RICHARDSON INSTALLS NEW FUR STORAGE VAULT

When installation is completed, in the next few days, Richardson Cleaners and Dyers will be able to offer to Twin Falls women a cleaning and storage service for fur coats that will be second to none in the city.

Richardson's will employ the Mullum method of fungible storage and cleaning and will have exclusive rights to this method in Twin Falls. The Mullum method has been approved by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture and does not depend merely upon low temperature for protection against moths. Furs will be stored in a new fire-proof and burglar-proof vault and will be fully covered by insurance. All furs will be cleaned by the "barrel and sweater" method which is approved by leading furriers.

With this new equipment the Richardson Cleaners and Dyers will be able to give first class service on full storage and fur cleaning. Adv.

"The service believes any extension of Idaho's highway system toward the park should extend roughly eastward, paralleling the south boundary of the park to the south entrance road which connects Yellowstone and Grand Teton national parks."

OUR HOME TOWN

MOTHER'S DAY
By Ella M. White

More important even than the fact that Mother nurtured us; guided and loved us, is this—Mother BELIEVED in us. Mother BELIEVED in us and identified us. She fondly encouraged our tendencies into great virtues; she witnessed our possibilities as genius. Now where much is expected of an individual, he is apt to rise to the level of that expectation and make at least part of it come true.

And this is the reason that all men owe much of whatever goodness and greatness they possess to their Mothers. How much, we cannot tell in cold words, because we cannot analyze mother-love nor place it on the microscope slide.

Mother was our first and best teacher and she taught us not alone by precept but by every action, thought and attitude of her character. Her greatest lesson was to show us how to be independent of her and to live without her. And the fact that out of her love she must teach this thing, is the greatest testimony of unobedience.

Mother was a rich woman; rich in love, loyalty, gentleness, insight, appreciation. The gaze of her eyes in us with open-handed lovefulness. We can never repay her in matter how many we try. And knowing this, it is important that we do try, daily and hourly.

Next Sunday Mrs. White of the White Station will conduct on "The Three Wounds."

CONSIDER Prices CHECK Equipment COUNT Cylinders!

If you make these three simple tests when you shop for a car, you'll get more for your money:

1. CONSIDER PRICES. You'll find all Ford prices low—and Ford "60" prices especially low. Price isn't everything, of course, but it comes out of your pocket.
2. CHECK EQUIPMENT. Price means little, if you pay extra for equipment you've got to have. Ford prices include equipment.
3. COUNT CYLINDERS. More cylinders mean more and another power impulses. America's most expensive cars have engines with 8 or more cylinders. Only Ford has been able to offer the basic advantages of 8 cylinders at a low price—with low operating costs. ("Thrifty 60" owners report averages of 22 to 27 miles on a gallon of gas.)

These are only three of the reasons for visiting a Ford dealer before you buy. You'll recognize the rest when you get out on the road in a Ford V-8. You'll realize that it's 8-cylinder quality all the way through!

Renewing Democracy
There is a challenge in the title of a lecture that Thomas Mann, the great German author now becoming an American, has delivered in this country. It is "The Coming Victory of Democracy." He brings to our confidence in the country that he proclaims democracy in the most profound sense.

Democracy needs to rediscover itself. Democracy must stop taking itself for granted, must realize that it has again become a problem and must rejuvenate itself. Democracy alone, as a way of life, represents the dignity of man. Fascism debases the very nature of man, dragging him down into the muck of uniform stupidity.

Democracy alone, as a way of life, represents the dignity of man. Fascism debases the very nature of man, dragging him down into the muck of uniform stupidity.

Compulsory Car Inspection
It is not only the jolopies that menace traffic. There are too many drivers who are careless about brakes, jumps, steering gear, electric and other equipment in cars which, in most respects, are good for many more miles of safe operation.

SLAVERY AT WASHINGTON

Shouldn't there be an anathema or something in the National Constitution? The Americans are allowed to go to the polls and vote for Hitler, but the residents of that strange federal conclave in Maryland are not allowed to vote for anybody. They are altogether under the iron hand of Congress.

Other Points of View
The plight of Charlie Chaplin's co-star in The Kid, one of the most successful of the silent movies, quite naturally has attracted the sympathy of literary circles throughout the nation, who read the newspapers day by day for the latest news concerning the tussle between Jackie and mother and step-father.

Understrut Issue
Something has just bubbled up in the news that suddenly strikes a spark of indignation in the breast that Japan may shortly call it quits.

Curiosity
Washington boasts vagabond hints that the famous contact between "Big Bird" and John L. Lewis back all that it was, once again, is being brought to the fore.

SCIENTISTS FLY TO NEW GUINEA

Transpacific Air Expedition to Spend Two Years in Wilds

NEW YORK, May 7 (AP)—Plans for a transpacific flight to the wilds of New Guinea where flying scientists will spend two years studying birds and animals were announced today by the American Museum of Natural History today.

The leader of the expedition will be Richard Archibald, research associate of the museum's department of mammals, who will be accompanied in his flying boat by a crew of four. The plane will leave San Diego, Calif., about June 1 for Honolulu, following the commercial air route to Guam and completing the 5,000-mile flight with a last leg of 1,200 miles from Guam to Hobbins, New Guinea. This last leg will constitute the first flight of an airplane over this particular stretch of the Pacific.

The flying boat is to alight on the freshwater lake Sontani, a few miles inland from Hobbins, where four other scientists already are established awaiting the arrival of the plane. The plane will serve as shuttle transport from Lake Sontani to Lake Hobbins, 375 miles inland and 11,000 feet above sea level—matter of an hour and a half by plane over territory only partially explored and known to be impassable during the food seasons. While the explorers are working up and down the slopes of nearby Mount Wilhelm, with a peak of 15,500 feet above sea level, they will receive food supplies dropped by parachute from the plane. Collected specimens will be flown back to Hollandia for preservation and packing, throughout the two-year stay.

WOMEN URGED TO NEW GOALS

University Group's National Leader Addresses Gooding Sessions

GOODING, Idaho, May 7.—Dr. Kathryn McHale of Washington, D. C., director-general of the Gooding Association of University women, criticized today what she said was the attitude of many college women who are "acceptors, rather than contributors."

"Generally," said Dr. McHale, a speaker at the Idaho State University Women's convention, "women have not realized sufficiently their potentiality for contributing the field of human knowledge."

"I believe that men have shown themselves more interested in the welfare of their own sex than have women in theirs. 'Too many women have been willing to remain through life a cog, rather than contributors, particularly as concerns their own welfare.'"

Dr. McHale said the American Association of University Women, through the granting of fellowships to women college graduates, is seeking to increase college interest in scientific fields. Mrs. Harry Woods of Boise was elected state president at the convention's concluding session.

McHale was chosen for the 1938 conference. Mrs. S. Robert Lough of Lewiston was elected secretary.

Mrs. Mabel Moxon of Portland, Ore., regional director, urged the organization to use its influence on national and state legislatures. Mrs. Florence Johnson, also of Portland, discussed the fellowship program and urged the northwest region to increase its quota from $20,000 to $40,000.

Thursday, May 12, has been chosen as the center day. It will begin with a breakfast, followed by special assembly in the high school auditorium, a movie in the afternoon and a program of stunts in the high school gymnasium at night.

The Boxwood Barrier

By BLANCHE SMITH FERGUSON

The Story So Far: Judith Good-Oliver for his money, only to discover he is bankrupt. Twins are born. Then red-headed Clasy Rogers, who loves Reuben and is out to get him, finds a job for him in a lumber camp managed by Gary Brock—the man Judith loves. Gary insists that Judith get a divorce, telling her that Reuben is going to marry Clasy. Then he discharges Reuben.

Chapter 40— The Old Feud

Reuben would be home tonight! What would they say to each other?
Gary did not notice Judith's allence. Scowling he kicked a loose stone from the path, sent it whiz-ing down the hill. He said, "Civilization is a great thing. Left to my own inclinations I'd have killed Oliver
this afternoon."

She stared at his darkly frowning face. She had never seen Gary angry before. It was not a pleasant thought that happened.
"Before I went away I gave orders for 200 pines to be felled and chipped from the left side. They had been bid, the money collected."

Sarcastically Gary kicked loose another stone, left in his own tritation.

"Well?" Judith prodded.
"When I went to the ridge this morning, the pines were still standing."

"Still standing?" she echoed parrot-like.
"Oliver's orders." Rage shook Gary's usually well modulated voice.
"Reuben?" Was he left in charge?"

"Certainly not!"
"I don't understand—"
"He has the men bluffed into believing he knows more about trees
than the Lord who made them."

"Tonight Reuben would be home."
"He has made immoderation in the camp before," Gary continued. "I've stood it for your sake.
Today," his hand in his English
glove clenched, "I drove him off
the reservation as I would a mad dog."

"She felt embarrassed. "I can't understand why he would trouble
orders."

"He thought to make trouble for me with Gabrietta—the boundary."
"You still don't understand the disobedience to orders could help Reuben with Gabrietta but she did not argue about it with this new, darkly frowning Gary."

"He said, 'Oliver has had Curtis
using his influence to try to out-
me.'"

"Gary—are you sure?"
"Of course, I'm sure!" Gary's usually thin, clipped English now blurred and harsh, "Oliver has his nerve to think he could hurt me!"

"She had no words. She who venerated her father, who had sacrificed
her life to her conception of it."

"Let's not waste another thought on him, Judith. If you have any business to do with him tonight, Judy, get everything washed up thoroughly and quickly. I wish I could be in on it."

"Now he was sane."
Gary looked at his great watch.
"Where? Three—twenty! I'll have to hustle to make the junction by five."

"Gary," panic stricken, "you're not going away?"
"Just to square myself with the people who bought these pines.
They're sore as hell! You needn't worry about Oliver putting up a fight, he's as crazy to be free to marry Clasy as you are to marry
me."

Reuben wouldn't fight—Clasy Rogers had warned her he would take the fight out of him—Reuben wanted to marry Clasy—"You'll be right back, Gary!"
Gary hesitated. "No, I'm taking a couple of weeks' vacation, Judith."

"Leaving me?"
"Blazing the trail. I'll be waiting for you in Maryland."

An hour later in Wing met her deciding up Winding Hill.
"My own being your powder?"
The yellow boy eyed her empty hands reproachfully. "Doesn't remind much like hot biscuits," he ventured her sternly. "Does man
him inside."

Does man him inside! The crack of doom Gabriel's trumpet! It had come now—not tomorrow, next week, but now!

All the reasonable arguments,
the right one requirement, the high audible words she had rehearsed
echoing up the hill deserted Judith.
Her face became just two legs of
wax. It was difficult to propel herself up the steps and across the creek. Her hand, suddenly cold, grasped the door knob—then managed to twist.

Reuben, stretched upon a divan
under a recessed window, was reading a newspaper. In a voice as soft as silk he said, "You didn't say 'good-bye'."

"You didn't say 'good-bye' to me," said
Gary, "I said 'good-bye' to the
hill."

"You didn't say 'good-bye' to me," said
Judith, "I said 'good-bye' to the
hill."

"You didn't say 'good-bye' to me," said
Gary, "I said 'good-bye' to the
hill."

"You didn't say 'good-bye' to me," said
Judith, "I said 'good-bye' to the
hill."

"You didn't say 'good-bye' to me," said
Gary, "I said 'good-bye' to the
hill."

"You didn't say 'good-bye' to me," said
Judith, "I said 'good-bye' to the
hill."

"You didn't say 'good-bye' to me," said
Gary, "I said 'good-bye' to the
hill."

"You didn't say 'good-bye' to me," said
Judith, "I said 'good-bye' to the
hill."

"You didn't say 'good-bye' to me," said
Gary, "I said 'good-bye' to the
hill."

"You didn't say 'good-bye' to me," said
Judith, "I said 'good-bye' to the
hill."

"You didn't say 'good-bye' to me," said
Gary, "I said 'good-bye' to the
hill."

SWEET MYSTERY OF LIFE

BIG HERDS TREK TO HIGH RANGES

Cattle and Sheep of Inter- mountain Country Begin Annual Migration

OGDEN, Utah, May 7 (AP)—Discovered sheepherders and cowboys moved their vast herds into high mountain grazing areas today to pick up $13,000,000 worth of additional grass and crops for the national dinner tables.

More than one-third of a million
cattle and nearly two and one-half million sheep, marching industry valued at $30,000,000, migrate each spring to new grazing grounds in the high country of the 24 intermountain national forests of Nevada, Utah, Idaho and Wyoming.

Behind them are dry, desert winter ranges. Ahead lie green summer pastures, expanding daily as snow recedes and forage reaches grazing readiness.

Sheepherders plan, United States
forest service officials said, to put 100 million chops, of one pound each, on the lamb before they bring them grazing.

The lambs move into the forests weighing from 25 to 35 pounds and leave for market weighing 70
to 80 pounds.

At an average market price this is now worth of $700,000 to $2-$3,000,000 brought to intermountain ranches from mutton alone. With range beef production added, the total would approximate $12,000,000.

The grazing industry, almost as old as the west itself, has made many changes in its annual migration since pioneers watched their herds long before the turn of the century.

Where formerly each sheep grower took all the range he could find and hold—each grower today has his own allotment of range which he uses year after year. Unchanged, however, is the herder and his dog—shepherd dogs, or the instant lions and other predatory animals that prey upon the woolies.

The life of a sheepherder is a little less severe today than it was two decades ago. The herder has his wages on the whole range which serves as home to the flock herds.
When the terrain becomes too rough, however, the outfit is left at road ends and the outfit transferred to miles.

Recently changed is the cattie-
man's method of handling his herds.
Formerly a job guarded jealously by each outfit, cattlemen now conduct their range operations in the intermountain forests through cooperative associations, each association having a range allotment for its own bound numbers. As organized as a modern business, the association is guided by officers and an advisory board, hires riders, buys suit and handles all phases of the business in close cooperation with forest rangers.

Its riders cover the range during the summer months after the settling of the cattle, riding marked ground, branding calves, spreading hay and so on range and watching carefully against losses
from various unattended matters
and unattended cases.

The cowboys, unlike the sheepherder, spend most of his time in the middle, covering many miles of range, mounting a trail, and the operator, from one central camp
where he may have a cabin, a post-office and a corral for the herd and "cowboy" of horses, more or less broken, and the branding season has been the only time he has been out of the range.

At summer end the cattle and sheep are brought down from the grazing areas to the shipping stations. He then the outfit and proceeds from the intermountain highways up into the peaks of its pasture and the operator on the national forests.

Burley, defending champions, wound up in second position with 30 points with Twin Falls and Rupert tying for third with 25 1/2 points each.

Scorers of other high school teams were as follows: Jerome 21, Filer 19 1/2; Paul, 16 1/2; Hayden, 13 1/2; Buhl, 12 1/2; Wendell, 3 1/2; Hammett, Bull, River and Gooding State school, 3 each; Castelfort and Murtaugh, 2, and Ablon 1-2.

Even more spectacular than Vaught's four firsts was the pole vaulting of Wayne Gentry. Gentry set a new district mark of 12 feet 3 inches, which bettered the state record of 11 feet 1 1/2 inches set by Remington Camp in 1929. Throckmorton Rupert heaved the discus 127 feet 1 1/2 inches to better the district mark of 124 feet set by Lavern Bell of Burley in 1926. Gentry had previously held the district pole vault record at 11 feet 7 inches.

Third District Record
A third district record was hung up at Twin Falls in the 120 yard high hurdles. The Bruins stickman being clocked in 18.4 seconds. The new hurdle record was set by Remington Camp in 1929. Throckmorton Rupert heaved the discus 127 feet 1 1/2 inches to better the district mark of 124 feet set by Lavern Bell of Burley in 1926. Gentry had previously held the district pole vault record at 11 feet 7 inches.

NEW YORK, May 7 (AP)—The Yankees fired 17 hits for 22 bases today and trampled the Detroit Tigers in the first game of the first meeting of the two clubs before a crowd of 41,070 at Yankee stadium. It was the Yankees' fifth straight win.

Joe DiMaggio and Lou Gehrig collected three hits apiece; Myril Hooper and Lou Gehrig collected a double and a single, and Bill Dickey hit two more. In fact, the only four runs from a Yankee viewpoint was that Lefty Gomez, after a fine pitching effort for six frames, was hit for one run and a five-run assault in the seventh.

He took credit for the victory, however, after relief work by Ruppert and Ed Stanky. The Yankees' Johnny Murphy, Elden Auer, the sumo-bait flinger, looked best of all.

Pete Fox was the Tigers' biggest collecting star, with a triple and driving three runs across the plate.

New Yorkers Score 6 to 5 Win Over Pirates

PITTSBURGH, May 7 (AP)—The New York Giants made it two straight over their favorite cubs, the Pirates, today with a 6 to 5 victory, but the win cost them the services of their top right hander, Prince Hal Schumacher.

A line smash off Gus Suhler's bat in the sixth inning struck Hal on the chest. He felled the ball for the pinout, but then collapsed on the field and had to be helped to the dressing room. Dr. J. Huber Wagner examined him and sent him to the hospital after diagnosing the injury as severe chest contusion and possible broken ribs.

Up to that point, Hal held the reins of the team, but the strength of a three-run Giant rally in the fifth, his relief, Dick Cuffman and Harry Gumbert, collapsed, however, and the Pirates went in front in the seventh on a three-run spurge, with singles by the headliner, Lindy Wagner and Johnny Rizzo driving in the tallies, before Walter Brown stopped the rally.

Brown then went on to take credit for the victory when the Giants pushed over a pair in the eighth. New York was aided by a pinch runner, Ed Stanky, who drove in two runs. The Giants' lead was 6 to 5.

Lawrin Wins Derby With Spectacular Stretch Rush

South Idaho Motorboat Pilots Rehearse for Regatta on Snake River

Kentucky Jockey Boots Big Horse Home for Upset

Dupont's Dauber Finishes Second After Great Challenge; Can't Wait Third, Favorite Sixth

By ALAN GOULD
CHURCHILL DOWNS, Louisville, Ky., May 7 (AP)—Lawrin, biggest horse in the smallest Kentucky derby field since 1922, came from behind with a spectacular stretch rush today to win the 64th running of the $50,000 thoroughbred battle of the bluegrass and top of one of the most smashing form reversals in the colorful history of the race.

Carrying the colors of Herbert M. Woolf, Kansas City, merchant, to their first triumph in the derby, Lawrin stood a great challenge by William du Pont, Jr.'s stout hearted Dauber to win by a length.

Myron Selznick's Can't Wait finished third, five lengths further back, nodding out Hal Prince Headley's Menow and Maxwell Howard's The Chief, which ran fourth and fifth.

Fighting Fox, the 6-5 favorite and full brother of the renowned Giant Fox, derby winner in 1930, struggled home a badly whipped sixth while the second favorite, Wrensen Wright's Bull Lea, flexed his supple hips many backers and wound up eighth in a field of ten starters.

Huge Crowd Stunned
A crowd of 65,000 spectators, sprawling over the picturesque Downs and packing the stands to capacity, was stunned by one of the biggest upset finishes ever to take place in the history of the race.

It was a field try for the long shots players as well as a remarkable triumph for winter derbies which was a 2-5 and knocked most of the pre-race calculations into a cocky hat. Lawrin became the first star of the winter tracks to win the derby since Black Gold was victorious in 1924.

Lawrin, the addition to collecting $47,650, the winner's net share of the total purse of $57,575, paid off at $10.20 to show for each $12 ticket in the mutuel machines.

Dauber, which campaigned on the west coast, where Lawrin started during the Florida season, paid $12 to place and $6 to show. The show price on Can't Wait was $9.20.

Hidden beautifully by Eddie Arcaro, 22-year-old jockey from Newport, Ky., Lawrin made the most of his finishing powers to win a race that was as truly run as it was shocking to the form players.

The big brown son of Inisco, out of Margaret Lawrence, was ridden off the track by a price set by Melnow, saved ground in the long run down the back stretch and came through on the inside to take command at the head of the stretch.

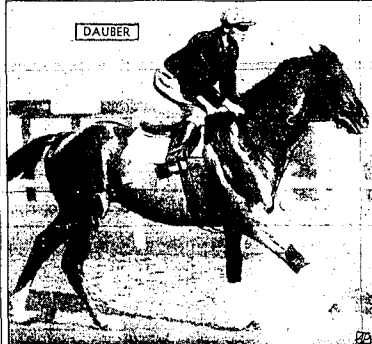

Under Heavy Pressure
Lawrin easily wore down Menow, $12.20 favorite, in the first quarter and kept his commanding margin as Dauber was put to the test in the last quarter mile run past the stands but yielding the pace to the first and thereafter overtook.

Lawrin's time, 2:04 4/5 for the mile and a quarter, set a new record for the derby record of 2:01 4/5, set in 1931 by Twenty Grand. A brisk northwesterly wind, blowing up the stretch, aided off any chance of faster time.

First, Second and Third

HANDSOME, Steve Lawrin (top photo) left a crowd of 65,000 stunned when he swept down the stretch with a spectacular rush to win the 64th running of the Kentucky derby. Although he delayed the start of the race with one of his rare displays of temperament, Lawrin's striking head is 'as good as gold' according to trainer Herb Jones. The derby winner stands 16 hands and weighs in at 1,150 pounds. Second place was taken by Can't Wait, owned by Myron Selznick, who was third.

Twin Falls Jaycees Sponsor Novel Event At Thousand Springs

Half of Proceeds Go to McClusky Health Camp at Buhl; Contestants Tune Up Craft For Fast Races

Released for the motor boat regatta at Thousand Springs on the Snake River 30 miles west of Twin Falls near Hagerman will be held this afternoon beginning at 1 p. m. according to Earl A. Drexler, president of the Southern Idaho Boating Club. The regatta is being sponsored in Twin Falls by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, with 50 per cent of the proceeds to go to the McClusky memorial health camp at Buhl and the balance to be used to purchase prizes. The official date for the motorboat carnival is Sunday, May 15. Prior to admission to the regatta, contestants will be 25 cents and 10 cents, according to Drexler, whose organization is staging the affair.

Abner Peters, who owns a 35-horsepower outboard motor, has the largest utility motor of its type manufactured in the United States. It will be a real test for a girl, whose name has not yet been announced, to race it. A 100-foot race between outboard motor boats, outboard stunts, row boat races and a water-polo game are being arranged by the committee. Featuring the race will be a "slow race" with drivers keeping their boats at the slowest possible speed for 100 yards without falling. The motor will make their "slow race" to a designated point and return, without falling their motor and keeping in the straight line as possible. Fishermen who troll with outboard motors are favored in the special race.

Fire Entered in Race
Charles Weyer, operator of the Thousand Springs park, is in charge of the arrangements for the regatta. He has reported to Drexler that five fast 25-horsepower outboard jobs will be on hand for a speed race class that is guaranteed to bring thrills. Residents of Jerome have recently purchased new, steam-driven craft and speedy outboard motors and have signified their intention of participating in the central Idaho benefit water classic.

More than 25 motorboats will participate in the opening parade of their craft from centered points at the Snake river opening the event at 11 a. m. Sunday, a week from today. Individuals have entered their craft from centered points throughout south central Idaho, and arrangements have been completed to have boats available for hire on the Snake river. The boats will carry passengers on scenic cruises at Thousand Springs.

Old Chuck Klein - Leading Clouter

Veteran Tops National Loop Batsmen With .365 Average

NEW YORK, May 7 (AP)—Old Chuck Klein, 40, led out of a list of 100 batsmen in the National League last week with the .365 batting average. The veteran Philadelphia Phillies' player was supposed to be all washed up a couple of months ago, collecting 20 hits in 25 chances to climb all the way from 13th, boost his average to .23 points, and finish on top with a .265 mark. In the campaigning up to and including Friday's game.

At the same time, last week's leader, Mickey Owen of the Cardinals, blew up and sank complete all the way out in the first ten.

In fact, only one of the first ten batters of a week ago managed to hit over .200. That lone survivor was Hank Leiber of the Giants, who was only one point off Klein's pace, in seven plate appearances with 20 hits in 100 chances. He dropped to .200, himself. He dropped 40 points.

500-Mile Race Tests Scheduled

Speed Kings to Vie for 33 Starting Places at Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, May 7 (AP)—The top speed merchants of automobile racing will begin stepping on the gas to see who can hold the most of starting places in the annual 500-mile Memorial day auto race. The qualifying trials, by which the starting field for the race is reduced to the 33 fastest cars, will get under way May 21, P. M. 1938. The race will be held at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway, Indianapolis, Ind.

Each driver must do ten laps around the two and one-half mile track and asphalt track in the qualifying trial. Qualifying trials will continue May 22 and subsequent dates will not later by Charles Metz, chief steward of the race.

At least 20 of the 10 cars race will be whirled to the starting line the first two days, May 21 and 22. Each car will be timed individually for the 20-mile trial.

Metz and other Speedway officials predicted Jimmy Snyder's new qualifying record of 137.77 miles an hour for the last year would be broken, and that his record of 139.02 miles an hour for the fastest lap in Indianapolis history also would be bettered.

AUDITORS SCAN COUNTY'S FUNDS

Annual Report Shows Maintenance of Surplus; Cash Reduced

Twin Falls county completed the fiscal year ending Jan. 31, 1938, with a surplus of $158,565, according to an annual audit report submitted by George B. Middleton and company, Boise, and approved yesterday by the county commissioners.

This surplus, the auditors explained, consists of cash on hand, the 1937 taxes and other current receipts, less the amount of current liabilities. Of the current surplus, $218,906.53 was credited to the state and $106,545.82 to county operating funds.

Cash Collections

During the year the county collected cash $1,769,412.25 and spent $1,919,841.87, indicating a $152,566.82 decrease in cash for the period.

Receipts from tax collections and land sales aggregated $1,231,371.23; fees, earnings and licenses, $235,970.52; fines and costs, $3,317.70; county hospital, $29,713.97; seed department, $49,329.10; and refunds and miscellaneous, $142,094.74.

Receipts from tax collections and land sales were $49,049.65 less than the amount levied on the 1937 roll.

Tax collections in November and December, 1937, amounted to $627,464.36, or 52.7 per cent of the amount levied on the real tax rolls. Current personal taxes collected for the year 1937 amounted to $12,801.16, of which $6,218.56 was collected by the assessor prior to February 9, 1938, and $6,661.60 was turned over to the sheriff for collection by distraint warrants.

The report noted the sheriff is holding distraint warrants for the years 1934 to 1937, inclusive, and recommended that all such warrants be returned immediately to the assessor, and thereafter that return be made as provided by statute.

Auditor Shows Margin

Office of the clerk, auditor and recorder was again credited with receipts in excess of its expenses, totaling $16,105.90 exceeded $12,742.06 expenses by $3,363.84.

Probable court fees totaled $1,094.89 and expenses were $7,328.20. Sheriff's receipts, including bond of prisoners, amounted to $3,846.70, and expenses were $1,892.91.

During the year, the auditors reported, outstanding warrants of the county's operating funds decreased from $33,706.34 to $24,576.44 or in the amount of $9,129.90. No interest accrued on any county warrants as all warrants had been called for payment.

There were no tax anticipation notes issued or none outstanding as of the close of the period.

Warrants issued during the year included:

- Current expense, $202,347.77; poor fund, $148,975.09; fair fund, $2,112.32; special funds, $1,943,829.87; school districts, $106,703.31.

BEWARE of PEDDLERS

Too men, driving a small delivery truck, were recently arrested a few miles outside Tacoma for peddling radium without a license. The story they told was that they had just completed a large hotel or bed-spread and had a few pieces of radium broken down, amounting to fifteen years left over, which they would sell at a very reasonable figure. Purchasers, alleged, after comparing this product, had it was a very inferior grade of flow radium and that they had paid an exorbitant price for it.

One man played quills and was fined $100 and rode. The charge against the other was dismissed.
