VALUABLE REPORT

While the Carter forecast on the white fly prospect in this section this season are unfavorable, the wonderful thing about the entire proposition is its benefits to prospective growers, affording them opportunity in advance to be forewarned of possible and probable conditions, thus effecting savings of thousands of dollars in futile labor and expense of planting.

It was not many years ago when the edicts of so-called "hydroplogists" were ridiculed by dirt farmers, but now the situation is reversed. Science can foretell possible crop conditions, and a great deal of dependence has come to be put into the reports and forecasts such as that issued by Mr. Carter.

THIS VERSATILE MONTH

All of the evidence considered, it is agreed that the month of March is the dissenting member, the erratic revolutionary, the most fickle of the fickle and the most irresponsible of the undependable among the 12 major divisions of the calendar year. It is born of both winter and spring by virtue of the calendar and weather tradition. It is nature's sample case. There are several reasons for the existence of the "crazy March hare" and the prophetic association of March with the lion and the lamb.

Throughout the major portion of the United States the month of March is welcomed because it marks the death of winter and the birth of spring. Among the time-worn days of the year none is quite so well-met and joyfully received as March 21, the first day of spring. Sometimes the first day of spring does not live up to its calendar designation and harsh winds or deadening snows strive for supremacy over the urge of spring, but to no avail.

In closing March abdicates in favor of April with her moving day, showers and garden making.

OUR MOTOR MOLOCH

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company estimates that motor vehicles last year killed more than 25,000 persons in the United States and injured at least 1,000,000 more. Since 1920, fatalities have increased 67 per cent. The situation is growing steadily worse. And the worst feature of all is that children between the ages of five and ten years furnish the major portion of the victims.

Here is a problem for each community to wrestle with, and one worthy of the strongest effort. Many, perhaps most, of the deaths were caused by carelessness, lack of proper precautions. Too many drivers had too many pedestrians are trying to beat the other fellow.

POOR LITTLE THING

A makrazino said to be the national organ of the younger sets of some thirty-five American cities has just published an account of the passing of flapperism. The flapper, however, has been dead for some time. Poor little thing, she died, not of exposure, as some might think, but rather of neglect.

The flapper began to fall when grandmother first bobbed her hair and lopped a couple of inches of cloth off the bottom of her skirts. From then on she languished and the final blow came when the accounts of her going on caused people only to shrug their shoulders and say "What of it?"

A demure, shy little girl is peeping from the wings. Soon she will trip modestly upon the stage so lately occupied by that brazen flapper.

But the flapper had her good points—and they were obvious. She has passed many of them along to the modest little girl who has taken her place. And in ten years or so, the flapper will be back with us. It was ever so.

It's Hoover Against the Field in Ohio Primary Campaign

Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, former Governor of Illinois, Frank O. Lowden, Senator Charles Curtis of Kansas, Frank J. Willis of Ohio, James E. Watson of Indiana.

"Second Choice" Provision of State Election Law Lets Other Candidates in on Fight

Willis backers wanted Vice President Daves as second choice, but he refused his consent, saying his favored Governor Lowden.

The majority of the Willis delegates, particularly in the rural districts, are expected to name Governor Lowden, for there is considerable sentiment in Ohio for Lowden or Daves on the farm relief issue.

Herbert C. Hoover, Secretary of Commerce, who entered the Ohio Presidential primary in opposition to Senator Frank J. Willis, Ohio's "favorite son," now virtually faces the field in the fight for the convention delegates there.

The Ohio Primary Election Law requires each candidate for district delegate or for delegate at large, to state his first and second choices, "irrespective of whether the name of his candidate for President shall be used without his written authority."

While the Willis forces claim to have made an effort to secure the second choice, their delegate candidates are sure to name former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois, Senator Charles Curtis of Kansas, Senator James E. Watson of Indiana and in a few local places Colonel Stuart H. Fisher of Wheeling, Ohio. Although many of the Willis primary, this will probably show not only Willis preference between Senator Willis and Secretary Hoover but the choice of the state in case either Willis or Mr. Hoover, or both, should be eliminated from the picture.

James R. Garfield, son of President Garfield, and former Secretary of the Interior, has been picked as second choice, by the Hoover faction and has written his consent.

Lawrence returned to his vicinity after a few months' trip.

Scott Jones has moved with his family to his farm in this vicinity that Mr. Healy farmed last year.

George Steinhilber moved from the Neffner farm to the Ashton farm which Earl Eason left recently, and George's brother will farm the Neffner farm.

Jack Macner returned last week from Latah Hot Springs where he has spent the past few months.

A large number of people are glad the winter conditions in this community but it seems that every available place is taken, even land that has not been farmed for some time.

Mr. Barnes who has been farming the west Rosecrans ranch has moved to his south side.

Mr. and Mrs. Jenn Day, with Mrs. Joe Day moved to Albion Sunday to visit Mr. Jack Terry, T. J. King, Mrs. A. H. Heston, Mrs. Terry and Mrs. Jean Day are visitors.

Earl Fischer has rented the Dr. Busch farm in this vicinity and is busy finishing the construction of a new little home on the property.

Tom Bailey has rented the Berry farm for this year. Mr. Carter is in the east at present.

The stray horses collected in this vicinity were sold by the sheriff last Friday when they visited the Clark region.

Joe May has greatly improved the appearance of his farm by cutting down the large poplar trees fronting his property, thus displaying his large orchard to advantage.

The following families were represented in Twin Falls Saturday: Harris, McDonald, Day, Hollenbeck, Brown, Paul, Gossett, Glensons and Shearer.

FROM OUR READERS

RAISING BRONZE TURKEYS to more than $25 or $50 for a good, large purebred tom. I believe there is no other kind of poultry as interesting as the raising of purebred bronze turkeys, studying their habits and characteristics from the mating season early in the spring, through the summer, through the fall, then either selling the young stock for breeders or fattening them for market.

There is a large demand for large purebred bronze turkeys for breeders, because they are the most popular and known to be the best.

In addition, there is a great demand for the bronze at marketing time, because of the finer grain of the meat and the unusual, floppy tail.

There are also many more people who think the bronze turkeys have more of a tendency to roam and need more range, but I find by breeding higher and better Standard of Perfection their running natures are overcome.

Raising Turkeys Artificially. However, turkey eggs usually hatch turkey eggs in incubators with 100 eggs and cost an 80 per cent hatch, all large, strong pullets. This I considered good.

However, turkey eggs usually hatch very well. The last two years I raised many of my turkeys with much less success than I have experienced this to be a far better way than raising with hand.

One can handle large numbers with much less work. I can place about 200 pullets in one portable house, size 8x10 feet, with a large side cut burning brooder. They are inclined to go to roost when about two weeks old. I have a small enclosure around the brooder for about two weeks, then make larger pens. When young turkeys are about one month old, I leave them on free range, over several acres of alfalfa or clover field. They don't get fat, always return for feed, which I keep before them.

I believe in feeding them plenty of the right kinds of feeds to keep them growing. This helps to make large frames and helps Mrs. J. H.

Causes of Failure. Many people who are something like this: "Can't understand why my turkeys are dying, and they don't seem to have the size and vigor that they should have. My broods only laid about 10 or 12 eggs each this season."

The chief cause for these troubles are inferior, insect-brooding stock. Today, hundreds of turkey brooders are being used, many of them learning the great importance of brood turkey.

Charles H. Jones, secretary to Senator Willis, declares that he has not Mr. Hoover entered the Ohio primary his words have been the second choice of many of the Willis delegates, but that now many of these will support Mr. Hoover at any time at the Kansas City convention.

The Ohio primary, this will probably show not only Willis preference between Senator Willis and Secretary Hoover but the choice of the state in case either Willis or Mr. Hoover, or both, should be eliminated from the picture.

James R. Garfield, son of President Garfield, and former Secretary of the Interior, has been picked as second choice, by the Hoover faction and has written his consent.

What a Good Tom Means. One standard weight tom will usually give an additional five pounds more of meat to market than many turkeys could produce of his offspring. He should be mated to either a tom of equal selected large hens. How many turkeys could you produce? Some say 200. To be conservative, cut it in two, or 100 birds. At an average price of 10 cents per bird. This would give 500 more pounds of turkey meat, without extra cost for feed or labor. At a low average price of 10 cents per pound of meat to market, you would find it would mean $200, not counting anything of the great stock improvement in your flock that you would receive.

Your investment would not be lost. The annual declamatory course of the Hanzen.
