-nominate President Roosevelt and Vice President John Garner. The Republicans seem to have secured the first place on the ticket, but have lost the G.O.P. presidential position. It is, however, an eastern public man such as James W. Bushworth of New York, will be in second place on the ticket.

G.O.P. June 9

Twelve months of constant political maneuvering and whispering preceded the Republican assembly in Cleveland, June 9. On June 23 the Democratic convention in Philadelphia. Although the two meetings will end on the same day, the Democrats have had an extraordinary month of doubt and suspense peculiar to American politics known as the "pre-convention period."

Must Have 501

Republicans meeting first will need 501 delegate votes to elect a national committee and alter the party's platform. The Democrats must obtain 501, a bare majority, to be named.

Expect Change

But Mr. Roosevelt and Chairman James A. Farley of the Democratic national committee predict that the two-thirds rule would be abolished this year after 104 years of existence. They should have said so. Mr. Roosevelt will be named again by more than a two-thirds majority. The Republican scramble for preference for establishing a fixed schedule for proceedings in Cleveland in 1924 when the Democrats met and battled in Madison Square Garden more than 100 hours and nine days were required to nominate John W. Davis for President as a compromise between the candidates of William G. McAdoo and Alfred E. Smith.

G.O.P. Faces Bumps

No such record making struggle is likely at Cleveland, but the convention will not run off as smoothly as the Democrats expect for which—nothing—everything is decided in advance.

McNary Isn't Shooting For G.O.P. Nomination

By RONALD G. VAN TINE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator James C. McNary of Oregon is not a member of the upper house who has no personal interest in the Republican nomination of a president. Cousens, rich with Ford Motor company millions, was born in Canada and therefore is ineligible.

McNary doesn't believe his chance of being nominated is more than one in 1000 and he doesn't want the job, anyway. Many senators were disinterested in the White House bit when McNary was elected to the other end of Pennsylvania avenue he is peculiarly persuasive.

Remote Chance

There is a remote chance that the Republican national convention will turn to McNary. He is the Republican leader of the senate and enjoys personal popularity in congress equalled by few of his colleagues. But among the Republicans Old Guard McNary is not too friendly to the New Deal.

Made No Effort

More than that record as an obstacle to McNary's nomination is the fact that he has made no effort to get it and, evidently does not want to lead the 5000 ticket. McNary voted "no" on the gold clause act, bankhead cotton control act, reciprocal tariff program, purchase act, and the so-called economy bill carrying out cuts for government employees.

To Senate In 1917

The mild-mannered, soft-spoken westerner came to the senate in 1917 to fill a vacancy created by the death of Sen. Harry Lane, also a Republican. In November, 1918, McNary was elected to his own right for the full six-year term. Oregon voters sent him back to the senate in 1924 and 1930. His present term expires next year.

Assault Spending Program

The Republican campaign, McNary believes, should be based on opposition to the New Deal's spending program, the "unbalanced budget," the tariff and the dollar devaluation theory.

Assault Spending Program

When not busy in his office or in the senate chamber, McNary can be found on the golf course or at a baseball game. The Republican leader likes golf best and has a putting green on his 600-acre farm in the hills near Astoria. McNary goes home. He delights in playing with the game and in horticulture. Friends visit him daily to accompany him on long walks through the fields and glades that surround his cottage.

Funeral Services

Funeral services were announced today for Miss Gertrude Krohn, 10, Eden, who died Friday at Portland. The body has arrived at Twin Falls mortuary and will be taken tomorrow to the Lutheran church south of Eden where services will be conducted at 2:30 p. m. with Rev. Mr. Watercamp in charge.

Lazzari Sets Two Records as Hawks Massacre A's 25 to 2

WASHER UP AGE HITS NOT STRIDE

Pushes 11 Runs Across Plate
And Hits Six Homers in Three Games

By LESLIE AVERY
NEW YORK, May 25 (AP)—Two new records were written into American league books today as Babe Ruth, driving a home run across the plate, to break the record of nine for the circuit, established by Jimmy Foxx in 1929, "Sunny" Jimmie Foxx set the world record of 12 runs in the second inning.

The 32-year-old Italian, whom the Yankees bought from the San Francisco Seals in 1920 for $75,000, banged out three home runs and three drives, driving a run across the plate, to break the record of nine for the circuit, established by Jimmy Foxx in 1929, "Sunny" Jimmie Foxx set the world record of 12 runs in the second inning.

Lazzari also hit three eighth runs in a doubleheader Saturday, bringing his total to six for three games and breaking the major league record of five held jointly by Babe Ruth, Chuck Klein, Jimmy Foxx and Lou Gehrig.

The other two members of the triad trio that San Francisco has sent to the Yankees, a good hand in New York's 25 to 2 massacre of Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics, Joe Cossentino, who played his first season in a Yankee uniform, hit one in a double and a half in a doubleheader Saturday, including Lazzari's 11th run batted in 17 runs. Monte Pearson, who held the second frame, also drove in two of the Yankees' scores with three singles. New York added 10 runs to 16 bases of hits in the seventh inning.

It was a day of huge scoring in both leagues, however, with the majority of victories being decided by seven and eight run margins. The second place Boston Red Sox were swamped 12 to 0 by a barrage of 16 base hits by the Washington Senators. Rudy Lewis, 19-year-old rookie, led off with a home run, led the onslaught with a two-triple and two singles.

A homer, triple and single by Lloyd Brown enabled the Cleveland Indians to shut out the Detroit Tigers, 7 to 0. "Toogy" Killebrew, a one of the Indians' dozen aces, hit sent Schoonhoven Rowe to the showers.

Chicago's White Sox won from the St. Louis Browns 7 to 5 when Luke Sewell hit a four-bagger in the ninth with a man aboard to break a 5-5 deadlock.

St. Louis Cardinals won from the Chicago Cubs, 7 to 1, to hold on to their first place position in the National league.

INDIANA WINS 'PAINLESS' POLICY

Putting Athletes in Shape 1
Finish Fresh Earns Big 10
Title for Hoosiers

By TOMMY DEVINE
COLUMBUS, O., May 25 (AP)—A philosophy of no warfare athletics, developed during a 1934 college coaching career, today stood behind Indiana university's victory in the western conference track and field meet here Saturday. The philosophy was that of Coach E. C. "Billy" Hayes.

As he watched his outstanding star, Don Loh, set new conference records in the mile and two mile runs, and two of his other distance performers, Little Tommy Deckard and Jim Smith, come through with 12 additional points in the two events, Hayes had reason to believe his policy of "painless" competition again had proved its worth.

It is Hayes' belief that his competitors should be strong enough to run their events without great effort and to that end he sends them daily on long runs over the hill country that surrounds the university.

LODGES CONDUCT MEMORIAL RITES

Mason and Eastern Star Units Hold Joint Service for Deceased Members

Joint memorial services commemorating the memory of deceased members of the Twin Falls Masonic Lodge and Order of the Eastern Star were conducted yesterday afternoon in the Masonic temple. Eastern Star services preceded those of the Masons.

The conduct of these services, after a prayer by the chaplain, placed a firm wreath on the altar, and ranged a lighted cross in the east and placed at each star point a basket of flowers in appropriate colors and a five-branch candelabra. Confirmation and necrology of deceased members were read by the secretary and Mrs. W. H. Dwyer sang "O Love that Will Not Let Me Go."

The ceremony was conducted by the chaplain and five star points. The services were presided over by the secretary, concluding the service with the circle with a broken link was formed around the altar. The death was placed at the foot of the cross.

Masonic services following were conducted by the lodge officers. Necrology was read by the secretary and white flowers placed on the Bible on the altar in memory of deceased members. During the two services hymns were sung by the choir.

Volume approximated 600,000 shares compared with 680,000 shares last Friday. Curb sales were 170,000 shares, the same on Friday.

Dow-Jones preliminary closing averages showed industrial 150.81, up 0.16; railroad 45.05, up 0.21; utility 39.83, up 0.07.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

IN EAST LIBERTY, PENNA. SOME YEARS AGO THERE WAS AN ORIOLE WHOSE SONG WENT, "TA RA RA, BOOM DE-AVE." EXACTLY IN TUNE WITH THE FAMOUS SONG OF THOSE SAME WORDS.

A BASEBALL PITCHER COULD THROW NO CURVES, IF HE LIVED ON THE MOON. THERE WOULD BE NO AIR RESISTANCE TO GIVE A BREAK TO THE BALL.

AMAZON DISCHARGES ABOUT 500,000 CUBIC FEET OF WATER INTO THE ATLANTIC EVERY SECOND.

Since there is no atmosphere on the moon, there would be no friction-such as in air-when a ball is thrown through it. However, a baseball pitcher, deprived of his ability to throw curves, would have the satisfaction of knowing that, due to the lessened gravity pull there, his infielders would be able to leap twenty feet off the ground to snag line drives.

U. OF I. DEGREES CLIMB TO 5,382

Addition of 430 Graduates in
This Year's Group Brings
Total to That Sum

MOSCOW (Special)—Degrees granted by the University of Idaho will total 5,382 after the 430 members of this year's graduating class bid farewell to the university at its 40th annual commencement, June 9.

Idaho's first graduating class, 1896, had only four members, two men and two women. This year's class will be the largest in Idaho's history, exceeding by 26 the largest previous class, 454 in 1932. This record-breaking class of 1934 is composed of 362 candidates for bachelor's degrees and 68 for master's degrees.

Nearly 5,000 Living Grads
When the class of 1934 joins Idaho alumni ranks, the total of living graduates will be just short of the 5,000 mark. The difference between this figure and the greater 5,382 is accounted for by graduates with two degrees, a small proportion of deaths, and a handful of honorary degrees.

Lack of seniors upon whom to confer degrees in 1934 did not deter university authorities when graduation was two years ago. Records show that the first degrees granted by the university were a pair of honorary LL.D.s conferred in 1894 upon W. J. McCannell, then governor of the state, and R. Z. Johnson, then attorney general.

Three Survive
The three living members of the class of 1896, Idaho's first, have been invited as guests of honor at the alumni banquet which is to be held June 6, the Saturday before commencement. Baccalaureate services will be held Sunday, June 7, with Bishop Titus H. Lowe of Portland as speaker. Commencement exercises will be held Monday morning, June 8. Dr. Alexander Meiklejohn, San Francisco zoologist, will deliver the commencement address.

All-Color Romance
Roxy Feature Today
Hollywood's new era of entertainment, forever after the advent of the new full-color technicolor process, has arrived with "Dancing Pirate," the completely entertaining comedy musical romance at the Ruxley theater.

This production with its exquisite color schemes, its dancing, spectacle, fine music and delightfully comprehensive story and cast, completely justifies the early claims made for color.

The hues, varying from soft, deep shades to grayer, muted, have been applied to the mood, the action of the story with such effect and comely portraiture as to make the whole effect a complete symphony of color, music, comedy, drama, romance and dancing.

The title role is brilliantly enacted by Charles Collins, a handsome, thus making himself a big dancer and actor from the stages of New York and London. Steffi Duina, remembered from

COLORFUL ROLE

Cast in what is admittedly the most spectacular role of his career, Warner Baxter comes to the Orpheum theater starting Wednesday as Joaquín Murietta, bandit-hero of "Robin Hood of El Dorado," a thunderous and romantic drama of the man who roared through the wild west as the head of 400 men in the lawless days of the California gold rush of '49. The supporting cast includes the much-talked-about new "discovery," Ann Loring, together with Bruce Cabot, the noted dancer, Margie J. Carroll, Naish, and Eric Linden.

"La Cucaracha," has a role ideally suited to her. Frank Morgan's characterization of the Escalante is equally as funny as his "Duke" in "The A.C." Other fine characters, and some of the story with such effect and comely portraiture as to make the whole effect a complete symphony of color, music, comedy, drama, romance and dancing.

ADVENTURER

Showing today at the Idaho theater is Victor McLaglen and Freddy Bartholomew in "Professional Soldier" with Gloria Stuart, Constance Collier and Michael Whalen. This grand adventure picture tells the amazing story of a little king and a blustering soldier of fortune who become pals in peril. The program is completed with a novelty, musical and news events. Beginning Wednesday the Idaho theater presents Joe E. Brown in "Bright Lights," with Ann Dvorak and Patricia Ellis. Jay Hill plays the organ each evening from 7 to 7:15 except Saturdays and Sundays, as a special added Idaho attraction.

RESCUER DECORATED
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Capt. Neal D. Franklin has been decorated with the Treasury department's life saving medal for rescuing two unnamed boys from drowning off Fort Delissey. The names of the boys have never been revealed because they told Capt. Franklin their father would give them a big reward if he ever learned they went swimming in the surf.

CAROL ANN, 5, IS PRIDE OF ACTOR

Wallace Beery Seldom Talks About Anything Else When He's Interviewed

By KELLY WOOLFERT
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—After talking to Wallace Beery for a few minutes it is easy to understand why the jolly star is not the subject of more interviews.

Hollywood writers want variety in their articles and Beery virtually refuses point-blank to talk about any subject but his adopted daughter, Carol Ann.

"What do you care how I got started or where I was born—which is the same thing," the star laughed.

"Carol Ann is a lot more interesting."

In a flimsy movement, Beery maneuvered his hand between the doorway and his holier.

She Was Enraptured
"You see Carol Ann was a little unexpected," but in a different way than most babies," the screen veteran explained.

"I got home from work one day and Beta—that's my wife asked me 'Wally, dear, how would you like to have a little girl?'"

"I was a bit surprised but then she explained that a life-long friend had died, leaving a 9-month-old daughter. It seems that Beta had been mulling the problem over in her mind for some time as I didn't have much of a chance to even object.

"And boy, I'm sure glad now that I didn't."

Brought Happiness
"Carol Ann is 5 years old now and she has brought more happiness into the Beery family than we ever imagined could exist."

The screen hero, villain, tough guy and no-good-dad, expressed himself as slightly worried over Carol Ann's attitude on one point.

"She won't take me seriously," he lamented, "I may be one of the deepest of the deep-deeped villains on the screen but when that young lady looks at me she just laughs and immediately thinks it's time to play."

"Yes, but how about your future, Mr. Beery, what are your own plans?" he was asked.

"Oh, yes, well, right now I am leaving you to go trout fishing with Carol Ann. She needs a taste of mountain climbing and living out-of-doors and besides..."
