Young Man Leaves Twin Falls Under Cloud

MORE & WAMBLEY BARTENDER VAMOOSE.

A. D. Swift, Wanted by Number of Confiding Friends for Passing Worthless Checks and Obtaining Money Under False Pretences.

Last night Chief of Police Dyor sent out all over the state, description and instruction for the arrest of one A. D. Swift, who has his name impleaded was rather rapid in his manners of acquiring wealth, and not at all particular how he obtained it. Swift was for some time employed as a bartender in Moore and Wambley's saloon, and enjoyed an extensive acquaintanceship all over the city, all of whom he used to feather his nest.

The charge on which Swift is wanted is passing worthless checks and obtaining money under false pretences and the amount of his criminal transactions will run above $500 when all his friends are heard from.

Some short time ago Swift obtained employment as a county collector and in order to swing the job went to C. O. Meigs and purchase a buggy. Only $20 was all the man could pay down and the balance was secured by an iron clad note. Rapid living made it necessary that more money be raised and so the Napoleon of finance went to Charles Smith and borrowed money on the big securing him by a chattel mortgage. On the last trip made by Swift to the country, instead of returning to Twin Falls, he took the train at Hansen and sent his big home by the driver who had accompanied him on the trip. Since then nothing has been heard from the clever manipulator.

Inquiries about how money was made yesterday and it was found that a trail of sorrowing friends had been made by Swift. $100 was being sought in the Eagle was missing, besides about $30 in the form of worthless checks, passed just before his departure. Chief of Police Dyor is waiting for a matter of a few days until some information can be obtained from the fleeing man.

CLOTHING CAUGHT ON FIRE

Mrs. McCubbin of Hansen narrowly escapes death.

Hansen, July 30, 1908. J. R. Hinton went to the hills with men and teams and brought out four loads of timber last week. Mrs. E. A. Boone, who lives in Walla Walla, Wash., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. F. M. Keith. Mrs. Boone is a descendant of Daniel Boone, and her life time has witnessed stirring events. In 1845, with her parents who crossed the plains and passed through what is now Rock Creek, Mrs. Boone has more than a passing interest for her at the present time.

Mrs. R. B. Roberts was very pleasantly surprised last night by the arrival of her sister's family, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Florida, of Mountain Home, Mr. Florida had been in the hospital, but recovering sufficiently to travel thought it an opportune time to visit their many friends and relatives here, and try the effect of our climate.

F. M. Towne and family are spending a part of this week in the hills, the double burrow and to enjoy a brief outing and bring back loads of poles.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe of Twin Falls spent a part of last week at Hansen visiting Mrs. Monroe's Mother, Mrs. F. M. Keith. Mr. Monroe is employed in the Idaho Department store.

Miss Alice Keith was a passenger on last Tuesday's train bound for Pullman, Wash. She will be in this fall, accompanied by her father and other members of the family, who will then reside on the fine 240 acre ranch north of Hansen. Mrs. Keith has been holding the fort since the first settlement of this tract.

There was no preaching service at Hansen last Sunday and a small attendance at Sunday school, as a large number of our people attended the dedication of the Methodist church at Kimberly.

one was very near at the time but she succeeded in putting out the flame alone. Mrs. McCubbin is the mother of Mrs. J. W. Frahm and with her little grand daughter, Lena Flaagan, is spending a part of the summer with her father's family at Hansen. Mr. and Mrs. John Simons returned to Cranston on Monday evening from Idaho.

Frank Scranon's brother, Henry, of Frankfort, Mo., and sister Lena of Nebo, Ill., are late arrivals at Hansen. They have hands at Bun and will go there on Wednesday to improve their holdings. Mr. and Mrs. Scranon will accompany them and prove up on the land owned by them at that place.

T. T. Rutledge is receiving shipments of lumber for the lumber yard. He is getting ready for the building boom that is sure to set in with the opening of the townsite.

F. E. Griswold was a Twin Falls visitor on Tuesday. Miss Meri Sigmons is still suffering from the injury received in the runaway of a week ago. The broken leg is very painful and has to be tightly bandaged. No further can be taken in liquid form and through a quill.

NO TYPHOID IN CITY

Statement of Physicians of the City to That Effect.

The report having reached us that a rumor is in circulation at places away from Twin Falls, and is being used to the detriment of our city, the cases of Typhoid Fever are numerous, and that the disease has become an epidemic, we, the undersigned resident physicians at Twin Falls, being thoroughly familiar with health conditions here, state that such report is entirely without foundation. The disease referred to is not prevalent, neither are there similar troubles more or less extant elsewhere, or more than is to be expected at this season of the year in any community.

The health conditions at Twin Falls and vicinity are good, and there is nothing in the situation to cause the least alarm from fear of any specific disease.

The board of directors of the Commercial club met in the club room Tuesday evening and transacted considerable business of interest to the city. The matter of trying to have the schedule of the mixed train which now leaves Minidoka in the morning changed so as to leave Buhl in the morning was discussed and the secretary was instructed to take the matter up with Superintendent Olmstead of the O. S. L., and to correspond with the commercial club on the tract for secure their co-operation in this matter.

The question of trying to secure free side trips to Twin Falls on all tickets to the coast was decided upon and the club will push this matter as fast as possible. Work on the elevator which was delayed for some time due to the shortage of lumber has been resumed and it is expected that the elevator will be opened for business about September 1. A fine set of railroad scales costing about $400 will be put in next week together with a spur to the O. S. L. line.

FOR NATIONAL CONSERVATION

Governors of Several States Already in Line.

COMMISSIONER POWERS MERELY ADVISORY AT PRESENT.

States of Maryland, Oregon, Indiana, South Carolina, Mississippi and Wisconsin Placed on Record as Approving.

The state co-operation with the national conservation commission seems to be an assured success, if the action of the governors thus far can be taken as an example of what is to follow. Both the commission and the White House are greatly encouraged at the response of the governors, who attended the White House conference. Several governors have already appointed state conservation commissions. Many others have written their respective legislatures the appointment of state commissions and active co-operation with the national body.

By the middle of October, the national conservation commission expects to have gathered a great amount of material showing the actual present condition of our natural resources. The commission will hold its first meeting on Tuesday December 1 in Washington, and the week later the governors of the states, or their representatives, will consult with the members of the national commission to the end that a complete preliminary report may be prepared for the president as he has directed by January 1.

Several governors have already indicated that they will try to be present in person; if they cannot they declare they will send representatives.

COPYOTES AT ROCK CREEK

Haunchers in That Settlement Lose Many Chickens.

Rock Creek July 30, 1908. D. S. Morgan accompanied by J. C. Wallin and George Topel paid Kimberly a visit last Saturday on business. They were in the city to Twin Falls Saturday on business.

D. S. Morgan and Mr. Behm paid Twin Falls a visit for the purpose of the doghouse. Mr. Behm is the father of Behm's little boy who is quite sick. We hope to see young Behm out playing with his other children again in a short time.

C. B. Roberts is doing the bachelor act for a few days, and says he don't like Mrs. Roberts is visiting with Mrs. Albee at Buhl.

Mr. Johnson has started in haying with three teams, all being very industrious. Mr. Johnson has a dandy stand of alfalfa, and hopes to get quite a number of stacks.

The doghouse has been a success. Mr. Johnson has a dandy stand of alfalfa, and hopes to get quite a number of stacks.

Several cases on hand just now, especially in the case of L. Budd, who last year lost every one of his chickens but he has them again, and one hen and a few chicks, and they are spending quite a little money for some white Wyandots in which he placed a lot of money.

Not only got the chickens, but also the cats, and it is hardly possible to hunt poison. Mr. Johnson caught one last season in a trap, he placed a cow bell around his neck and let it go. This he did and the cat came back just as bold as night again, and once they got started on chickens, there seems to be no end to it until that particular root is empty.

D. S. Morgan accompanied by J. C. Wallin and George Topel paid Kimberly a visit Sunday on business. Mr. Morgan's daughter, Miss Cora home, who has stopped over at Kimberly in order to take in the illustrated lecture, which was the great story of "Ben Hur," which she reports was very fine.

$25,000 WORTH BUHL LOTS SOLD

Sale Last Thursday Proves a Drawing Card for Investors.

SOME BUILDINGS COMMENCED BEFORE SALES WERE OVER.

Residence Lots Had Ready Purchase and Nearly Always to a Prospective or Actual Resident—Two Lots Sold For $25.00.

From two o'clock Thursday afternoon until evening a record breaking sale of town lots took place at Buhl under the direction of R. M. McCollum and corps of assistants. The lots for the most part were snapped up by residents of Buhl, only six from Twin Falls, but a number from the city were in attendance at the sale. Several purchasers of residence and business lots made their purchase and rushed off to consult carpenters. Before the sale was concluded the sound of the hammer and saw was heard from the buildings commenced on the newly acquired realty.

The total of $25,000 for the sale speaks in highest praise of the faith in their town manifested by the business men and residents. Lot 1 and 2 of block 84 sold readily for $200 to R. M. Hays who in turn sold to R. W. Alfred, the latter intending to build a substantial business block on them shortly.

YOUR CHOICE of BROKEN LOTS and SIZES

THE SEASON'S DESIRABLE ODDS and ENDS AT YOUR OWN PRICE

This is pre-eminently a sale sacred to bargain hunters—for people who know a good thing when they see it and want it at a low price. There is scarcely an unbroken lot in the store. We have had a good season, and in spite of reordering we are short on sizes in a great many numbers. We will help you find what you want, and sizes and prices are so marked that you can look over our stock conveniently. But the fact that these are bargains in the broadest sense of the word is apparent by casual examination—the products of leading makers, and very desirable.

To be "on the water war" is usually a good thing, but to be said to be on the city water war under the present condition is a melodramatic insult.

The oft repeated and reiterated injunction of the republican papers to "Tut" "to steer straight and not rock the boat," show a deep feeling of uncertainty on the part of the leaders as to just what William may do. It brings a mental picture of a baby elephant attempting to steer a tiny canoe through rapids. The phrase had better be forgotten together with a great many other items concerning the republican candidate for president.

President Roosevelt showed unmistakably last week his activity in the prosecution of lawbreaking trusts was not for grandstand purposes when in emphatic terms he said that the new trial of the Standard Oil trust for rehat siving should be pushed just as actively as the first one. Very naturally a man who is not looking for another term of public office does not exert a strong effort in his public duties unless he is actuated by higher motive than that of the mere political grafter. Roosevelt has by that one statement placed his citizenship beyond the criticism of his political opponents.

The city council is investigating a number of plans for furnishing the city with a copious supply of pure water and expects to have something definite to present to the people at an early date. One plan is to drill wells above Rock Creek settlement and pipe the water to the city and thus make use of the fall to establish a gravity system similar to the present one only with good pure three flow water as the supply. Another proposition is to pipe the water from the Devil's Corral where a spring similar to those flowing at Blue Lakes and Thousand Springs could be tapped. The third one is to attempt to strike good flowing wells by drilling near this city. All of the schemes will prove very expensive and will take some where about $100,000 to perfect any of them and insure water supply for the city such as Twin Falls will be in a few years. But if anyone thing is essential for a municipality it is pure water and whatever the cost the taxpayers must realize that no stronger drawing cards for settlers can be put out than those things which are conducive to good health. Whatever the cost the council must act and that speedily if the safety of the citizens is regarded.

THE RIVAL POLICY PLEDGES
A campaign manager, it would seem must now be a very Galahad of finance if he is to measure up to the standards set by Mr. Taft and Mr. Bryan in their emulous zeal for the cause of pure elections. Although a Republican congress refused to enact a law compelling publicity in regard to campaign funds, and the platform-builders at Chicago rejected a publicity plank fashioned in Wisconsin, Mr. Taft declared that all contributions and expenditures of his campaign should be made public after election. Now Mr. Bryan, not content with the fact that a publicity plank was duly incorporated in the Denver platform, has made the following promise: "No contributions shall be accepted from corporations; no contributions over $10,000 shall be accepted; all contributions in excess of $100 shall be published before election; and all expenditures will be published after election."

"The Democrats," remarks the New York World (Dign.) "have a great moral advantage over the Republicans in promising to make public before election all contributions in excess of $100; but the same paper adds that the Republicans have a moral advantage over the Democrats in promising to make public every contribution and all expenditures under oath, as the laws of New York provide." Taken together, it goes on to say, the pledges of both candidates constitute "the greatest victory won in years for honest elections." The result, according to the New York Times (DEM.) is "a step forward in civilization, a step away from a kind and degree of corruption and demoralization worse than Roman." It is a step "long overdue," but none the less welcome, says the Washington Post (Ind.), which adds confidently: "From this time forth the secret campaign contribution, with all its incident train of plots and promises and discriminations, is a dead thing. It goes to say:

"It is not necessary to discuss the differences in the methods employed by the two parties in their destruction of the secret contribution. Each has some advantage over the other. The important thing is that both are sincere and earnest and worthy of full trust. Both the Republican and the Democratic leaders are to be commended for their frank, unequivocal stand upon this question of political decency and party morals."—The Literary Digest.

There are a great many people in this busy little city who are such enthusiastic boosters that any mention by the papers of defects in our city affairs are considered to be knocks and detrimental to the encouragement of immigration. This attitude on some conditions is wise and commendable, where the publishing of unfavorable conditions does no good. But there is another side to the question and it should be taken into consideration. What about the four thousand people who have already taken up their residence in this city? How about the unfavorable conditions which they have to face at the present? Is it right to keep silent when the health of the four thousand citizens is in danger in order that we may get a few more people into the place? The Times believes that silence in such a case is wrong. There is not a person in this whole city but who knows that the water works system in this place is not what it ought to be for the best preservation of the public health. Just where the blame rests is a matter of opinion, but this much is certain, that while waiting for the council to take steps for a municipal waterworks, something has got to be done toward remedying the present condition. The water which the city is using smells so strongly of weeds that it is positively offensive and the taste is only a few degrees better than the smell. As far as the taste and smell are concerned one might as well use slough water. The council has made investigation and is making every effort to get at a feasible plan of furnishing water in required quantity and quality, but while it is investigating, an epidemic of typhoid may cost the city the lives of many. It is with the present that The Times is concerned and it desires to make the suggestion that the present system could be perfected to at least some extent to purify the water which the people drink during the hot months when the human system is most liable to take disease. The farmers by a method of charcoal filtration secure water so far superior to what is being delivered to this city, that there is no comparison. The Times believes that a filter has been installed in the city waterworks system, but it certainly is not doing the work it should. It would seem that the waterworks company could be required to put in a series of filters above the reservoir and also below it so that every particle of sediment could be taken out and also the taste of the same to a great degree. The waterworks company has been tardy and miserably in making improvements ever since the plant was installed and it will doubtless hold out now just as long as possible before taking steps to protect the health of this community, but a little agitation by the people may result in getting the council to force it to do what their contract calls for "furnish pure and adequate water for domestic and fire purposes." Supt. Ramsey says the fault must lie in the pipes about the city. "Whether this is the source of the vile smell and taste cannot be ascertained but at least a vigorous flushing of the fire plugs would tend to put the water in the mains in rapid circulation and eradicate the cause if it does lie in the mains.

Nowadays Perils of Merchants.

The real danger in managing a store nowadays is that it will get into a rut. The merchant who is afraid to "make a noise," who dreads the day his bills fall due, who is afraid to "spare money for advertising," who devotes most of his time to watching little things, to worrying about trifles—he is in danger.

In effect, he is trying to found and build a store on his fears, not on his aspiration; on misgivings, not on confidence. He forgets that fear is a destroyer—not a builder; that misgivings will pull down that which confidence would build to completion.

It is a dangerous thing to fetter a store with a lot of baseless fears of what might happen; to dread what might follow the exercise of ordinary aggressiveness and enterprise. Under such conditions, the merchant's policy itself is the very worst calamity that could happen to the store.

Such a policy places a store in the position of depending upon "location," chances of various kinds; and upon the patronage of those people who do not read advertising. These, however, are so scarce in this city that if they all patronize one store they could not support it.

The merchant who advertises adequately builds upon his hopes, not upon his fears. Confident and aggressive advertising makes store management a business fit for men—men of nerve, resources, red blood.

Store competition is the mother of bargains.

If there is any woman, in this day of the world, who imagines that she cannot save money by reading the ads, that woman needs educating.

The business you didn't get last week—but ought to have had—corresponds pretty closely to the advertising you didn't do last week, but ought to have done.

Non-continuous advertising of your store is confession of non-continuous interest in your store-public. Spend "too much" for advertising for awhile—it may be just the touch of "recklessness" needed to bring your enterprise safely through.

Wouldn't you like to have nine out of ten of the people who are looking for furnished rooms just now know that you have rooms to rent?—Idaho Falls Times.

A Cure.
Little Joe, aged three, whose eyes were sore, was very much troubled, on arising every day, to find them glued together. One morning, after waking up, he said, "Well, if my eyes have to stick up this way, I'll do so to sleep tonight with 'em wide open."—The August Delineator.

PETER BROWN'S POTATO TALK

Talks on Remedy for Light Stand of Potatoes.

Greely, Colo., July 21, 1908.

Mr. H. H. Johnson, Twin Falls, Idaho.

In reply to your inquiry will say that the potato crop in Northern Colorado, never failed hence when it does now at this time (if nothing happens between this and harvest we will expect about the largest crop we have had for some time, the stand is nearly perfect.

There are several conditions which affect the getting of a good stand; First all the seed must be good and sound and never have been allowed to heat in storage, cullars should be well ventilated and kept at from 35 to 40 degrees—above zero, might as well plant gravel stones as heated seed. If the seed is not in perfect condition, neither too dry and hot nor too wet and cold, the seed will rot under either condition, if too dry and hot and irrigate every other row, if your ground does not slope too much, do this as soon as planted, if too steep, irrigate every row and cultivate in the ditches when dry enough. If your ground is too wet, wait a few days until it dries out, then plant. If you are not bringing about the above conditions, you will find little difficulty in having a good stand, your planter may miss a few hills or you may have a few cuts with no eye in them.

Yours very truly,
Peter Brown & Son.

The country surrounding Hansen shows for itself, there is no better. Hansen is the trading point of a splendid community, settled upon the richest of land irrigated from the great Twin Falls canal system. The land is second to none and farms are fully demonstrated.

Six miles from Hansen on Rock Creek, are orchards which have been bearing for over twenty years and on which the trees are loaded with peaches, pears, apples, apricots, plums, etc., today.

Hansen has splendid railway facilities and a splendid graded school, and it will have water works, electric lights and power, as soon as these utilities can be installed.

A large grain warehouse will be completed in time for this year's crop. A bank will be opened as soon as the building is completed. Several business buildings will also be erected and mercantile houses opened. The O. S. L. Railway will build a depot and stock yards in Hansen.

Hansen is surrounded by highly cultivated farms, and a thriving community is there to show what has been done. All we ask is investigation and a business inspection.

REMODELING THE MAJESTIC.

Popular Drug Store Making Extensive Changes.
Mr. A. W. Peterson, proprietor of the Majestic Pharmacy is always looking forward to future business and is continually adding new features or fixtures to his fine store. During the past week carpenters under the direction of M. H. Papp, have been busily engaged in tearing out the partition in the rear of the store and remodeling it so as to make a neat, handy and up to date prescription room, in which the many orders can be filled promptly. Above the prescription room a neat balcony has been built for the business office and from this the whole of the store can be viewed. In setting the partition, twenty feet more space was added to the drug store in which the general proprietor intends to place larger fixtures for the growing soda fountain business. An expert artist with the fist water in any of the artifice to be made as soon as the renovations are completed. Additional show cases and shelves will be placed on the other side of the store when the repairs and improvements are made. The Majestic Pharmacy will be in a position to enter to the most exacting and particular trade on the tract.

EXPLOSION AT SPRAGUES

Bottle of Ether Bursts and Shakes Up Prescription Department.
Last Sunday afternoon a bottle of nitrous ether setting on a shelf in the back room at Spragues' Pharmacy (where it was kept in a can) exploded and filled the store with the vapor and fumes. The jar containing the ether had never been opened, but by some means the liquid became evaporated and filled the jar with a gas under a high pressure. Just what caused the explosion cannot be ascertained, but owing to the jar being on a Jooss shelf, little damage was done to the expensive stock above it.

The Greatest Show on Earth. Those who visit the Bartram and Bailey Greatest Show on Earth, in Shoshone, on August 7, will have an opportunity of seeing the greatest parade that ever was presented by a circus, the management of which again established the parade feature as a part of the day's exhibitions. During the four years that this circus has continued the touring of an army of artists and mechanics have been working day and night in the foreign city labors of the circus at Stock on Trent, England, in erecting and building this year's special floats of burnished gold, howdahs, draped and throne rugs, tapestries, silken banners, scarfs and flags from the looms of China, statuary from Italy and some costumes from Paris and harness modeled in Italy. Give to the parade a brilliancy that is dazzling.

The entire world has concluded to see this pageant. Every phase of human existence is presented. 15,000 men, women and children take part in it and 100,000 more are employed in making ten times more money than any parade of the past, and it is three times as long as it will be given at 10 o'clock in the forenoon. This year's company of performers is the greatest aggregation of talent that has ever been assembled together. It comes from all parts of the world and the acts presented display great novelty, and are so varied in character as to satisfy all tastes. Some of the most noteworthy acts are those of the La Roque artists of France, who are exhibiting a most gorgeous, hair thrilling and dangerous automobile somersault act called "Angus that Pass in the Air." Robert Delia, the star acrobat of England, and his trained ant-eaters; the wonderful Viennese troupe of acrobats from France; the "Fringes" of acrobats from Italy; and La Loche, the acrobat from Italy, and his celebrated animal comedians from France. In all the history of the show business this year's entertainment given by the Bartram and Bailey Circus stands out as the most wonderful performance ever given under any name.
