

Dr. Frank Crane Says

(This newspaper will continue to publish the work of Dr. Frank Crane, Dr. Crane recently passed away in Nice, France. Before leaving for Europe he had prepared a number of articles in advance.)

THE OTHER WORLD When you sail out across the sea you wonder what the whole thing is. It stretches away for miles and miles. Days at a time you cannot see even another ship. Water, water everywhere, clear to the horizon. And they say that three fourths of the earth's surface is ocean.

We think we people who live on land, and those that sail across the sea in boats, are the whole thing. We think it is idle for him, but Mr. Pope says that the gods think the same thing.

It is stated that there are more living things under the sea than in the air. It is not unreasonable to suppose that wherever man is on this earth, though the denizens of the sea were more important than the things that live on the land. Else he wouldn't have made so many of them.

Curious about that other world? People drawn when they are submerged in the water and those things that inhabit the water generally drown when they come up into the air.

No man can go down into the home of the fishes and live very long. When Mr. Fish comes into the air he all live but die shortly.

Perhaps that other world of spirits, of which most of us have heard, is that? No fish has been reported to mingle with men. This is fatal to it as a fish.

It is fatal to it as a fish. Many spheres is fatal to us. No man has gone into it and returned to tell the tale.

We eat the fish when they are not dead, but the fish get us no better and eat us when we are not cooked.

We have strange stories of mythical beings who inhabit the depths of the sea. Few believe in them. We have equally strange stories of witches and mediums who call spirits out of the upper world. Some believe these.

But as far as we know our activities and acquaintances must be confined to this narrow stratum of the earth's atmosphere. We go below it through the portals of death, at our peril.

SIN

1 John 1:5-10; 2:1-6

Rev. Samuel D. Price, D. D.

Holiness is an attribute of God. The simplest survey of life or of the world reveals the ever-present holiness of God. This is the theme for this week in its utmost contrast to that for last week, when the Lord said to the subject, "You are both inward and he has never enjoyed through life before. Hence there is constant need of an adequate Guide Book, and that Book is the Bible. It might well be called the sinners' Book, for it gives a complete analysis of his experiences and then reveals the adequate solution of his condition."

Numerous passages must be applied in connection with each of the quarters. Those for the present study of this week are Genesis 2:1-24; 6:5-8; Mark 7:1-23; Romans 1:18-32 and 2:1-18. Others of equal importance may be noted by looking at your concordance.

Those who insist that it is hard to keep from doing evil in the present environment will do well to turn themselves back into the Garden of Eden where they and Eve were part of an unmarred world. They had the maximum of life for which he was made. As they had life in common with their Creator, yet they chose to disobey the reasonable commandments of their heavenly Father. Since sin had its exercise in his own free will when he had been given power to the contrary. After our first parents had been driven from Paradise they had plenty of time to meditate on the consequences. As they faced their guilty consciences in their helplessness, the First Evangel was given in the promise that was redeemed in the Messiah, the Son of man.

That sin cannot be a personal matter is revealed in the extent of sin and the time of South. A new start was given after the Flood but man's inhuman nature had only been restrained; it was not changed.

Read again the New Testament passages indicated above. Here you will find sin analyzed. There can be no rest for the sinner until the life resulting from a sin-controlled heart is shown in that same chapter.

The aged John, that beloved disciple, holds the mirror before every life as he says, "If we say we have no sin, we deceive ourselves." But he does not prevent the evil without developing the good. The simplest survey of life or of the world reveals the ever-present holiness of God. EDEN

The death of A. J. Wilson of Eden occurred at the Veterans' hospital, Boise, Sunday evening about 8 o'clock, coming as the result of an illness of several years' duration. Mrs. Wilson had returned from his bedside the day previous as she has been in ill health herself for some time. She returned with friends to Boise Monday where in accordance with a last request of Mr. Wilson, the funeral will be held. The services will be in charge of military authorities and will be held Tuesday afternoon, 10 o'clock, in the home of the soldiers' cemetery at Boise. Mr. Wilson served in the Spanish-American war. He was a member of the I. O. O. F. lodge of Eden, and of the Eden armory, of Woodmen of the World and of St. Stanislaus Veterans' post. He was a friend of all the first generation of Eden, and his first generation will sincerely mourn the loss of a dearly loved friend and neighbor. He died his wife is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Bech Hansen, Melvin and Jack Wilson and a step-son, Earl Reynolds, all of Eden, and a brother, Ed Wilson, who farms near Harrison.

Many matters for action at the coming state garage sale which will be brought up for consideration at the meeting of Eden Garage Saturday afternoon, the one of principal interest being the county capital school plan. Upon invitation of the worthy, amiable, energetic superintendent, Mr. J. H. Smith of Eden, his high spirit of Eden high school care will be expressed through the presentation of this educational plan. The bill is drawn at present, a copy of which was extended to Prof. Smith for an address. The committee went on record endorsing the bill as outlined by Twin Falls, Idaho. While the garage sale is subject to inspection similar to that of dairy products and that a tax be placed upon it, they are asked that a tax be placed on Eden, and a brother, Ed Wilson, who farms near Harrison.

A new Year's dance and party was held at the I. O. O. F. hall in Eden by the Old Fellows and

AN INCONSISTENCY

One of the inconsistent situations that prevail in Idaho is the matter of electing members of the several boards of county commissioners.

Each commissioner, as is well known, is chosen from a particular district, there being three districts in each county, numbered 1, 2 and 3. The requirement is made that candidates must reside in the districts from which they are candidates.

The entire county votes on all commissioners; and not on the candidates from particular districts. This results, of course, in commissioners being elected, not necessarily with the approval of the residents of their own districts...

Now that the legislature is in session, the question of amending this law is being urged. It is understood that the legislative delegation from Twin Falls county is favorable to a change, which would permit each commissioner to elect his own candidate.

The argument has been presented that it would require a constitutional amendment to make the change, but competent legal authorities state this is not true.

The matter is of sufficient importance for some group, or some delegation to interest itself in the matter. Maybe Twin Falls county will take the lead.

DON'T LAUGH AT PROGRESS!

A prediction has been made that in the future there will be air boats as big or bigger than the largest modern steamers.

You may believe this or not—but do not be one of the laughers.

Recently the twenty-fifth anniversary of flying was observed. When the Wright Brothers first invented the airplane, pretty nearly everybody laughed. Think of the airplane of today.

To go back far into the past, a great many people laughed at Columbus at Gallifoo, at Fulton. When the first steamship plied the waters of the Hudson, persons lined along the shore roared their contempt for the funny little boat Fulton had launched.

From time immemorial, indeed, the pioneers in science and discovery have been laughed at in their work by the laughing throngs who would not believe. Even the phonograph and the motion picture machine were at first regarded with derision and disbelief. At most these wonderful boons to humanity were considered as harmless toys for children.

The world is learning its lesson. Today new inventions are greeted with respect. The day of the laughter, the haw-hawer, is drawing to a close. The avenues for discovery, the road to progress, are more open than ever before.

Be one of those to welcome the new thing when it comes along—do not shame yourself by laughing at it. When the impossible is predicted, remember that in the course of modern progress many a thing thought impossible has become both possible and practicable.

THE IDEAL MAN

Two hundred and twenty college girls in the East were asked some mighty important questions in a special questionnaire regarding the types of men they seek as husbands.

Of the two hundred and twenty, only twelve insisted on college graduates. Only two demanded good looks. One wanted an athlete. Fifty were opposed to drinkers. More than 100 stipulated 'honesty, sincerity, education and culture.'

Wealth and fame were entirely ignored. But the one quality most in demand—guys—was a sense of humor!

Evidently the girls agree with the poet that "the man worth while is the man who can smile."

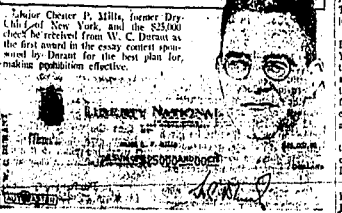

If this questionnaire is indeed representative of the state of women's minds the country over, it behooves all young men to learn to laugh and laugh heartily.

Men who are not handsome, wealthy or famous may now console themselves. As long as they have a sense of humor, some girl will fall in love with them.

But what man does not think he has a sense of humor? All men seem to be eligible for affection, to judge them by their own opinions.

We are inclined to think that the girls practiced a little subtlety, as they often do. We can't believe they want to pass up wealth and fame—these things have always lured girls. But being feminine, they mention these things indirectly—saying that a man be possessed of a sense of humor in the conviction that wealth and fame come most easily to the men whose sense of humor is most keenly developed. Think of the men you know, and this belief does not carry some weight.

Mini-Cassia Association Growth Revealed at Wednesday's Meet

Roy H. Smith, manager of the Mini-Cassia Association, presiding at the annual meeting of the Twin Falls County Cooperative Dairy-men's association at the annual meeting of the Mini-Cassia Cooperative Dairy-men's association at Harley Wednesday afternoon. The officers for the coming year were elected and reports of the last year's work given. A statement was submitted by Harry Johnson, farmer, for the Jerome Cooperative.

In the election, Ben Edwards of Harley was named chairman, and H. V. Lake of Rupert, secretary. Directors are C. C. Nelson of Heberburn, G. C. Draxel of Rupert, John Vincent of Rupert, Will Martin of Oakley, and one other, the latter taking the place of A. Molyneux.

A banquet featured the meeting which was well attended. The report showed a general decline in receipts of cream since the start of the season, with variations from 34,028.28 pounds in January, 1920, to 29,165.25 pounds in December, the total being 387,874.32 pounds for the year.

Milk Receipts Rise
A total of 2,161,177 pounds of first grade cream were received in the six months from February to July, while receipts of whole milk increased gradually through the year from 13,208.32 pounds in January, 1920, to 25,667.22 pounds in December, making a total of 229,067.73 pounds for the year.

Total butterfat for 1920 was 239,222.22 pounds, and for 1921 was 244,211.11 pounds, a gain of 167,743.11 pounds for the year. This is 42 per cent. The total cream produced by the Mini-Cassia association for 1920 was 301,024 pounds, and with milk included, the production was 630,900 pounds.

The average price paid to producers for cream at the farm was 45 cents per pound, the total amount remaining about the $12,551 for April, and the high figure in the month of July was $15,000. The average price paid at the factory for whole milk butterfat was just under 75 cents a pound, the total income for the year being $174,530, and for milk butterfat, $127,816, making a total income to producers of $302,346.

At the meeting resolutions were adopted commending the board of directors for its successful efforts a year ago in uniting with the Jerome Cooperative Creamery. The same resolutions were adopted at the state dairy convention at Jerome last week regarding regulations for allocating machinery were approved at the Harley meeting.

PUMP LANDS TO JOIN DISTRICT

R. E. Shephard of Jerome stated this week that the pumping lands of the Hasleton district will be signed up to join the American Falls reservoir district by the time the new irrigation canal is opened. A series of meetings have been held for the landowners there the last several weeks at which Mr. Shephard explained the benefits of such action. Application was accordingly made by nearly all the farmers.

The pump lands comprise about 11,252 acres and are at present supplied with water pumped by power from the Idaho Power company. Membership in the big district will bring 1.76 acre feet per acre additional, providing an excellent water right for the region. The district will also benefit, Mr. Shephard stated, by having these pump lands to contribute certain areas that had to be excluded on account of water-logging. Overhead expenses will be spread out

T. F. Sportsmen Hold Annual Meeting Here

At the annual meeting of the Southern Idaho Fish and Game association in Twin Falls Wednesday night, H. S. Edmunds was re-elected president; W. R. Fricke, vice president; Rex Thomas, secretary; C. R. Shiman, treasurer. Edmunds, Fricke and Thomas are three-year directors, Shiman, T. C. Peterson and Bert Johnson, one-year directors.

The association voted to incorporate as a non-profit organization. The annual fees were raised from $1 to $2 to provide funds for building the first unit of a permanent fish hatchery this year. Resolutions were adopted, recommending the passage by the present legislature of laws closing all streams in the state to fishing during the spawning season from January 1 to May 15, and having a uniform hunting season on pheasants, beginning November 1, in all southern Idaho counties.

At the meeting the season opens in Twin Falls county six weeks earlier than in other counties, causing the loss of many birds here from other protected sections.

Marion Jackson wrote this story of the stringing of the first telegraph wires through the West. The hardships with hunger, thirst and the constant fighting with Indians and hostile settlers are graphically portrayed. The advent of the telegraph in the West was indeed one of the most gigantic enterprises in the development of the country. A thrilling climax to the struggles of the engineers takes place when a message from the President of the United States comes over the completed system just as the Indians attack.
