BREEDERS PLAN GOOD WARM SALE AT FILER AUG. 10

FARMS AND MACHINES. OIL WARE-PAY LATER. OUR CIGARETTE TAX FORD NO. 15,000,000.

The tops of the farmer is better machinery and more intelligent use of it. It is no longer the selling price of a bushel of wheat that counts but the amount of the time and labor used to produce the bushel.

At a special meeting of the Idaho Hampshire Breeders' association held at Caldwell last month, plans for the annual sale were given to the annual sale.

Concerning the meeting, the Idaho Farmer records that there was a unanimous verdict that as Idaho has the largest number of sheep in the mountainous part of the state, a severing of both ram and ewe lambs should be undertaken, and the culling should go on the first of August.

Predict Small Crop Of Fruit This Year

Fruit production this season appears likely to be less than harvested in any year since 1921, the government bureau of agricultural economics reports.

BUREAU REPORTS AGRICULTURE IN PEAK CONDITION

Weekly Summary Conditions Optimistic In View Regarding Most Farm Crops in Southern Part of State

Crops in southwestern Idaho progressed during the week ending June 14, said the summary issued last week by the Boise weather bureau. Conditions are better than they were in the week, followed by abundant sunshine and increased warmth.

REPORTS OF CONDITION FROM SEVERAL SECTIONS OF STATE ARE GIVEN AS FOLLOWS:

Weiser, Washington county: Week warm and favorable for growing crops; first crop of hay being harvested; potatoes and ranges are favorable; full and no apprehension of winter shortage.
Ashton, Fremont county: Clear and dry; very favorable; range in full hills good; grain about all seed except in higher sections; potatoes being planted.
Payette, Payette county: Warmer weather greatly improved crop outlook; much hay down; considerable damage by wind in some localities; seeds sown off and orchard and fruit trees uprooted.
Fort Hall, Blaine county: Moderate temperatures; spring conditions favorable; range in full hills good; grain about all seed except in higher sections; potatoes being planted.
Canyon county: Warmer weather; good growing; range in full hills good; grain about all seed except in higher sections; potatoes being planted.
Hill City, Camas county: Ideal weather for crops; grain growing fast; ground full of moisture; many potatoes in ground; wheat well; much winter wheat reseeded.
Marsing, Owyhee county: Crop conditions improved; much made excellent; grain growing; much winter wheat reseeded; hay in progress; light frost last night.
Richfield, Lincoln county: Best growing weather so far; crops looking good; potato planting almost finished; best planting in progress; just starting to water grain first time.
Caldwell, Blaine county: Much cloudiness and a little rain, but sunshine was adequate and crops made progress; crop prospects good; grain sown; potatoes in ground; many poor stands of grain.
Twin Falls, Twin Falls county: Good growing week; potatoes and grain about all seed; much winter wheat reseeded; hay in progress; light frost last night.
Caldwell, Canyon county: Heavy rain, but crops well.

Edwin J. Clapp shows what machinery is doing and will do to help solve farm problems.

United States farm can compete with European cheap labor, and even surplus high priced light rays. On American farms, one worker on the average produces twelve tons of cereal. In Europe, one worker produces one and one-half tons.

From 1910 to 1920, American farm population increased only four percent, while production of wheat increased fifty-eight per cent, cotton thirty-five per cent, cotton forty-seven per cent, cattle thirty-seven per cent, hogs sixty-five per cent.

Light automobiles and trucks are being produced in such quantities that they are now being sold at prices that are well below their cost. This is a fact that is being overlooked by the public.

Lincoln has good ideas.

An enthusiastic French lady intended to spend 150,000 francs for a cup to celebrate his flight. She was so grateful and asked that 10,000 francs be spent instead on children of French parents who lost their lives during the war.

When Count Witte was in this country, representing Russia in peace arrangements with Japan.

It would interest Witte to know that the United States tax on cigarettes is about pay the cost of our army. Uncle Sam collected $277,000,000 in ten months this year from cigarette smokers.

CHAUTAQUA IS GONE BUT TWO WEEKS AWAY - JULY 8-8

Varied Program Promoted by White Bureau
Twin Falls This Season—
Something for All

Only a short time remains until Chautauqua will begin. The 1927 program as announced by the local committee has something in it for every one.

First of all there are two marvelous plays which will interest either the professional theatre goer or the person who normally doesn't care for plays, but is interested in clean entertainment in any form. "The Great Year" and "Applesauce" are the two Broadway successes that are to be given at Chautauqua this year. The outstanding musical attraction, something of the kind that has never been given in Twin Falls heretofore, is the Haskell Indian symphonic band consisting of music from the late famous Indian school. Arrangements for this band have been made with the federal authorities and it is being permitted to give a chautauqua tour in order to give wider publicity to the work that the government is doing in training the young men and women from the reservation to become good citizens. Not only does the band play exceptionally fine music, but they also give representations of traditional Indian dances, dances and costumes and many other "hot" entertainment features.

Outstanding speakers of the week will include Robert Parker Allen, former religious editor of the "New York Journal" and for twenty years a headliner in the lecture field; Dr. Alexander P. Cairns, famous metropolitan preacher and columnist; and Woodman, genial gloom chaser and craven speaker.

There is a long list of other attractions selected to meet the taste of various classes of the community. There will be an artist program for the music lover; an orchestral program for those who are interested in music will be given by the Smith-

Spring-Holmes Orchestral quintette, which Clay Smith, famous songwriter in the leader. There will be a little review, something not heretofore attempted on any western Chautauqua circuit. Stewart Church, better Marina, soloist on the piano, will feature for this company. Much of the Oakland machinery will be there other lecturers, and a splendid visit as well as bearing some marvelous programs bearing Chautauqua week.

One of the most interesting features in connection with the Chautauqua development of the last two years has been the fact that it has been gratifying more and more to the citizens. This year the big Elliott White circuit contains more towns than last year and the notable fact is that the addition mostly come in larger cities. Among the larger cities added since last year are Houston, and El Paso, Texas; Santa Barbara, California; Chehalis and Raymond, Washington; Anacosta, Montana; and Idaho Falls and Blackfoot, Idaho. The steady conversion of the cities to the Chautauqua idea has been largely the result of the fact that in no other way can quite so much good entertainment be secured for such a small outlay as it can by the Chautauqua motor ticket way.

with plenty of thrills. Cost with Walker, who has the part of Bob Dore, a crook and the Starke, who has the role of Nancy Kay, the mysterious blond girl whose series of sensational robberies sets a city a-gog. Holliday, the detective, Grace Darmond, in the role of Lily, chum of Nancy, the blonde crook, and Reddy Bennett, who plays Freddie, the normal picture is full of sensational features; among them Miss Starke and Walker clinging to a cable of descending elevator to escape the clasp of their robberies. A masked ball the blonde robber, musked as a pirate, and her pal bungle an attempt to slip a diamond necklace which one of the guests wear. She shoots a guest as she escapes from the house. Then she purloin turns on desert and mounts in roads in a race which she finally loses to the pursuing detective. Both their machines are wrecked. "Honesty, The Best Policy" is from an original story by Howard Hawks.

The WOLVERINE is here!

The Newest American Car

By One of the Oldest American Builders

FOUR months ago, the Reo Motor Car Company announced the Reo Flying Cloud. Its instant acceptance by the public has been the outstanding feature of an otherwise colorless automobile season. Now the Reo Motor Car Company announces the Wolverine.

Named for the strongest animal of its size in all the world, the Wolverine—substantially lower in price and somewhat smaller in size than the Reo Flying Cloud—will bring to an even wider field of motorists that honesty of construction and sureness of performance for which Reo automobiles have always been known.

The Wolverine is small enough for easy handling and low operating costs—but no power, nor beauty nor beauty was sacrificed in making it smaller.

It's fast—fast on the getaway, fast on the open road and quick to stop.

Both its performance and its appearance will be a delight to those who, in the past, have looked in vain for something decidedly superior in a moderately priced automobile.

THE PACIFIC COAST LOOKS TO IDAHO

(The Idaho Pioneer)
Idaho is being rapidly identified as an important part of the great Pacific coast of the United States. Idaho is going Pacific because the Pacific states need her. She is the great bread basket and bears the cost of the wheat raised in the Pacific states that Ohio has achieved to the eastern coast states. Just as Ohio is a power in the east today, so will Idaho be a power in the west tomorrow. And tomorrow is not far off.

On June 21 in Portland the Pacific Coast Association of Advertising Clubs of the World will welcome the Boise Ad club into their fraternity. The Boise Ad club was originally a part of the intermountain district with Denver, Salt Lake and others. But the Pacific coast needs Idaho and Idaho is glad to go Pacific. Think Pacific and sell her products and natural resources to and with the Pacific states. Both Idaho and her sister states to the west will profit by this new association.

The Pacific coast offers Idaho a market, a spirit of enthusiasm for a different climate and benefits generally which come to all parts of a growing nation. It is a matter of price, but results. It's clean spuds and increased yields that you're after and that is what you get when you use

Why Idaho Pioneer Day? (Halley Times-News-Mirror)
June 15, 1890, a little colony of Mormon home builders settled on a spot that is now the beautiful city of Franklin. They thought they were still in Utah, but they were over the line in Idaho. This was the first permanent white settlement within the present boundaries of Idaho. To commemorate the event the legislature made June 15 'Idaho Pioneer Day' a legal holiday. It is why the flags were out Wednesday and why public offices and banks

CROP CONDITIONS IN IDAHO GOOD

(Burling Bulletin)
Reports of crop conditions emanating from the Idaho West indicate that the outlook there is the worst in years. With adverse growing conditions these yields are sure to be reduced. In the face of depressed production in this country.

According to the United States department of agriculture, the conditions in the small crops in Idaho are better than last year and is above normal, despite the backward spring. With warm weather prevailing, production should be good here.

TARIFF COMING BATTLE

Agriculture, which has insisted upon a revision of the tariff downward, is very liable, within the next two years, to have some very unexpected help and from a source least expected. This help is as soon as the 1928 elections are out of the way it is said, because the present high protective tariff dictated by the manufacturing and industrial interests contains a hidden danger for international finance which is rapidly becoming acute.

Agriculture's help will come from the financial leaders. Many have already expressed themselves on the subject. Some of these are powers in the political councils. Billions of dollars have been lent to European nations by Wall Street during the last few years. Interest on these billions have been paid by subsequent loans from the same source. That is the only manner in which interest could have been paid. Even a part of the money to maintain German reparations, under the Dawes plan, came from the U.S.

The process cannot be kept up indefinitely—and already a default of American loans to Europe is foreseen unless Europe can find a way of increasing her foreign markets. The foreign market which she most wants is the United States.

Here of course is the battle ground. Wall Street wants to protect its loans. Manufacturers naturally want the high tariff as now enforced—to keep out imports or low-priced European goods.

The most vital financial commitments of the postwar period is due for a severe strain.

FORD SAYS PUNISHMENT NOT DEATH

Henry Ford, in an interview with Norman Beasley in the current issue of Collier's Weekly, declares he is unalterably opposed to capital punishment for convicted murderers. "I believe in punishment, not whipping if necessary," he says, "but I do not believe in executing anyone. Capital punishment is not the solution for murder. If we must have a hangman, we cannot say that our state killed a man. We must say, 'You and I killed him.'"

"Everyone shares the moral responsibility for every condition to which he consents. Also, that which the state considers proper to do every citizen of that state should stand willing to do. We cannot rid ourselves of the responsibility of killing a man by merely passing the job into the hands of a paid executioner."

"The Mosaic law of a 'Victor's life' is an excellent rule, but it does not mean 'death for a death.' If a man murders and he is executed, we have a situation by which everyone loses. The murderer should be made to pay back his debt to his victim's family through supporting that family to pay back his debt to society, to pay back his debt to himself through work."

Mr. Ford goes on to say that there is no crime problem in the United States. "Poverty, disease, unemployment—these are the real problems. Give people work to do and crime will disappear. Alongside every college there should be a factory. There should be an industry near every school so that the student will be able to learn through the hand and arm as well as the eyes and ears."

"I have many ex-convicts working for me, but they are not criminals. Idleness and booze got them into trouble. Steady work, regular living, and economic opportunity straightened them up."
