THE IDAHO CITIZEN

NO. 28
WISDOM
IMPUDENT CRITICISM.

If I have never believed in fortune-telling, I am now a convert. I have seen a man who is one step to ruin in every step he takes.

John D. Rockefeller develops ability in his investments. When his stomach failed some years ago, he investigated the subject of diet and found that the diet he had used for years was the best. He then turned to philanthropy, his talents to the Standard Oil Co. and his money to the Rockefeller Foundation.

Knowledge is the best learning exhibited by a fox. Knowledge of traps does men poison inherited and it is able to outwit even the cunningest of us.

A fox celebrated as predator of dumb rabbits, is never surprised or startled. He is the only animal that has the cunningest suspicion that he is being hunted.

Constructive criticism is often great incentive. It is the only way in transportation, science, manufacturing, farming, mechanics, medicine, and in all the other legitimate activities of life, that any progress can be made.

It is an earnest himself in order to make a man a better citizen. I do not care how many people have delivered, if it does not make any difference in the man's life, it is not intelligent.

Will Tap Sub Surface Water

The Idaho bureau of mines and geology has appropriated $10,000 for the purpose of developing a new idea of tapping the lost water in the earth.

Twin Falls Is Improved

by New Building Spurt

During Autumn Season

Numerous Structures Added to Business District with Others Adorning the City—Thousands of Dollars Expended.

The extensive building activity which was started in Twin Falls early this year and involving a greater outlay of money than has been used for constructive purposes in this city for a number of years is nearing completion. The town at this time is substantially different from that of a few months ago in the building facilities which it has.

The latest one of these larger structures occupied by the Union Motor company garage and service station on Main avenue north. This handsome building is one of the finest of its kind in town and extends the business district a little farther to the west. Its approximate cost was $10,000.

Just across the street E. A. Moon has completed the front portion of his new palatial store. This is another credit to the city's appearance and type of structure. The rear portion of the building is now under way and will be finished in a few days. The total cost is approximately $15,000.

The new Klipsch up-town grocery store on Main avenue, east of the Boulevard, is now nearing completion. Cost of this building is in the neighborhood of $7,000 according to estimates made at this time.

Havesi Ltd. grade hardware completed a fine new building costing about $15,000 early in the summer. The Twin Falls Feed and ice company built two new warehouses at Twin Falls and Buhl. The Palace Sign and gravel company, Brown Seed company, Alvin Harbour and others have added materially to the warehouse district. Varnes' store was moved from a street house to a new building. The Perrin hotel building was remodelled; one new house on street, house has been built.

IDAHO LEWIS QUARANTINE

Will Not Be Admitted to State.

A quarantine covering all Idaho against importations of cattle infected or exposed to infectious diseases was announced by the department of agriculture at Boise Tuesday. It is in this regard, because every child must have a culture taken from the nose and throat of every child before the child goes to school.

The purpose of this was to prevent the disease from becoming epidemic in this state. The disease is said to be contagious and sometimes fatal.

NORTHERNERS LOSE LAWSUIT

U. S. Supreme Court Dismisses Eight-year First Segregation Case.

The United States supreme court Monday dismissed the claim of Charles Vinyard and W. A. Thompson of the First Segregation district in their claim to water from Jackson lake reservoir in Wyoming under the North Side Canal company.

The Idaho supreme court had ruled that Vinyard and his associates were not entitled to purchase more than 10,000 acre feet from the Jackson lake reservoir or certain other rights, until the lands on the second and third levees had been re-leased to the full contract amount of water.

SPENDS $60,000 TO KILL WEEDS

Wood Commissioner M. E. Brady had told the commissioners in convention here that Twin Falls county leads Idaho in this work with an appropriation of $60,000, which he has spent about $55,000 to date.

IDAHO ASSISTS HISTORIC GROUP

Famous Trail of Lewis and Clark Is Commemorated. Meeting in 1930.

At a meeting in Lewiston Wednesday it was intended to plan for the meeting to commemorate the historic route of James Roger Lewis and George Roger Clark when in 1805 explored their way up through the northwest to the Pacific coast and then by land to the great territory for the United States.

Mr. Hawks refuted the fears of some of the deer hunters that the opening of the Mindoko forest as a result of opening the season this year, there are plenty of deer left to be hunted by the survivors. Moreover, out of the 12,000 deer which were killed here last season, the balance was left in the woods.

Mr. T. S. Sparks and the city council of American Falls have made an offer to the federal reclamation bureau to take over not only the waterworks system constructed by the government, but all land possessions as well. This offer was accepted by the reclamation department of the federal reclamation in American Falls city.

The man who is just and resolute will not be moved from his settled purpose, either by the misdirected rage of his fellow citizens or by the threats of an impetuous tyrant. —Horace.

OVER THE TOP

Three persons have been killed in Twin Falls within the past six weeks, two of them in October. This does the "Magic City" "go over the top" in the national quota, which is 91 deaths per day as the direct result of automobile accidents. There were 20 auto deaths in Idaho in September.

The record worries officials and the public alike. One wonders if there is a common cause. Perhaps not. The theory is advanced, however, that as the result of public liability insurance, employer drivers are prone to take the attitude that the cars they drive are insured by the owners against almost every conceivable danger, with the result that a certain carelessness develops that would not otherwise exist if the individual driver were alone would be held responsible for damage he might inflict to life, limb and property in the event of accident.

The three recent and separate traffic tragedies in our city constitute a terribly expensive lesson to the surviving public—even if the lesson were heeded.

THERE MUST BE RESTITUTION

The expose which is being carried on at the courthouse regarding the leeching of hard-earned tax dollars from the coffers of struggling school districts is a stigma that will not soon be lived down.

Justice demands that restitution be made of every dollar found to have been illegally withdrawn from the funds of these small districts.

Not only have school children apparently been robbed as the result of swindle, but an extra burden has been fastened on already tax-laden shoulders. Imagine the reaction which comes to patrons in a district which has contemplated the installation of a much-needed new heating plant in its schoolhouse, but now that the time arrives when it is felt the expenditure is warranted, and the school's books indicate there is sufficient capital, the directors are apprised that the district's funds are overdrawn through the work of forgers.

That common school district funds have been embezzled, there is no question in the minds of auditors and officials. And if the guilt can be established, then one of the penalties must be that every stolen dollar be put back where it belongs!

WORLD'S 18 GREATEST

Picking the world's greatest men, like selecting an all-star football team, is a difficult undertaking—one in which no two persons would likely reach the same result independently.

The feat was recently attempted, however, by a Western University, with a view to pinning statues of the world's eighteen greatest on the facade of a new public library, the following being selected:

Adam Smith, social science; Beethoven, music; Dante, poetry; Darwin, biological science; Leonardo da Vinci, art; Benjamin Franklin, public service; Galileo, physical science; Goethe, poetry; Grotius, international law; Gutenberg, printing; Herodotus, history; Homer, poetry; Justinian, law and administration; Moses, religion; Newton, mathematics and physics; Pasteur, medical science; Plato, philosophy; Shakespeare, drama.

One of the striking aspects of this list is that it includes three poets, besides Shakespeare, indicating that poetry presents the most likely path to immortal fame, however undesirable it may be as a practical career during one's lifetime.

Franklin is the only American in the list, which may not be so poor a showing as it first appears, considering that the entire historical period from Moses onward is covered in the search for celebrities.

Even a stingy man is usually quite liberal with his advice.

SODA SPRINGS IS A SHEEP CENTER

Soda Springs claims the distinction of being one of the leading sheep raising centers in the country, producing not only large numbers of woolies, but grading a great many more and marketing them in the United States.

Flocks of 1300 and more are common in Caribou country. It has two of the largest wool pools in the state, one of which has 30,000 fleeces and the other 12,000. These combined shipments make Soda Springs one of the largest shipping points for lambs and wool in the United States.

There are 10,000 resident sheep here, but the numbers that are trailed through that district for the summer range are estimated at 225,000. The old fashioned method of trailing, however, is being replaced by the modern system of trailers to live in Washington and Oregon, where they spend their honeymoon.

Soda Springs is the home of H. L. Fitch, one of the most prominent and successful breeders of Hampshire sheep in America.

Northern Idaho Soils Require Lime Supply

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow—Areas of Idaho in which soils need applications of lime are confined to the northern part of the state, reports G. R. Melale, soil technologist with the University of Idaho college of agriculture agricultural experiment station, in answer to questions concerning the use of this soil builder.

Representatives of the state experiment station have taken numerous samples with all principal agricultural regions of the state. In the sections where irrigated farming is practiced the soils are well supplied with lime. In some cases the lime content is excessive rather than deficient.

The first indication of a need of lime is usually found in soils where clover and alfalfa cannot be grown successfully. The fact that difficulties are experienced in obtaining stands of such legumes is not of itself evidence of a lack of lime as there are many other factors that will affect the growth of such crops, Prof. Melale notes.

The farmer suspecting a need of lime on his soil should confer with his county agent or write to the experiment station at Moscow. The station is in a position to make soil tests and will be glad to do so for farmers suspecting a need of lime in their soils, conclude the station soil technologist.

Government Will Issue Insurance Receipts At Boise

To establish closer contact with Government life insurance policyholders and assist them with the best possible service, says a statement from the United States veteran bureau "the bureau office at Boise is authorized to accept and issue receipts for insurance payments tendered by policyholders and residing in that state of Idaho. That office will maintain a complete record of accounts and will be prepared to forward all bills promptly and efficient service and complete information concerning government insurance contracts.

Heretofore all policyholders have been obliged to remit their insurance payments direct to the bureau at Washington, D. C. The establishment of this new facility for the Idaho policyholders has been prompted primarily through an endeavor to ease the government insurance business with a standard of service comparable to that of the prominent life insurance companies, says the statement.

In a letter to policyholders, the bureau says: "This new system is in operation and it is requested that you make use of the facilities thus provided and remit premium payments direct to the U. S. Veterans Bureau, which is located at Boise, Idaho. You will be regularly notified when your premium falls due by means of a combination premium notice and return envelope. The Boise office is ready to serve you and your cooperation in addressing future communications here on matters affecting your government insurance will insure the success of our endeavor to render efficient and satisfactory service.

AMSTERDAM

The first snow of the season visited this section Sunday, covering the ground with enough snow to make a white mantle. Monday followed with a cold blustery wind that sent folks indoors shivering.

Miss Elizabeth Kunkel, Glenn Kunkel and Glenn Holmquist returned Sunday evening after spending four days at Parma attending a Christian Endeavor convention where they went with Rev. and Mrs. J. K. Walpole, Rochester.

Deer hunters from the basin and hills, returning Sunday, reported the deer scarce and wild and very few being killed. The hills which descended in those regions early Sunday afternoon sent most hunters scurrying to camp and returning home, as finding game in the storm was not probable. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Strickling have returned from a three week's winter trip to points in Washington and Oregon, where they spent their honeymoon.

Mrs. A. E. Kunkel and Mrs. John Farmer were guests at the Missionary meeting in Hecoxton on Thursday afternoon with Mrs. C. P. Wurster as hostess.

A. E. Kunkel and Glenn Kunkel spent Monday and Tuesday in the hills southeast, hauling home barn loads of wood for fuel.

MUST ANSWER TO CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER

Death of W. L. Moss in Downtown Auto Snapped Tuesday Declared Available by Witnesses.

Henry F. Peterson, 32, pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Probate Judge C. A. Bailey Wednesday on a charge of involuntary manslaughter involving the death of W. L. Moss, 49, who died in the hospital four hours after his car was struck by Peterson's machine at the intersection of Main avenue and Madison street early Tuesday morning.

His injuries were so serious that his recovery was hopeless from the first. Both men had been driving to work, Moss to the sugar factory and Peterson to the Meridian Production company plant. Prosecuting Attorney E. V. Larson decided to prosecute Peterson on the testimony of Arthur Barker and Oren Williams, both of whom said they witnessed the collision. Barker was sweeping the sidewalk half a block away and Oren Williams, a newsboy, was standing at a corner where the wreck occurred. Both testified that Moss was driving too fast and without due caution, but that Peterson had the right-of-way in their opinion. His car was struck by the car driven by Peterson. Peterson was driving "fast" when he ran over the curb and onto the sidewalk where Moss was thrown out and knocked unconscious.

Funeral services for Mr. Moss will be held in the Twin Falls L. O. O. F. hall chapel Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. He had lived here about five years and is survived by his wife, a nine-year-old son, Ronald, and a brother, Heber Moss of Burley.

Peterson had lived here a number of years and has a wife and three young children. He was released under $1000 bond posted by Robert L. Pfost of Meridian, president of the Meridian Produce company, who came here for that purpose. Peterson's preliminary hearing is set for Wednesday, November 6. He contended that he had slowed down as he approached the intersection and was not driving 30 miles an hour. He said the shock also prevented him having a clear view of the street. His truck struck the left rear axle of Moss's automobile.

BEANGROWERS WILL SEEK LOAN

John S. Welch, state commissioner of agriculture, has announced that Idaho will be represented by bean growers and officials at a meeting of the National Bean Growers' marketing association in Denver, November 16, to form a cooperative growing through which a federal farm loan may be secured. He expects to be one of the representatives from the Gem state.

C. C. Truog of Los Angeles, representing the fruit industry, and Charles S. Wilson of New York, representing the horticultural interests of the country, will preside at the Denver meeting as members of the farm board to explain how an effective cooperative organization can be formed and managed to obtain a cooperative farm loan.

Shows Best Feeds To Use

A ranch-calf wintering demonstration conducted by a Colorado man showed that calves gained more during the winter when fed alfalfa hay than when fed timothy hay, but that calves fed only alfalfa or native hay and clover gained more during the summer season. The calves gained an average of 121.20 pounds during the 160 winter days, a greater average than is usually had when such a winter feed is given. Calves fed cut-cured hay during the winter returned $1.30 more a head than those calves mixed with timothy.

Stages Remit $17,000 Taxes

The state of Idaho has received $17,000 from stage and freight truck companies during the first ten months of this year according to the department of law enforcement. It is estimated that $22,000 will be received from this source for the full year. The tax is levied under the Idaho motor transportation act, applying on stages and trucks which operate the hire. The law is applied now on a capacity basis but next year will be effective on the gross receipts of the stage companies.

Apples Must All Look Alike

The California department of agriculture has sent a protest to the Idaho department at Idaho against the practice of some apple shippers in this state placing the red side up in their boxes. All the apples should be mixed up and look alike throughout the box. The California officials advised, Nevada is usually but when some special apples of this state are shipped, they are packed so that they do not favor the red side. The practice adopted by some shippers here.

Distinct Honor Is Awarded to Dr. Cowgill

A distinct honor came to Dr. David M. Cowgill this week in the announcement of a Fellowship in the American Public Health Service. This was awarded to him by that organization of which he is a member and resulted from public work which he did in Oklahoma just before coming to Twin Falls to become head of the Rockefeller Foundation service which he is now carrying on.

The Fellowship is awarded for four years of outstanding work in public health and compares with the awards given to medical men for outstanding service by the American College of Surgeons, of whom Dr. L. Alexander in Twin Falls is one.

Dr. Cowgill and Mrs. Cowgill are distinctly proud of this honor since it recognizes, meritorious service he has done in a public health way.

SAYS SUN SPOTS CAUSED FIRES

Now that the summer is past and a vast acreage of timberland throughout the northwestern states says barren and desolate as the result of forest fires which swept uncontrolled for many years, the statement that this disastrous season was forecast by Colonel Denison, Dominion meteorologist at Vancouver, B. C. He said this last year and early in the present season before the fires started. He based his forecasts on the prevalence of sun spots which are not recognized by official weather bureaus as having any influence. But Colonel Denison and others employed with the private concerns declared that sun spots have a direct influence on lightning storms and that in consequence there would be a bad forest fire situation this summer. The fires that did come caused the worst destruction since the bad 1700-year of 1910 when more than 200 persons lost their lives and an untold amount of natural timber resources was destroyed. The bad fire years are said by officials to occur in cycles of about ten years, 1910 having been next to 1919 and 1929 in the number of damage done. The year 1927 was nearly as bad as 1910. The total area burned over this season has not yet been determined.

As a matter of accommodation...

As a matter of accommodation it was stated that the banks had frequently honored the school district orders in lieu of the auditor's warrant. The forged signature, however, seemed to the bank officials to indicate that the school orders had gone the usual circuit and were duly authorized by the officers at the courthouse.

Mr. Hillis and Mrs. Pierce pronounced their names a forgery when shown the orders at the county superintendent's office at the beginning of the investigation. Mr. Kingsley came down from Boise at that time and again this week and closely examined all the papers concerned, giving testimony that the signatures on the various district school orders were forgeries in the same hand-writing as that which was shown to him in 1928, with Mrs. Rose L. Wilson. She has worked in the county clerk's office for about eight years, first with Miss Char- lotte Pond and since September 1928, with Mrs. Rose L. Wilson.
