CAMPAIGN ISSUES LOOM FOR IDAHO

Plenty of Material Seen for Political Plat- form Builders

By WALTER R. BOUTCHER
HOISE, May 14 (AP)—There will be plenty of material—of good quality—for political platform builders when they convene next August, a few days after the primary elections, for their respective conventions.

Dates—within 10 days after the primary Aug. 9—and places for such conventions are fixed by the Republican and Democratic state central committees at meetings called by their respective chairmen.

Delegates to the conventions of the respective parties are their nominees for United States senate, congress, state executive department offices, state senate and house of representatives, state central committee men and committeemen and county chairmen.

Major Issues

Some of the issues discussed most frequently, mostly proposals requiring major legislation at the 1938 session of the state lawmakers here, are:

Abolition of the primary law, or revision of it to provide for run-off elections at which to select nominees for the general election.

Amendment of laws to reduce the number of working hours and increase wages of guards and others; to revise accounting and financial administrative laws dealing with the institution.

Reduction of the automobile license fee to a flat 45 per cent and diversion of 20 per cent of the 6-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax receipts to the counties to compensate them for revenue lost through reduction of license fees.

A non-partisan game commission law, to eliminate the office of warden, which now is filled by gubernatorial appointment, and place the fish and game department under administration of a committee that would direct personnel, under a civil service, merit-system plan.

Liquor Law

Revision of the state liquor law so as to permit operation of the bonded clubs that could dispense liquor by the drink, and to permit sale of certain liquors in public dining rooms, or to make the state monopoly on package sales even stronger.

A state police system.

Amendment of aging laws dealing with functions of grand juries, wage of witnesses and jurors and providing for regular convening of grand juries.

A state-wide meat and milk inspection law.

Highway safety—possibly fixing of maximum speed limits on automobiles.

Advertisement of state products and scenic attractions.

Revision of a state law requiring used equipment to be sold by the state and eliminating trade-ins on new equipment.

These are only a few of the suggestions mentioned by political goers, who are flocking in increasing numbers to Idaho's capital.

Some perhaps will be forgotten; others will be added.

In Judge Hardy's Children

Mickey Rooney seems very proud of his little French sweetheart, Jacqueline Laurent, who appears with him in "Judge Hardy's Children," opening today at the Idaho theater. Also included in the cast are such favorites as Lewis Stone, Cecilia Parker and Fay Holden. The third in his series, "Judge Hardy's Children," reunites the stars of "You're Only Young Once" and "A Family Affair."

LACK OF JOBS BECOMES MAJOR POLITICAL ISSUE

By JOHN LEAR
NEW YORK, May 14 (AP)—The man-without-a-job is growing into a major political issue today, just in time for this fall's national elections.

It looms almost as big as he did in the presidential fight six years ago, and the problem is still the same.

How to feed him?

There are 20,100,000 persons on the relief rolls of the United States—7,500,000 less than during the worst crisis of February, 1934, and 6,100,000 more than the September, 1937, low.

have been asked. The Massachusetts case only is still in session, arranging over the state budget which the Republicans have killed rather than approve a highway-aid bill. The Democrats said would cut into unemployment. The legislatures of California and South Carolina recently ended sessions in which relief money was a major enactment.

Two governors—those of Connecticut and Iowa—are at work on schemes to reorganize relief setups in their states to better integrate local, state and federal aid.

Relief is a political issue in many forms or another in four additional states: Georgia, Minnesota, Pennsylvania and Washington in which relief money was a major enactment.

This is the time of year when the situation of the man without a job should be improving, but instead it is getting steadily worse because of the business recession, so much worse that a fourth of the states are embroiled in controversy or legislative preparations because of it.

"The hungry cry," the "want road" has risen in the streets of one mid-western industrial city, Cleveland, and payless paydays and unmet paychecks have been resorted to to feed the jobless in others.

The story behind the unemployment is the same throughout the country: the recession, a regression the Republican party and some business leaders blame on President Roosevelt, and President Roosevelt blames on business. Mills and mines are closing, Curtailment of the output has reduced jobs. Lumber mills are overstocked. The railroads want to cut pay scales 15 per cent. And Secretary of Commerce Roper says he can see no immediate upturn despite items like U. S. Steel's $80,000,000 expansion program in five states (Pennsylvania, Ohio, New York, Missouri and Alabama) and WPA's purchase of 75,500,000 yards of textiles for relief sewing shops.

Some states which report they are holding their own, Louisiana even claims to be beating the recession with its industrial program offering tax-free sites for manufacturing plants. For the most part, however, the lists of WPA and direct relief recipients are multiplying fast.

One in every five persons in Indiana is on relief; one in every 14 in New Jersey. Whole counties are insolvent in Minnesota. Ninety-seven per cent of the total population of one county in North Dakota is employed. WPA rolls are rising sharply in Georgia when they should be falling something 25 per cent. Farms are being sold for taxes on a wholesale basis in parts of Wisconsin. And those are only examples.

The federal appropriation states and local governments will add their millions in varying ratios from zero to more than 50 per cent. What the total is, it is impossible to learn; no agency seems to know what other agencies are spending.

Crisis in two states—Ohio and Illinois—have resulted in a call for one special legislative session and promise of another to untangle the relief problem. In two states, New York and Utah, special sessions are only a few of the suggestions mentioned by political goers, who are flocking in increasing numbers to Idaho's capital.

ITALY FAILS TO FIND GOLD, OIL

Fascists Still Hope to Discover Rich Fields in Ethiopia

NEW YORK, May 14 (AP)—It is two years ago that the Italian marauders in Africa and Italy's fascist legions still have failed to realize any semblance of the vast wealth in gold, iron and rare metals which they hoped they would find when Haile Selassie's kingdom was conquered.

But, they have not yet abandoned that hope for the Italian general petroleum board, according to advisers from Addis Ababa, just sent Angelo Blaich, their crack mining expert into the country to direct explorations not only for petroleum, but also for gold and jewels.

Planning for these mining explorations is needed by Italy, and a German concern already is assisting on one project. Now that London-Paris-Rome axis is progressing in its formative stage, there is the possibility that Ethiopia and France may come in also to assist.

Up to now the only actual discovery is a bauxite field near Addis Ababa, but the Italians are claiming that there is oil and copper near Dire Dawa and oil at Lake and Dolo. Small quantities of gold have frequently been made by the Ethiopians although the business of their findings might be blamed on the primitive mining methods they used. As for other precious metals, silver were compelled to leave their money, the thaler, minted from Austrian silver in Vienna. And as for the oil claim at Dolo, the British have never discovered oil in the nearby prospective fields of Kenya which they have thoroughly explored.

The writer spent many weeks in the Dire Dawa, Lugh and Dolo sectors while covering the war. There was little evidence of mining, and about the only remnants the Ethiopians had were a few gold and iron legs, iron and copper hammers. Their only jewels were inexpensive but colorful paste or glass which they had gotten from Hindi traders.

Whatever their shares may be, the states cannot act intelligently until the federal relief bill is passed by President Roosevelt.

Meanwhile, the plight of the man without a job grows more acute according to information from federal, state and local relief agencies. Just one survey shows it is most acute in two big industrial cities, Cleveland and Chicago.

SPEED STRESSED IN NAZI VIENNA

German Rule Sweeps Away Easy-Going Good Nature of Austrian People

VIENNA (Continued from the Associated Press)—The Nazis are now rapidly sweeping away Vienna's easy-going good nature of Austrian people.

The Nazis mean approximately an average speed of 100 miles an hour, which the Viennese have obtained since their city was a Roman camp.

Conductor Joseph Hasek, in charge of preparation for the plebiscite last April 10, did not like this traditional idyllic but that it could be altered to show up the nazification process.

Field Mar. had General Hermann Goering implied the same when he told the people they must get used to the new order and get used to it.

The communists had been forced to run Vienna on his papers, military, economic and social, are forcing their subordinates to speed things up. They like the word "tempo" and they use it often. The Viennese did not know what it meant before.

Berlin officials found that the defense ministry here house such ill-assorted branches as the department for war forests, militia, Red Cross, and other.

This will never do it, "heifert" they said in effect, before the natives could be themselves in the present order. House to think it over—as they could have done before the Nazis about—the departments, each newly divided, were quickly moved to separate buildings.

They picked out the hotel they wanted, had the manager to tell the guests to leave within three hours, and—presto!—were busy again before fore nightfall that day. Such a move would have taken something like 342 days if all went well, the efforts of 83 functionaries, and 41 documents in the old days.

The Seine in Paris is crossed by 32 bridges, the effect dating from 1500.

school boys and girls to see more of their country, not on quick vacation trips, but as pupils attending school and participating in the normal life of the community.

This sort of thing would be particularly valuable for boys and girls who are not otherwise likely to travel much.

How many might be surprised to find out how many of us never get out of our own country. We would be better citizens for knowing more of each other.

Other Points of View

THE MEN WHO MAKE AMERICA Again America is seeking with eager hope the road to a new and better government and private enterprise are participating in the search.

It was from a nation blessed above all others in natural resources, in the strength and vigor and intelligence of its people should suffer the blight of continued unemployment and halted production, a puzzle to many. Yet the answer may be better before in our own inspiring history.

It was when the American people felt and demonstrated their faith in their citizens.

It was when they expressed in their words and their attitude the pride of pioneer and thrift whose courage, self-reliance, confidence and initiative worked a miracle and built a nation.

News Behind the News

NEW DEAL policies were forgotten and presumably forgiven.

COUP. Supreme Court jurists are privately backslapping their former superior.

SECURE. The President's recent gestures of friendship toward Governor Herbert Lehman of New York coincide with New Deal tactics.

Two prospective candidates for the Albany post—New Deal Congressman Wm. Wood and Attorney General John Bennett—have quickly informed the Governor that they will not oppose him if he wants a third term.

Mr. Lehman's statement, as Washington hears from the French in a Paris newspaper, the question now rests on whether the diplomat quoted Mr. Roosevelt as saying "he never saw an embassy."

G. O. P. Pins Comeback Hopes on Congressman

NEW YORK, May 14.—New York political sharpshooters are keeping an attentive eye on Congressman Joseph W. Wagner of Massachusetts.

At 63 Mr. Martin possesses three of a majority in the House, but Martin feels—and that he makes no substantial progress this year.

HAIRMONIZE. Another Martin thought to emerge into the limelight is the new chairman of the board of governors of the New York Stock Exchange, who took office last Monday.

Chapter 46
Love and Pride

Reuben continued to stare at the mountain.

Clay watched him through a moment of profound desperation. His eyes told more plainly than words the hopelessness of her cause. She said: "I could put you on top of the world!"

"I'll put myself there, youngster. Watch me."

"How?"

"If I had ears it will be easy."

It was the old Reuben speaking. This, then, was the end. The end of what was to have been her perfect day. And she was the one who had vowed never to compromise with life! Vowed to accept no second—

Even now she had not given up. There must be a way! If—if she just flew straight ahead, at not too great an altitude and at full speed, she'd crash beautifully into the Lode Ridge. Go whirling down, down, take Reuben with her—

"She's just and swing herself up the plane's side with the agility of a monkey. 'All aboard! We're on our way, big boys!'"

She settled herself securely in the pilot's seat, while Reuben climbed into his place behind her. She turned and heard Pike rushing towards them waving a letter.

"Hey, here! Special delivery! Held up in the Christmas jam. Clay took off. She didn't see the field. Didn't see the controls. Didn't see anything. What difference did it make? If she flew furiously and low—for five miles—

"But I won't do it!" Clay exclaimed herself scornfully. "I'm to damn decent! A tough guy up to a point, then I turn mushy and remember all sorts of things I want to forget!"

She fell tears on her cheek—not hot, but they did sting. Glad Reuben was behind and couldn't see her face, she had the propeller make such a noise it matched the tumult within her—almost—

"I've fought a sneaky fight and I'm not right in the head," she told herself severely, "but I feel like—like—like—like a piece of self-torture."

Gradually the mist cleared from her eyes. She saw the compass. "I don't want to fly true," defiantly she shouted it at Reuben, "but I will."

Quickly she changed her course. Now to go! She did this quickly. Straight as the crow flies—Three years ago she had taken from Judith what looked like happiness. Today she was bringing the real thing back to her. In a few hours she would land in that same meadow, lose his passenger. Then—?

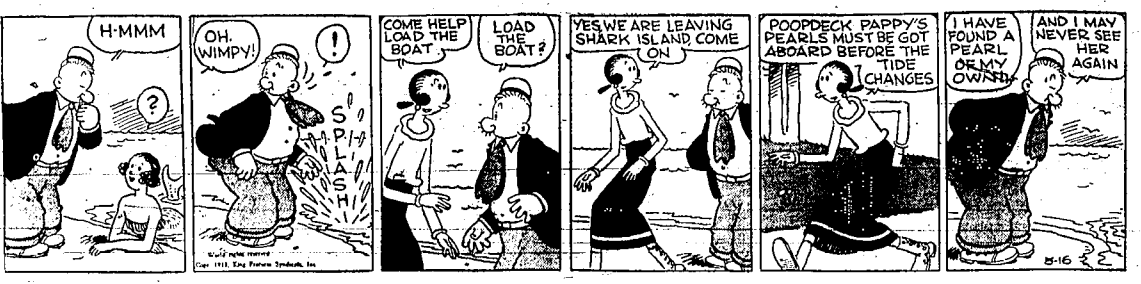

Clay didn't know what. Pain gnawed at her heart like the claw of a hawk. The end of the world was a long, long way—

Heaven or Hell?

To Reuben, Maryland was the end of the world and — the beginning! He was on his way to Maryland — to Judith. What he would say to her did not matter. He only knew that the first words that passed between them would decide whether he was to be a fortune teller, a prophet, a seer, or a man. If it was to be the latter he hoped Clay would fumble. Send him crawling home—

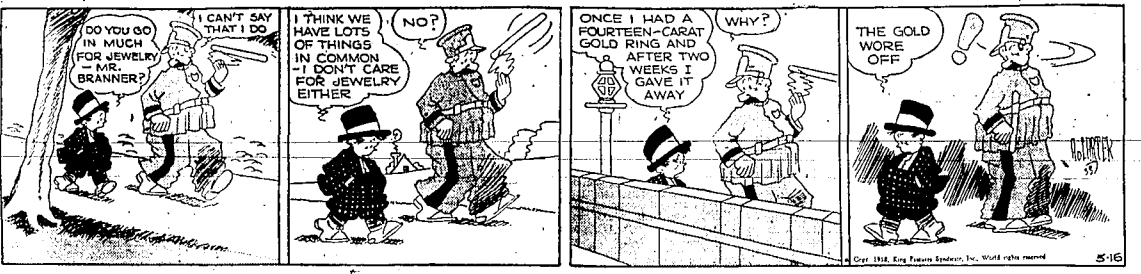

One glance at her squared shoulders, at her small hand upon the stick, assured him that Clay would not flinch. Though the end of the flight meant Paradise for him and purgatory for her, Clay was head-

University Group Elects New Members to Chapter Offices

Mrs. Dean Affleck was elected vice president and Mrs. F. C. Shapard, president of Twin Falls chapter, American Association of University Women, at the final luncheon meeting of the year yesterday at the home of Mrs. J. N. Davis, Bell Lakes business north. Mrs. H. A. Ball, president, conducted the luncheon and expressed appreciation for cooperation of officers and members during the past year. Mrs. Ball also presented a report of the recent state convention at Gooding.

Hostesses in addition to Mrs. Davis were Mrs. E. L. Decker, Mrs. S. T. Toffinier, Miss Rebecca Curtis and Miss Jessie Fraser.

Program numbers were a review of the April issue of the American Association of University Women's Journal by Mrs. Ed Tolbert, and two songs, "Bible Verse" by Pearl Curran and "Summer Boat" sung by Mrs. Russell Potter with Mrs. C. R. Fox playing her accompaniment.

Especially effective was the table from which luncheon was served, decorated with a crystal bowl and a yellow damask cloth blending in an unusual color harmony.

RECOGNITION GIVEN LOCAL MUSICIAN

Miss Mildred Elrod, 321 Fourth avenue east, has the distinction of being the first woman to be recognized in the music world. A biographical and pictorial record of musicians of today, recently published in New York City, Other Idaho musicians included in the volume are Miss Adelaide Anderson, Pocatello; Miss Winnie Hoffman, Parma, and Mrs. Grace B. McHose, Nampa.

In addition to the widely diversified group of today's most celebrated artists, the editors, according to the foreword, "take equal pleasure and pride in setting forth biographies of those teachers and music educators who labor unceasingly in their own communities."

Miss Elrod has travelled in Europe, Asia, Egypt and Mexico, where she studied the characteristics of the rock and their folk music, the Biographical sketch points out.

Resume of her educational activities includes the University of Idaho, Pocatello; University of Washington, Seattle, and study of the Dunning course under Carrie Mungerson, Chicago.

Miss Elrod, associated for a number of years with the late Mrs. D. E. Bean, in studio teaching, will present her pupils in a piano recital later this spring.

HECHTLER HONORED BY FACULTY

H. D. Hechtler, principal of Twin Falls high school, and Mr. G. H. Hechtler were guests of honor at a breakfast yesterday morning at the Park hotel, arranged by thirty-five members of the high school faculty.

The honorees were presented with a four-page electric coffee service by the group. Gerald Wallace, music director, presented the presentation. Mr. and Mrs. Hechtler are leaving soon for north Idaho to make their home.

Loyd Thompson, accompanied by Miss Josephine Throckmorton, sang "Road to Mandalay" and "The Christmas Tree." Mrs. M. E. Davis, music teacher, and Miss Eva Dungan led the group singing.

White lilacs and red tulips decorated the table. Miss Genevieve Throckmorton of place cards and Keesley D. Smith of floral arrangements.

THEATERS FARM MACHINERY BUSINESS PROBED

Idaho Trade Commission Advised of Congressmen's Report to Speaker

WASHINGTON, May 14 (AP)—Representative D. Worth Clark (D-Iowa) said today he had been advised that the federal trade commission would submit to the speaker of the house "some time next week" a full report on its study of monopolistic practices in the farm implement industry.

Clark said he was "very hopeful" that the report would outline the way to effective legislation to "control unethical trade practices in this vital industry."

Clark, with other congressmen, protested last fall against what he described as "vicious price-fixing" in the farm machine industry.

The trade commission undertook an investigation into all branches of the farm implement business. This survey included the cost of manufacture of representative farm implements, the profits of manufacturers and distributors, the prices charged by manufacturers, the distribution methods and dealer prices.

There are only 312 licensed manufacturers in the United States, and 10 of these are women.

One of the latest mechanical inventions is an appliance which plucks chickens in a few seconds.

The Christian Laundry and Dry Cleaners have the largest Christian Dry Cold Storage for furs, in the state of Idaho. Their charge is 25% of the value of the fur, with a minimum charge of $250. This service includes storage, insurance and glazing. Call 850 and have your furs cared for the way they should be.—Adv.

The Cost of DEAFNESS
If you believe that you don't need to do anything about your hearing "yet" - make this test. After a scientific fitting of the new SONOTONE, you will find out how difficult it is to hear without "get" the judgment of friends, family, or the physician. Make sure whether you do or don't need an Audicle now. It's the one way to save your hearing, prevent deafness, and solve your problem - twice as difficult as now.

GUN DISCHARGE COSTS $25 FINE

Twin Falls Man Pleads Guilty in Police Court

Pleading guilty to discharging firearms in a careless manner within the city limits before Aldon Boyd, Judge J. C. Humphrey, Stuart T. Morrison of Twin Falls was fined $25 Saturday.

Morrison was fined by police officers Saturday after investigation into a mysterious shooting early Friday morning when a bullet crashed through the screen and glass on the front door of the Tom Roberts home at 1441 Addison east. The bullet bored through the plaster on the wall across the room and fell between the partition.

Morrison had been trying to get his automobile out of the ditch where it was stalled after the Roberts home. The police report alleged that Morrison later got into an automobile driven by William Mumpower and picked up a .32-20 revolver belonging to Mumpower and fired three shots in rapid succession.

The bullet causing the damage hit a tree and then crashed into the house. Mumpower told police that he had stepped out of the car at the time the shots were fired. Police are holding the 22-caliber revolver at headquarters.

FREEDOM FALLS UPON FUGITIVE

McNeil Island Parole Violator Tells Story to Local Police

Police officers Saturday verified a prisoner's word that he was "wanted" and were holding him in Twin Falls city jail for federal authorities on a parole violation charge. The prisoner, Mitchell Wylie, gave himself up at the police station Thursday.

Wylie was wanted by McNeil Island prison authorities as a conditional release violator. He gave himself up at the station stating that he was "sick, cold, tired and hungry" and that he would as soon go back to the penitentiary as to suffer and be hunted.

Local officers wired federal authorities that they were holding the man and received word that a warrant for his arrest had been sent to the United States marshal at Boise with instructions to arrange custody. They will call for him early this week.

time," stated Day. "They must be available at any time, however, because when growers come for laborers they need them immediately." The employment aid is not limited to veterans who belong to the American Legion but is open to any veteran, Day added.

Burley Host at Firemen's Meet

BURLEY, May 14 — Southern Idaho Firemen will convene here Sunday, May 15, for the semi-annual convention of the Southern Idaho Firemen's association. About one hundred twenty-five visitors are expected here for the occasion. A business meeting and a program will be held in the district court room at 10:30 o'clock Sunday morning with President Maurice Jamison of Wendell presiding. A banquet will be given at 1 o'clock for the men and women in the I.O.O.F. hall and will be served by the Rebekah lodge members.

Women also will be entertained in the I.O.O.F. hall during the business session while local firemen's wives are hostesses.

Field Work Open To War Veterans

Any veterans of the World war who are desirous of obtaining employment in the beet fields in the vicinity during the seasonal rush are urged to contact the American Legion employment committee, according to announcement made Saturday by John Day, Legion employment chairman.

"We can place many of the veterans in agricultural labor at the ven-

CITY WELCOMES FAIR'S COURIER

Twin Falls Committee to Greet Visitor from New York

A formal welcome will be extended to Paul R. Ritter, goodwill courier to the state of Idaho from Governor Herbert H. Loomis and 1938 World's Fair President Grover Whalen when he arrives in Twin Falls Monday morning.

F. G. Thompson, Chamber of Commerce secretary appointed Mel Deuling chairman of the welcoming committee which will greet the "Courier." Arrangements call for a police escort to meet Ritter at the city limits and bring him ceremoniously into the city.

A banquet at Wray's cafe will be held at noon and Mayor Lem A. Chaplin will sign an honorary scroll. Governor Barzilla A. Clark signed the honorary scroll, this week and received a gold key and miniature troy and pearl-sphere, symbols of the 1938 fair. Mayors of leading cities in Idaho will affix their signatures on the scroll.

It is estimated that although traffic decreases by 75 per cent after dark, fatal accidents increase half as much again.

Awards Approved For Boy Scouts

Advancement applications from 12 Boy Scouts in the Twin Falls district, 11 in the Minidoka district and three in the Kimberly-Hansen-Murtaugh district were received at Boy Scout headquarters in Twin Falls Saturday, according to Ambly Frederic, scout executive.

Seeking second class badges from troop 59 in Twin Falls are Wayne Richard, Rex Ertus, Cecil Pennington, Rex Ertus and Oren Hyde, W. K. Polity is the scoutmaster. Robert Pratt, troop 69, whose scoutmaster is Victor Wainwright and Karl Brown, troop 71, with Chauncy Abbott as scoutmaster and John Day, Lone Scout, also seek the second-class advancement.

Eugene Griff, troop 61, and Walter Silbers, troop 69, made application for first class awards and Leslie Jones, troop 61, sought a merit badge.

HALD SPOT USED

TO PROMOTE SPEECH SHANGHAI (AP)—By painting a shining sun on his shiny, bald head, a Chinese merchant at Soochow is getting how for how from Japanese scoundrels, according to reports, appearing in Shanghai's vernacular papers.

The merchant explains to sentries he is using his head as a Japanese flag in an effort to promote Sino-Japanese friendship. Unable to ignore their own flag, the sentries are forced to return the man's boss.

badges for camping and Billy Eastman from the same troop made applications for merit badges in farm home and first aid to animals. J. O. Colbert is scoutmaster of troop 61, and W. E. Nixon signed as counselor.

In the Minidoka district, Glenn Hilderbach, troop 61, and Nell Borup, Max Peterson, Ross Corless, Wilford

Harris, Delbert Penton and Jimmie Toome, all of troop 54, asked advancement rankings to second class. Merit badge applications made were: Dale Stoller, troop 59, in safety; first aid and first aid to animals; David Roberts, troop 63, in farm mechanics, gardening, auto-billing; Vernon Michael, troop 63, in camping, pioneering, civics, safety, and pathfinding; Thomas Darley, troop 80, in machinery, carpentry, blacksmithing, woodwork and handicraft.

Scoutmasters are troop 59, K. G. Merrill; troop 61, W. D. Boydston; troop 63, LaVerne Hughes; and troop 54, Clifford Stocking. George G. Roeschery was the examiner.

Three youths from Murtaugh troop

101 asked advancements to star rank. They were Doran Bronson, James Day, and J. L. Lee. W. B. Blange was chairman of the court of honor and Kendall Dayley scoutmaster.

THE THREE WOULD'S

By Ella M. White

Maybe it's a touch of spring fever, but in the "Dark Drawers" Anthology, a little book of worth-while poems, compiled by Colonel Theodore Roosevelt and his sister, Mrs. Longworth, there is a little verse which seemed somehow applicable to many of us.

The restraints and necessities of civilization are probably wholesome in the main, but certainly, they are sometimes irking. It is all very well for the "do-it-now" preachers to hold forth on what they call the joy of work. As a matter of fact, I doubt that many folks ever experience true joy in any form of labor. The school boy drags reluctant feet to school. Every scribbler I have known has to lash himself to his daily chore. The teacher is forever longing for vacation days to come around.

The factory whistle is seldom music to the worker's ears. All of which means that we habitually resent our inability to do as we please, go as we please, work only when we feel like it. We kick at being ordered and regimented. Which brings us back to the little verse again. Here it is:

"I would I were beneath a tree,
A-sleeping in the shade,
With all the bills I've got to pay paid.

I would I were beside the sea
Or chifton in a boat,
With all the things I've got to write wrote!

I would I were on yonder hill
A basking in the sun
With all the things I've got to do done!"

Next Sunday Mrs. White of the White Mortuary, Inc., will conduct an HONOR.
