NEXT WEEK

The one really big annual event in Twin Falls county takes place at the fair grounds at Filer, commencing Tuesday of next week, one week from today.

The Twin Falls County Fair, now in its fourteenth year, has come to be the outstanding fair of the Gem state, and has developed from a small institution to one of numerous departments including an automobile show, merchandise exhibit hall, and other augmented features, aside from the regulation departments of a fair such as live-stock and produce exhibits, racing, etc.

Everyone should go to the fair. It takes PEOPLE to make a fair and to be outstandingly successful it takes individual patronage for the four days. One cannot adequately see the fair in a day. Put in a day at races, another in the exhibit halls, another in the auto show and merchants exhibit hall, and then bring the children of Friday and let them enjoy the rides, the fireworks, the midway.

This week, effort is being centered on getting entries in shape in the various departments, enlisting the interest of everyone who has grown anything, and in urging people to make their plans to attend the fair next week.

After going to the fair you will have a higher appreciation of your county and your state. You owe it to yourself and your family to go to the fair!

THAT MAN BORAH

William E. Borah, United States senator, credited on the records as representing Idaho, is a constant source of aggravation to them elected to office under the same political banner as he. He is now showing up the cicerone of the Republican tariff schemes; joining with the Democrats in fighting for the interests of agriculture; threatening to split the Republican party wide open and playing whodley in general with the well-set plans of the administration.

If Hoaring Bill is not curbed soon he will duplicate the debacle of 1912 and cause more damage to the G. O. P. hosts than did the lamented Bull Moose.

Doesn't sound unreasonable that Mr. Borah would like to lead a Third Party with the White House as his goal?

THE OUTLOOK

Old 1929 is turning out to be one of the greatest years in the history of Twin Falls county, and the Twinland Empire in general.

With bumper crops and good prices it is easy to contemplate that this will be a busy fall, with millions of dollars worth of crops moving, everyone working, much money changing hands, with resultant local prosperity.

Optimism is the keynote of the day and justifiably so.

Mabel Willebrandt has made some accusations that weren't nice which involved the higher-ups in the Republican National committee. She accuses them of compelling her to raise the religious issue in the last national campaign and gives the dates, names and events. We always did say that Mabel was a dangerous woman.

Maybe, after all, the talkies are not really as bad as they sound.

A trans-Atlantic flight without a stowaway on board would be news.

Even Uncle Sam may yet recognize the Soviets. By their whistlers.

The most important result of settling the Roman question seems to be that the Pope got the opportunity to go to toxa.

We fail to understand why a particular kind of voice is required for the talkies, inasmuch as they all sound alike.

An exchange says: "Ray Harper was married last week. We didn't get the lady's name, but no matter, it's Harper now."

Now comes the complaint that the new currency fails. Our experience is that the old-faded-away at an alarming rate, too.

One newspaper puts it this way: "If you like our paper, let the world; if you don't like it, keep your fool mouth shut."

After experiencing the extreme heat this summer, we believe we now fully understand what is meant by "mean temperature."

If bare logs could be kept off Main street, it would tend to minimize traffic difficulties on the part of autoists who should keep their eyes straight ahead.

With all the wisdom being spiculated daily by Dr. Condam, Dr. Cooper, Arthur Brisbane and others, the rest of us hardly have to do any thinking at all.

Another paradox is that the sugar tariff is the cause of much bitter argument.

It appears that everything is being merged nowadays except politics and religion.

It looks as though the Federal Earn Board is not going to exactly play the role of Santa Claus.

Socialists fire so impatient. Why can't they wait until we get to Heaven? Then all will be equal, if any.

Endurance flyers may soon be relegated to the back pages, along with channel swimmers and flag-pole butters.

The proposed auto bus line across the Sahara desert suggests some fine new locations for filling stations.

THE YOUNG LADY ACROSS THE WAY

Billie Rabbit and his brother Bobbie hurried over to the home of the White Rabbits and knocked at the door. "Come in," shouted Mrs. White Rabbit. "We have come to see your children," said Bobbie. "They were out in the back yard this morning," said Mrs. White Rabbit. With that the two hustled out the back door and were soon whispering to the White Rabbits. "Will you be here?" asked Bobbie. "Sure we will," replied Joe White Rabbit. "Indeed we will," added Alice, his sister. As soon as the sun had gone down and it had become quite dark the two Rabbits who were in bed got up in their pajamas and hopped out of the window.

No sooner had they come into the open patch of country than they were met by the two White Rabbits, also clad in their pajamas. "You go and dance around our house," said Bobbie Rabbit, "and we'll go and dance around your house. Away they all went and as Master White Rabbit peeked out the window he saw white figures in the pale light. He rushed out and away scampered the Rabbit children.

At that very moment Bro'r Rabbit was peeking out the window and when he saw the White Rabbit children, he went out and called to them, but they scampered away. Bro'r Rabbit said when he came into his house: "I glad our children know enough to go to bed and not run around in the evenings in their pajamas." In three shakes of a sheep's tail after that the four children were fast asleep.

HEAVY DAMAGE SUIT IS FILED

A damage suit for $41,000 was filed in district court the last of the week by counsel for A. D. Dwyler, son of Mayor H. E. Bobler, against the White Star and the National Lumber companies. Dwyler states that he was confined to the hospital for seven weeks suffering injuries received when his car collided with a laundry truck driven by an employee of the company. His complaint alleges that he lost the hearing in his right ear, that the sight of his right eye was seriously impaired, and that he suffered a broken collar bone and a paralysis of the right side of his face. He accuses the truck driver of carelessness and reckless driving. Bobler's machine was turned over to an insurance company in Twin Falls. He asks $40,000 personal damages, $1000 for medical fees and hospital expenses, and $100 for damages to his car.

Hunting Good in Gem State

This year's hunting promises to be good in Idaho as a rule according to the state game department. Thousands of fish have been planted this summer and the last year, or two in streams throughout the state, increasing the supply abundantly. Deer are plentiful in some sections although in poor condition due to the excessively hot summer.

BUILDS MANY APARTMENTS

With one apartment house now under construction in Twin Falls, C. F. Johnson of this city said Saturday that he would start another one Monday. He has also contracted for an apartment building in Bush, all of which are scheduled for completion at an early date. They are one-story frame buildings. He said that this is part of a building program for which he has secured finances, including 14 apartment houses in various towns of Idaho and Oregon, at an approximate cost of $100,000. The locations of these were decided according to the need for more housing facilities, he explained. Mr. Johnson formerly operated a string of apartment houses in eastern states.

OREGON PRUNES MOVING

Oregon prunes are now moving to market at the rate of 100 to 200 cars a day according to L. G. Schmitt, federal supervisor of inspection for the Oregon, Idaho and Washington prunes. The product is coming from the Willamette valley in eastern Oregon and will all be marketed by the time Idaho prunes are ready early next month.

First Monthly Crop Analysis

Idaho apples are in a position to reap a profit from their fruit this year, especially if they can hold up the quality in view of the poor quality of the crop of other states.

The market outlook for potatoes is more favorable than any year since 1922. The condition of the total crop August 1st, as revealed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, indicates a crop of 272,000 bushels, which is an 82 million bushels less than last year's production and 10 million bushels less than the five year average.

Mr. Sugar P. Gray, of Hagerman, is the 69-year-old father of five children, and the 31st anniversary of his marriage to Mrs. Gray, in a rubber shoe factory in Hagerman, Idaho, this year. The day is not in the least what higher levels until the northern states begin to ship in September when somewhat lower prices may be expected unless production prospects change materially.

On the basis of August 1st estimates, the per capita production of potatoes will be approximately 2.2 bushels per capita. In other years when the per capita production was 2.2 bushels or less prices to growers have been high.

The outlook for egg prices, while expected to be good this fall, is not likely to hold up in the late winter and spring and will probably not average as high as last year's. The price of chickens on hand July 1st will increase the supply of eggs unless producers cut drastically and market an unusual proportion of their young birds. Idaho poultrymen should profit by calling and marketing their unprofitable birds at favorable prices and not carry them into next year. Due to the probable increase in supply, egg prices in the spring promise to be lower than last spring unless a larger proportion of birds are marketed than usual, thus reducing the available supply.

Beans, Apples and Peaches The following information is taken from the August 1st crop report as released by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. BEANS: It has been too dry for beans in Michigan, Montana, and some other states and prospects have declined somewhat notwithstanding the good rain in New Mexico. With an average above that harvested in any year since 1918, and with prospects for a yield close to the average of recent years; the crop is forecast at for the United States region to be 17,020,000 bushels compared with 16,000,000 bushels last year. Idaho production is forecast 1,700,000 bushels compared with 1,470,000 bushels last year.

APPLES: With very dry weather in most of the important apple states during July, crop prospects show a further decline of 5,000,000 bushels, the August 1st condition indicating a crop of little better than 140,000,000 bushels. This would be almost one-fifth less than the quantity harvested last year and one-fifth more than the very short crop harvested in 1927. Many states report poor quality this year, but the crop will be closely utilized in all states. The commercial crop, or that portion sold for consumption as fresh fruit, is forecast at 29,501,000 bushels or 18 per cent less than the commercial production in 1928.

CROPS IN IDAHO ENOUGH LATE REPORTS SHOW

Grain Harvest Near Completion; Fruit Drops in Heavy But Prospects Indicate Big Production of Products.

Irrigated crops continued to flourish in all parts of Idaho during the past week according to the report of the weather observer at Boise. Prevailing hot weather caused rapid maturing of all products, and harvest on grain nearing completion. There has been a heavy rain drop in the state but the situation promises good results. The weather is clear, dry weather with temperatures generally above normal obtained throughout the week. The fire hazard continues very great. Harvesting of grain continues in full swing over the Blaine and Camas valleys while grain threshed in earlier sections is being trucked to warehouses. Corn is drying considerably in the Blaine section where yields are 35 to 40 bushels. Beans are looking well in Kendrick and Melrose districts and a large crop is expected. Melons, grapes, and tomatoes are gradually coming on the market from the river valleys. Harvesting of peaches and other nut fruits continues. Apples are in full fruit, but still continue plentiful and livestock are in good condition.

Some excess Idaho crop of clear skies and high temperatures, the hottest of the summer so far. In all the agricultural districts, the temperatures are in the 80s, 90s or more were recorded. Orchards report apples and prunes damaged to some extent by the extreme heat. The weather in Twin Falls section there was a little change to beans in spots. But in the main, irrigated crops flourish. Dry farm crops, such as are not already matured, are suffering severely from lack of moisture and in the irrigated sections where potato water has failed the ground in all of vegetation is checked. Hay and grain harvesting and threshing are on apace at all sections. Secured in exceptionally fine condition. Potatoes, beans and prunes are maturing rapidly. Apples and peaches are in fine shape and stock are thriving. Southeast Idaho: Temperatures were generally above normal. Light to moderate local showers occurred. Wheat harvesting is progressing rapidly. Oats increasing has begun some local rain. Potatoes and beans are doing very well. Prunes are in good condition. Farm crops are suffering for want of rain. The range is good but getting dry. Cattle and sheep continue in good condition.

Twin Falls, Twin Falls County: A warm week, the hottest of the season; highest temperature 100 degrees; heat damaged beans in a few small spots, all other crops doing excellently; wheat mostly threshed with good yields; apples growing rapidly; most orchards just ripe; irrigation water abundant.

Buhl, Twin Falls County: Wheat harvested and mostly threshed; yield is reported as the average range; irrigation water plentiful; field and orchard crops looking good.

Pocatello, Bannock County: Temperatures above normal, light showers middle of week; wheat harvest progressing rapidly; oats just started; hay and alfalfa making good growth; alfalfa fine well; range is good, but dry; cattle and sheep doing well.

Boise, Ada County: Hottest week of the summer; maximum temperature 103 degrees; very rapid growth where water adequate; too much heat for best development of apples and prunes; some reports of rain said in apples and very heavy drop of prunes; crops maturing very fast; harvest of grain and hay making fine headway.

Dairy Output Wins Praise

A. Tanker of Buhl was elected Thursday night to succeed S. B. Crawford of Buhl as director of the Pioneer Dairy Improvement Association. John Galt of Twin Falls, president; H. J. Smith of Buhl, vice-president; L. J. Tenelch of Twin Falls, secretary-treasurer, and C. J. McChis of Twin Falls, director, continue to serve.

Walter Byrnes, pastor, said the average butterfat for Idaho amounted to 33.9 percent, and of milk 34.70 pounds may be higher than anywhere else in the state, while D. T. Foster, field dairyman, said Idaho's average volume of butterfat, 327 pounds, is 32 pounds higher than for the United States.

Boy Suffers Bad Accident

Roy Hansen, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hansen of Buck Creek, is recovering in Twin Falls county hospital from serious injuries suffered when his team ran away, dragging him on the back of a mule in a moving machine. Numerous stitches were required to sew up the wounds, as his legs were cut and one leg lacerated by a guard. He had climbed out of a horse-drawn plow, first throwing the plow out of gear. This alone is thought to have saved his life. His elder brother and two other boys helped him out.

Borah Scores Party Leaders

Senator William L. Borah of Idaho declared after studying the revised tariff bill that the Republican party had broken faith with the American people in the senate. He declared that the revenue measure contrary to campaign promises. All the benefits of the tariff might go from higher duties on agricultural products, he said, will be discounted by diminishing higher duties on manufactured commodities. He stated his intention of introducing a measure to restrict the tariff to farm products as he attempted to do before and for which he declared the

Hangs Up Poultry Egg Laying Record

A. V. Williams, residing on the county hospital road reports a poultry record which he believes to be exceptional. He has a flock of White Wyandottes started this spring from the village of Hildale, Idaho. They started laying at four and a half months. They are now past five months old and 60 per cent of them lay eggs.

COOPERATIVE PRAISED

With a membership of 348 in 1928, the Dalwagner Co-operative Creamery of Dale Valley has increased to seven times that number this year and the value of the products has increased from $10,000 in 1928 to more than $140,000 in 1929. The enterprise was highly commended on one of the recent only conventions in the United States by G. E. Reed, chief of the bureau of the U. S. department of agriculture.

OLD BUICK COMES

An old Buick automobile of the vintage of 1907 came into Twin Falls last week on its way back to New York from where its owner, William Gieshout, started some time ago on a round trip to Los Angeles. The machine has traveled 262,410 miles and has been in the Oshoort family for 22 years. It was worth $1250 new when it had no headlights, windshield or top.

EXPECTS HIGH PRICE ON BEANS

R. L. Churchill, Oxnard, Calif., secretary and manager of the California Lima Beans Growers association, visited the Twin Falls farm tract the last of the week on his way home after investigating the situation in the eastern bean production area.

He expressed the opinion that prices would prevail at a higher level this season than last year, and somewhat below the peak price of 8 3/4 cents a pound which was paid late in the winter for the last beans said. The 1928 crop is practically cleaned up, he said, leaving the market clear for better prices on the present crop.

The beans grown here look very favorable, he stated after his visit, with a heavy production assured.

Another New Store Planned

Another new building is to go up in Twin Falls within the next few weeks according to current announcement. Ed Kinney of the Kinney Wholesale Grocery company plans erection of an $8000 store on Main avenue east adjacent to Montgomery Ward for a $60,000 store.

The location for the Kinney building was purchased from J. E. White for $5750. Tentative plans call for a one-story brick structure with basement in half the area.
