BEAUTY.
Beauty, like morals, is a question of latitude; there is no rule of universal application.

Shakespeare is the one universal author because he never depicts his heroines. Juliet was four teen and beautiful; that is all he says about her looks. The Scandi navian can picture her as a metallic blonde, the Kaffir as a coal black Venus. The Juliet of the Chinese has slanting eyes; to the Spaniard she must have the long black lashes of the semi-civilized Andalusian Moor.

It is a fortunate thing for humanity that deities in beauty differ. If the movies had been the same ideal to standardize the female ideal.

STEAM
The U. S. Alcantara Carrier "Electrician" is tied up at a pier in Puget Sound, while her engine is turning, the dynamo which generates electric current for the cities of Tacoma and Seattle. This is a good use for a ship, and it suggests a way of making our Navy earn its keep.

It is also an illustration of what happens when the "ship" is a ship. The power, Tacoma and Seattle get their normal municipal supply of current from hydro-electric plants which the cities own. The unusual thing is that the ship is a ship, and it suggests a way of making our Navy earn its keep.

ALUMINUM
The commonest of all metals, more than twice as common as iron, aluminum is a curiosity. It is the only metal that is lighter than water, and it is the only metal that is so common.

WAR
The only independent persons are those who own land. The only citizens who are not citizens are those who own land.

MEAT
The food faddists have been preaching against the eating of meat for many years. Except in certain types of disease, intelligent physicians tell the patient to eat meat freely, as nature intended they should.

POMONA GRANGE ADOPTS FIVE RESOLUTIONS

Seeks Rail Extension, Dairy Protection, Wheatgrowers Union, Dog License and Opposes Road Tax.

Five resolutions were adopted at the January meeting of the Twin Falls County Pomona Grange, at Twin Falls, Saturday. All were important matters, and aroused much discussion before adoption.

One favors extension of the Oregon Short Line railroad westward from Idaho to give more direct connections with the Pacific coast. This project was recently adopted as an objective of the Twin Falls and Buhl chambers of commerce.

Another resolution favored doubling the present retailer's tax on oleomargarine as a further protection of the dairy industry. It was recently stated at the Buhl breeders meeting in Twin Falls that butter substitute sales had increased 16 per cent since last year, while butter sales had increased only two per cent.

A third resolution endorsed unconditionally the efforts to form a local wheat growers' unit to cooperate with the Northwest Local Union-Wheatgrowers' Marketing Corporation, and pleading support to that group.

The fourth resolution opposed the issuance of $100,000 in tax anticipation notes, bonds or other obligations for road construction or improvement in Idaho at this time, as the state treasury was empty.

The fifth resolution endorsed a petition to the county commissioners from farm flock owners asking the enforcement in this county of the recently enacted dog licensing law.

Frank L. Atkins was nominated as delegate to the state convention of the Grange, to be held at Lewiston, Thursday, January 16. He is former grange master and representative for this section on the Northwest regional wheatgrowers' board.

The committee authorized by the rural school districts this week to employ the better the execution of the suit to recover organized school funds, retained Sweeney and Sweeney at a meeting jointly by all the rural districts affected. The county superintendent, the county auditor and the county treasurer, together with local bank officials, were present. The suit will be instituted soon as the preliminary work can be arranged, the attorney's report of Thursday, saying no sooner it is filed than the suit will be filed. Twenty-three of the 37 rural school districts lost money in the forgeries.

Idaho Men At Ogden Exhibit

A number of Idaho livestock men had entries at the 11th annual Ogden livestock show which opened last Saturday to continue a full week. The judges, who of national reputation declared this show definitely put Ogden among the three or four best livestock shows in the country. Great interest was shown in the quality of the stock exhibited. The prize animals were valued at $500,000, and housed in a $150,000 show floor.

FELDHUSEN'S NEW FIELD MAN FOR CREAMERY

Chosen Out of 30 Applicants for Harry Nelson's Job. Has Had Great Success As Teacher.

Out of about 30 applicants for the position of field manager for the Jerome Cooperative Creamery company in Twin Falls county, John S. Feldhusen, instructor of vocational agriculture at Twin Falls high school, was appointed this week to succeed Harry Nelson who recently resigned. The position has been vacant for more than a month during which time the applicants have been given consideration.

Starts Work Saturday
Mr. Feldhusen submitted his resignation to the school board at the regular meeting Monday night, asking that it be accepted. He terminates his services with the school Friday of this week which is the end of the first semester, and will be starting with his field work for the creamery.

It is completing a 7 1/2 year term as vocational instructor at Twin Falls high school. His teaching here following graduation from Oregon Agricultural college at Corvallis.

During his teaching service here his stock judging teams have won second, third and fourth places at the Pacific International livestock show at Portland. In 1928 when they won second place they went on to the American Rural Livestock show at Kansas City and took first place for the nation.

Mr. Feldhusen has been a member of the National Livestock judging contest, and numerous local exhibits. Several possible successors for the high school position have been considered but the school board has made no decision yet.

Local Doctor Elected Head

Dr. W. F. Pass was this week elected president of the South Side Medical Society to succeed Dr. E. H. Emors of Rupert. Dr. W. H. Clouch, Twin Falls, was named vice-president; Dr. H. N. Loebe, Twin Falls, secretary; Dr. J. H. Schermerhall, Jerome, chairman of the standing committee.

Election of Peter Link to Place on Canal Board Features Meet

Hayes' Report Is Favorably Received

This annual report of Manager John E. Hayes at the canal meeting Tuesday was accepted on motion of W. F. Albrecht who declared it to be one of the most comprehensive and illuminating reports ever given by a canal commissioner to acquaint the stockholders with the condition of the canal.

Manager Hayes went into detail concerning all phases of the company's business. First thing he said this year was that the canal was in better shape than it was in 1929, leaving the company on a cash basis; that the entire canal system had been cleaned and improved to a fine condition, and that the New Year (1930) prospects of an abundant water supply for agriculture in this county.

Not less than 100 per cent of water had been delivered last year, he said, and in the early part of the season 125 per cent was delivered to waterways, with no shortage of water.

Common Lodging Water
The price incentive to the company is safeguarding its priority rights in Snake river system, and there must be constant vigilance to maintain the water right. The canal company is losing 200 second feet of water a year by misinterpretation of the right of the canal.

Good Water Obtainable
He urged continuance of the drainage policy of both tunnels and drains in order to control the water level. The average depth of ground water was put at 125 feet, with cost of from $184 to $194 to develop it. The project was to develop the water to 1382 feet and 1901 eastern.

Another advantage is that it would supply a greatly needed community center for general for the company's last year.

SCHOOL BOARD FAVORS BONDS

Taxpayers Will Vote Again On $200,000 Gymnasium for High School.

On the report of a number of the officers the Twin Falls school board decided this week to call for a referendum on the question of issuing bonds to build a new high school building. The board is losing 200 second feet of water a year by misinterpretation of the right of the canal.

Shearers Will Get Free Board

At the state sheepgrowers' convention in Idaho Falls it was proposed that sheepmen pay 12 cents a head to provide board for shearers during the shearing season. Owners of about one and a quarter million sheep, or more than half of Idaho's sheep population, signed the agreement. The 20 to 30 per cent were expected to agree to it within ten days according to a report credited to M. C. Chaff of Turley, secretary of the association.

GRANGES URGED TO OPPOSE THE ROAD TAX DEAL

Idaho granges have been urged to oppose the issuance of ten to fifteen million dollars in tax anticipation notes for highway improvement and to use their influence toward having the state adopt a "pay as you go" policy in all its expenditures.

SALMON RIVER ELECTION STIRS UP A CONTEST

Court Action May Be Taken To Decide Place On Board. One Resolution Is Adopted.

At the annual meeting of the Salmon River stockholders of the Salmon River canal company at Hollister Monday a resolution was adopted and two were rejected on the grounds that they were proper amendments to the by-laws and had not received long enough notice. The adopted resolution provided that the board should not purchase nor lease the water rights and system of the Deep Creek irrigation system without first submitting the proposed purchase or lease to a meeting of the stockholders of the corporation for approval by a majority vote.

Another resolution would have amended the by-laws forbidding the directors from incurring indebtedness in any form for any other purpose than repair, maintenance and operation of the company's irrigation system without a two-thirds majority vote of the stockholders. The third proposed amendment would have limited the directors to $5 traveling expenses to attend a meeting of the company.

The election for officers resulted in what may be a court action to decide one of the directors. The terms of H. Glavin, C. I. Davis and W. W. Powell expired. Powell was not a candidate. Sweeney was elected president; H. Glavin, C. I. Davis and W. W. Powell were elected directors. The election of Sweeney was a surprise.

BENJAMIN FRANKLIN—1706-1930
PICNICKING IN THE SNOW

Nearly everybody loves a picnic. Yet it is surprising how many people think this popular form of outing is limited to the warm-weather months. Now that so many highways are kept open throughout the winter and the modern closed car can be kept just as warm as the occupants desire, the new diversion of picnicking in the snow is sweeping up the winter months for thousands of carowners. A set of tire chains, plenty of anti-freeze and lots of food are the main prerequisites for a safe and comfortable winter outing. The anti-freeze is especially important, because the car will stand idle for some time, and you don't want your outing marred by a freeze-up.

After the hot coffee and sandwiches have been consumed, winter picnickers can find more real sport than warm-weather vacationists ever dreamed of. One of the most popular "games" is a modernized combination of "snap the whip" and tobogganing. With Dad at the wheel of the car, the "kids"—which includes, this time, Mother, Auntie and Uncle, and all the other grown-ups as well—pile onto their sleds, which have been roped to the back of the car. There are real thrills in whizzing along the road behind this "Twentieth Century Dobbin." Genuine "picnic fans" will agree that one of these winter outings is worth half a dozen ordinary summer picnics.

A BIG NICKLE'S WORTH

The December 7 issue of one weekly magazine was advertised as "the greatest Saturday Evening Post in history." It was also the biggest issue of any magazine ever printed.

There were 2,977,500 copies. Each copy weighed 1 lb., 34 oz. Its 272 pages contained 275,000 words of editorial matter, comprised 295 1-6 sq. ft. double-page paper the ceiling of a room 24-1/2 ft. x 12 ft. An average reader (225 words per minute) would take 20 hr., 20 min., to peruse it. Sixty 45-ton wagons, working night and day shifts, printed it in three weeks. A total of 214 National advertisers appeared in it, 68 in color. At an average of $9,000 per page, the advertising revenue was approximately $1,512,000. The issue consumed 8,000 tons of paper, 60 tons of ink.

In the Senate, too, the situation is fundamentally sound—and wind.

A lot of men are not appreciated at their true worth. Which is fortunate for them.

Mr. Coolidge does not choose to say whether he will choose to run for the Senate.

The fellow who went broke this year will not get much benefit from the income tax cut.

If she can make herself look cute while her bobbed hair is growing out, she has "it."

Correct this sentence: "She doesn't play a very good game, but she is a cheerful loser."

With many the making-up of the income tax returns this year will be merely a mathematical exercise.

A scowfall declares that Volstead has made more lawbreakers than any other man in history except Moses.

President Butler of Columbia says there is no great poet in the world today. Which remark will be resented by the admirers of Mr. Eddie Guest.

Borah seems to have his hands full running the government at Washington. He and Old Man Henderson down at Shreveport ought to do an oratorical marathon.

"VERY LATESTS"
By MARY MARSHALL

One no longer need make apologies for not having a fur coat. The has-been brought within the reach of almost every one and cloth coats trimmed with fur are so luxurious as to be the pet of any fur coat.

Moreover, there are fur-like fabrics of a comparatively inexpensive sort, that fashion looks upon with favor. They have gained a place under the sun of fashion for themselves because they do not pretend to be real fur. They stand on their own merits, which are humorous, and for the young girl of twenty or thereabouts many mothers would consider a coat of one of these fur fabrics in better taste than a real fur coat. One advantage for general wear that such coats have is that while they are not quite so heating as a coat of raccoon or other substantial fur and are therefore more substantial for everyday requirements of the active young person.

These are lovely pile fabrics that closely imitate the soft pelts of baby lamb or broadtail, and these—and materials of this sort—without making any pretensions of actually being baby lamb or broadtail, have been accepted as correct by fashion critics this season.

There is no longer the prejudice that there once was against imitations—either in fur or in jewelry; and many women who might well afford to wear diamonds prefer, at times, to wear rhinestones or water crystals, and women who have coats of the finest fur are willing to wear these lovely fur fabrics which the imported French dressmakers have marked with their approval.

The illustration shows a child's coat of fur fabric in heavy pile, with leather belt and buttons, and a belt to match.

To fall on the tenth anniversary of the formal adoption of the Prohibition law. Another coincidence was the report of President Hoover's law enforcement commission in which methods were outlined for making the law more effective throughout the nation. Friends of prohibition observed the event with celebrations in some places. In Twin Falls the fire whistle was blown at high noon.

CREAMERIES OPPOSE CHARGE
The Jensen Creamery company of Nampa and the Armour company have applied to the state public utilities commission to prohibit against switching charges levied against Idaho produce sold in that city. There is a special charge of $2.75 per car for switching in Los Angeles yards. An Idaho shipper must 1800-carsloads of farm produce each year the charges would amount to a considerable sum, even on part of these exports. J. M. Thompson of the commission has gone to San Francisco about it.

OUR POLICY—"To furnish the most telephone service and the best at the least possible cost consistent with financial safety."

1929's RESULTS

Improved and Extended Service
During the year 1929 our company has been constantly expanding its service to bring more and better telephone service to the people of this territory, involving the expenditure of more than $15,000,000.

Lower Cost Service
A reduction in long distance rates became effective February 1, 1929, and another January 1, 1930. Both principally affected station to station day calls, resulting in direct savings to subscribers from reductions in the charges for certain types of telephone installations and changes, and from the adoption of more liberal practices in extending plant and service to subscribers in sparsely settled sections.

More Tollerant Cooperation
There was fuller cooperation on the part of our subscribers, an important part of which consisted in the reduction of long distance rates.

More Accomplished in Making Our Facilities
During 1929 we made many of our facilities more comfortable and convenient for our subscribers.

1930's PROGRAM
The most service and the best at the least possible cost consistent with financial safety. In 1930 our efforts will be directed toward producing telephone service of even greater quality and efficiency.

Other writers than myself are calling attention to the absolute need of a good breakfast, whether the individual to be advised is a school child or a graybeard. However the "ancient maxim" in the area of life, is very likely to tell you that a breakfast is the most highly-enjoyed meal of the day, and has been his rule through life; that's why he has lived so many years. I read in my paper this very morning that a portly, friendly man and chairman dropped dead at a bridge-table—aged fifty-five—from "heart disease."

Jack Holt Is Star In Flight

Jack Holt, featured in "Flight," the Columbia all-talking aviation serial now playing at the Orpheum Theatre, was famous in his youth as a stunt horseman. He got his first film role in "Salome" because of this ability. Since then he has made round trips on the screen in "Flight," the latest, healthiest folks today are breakfast eaters.

I have mentioned in many previous articles in this column the dangers of the no-breakfast habit, and the corresponding sin of the six o'clock dinner. I reiterate here there is no deadly danger as way of living quite so much so, as the no-breakfast-evening-dinner habit into which our business men have drifted. It practically insures men to be short-lived. The schoolboy or girl who is hurried away mornings with a hasty mouthful of food, imperfectly masticated if at all, will be faced on entering the schoolroom; the work of the forenoon brings actual fatigue; the child's appetite is weakened; an indifferent lunch is taken; more work until school is dismissed; the youngster grazes home, and fills the stomach with a dinner of heavy food—too much for a tired body and mind—it all cannot be provided with digestive fluids. It enters the circulation by the absorbents and floats in the blood-stream, foreign, undigested. The child

MUTUAL LOAN HAS BIG GAINS

Reports made at the annual stockholders meeting of the Mutual Building and Loan association Monday showed an increase of $164,004.07 in assets. The 1928 assets were $111,722.63, and 1929 they were $265,826.60. This represents a continued increase in business during the last several years.

First mortgage real estate loans increased from $111,510 to $124,246 while the reserve fund was increased from $5381 to $34,485. Other items of the report were equally favorable.

H. R. Grant was re-elected president and manager; F. E. Wheeler vice-president; Miss E. F. Dittell, secretary; Rose M. Williams treasurer; H. P. Curry, counsel; H. R. Grant, Rease M. Williams and Floyd Norman, directors.

Wednesday night basketball games resulted in a double victory for Twin Falls over Kimberly and triumph for Murtaugh over Hansen at Murtaugh. The latter score was 12 to 6. The Bruin girls barely scratched out a 22 to 21 win over the Kimberly maidens, and the Bruins followed suit with a 27 to 23 defeat for Kimberly. Murtagh was injured in that game and will be out for some time.

SNOWFALL DECLARED BEST CHRISTMAS GIFT

All Conditions Ideal for Benefitting Farms With Great Amount of Long Standing Moisture. The present snowfall is simply adding to weather conditions that have already been declared ideal for an excellent agricultural year in 1930 according to George N. Carter, state commissioner of recreation. The storm is general, bringing a heavy snowfall over a large part of the west and also in other sections of the country.

Tuesday night was the coldest yet in Twin Falls this winter. On the official thermometer it was 4 degrees below zero, with zero the night before. This compares with 12 days of below-zero weather in January last year and more than that in December, 1928.

Not only the present snowfall but the conditions prevailing during the fall and early winter were ideal, Mr. Carter reports.

"The long, dry fall made things look bad for a while," said George N. Carter, commissioner, "but then came a heavy, warm rain, which poured down for several days, and thoroughly soaked the ground. To the uninitiated I might say that if Idaho had, though carefully over all the favors she could ask, and then had made her request, she could have thought of nothing more beneficial. The ground, thoroughly soaked in this manner, will act as a sponge, retaining the water during the next irrigation season, instead of pouring it off all at once. Then, before the ground had time to freeze too hard, the snow began to fall and the snow was loaded with moisture to an almost unprecedented extent.

The freezing will occur in this wet snow, which will break up in gullies and ravines, under the brush, and in other places, and supply a further reservoir of moisture. Now all we need for a successful year is 100 days of snow, and the reports indicate that is falling constantly.

CONGRESSMEN BACK GOVERNOR ON FARM TOPIC

(Want Farm Board Member To Come Out Here and Explain Cooperative Loan Plans.)

Idaho's delegation in congress has heartily approved the desire of Governor H. C. Baldridge for members of the federal farm board to visit this state and explain directly whether local units should be formed for each commodity group or whether several of them could be united under one cooperative toward securing farm loans for marketing.

The governor is also concerned about the future of dealers who are long established. He expresses his opinions on the matter as follows: "I cannot believe that every product should have a separate organization. This would mean among Idaho producers a multiplicity of organizations—one each for clover seed, alfalfa, sugar beets, potatoes and so on down the list. There must be rather some provision for grouping them the small needs with the grain growers and the fruit growers together.

"Unquestionably the president and his advisers have worked out some plan whereby the business men engaged as dealers will not be driven out of business. It would come close to confiscation to take away such large investments in the hands of the millers in particular. We have had, however, no word from Washington as to how the new marketing plan will affect them."

"C. C. Tongue of the California fruitgrowers association was invited by what Idaho but could not come. He was not invited. Samuel L. McElvay of Nebraska, the wheatgrowers' representative, may come. Vegetable and fruit growers meet at the farm board this week to start cooperative."

Christian Science Churches
"Life" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, January 20.
The Golden Text is from John 5:24: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; he is passed from death unto life."
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon are the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "When we wait patiently on God, and seek truth righteously, he directs our path. Imperfect mortals grasp the ultimate of spiritual perfection slowly; but to be bright and to continue the strife in demonstrating the great problem of being is 'dual' work" (page 254).

HINTS FOR THE HOME SUPREME COURT UPHOLDS TAX REBATE MATTER

OLD BLANKETS USEFUL
Of course, no one discards a blanket just because of one or two worn spots. They may be given a new lease on life by careful darning. By all means use soft woolen darning thread and be sure that you run your stitches over a considerable portion of the good part of the blanket to try to make a darn that will not depend on the worn portion. A good plan is to put the blanket into a large pair of embroidery frames. If you do this you can make a very presentable darn. If possible the darn should be used instead of the patch, as it is smooth and flatter.

Often the blanket is worn only at the edge. In that case you may find it best to run a piece of flannel the whole length of the blanket, sewing it down neatly, finding it in with the blanket at the edge and then working about the worn places, through the flannel, sewing it down neatly. But often it is better simply to cut off a section of the blanket. It may then be large enough for a shawl, or for a useful bit of additional covering. There are always times when a blanket gets ragged enough to tuck in over the head and knees is a welcome addition to the bedding.

Sometimes a blanket gets along the center fold. Then it is possible to cut out the worn section here, piece the blanket down the center and use it for a single blanket. It is a good plan to look over blankets at this time of year, before putting them away for warm weather, and to make any alterations or mends that are necessary. Cold weather comes quickly in the autumn and it is very discouraging to go to get your bedding out of cedar or camphor only to find that it needs a day or two's mending before it is presentable. The chance is that you won't do anything to it at all if you wait until autumn.

Broker: I have bought you 500 shares of common stock, madam. Mrs. Fitzwater: Well, I don't want them. What can you do with my friends say if they know I'd get anything common?

Husband: You accuse me of reckless extravagance. When did I ever make a useless purchase? Wife: What about that fire extinguisher you bought a year ago? We've never used it, once.

Radio Riots
The "latest"fad in radio entertainment seems to be an attack on chain stores. It doesn't matter whether they are good or bad, honest or crooked—if they are "chain" stores, they are condemned as sharpshooters, chancers and all around houses of iniquity. This is as unfair as condemning all music because some jazz is bad. For instance, there are ordinary chain stores and then there are O. P. Skaggs' System stores. In our stores, scales are always exact, packages are always full weight, items are priced correctly, and no employee tries to short-change or cheat. Bring in your food list, and convince yourself. Then you can enjoy a laugh at the expense of the radio man who has chosen such a broad field to condemn.

legislature is wholly within its authority to grant such exemptions. The Gooding taxpayers argued that it was unfair and cost Gooding county the loss of about $11,000 in taxes a year which had to be made up by added taxes on other agencies in the county. The benefits of the tax exemption, they said, went to farmers outside their county because the irrigation projects which receive the water pumped by the pumping plant in Gooding county, like in Twin Falls and other neighboring counties.

The state law relates taxes on power pumping plants according to the proportion of power used for pumping irrigation water. The rate has been argued before the legislature ever since the exemption was granted in 1921. The Miller Lowlift irrigation district was one of the intervenors in the present case and carried the burden of the arguments at its hearings before the supreme court in Boise. This company receives irrigation water pumped through the plants which receive tax exemptions.

Hints for Motivists

Keep your mind on your driving, your eyes on the road, your hands on the wheel, your feet on the floor, and your right foot ready to make a quick change from the accelerator to the brake.
If you are inclined always to insist upon your right of way—remember that you are likely to have the right of way some day in an ambulance returning from an accident.
If you are going on a long trip be sure to take your driver's license, your car's certificate of registration, the pump and tools belonging to the car, a box of valve insides, a box of valve caps and a pressure gauge. You may not need any of them, but you'll have plenty of trouble if it isn't on hand when you do need it.
