FAILS IN FIRST ATTEMPT AT SUICIDE

Our community was shocked to learn of the death, by suicide, Monday of W. F. Hughes, who lived with his family on the P. H. Smith place on the Rock creek road, south of Hansen.

Mr. Hughes has been a sufferer from heart disease, and dependency may have been the cause of the derangement of mind that caused him to commit so rash an act. Early on Monday morning Mr. Hughes left his bed and threw himself into a lateral, with the evident intention of ending his life by drowning, however, on coming to the house after a swim for leaving it that parties were trying to kill him. Not long after he cut his throat with the Jack knife. Dr. Boyd and Clouck were called upon to reach the place before his death had occurred, but nothing could be done for him.

He leaves a family of nine children. The mother is dead, and the 12 year old daughter Hazel has been the bright and faithful home-keeper. The sympathy of the whole community is extended to the sad family.

The funeral of Mr. Hughes was held from the undertaking parlors of H. E. Hunt of Twin Falls Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock under the auspices of the W. A. C. of which Mr. Hughes was a member.

There have been so many heavy losses from feeding on alfalfa that many are planting other pastures.

Edith-Hazel-Smith was seriously ill Monday and Dr. Boyd was hastily summoned to attend her. This Tuesday morning she is reported to be much better.

Mrs. P. M. Roberts of Boise is spending a part of the summer with her daughters, Mrs. Kaneaster and Mrs. Howard, and her son R. E. Roberts and their family.

Walter Williams, Frank Griswold, Spencer Edwards and Rollo Crawford made up a camping party, Thursday and Friday in Rock Creek canyon. They met with indifferent success, fishing—all the big ones got away.

Repairs on the school building will begin this week. The wood work, both inside and out is to be painted and sash re-arranged for the next term of school.

Mr. and Mrs. James Wheat and Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Greenbush with their families went on a fishing trip on Sunday to Rock creek. They report a fine catch and a pleasant trip.

F. E. Griswold has purchased the Jones forty of Fred Marler of Twin Falls, and has commenced work on the place. It will make a pretty home and we wish the new owner success.

John Simmons starts this week for Idaho. He will travel overland by team and will endeavor to make it a pleasure trip. At the he will visit his mother and many other relatives and friends.

Miss Dolly Williams was agreeably surprised by about thirty of her friends, last Thursday evening, on the occasion being her birthday. The evening was passed pleasantly with games and dancing. Strawberries and cream, with cake, furnished the refreshments.

R. B. Roberts spent a part of last week at his home east of Hansen, but departed again on Saturday, accompanied by his son Clifford, bound for Delvelieu from which point Mr. Roberts has arranged to ship his sheep to Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Williams started the first of last week for Hot Lake, Oregon. The trip was made on account of Mrs. Williams, who has been in very poor health for several years. On reaching Wetter, she became so much worse that they stopped off and since Mrs. Williams has been in the hospital at that place.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Vail of Cripple Creek, Colo. reached Hansen last Monday. Mr. Vail has a position as engineer on the Cripple Creek Short Line. Mrs. Vail is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Calkins and has numerous other relatives and friends in this vicinity. They like the country and may decide to locate here.

Era Williams goes today, Tuesday, to Boise to attend the grand encampment of the G. A. R. Although no one would suspect that Mr. Williams is of an age that would make it possible, it is true that he is a veteran of the civil war and has shared the few men now living who could give such thrilling accounts of incidents of that time, such as the bravery by boys of both the blue and the gray as Mr. Williams can. He entered the army in 1861 at the age of 16 and was mustered out at the close of the war. He was and orderly on the staff of Gen. Vandever, and took part in that famous march of Sherman to the sea. Twice made prisoner, he tried the bill of fare of two southern prisons, Salisbury, Danville and Libby. His stay in the latter place was cut down to five days by his surrender, yet he does not seem to regret that fact. Besides Mr. Williams we have two other veterans of the war at Hansen, W. E. Calkins and Mr. Trellett. All honor to them.

Will Wed Tonight.

Tonight at the home of the parents of the bride on South Harrison avenue Miss Myrtle McManis, one of Pocatello's most charming and accomplished daughters, will become Mrs. John W. Voorhees. The ceremony of marriage will be pronounced at 8 o'clock by Rev. Mr. Hunt, pastor of the Congregational church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. McManis; her father being one of the oldest railroaders on the Short Line system. Miss McManis for some time has been teaching music and while in Twin Falls met the man whom she will wed tonight. He is a leading business man of Twin Falls, the manager of a large lumber yard in the Magic City. Pocatello Tribune.

AFTERMATH OF CONVENTION

THE PLATFORM ADOPTED REPE- SENTS ROOSEVELT'S POLICY.

For Vice-President, James S. Sherman of New York.

Such is the record of the culminating day of the Republican National Convention of 1909, affected amid scenes of tumultuous enthusiasm and after a nerve-racking continuous session lasting nearly eight hours.

The picture within the walls of the vast amphitheater as the Presidential candidate was named today was one truly grand in its magnitude.

street from observation to another, was in a fever of expectancy for the culminating vote. The fever was one of other states had been named, save Knox and La Follette, and now on the roll call came Ohio.

As the Buckeye state was reached the tall, gaunt form of Theodore E. Burton, with student-like face and severe black clerical garb, advanced to the platform to nominate Ohio's candidate. He spoke fervently, with the ringing voice of an evangelist, which went ringing down through the great building. The close of his speech of nomination was the signal for the long post-up feeling of the Taft legion.

Instantly the Ohio delegates were on their feet, other Taft states following, while the convention hosts in gallery and on floor broke into a mad demonstration. A huge blue silk banner bearing the familiar features of the statesman-Secretary was swung before the delegates, awakening a fresh whirlwind of enthusiasm.

A full gauge the opportunity for the speech succeeding Taft's nomination by George A. Knight, of California. His big, round face beaming forth on the sympathetic multitude and his splendid baritone voice going forth like tones of a great church organ.

California's tribute to Taft was brief and fervid. Now there was another fall in the Taft movement, while the remaining candidates were placed in nomination.

It was late in the afternoon before the convention, now literally sweltering with the intense heat, reached the end of the epoch of eloquence and the decks were at last cleared for the seconding of La Follette. When the cheers following the speech had died away, like a cyclone, on a clear sky burst a La Follette demonstration which swept the convention from its fiery bearing. It seemed as though Wisconsin had suddenly peopled over four of the galleries—the delegates sat calm and waiting, except the frail Wisconsin, but the convention for the time being was in the possession of the galleries.

Amid this pandemonium and with the galleries in full control, Chairman Lodge decided upon a second attempt in order again to make the convention master of its affairs. He ordered the roll call of states to begin for the vote on President. Such a call, under such circumstances, has probably never before occurred in the history of national conventions.

The secretary was powerless to make his call of states heard above the deafening clamor. Gradually the agitation of the multitude conquered its enthusiasm and it began to advance to hear the result of the call. A hush of expectancy hung over the assembly as the call proceeded.

Hasty summaries showed that Taft was far in advance. When New York was reached, the Taft column totaled 427. Ohio carried the Taft total to 511, or 24 more than enough to nominate. Still the call went on until the final result was announced by Chairman Lodge.

For Theodore Roosevelt, 3 votes; for Joseph B. Foraker, of Ohio, 16 votes; for Charles W. Fairbanks, of Indiana, 48 votes; for Joseph G. Cannon, of Illinois, 55 votes; for Robert La Follette, of Wisconsin, 25 votes; for Charles B. Hughes, of New York, 67 votes; for Philander C. Knox, of Pennsylvania, 85 votes, and for William H. Taft, of Ohio 702 votes.

A great shout went up as Lodge concluded his announcement, and with one accord the adherents of Taft, Sherman, Hughes and the others joined in a common tribute to the candidate of the party.

Charles W. Fairbanks, of Indiana, moved to make the nomination of Taft unanimous; Senator Foraker, for Knox; Boutwell for Cannon; Henry, of Georgia, for Foraker, and Cochrane, of Wisconsin, for La Follette. The seconding was for a unanimous vote for the candidate, which was given with a ringing cheer.

EX-PRES. GROVER CLEVELAND DEAD

Death Occurred On Wednesday From Heart Failure.

NEWS OF DEMISE CAME AS SHOCK TO NATION.

Famous Democrat Has Been Suffering for Several Years From Complication of Diseases.

Princeton, N. J., June 24.—Former President Grover Cleveland died at 10:30 this morning. For years he had been suffering from attacks of gastric intestinal origin. A statement given out by the attending physicians says he had also long had chronic disease of the heart and kidneys.

The immediate cause of death was heart failure complicated with other diseases. While Mr. Cleveland had been seriously ill from time to time, the announcement of his death came like a thunderbolt to those who had been watching his illness. Mrs. Cleveland was at home when her husband passed away, but the children are at their summer home at Tamworth, N. H.

It is believed that the terrific heat of the last few days contributed to a great degree to the sudden death of Mr. Cleveland. His death was not announced until an official statement had been prepared by Drs. Bryant and Lockwood, who came here from New York yesterday and remained at the Cleveland residence all night, as was their custom when visiting Princeton.—Capital News.

The Weeter Lumber company are improving their yards by building a large pile yard at the same place.

The Filer ball team boys were all wreathed in smiles on Sunday as they bid farewell to the Twin Falls Firemen, who just because the score was seven to one in favor of Filer, however, we have a kindly feeling for the Twin Falls team.

The I. O. O. F. lodge of Filer with ten brothers from Twin Falls drove to the Old Pioneer Pass near Clark's Fork on Wednesday. The lodge will vote on the proposition of an I. O. O. F. brother that was buried August 12 last. The lodge will vote on some means of caring for the grave.

Lincoln Name of School Building.

In compliance with the notice published the trustees of Independent School District No. 1, placed a ballot box in the lobby of the postoffice last Sunday so that the qualified voters of this district could vote for their choice for the name of the new school building. 83 votes were cast with the following results: Superior, 12 votes; Filer, 10 votes; McKinley, 8 votes; 17, 8 votes; 26, Lincoln, 8 votes; Washington, 8 votes.

According to the vote the new school building will bear the name of Lincoln.

TAFT AND SHERMAN

this morning it was practically certain that the Vice-Presidency would go to Mr. Sherman. A large number of states had endorsed his candidacy in caucus, and it spread like wildfire. The New York delegation stood solidly back of Mr. Sherman, and when the voting began there was a rush of delegates to fall into line, victory being assured to the New York representative long before the roll had been half completed. Speaker Cannon appeared unobtrusively upon the floor of the convention, and by unanimous consent was granted the privilege of making the concluding speech for Mr. Sherman, who had been placed in nomination by Timothy L. Woodruff, chairman of the New York delegation. Mr. Cannon was greeted uproariously as he stepped to the convention platform, and his earnest tributes to Mr. Sherman and the floor leaders in the lower House of Congress, was enthusiastically applauded.

Mr. Sherman's victory was an overwhelming one, a 116 votes being the total before his nomination was made unanimous.

Earlier in the day the battle over the platform had occupied the attention of delegates and spectators. The platform, as framed by the committee on resolutions, was read by its chairman, Senator Hopkins of Illinois, while a minority report, reflecting the views of the supporters of the latter was then elected. Speaker Cannon has acted as chairman of the committee of the whole through many a turbulent battle in Congress.

He has been chairman of two New York state conventions. In the work of the house, he has distinguished himself as chairman of the committee on Indian affairs, and as one of the most influential members of the interstate and foreign commerce committee.

TAFT FINDS IT DIFFICULT TO EXPRESS FEELINGS

Washington, June 19.—"Words do not find themselves at a time like this. I do not say that I am very happy."

This was the response of Secretary Taft to a request for an expression of his views on his nomination for the Presidency. The statement did not come out easily. Throughout the afternoon preceding the announcement of his nomination the Secretary had been laboring under suppressed nervous strain. The atmosphere of his office was electric with excitement. Not a word was said to the Secretary which he did not feel the necessity of repeating to the press.

In the interim between the bulletins from the convention the Secretary disposed of several important departmental questions, and when his nomination for the Presidency was announced his desk was practically cleared of important official business. And then, when the Secretary greeted after his nomination was made the employees of the linear bureau of War Department, with whom Secretary Taft was acquainted personally.

Turning to Secretary Root after the informal reception, Secretary Taft inquired, "Shall we go to the War College?"

"Yes," replied Secretary Root. Secretary Taft was already in his riding clothes and he and General Edwards made the trip to the War College on horseback, while Secretary Root and General Harkness, chief of staff, went in an automobile. As he was leaving his office Secretary Taft leaned over the desk of the telegraph operator and inquired tentatively:

"I guess it's certain enough?"

"Certain enough," said General Oliver, who was standing near. "You want it unanimous?"

A minute later a flash came over the wire that the nomination had been made unanimous.

Just before Secretary Taft left his office William Pannely, his personal messenger, rushed into the room with a great jar of brimstone as an offering of congratulations from the messenger force.

Foraker for Taft.

Washington, June 19.—"Until the convention made a nomination, every Republican had a right to have his choice," said Senator Foraker, after the nomination of Secretary Taft for the Presidency, "but it is no longer a question of men, but a question of party."

"In this way Secretary Taft becomes my candidate for the Presidency, and while under all the circumstances I am personally for him, I shall do all I can to help him. The Republicans will not contend among themselves, but will turn their guns on the common enemy."

Congratulated by Hughes.

Albany, N. Y., June 19.—Governor Hughes was at the executive chamber when the news of the nomination of Secretary Taft as the Republican candidate for the Presidency was conveyed to him. He had no comment to make, but announced that he would send the following telegram to Mr. Taft:

"I heartily congratulate you upon your nomination. Under your administration the welfare of the country will be assured."

La Follette Sends Congratulations.

Madison, Wis., June 19.—Senator La Follette sent the following telegram to Secretary Taft:

"While the platform is disappointing in some fundamental provisions and omissions, I shall claim the right to say so. I congratulate you most sincerely and in good faith that you are more nearly in accord with the great body of Republican voters than the platform. I shall do all in my power to insure your election."

Noble Act of Roosevelt.

London, June 19.—The news of Secretary Taft's nomination was received too late for editorial comment in the morning papers, except the Times, which says:

"It is the greatest and most striking of all Roosevelt's many victories. By the unflinching execution of his personal will President Roosevelt defeated the undoubted will of the Republican party, and what is hardly less certain, the will of the American people."

"He has chosen to sacrifice his personal ambition in his duty to the nation. It is a noble act of self-abnegation, worthy of the first magistrate of the people, bred in respect for the law and in veneration for its spirit."

Kaiser Is Informed.

Berlin, June 19.—Emperor William has fully informed through the German Embassy at Washington of Mr. Taft's personality and nomination for the Presidency.

The news was transmitted on pleasantly in official quarters this morning. From the German point of view Mr. Taft is regarded as a most suitable statesman for the construction of the Panama Canal, the Far East ern Trade and the other foreign policies of the present administration. The international controversies are less known and get less attention in Germany.

Vatican Pleased With Taft.

Rome, June 19.—Although it was fully expected, the nomination of Secretary Taft at Chicago has produced a good impression here. This is especially so at the Vatican, where Mr. Taft is considered as favorable inclined to the Catholic influences in the Philippines.

Tokio Much Gratified.

Tokio, June 19.—The nomination of Secretary Taft for the Presidency has been received everywhere in Tokyo with expressions of gratification, because of the personal popularity of Mr. Taft.

WRIGHT APPOINTED SECRETARY OF WAR

ROOSEVELT RECOGNIZES MERIT IN THE SOUTH AS IN THE NORTH.

Wright Was Confederate—Forsook Democracy When It Took Up Free Silver.

Washington, D. C., June 19.—General Luke E. Wright, of Tennessee, who served throughout the Civil War as a private in the Confederate army and who, until his party split on the free-silver rock in 1896, was a Democrat born and bred, is to succeed William Howard Taft as Secretary of War. The announcement was made today after Secretary Taft had presented his resignation and it had been accepted to take effect June 30.

No man is more generally popular in the South today than General Wright, and he is better qualified by education and experience to become head of the War Department.

General Wright was a private in the Confederate army and who, until his party split on the free-silver rock in 1896, was a Democrat born and bred, is to succeed William Howard Taft as Secretary of War.

when the new National committee met for organization immediately after adjournment of the convention. The friends of Mr. Hitchcock insist that more than half of the electors will vote to elect him chairman, while the advocates of Mr. Vorys say that five members favor the election of the latter, or of some man other than Mr. Hitchcock.

It is conceded, however, that the chairmanship depends absolutely upon the wishes of Mr. Taft, who has not publicly expressed any preference. Nevertheless he has stated that the question is one of practical politics and that no selection will be made for sentimental reasons.

Keen interest in the selection of a political manager for Mr. Taft is being taken by Charles F. Taft and Henry W. Taft, brothers of the nominee. In view of the fact that Mr. Hitchcock and Mr. Vorys both have strong followings, an effort is being made by Charles F. Taft to have both withdraw from the race. The suggestion that this course be taken, when made to Mr. Hitchcock, caused him to state that he had at no time been a candidate for the chairmanship and that he would not embarrass the Secretary by asking for the place.

PENNY ARCADES ARE A MENACE. They have thousands of children as Brethren of Crime, and are a Danger to the Children.

The penny arcade, and five-cent machine made their appearance with no greater blare of trumpets than the noise of their phonographic horns and the throaty perspiration of their "barkers."

They came upon us unobtrusively in the still of the night. Every big city, and even the smaller ones, were up to find them there by dozens. They have multiplied faster than guinea pigs, and within a short time have attained to that "importance" where we may no longer snub them as one of the catch-me-if-you-can, of the street.

With but few exceptions, the pictures shown in these places are as bad as the police will allow. They are suggestive and derivative of crime, largely presented in most alluring forms.

Months ago, these theatres attracted the attention of the Chicago and Philadelphia authorities, and those interested in juvenile counter-thoughts out the country have been raising their voices in protest against them. Jane Adams, of Hull House, frankly admits that they have not only become a force in the city life, but they are capable of developing crime to very alarming degree. Judge Holmes, of Denver, a friend of the homeless boy, has spoken strongly against them.

When a manager of one of these penny arcades was asked why he allowed such pictures to appear, his answer was short: "Because the people like them."

As they exist to-day, the municipal authorities don't like them, the social settlement workers don't like them; you don't like them.

If you don't like these amusements, say so. In this case "say so" to the editors of the papers and magazines, to the municipal authorities; and then act your neighbors to voice their protest, too.

If we cannot have pleasure without bad example to our children, let us even forego pleasure.

Don't you think so?

NEW BUILDING FOR
MESSRS. ROGERSON, BONHAM & PETERS

One of Twin Falls' New Buildings

The above cut is taken from the architectural drawing of the new, modern brick business building now under construction, to be known as the Nordling Hotel. The first floor will contain five large store rooms, with all modern conveniences, and large plate glass show windows. The second and third floors will be used for hotel purposes, and will contain 96 sleeping rooms, each supplied with hot and cold water, steam heat, telephone and call bell. On the second floor will be a large parlor, 21 feet by 24 feet, large lobby, 29 by 48 feet, wide hallways, public and private baths, and every convenience to add to the comfort of the guests. The corner store room has been leased to the Nordling Sisters of Chicago, who will occupy it with a complete stock of Books and Stationary, Millinery and Ladies' Furnishings, and will be one of the most up-to-date establishments of its kind in the State. The fourth store from the corner will be occupied by Bonham & Peters, with a complete stock of Racket Store Goods. The building will cover a ground space of 100 by 125 feet, 100 feet fronting on Main avenue and 125 feet on Ninth street, will cost $70,000, and will be completed about the first of December.

The sound of a thousand delegates cheering like madmen for fifty solid minutes when his name was mentioned in the Chicago convention should make sweet music in the ears of Theodore Roosevelt and in a measure repay him for the vilification of the Wall Street crowd during the past year. It is marvelous that a man could come out of a reform movement of such gigantic scope with the universal good will of all men of both political parties.

The editor of the Times during the past week attended a meeting of the Southern Idaho Press club at Rexburg and right here wishes to state that the hospitality accorded the press club by the busy little city was way beyond the words of praise of any member of the club, no matter how versatile his pen. The people from the mayor down made every effort to show that they were honored by the presence of the club and wished their guests to have the best of everything. Every editor present expressed the same appreciation of Rexburg's kindness.

The nomination of Taft on the first ballot has been so certain that it came as little surprise to the rank and file of the party. The man who will take Roosevelt's place as leader of the Republican party in this campaign could scarcely commence under more favorable conditions for a victory. Wall street is at least not hostile to him because he is at present an unknown factor in reform and they hope for at least a few strenuous campaigns against them than under Roosevelt. The people who have supported Roosevelt through thick and thin will take Taft on au-faith, trusting that the president's opinion of him is right. His running mate, Sherman, presents an enviable record of faithful service in behalf of the people and will lend strength to Taft in the eastern states.

Scarcely a week passes by that the Times is not visited by some person wishing to escape publicity. In too many cases requests for suppression of live news items have been granted. There are some cases in which requests for non-publication can be cheerfully granted because the privacy of a person's life cannot be too closely guarded unless the paper is yellow in its tendency. News that turns to public gaze the private life of the worthy citizen only satisfies the idle curiosity of a morbid reader is better left out. But on the other hand many men caught in some disgraceful or dishonest act and brought into court on minor charges will pay their fine and make a quick run to the newspaper man to keep the fact of his disgrace from the paper. The Times, it is ashamed to confess, has granted such requests many times against its own judgment, but from now on such will not be the case. Every item that shows the record of crime and folly will be printed in order that the real object of the punishment of criminals may be brought out, namely—the turning of the would-be criminal from the downward path by the knowledge that every infraction of society's laws carries with it a heavy load of ignominy and shame. The tears and sorrow of those dear to the criminal are necessary evils and the sorrow of the few are necessary for the lasting benefit of a broader state of humanity.

END OF RACE TRACK GAMBLING

Governor Hughes has won his fight against race-track gambling. The bills putting into effect, after thirteen years of legislative nullification, the definite prohibition of the State Constitution against bookmaking on race-tracks, last week passed the Assembly by a large majority, and the Senate by a single vote. It is now just as much a crime to gamble within a racing inclosure as it is without. The special privilege in violation of which the race-track gamblers of the State have fattened under cover of a law passed in barefaced evasion of the Constitution is ended. The end of the battle in the Senate was marked by a dramatic incident. At the regular session the vote on the bills stood 25 to 25. Between that time and the final vote at the extraordinary session last Thursday not a man changed sides. But a new vote was added on the Governor's side by the election of Mr. William Wallace to fill a vacant seat in the Senate. Meanwhile, however, Senator Foelker, of Brooklyn, had been taken ill with appendicitis and successfully operated upon. He was still very ill as the time for the final vote came on, but literally at the risk of his life he went to Albany and appeared in the Senate Chamber, visibly struggling against weakness and weariness, a few minutes before his name was called. Without his vote the fight would have been lost. His action was as heroic as any on the field of battle, with none of the stimulating accompaniments of the soldier's life. Mr. Foelker came to America as a German immigrant, unable to speak English, and began work as a baker's apprentice. His splendid fight for a legal education and to become a man of public influence entitles him to high praise and impressively indicates the possible value of the right kind of immigration to this country. He is described as "in private life a quiet, democratic man, a hard worker at all times, a good legislator, and respected by all his colleagues." In a scold contrast to Senator Foelker's brave act stands the prestant opposition to the call of decency and law and order of the twenty-five men who voted against the bills. They comprised nineteen Democrats led by Grady and McCarren, and six Republicans, of whom the most disgracefully prominent was Senator Cassidy, who explained his first vote against the bills on the ground that a telegraphic command from his boss in Washington had been altered by the operator. Not content with opposing by legitimate means the Governor in his fight for government by the people, and striving to uphold "government by the bosses for the gamblers," they forged a sick man to hazard his life in order to defeat them. Even after he had reached the Chamber, the leaders of the gamblers' cause showed him no consideration; they forced the fight to a finish, apparently hoping that a possible collapse might still prevent his voting. Such fighting is unworthy. If one of the immorally disgraced twenty-five had possessed the chivalry of the average gambler, he would have arranged a "pal" with Senator Foelker and saved him from his painful ordeal without altering the result. But that was evidently too much to expect from men who held their royalty to their bosses and to the gamblers who stood behind them superior to their oath to uphold the Constitution. It is a great victory for Governor Hughes; but it is a victory only in the first battle. The real war is against the irresponsible bosses; and the forces of the boss are still in the field. The cunning of the boss cannot spare at this crisis so masterful and efficient a leader as Governor Hughes. Commanders-in-chief have to make sacrifices as well as soldiers on the field; and if the cause of popular freedom from boss domination is to be won in New York, it seems essential that the present commander-in-chief should continue his sacrifice, and wrest from the bosses a renomination. The people will attend to the re-election. The Outlook.

THE BRADY-BORAH AGGREGATION ROASTED.

Correspondent Makes Unpleasant Comment Upon Borah's Training With Timber Thieves—Linkenfelter's Appointment Discussed.

"The shake up in the Federal office in this state will have a tendency to help 'Timber' Bill Borah and Jim Brady in carrying the state at the November election. Both United States Marshal Rounds and United States Attorney Ruick were the personal friends of Senator Heyburn. These two gentlemen, as is well known, were in office when the timber land thieves were prosecuted. United States Attorney Ruick was notorious for his prosecution of the leaders of the magnificent pine forests of the State.

Among those who were indicted was William E. Borah, otherwise known as 'Timber' Bill, and William the Promiser, now through his deal with the 'Sagebrush' ministry, United States Senator from the Gem State.

Timber Bill faced the courts. Ruick prosecuted him. Rounds served the papers upon him. He was never indicted. But not so with some of his friends. Several of them were prosecuted to conviction. Ruick did it. Rounds served the papers. Both have been decapitated. Does 'Timber' Bill want prosecution of the timber-land thieves? The removal of these efficient officers would so indicate.

Why Sympathy of Roosevelt. In connection with the removal of these two officers it has become current that President Roosevelt sympathizes with Borah, with Timber Bill, with William the Promiser, in his trouble (2) with these two officers, and was therefore only too glad to set them aside when requested. Now Republicans of Idaho are asking the question, "Why should the man with the big stick sympathize with Borah any more than with any other man who was indicted for timber land frauds?"

Kester and Kottenbach were indicted for timber land thefts. They were prosecuted to conviction. They were friends as well as Borah and they are asking the question why Presidential sympathy is not shown toward these two men. United States Attorney Ruick did his duty toward these two convicted men and toward Borah, who was acquitted.

Will Prosecution Stop? Many Idahoans have come to believe that there will be no more prosecutions of the timber land thieves. They believe that the indictments pending against a number will be allowed to drift along and finally be totally forgotten. Bolters from the Democracy of the State in Ada, Canyon and Nez Perce, feel that the indictment against Frank Martin, one of the leaders of the bolting faction, and who is being groomed as the real leader, will never be prosecuted. Hundreds of voters believe that this is a part of the deal made by which failure to prosecute is the price he is to receive for his action thus far. For this reason it is known that he is the Judas of the Democracy in Idaho. He betrayed his party, and common talk is that he has been voting the Republican ticket for several years past, although posing as a Democrat.

Demand Explanation. There are a great many voters in the Republican party who would like to have 'Timber' Bill explain why he appointed C. H. Linkenfelter to succeed M. M. Ruick when he knew that Linkenfelter was an attorney for timber land thieves.

Judge Linkenfelter came from Lewiston. His following movement among Republicans upon his confirmation. C. W. Thompson, one of the wheel horses of the Republicans of north Idaho, an old resident of Lewiston and Nez Perce county, is out in the open against Linkenfelter, declaring that he will furnish direct and positive proof that Linkenfelter was retained as an attorney by Kester and Kottenbach. Thompson turns on Senator Borah, whom he accused of his fight for Senatorial honors, declaring that he is determined that President Roosevelt shall be told that Thompson claims to know no matter how much Senatorial opposition he may meet with. Here is what Mr. Thompson says: "I do not, as a usual thing, care to discuss matters of this kind in the public press, but it seems to me that it is well to make a statement of the facts. I made a protest against Mr. Linkenfelter's appointment because I believe him to be unfit for the office and disqualified by reason of the fact that he accepted a fee in defense of Kester and Kottenbach. I have absolute and positive proof of this, in writing, and will see that it reaches the authorities at Washington. I do not know who has induced Mr. Linkenfelter, but I take it from new dispatches that Senator Borah is responsible for the appointment.

It caused some surprise when Borah named the man, and I believe Borah is in no position to name a district attorney for Idaho, as many of his friends and former clients are under indictment or conviction, and in naming their prosecutor he immediately lays himself open to conviction, especially by appointing Mr. Linkenfelter, who at one time was retained as counsel to defend Kester and Kottenbach. I take this position: "Compromise the Administration."

The government has been prosecuted for fraud, not only in Idaho, but in other places; and the honest American citizen stands back of the administration, pleased that those grafters are being brought to bay. I feel like the appointment of Linkenfelter practically compromises the administration, and I do not believe this with the knowledge or authority of President Roosevelt, so that I shall endeavor to have him investigate the appointment believing him to be anxious to find some man who has never been in sympathy with men who have been convicted of crime against the government. He can find 100 attorneys in Idaho competent to fill the position, and again, whom no finger of suspicion should be raised. I believe Senator Borah has failed to acquaint himself with all the facts. I believe it is a mistake to condemn men who have prosecuted land fraud criminals, but I do not care to take up the cudgel in defense of Ruick, who was probably not warranted in prosecuting Senator Borah, but it seems that Borah should not expect to sit Ruick's place with the former attorney of the men now under sentence.

Borah-Brady Gang Alarmed. The appointment of Linkenfelter was, no doubt, made with a view of pacifying northern Idaho, the voters in both parties so strongly protesting against interference by the Salt Lake hierarchy in political affairs of Idaho. The appellate court has been promised to a well-known resident of one of the strong Mormon counties, but the Borah-Brady gang have become frightened and the man slated for the job set aside, the gang relying upon the church allies to pour some of the unctuous oil upon the wounded individual and keep him in line.

The political atmosphere throughout Idaho is being very decidedly tinged by the Church, Republicans and Church Democrats are concerned. The wedding of political axes in many places is due to date the wrong tree. Salt Lake Tribune.

FOR NATURAL RESOURCES

Last week President Roosevelt announced the names of nearly fifty men who are, first, to advise him in matters relating to the conservation of natural resources, and second, to co-operate with like bodies in the various states. The Commission is to be divided into two parts, one to have an Executive Committee. One of the four parts is to consider the subject of waters, another that of forests, another that of lands, and another that of minerals. The Executive Committee has as its appropriate chairman Mr. Gifford Pinchot, the United States Forester, to whose initiative the recent White House Conference between the President and the Governors was due. The work in less than a month from the adjournment of that Conference, Mr. Roosevelt has acted on the most important recommendation of that body, the suggestion to him that a National Commission should be appointed for the purpose above mentioned.

The President's promptness in the appointment indicates his enthusiasm for the cause, and the composition of the commission shows that he has considered how best the objects in view may be accomplished. To this end all sections of the country are represented, and in especial professional and business men have been appointed of particular ability, experience and energy—such authorities, for instance, on waters as Professor Swain, of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology; on forests, an Professor Graves, of Salt Lake Forest School; and Mr. Charles Lathrop Pack, of New Jersey; on lands, an ex-Governor Pardee, of California, and Mr. James I. Hill, the eminent railway president; on minerals, as Messrs. Andrew Carnegie, of New York, John Hays Hammond, of Massachusetts, and John D. Mitchell, of Illinois. On all these four Commissions there are representatives from both the Senate and the House of Representatives, and from such Government Departments as the Engineering Bureau, of the War Department, the Geological Survey, and Reclamation Bureau of the Interior Department, the Forestry Service and the Bureau of soils of the Department of Agriculture. We trust that there will now be formed a similar Commission in each of those States interested in the improvement and use of waterways, in preventing flood and preserving forests, in reclaiming arid or swamp lands, and in conserving and using mineral deposits.—The Outlook.

Reminder of the Old Overland Trail.

In a lonely spot on the old overland road that leads from Kootenai, Utah, to Boise, a few miles north of where the present town of Piler is now situated, John Grant found a lone neglected grave that is somewhat shrouded in mystery.

On the weather beaten head board, inscribed with a name and the three link emblem of the Independent Order of Old Fellows and the following inscription, "H. S. Webb, 1817-1891" which shows that this grave has been there for nearly 55 years and the supposition is that Webb was with an emigrant train and was killed by the Indians, scattered all around the grave was found a number of broken arrow heads.

The Old Fellows of this city have taken the matter in hand and have had a number of photographs taken of the head board, which they are going to send to the leading Old Fellow papers throughout the country.

A number of the Old Fellows of this city went down last Sunday to determine what would be done with the remains.

JENS PEDERSON*REPUBLICAN PLATFORM*Synopsis of Platform.

Declares unequivocally for a revision of the tariff by a special session of congress immediately following the inauguration of the next President, reaffirming the principle of protection; favors free trade with Philippines, with due regard to protection of sugar and tobacco industries.

Declares that justice requires at all times the authority and integrity of the courts, state and Federal, and will ever insist that their powers to enforce their process and to protect life, liberty and property shall be preserved inviolate. Asserts belief, however, that the rules of procedure in the federal courts with respect to the issuance of the writ of injunction should be more leniently construed, and that no injunction or temporary restraining order should be issued without notice, except where prompt relief would result from delay, in which case a speedy hearing therefor should be granted.

Approves enactment of railroad rate law and vigorous enforcement of statutes. Recommends that the interstate commerce law be further amended so as to give railroads the right to make and publish traffic agreements, subject to approval of the commission, but maintaining always the principle of competition between naturally competing lines and avoiding the creation of artificial lines by any means whatsoever. Favors such national legislation and supervision as will prevent the abuse of stocks and bonds by interstate carriers.

Favors permanent currency system that will avoid all emergencies. Favors passage of postal savings bank bill, pending before Congress. Declares for amendments strengthening Sherman anti-trust law to give greater control over interstate corporation having dangerous power of monopoly.

Pledges devotion to every cause that makes for the betterment of conditions among those who labor. Favors state National aid for cause of good roads. Condemns attempts to disenfranchise colored voters.

Declares again for extension and enforcement of civil service laws. Indorses movement to conserve natural resources and to improve rivers, harbors and waterways.

Declares for navy large enough to maintain honor of nation and aid the United States in preserving international peace.

Urges legislation to revive merchant marine. Favors liberal administration of bureau laws.

Requests that the centennial anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln, an immortal spirit whose name stands among the first of heroes given to the world by the great republic, be observed as a public patriotic holiday.

Declares that native inhabitants of Porto Rico should be at once collectively made citizens of the United States, and that all others, properly qualified under existing laws, residing in said island, should have the privilege of becoming naturalized.

Indorses immediate admission of the Territories of New Mexico and Arizona as separate states in Union. Earnestly favors establishment of a Bureau of Mines and Mining.

Salient Points of Platform.

Once more the Republican party, in National convention assembled, submits to the people of the United States that historic organization that destroyed slavery, preserved the Union, restored liberty, expanded the National domain, established a sound financial system, developed the industries and resources of the country, and gave to the Nation the post of leadership of the countries of the world, now meets the new problems of government with the same courage and capacity with which it solved the old.

In this, the greatest era of American advancement, the Republican party reached its highest service under the leadership of Theodore Roosevelt. His administration is epoch in American history. In no other period since the National Government was won under Washington or preserved under Lincoln has there been such mighty progress in the ideals of government.

In this, the greatest era of American advancement, the Republican party reached its highest service under the leadership of Theodore Roosevelt. His administration is epoch in American history. In no other period since the National Government was won under Washington or preserved under Lincoln has there been such mighty progress in the ideals of government.

Their most exalted servant has come to represent not political sovereignty with one, but the best and wisest and most patriotic of his countrymen. American manhood and womanhood have been lifted to a nobler sense of duty and obligation.

The Republican party declares unequivocally for a revision of the tariff by a special session of Congress immediately following the inauguration of the next President and commends the steps already taken to this end and in the work assigned to the appropriate committees of the two houses which are now investigating the operation and effect of existing schedules.

All tariff legislation the true principle of protection is best maintained by the imposition of such duties as will equal the cost of production at home and abroad, together with a reasonable percentage for the cost of transportation and the benefits that follow are secured by the establishment of maximum and minimum rates to be administered by the Executive, with limitations fixed in the law, the maximum to be available to meet discriminations by foreign countries against American goods entering their markets and the minimum to represent the normal measure of protection at home; the aim and purpose of the Republican policy being not only to preserve without excessive duties that security against competition to which American manufacturers, farmers and producers are entitled, but also to maintain the high standard of living of the wage-earners of this country, who are the most direct beneficiaries of the protective tariff system.

Between the United States and the Philippines we believe in a free interchange of products with such limitations as to sugar and tobacco as will offer effective protection to domestic interests.

The Republican party is committed to the development of such permanent system responding to our greater needs and in line in all respects with the most progressive nations of the world and the appointment of a monetary commission by the 60th Congress which will impartially investigate all proposed methods, insuring the early realization of this purpose.

The present currency laws have failed to meet the requirements of an expanding commerce, a marvelous growth in wealth and population, multiplying the centers of distribution, increasing the demand for the movement of crops in the West and South and creating a formidable change in monetary conditions, disclose the need of a more elastic currency and adaptable system. Such a system must meet the requirements of agriculturists, manufacturers, merchants and business men generally, automatic in its operation; minimizing the fluctuations in interest rates, and above all it must be in harmony with the Republican doctrine which insists that every dollar shall be based upon, redeemable in and as good as gold.

We favor the establishment of a postal savings bank system for the convenience of the people and the encouragement of thrift.

We approve the enactment of the railroad rate law and vigorous enforcement by the present administration of the statutes against rebates and discrimination in rates, of which the advantages formerly possessed by the large shippers over the small shippers have unjustly disappeared. In this connection we commend the appropriation of $350,000 by the present Congress in order to enable the Interstate Commerce Commission thoroughly to investigate and to give publicity in the accounts of interstate railroads.

Believe, however, that the Interstate Commerce law should be further amended so as to give railroads their right to make and publish traffic agreements subject to the approval of the commission, but maintaining always the principle of competition between naturally competing lines and avoiding the common creation of such lines by any means whatsoever.

We favor such National legislation and supervision as will prevent the future over-issuance of stocks and bonds by interstate carriers.

The enactment in constitutional form by the present session of Congress of the employers' liability law, the passage and enforcement of the safety appliance statutes, as well as the additional protection secured for engineers and firemen; the reduction in the hours of laborers, trainmen and railway telegraphers; the successful exercise of the powers of mediation and arbitration between interstate railroads and their employees and the law making a beginning in the policy of compensation for injured employees of the Government are among the most commendable accomplishments of the present administration.

The Republican party recognizes the special needs of wage-workers generally, for their well being means the well being of all. It is important that all other considerations be that of good citizenship, and we especially stand for the needs of the American, whatever his occupation, in his capacity as a self-respecting citizen.

The Republican party will uphold at all times the authority and integrity of the courts, state and Federal, and will ever insist that their powers to enforce their process and to protect life, liberty and property shall be preserved inviolate. We believe, however, that the rules of procedure in the federal courts with respect to the issuance of the writ of injunction should be more leniently construed by statute, and that no injunction or temporary restraining order should be issued without notice, except where irreparable injury would result from delay, in which case a speedy hearing therefor should be granted.

Among these whose welfare is as vital to the welfare of the whole country as that of the wage-earner is the American farmer. The Republican party during the last 16 years has accomplished extraordinary work in bringing the resources of the National government to the aid of agriculture, and in increasing the convenience of rural life.

For rural mail-delivery was established over earnest Democratic opposition; it now reaches millions of our citizens and we favor its extension until every community of the land receives the full benefits of the postal service. We recognize the social and economical advantages of good country roads, maintained more and more largely at public expense, less and less at the expense of the abutting owners.

We indorse the movement inaugurated by the President for the cooperative conservation of the natural resources of the country. We approve all measures to prevent waste of timber, and commend the work now going on for the reclamation of arid lands, and we reaffirm the Republican policy of the free distribution of the available area of the public lands to the landholder.

No obligation of the future is more insistent and none will result in greater benefits to posterity. In this splendid undertaking is the further duty, equally imperative, to enter upon a systematic improvement upon a large and comprehensive plan, just to all portions of the country, of the water ways, harbors and great lakes, whose natural adaptability to the increasing traffic of the land is one of the greatest gifts of a bountiful Providence.

We commend the increase in the widows' pensions made by the last Congress, and declare for a liberal administration of all pension laws, to the end that the people's gratitude may grow deeper as the memories of heroic sacrifice grow more sacred with the progress of time.

In the interest of the great mineral industries of our country we earnestly favor the establishment of a Bureau of Mines and Mining.

We favor the immediate admission of the Territories of New Mexico and Arizona as separate states in the Union.

burg and associates had launched two more, great irrigation projects. And report has it that work will be started in the very near future. The enterprises are the Oakley project, to complete which will require the expenditure of about $1,000,000 and the Clover creek extension on the North side Twin Falls tract, at an expense of between $700,000 and $800,000.

The Clover creek extension covers 45,000 acres of land north and west of Bliss and west of Gooding to a point eight miles north east of Glonn's Ferry. The Oakley project covers 50,000 acres of land in a triangle with Oakley, Milner and Burley as the corners. The land is south of Burley and Milner.

At a meeting of the representatives of the Twin Falls company with the state land board in Boise Tuesday both segregations were approved and applications were filed at the Halley land office.

The Oakley project involves the building of a dam 35 feet high across Goose creek, to be erected in the vicinity of Oakley, also a reservoir five miles long near the dam.

Under the Clover creek project the North Platte canal will be extended to cover about a mile farther. Work is now in progress on this canal, when the present contract is completed the work will be continued to cover the latest enterprise. This extension, it is reported will mark the cessation of operations on the North side. It is possible that entries can be made in the future furnished within a year, but nothing definite is known in regard to this.

It is thought that the contracting firm of Ferle-Keel will have the contract for the 30 miles of canal under the Oakley project and the construction of the dam. This matter is now being settled in the east. The dam will be very expensive, and will be of concrete masonry. Some of the best land in southern Idaho comes under the Oakley project.
