SHIP'S CREW, CHINA BOUND, WANTS BONUS Sailors' Demand, Settled After Several Hours, Delays Sailing of Dollar Liner President Wilson

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4 (AP)—The crew of the Orient-bound Dollar liner President Wilson held up the ship's departure today for a bonus for services rendered.

An undisclosed number of the ship's 225 members, going aboard to sign ship's articles just before sailing time, demanded today for the 12th national encampment.

Ship's officers for the bonus seekers said they feared the vessel might be ordered to Shanghai for further repairs.

Shipping elsewhere also experienced difficulties as the result of the Sino-Japanese conflict.

Thirty-four Chinese crew members of the Japanese freighter China Express left their ship at Port Angeles, Wash., federal immigration authorities announced, because of their unwillingness to serve their "enemies."

The Chinese surrendered to immigration authorities and were held for possible deportation.

On the Atlantic coast, seamen on the Norwegian ship were given a bonus in money, and prepared to sail from Baltimore, Md., for the east-coast sea area.

G. A. R. Answers Convention Call MADISON, Wis., Sept. 4 (AP)—Less than one full company of the 2,400, 000 blue uniformed men who marched away to the civil war camped today for the 12th national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Encampment headquarters said 200 veterans at most would register by next Tuesday, when the program goes into full swing.

In the 72 years—longer than an average lifetime—since Appomattox, the national G. A. R. membership has declined to 100,000.

The vanguard of the old soldiers quailed reports this encampment at the national G. A. R. headquarters in Pittsburgh and New Haven, Conn., have entered bids for the 1938 gathering.

Living Problem Solved by Deaf

POCAHELLO, Sept. 4 (AP)—The practical art of making a living despite their physical handicap was demonstrated tonight at the third biennial convention banquet of the Idaho association for the deaf.

One hundred representatives from seven states, Montana, Utah, Washington, California, Idaho, Nevada, and Wyoming, attended.

English language was used to deliver the messages of the speakers—one, Monte Barlow, a deaf typist; another, Melvin Phelps, contractor; and Elmer D. Talbert of Gooding, state association president and expert farmer.

Each explained advantages of his occupation and how he had progressed regardless of the affliction.

By the Associated Press. BOARD YACHT INDIAN Off Rhode Island, Sept. 4 (AP) President Roosevelt declared tonight that "both sides have made mistakes" in recent employer-worker conflicts and urged the use of "sanity and reason" in adjusting labor disputes.

"The conference table must eventually take the place of the strike," he said in a Labor day statement made public as he cruised aboard the yacht Potomac in Long Island.

It was his first formal statement on the subject since the wave of strikes started sweeping country nearly eight months ago.

His first comment of any kind had been made in his Washington Press conference statement at the peak of the steel strike, infrequently attacking extremists in industry and labor unions.

It followed a radio speech last night by John L. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, who, in a carefully caustic, causticly criticizing the President for his attitude in the steel strike, but was not noted as a reply to Lewis since the statement was prepared several days before Lewis' address.

Suspicion Points to Italy In Mediterranean Crisis

Europe's Diplomats Engaged in New Ferment

(By the Associated Press) LONDON, Sept. 4.—European diplomats, facing the League of Nations assembly and a conference of Mediterranean powers next week, today were engaged in the most intense activity since German troops marched back into the Rhineland 18 months ago.

The foremost question before them, an outgrowth of the Spanish war, was protection of merchant shipping and warships in the Mediterranean against the recent series of "piratical" attacks by unidentified submarines and airplanes.

This was to be the chief concern of the Mediterranean conference, which in the European view has come to overshadow the league meeting in importance.

Widespread suspicion was directed at Italy, which brought the major powers together in London in March, 1936, the finger of suspicion in the Mediterranean was pointed at Italy.

This was due largely to Premier Benito Mussolini's friendly exchange with Germany and his refusal to keep his hands off the Mediterranean.

Italy believed Italy would be invited to the Mediterranean conference but whether she would attend was uncertain.

Storm Damages Gooding's Crops Losses Estimated at Between $50,000 and $100,000

GOODING, Sept. 4.—Gooding crops, including alfalfa, were damaged appreciably estimated at between $50,000 and $100,000, wrought by 12-inch wind-rain-hail storm which hit afternoon.

Sweeping in from the northwest, the storm apparently centered over the Gooding area, leveling and damaging crops in the fields and blowing limbs from trees without causing injury.

Invaders Turned Back in First Major Encounter

Three Japanese Warships Steam Into Port of Amoy; One, Crippled by Artillery Fire, Towed Away

MISSIONARIES TELL OF RAIDS (By the Associated Press) SHANGHAI, Sept. 5 (Sunday)—More than 100 Chinese civilians were killed or wounded today by Japanese aerial bombs rained on the ravaged city from ten warplanes that attacked the west station of the Shanghai-Hangchow railway.

The Japanese warplanes, in many previous attacks, missed their apparent targets and loosed the projectiles into throngs of half-naked Chinese refugees huddled in doorways, sidewalks and along the thoroughfares.

Dead and wounded were quickly strewn in the streets as the attacking bombers entered buildings, ambulances and turned the section into a shambles.

It was believed that casualties would far exceed losses of the entire week.

One bomb landed within a few feet of British officials patrolling an outpost of the international settlement, knocking many of the guards unconscious.

Second Attack A second aerial attack on Saturday, apparently was more successful. Fifty bombs were dropped on Nanking south of Shanghai in Chuking province, the United States consulate-general here was advised.

The promised "big Japanese push" into the battle into a crowded area of Shanghai Sunday with a heavy bombardment of the Japanese section of the Shanghai-Hangchow railroad.

The station is near the British defense sector of the international settlement.

Casualties Mount Damage was heavy and casualties were believed to have been many.

Within Shanghai itself, Saturday damage was largely to reconstruction of forces along the front 12 to 20 miles north and east from Luho to Woosung; to the other Japanese aerial bombardment and counter fire by Chinese anti-aircraft.

Each belligerent called for foreign observers that the Japanese army had encountered far more severe opposition than they had expected.

The resistance, in contrast to previous engagements with Chinese, is the heaviest since the Japanese fought Russia in 1904, foreign military observers believe.

Imperial addresses hitherto have been confined to generalities and the emperor's reference to the concert with which he followed the Far Eastern crisis made a profound impression on his subjects, driving home the impression that Japan's true intentions and had aggravated the situation by indulgence in wanton provocations.

Three others were injured and a fourth escaped because he refused to run for the clubhouse rather than stand in a drenching rainstorm going into full swing.

The dead: Len W. Hicks, assistant manager of the Allegheny Glass company; A. H. Little, salesman, Mellon steel corporation.

Donald H. Baum, secretary of the National Industrial Conference Board, was injured by lightning on the clubhouse, several hundred yards from the tee of the flying iron from which the lightning had reached when the storm broke.

Man Has Brain Like Fish, Cambridge Professor Avers

NOTTINGHAM, Eng., Sept. 4 (AP)—A neurologist, a world master of nature and inventor, a million quivering, has a brain like a fish.

So says Professor James Gray, director of zoology at Cambridge University.

"Many of us have a natural but deep-seated feeling that the brain is like a fish," Professor Gray said.

He is convinced that Squalus-type brains are common to all vertebrates and are the essential parts, the brain of the fish is the same as that of the man.

The professor pointed out that fish have rigid reflexes, power to absorb and store information and the power to carry out highly complicated involuntary reactions.

Gray said that the brain of a man is like a fish's brain, but that the man's brain is more complex and has the power to store information and the power to carry out highly complicated involuntary reactions.

JURY PONDER DAMAGE CLAIM Prolonged Deliberations Bring No Agreement on Crash Liability

A Twin Falls district court jury deliberated until early today with-out reaching a verdict in the suit brought by Miss Katherine Colwell, daughter of A. B. Colwell, owner of the Maestic pharmacy, for $15,000 damages from Miss Beth Boothwell and her father, former District Judge James R. Boothwell, on account of injuries received in an automobile accident in February, 1935.

The jury, which had heard evidence and argument during a three-day trial, received the case at 4:10 o'clock yesterday afternoon. There was no indication of an approaching agreement at midnight and District Judge James W. Porter said he would not return after that hour to receive a verdict.

Attorneys for the claimant, R. P. Parry, J. P. Thomas and Harry Bennett, argued Miss Boothwell was liable for damages as agent for her father in driving the car in which she and other members of the Twin Falls high school basketball team were returning from a game at Blackfoot when they were rear-ended. Evidence indicated the car collided with a truck on the highway near Twin Falls.

Defense attorneys Chapman and Chapman, moved to strike all testimony of claimant's witnesses, except a motion for non-suit and asked for a directed verdict in favor of the defendants, before entering into the closing arguments.

AAA PLACES OKEH ON POTATO PACTS Tentative Approval Given Federal Marketing Agreements

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—The agricultural adjustment administration today tentatively approved agreements for federal potato marketing in the states. Officials said the marketing programs were designed to increase returns to potato growers in commercial late potato producing areas. The four identical agreements provide for producers and shippers in (1) Maine; (2) Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin and North Dakota; (3) Colorado, Nebraska and Wyoming; and (4) Idaho.

Copies of the agreements will be submitted immediately to handlers for their signature and a referendum among growers will be conducted shortly to determine whether they favor the issuance of orders making the marketing agreement binding upon all handlers of potatoes produced in the four areas. The agreement would prohibit interstate shipments of potatoes smaller than one and one half inches in diameter and below requirements for "U. S. No. 2 grade."

Continued from Page One The Japanese super-bomber, disabled by anti-aircraft fire, was shot down by Chinese fighters. Occupants were killed. A second Japanese plane was shot down while reconnoitering over the north coast.

A group of American missionaries, arrived here Saturday, from Idaho (Chiangsu, 50 miles to the north-west, with tales of terrible bombardment by Japanese warplanes. The Rev. H. S. Smith of Binghamton, New York, member of the American Episcopal church mission, told of two devastating attacks by the Japanese bombers, one on August 27 and one on September 1. The pastor escaped death by diving into a drainage ditch, while several thousand of the mission were sheltered and the ceilings collapsed. He estimated 3,000 were killed and several thousand injured. Heavy gunnings continued in the northern theater of war, said a Japanese army spokesman, with the Japanese notably successful in their campaign to subjugate Chahar province and open a Japanese road to the north coast of China.

Driven from the Nankow pass northwest of Peiping and from Kalgan, capital of Chinese north China, were said to be retreating rapidly southwestward into Shansi province, leaving Japanese masters of southern Chahar.

OUR HOME TOWN

By Ella M. White

More by far than any other County Fair our Twin Falls Fair represents an event of which every citizen of our fine, prosperous, self-sufficient little empire here, can be justly proud. It is a question whether anywhere, outside of a State Fair, there could be found displays to compare with those we shall view.

I am informed that the exhibits of live stock and of agricultural products will be larger and of finer quality than have been exhibited in previous years. And that, in itself, is a record for we at ways had exhibits of superior merit. The Merchants building also will be filled with exhibits of modern appliances and conveniences for modern homes. The prominent features are to contain many a novelty not seen here before.

Assigned Roles Irk Kay Francis

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 4.—Kay Francis is in a temple fix. She's getting $500 a day, but she doesn't want it.

Her position today was an insurance policy for the brothers Warner, a $250,000 a year longer—having said so yesterday in a suit to annul her contract—but she's obliged to work as long as her $3,000-a-week agreement is in force. The statu quo Francis was expected to report at the studio today for wardrobe fittings for a picture she is technically doing under protest, but she entered the gate without recognizing her.

Miss Francis wants her contract annulled and her complaint, because she has been given inferior roles that reflected on her artistic ability and because she was not given the lead in "Tovarich." She said that Jack L. Warner, head of the studio, had promised her the role, but instead, Claudette Colbert got it. She has been happily sinking her teeth into the part for the last few weeks.

Twin Falls Meeting to Consider Continuing Legal Battles

Falato growers from all southern Idaho will gather at 2:30 p. m. today at American Legion hall in Twin Falls for an open discussion of current legal battles over the status of the Idaho fruit and vegetable marketing commission.

Carl DeLong, commission executive secretary, will attend the meeting to give detailed explanation of the commission's activities, and some light on cause of the present tie-up in the advertising campaign. DeLong last week announced that lack of funds had caused cancellation of the state's participation in a planned $2,000,000 nation-wide apple advertising campaign, of the state's prime advertising, and probably would result in loss of a national "Idaho Russet Potato" week-end sale, arising from Attorney General J. W. Taylor's questioning of legality of the act under which the commission exists, and refusal of the state auditor's office to honor commission claims, had caused the cancellation of advertising.

"We haven't the funds to go on," DeLong said.

EXHIBIT HALLS BULGING WITH RICH DISPLAY

More Than 100 Hard-Riding Animals Ready to Test Top Hands' Capabilities; Genorous Entertainment

FILER, Sept. 4.—With abundant crops securing showing of the season's finest products, all buildings and most of the outside space filled to overflowing, Twin Falls county's "biggest and best" fair and rodeo will officially open its doors to the public here Tuesday morning.

Women's entries—including needlework—closed last night. General entries, including everything but flowers, will close at 6 p. m. Monday, and flowers at 10 a. m. Tuesday morning.

School displays must be on the grounds by Monday night.

Judging on the needlework and women's entries will start Sunday, and probably be completed and results announced by Monday night.

Judging of all other entries will start promptly at 10 a. m. Tuesday morning, to continue until all contestants have been rated.

Squeezing space Every available inch of space in every available building already has been filled or is spoken for, Tom Parks, fair secretary, said today.

"We're here spending a lot of time lately trying to figure out some way to squeeze in even more exhibits—moving others a few inches this way or that, showing things around, cutting down on the number of exhibits, and doing every thing we know to make space.

"Even most of the space for outside exhibits is taken. We have purchased new awnings to cover some of the machinery and other outside exhibits. And it seems even that won't be enough.

"Our merchant's building and produce buildings particularly are jammed.

Parks said Tuesday's opening will be a "regular fair day," with everything to be shown in the four-day event on display.

Midway Set Up A midway will be set up Monday night for use Tuesday, along the center of the fairgrounds, behind the main grandstands. Refreshment stands, games and other concessions already are nearly completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson—lamed as "cowboys' best horse" plucky—will be an added daily attraction.

Race-meets will start promptly after lunch-time Tuesday, and the regular rodeo performance will go on as scheduled Tuesday night.

Rated as "the toughest rodeo in America," the four-day rodeo program will bring to Twin Falls county the best cowhands and performers in the nation, according to Leo Cremer, manager of the show.

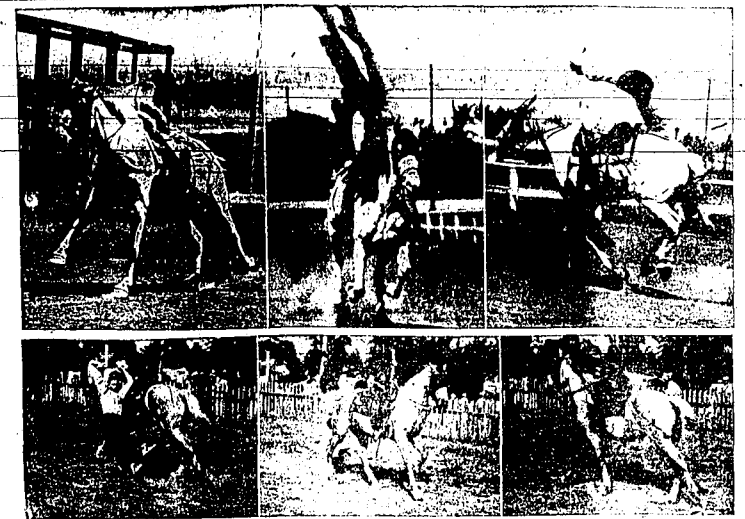

Cremer, who ranches near Shawmut, Montana, said the more than 100 head of rodeo stock already in the pens at the fairgrounds is "hard-buckin', hard-ridin'" animals. None of the animals have been "worked" since August 2, to insure their freshness and activity in the show here.

Nation's Top Hands "The fact that there are no big rodeos going on at present in conflict with the Twin Falls show," Cremer said, "should bring us the nation's top hands for this performance."

"I can say right now this should be the toughest show in the country."

Special features of the rodeo program, in addition to "buckin' men" who will attempt to remain seated on Cremer's outlaw steed, will include:

Hardy Murray of Armore, Okla., and H. P. Vander-Jones—"Silver Cloud"—Lloyd and Blanche McEwen of Fort Worth, Texas, among the

'LET 'ER BUCK.' Crowds attending the annual Twin Falls county Fair and Rodeo, opening of Filer Tuesday morning, will watch agile riders show above as they put themselves and their trained horses through their paces at nightly features of the rodeo program.

BY HULBERT FOOTNER

SYNOPSIS: Wealthy, flashy Prescott Fanning Janet, a Baltimore air, aboard his yacht, she sailed to a young federal agent who lives in a boat in Abasco's Harbor, he boards the yacht and finds in a locked cabin a man and a woman. The man is in a faint, a gun beside her. Nell sees her to the door, then she goes back to the best suite. Back at the village he resumes his fisherman role to watch developments. The townfolk are wildly excited over the murder. Button Billings, justice of the peace, takes charge, moves the boat and holds an inquest.

Chapter 16
Nell's Adversary

After her car arrived at Abasco's bringing newspaper men from Washington and Baltimore, and later from more distant cities, Portland, Richmond, Philadelphia and even New York. The reporters spread around asking questions.

Other cars brought radio operators from all adjacent counties and even from the city. Motor-bells rang across the bay were coming into the harbor as if for a regatta. Nell wondered angrily what the people did for a living. The village, gave up their usual occupations and took up good words of vantage to watch the arrivals and to pass the latest news. All this hullabaloo made Nell feel queer. The whole world, it seemed, was arrayed against him and Janet.

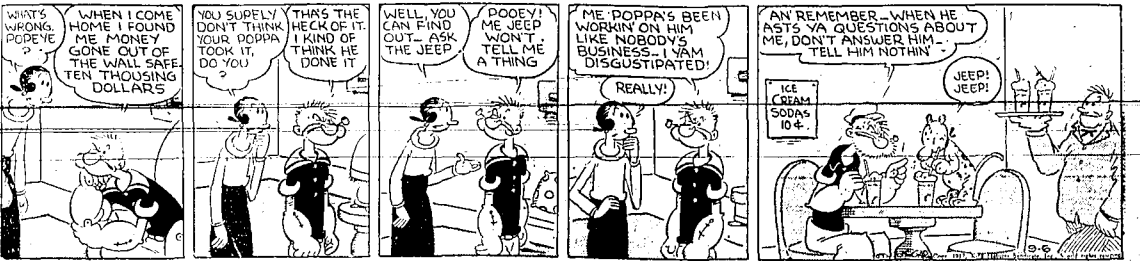

Shortly after 4 o'clock an ear-splitting chorus of horns was heard approaching from up the river road and a car bearing the Maryland coast-guard, stopped around the corner with an escort of 10 state constables on motorcycles. They pulled up in front of the store. In the car rode a stern-looking man that Nell knew must be Boninger, and beside him the sergeant of police in command.

On the store porch Mr. Button Billings was waiting with his wife. A little behind him stood Virgil Lougheed, grinning and chewing a cigar.

"How do you do, gentlemen?" said Mr. Boninger with dignity. "I am the representative of the law here."

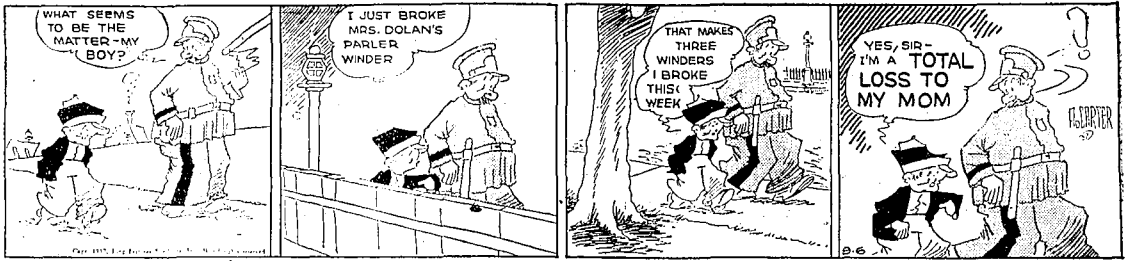

"How are you, Mr. Billings?" said Boninger and Nell saw that he had

ADVISORS URGED FOR LAWMAKERS

Owyhee Senator Advocates Board for Guidance of Legislature

By WALTER R. BOTTCHEER
BOISE, Sept. 4. — Hon. E. H. Denny, Owyhee senator who runs a farm near Emmet, advocated today enactment of a law to create a legislative advisory board.

"Having been a member of the senate in the 24th session, the last year or so of the old 40 days demonstrated to me the need of a legislative setup with the capacity to preserve the rights of right and wrong and good and bad in the processes of law-making," he declared.

"Such setups have been created by legislatures of seven or eight other states and are working admirably."

"I believe a legislative advisory board composed of a few experienced legislators chosen by the governor and the supreme court, with reference to jury qualifications, assisted by one or two experts in political science, law, methods and research and the drafting of bills, would have wonderful possibilities."

"Such a board should be in session at least a month before each session, during the session and a month after adjournment, or perhaps organize the year-around as in other states, with the experts in charge while the board is on vacation."

"I am confident a board well chosen would remedy many of the defects of our present system."

How to Politic

"It would do us well to destroy the plays for political advantage on a precedent the first 40 days of a term."

"The legislature can perform its required function properly under the present system."

"The present use of football, and sometimes worse, and ineffectual legislation."

"The times of representatives during the last session appeared a measure similar to that outlined by Senator Hill. It would be a maximum legislative legislative program, but it got only 36 votes in the senate and the house vote was 10-10. It would be a measure of the legislative committee of the senate, the Owen bill."

"The objection to that measure," Senator Hill declared, "was that it created a bureau in charge of a committee with a liaison appointment."

"It was sponsored by Representative George F. Denny and Representative E. M. Hill (D) Hawks."

Want Post

Statehouse gave a preliminary ruling up the home of senator H. H. Wilson (D) term, former lawyer and former college professor, as a prospective candidate for a position on the public utilities commission."

"The name of M. Ross Hattagood of Boise, the expert on several matters ago."

"Governor Barlow, who had been appointed Hattagood as a job for new men in the six-year post."

"The name of Hattagood is H. H. Jones, formerly fish trader of the Idaho state senate the last session, but the committee has rejected."

"There is a rumor, one I don't know how many that H. H. Jones and Hattagood are in the same boat."

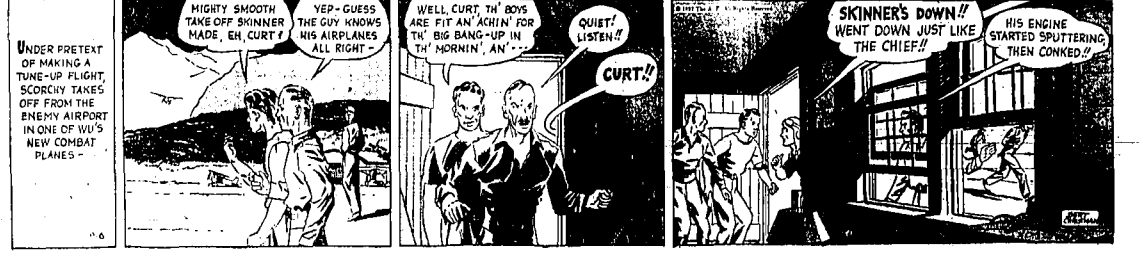

"The post man is occupied by Senator James P. Pope, a Democrat and H. H. Jones."

THE FEMINE "TOUCH"

"The justice officer was introduced as Sergeant Wilson.

"The deceased is over in the shed," said the justice of the peace mysteriously. "Will you step over and take a look at the body."

"In the shed?" put in Sergeant Wilson sharply. "We were told he was shot aboard his yacht."

"Well, he was. But we sat on him in the shed."

"Virgil stood by enjoying every word of the justice of the peace, rolled merrily over and over.

"And do you mean to say you have moved him?" said Wilson. "You have snatched everything about?"

"It is our custom to sit on a corpse," said the justice firmly.

"You could have waited until we got here, couldn't you? What good did the inquest do? Did it establish anything?"

"The verdict was: Unknown man shot to death at the hands of a person or persons, unknown."

"By God!" said the sergeant.

"The crowd laughed, and the justice of the peace, and the laughter increased.

"I wash my hands of this case," he announced, indignantly, and retreated away with a scowling, and followed by the sergeant.

Investigators Get to Work

From that moment the company element was eliminated, and the investigation got to work in a way that surprised the town. The police were told to establish contact lines, and to direct traffic, while others went in to prepare quarters for the detachment in the lot over the store. A man was sent out to reject the sovereign business, to the north, and to visit guards on the street, one went out with him to get the crew.

"These witnesses said to separate from the crowd," said Boninger. "Let me say in your quarters, over the door now."

Nell advised Boninger as to the best way to handle the case. She said that there was a good blood in this man. At present his face was a good deal like a man who could keep his seat under the most adverse conditions, and the kind of caution, manner that seems a little old-fashioned nowadays. The level gaze of his brown eyes seemed that he had a real man to deal with here. Boninger directed in a calm, straightforwardly old-fashioned style that suited his type: broad-shouldered black hat, suit and bowtie.

"Sergeant Wilson has a much more conventional type - a fine, orderly specimen, and so should a fine police officer, but not Boninger. He's the greatest hit. Boninger is still the man."

Boninger, Lougheed and Wilson entered the store, and the complete was placed at the door to keep everybody else out. Others got to the crowd in the street and back in the crowd. It pulled Nell to have to put her in the street, just as if he had no more than a common sense's idea of it in the case. He determined that something or other he would get in with Boninger, he would make a report of the case. He determined that something or other he would get in with Boninger, he would make a report of the case. He determined that something or other he would get in with Boninger, he would make a report of the case.

Chasing at His Exclusion

Some time passed before Boninger appeared again, but Nell had plenty of evidence of his activities. Boninger of the woods on foot, and of nearby waters by boat were recognized, each under the command of a constable, and sent off. The latter party took no note of him. Nell, but there was nothing he could do about it. He hung around on the street watching their preparation and taking the view, whose side had been taken was steering his craft to them, lankily

EVANSTON, Wyo., Sept. 4 (AP)—A flying hailstorm brought to an untimely end a business session of Evanston's cowboy days this afternoon, driving an estimated 3,000 spectators pell-mell from their seats. But the crowd promised to return tomorrow and Monday, well satisfied with the 16 or 17 scheduled events run off before the down-pour.

Sportsmen to Air Grievances at Twin Falls Meeting

College Boys' Game Stand Against Von Cramm Thrills Crowd

Officials of Game Association Prepare For Warden's Visit

McIntyre to Discuss Deer Hunt Plans; Explanation of Marshall Ouster May Be Demanded

Southern Idaho sportsmen will air current grievances, discuss plans for an emergency deer hunt in the Blinidokki national forest and probably demand redress of recent acts of the state game department when they gather with State Game Warden W. R. McIntyre at a banquet Monday night at the Park hotel in Twin Falls.

Sponsored by the Southern Idaho Fish and Game association, the banquet will start at 7:30 p. m., officials said yesterday.

The meet will mark the first time that McIntyre has spoken to any organized southern Idaho sportsmen's group.

The warden's visit officially will be for the purpose of discussing and times for the proposed emergency hunt to remove a surplus in the deer population of the forest—deer to be too large to have adequate feed during winter months.

Original announced plans of the game department called for killing of 1000 deer in the forest.

The proposal, however, met with quick objections on the part of the Frontier club, various southern Idaho chambers of commerce, and other sportsmen's groups.

The members agreed that killing of 1000 of the forest's deer would be "excessive," and joined in suggestion that the bag limit be cut to 500.

No date for the opening of the hunt has as yet been set.

While extensible business of the meeting will be discussion of this hunt, officials indicated that the season would become a round-table discussion of general game affairs.

Chief among these may be demanding of an adequate explanation for the recent removal of Jim Marshall as head of the state game farm at Jerome, and of charges—later shown to be phantasms at the farm were dismissed.

Rain Halts Play In State Tourney

San Francisco Tennis Star Gains Quarter-Finals at Boise

BOISE, Sept. 4 (AP)—Walter Senior of San Francisco today moved one step nearer the title he is favored to win as rain brought second-day play in Idaho's 20th annual annual tennis tournament almost to a halt.

Senior, ranked twelfth nationally and seeded first in pre-tournament brackets, eliminated Gordon Snow of Provo, Utah, 6-1, 6-2, to gain the quarter-finals. On a championship match he is scheduled Monday.

Four Hawaiian players, entered in the tournament, forfeited their matches when they failed to arrive today. Tourney Chairman Eddie Springer said he heard last from the touring quartet from Oahu, Neb., when they advised him they would be present.

Three of the Hawaiians were among eight seeded players in the tourney.

The Senior-Snow match was the only one even completed today. A sudden shower halted play this morning. With the courts rapidly drying, it was resumed this afternoon but rain again forced players to seek cover.

Le Roy and Jack Albert of Archie, Oreg., triumphed 1927 Idaho high school singles champ Jim Campbell and Joe Overberg, both of Boise, 6-1, 6-1.

Veterans Return To Albion Team

Going Home

By The AP Feature Service

THEY pay off on runs in baseball. Object of every baserunner is to get home as quickly as possible. Runners don't care how they get home. Catchers don't care how they get the runner out. All this makes for more "hot" contact at home plate than anywhere else on the ball field. The pictures below are four of the best home-plate action shots of 1937. They will make you wonder why, in this year of many injuries, there hasn't been much harm done around home. There are two answers: (1) Catchers are protected by heavily-padded equipment; (2) most of the hitters know how to slide.

A RUNNER may dive under a catcher to get home, or he may jump over the mitt man. But Boston Red Sox Outfielder Mills tried to go through Philadelphia Catcher Hayes in an early season game. It didn't work. Mills was out a mile.

AS A MATTER of protection, a runner may come in with his spikes flying high. Red Out, New York Giant fielder, came sliding home safely as the giants battled the Cubs in Chicago. Catcher O'Reg didn't get the ball on OIT.

THIS IS known as the approach from behind. Most of the Boston Red Sox is tagged at the plate by Catcher Girard of the Phillies. It happened when Mayo tried to reach home from third on a fly to center-field. A perfect get out his mind.

CATCHER vs. catcher. Lopez, Boston Red Sox will meet Boston Red Sox catcher Lopez. Lopez won the "ball" from Boston fans whenever more watching than they're at at many a wrestling match as Lopez scored a run for the home town boys.

Burleigh Grimes Fined for Row

NEW YORK, Sept. 4 (AP)—Promoter Jack Kearns, said tonight he has fined Burleigh Grimes, former pitcher of the Detroit Tigers, $100 for rowing with a fellow player on the bench at a game last night.

Grimes, who is a member of the Detroit Tigers, was fined for rowing with a fellow player on the bench at a game last night.

Promoter Kearns Signs Rosenbloom

DETROIT, Sept. 4 (AP)—Promoter Jack Kearns, said tonight he has signed Max Rosenbloom, former pitcher of the Detroit Tigers, to a contract for the 1938 season.

YAWKEY HONORS BIG GAME

CLEVELAND, Sept. 4 (AP)—Yankee owner of the Boston Red Sox, James G. Thompson, announced tonight the purchase of a record 14 players from minor league clubs.

These included pitcher Alvin Dark, who had been with the Philadelphia Athletics.

Title Shot in Bag, Schmeling Boards Bremen

Jubilant Over Re-match With Joe Louis, German Doesn't Mind Long Wait and Loss of $100,000

NEW YORK, Sept. 4 (AP)—It's exciting Max Schmeling two years of waiting and perhaps $100,000 in loss to get his long sought chance to fight the world heavyweight boxing championship in the return match with Joe Louis. It is now scheduled for next June.

"That it's worth it," smiled the black haired German before he boarded the Bremen tonight on his way home. "I do not mind making concessions, as long as I am sure I will have the chance to win back the title."

Grets Short End

Schmeling will start the short end of a 40-20 per centage split with Louis for next year's return bout, which is to be a million dollar fight. The German stands to make around $200,000. He could have had the much larger $500,000 guaranteed on a 30-30 split, if he had signed with Jacobs prior to the Bradlee-Louis title bout in June. At that time, Schmeling preferred to go through with the legal industry, instituted by Madison Square Garden.

The fight probably will be held in the Yankee stadium, the chief venue of June, but promoter Jacobs will not make any decision until he has given details thought to the trustees of Philadelphia's Municipal stadium or Chicago's Soldier Field as site.

Plan Tune-Up Bout

Schmeling and Louis both expect to have so-called "tune-up" bouts before they meet again. The German said today he probably would fight once in Germany and perhaps once in the United States for an indoor bout at Madison Square Garden under Jacob's direction. He has a special opponent in mind. Under the contract he signed yesterday Max is barred from meeting Bradlee, Tommy Farr, Bob Fitzsimmons and the Beer brothers, Max and Buddy.

Louis' title will be at stake; any time he steps into the ring, but this risk will be minimized in any fight the Negro undertakes in the interim. While Schmeling's chances be in a return match with Louis' with the two year interval be to the advantage of the Negro champion, who is 10 years younger, or has Joe already begun to fade? Will the latter of last year's knockout haunt Louis?

Many critics believe Louis has already passed his peak in confidence, and will not last much longer as titlist. They consider his inability to do anything more than job Tommy Farr as the tip-off.

Schmeling himself will be among the last to under-estimate Louis in the fight they meet. The German has confidence in himself but also respect for the Negro's punching power. They return match to the greatest "natural" star of the days of the League-Tanner-Jones, and also the biggest potential money-maker.

DEAF

One of the tragic things of life is the fact that so many deaf people are going along with the mistaken idea that nothing can be done to help them. It is absolutely not true. A matter of fact, there are very few deaf people in this country who are not making good things out of their condition. We will prove this statement without cost to any deaf, deaf-blind or deaf-mute person who will take the trouble to investigate. If you want help, write today and we will do the rest.

German Ace Downs Young American in Four-Set Struggle

Budge's Chief Rival Beats Don McNeill, 6-1, 6-3, 2-6, 6-1; English Southpaw Wins Battle With Henry Culley

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 4 (AP)—They threw two American youngsters to the foreign lions of the men's national singles championships today, and the lions found them hard to digest.

While form held true through the third afternoon of competition that saw lower half brackets filled in the round of sixteen of both men's and women's play, two of the highest ranking overseas threats for the title Don Budge hopes to add to his collection of 11 slugged their toes severely.

One was Baron Gottfried von Cramm, Budge's chief rival for the honor of being the world's best amateur. The other was Charles Edgar Hale, southpaw slugger from England.

They, together with Panfurlu Nakajima and three of the four seeded Americans, who saw action pains out on top, but had little of a stadium crowd that varied between 5,000 and 8,000 spectators, had been thrilled by the game stands of their unseeded rivals.

Von Cramm, Germany's Davis cup ace, had to go four sets to subdue Don McNeill, brilliant young Kentucky college student from Oklahoma City, 6-1, 6-2, 2-6, 6-1. Hale battled beautifully to put out Henry Culley, Californian known chiefly for his doubles skill, 4-6, 2-6, 6-4, 6-1, 6-1.

Two of four matches played in the stadium, they undoubtedly were the outstanding contests of a day that saw Bobby Rigg, Betsy Grant and Hal Stryker, Americans seeded second, fourth and sixth, run fourth round, berth while seventh-seeded John McMane, the only American to break in the list of ranked Americans.

McMane, leading Merriam Cunningham of Nashville, Tenn., at 3-6, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4, 6-1, was forced to default at that point. He had received word that his father was gravely ill in Chicago, and withdrew from the tournament.

Riggs and Grant advanced with ease into fourth round playings with Nakajima and Wayne Sabon of Hollywood, respectively. The little Los Angeles youngster scored at 6-4, 6-4, 6-4, over William Robertson, a fellow kovanman, while Grant clinched.

Taylor Regrets Delay in Test

Attorney General Recalls Early Questioning of Product Advertising

BOISE, Sept. 4. (AP)—Legality of Idaho's fruit-and-vegetable advertising commission, created by the 1933 legislature, should have been determined, Attorney General J. W. Taylor indicated today at the time he made our suggestions as to its invalidity.

Taylor said he had questioned validity of the act which imposes a 1-cent-per-pound weight tax on produce, apples, onions and potatoes that was marketed in the state — last May 29 in reply to a letter by Guy Graham, commissioner of agriculture and chairman of the commission.

The commissioner disregarded the position of this office and entered upon the advertising campaign, Taylor said, as president of the commission.

"A few days ago a delegation of about 25 farmers from Canyon county called on me, stating that they intended to test the legality of the commission's action."

"Graham was invited in and it was agreed that a friendly suit should be instituted in order to obtain a decision of the supreme court as quickly as possible. This office is ready to assist all it can to that end, only regret being that the law was not tested at the time our suggestions as to its invalidity."

Because In Firestone Tires

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST BLOWOUTS—eight extra pounds of rubber are added to every 100 pounds of cord by the Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process. By this process every cord in every ply is saturated with liquid rubber. This counteracts internal friction and heat that ordinarily cause blowouts.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST PUNCTURES—because under the tread are two extra layers of Gum-Dipped cords.

YOU GET EXTRA PROTECTION AGAINST SKIDDING—because the tread is scientifically designed.

YOU GET LONGER NON-SKID MILEAGE because of the extra tough, long-wearing tread.
