40 YEARS SINCE WAR WITH SPAIN

Events Leading to New U. S. Policy Recalled on Anniversary

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP)—Forty years ago Monday the United States declared war on Spain and embarked on a policy that involved her heavily in the Far East.

From April 23, 1898 dates the policy some writers have called "the great aberration" which brought us the Philippines, Puerto Rico and Guam and stretched our lines of interest far to the east.

"On that day telegraph lines carried the fatal news that congress had declared a state of war with Spain.

"The nation had already gone through two stirring months, with war alarms ringing in the land.

"The battleship Maine was blown up in Havana harbor February 15, with the loss of 260 American officers and crew.

"Money Appropriated

"Three weeks after the Maine sank congress unanimously appropriated $50,000,000 "for the purchase and each and every purpose connected therewith."

"Next the United States presented Spain with a series of demands designed to bring independence to Cuba, then in the throes of revolution.

"The queen of Spain replied by giving orders to Captain-General Blanco in Cuba to suspend hostilities with the Cuban revolutionaries so as to prepare for and facilitate negotiations.

"On April 5 President McKinley decided to submit the Cuban question to congress.

"Until American citizens were evacuated from Havana.

"Europe Alarmed

"Europe was alarmed at the threatening ward clouds. The pope offered mediation.

"Germany took the lead, through her ally Austria-Hungary, in making peace representations here and there. Germany's diplomatic documents show, was anxious to prevent war because she had a plan in mind for purchasing the Spanish islands in the Pacific, including the Philippines.

"Austria-Hungary lined up Great Britain, France, Italy and Russia to join with her and Germany in a joint note presented to the six ambassadors to President McKinley April 8.

"Nevertheless, on April 11 President McKinley's message went to congress. He recommended the use of the United States army in enforcing peace in Cuba.

"Congress on April 19 passed a joint resolution declaring Cuba independent, demanding Spain to draw from Cuba, empowering the president to use the army, navy and militia to carry out this demand, claiming any intention to annex Cuba.

"The president signed the joint resolutions April 20. On the same date he sent an ultimatum to Spain, expiring April 22 at noon, Spain not having answered, congress declared that a state of war existed since April 21.

MAGINOT LINE OF AIR SAFEGUARD TO FRANCE

By CHARLES S. FOLTZ, JR. PARIS (Correspondence of the Associated Press)—The mighty Maginot line, built to stop Germany's land forces should they again invade France, backed by a "Maginot Line of the Air."

Maneuvers have shown the French general staff that some bombing planes can still get through the most effective defenses they have found.

Their plan is to make the Maginot air defenses as perfect as possible in the hope of stopping at least part of an invading air fleet, before it reaches behind-the-line objectives.

The French air defense plan starts inside Germany itself where French espionage agents have prepared means of warning about bombers leaving for France. Only war can decide whether those means are effective or not.

If they fail the first warning will be the mechanical and radio "ears" on the French frontier—glint sound detectors.

French engineers say their detectors can catch a sound of plane motors thousands of feet up and automatically train anti-aircraft guns on the invading fleet.

Trin fighting planes, the fastest units of the French air force, stand day and night on the fields and in the underground airbases of the Maginot, ready for action.

They are the radio-equipped "Paul Horner" of the French frontier, the eyes of the army whose first duty is to signal the approach of an enemy air fleet and, then, in practical, to give battle.

They flash word to all the air defenses units in the battle zone behind it. Once their job is done it's up to the fighting squadrons and the DCA—the anti-aircraft defense service—to go into action.

Quarantine Order For Swan Valley

BOISE, April 23 (AP)—Dr. E. T. Elliot, state veterinarian, ordered an area in Swan Valley near the Wyoming line in Bonanza county quarantined today to prevent spread of sarcoptic mange mite.

Approximately 10 farms are included in the area.

Livestock, under terms of the quarantine order, may not be shipped from the farms to feedyards, Dr. Elliot said, until the disease is "cleared up."

All of the farms in the region, he explained, do not have infected cattle but the quarantine order was extended to all of them.

Farmers of the valley cooperated with civilian conservation corps employees in constructing a dipping station. Infected cattle will be run through that vat, Dr. Elliot said.

"THE WORLD OWES ME A LIVING" By Ella M. White

"The other day, I heard someone say, 'on the street, "Well, the world owes me a living and I—" and then I passed on and out of earshot. I hope that particular man reads this article, because it is sort of aimed at him.

"The world owes you a living, you say. Why? Why does the world owe you anything? You came into it unasked, and you came naked and helpless and hungry and weak. And the world welcomed you and made a place for you. It fed you and clothed you; guarded and guided you; it has surrounded you with beauty and beauty, it has made it possible for you to enjoy great and inspiring music; it has brought great art into free museums for your enjoyment; it has brought you in books; free to read at any public library, all that men before you have learned of truth in history, science and philosophy. The problem you all of us should consider is this: "How can I repay even a small part of what I owe to the world?"

And, who knows, perhaps a little more reflection on this point, would result in you doing something really worth while, which, in turn, would contribute greatly to the quality of our living; you are worrying about.

Next Sunday Mrs. White of the Well Mortuary, Inc., will comment on this day

A SUGGESTION: A Twin Falls man who owns his home and is engaged in business here remarked the other day what he termed an increasing popular interest in the administration and expenditures of public affairs.

REPUBLIC OR DEMOCRACY?: "For too long a period," complains a reader, "Americans have been entirely too careless in the use of political terms."

So an old argument is renewed. It is complicated because one of our big political parties is "Republican" and the other "Democratic," so that partisan prejudice often gets into the definitions.

Historically there were real distinctions between the two terms. But in America, particularly in this century, it becomes harder to distinguish.

The Century Dictionary defines "democracy" as "government by the people; a form of government in which the supreme power is vested in the people and exercised by them or their elected agents."

It defines "republic" as "a state in which the supreme power rests in the body of citizens entitled to vote and is exercised by representatives chosen directly or indirectly by them."

To a man from Mars there wouldn't seem to be much difference between the two concepts. The original "democracies" were Greek city-states where all the citizens voted.

A KID'S FORTUNE: The case of Jackie Gogan, the precocious "Kid" who curled millions for his parents in the film and is now living in comparative poverty, seems to be more than a mere family matter, though his mother and stepfather regard it as such.

BETTER BUSINESS: What happened to the vermouth you used to love? It's found he could make more money by selling potato.

ANOTHER LANGUAGE: "Bring up a plate of food," said the other. "The waiter walked over to the kitchen elevator. He saw there was a chance," he called down the speaking tube.

powers. The Union Jack will continue flying over Gibraltar. British connections with India and Italian connections with Ethiopia will be safe. Britain will get the League of Nations to recognize Mussolini's conquest, and after that all he will have to do will be to conquer it. The natives are still fighting.

GREATEST DISTRIBUTOR OF WEALTH: It isn't widely known—but one American industry "primed the national pump" to the tune of $3,000,000 last year. And it didn't do it by going into debt, or exploiting the taxpayer.

Other Points of View: DANGEROUS TO COPY: It has been the practice among administration apologists for the past year in the national debt to point to certain agencies which when taken into account, write the debt to more reasonable proportions.

WHY NOT LOOK AT THE PUMP: How many unemployed there are in the United States today depends in a large measure upon the accuracy of the figures. Radical labor leaders claimed it is 14 million; Labor Affairs figures claim it is 14 million; the federal department of labor put the figure of unemployed at 14 million.

ARDENT NEW DEALERS SELECT WALLACE TO TOP 1940 TICKET: NEW YORK WALLIG: By James McMillin. WALLIGERS: Put this one down in the book of Wallig. It is the group of ardent New Dealers who have in their White House circles have picked the one they believe to be the best man for the job.

BREAKFAST FOOD: What not instead of looking at the outfit of primer fuel, start looking at the pump? The trouble, as one economist with declared this work is to be found in the fact that the pump is not a pump.

A KID'S FORTUNE: The case of Jackie Gogan, the precocious "Kid" who curled millions for his parents in the film and is now living in comparative poverty, seems to be more than a mere family matter, though his mother and stepfather regard it as such.

BETTER BUSINESS: What happened to the vermouth you used to love? It's found he could make more money by selling potato.

News in Twin Falls

Taken From the Twin Falls News Files

30 YEARS AGO: AGENT HERE: John C. Abbott, agent for the Dorris automobile arrived on Monday from Idaho Falls. He left on a Sunday morning for the block and made good run to American Falls, and from there to Burley. The roads were there, and the Dorris frequently dragging in the sand.

16 YEARS AGO: BIRTH NEEDED: With the definite statement that the Annapolis Sugar company would not operate in this section, the Twin Falls district was devoted to the production of sugar beets, the company's headquarters being in the launching of a final campaign to secure additional acreage for this crop.

SCHOOL TEAMS PLAY: On Friday the basketball team from the school left for Albion. On their arrival the ladies of the party were taken to the hotel. The basketball game was exciting and close from the first.

SOCIAL NOTES: Mrs. E. F. Ashby and Mrs. O. C. Stannett entertained four tables of "500" on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. W. Taylor was the successful contestant for high score.

WATER UNSATISFACTORY: The city water which has been ebbing and flowing through the water mains of Twin Falls has of late been of such a quality as to call for an investigation on the part of the city's sanitary department.

EDITORIAL: Suggesting that Twin Falls business firms open up their files to advertising in supplying needed equipment at the tourist park, which is to be opened in May.

SORROW: Scores of Democrats in the house have fallen into a state of melancholy. They are disquieted with economic and political conditions that they are contemplating voluntary retirement from public life.

EDITORIAL: "Dust thou art, to dust thou shalt" may not have been written of the people of this local community, but it is written of the people of the world.

TRAIN SERVICE ARGUED: In addition to arguments based upon claims of necessity and convenience, presented at a series of hearings by residents of districts affected, the state public utilities commission presented a series of arguments of general character.

OUR CHILDREN: The radio has brought to the home a new world of music, and the children are taking some of the older. A hitting melody is more attractive to children than when a musical presentation of a world war.

WASHINGTON

BUDDY: A shabbily dressed marine sailor paced back and forth in front of the "Hoozer pad," which houses the United States Maritime Commission.

MARKSMAN: In naming ex-recipient Franklin D. Roosevelt as the Republican party's first full-fledged propagandist since Al Landon, the National Whirligig has chosen a man who learned practical politics at the knees of two old-fashioned Democratic leaders.

Ardent New Dealers Select Wallace to Top 1940 Ticket

NEW YORK WALLIG: By James McMillin. WALLIGERS: Put this one down in the book of Wallig. It is the group of ardent New Dealers who have in their White House circles have picked the one they believe to be the best man for the job.

TRUSTED: New York political sharpshooters predict that the regular Democratic candidate for Senator from Indiana, Hugh A. Wallace, is not especially distinguishable from the other candidates.

QUALIFIED: Mayor LaGuardia's special plea for enactment of the new Roosevelt spending program is interpreted by critics as a "rejection" of the possible formation of a new "liberal" party for 1940.

FORBIDDEN: Wallace—though his name is still in the air—has been named by the New Deal as the possible choice for the Presidency. General Robert H. Jackson has the most definite in his own mind.

News Behind The News

After the meeting the President admitted that he would like to see the end of the sporty pants-holders. So did several other members of the cabinet except when they heard of the suspensions were the product of the New York state of one of America's most famous designers of clothes.

NUMEROUS members of the majority party, including at least one chairman of an important committee, are thinking of quitting, even though they are not yet out of their districts.

OUR CHILDREN

The radio has brought to the home a new world of music, and the children are taking some of the older. A hitting melody is more attractive to children than when a musical presentation of a world war.

PROGRAMS that make bad manners funny are not good training for children. The child who is taught to laugh at the expense of others is not a child who is being trained to be a good citizen.

AIR CORPS FACES SECRET PROBLEM

U. S. Army Fliers to Test Defense Against Foreign Invaders

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y., April 23 (AP)—The army air corps, armed with the most lethal aerial weapons known to modern science will determine in theory next month what would happen if the military forces of a foreign power tried to invade the richest industrial area in the United States.

For five days more than 200 airplanes and 2,000 men will play at war, attacking and defending the northeastern portion of the country.

The "problem" assigned them is secret. Not until they assemble from the west coast, the south, the middle west and fly east to 20 designated airports for general headquarters air force maneuvers will they get an inkling of what they are expected to do.

Tactical exercises will be carried on for 24 hours a day from May 12 to 17.

The various units of pursuit, attack and bombardment aviation will begin assembling in the east on May 1.

Divide Into Two Forces
Though details of the work, to be done are known only to Major General Frank M. Bortone, commanding the G. H. Q., and his immediate subordinates, it was understood that the 200-odd machines would be divided up to create an "enemy" air force and a defending force.

The purpose, as announced by the War Department, is to solve large scale tactical problems and to test recently revised tables of organization for air base establishments, intended to give fighting air squadrons tactical mobility.

The army has hinted that the area to be "bombed" is bounded by Washington, D. C. on the south and Pittsburgh, Pa. on the west. It will cover New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, the New England states and parts of Maryland and Delaware.

These states are dotted with manufacturing plants vital to defense in wartime, including several aircraft factories and the largest aircraft motor factories which supply almost all of the engines used by the army, navy and marine corps.

Would Start North
The army and navy for long have assumed that a foreign power attempting to land troops on the eastern seaboard of the continent would strike first in Canada or the New England states.

The defenders in next month's make-believe war presumably will try to beat off an effort of the enemy to establish an air base on American shores.

From such a base an enemy could dispatch bombers, planes, whose mission would be to destroy manufacturing plants, including east coast munitions factories, drop explosives on the national capital and cut off New York City from the hinterland.

The army's objective around the nation's biggest city would be railroads, roads and the man-made waterways. The most important of these would be the Erie canal, which carries 100,000,000 gallons of water a day.

Participating in the maneuvers will be three general types of aircraft—pursuit, attack and bombardment, including the air corps' big, big, big "flying fortress," a half dozen of which recently flew from Langley field, Va., to Buenos Aires.

Under the organization of the army, a fourth type, observation aircraft, is assigned to ground forces for "spotting" artillery fire and carrying out similar missions.

Minidoka Scout Awards Approved
The Minidoka district advancement report for the Boy Scouts of America as approved by Scout Executive Amby Frederick Saturday included eight scouts and one scoutmaster, D. F. Furehild, scoutmaster with troop 37, was approved for merit badges in cooking, personal health and safety.

Austin Wilke, troop 53, was approved for a second class rating, while Eugene Long and Keith Winston of troop 51 achieved first class ranking.

Merit badge applications were received from Dale Stoller, troop 50, in animal industry and handicraft; Jimmy Branstetter, troop 55, handicraft and carpentry; Francis Carson, troop 53, handicraft; David Roberts, troop 53, scholarship, electricity and agriculture; and Vernon McDonald, scholarship, electricity, automobile and agriculture.

Hemmett, who trained the young ones at Christianston, troop 37; K. C. Merrill, troop 89; W. D. Lloydson, troop 81; and LaVerne Hughes, troop 53.

BOY'S SNAKE EATS MEAT
HOUQUON, Tex., April 23 (AP)—Hemmett made a coral snake gobble its long fast today.

It ate its mate.

"Cookkeeper" Hema Nagel said it was the first time he had ever heard of a coral snake eating its mate.

"Usually," he said, "they starve to death rather than eat."

Untrammelled Swiss Press Draws Down Nazis' Wrath

By W. STEPHEN BUSH
Some of the "pittiest reprisals" against the foreign press, announced by Chancellor Hitler have been worked out and are now ready for use. Since the newspapers of the major powers—the U. S., Great Britain and France—are out of his reach, Hitler has chosen Switzerland as his next-door neighbor, for his first prospective victim.

The Swiss press has long been a source of annoyance to the Nazi regime. The Swiss head the list of banished correspondents. All of them were "aggravated cases" calling for special degrees of expulsion. The common form, merely to leave Germany, the other sets forth what will happen to John Doe if he tries to return. The mildest penalty is two years in jail and a heavy fine.

Hitler's chief grievance rests on the refusal of the Swiss press to bite on the preposterous stuff handed out by the German Official News Office—"Deutsche Antitliche Nachrichtenstelle". The Swiss maintain their own news service in the Reich and report events as they see them. Hitler and his regime have not always had a good press in the little republic, which has often criticized the acts, the record and the character of the Der Fuehrer himself.

The independence of the Swiss journals is resented particularly because most of them are printed in the German language. In spite of the tight border control the Swiss newspapers have a large circulation in southwestern Germany. The treatment of innocent news in Germany, suppressed or doctored by the muzzled press on one side of the border and fully and fairly reported on the other side, is throwing a powerful beam on German journalism which is based on Nazi news.

Speaking by special authority the "Berliner Hoerzeitung," often chosen as the standard mouthpiece in the field of foreign relations, has issued this sharp warning both to the Swiss press and the Swiss government: "Our neighbors to the southwest will do well to meditate and take to heart what Hitler has said about the international consequences certain to overtake the unbridled and attention-mongering press news. He meant every word of what he said."

"The paper then states frankly that if Switzerland continues to show 'hostility to the third reich' in its news reports and comments it will compel the German government to withdraw its recognition of Swiss neutrality." The Swiss republicable according to the logic of the editor, must run the risk of being considered neutral territory by being neutral in its treatment of the Swiss regime. "Switzerland must learn to be satisfied with the humble position which nature has assigned to it and show proper respect for its powerful neighbor, in whose cultural orbit it belongs by reasons of race, history and language."

The article clearly inspired from on high, has evoked alarm and indignation in the capital of the Swiss confederation throughout the country. The talk about a "push" through northeastern Switzerland, he said, to be among the plans of the German general staff in the event of a war against France is being revived. Besides forfeiture of Swiss neutrality the Berlin government threatens other "possible lessons" to misbehave the German debtors of the German government and of many German municipal and private enterprises. On several occasions Germany has clipped the original rate of interest and reduced the principal. If the press continues to misbehave the German debtors may take refuge in repudiation. Another effective screw would be the increase to a prohibitive figure of the fee for a visa to Switzerland. This would hit the Swiss hotel industry now slowly recovering from a long deflationary crisis.

"The press of Switzerland" reads their defiant reply, "circled in the town of Rigi-Flira," will continue to assert and uphold its time-honored independence. It claims the right to report and to comment on all the great events that interest mankind in the free and honest exercise of its judgment. This right is guaranteed to us by the constitution and we will never tolerate any attempt to limit or abridge it, no matter from what source such an attempt may proceed."—Copyright of a war against France is being (McClure Newspaper Syndicate).

PRISON TERM DEMANDED FOR POLITICS IN RELIEF

WASHINGTON, April 23—Bruce Barton proposed today that congress provide penitentiary sentences for any federal spending official who influences the politics of those receiving government funds.

The veteran advertising man, now a Republican representative from New York, urged this as a safeguard against the President's proposed $4,500,000,000 lending and spending program being used for political purposes. He would provide the penalty by an amendment to the corrupt practices act, which governs campaign expenditures.

"We have protected the employe from the political domination of every employe in the United States except one," Barton said in a statement to the press. "The United States government, the biggest employer of all, with millions of employes on it for the necessities of life, is not free from well-founded charges that its officials are using public funds for private political purposes."

"Citizens that both relief and agricultural funds are being used for political purposes, especially to suppress criticism of any phase of the new deal is to be found in regulations issued by some of the departments themselves," he said. "Democratic leaders in Philadelphia, he added, instructed their committeemen to urge WPA jobholders to 'reject' Democratic in the rate 26 or else lose their jobs."

Barton said that although Attorney-General Cummings found no basis for prosecutions in the rate of Democratic campaign books au-

Two Motorists Fined For Reckless Drives

William Colopy of Twin Falls was fined $10-and $3 costs when he pleaded guilty to a reckless driving charge before Municipal Judge J. O. Pumphrey Saturday afternoon.

Earlier in the day, William Jolly of Burley pleaded guilty to a similar charge and was fined $25 and $3 costs. It is alleged that Jolly had driven on the sidewalk and blew out a tire in climbing over the curb. He was arrested by officers after the entrance at the intersection of Second street west and Main avenue west.

DRAMA CRITICS SELECT WINNER

'Of Mice and Men' Named Outstanding Broadway Production

By MARK HARRON NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)—As a prelude to the blossoming of summer theater, it is usual, therefore, for Broadway critics to give the theatrical season a farewell lift by the naming of prize plays and performances and there are more to come. Ed Warner, chairman of Twin Falls Legion amusement activities, states that Fordyce has a reputation for having a show that is exactly as represented. The Death Dodgers performed at Filer last year for a large and enthusiastic crowd. They will present an entirely new series of "breath catchers" next Sunday afternoon. Two new acts have been performed only twice before—the 40-foot tunnel of fire ending with a board crash and the automobile break wall crash in which the driver remains behind the steering wheel.

SHOW GOES ON DESPITE ILLNESS

Molly's Health Breaks, But Flibber McGee Must Make Fans Laugh

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)—To appear happy and make radio listeners laugh even though 50 per cent of the team rests in a sanitarium—that is the network job of Jim Jordan every Tuesday night. For Jim—to the loudspeaker audience he has been Flibber McGee since April 10, 1935—is carrying on without Molly.

Molly is Marian, his wife, with whom he played in vaudeville for 15 years in a serious singing act before radio saving their efforts to comedy and more fame and attention in a short time than they ever had gained in all the three-day years. It was just six months ago that this team of long standing was forced to separate.

Rushed to a Milwaukee, Wis., sanitarium, however, reluctant she was to leave the show. Molly's recent weeks has shown rapid improvement. At first, though, there were fears her condition might be serious, more so than Flibber would admit.

Now there is hope she will be able to rejoin the program before the current series hats for a summer air vacation, the first in four years. It is considered certain, however, that she will be thoroughly recovered by the time of the fall reopening on September 1.

It is to his wife in the sanitarium that Flibber addresses the "goodnight Molly" each week. It is as much for their two children, a boy and a girl, as for Flibber.

PUBLIC ACQUIRES DARROW'S BOOKS

CHICAGO, April 23 (AP)—The literature that nourished Clarence Darrow's intellect and personality flowed today into the life stream of the humbly he esteemed with melancholy irony. One of the great lawyer's last benefactions was the virtual giving of his personal library—some 2,000 volumes—to the people. In so doing he left to his admirers more than the ruggedly used books which helped to share his philosophy; he left part of himself.

both sexes, all come to possess some fragment of the man who glared in championing the under-dog. "This is Mr. Darrow." Thus some spoke, with bobbing heads and thoughtful air. Built up through the years from small, nondescript books to plain but handsome sets obtained by later more affluent life, the library reflected the developing man—sturdy, rugged, and full of life. The library included but little fiction, and that older works, especially Russian novels. Perhaps the most favored shelf was occupied by Sir James Fraser's monumental study in anthropology, "The Golden Bough," of which, Krench related, Darrow said to him: "Seventy-five per cent of all my knowledge was gained from that work."

NEW ENTRY IN CONGRESS RACE

State Senator Charles Larsen of Boise Seeks Nomination

BOISE, April 23 (AP)—State Senator Charles Larsen of Boise announced today he will seek the Democratic nomination for second district congressman Aug. 6, opposing former Attorney General J. H. Miller and Secretary of State L. H. Masters, who already have their bids in the ring.

The Republicans have one candidate so far for the second district nomination, Dr. C. W. Tenney of Gooding.

"In view of this nation's unquestioned ability, at last, to bring its production to more equitable distribution, we must establish a system of present economic order, a system of planned plenty," Larsen, a former Pointello resident, declared.

"Crop control that has for its objective limited production is only justified as an emergency and ultimately leads to abject poverty."

Idle Units

"We have numerous idle production units. I would have government operation of these idle units of production by the unemployed for the production of goods for the unemployed and to support the relief rolls to that extent."

"I am and always have been unalterably opposed to the government borrowing to create a medium exchange in order to overcome this vicious practice the government must acquire the membership of the federal reserve system and we must restore to congress the exclusive and constitutional power to coin money and regulate the value thereof."

"I am in favor of pensions and other aids in the need, the widows and crippled children to the highest point consistent with good government."

Larsen, known as one of the most forceful speakers in the 1937 senate, was born 27 years ago at Leavitt, Utah, and moved to Resburg, Idaho, with his parents when he was five years old.

He represented Banrock county in the house of representatives in 1931, before moving to Boise, and was state superintendent of public construction in 1931 and 1932.

Besides Larsen, Miller and Masters, State Representative W. C. Thomas of Gooding has indicated in public statements several times that he might enter the race for congress.

The congressional seat will be vacated next January by 36-year-old D. Worth Clark, nephew of Governor Charles W. Clark who has announced he will seek the Democratic nomination for the senate seat occupied by Senator James P. Pope.

SCIENCE PROBES CANCER MYSTERY

Two 'Hopeless Cases' of Malady Reported As Apparently Well

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE Associated Press Science Editor PHILADELPHIA, April 23—Two persons with "hopeless cases" of cancer who are now apparently well are the net human result of one of the most important studies reported today by the international cancer research foundation.

The patients, who are included from $2,000,000 donated by William H. Donner of Philadelphia, supported 41 separate cancer investigations. Temple University medical school here refrigerated cancers, cooling them down to about 60 degrees Fahrenheit by use of special knives and rods.

Thirteen "hopeless cases" were treated.

Eleven died. The report says, "have recovered from the complete disappearance of the former lesions, and return to health."

"One of these has been apparently well for 22 months and the other for six months. In medical practice these periods are both too short to be accepted as conclusive evidence of cures."

Low temperature experiments on cancer were reported by three other groups of scientists.

At Cornell University medical college in New York City animal cancer has been frozen to 48 degrees Fahrenheit below zero and kept at that temperature for five months. Little injury to the cancer cells at that time it was found that some of the tissues in the lungs can—alkaline—stand freezing at 48 degrees below zero and still live.

Both tumors and normal skin were found to remain alive when frozen at 94 degrees below zero at the University of Rochester school of medicine.

Another group of Cornell University investigators found that the cells of leukemia in mice can also stand freezing to 48 degrees below zero killed. Leukemia is known as blood cancer.

At Santa Barbara cancer hospital, Santa Barbara, Calif., animals with cancer were kept in low temperatures above freezing. Their tumors were frozen but their general health was also retained.

The most hopeful report from scientists searching for the cause of cancer came from the Royal Cancer Hospital, London, England.

"There, the substances found in coal tar, known as phenanthrenes, which cause cancer when rubbed on the skin, are under chemical analysis."

"These chemicals are combined with others which slow down their action, a chemical compound which can be used to retard growth of tumors, or, perhaps, cure them."

These cancer-modifying chemicals from coal tar exist slightly modified also in the human body in sex hormones. In the sex from they do not cause cancer. But scientists suspect that they may sometimes alter their composition so as to become dangerous.

In addition to the sex hormones, the chemicals found coal tar are found in modified form in cholesterol, a common constituent of living tissues. For this reason cholesterol is also suspected of hastening the cause of cancer.

The London hospital is working on this coal tar-sex hormone-cholesterol puzzle and reports progress in clearing up some of the action of cholesterol. But it has not found the suspected relation to cancer.

Three-Time Winner Adds New Color to Blue Grass Classic

Great Jockey, Back in Kentucky in Role of Stagehand's Trainer, Welcomed by Kentucky Horse Lovers

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)—Earl Sande, an old hero in a new role, is back in the blue grass country with plans for staving the May 7 running of the Kentucky derby for the hardboots.

Until Harry Sande's Cinderella horse, Stagehand, dropped out of the skies and defeated Scabbbutt by a nose in the Santa Anita handicap, the hardboots were in a quandary. It wasn't going to be the same this year with no E. R. Bradley horse to send the rebel yell reverberating over Churchill Downs.

Old timers had to scratch their heads before recalling that 1920 was the last year Colonel Bradley failed to nominate a horse for the big event.

Hint jules still would be a dollar, hotel rooms would be a premium at five times their original rate; gaily decorated streets would greet the arriving millionaires; the grand and famous Louisville streets and pack the Downs' rambling stands.

Still they wouldn't have a hazy they could call their own. Not even Hal Price Hendricks' Menow would be the E. R. Bradley's horse, as they had not an old derbyite.

The Earl comes from Idaho but the hardboots have accepted this unassuming, faded-faced trainer.

They haven't forgotten how he came down to their country in 1923 and booted Zev to an unexpected victory for the first of his three derby winners.

Two Pastest Races

Kurtstinger made the two fastest trips around the Downs' oval. He won with Twenty Grand in record time of 2:01 4/5 in 1931 and with War Admiral in 2:03 1/5 last year. No filly appears capable of matching the 314 feet of horses, only filly ever to take the class.

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)—Fighting Fox, William Woodward's chief hope for his third Kentucky derby victory, breeched to an easy triumph in his first start of the year at Jamaica today but the cock Merry Lassie from Mrs. H. HAVRE DE GRACE, Md., April 23 (AP)—Bourbon King, Hal Price headley's bay colt, finished to prominence as a Kentucky derby candidate today by a smashing victory in the $15,000 Chesapeake stakes.

Before 20,000 spectators the colt sped the mile and a sixteenth in 1:45 1-5; just a fifth of a second slower than the time made by War Admiral last year. War Admiral went on to win the derby and become the 1937 3-year-old champion.

Bourbon King, neglected in the muckets as popular support went to A. C. Compton's Sun Egret, paid $18,400, $700 and $4,500.

Knight and a quarter behind the winner was B. P. Whitaker's Mythical King, Blind Eagle, owned by Mrs. Emil Denmark, was third. Both are derby candidates.

Sun Egret, for the second consecutive Saturday, ran out of the money. He set the pace and led half-way round but tired badly and finished fifth, three lengths back of Bourbon King. Sun Egret was just a little better than even-money favorite at $12 to 1.

Experts Follow Bird Migration

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP)—The birds are flying north again, and four travel-toughened government men are rattling along the highways in hot pursuit.

Their job is following the ducks and geese north to the Arctic in summer and far south into hibernaculum Mexico in the winter.

But ducks don't stick to highways, and before the summer is over a man at the mouth of the Mackenzie and another on the Yukon will be checking near-by for their birds.

Each man works alone. They follow the historic routes of the various breeds of birds. For generations, each bird has followed its traditional route—some along the Atlantic coast, some along the Mississippi, some over the western mountains, and others along the Pacific coast.

The migrating men cannot check each flock of birds at it moves along its course. But they sample here and there to get Washington knowledge of the ducks and geese are far from abundant.

When drought develops in Canadian lakelands, the flyways man must judge whether the birds will survive. When other birds and animals become thick in a section, the checker knows how his ducks and geese are doing in the battle for food and shelter. Where bird-killing insects abound, he checks against the wanderer's plight.

With these facts, he checks him, the flyways man guides the government officials who must lay out the hunting routes for the fall. The roving reporter's judgment helps determine how long the season will last, and how big the big limit.

The Boxwood Barrier

The Story So Far: In love with... Goodie marries Reuben Oliver for his money, only to discover he is bankrupt...

Chapter 28 THE OLD FASCINATION Same Gary, same Reuben. He might have left her only yesterday...

Still unable to explain why he did not kiss her smiling lips. Instead he raised her roughened, thin brown hands and kissed first one palm, then the other...

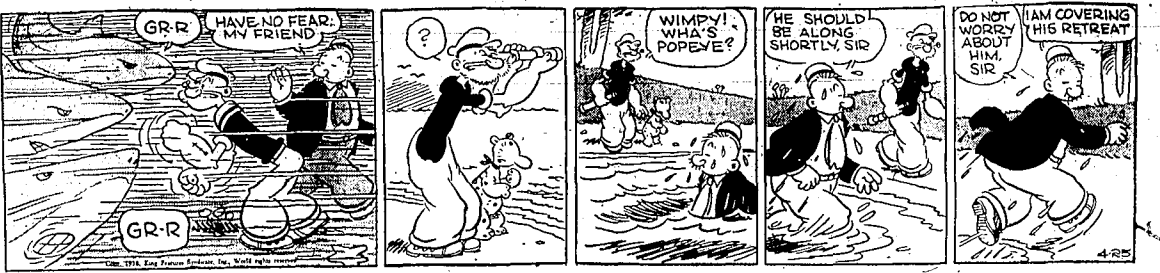

She buried her face in the sorrow flowing mane and let the tears that slip had been lighting since her wedding day have their way...

Kingpin, sensing something wrong turned his head and nuzzled her combed shoulder. Gary stood by helplessly, not daring to touch the jobbing woman into the valiant...

She raised her head and, flushed with a little smile, "It was just—seeing Kingpin—oh, didn't get any sleep last night, Gary, if you know how I've longed for the feel of a good horse under me!"

Every day, nearly. "How do they look?" "Wonderful. One's grown younger. Angus is shining as a bird and Hannah made corn pone for me over an open fire."

Nation's Oldest Observer Reports Improvements in Instruments

By VERN HAUGLAND DESERET, Utah, April 23 (AP)—The nation's oldest weather man observed today that mankind certainly is making strides in weather observation but he has little to say about weather control.

"That's one of the most noticeable things about my job—the improvement in weather instruments," said 64-year-old S. W. Western, oldest cooperative weather observer in the United States.

Steady Improvement "Since I started keeping weather records here in 1824, I have worked under four different meteorologists—I have seen steady improvement in instruments. Each change has made it possible for us to keep a more thorough, more accurate weather check than before."

Stocks: Firmly, quiet selling... Bonds: railroad obligations in bond market... Foreign exchange: Steady; franc stable...

BY FRIDRICK GARDNER

NEW YORK, April 23 (AP)—The stock market tripped over light profit selling today and ended the day on a moderately downward slant.

In the lightest dealings for about six weeks, industrials yielded fractions to a point or so.

Among the leaders of the day which some brokers thought may have been discounted in Friday's run-up, was the compromise on the revenue bill reached by the senate and house conferees.

Analysis derived full encouragement from the fact offerings were plentiful throughout the day.

Losses Wiped Out in Chicago Buyers Appear in When Market

By FRANKLIN MULLIN CHICAGO, April 23 (AP)—Enough buyers appeared in the wheat pit after a quiet day of about a cent a bushel at the opening to rally the market and wipe out most of the losses during the remainder of the short session.

Support which the market found on slight price recessions was eroded largely by the opening of the market, traders said, believed in the value of domestic wheat particularly in view of the 20 cent a bushel premium in quotations at Liverpool and the even greater difference in price at Winnipeg where the grade wheat figures in the wheat prevailed.

Wheat closed unchanged to a cent lower compared with yesterday's finish, May 23 1/2, July 22 1/2, September 23 1/2, October 23 1/2, December 23 1/2, and 1938-39, 23 1/2.

MOTOR PLANTS EXPAND OUTPUT

Manufacturers Report Gain In Demand for New Automobiles

By DAVID J. WILKIE
DETROIT, April 23 (AP)—An increasing retail demand that began in the latter part of March and shows no sign of spending itself is being reflected in modestly expanded factory programs in the motorcar industry.

A large part of the increased consumer demand is admittedly seasonal in its character, but the industry's sales and production heads point to it as bearing out their earlier assertions that a sizeable volume of new car requirements was piling up during the early weeks of the year in which factory sales fell far below normal.

The producers, who long ago decided that the replacement market must supply the impetus to assembly line activity, have also come to the conclusion that every restriction upon new car buying means the accumulation of demand that later must be released and be reflected in an upturn in factory activity.

Despite the improvement in consumer demand during the last four weeks, there has been only a small increase in the number of men employed in the production departments of the various manufacturers. This is explained by the fact that up until the increase began to manifest itself most factories were working on two, three and four days schedules. Instead of increasing the number of workers on three and four day assignments the manufacturers have found it more satisfactory to increase the working week for the men already employed.

Producers and sales authorities point out that while an increase in retail demand is expected to continue for several weeks, the output level indicated is not sufficient to warrant any sizeable increase in the total number of men at work.
