AROUND THE AUTUMN CAMP-FIRE

By BETTY BARCLAY

Corn roast days are here again. After the stormy days of clam bake, barbecued chicken, baked hog in the open, marshmallow toast—take your choice, according to the locality in which you live and the outdoor preferences of your immediate friends.

At any rate, the cool, clear, delightful autumn evening with its outdoor meal and its campfire, in its own way, is a most enjoyable experience.

The outdoor meal, when properly prepared, is a delicious meal. Unfortunately, it is far too often an unbalanced meal due to the fact that one cannot eat heavily of potatoes, corn, beans, or barbecued fowl and beef sandwiches without securing a little too much carbohydrate or protein.

Then again, few of us have learned to appreciate the ease with which a delicious outdoor dessert can be prepared. We can furnish the rest of a full meal in the open, but find ourselves at a loss for a fitting dessert.

Yet some of the most simple and most delicious desserts lend themselves to the open. A wonderful camp fire pudding may be prepared by dissolving a package of orange flavored gelatin in a pint of boiling water. When cold and beginning to thicken, stir in two oranges sliced and peeled, marshmallows, cut in pieces. Serve with whipped cream and watch the expressions of those lovers of the great open spaces who never have enjoyed such a dish outdoors. Best of all, the fruit will tend to balance the course just as here before.

Something similar, but with an entirely different flavor, is maple walnut gelatin. Here is the recipe, which like the other one may be tried at home first and then used to surprise those accompanying you to the corn roast or clam bake:

MAPLE WALNUT GELATIN
Dissolve a package of orange-flavored gelatin in one-half pint of boiling water. Add one-half pint of maple syrup. When nearly cold add a cupful of walnut meats. Serve with whipped cream.

County Exhibits at Ada County Fair

(Buhl Correspondence)
Miss Altha Smith, secretary of Pomona grange and Miss Esther Wright, both of Buhl, left Saturday for Boise where they are in charge of the county exhibit seen in the state grange fair which opened Tuesday.

A complete and splendid exhibit included entries from all granges of the county of fruits, grains, vegetables and dairy products.

Gooding College Students Engage In Dramatics

The Music and Expression Departments of Gooding College presented their first recital of the college year Friday evening at the Gooding Methodist church, and exhibited the progress and high standards of the program characterizing all the work of the college.

The recital was presented to a large audience composed of friends from Gooding and outside towns who are appreciative of these two phases of art and education. Other recitals of these departments will be given later in the year.

The program was as follows: piano, "Valse Brillante," Helen Thompson, Gooding; vocal, "A Smile," Frances Helman, Buhl; reading, "Red Hagon," Franklin Thomas, Gooding; vocal, "Silver Star," Alton Lolloff, Gooding; readings, "Ghosts," and "The House with Nobody in It," Dorothy Marks, Nampa; piano, "Morning Song" and "Aunt's Death," Alice Lee, Jerome; vocal, "Down the Desert" and "Night on the Desert," Ava Barnes, Gooding; reading, "The Unfinished Story," Maceil Bee-

Conference Held of Honey Producers

Honey producers of the north and south Idaho met here held a picnic at Paul recently, with bee men and their families present representing 6000 stands of bees. Problems of bee culture and marketing were discussed. This season's crop of honey on the project will be but four cars, which is one-third of normal. Reasons for the short crop were given as undeveloped blooms caused by a windy and somewhat cloudy summer. The entire Snake river valley, from Twin Falls to Idaho Falls, seems to have been affected by short blooms. Unlike the potato growers, the honey men are not affected by labor troubles. Bees never strike, nor strike, nor do they complain about low wages. But they can't gather honey when the blossoms are without pollen.

Educators Will Assemble This Week

In addition to the annual district meeting of the Idaho Education association to be held in Twin Falls on Friday and Saturday the annual meeting of south Idaho school superintendents and principals will be held at the same time. The latter meeting has been called by the state commissioner of education. It will bring some 200 school heads to the city. Twin Falls will be host to approximately one thousand educators on Friday and Saturday of this week.

The principals and superintendents meeting will start at 9 o'clock Friday morning. In the afternoon and evening they will join the district association in a general session. Saturday morning again there will be special sections for superintendents and principals, says G. E. Denman, Filer, director of the convention.

Southern Idaho shipped 2300 cars inspected produce during September, and should ship 4,000 cars in October.

In Sixty-Six Years

William S. Creamer went to work 66 years ago as a cabin boy for a New York store at one dollar a week. He is still with that store, waited on Mrs. Abraham Lincoln, Mrs. U. S. Grant, Mrs. Grover Cleveland and Mrs. Roosevelt, mother of T. R.

MOST FAMOUS OF ROMANTIC PLAYS REACHES SCREEN

Most famous of the classics of romantic literature, "Camille," the younger Alexandre Dumas' immortal story, has been adapted to the motion picture screen in modern form, with Miss Talmadge in the title role. While no liberties are taken with the pathetic romance of the youthful "Armand" and his "Lady of the Camellias," as originally conceived, Miss Talmadge has given the story its setting in present day Paris and the picture is in other respects a product of the present age. With bobbed hair and a wavy robe expressing the last word of Parisian style creators, the characterization of "Camille" is the best visualization of the famous story as the world has ever seen in current times.

This adaptation of a classic of a past generation to existing conditions, so strikingly carried out in "Camille," is heralded as the possible forerunner of other modernized versions of famous plays and novels. "Camille" will be shown at the Orpheum theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

MINISTERS DINE WIVES

Wives of members were special guests at the monthly luncheon meeting of the Twin Falls Ministerial association at Tom's cafe here Tuesday noon. Each member had previously been requested to bring a cooked pheasant and all complied.

The Citizens' address is 508 Second Avenue North.

WOULD LIKE NEW TRIAL

Notes of intention to move for a new trial in the case of Mardo MacCloud vs. O. E. Lind was filed in district court Monday by Beverly A. Sheskey, attorney for Lind. MacCloud recently won a jury verdict in district court securing judgment for $450 against Lind on a case involving the lost sale of a car. MacCloud sued for $500. In his notice of intention to move for a new trial, the defendant points out that the jury did not follow the instructions of the court and that he is entitled to a $500 judgment which has been awarded instead of $450.

Feminine Deities

The first images of gods carved out by primitive men everywhere seem to have been feminine deities. Four little clay figures found in Arizona show that primitive American Indians carved feminine fetiches just as did Stone age cavemen.

Amundsen and Noble continue their quarrel as to which deserves credit for their dirigible flight over the North Pole. Noble says: "Musolini ordered the flight; Italians made it possible and built the dirigible. I ran the airship. Italy deserves the credit." Amundsen, in a book just published, says he deserves the credit and that Musolini admitted it.

What interests Americans is that while Amundsen and Noble, who had a long start, were getting ready, Commander Byrd, a young American, jumped into his airplane and flew over and around the North Pole twice, the first man that ever did that.

Commander Byrd, who speaks about flying with authority, says the real plane eventually will be a liner with ten motors, going 500 miles an hour, able to fly five days without stopping. Such a ship could cross the ocean in six hours, flying around the world in two days. Millions now living will see that machine and greater machines.

It is a comparatively simple matter to lock the barn door after the horse is stolen. Doubtless that is what will be done in Twin Falls following the rather embarrassing occurrence of Sunday night when half a dozen business places were entered by yeggmen. It is easy to diagnose the case: get more policemen!

THE AMERICAN RED CROSS

Every Red Cross chapter in the west has been asked to pledge its cooperation in a great, nationwide endeavor to recruit five million members in the American National Red Cross for 1938, according to J. Arthur Jeffers, manager of the Pacific Area.

This action followed immediately upon the adoption in Washington, D. C., October third, by the Red Cross Central Committee of a resolution setting five million as the membership goal and stating that this increase over the present 3,087,788 membership is imperative if the Red Cross is to continue to respond to the enormous demands made upon it for service, particularly in the field of disaster relief.

In spite of most rigid economy of operation, the Red Cross has been spending each year a sum considerably in excess of its annual income. It cannot continue to do this, and unless it greatly increases its annual membership dues its program will have to be severely curtailed.

The news of the Central Committee's action was relayed by wire from San Francisco to the three hundred Red Cross chapters in Alaska, Arizona, Idaho, California, Nevada, Oregon, Utah, and Washington, urging each of them to strive for a membership goal which would bring the area's total to 580,000, the west's share of the nation's 5,000,000 members. Immediate responses began coming in from chapters in all sections of the area pledging hearty support and enthusiastic acceptance of their goals.

On the same day the West accepted formal incorporation in the awarding to the State of California by Miss Mahal Boardman, secretary of the Central Committee, of an honor flag for the largest enrollment in 1937 of Red Cross members in proportion to the population of any state in the Union; 64 per cent of its citizens being members of the Red Cross.

Although the West seldom recalls on the Red Cross we should all be ready when the Red Cross calls!

WHAT WILL THEY DO? (Minkola County News) American Falls reservoir, with a maximum capacity of 7,700,000 acre feet of water, covering an area of 18 square miles and inundating 61,000 acres of land, was dedicated with a fitting ceremonies Wednesday.

DOROTHY DARNIT

The dream of reclaiming the 115,000 acres of land comprising the Minkola North Side Extension, made possible by the building of the American Falls dam, has long been the men's interest in its building is closely linked with the extension fund. For instance we find in the 24th Annual Report of the Reclamation Bureau for 1924-25 the following paragraph under the heading "Minkola Project": "The American Falls reservoir, now under construction, has been designated jointly by the United States, to provide storage and power for the proposed North Side pumping division of the Minkola project, and by various pumping plants and irrigation canals in the districts requiring additional water to supplement their direct diversions from the Snake River."

The government has spent vast sums of money and has been in a condition to be reclaimed. Surveys have been made, including the measuring of 800 miles of land and setting pipe corners; 480 miles of better-irrigated land has been surveyed. Besides this the government has spent at least $2,000,000 in the building of the reservoir at American Falls to insure $20,000 acre feet of storage allocated to the North Side Pumping division of the Minkola project.

Aspects of the immediate building of the proposed hydro-electric plant at American Falls to pump the water to these lands looked very bright last November when Secretary Hubert Work announced that a appropriation of $1,500,000 for power development at American Falls as part of his tentative ten-year reclamation-constructive program. It had been reported in the Budget for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1928, and was to have been followed by an appropriation of $1,071,000 in 1931 for the enlargement of the power plant.

It's history now as to how the appropriation was split by the Idaho congressional delegation, giving the new Gooding project and the Black Canyon project each $400,000, the balance of $700,000 remaining for the Minkola project, and the subsequent killing of the ten-year plan. And the money earmarked by Secretary Work that the $700,000 appropriated by congress for commencing work on the power plant will not be used; that the project has been indefinitely postponed, and indirectly he places the blame on the actions of the Idaho delegation.

GRANGE NEWS

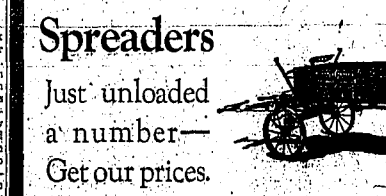

RUSSELL LANE GRANGE Last Thursday evening, Russell Lane Grange met at the Hansen Community church in regular meeting. After preliminary business meeting the time was taken up with interesting ceremonies. The Excelsior "Ladies Degree Team" were guests of the grange and presented the Fourth Degree work in a most highly entertaining manner. The drama itself composed of intricate marching and figures was made more beautiful by the white robes and coronae of blue and gold pom-poms. Representing Mrs. Kendall and Mr. and Mrs. Elder Wilson, Theodore and Stuart Scott were taken into the grange. After the closing of the business hour, the guests and new members along with the regular members assembled in the basement of the church for refreshments of blue and gold ice cream, cake and coffee. The room was beautifully decorated with the colors of the fourth degree and also banks of flowers, autumn leaves, heaps of fruit, emblems of the liberal harvest. Speeches were made by M. B. Taylor, Master of Russell Lane Grange, Rev. Kendall, Elder Wilson, Professor Hiles, and Warren Lowry, Master of Excelsior Grange, also Mrs. E. B. Wikstrom, lecturer of Excelsior grange. After which the company adjourned to the assembly room, where they were entertained with popular music rendered by Fay Schewsky (plans) and Virgil Wilson (saxophone). It is our hope and aim that there will be more of these neighborly meetings during the coming season. Mrs. R. W. Teague, reporter. Spencer — Woods Livestock company will ship 10,000 lambs to Gilgoc in one train. Idaho prairie shipments to October 7 were 1105 cars, with 500 more on order.

More Police Protection Asked of City Council in Resolutions of Local Bodies

In addition to seven Twin Falls business establishments reported closed during the early morning hours of Monday, it was later learned that attempts were made to gain entrance to the Ed George garage on Second avenue north and the Magel cigar store on Main avenue south. Twin Falls Oakland company were also victims of the nocturnal visitors. 15 motorcars being misused at that establishment.

Following the robbery the Twin Falls Chamber of Commerce and Twin Falls Credit association adopted resolutions presented to the city council Monday night which called for a reorganization of the police force so that property interests and citizens of Twin Falls may have proper police protection.

The merchants' bureau of the chamber of commerce has appointed a committee of three persons, L. E. Saladay, George E. Balch and G. E. Gans, to work with the council and police department in the police problem.

No arrests have been announced in connection with the robbery, which is believed to have been the most widespread ever recorded here, netting the yeoman $300 in cash from the W. B. Wright and Sans company store.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

100 Ninth Avenue East
"Doctrine of Atonement" is the subject of the lesson sermon at all churches of Christ Scientists, Sunday, October 16. Golden text: Galatians 2:20. "I am crucified with Christ; nevertheless I live; yet not I, but Christ lives in me; and the life which I now live in the flesh I live by the faith of the Son of God, who loved me, and gave himself for me."

Among the citations which comprise the lesson sermon is the following from the Bible: "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith. Now there is laid up for me the crown of life, which I will receive from the Lord, who is the righteous God." "I will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom: to whom he glory forever and ever. Amen." 11 Tim. 4:1-8.

The lesson sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health, with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christians must take up arms against error at home and abroad. They must grapple with sin in themselves and in others, and continue this warfare until they have finished their course. If they keep the faith, they will have the crown of rejoicing." Page 20.

Sunday services are held at 11 a. m. The Wednesday evening meeting at which testimonies of Christian Science healing are given is at 8 o'clock. A reading room at 134 1/2 Main Avenue North is open daily from 1:30 to 4:30 p. m. All are welcome to attend the services and to visit the reading room.

Vote on Sale of Creamery Carries

Only 18 Nampa Cooperative Creamery stockholders out of 3334 voted against the proposal to dispose of the creamery's assets to A. B. Henningsen, J. M. Kiehn and John Crawford, representing the [A. P. Henningsen] company, it was revealed following a canvass of the stockholders. The vote stood 317 for and 18 against. Only 3095 votes were required for the necessary two-thirds.

This practically unanimous approval of the proposal made by Mr. Crawford, at a special meeting of the stockholders held a week ago, assures the reestablishment of the creamery which closed on July 15 because of financial difficulties. A new corporation will be organized under the Idaho statutes.

FILER

Conspicuous among the social affairs given for Miss Marie Brady, a bride of this month, was a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. George the Lawshe-homes, Jerome, Friday, the home of Mrs. Ella Costa October 7. The rooms were beautifully decorated with fall flowers and streamers, carrying out a pink and green color scheme. A mock wedding was performed in which the outstanding characteristics of the bride and groom were portrayed, much to the amusement of the guests. The guest of honor was presented with a large number of beautiful and useful gifts. The evening was spent in playing games and writing telegrams to the bride. At the close of the evening a very delicious two course luncheon was served by the hostesses assisted by Miss Ruby Lander and Miss Elizabeth Bussell. There were 25 guests present.

The Washington Rural club met at the home of Mrs. Ella Costa on Thursday, October 6, with twenty members and four guests present. ## Men Feel at Home Here! It's Because They! Find What They Want—Not What We Want to Sell Them!

Always at Real Thrift Prices Too!

Two Men Go Shopping And Talk About It, Too.

Who ever said that women do all the shopping and that men won't even buy their own shirts and collars. Lots of men shop in our store—and like to do it.

The other day a farmer met his family doctor in our shoe department. "I like to shop here," said the farmer. "I can usually find just what I want, and it always costs a little less."

"I've just bought a pair of shoes here," the doctor replied, "and saved exactly $1.22."

Which only goes to show that the men folks, too, recognize a good value—and know where to come for it.

Helen greatly admires the earlier lady of that name whose face she understands, launched a thousand ships, and consequently she wears a White and cream-colored frock of her frock. And though Helen's brother has almost convinced her that her face alone would command attention about one of the lightest colors, Helen wisely believed that beauty lies in the combination of colors. And surely nothing could be more attractive and conducive to brightness than the frock of silk, cotton, linen or flannel with the headings of collar, cuffs and clover made in a contrasting color. From the frock she has selected two inverted triangles and down the front to the top of the skirt. A blue and grey stripe is used for the collar. The frock is made in the costume. (Copyright, 1927)

WHAT CHILDREN SHOULD KNOW

BIRD-LIFE
"Boasting" of ducks killed unlawfully is an offense against the Federal game laws that is being rigidly prosecuted.
Wild life refuges are being established in great numbers to protect migratory birds in flight. Attention is being given to supplying these birds with adequate food for birds. Studies of bird losses from diseases caused by too great concentration, by alkalal poison, disease and oil pollution, are being made as a basis for improved legislation.
Many game birds are increasing and the most necessary aids to health and good looks.

TWIN FALLS COUNTY ENTRY AT RECENT SALT LAKE EVENT

Idaho Receives National Publicity From Its Livestock

In its account of the Twelfth Annual National Ram Sale conducted by the National Woolgrowers' association at Salt Lake City, the American Sheep Breeder and Wool Grower, a national monthly periodical published at Chicago, devotes the leading article of the September number of the magazine to a detailed account of the sale.

A photograph of the top Hampshire at the auction is the only picture used in the write-up, this being an animal sold by Robert Blastock of Filer to the Colorado State Reformatory for $460. Concerning the Hampshire sale the American Sheep Breeder and Wool Grower says:

There were 625 Hampshire sold for a total of $29,907. The highest price received for an individual being $460 paid Robert Blastock by the Colorado State Reformatory. The highest price received for pen of 5 was $150 each paid Robert Blastock by the Wood Livestock company; the highest price received for the larger pens was $80 per head paid H. L. Finch by Marion M. Jensen, of Brigham City, Utah, for 22 head. For the most part, the Hampshire brought less than everyone had expected.

Was Eve a Model Wife?

No one contends that Eve was a model wife, but she tried to be a good provider for Adam, as is evidenced by the undisciplined facts that she cooked his goose, made a hash of his affairs, brewed a pretty kettle of hob, spilled the beans in general, and her cake was all dough, just because she sampled the devil's brew.—Columbia State.

Paradox means that which is "against opinion." It is a statement or proposition contrary to commonly received opinion. It also means a statement that seems on the surface contrary to common sense, but in reality is perfectly true, the word being used in a special sense.

"MECHANICAL EAR" IS ADVOCATED BY INSPECTOR

A suggestion that the "mechanical ear" should be the next development in eliminating the human equation from the marvelous precision methods which constantly are building better performance and longer life into modern automobiles, is contained in an article which appears in a recent issue of the Journal of the Society of Automotive Engineers under the signature of R. R. Todd, chief inspector of the Oakland Motor Car company.

Under present procedure, the final inspection of a differential assembly before being placed in the car is by the keen ear of a man specially trained to listen to the sound of the gears as they are revolved by an electric motor.

If the assembly "sounds good" he passes it. But no man ever has been and never will be infallible. In other words the human element is a variable. It is the replacement of this

In spite of the cars taken in many cases to establish a standard to follow, considerable difficulty is experienced in obtaining a practical uniform standard in noise," writes Mr. Todd. It is extremely difficult to secure men whose sense of hearing is keen enough to enable them to "standardize" to a point hearing un-

The inspector should be educated to maintain a standard where his own judgment, uniform from day to day, will avoid the handicapping of the "mechanical ear."

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

PLAYING THE PIANO

Douglas and Dorothy were invited one day...

"We're going to have a concert first—by ourselves."

"Oh," laughed Douglas, "I can only play 'Turkey Trot' with one finger."

"Dorothy sat down and as she commenced to move her feet the piano played—all by itself."

"Oh," she cried, delightedly, "it's a very funny piano. But isn't it wonderful?"

"It's the tune the hand organ plays," said Dorothy.

"I have never seen anything like it," said Douglas.

"And then they were a little further down town."

"They went in a hilly and my dear little Dorothy."

No-Written Records

of the Celtic Race
That the Celts, at the time of the invasion by Julius Caesar of what is now England and Wales, had any written records there is great reason to doubt, although there are inscriptions on certain rude stone monuments in parts of Wales, as in the southeastern counties of Glamorgan, Hereford, Hereford and Hereford. These, known as Ogamic characters, the antiquity of which is not well determined.

So far as deciphered these inscriptions throw no direct light on the origin of the Celtic race. Their spoken language, reduced to writing after the introduction of Christianity, is the only key of any importance to their origin. This plainly marks them as an early offshoot of the Aryan family, the common Asiatic stock from which all the western races of Europe have descended.

The descriptions left by the Romans of the aborigines of Britain at the time of the Roman conquest represent them as fierce, cruel barbarians. Neither Caesar's commentaries nor the works of Tacitus and other historians of the period of the Roman domination convey evidence that the Britons had any knowledge of letters until the Roman and Greek characters were taught them. Neither do these historians preserve any oral traditions of the British bards or druids which might shed light on the early history of the Celtic race.

How Gilbert Stuart Saved the Situation

Gilbert Stuart almost had his head turned by his success in England, and on his return to America when Hull called to have his portrait painted the artist began telling his stories of his experiences with Lord So-and-So, the marquis of this and the Baroness that, stories meant to show Hull how great was the notice to which he had been accustomed.

Unfortunately in the midst of this ostentatious chatter, Mrs. Stuart, not knowing there was a sister, came in from the kitchen with an apron on and her head bowed round with a kerchief. "Do you want that leg of mutton boiled or roasted?" she inquired.

Stuart was nonplussed—but only for a second. "Ask your mistress," he indignantly snarled. Boston Transcript.

Types of Zebras

Zebra is the name in general of all the African striped species of the horse family (equidae). There are four species are usually recognized, viz. the true or mountain zebra (Equus zebra), Burchell's zebra (Equus burchelli), Grevy's zebra (Equus grevyi) and the quagga (Equus quagga). The last-named was only partly striped and is extinct. It was an inhabitant of the Cape of Good Hope and the Tropic of Zanzibar, where it roved in small bands. It was the smallest of the group, standing a trifle over four feet high at the withers, and had relatively long ears, a comparatively short mane and a scantily haired tail. Its ground color was white (brownish on the neck and the sides), with black. The zebra now most often seen in South Africa and in menageries is Burchell's, which Boers call "ossage."

Drinking Sunlight

Although drinking water provides us with a satisfactory equivalent to sunshine in winter-time, and "bottled sunlight" is to be obtained through water purifiers, the science has by no means exhausted its discoveries.

It is hoped that it will soon be possible obtain winter sunshine in a glass of milk. By giving irradiated cattle care to milk cows, their milk will be made rich in the vitamins of the sunlight. Milk, to most people, is more palatable than cod-liver oil, and is also cheaper. There is, too, a pleasant suggestion in "drinking sunlight."

Great Man's Influence

We cannot look, however imperfectly, upon a great man without attributing something to him. He is the living life-fountain, which it is good and pleasant to near; the light which enlightens, which has enlightened the darkness of the world; and this not as a kindly life-giver, but as a natural luminary, shining by the gift of Heaven; a glowing light-continuum, as I say, of native, original insight, just as the sun shines, and it is in whose radiance all souls feel that it is well with them.—Cicero.

Father to the Man

The attitude toward the head of the household in the modern home. A child's opinion of a parent can generally be accepted at face value. One evening a guest in a home wanted to induce the somewhat dour three-year-old daughter to say a few words. Several attempts to carry on a conversation had failed. Finally the guest, pointing to one child's father, asked: "Who is that man over there?" "My father isn't a man," said the child. "He is just a great big boy."

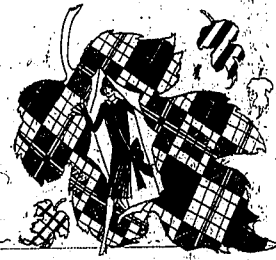

Skin Games

Johnnie had been scolded for playing with a little colored boy of his acquaintance. One day while watching his mother par potatoes, he said to the mother: "I'm a little colored boy. Can't you peel him so I can play with him?"
