elections are not won by fitness for office but on such grounds as the following: Political pull, money, graft and bribery; efficient political machine; lavish use of propaganda and false promises; personality; and the indifference or ignorance of voters.

That is a sad state of mind for the youth of any country. It is not any less serious because it affects the attitude of many voters. Educators, statesmen and other leaders must act to change this point of view.

Employment opportunities for youth must be improved. There must be better educational and recreational opportunities for young people forced out of school prematurely.

Young Americans do not like "quitters" in other fields of life, are they willing to be quitters themselves in this important field of representative government?

Other Points of View

MOB LAW IN THE WEST The implications in the outburst of mob violence against organized labor in scattered localities in the West are serious and must be gravely disturbing to all thoughtful citizens.

Down in California at the gold-mining camp of Grass Valley a mob of 150 citizens gathered in the town of the city of the gold, beating and burning out of the community all known CIO members and sympathizers.

Violence in the West is not new. It is a part of the life of the West. It is a part of the life of the West. It is a part of the life of the West.

Everyone believes in tolerance and constitutional freedom. It is a part of the life of the West. It is a part of the life of the West. It is a part of the life of the West.

That cut on the finger. Ask the man who knows, and he'll probably tell you he would just as soon—perhaps rather—break a leg.

There is nothing cut so handicap and cripple a man as a "whisper" wound on the first finger of the right hand. It is the same with the leg.

Now if a man breaks a leg, he is sent to the hospital and he makes no effort to carry on his work at home or office. He is sent to the hospital and he makes no effort to carry on his work at home or office.

So the man who breaks a leg is sent to the hospital and he makes no effort to carry on his work at home or office. He is sent to the hospital and he makes no effort to carry on his work at home or office.

WASHINGTON By Ray Tucker. SHUTTER. The growth and spread of the undercurrent movement to detest Roosevelt is a fact.

It involves party opponents personally close and friendly to Mr. Roosevelt, but more devoted to the party than they are to him. It also embraces men selfishly ambitious to occupy high office, but who realize that they are on F. D. R.'s blacklist.

It includes congressional leaders in both chambers who have convinced themselves at least that his economic theories will not work in the United States. Every day they become more sure of this.

OUR CHILDREN

Why do hills? "Marianne is utterly indifferent to school. She has no interest in anything that goes on there. She comes to school every day to make up work, but she doesn't mind that. And she knows no more about the lesson next day than she did the day she was in to learn it."

"I have coached her after school hours at home. I'm exhausted after a term of this. Something has to be done. I've tried to get her to be promoted, of course. And she doesn't care. I've deprived her of everything I can think of to get her to work. Pretty clothes hang in her closet waiting for her to get a good mark. Dolls are locked in a bureau drawer, waiting for her to be promoted. No dessert, no movies, no ride in the car, and still she won't study. She has to be helped by herself and sings. Her father feels sorry for her and thinks she can't help it. I know she can't help it."

NINE INJURED IN TRAIN ACCIDENT

Union Pacific Challenger Cars Overturned by Broken Rail

LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 14 (AP)—Nine persons were injured, none seriously, when a broken rail overturned two cars of the Union Pacific's passenger train, the Challenger, today—and derailed—three others.

The accident occurred 43 miles southwest of here. The Challenger was eastbound and traveling, said Engineer Ralph Salt, between 45 and 50 miles an hour.

Those injured were two passengers and seven members of the crew.

Miss Ava Whallon, 44, of Sacramento, Calif., a secretary, sustained cuts and bruises—and a back injury. She was caught in the end of the train.

Mrs. Mary Goodland, 77, of Omaha, Neb., suffered shock and was bruised and cut. She was lying on her back at the time of the accident.

Crew members hurt were Ira M. Davis, 50, of Minneapolis, and Le Roy Bird, 46, Charles W. Hill, 25, Jesse Thompson, 40, Leslie Turner, 38, Henry Orr, 42, and Charles H. Tatum, all of Los Angeles. They were all Negroes.

The injured persons were in the lounge car and diner which turned completely over, and in one Pullman which went off the rails and came to a halt.

A "shooty" was built around the ripped up track and train service was delayed late today after ten hours' delay.

MASTERS SEEKS CONGRESS POST

Idaho Secretary of State Announces Candidacy for Nomination

BOISE, April 14 (AP)—Secretary of State Ira H. Masters, former newspaper publisher at Twin Falls, and Postello, announced today he would be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Democratic nomination as a second district congressman.

D. Worth Clark of Postello, present representative, announced several weeks ago he would seek the Democratic nomination for United States senator, a post now held by Senator James P. Pope.

Two other second district congressmen are already in the field. They are Bert H. Miller, former Idaho attorney general, and Dr. C. W. Tenney, former Gooding college president. Miller is a Democrat; Dr. Tenney a Republican.

Platform Summarized

Briefly, Masters said, his platform would be:

"1. Encouragement of low-cost housing to make 30,000,000 persons home owners in place of one-fourth of our population living in shacks and slums.

"2. Better markets for Idaho's surplus agricultural products by means of lower freight rates.

"3. Development of Idaho's phosphate deposits by means of cheaper electrical energy through federal power plants and creation of additional reservoirs.

New Boundary for Yellowstone Urged

HELENA, Mont., April 14 (AP)—A movement to seek congressional action on a proposal to alter the northern boundary of Yellowstone national park has been started in southern Montana. It was learned here today.

Petitions, bearing 216 names, have been sent to the Washington office of Representative James P. O'Connor of the second Montana congressional district, seeking his assistance in the plan.

The petitioners would have the park boundary altered so as to place under Montana jurisdiction about 4,000 acres of land in what is known as the Crevice mountain district.

Jerome Farmers Wait for Quotas

JEROME, April 14.—Local committee of the A. G. A. are still reading word from the state headquarters as to what the potato, wheat, and soil depletion bases will be for Jerome county in 1938.

Until this information is received the committee will be unable to set the individual allotments but local farmers will plant their crops with no knowledge of what the goals will be set for farm.

In view of this situation committee suggest that farmers go ahead with their plantings, keeping in mind that potato allotments will be set and that marketing quotas for potatoes might be established.

MASTERS SEEKS CONGRESS POST

Ira H. Masters, Idaho secretary of state and former newspaper publisher at Twin Falls and Postello, announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for second district Idaho representative in congress.

BOISE, April 14 (AP)—Secretary of State Ira H. Masters, former newspaper publisher at Twin Falls, and Postello, announced today he would be a candidate for the Republican nomination for Democratic nomination as a second district congressman.

D. Worth Clark of Postello, present representative, announced several weeks ago he would seek the Democratic nomination for United States senator, a post now held by Senator James P. Pope.

Two other second district congressmen are already in the field. They are Bert H. Miller, former Idaho attorney general, and Dr. C. W. Tenney, former Gooding college president. Miller is a Democrat; Dr. Tenney a Republican.

Platform Summarized

Briefly, Masters said, his platform would be:

"1. Encouragement of low-cost housing to make 30,000,000 persons home owners in place of one-fourth of our population living in shacks and slums.

"2. Better markets for Idaho's surplus agricultural products by means of lower freight rates.

"3. Development of Idaho's phosphate deposits by means of cheaper electrical energy through federal power plants and creation of additional reservoirs.

"4. Coordination of prison laws and enforcing law enforcement agencies to check criminals from dodging from one state to another; enactment of uniform national criminal laws for professional law breakers.

"5. Strict regulation of social diseases by means of federal health officials and construction of federal hospitals."

PASSENGER FARE INCREASE DENIED

Eastern Railroads Fail to Win Commerce Commission Approval

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—Eastern railroads failed today to win permission from the Interstate Commerce Commission to increase their long passenger coach fares from 2 to 2.5 cents a mile.

A bare majority of the commission denied the carriers' request, expressing belief increased coach fares probably would produce revenue results less favorable to the roads than present charges.

Commissioner Frank McManamy, one of the Association of American Railroads' members who dissented, said the majority opinion is:

"It is my opinion that in its utter disregard for the weight of the evidence, the established principles of law, the needs of the industry, and the welfare of this country, this decision stands alone."

While the 2-cent fare has been in effect, the majority said, passenger coach service has about reached the point of paying its own way and returning a profit.

"That basis should not be disturbed, especially during a period of hard recession, except on a persuasive showing that a basic different from the present would result in a substantial increase in net revenue."

Shortly after the decision was announced, the Association of American Railroads reported 89 class 1 railroads, representing 82.8 per cent of total operating revenues, had March operating revenues of $232,066,029, compared with $310,864,712 in March, 1937, and $307,625,029 in the same month of 1936.

REBELS STRIKE ON TWO FRONTS

Insurgents Move Toward Andorra on North, Sea on South

HENDAYE, FRANCE (By the Spanish Frontier), April 14 (AP)—Spanish insurgents tonight whipped the ends of their 150-mile eastern Spanish front toward the Mediterranean on the south and Andorra on the north.

General Miguel Aranda's troops drove from San Mateo into the 20-mile village of La Jara, some 14 miles by air from the sea and 19 miles by highway from coastal Vinaros.

Fire in the north, amid snow-covered mountain slopes, insurgents took control of the village of Tor, three miles from where Andorra's western frontier with Spain strikes the French border.

Government reports between these points, east of Balaguer, the government fought desperately in an effort to break the insurgent advance into the interior of Lleida province.

Government dispatches reported that after heavy fighting yesterday Catalan militiamen gained a foothold in the village of Vallfogosa, two and one-half miles southeast of Balaguer.

The government established a definite line of defense between Vallfogosa and Canaurea, seven miles northwest of Balaguer, and both the road southeast from Balaguer to Vilagrosa and the highway running northeast from Balaguer to Seo de Urgel.

Government reports said the entry of Catalan troops into Vallfogosa was preceded by a heavy artillery barrage.

Then a wave of "dimitteras" forced their way into the narrow streets, launching their homemade dynamite bombs into the retreating insurgent ranks.

In the southern sector, scene of the La Jara insurgent success, a column supporting General Aranda's main force reached the outskirts of Cervera Del Maestre, south of La Jara, on a road which reaches its end at Benicarlo.

The Boxwood Barrier

By BLANCH SMITH FERGUSON

The Story So Far: Judith Goodland has the code of an old Maryland family to support her. Her father, Oliver, has made the ethics of his own making. Loving another man, Judith marries Reuben for his money to discover after the wedding, that his fortune has been lost. Reuben loses Judith's respect and offers to release her. Judith determines to stick to her bargain.

Chapter 20 Gentleman's Agreement

Reuben's failure was as complete as the darkness which follows the blowing out of a five-hundred-watt electric light. If he had admitted to them—if he went like a whipped dog with his tail between his legs—but he wouldn't go. He'd stay here—pick up a chair.

At such time with a humility that sat strangely upon him, he said: "Judith, the way the tip is off, I've got to stay and fight for my life." He took the envelope containing two long strips of paper from his pocket. "I'm turning these in," he said, "and I'm looking at her, 'till I'm going down to the floor, there may be a receipt of importance."

"I'll go with you," said Reuben. "I'll take you everywhere I come."

"I'll take you everywhere I come," she had never been on a big boat before. She was continually delighted with everything she saw—the great wall of the ship's hull, the shining stairways, the ringing, clanging groups of people. The cabin that was to have been theirs—was literally filled with boxes, candy boxes, wrapped wedding presents, that had been sent directly to the liner.

Hurriedly Judith read cards. At last she came to the one she searched for—"Gods of love and good luck from Gary," the card read. It was attached to an Indian bracelet of beaten silver and set with turquoise. "That's an expensive artistic trinket," said Reuben. "Judith slipped the bracelet over her wrist and held it out for her husband's inspection. From Gary—a bit breathlessly, Reuben glanced at it critically: "A cheap thing."

"But pretty."

"Quite. A duplicate of the one you wore at our wedding."

"I thought it had a familiar look," Judith achieved a lightness. "Ready?" Reuben asked. "The tip is in his pocket, 'Gosh, did you ever see so much plunder!'"

"How will we get it all away?" "We'll let it stay."

"Let it stay? Wedding presents—bon voyage gifts—I want them, every one."

"The stuff-filled four-taxi beside the one they rode in."

"The next day they moved from the elaborate suite to a room with bath. The gay baskets with their pert bows, the flowers, the boxes, got little space for Judith and Reuben. He had to remove long stemmed American Beauties from the bath tub before he could begin. He tied his tie before a mirror almost obliterated with blooms.

"I don't want to go," he said. "I can't come back without ready cash. I'll have to make more background could undoubtedly have staved off debt poverty, but Reuben had flashed money like from nowhere. He was doomed to be swallowed up by obscurity just as quickly, unless—"

"I refuse to stoop."

"He had one hope—a rare candle about it that night. "I can start again—make you comfortable, Judy, if—"

"His spirit of courage deserted him. He sounded unconvincing even to himself."

"Well?"

"He rushed on striving for confidence. "If you will lend me $100,000 of the money I gave you."

"He was too surprised for speech. The silence was so prolonged it curdled as cream does under sudden summer lightning. "I can't lend it," he said. "It was squandered. He should have been content but it was impossible to feel anything but a warm water the room of her eyes."

"All that was left from the debt I signed over to my grandmother."

"You can get it back."

"You're asking me to recall—a bill?" Another even hearing the perfect-like tread between them. "What would that be?"

"What would that be?" "What would that be?" "What would that be?" "What would that be?"

"What would that be?" "What would that be?" "What would that be?" "What would that be?"

of the hold. I'll live up to it as best I can. The money was your part—now you want it back? Well, she raised defiant eyes and said: "You won't get it! I'm going to keep them—safe."

"Then go home and be safe with them," angrily, "I'll make allowance for you, Reuben. I'm sorry. It's a little soon was more serious than any outburst. "What's poverty to fear?"

The day she sat on one of the twin beds. He sat on the other. He was wearing dinner jacket, a sandwich. Save for the buffeted in his lounge eyes he looked like a man who has the world in a sling. He said with a slight hesitation: "You know I have neither background nor influence, such as his surrounded you all your life?"

"I know."

"I have a few friends—damn good ones. I can borrow a little from each."

"When she said nothing his resentment flared anew. "That doesn't show."

"They're your friends," she reminded him.

"He felt a savage desire to hit her, to hurt her. She was gazing him too far."

"I have my own notions of what's white and what's yellow," he said crookedly. "I learned to discriminate in a hard school where you have to do your thinking quickly and straight."

Not quite meaning to be found himself telling her something of his early life.

"Protects—beautiful. Cruel too. Cold Hunger—striving with the still beasts. The valiant effort of the 11 year old boy to act a man's part."

"To share with a buddy, take your medicine standing—light for your rights, not to let off—that's about all I had to go on—'till now I had a good one."

She was stirred by a play of the sort one feels for an ill used animal. They without the sympathy of kinship. Coarse men, dirty, ignorant, rough, were alien to her.

He felt something of this. But the floodgates were opened. "Even in those days with men cursing, fighting, killing, I think I knew there were some like you, Judith. I had my dream of wife and home. It was for you I wanted power jobs, all that was finest and best. I never want you to touch the dark side of life?"

He tried again to make her understand what poverty can be—a gradual letting down. Squall. Dullness. Defeat. "I'm not afraid of those things, Reuben. I'm sticking."

They moved to a smaller hotel. Judith gave the chambermaid the ornamental baskets. She stored the wedding presents in the closet, under the beds. She spent the days out of doors. Each evening when Reuben came home tired and discouraged, he found her waiting, defiantly cheerful, bubbling over with news of the day.

He found her chatter soothing. It helped him to forget—for a while—to gather courage to face another day.

They never mentioned the hedge or borrowing money from Gary again. They seldom mentioned anything of vital importance. Instead they went nonchalantly in theaters, to night clubs where they spent money they could not afford to spend. They drank, they ate of soft opiates. Haze of smoke. Unhappily insular. Fumble of glasses. Fragments for an hour.

MOTOR TRAVEL GAINS SIGHTED

Automobile Association Manager Predicts Increase for Idaho

NAMPA, Idaho, April 15 (AP). C. C. Cole, Idaho manager of the American Automobile association, predicted today an increased number of vacation travelers would use motor highways this season. It has been officially predicted, he explained to a meeting of representatives of chamber of commerce, hotels, cafe and auto clubs of the southern Idaho region, that consumption of gasoline during the six months will be between 3 to 4 per cent higher nationally than during the corresponding period last year, presenting an even further gain in the state of motor travel.

Secretary of State H. H. Moore, who announced his candidacy today for the Democratic nomination for second district congressman, urged the use of "honest advertising and publicity" to increase tourist spending in Idaho.

"Last year," he said, "we secured from the state of funds and automobile travelers totaling approximately $20,000,000."

By use of a reasonable amount of advertising it is estimated we can take $25,000,000 or even $30,000,000 from the tourists who visit Idaho in the next year.

Cole said Idaho's increase in gasoline consumption during the first six months of 1937 was compared with the same period a year earlier, was 15 per cent.

Gasoline used in the state in 1937 was 2.7 per cent greater than in 1936.

Paul Murphy, state chamber of commerce assistant secretary, outlined this state's plan for an exhibit at the 1938 San Francisco world's fair.

Baseball Fans Get New Deal at Major League Parks

Tigers and Chicago Cubs Complete Huge Rebuilding Programs

Improvements Include Increased Seating Capacity

By SID FREDER
NEW YORK, April 14 (AP)—Mr. Gus H. Fan hardly will know some of the old places when he steps through the turnstiles into his favorite big league ball park for opening day next week.

From the $1,000,000 rebuilding program in the Detroit Tiger bridge stadium, to the Yankee tumble from the anti-ladies day society, there's pretty much of a new deal for the bleachers and the grandstands.

The Tigers have increased the seating capacity of Briggs stadium from 20,000 to 25,000, making it second only to Yankee stadium in the big leagues. The Cubs, also completing a $1,000,000 reconstruction program in Wrigley Field, went artistic and planted flowers and vines along the center field bleacher wall.

Perhaps the most drastic change was Col. Jake Ruppert's conversion to New York's feminine fandom. The Giants and Dodgers have had ladies' day for years, but always the loud and mighty Yanks refused the sloop to such tactics. However, this year they're making every Friday day for the girls.

In Cincinnati, the Reds are finally getting around to giving the fans what they've asked for—diamond seating. The new seats in the grandstand are the toughest park in the majors to clout a ball out of the lot.

Any idea of staging the match race in September, the original date suggested, was dispensed by Whitney, who said Howard had not yet agreed to offering that purse for the fall date.

Howard had halfway wanted the later date so that he could remain here and race this summer at the Philadelphia track. He has now agreed to offer a $50,000 handicap in July.

Trains at Pimlico
BALTIMORE, April 14 (AP)—Charles Howard's Seabiscuit, Admiral's challenger in the $100,000 match race at Belmont Park May 30, will receive preliminary training among Jack's stable horses for the Dixie handicap this May 11.

A. O. Vandenberg, vice president of the Dixie track, said he has received word from Howard, now on the west coast, that the "Biscuit" will be shipped east on Monday, with a string of 23 other Howard racers.

Persons close to the 20-year-old Italian outsider believe he would sign in short order if owner Col. Jacob Ruppert of the Yanks would accept them without incurring his price. They think DiMaggio is as anxious to play ball as the 26-year-old manager is to see him return to the fold.

Colinet Ruppert was reported in New York to be considering offering a bonus to induce DiMaggio to accept. The Joe has been offered $100,000 but he doesn't want it—just want an increase in writing in the contract.

Joe's manager has been managing his successful restaurant on Fisherman's wharf. He has kept in condition by working out heavily with the San Francisco club, the Pacific Coast league club on which he got his professional start.

It won't be the first time Joe will have missed his club's opening game. A foot burn kept him out of uniform for the opener two years ago and last year he was disabled for 17 days by a foul operation.

LUIBERTI PAYS FINE
REDWOOD CITY, Calif., April 14 (AP)—Angelo "Frank" LuiBERTI, Redford basketball star, was fined $15 today on a plea of guilty to speeding 15 miles an hour in a 45-mile zone.

LuiBERTI did not appear in court, a "mailing" letter to the court which he said "I will drive within the speed limit in the future."

Sluggers GIANTS FIRST IN POLL OF EXPERTS

NEW YORK, April 14 (AP)—The Giants to race out Chicago for the pennant, and the Cincinnati Reds to climb from the cellar to fifth place—that's the way major league baseball writers figure the 1938 National league race.

The Giants favored to retain the flag for the third straight year, drew 31 first-place votes from 60 writers who cast ballots in the annual Associated Press poll. The Cubs pulled 22 votes for first and 23 for second place, while the Philadelphia Phillies were split, four for the St. Louis Cardinals and three for the Pittsburgh Pirates, who were rated in that order to round out the first division. The Cards were the pennant choice a year ago.

Wall Street Views F.D.R.'s Spending Program as 'Highly Inflationary'

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

NEW YORK, April 14.—The stock market rallied today, though not as much as the president's recovery program, involving several billions of dollars in spending and lending and credit expansion was widely expected.

The relatively optimistic Wall Street response to what President Roosevelt's spending program was widely expected to be, was attributed by many quarters to a variety of factors.

Among these were: There was no particular element of surprise in the White House and other official circles, these having been fairly well forecast in previous Washington financial quarters; most trading floors desired to find out the attitude of the legislators toward the proposals, in addition to waiting for what the chief executive had to say in his evening "fireside chat" broadcast to the nation.

The list dipped in the forenoon, picked up slightly when the president's announcement appeared on the news tickers, slipped again later and turned up once more in the final hour to rise 2 or more points at the close.

The Associated Press average of 60 issues rose up 2 of a point at 38.7. Transfers totaled 1,009,480 shares compared with 641,233 yesterday.

Among corporate issues heavy climbing proceeds in the bond department, U. S. governments enjoyed a fast run.

WHEAT FORECAST

Idaho's Indicated Production Largest Since 1930

BOISE, April 14.—The largest winter wheat crop produced in Idaho since 1928-29, 10,000,000 bushels, was forecast for 1938 by Richard C. Ross, federal crop statistician, on information available to April 14.

Moisture conditions have been unusually favorable since last fall. Ross said, "resulting in light abandonment of wheat seedlings and was in an unusually good condition on the first of this month."

If present prospects materialize, the crop will be nearly 22 per cent larger than the average 1927-1936 crop and six per cent larger than the 1937 crop.

Combined stocks of wheat, oats and corn on farms April 1, was reported as about a fifth larger than last year, but about six per cent smaller than the 10-year average.

Farm stocks of wheat at present was estimated at 3,057,000 bushels, compared with 1,937,000 bushels in 1937, 2,009,000 bushels and the 10-year average of 2,900,000 bushels.

IDAHO MINE TAX AID TO SCHOOLS

Revenues Accumulate Under State Law in Equalization Fund

BOISE, April 14.—Idaho's public school equalization fund had $68,236 today, the state auditor's office reported, but more than $200,000 of that amount can not be distributed to counties before next October.

Under Idaho law, explained State School Superintendent J. W. Condie, "we can distribute to the counties only the amount we estimated at the beginning of the fiscal year would be available to the equalization fund."

"We placed that estimate at $507,000. Already in the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1937, the counties have been given $567,000, leaving a balance due them of $232,121, the amount that will be distributed to them this month."

"All money remaining in the fund must be carried over into the 1938-1939 fiscal year."
