Father and Son Drowned While Fishing in the Snake.

LITTLE BOY PULLED IN BY FISH LAST SUNDAY AFTERNOON.

J. R. Tupper Loses His Life Trying to Rescue Six-Year-Old Son—Father Gets Entangled in Fish Line and Drowns.

Early Sunday afternoon a report was turned into the sheriff's office that a man and boy had just been drowned in the Snake river, just a short distance above the Blue Lakes ferry. A number of searchers were hurriedly gathered and left immediately for the scene of the accident. The body of the man was discovered the same afternoon and when discovered was found to have been entangled in the fish line with which his son was fishing, and it was discovered that it was J. R. Tupper of this city, who, with his two sons, had been fishing on the river just above the Blue Lakes ferry, on the north side of the river. The first notice of the disaster was carried to the Blue Lakes ranch by the older boy, nine years old, and from him it was discovered that the little boy, who had hooked a large fish, had been pulled into the water and that the father had attempted to rescue him. The body of the little boy was not recovered until yesterday afternoon, and only after a three days search. A diver's suit was brought down from Milner and an expert, assisted by an 18-year-old boy put in a long time near the scene of the drowning before the little boy was discovered in thirty feet of water partly covered with sand. Mr. Tupper was an expert swimmer and it is thought that he would have been able to rescue his son if the line had not entangled his efforts.

The funeral was held this afternoon from the E. P. Hall, under the auspices of the Masonic lodge, of which the deceased was a member. The remains will be shipped to Chicago for interment. Mr. Tupper is very well known in this city and had the respect of all. Late last winter, while working for the City Lumber company yard, the ceasing was severely injured and could not work for some time, but for the next two months was engaged in the City Lumber Company's yard. The fact that Mr. Tupper leaves a wife and four children without means of support makes the death seem distressing and has brought out a great many expressions of sympathy from the people of this community.

MURTAUGH NEWS.

Murtaugh, August 27, 1908. George Oake of this place was a Twin Falls visitor Sunday, to witness the ball game between Soda Springs and Twin Falls. Messrs. Frank Giltbeek and Harry Moorhouse of Milner, came down to Murtaugh Saturday. While here they were the guests of Misses Frances Ferguson and Joe Carrey, at the Bacon ranch. Mrs. Wehneltner, of Boulder, Colo., arrived here last week to visit with her son and family for an indefinite time. Mrs. Wehneltner was here two years ago and was greatly pleased with the growth of the country. Her friends welcome her back again. Mrs. Hooper and Hilda G. Grier, Misses, went to Twin Falls Friday, where she placed her daughter under the care of Dr. Clouchick. Mrs. Wm. Jacobs returned home last Sunday from Curry, where she has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. John Eckhardt.

Last Sunday a jolly party of young people, consisting of the following, spent the day at Snake river and enjoyed fishing and the beautiful scenery of the river: Misses Edith Gentry, Edith Lee, Gladys Illich, Ha Terrill, Minnie Hager, Sylvia Hunt, Messrs. Fred Isaac, Will Adamson, Chester Stephenson, Ernest Eden, Edward Eden, Ed. and Andy Hansen.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Carson and children spent Tuesday with Mrs. M. E. Eden.

F. Leo Johnson, one of our prosperous citizens, made an business trip to the county seat last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Beverlin and children were entertained Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. John Silvers.

Mrs. Harry Morrossey and little son John, the Misses Frances Bacon and Joe Carrey came down from Pocatello last Sunday to spend several days at the Bacon ranch.

Miss Gladys Hight, who has been visiting some days at her vacation here, left last Sunday for Pocatello and from there she will go to Longmont, Colo., where she will enjoy school. Miss Hight leaves many friends here, who hope she will spend her vacation here next year.

School will begin here September 1st. After allowing the completion of an overwhelming load, the boys began to get their eye on the ball and aided by numerous errors in the ninth, changed the score from 8 to 6 for the victors to 9 to 8, thus winning the game and the championship. Wilson went in the last half of this game to replace Blinn, who was beginning to feel the effects of the morning game, and pitched a fine article of ball.

The third game, which took place Monday afternoon, was played under difficulties by the local aggregation, who missed Chaplin from his place behind the bat, where he has been unavailable for his coaching. But taking the same as a whole the boys have nothing to regret, except that it would have been a great feather to have taken' all three. One feature of the game was the heavy stick work on both sides. Ferrell of Twin Falls making four hits, while Fulmer very cheerfully lifted the ball over the fence for a home run, and chased two men ahead of him.

CHAMPIONS OF THE GEM STATE

Twin Falls Wins Three Out of Five From Soda Springs.

LOCALS TOOK BOTH GAMES SUNDAY, BY A HARD CONTEST.

Bliss, with Fine Support, Won First Game by a Score of Six to Two—Second Game Fought Out to Hole When Defeat Seemed Certain.

Twin Falls has beyond a shadow of a doubt demonstrated her title to the championship of the state by the defeat administered to Soda Springs last Sunday, when two games were chalked up to one side of the ledger. The first game was a pitchers' battle, with honors first for Bliss, who in a hearty and fast manner, proved his ability to pitch championship ball. Two runs were scored that the Piez Water boys could get. The second game was very well pitched until after the fifth inning, when the score stood 8 to 0 in favor of Soda. After allowing their opponents an overwhelming lead, the boys began to get their eye on the ball and aided by numerous errors in the ninth, changed the score from 8 to 6 for the victors to 9 to 8, thus winning the game and the championship. Wilson went in the last half of this game to replace Blinn, who was beginning to feel the effects of the morning game, and pitched a fine article of ball.

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL TICKET For President, WM. H. TAFT For Vice-President, JAS. R. SHEPPARD

A county fair is the best advertisement possible to the investor who comes to Twin Falls. Let's boost for the fair.

The disgusting habit of spitting on the sidewalk is getting so prevalent in this city that some action will be necessary on the part of the council to do away with the nuisance.

The Republican voters of this county will have two good men to choose from for the Probate Judgeship in the persons of J. W. Shields and J. Benjamin Hall of this city.

One of the strange things in connection with politics is the fact that no matter how dishonest and incompetent an official or set of officials may be while in discharge of their duties, it is scarcely with which the same man can come out the next election and ask for the voters' support.

The Times believes that the primary election law, inaugurated by the Republican party in this county, is already bearing fruit in an increased number of cases.

The meeting called Tuesday evening by the Commercial club for the purpose of pushing the county fair was poorly attended.

only start the ball a-rolling. The merchants all say that they are too busy to get out and work for it and for that reason a proposition that would help every business house in the city, besides helping to advertise the fair and to make it profitable to the merchants.

NOT BY WORDS ALONE The weakness of the Republican party do not escape Mr. Bryan's eye, or his keen-tempered phrases. The Democratic party, however, has its weaknesses too, and these Mr. Bryan seems to think may be kept out of sight by the simple device of his refusal to discuss them.

The little attacks of stomach trouble and stomach disorders will undoubtedly lead to chronic dyspepsia unless you take something for a sufficient time to strengthen the stomach and give it a chance to get well. If you take Kodol in the beginning the bad attacks of Dyspepsia will be avoided, but if you allow these little attacks to go unheeded it will take Kodol a longer time to put your stomach in good condition again. Comforting Words.
Many a Twin Falls Household Will Find Them So. To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell him how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Twin Falls readers.

Mrs. James C. Lee, of 1015 North Harrison Avenue, Pocatello, Idaho says: "While I have never used Doan's Kidney pills personally, my husband, who is an engineer on the O. N. L. railroad, has taken them with the best of success. Like most men whose calling is that of a railroad engineer, he has a great deal of trouble from pains in his loins, back and kidneys. After times when he came home nights, he complained of his back bothering him severely. When I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised I went to a drug store and got a box. He commenced the use of the remedy and the first box did him so much good that he continued taking them until the backache disappeared and he has had no return of the trouble since."

Getting at Facts.
Eddie stood out in front of his home, a large, handsome building, when another little boy came along, and after looking admiringly at the house a few minutes, asked, "How much rent do you pay for that house?" "Why," was the reply, "we don't pay any rent."

"I know better—they wouldn't let you live in that big, fine house for nothing!" was the confident rejoinder of the small boy, never dreaming that a family could own a house.

"Yes I do love you."
"Well, you don't talk like it."
"Well, how do you want me to talk?"
"I want you to talk to me like you do when you have company."—The August Delinquent.

SUNNY SOUTHERN IDAHO

CAREY ACT LANDS

PRACTICALLY 15,000 acres of CAREY ACT LANDS are being reclaimed and put under irrigation by the KINGS HILL IRRIGATION AND POWER COMPANY in the famous SNAKE RIVER VALLEY IN SUNNY SOUTHERN IDAHO. THE COMING FRUIT AND ORCHARD COUNTRY OF THE WEST, where fallows is reduced to a minimum, and where there is no apple scab, no fungus growth, no rotting of fruit resulting from too much rain and moisture. Here spraying is most effective—there are no rains during the spraying season to wash it off immediately after spraying. Hence the coding moth is kept away from the trees, permitting the fruit to mature in perfect condition, and free from worms, thus enabling the fruit-grower to realize the top market price for his fruit.

There is no rain during the blossoming season to prevent perfect fertilization or pollination of every blossom, and there is so much continuous sunshine that honey bees are numerous and assist in pollinating the blossoms, causing everyone of them to produce fruit, and making it necessary to thin out or pick off half or more of the green fruit to prevent breaking of many limbs of the trees. Here the greatest danger is in allowing too much fruit to remain on the tree to permit its growing to perfection.

This is certainly a land of opportunity, an empire of prosperity for the man who exercises his brain power and is willing to work and take advantage of what Dame Nature and Irrigation will provide for him in a most lavish manner.

SNAKE RIVER VALLEY, and especially the KINGS-HILL IRRIGATION & POWER CO'S project, will gradually advance to the front and stand first in position of production of fruit, surpassing Yakima, Wenatchee, Tappah and Hood River apples, peaches, apricots and pears, in size, color and flavor, and beyond question the best keeper and shipper in the world. (This quality results from our cool nights) in which no fruit country can excel us.

There is sufficient sun heat during the long days to make this project famous in the growth of watermelons, cantaloupes, and all kinds of berries and vegetables to the highest degree of perfection.

OUR LAND LIES ALONG AND ON THE SOUTH SIDE OF THE SNAKE RIVER and the lava bluffs, which rise up from our land, to a height of three to four hundred feet, give protection from the cold north winds and yet cause sufficient air current to prevent frost in the budding and blossoming season. This condition is our guarantee of a full crop of fruit, berries and melons every year.

What is true of fruit, etc., also applies to grains and grasses—nowhere in the Northwest can they raise more per acre, nor of a better quality than in the SNAKE RIVER VALLEY, SUNNY SOUTHERN IDAHO.

Timothy raising should also be very profitable on account of there being no rain during the summer months.

THE MAIN LINE of the Oregon SHORT LINE RAILROAD runs along this land its entire length and there are three stations or shipping points, supplying excellent shipping facilities.

THIS is the land of plenty, come and get busy—like advantage of the opportunity while it is yet possible—he who deliberates too long loses thereby

DUBOIS DEMOCRACY PLATFORM

First—We, as representatives of the Democratic party of the State of Idaho in convention assembled in the City of Wallace, do hereby confirm our allegiance to the doctrine of equal rights to all and special privileges to none, as practiced by Jefferson, Jackson and Bryan.

National Platform and Ticket.

Second—We ratify and endorse the national Democratic platform recently adopted at Denver, believing that it is the greatest declaration of principles ever enunciated by any political party.

Third—We hail with extreme satisfaction and approval the nomination of our peerless leader, William Jennings Bryan for president and John W. Kern for vice president and pledge them our united support.

Extraneous Announced.

Fourth—We hereby denounce the gross extravagance and corruption of the present state administration in its conduct of the state government during the past four years and we condemn the Republican administration for the unbusiness-like manner in which the affairs of the state and department have been administered and especially its action in unjustly contesting the homestead claims of settlers, who have at the utmost gained faith, expended time and money in securing homes for themselves and their families upon the public domain within the state of Idaho, and we request a thorough examination and a fair adjustment of the rights of the said settlers.

Primary Election Law.

Fifth—That we favor the enactment by our legislature of a primary election law whereby candidates for office shall be nominated by direct vote of the people and we pledge our legislative candidates in the event of their election to work for the passage of a law similar to the Oregon primary election law, (Ludwig's) Statement No. 1.

Guaranty Deposit Law.

Sixth—Believing that the guaranty deposit law as adopted by W. J. Bryan and now in force in the new State of Oklahoma, will increase confidence in state banks, insuring protection to both banks and depositors and in the best interests of our state, we pledge our representatives to the enactment of a law securing to the patrons of our state banks the safe return of all moneys on deposit therein.

Seventh—We are heartily in favor of the municipal ownership of public utilities.

Employer's Liability.

Eighth—We are heartily in favor of the enactment of an employer's liability act and hereby pledge our party legislative candidates to work for the enactment of such a law.

Safety to Miners.

Ninth—We favor the reorganization of the state into sub-mining districts as may be necessary to require all the mines in this state to be kept in safe and sanitary condition and to give the mine inspectors the necessary authority to enforce violations. No person who is not a practical miner, with at least five years' continuous underground experience should be eligible to the office.

Tenth—We believe in the importance of better education for the higher education of the young men and women of our state, appreciating the priceless value of the work which our state university has been doing and the high rank it has taken in the great educational establishments of the Pacific coast, we view with profound regret the disposition of some to segregate the agricultural college from the university proper and are in favor of maintaining and liberally supporting all of the educational and other public institutions of Idaho.

Capital and Labor.

Eleventh—We believe in the conciliation of capital and labor, and favor every legitimate means for the adjustment of disputes between organized employers and their employees, to the end that justice may be done to those who toil and that society may be relieved from embarrasements occasioned by strikes and lockouts.

Twelfth—We favor the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

For Anti-Pass Law.

Thirteenth—We favor the enactment of an effective and just law prohibiting passes being given to any public official.

Fourteenth—We favor the enactment of an effective grain and warehouse commission laws.

Initiative and Referendum.

Fifteenth—We favor a constitutional amendment providing for direct legislation by the initiative and referendum and legislation extending to electors the power to recall from office any public official who is recalcitrant in his trust.

Local Option.

Sixteenth—We believe in the Democratic doctrine of home rule and local self-government; therefore, we favor the enactment of effective local option law, giving the people the opportunity of determining whether intoxicating liquors shall be sold as a beverage in their local communities.

Anti-Morcan Plank.

Seventeenth—We demand the extermination of polygamy and unlawful cohabitation within the State of Idaho and the complete separation of church and state in political affairs. We pledge the people of Idaho that in the event of Democratic success at the polls in November, we will make effective by legislative enactment the wise and patriotic declaration in our state constitution contained in Section 11, Article 6.

Opposition to Trusts.

Eighteenth—We are opposed to the organization or maintenance of any trust, alliance or combination in restraint of trade and we pledge the good faith of our party to the enactment of a law-repealing and effective anti-trust law.

Judiciary and Schools.

Nineteenth—We favor the submission of the following amendment to the constitutional amendment providing for a separate election at a time other than the general election of state and county officers, which time shall be elected judges of the supreme and district courts and county and state superintendents of schools, until such constitutional amendment can be adopted.

ted, it should be the policy of the Democratic party to elect candidates for these important offices with regard solely to ability and fitness and integrity and moral worth disregarding political affiliations and commanding and expecting no pardon support or surrender of political convictions on the part of the nominee.

TO ADJUDICATE WATER RIGHTS.

Canal Association Endorsing to Ascertain Priority.

At a meeting of the Governing Board of the Twin Falls Canal Association, it was decided necessary, upon the best legal advice obtainable, to procure a decree from the courts showing the standing of the water-right for the Twin Falls land on the North Side. This is necessary in order to secure the rights of land owners in case a dispute arises as to the prior right of the South Side Twin Falls tract over the surrounding tracts which have made claims on the waters of Snake River, or in case any of the surrounding tracts show a disposition to encroach upon the rights of settlers upon the lands of the South Side Twin Falls.

Every owner of land on this tract, which includes the original segregation of 20,000 acres on the North Side, is invited to participate in this suit to be brought, and if he so joins the expense will be minimal. If he fails to join, he will be liable to be made a defendant in the case, making it necessary for him to receive legal help at a considerable expense.

The secretary of the Canal Association will be in his office over the Commercial Savings Bank in Twin Falls every Saturday from 9:30 A. M. to 5:00 P. M., and will receive the names of all those wishing to be made plaintiffs and answer any questions to those desiring information.

The secretary has also been instructed by the Governing Board to call upon as many of the land owners as possible for this suit, and give them the opportunity to become plaintiffs in the case.

Members, Stockholders & Owners are the attorneys for the association and will conduct the case. They, as well as others who have given this matter much thought and study, consider it an early action of the courts most important, and it is necessary in order that the decree be of benefit to any parties in a piece of land that the owners of that land shall signify his intention to join in the suit. The whole tract being treated as a body, and the fact that one neighbor has a decree does not put your land in the same standing as his, unless you are a plaintiff in the suit, or if it is important to you that you are not overlooked.

IRVING R. BARROW,
Secretary Governing Board,
August 20th.

WOODS & THOMAS WE WRITE FIRE INSURANCE

...of her voice and the warm, quick color tinting neck and face were incongruous. He thought, with slow surprise, that she was not yet letter perfect in her role of the material triumph over the spiritual.

"I am sorry I came," she said reflectively. "You don't know why I came, do you? Sheer loneliness, Mr. Seward. There is something of the child in me still, you see. It seems my fate to pass my life in bidding you good night," she said, straightening up and turning to him with the careless laughter touching mouth and eyes again. Then, resting her weight on one hand, her smooth white shoulder rounded beside her cheek, she looked at him out of luminous eyes.

"What is it that makes me so attractive in your eyes? The man's experienced inexperience? The boy's unaccustomed cynicism? The mystery of your self-sufficiency? The faulty humanity in you? The youth in you already showing traces of wear that hint of future years? What is it that makes me so attractive at forty? Ah," she asked softly, "what are you now? For I don't know, and you cannot tell me if you would."

"What counts with you?" he asked after a moment.

"Counts? How?"

"In your affections. What prepossesses you?"

She laughed audaciously. "Your treatment of them—all of them—counts," she revealed. You must be aware of that much already considering everything."

One slim white hand held a rose against her cheek; the other lay lightly on her knee, feet and ankles and a fallen petal, and he laid both hands over it and lifted it between them.

"Mr. Seward, I am afraid this is becoming a habit with you," the gay mockery was not quite genuine, the curve of lips too sensitive for a voice so lightly given.

She smiled, bending there, considering her hand between his, and after a moment her muscles relaxed and bare round arm and hand lay abandoned to him.

"Quite flawless—perfect," he said aloud to himself.

"Do you—read hands?"

"Naturally." He touched the smooth palm. "Love life, clear mind and soul," he laughed—"heart supreme over reason! There is written a white lie, but a pretty one."

"It is no lie."

She suddenly flushed and attempted to close her hand, doubling the thumb over. There was a little half-hearted struggle, freeing one of his arms, which fell, settling about her slender waist; a silence, a breathless moment, and he closed her. Her lips were warm this time.

She recovered herself, avoiding his eyes, and moved backward, shielding her face with nervously upward elbows.

"It is not you that is becoming a habit with you?" the low beating of her pulses mirrored her voice.

"Must I establish a dead line every time I commit the folly of being alone with you?"

"With what? With that lie," he said, taking her in his arms.

"I beg you will draw it quickly, Mr. Seward."

"I do; it passes through your heart and mine."

"Is—do you mean a declaration of war? You are compromising yourself, you know. I warn you that you are committing yourself."

"So are you. Look at me!"

In his arms, her eyes pressed against his breast, resting, she raised her splendid youthful eyes, and through and through her soft pulse on pulse until every nerve seemed to be a quiver.

"I'm still sane," he said, with a dry catch in his throat, "before I tell you that I love you; look at me."

"I will if you wish," she said, with a trembling smile, "but it is useless."

"That is what I shall find out in time. You must meet my eyes. That is well. That is frank and sweet."

"And useless—truly it is. Please don't tell me anything."

"You will not listen?"

"I will not listen for you if you mean love. I tell you in time, you see. I am utterly frivolous—quite selfish and mercenary."

"I take my chance."

"No! I give you none. Why do you interfere? Let a girl's policy cost her something if it be worth anything. Whatever it costs, it is worth it to me. And I do not love you. In so short a time how could I?"

Then in his arms she fell trembling. Something blinded her eyes, and she turned her head sharply, only to encounter his lips on hers in a deep, clinging embrace that left her dazed, and, resting with the fragments of breathless silence.

"Not again! I beg—no. Let me go now. It is not best. Oh, truly, truly it is all wrong with us now." She bent her head, blinded with tears, availing herself then, as to the breathless sound, turned in his arms to meet his lips, her hands contracting in his, and, confronting, they paused, suspending the crisis, young faces close and hearts afloat.

"Sylvia, I love you."

For an instant their lips clung. She had rendered him his kiss. Then tremblingly, "It is useless even though I love you."

"Say 'I do'."

"Say 'I do'."

"I cannot! And it is no use—no use. I do not know myself—this way. My eyes are wet. It is not best. There is no better in this girl you care so closely, so confidently. I do care for you—how can I help it? How could any woman help it? Is not that enough?"

"Can't you are a bride—yes."

"A bride? Stephen, I cannot."

"You cannot help it, Sylvia."

"I must! I have my way to go."

"My way lies that way."

"No, no! I cannot do it; it is not best for me—not best for you. I do care for you; you have taught me how to care for it. But—you know what I have done—and meant to do, and must carry through. Then how can you love a girl like that?"

"I don't know the woman I love."

"But, she is what her life has made her—material, passionately selfish, unable to renounce the root of all evil. Even if this—this happiness were ours always—I mean if this madness could last our whole life—can I not pass it enough, not noble enough, to forget what I might have had and put away. Is it not dreadful to admit? Do you not know that self-contempt is part of the love I have no remedy against you? You know what you are, and know what you have. I asked, and it is enough for a man who remains unmarried. For I cannot 'make things do'—I cannot 'contrive'; I will not cling to the fringe of things or play that heartbreaking role of the shabby expatriate on the continent. My role in life is to mount to a security too high for any question as to my dominance. Can you take me there?"

"There are other heights, Sylvia."

"Higher?"

"Yes, dear."

"The spiritual; I know. I could not breathe there, if I cared to climb. And I have told you what I am—all wills and face and smooth skinned selfishness." She looked at him wistfully. "If you can change me, take me." And she rose, facing him.

"I do not give you up," he said, with a savage note in his voice, and it thrilled her to hear it, and every drop of blood in her body leaped as she yielded to his arms again, heavy lidded, trembling, confused, under the piercing sweetness of contact. Then her voice, broken, breathless: "Good night. Love me while you can and forgive me. Good night. Where are we? All—all this must have stunned me, blinded me. Is this my love or yours? Hush! I am blind with fear—to be here, under the light again. If you take me again, my knees will give way. And I must find my door. Oh, the ghastly imprudence of it! Good night, good night. I—I love you!"

FARM ORCHARD AND GARDEN

BY F.ETRIGG

REGISTERED ROCKFORD, ILL.

CORRESPONDENCE SOLICITED

(Copyright, 1908, by F. F. Trigg. This matter must not be reprinted without special permission.)

Give the small boy a pig or calf, let him care for it and don't fail to let him have the proceeds when the animal is sold.

We have often wondered who could be so long suffering and patient as an owner and prepare grain and animal feed of the nature of the average depot loafer.

During the six year period from 1903-7 the average yearly per capita consumption of wheat food in the United States was five and one-half bushels.

Of the 56,620 acres of flax raised in Ireland last year 53,414 acres was grown in the province of Ulster, while 639 out of the 765 scutching mills in the country were in the same province.

The gardener would have good grounds for considering himself singularly fortunate if there was a plant or vegetable in the category of the things he wanted to raise for the market which had the persistence and vitality of the common dandelion.

A friend makes a practice of chopping up all the suckers and red horse he can get and giving them to his boys, which, being confined, eat the fish greedily as a substitute for the animal food which they would pick up in considerable quantities were they running at large. Another friend disposes of rubles during the summer months in the same way.

One decided advance that is noticeable this season is that the use of the tractor for the small farms, and fields in which this tool has been used an even steeper and growth of grain are to be seen than in those in which the old broadcast seeding method has been favored. This is merely one of the evidences of the greater grain which is being exercised in the working of lands whose value is advancing up to and above the eighty dollar per acre level.

A move that can be made in many sections toward an improvement of public highways should consist of cutting down a portion of the trees bordering the road, especially where they are situated on the south or west sides of the same. They should at least be so thinned out as to let the sun shine onto the road for a part of the day. Where this condition cannot be brought about the question of road improvement is made increasingly difficult. It will not help impossible.

Granulars, like boys, are often the better off for an outdoor summer vacation. Trine them back (the granulars) considerably, remove from the pots and put them in a garden spot where they will get a good deal of sunlight, and setting in the ground put a good snowball of rotten manure beneath each plant, and during the drier weather see that they get plenty of water. If this course is followed it will mean lots of bloom in the summer and good strong plants to put in the fall.

A friend of the writer is usually rather slow to place his garden seedlings until settled warm weather comes. It is noticeable that his garden is very clean, due quite likely in part to the fact that a whole lot of weed seeds germinate and are turned under with the first plowing. More than this, the seed that he puts into the warm, mellow soil usually comes on very quickly and his stuff by midsummer is often as advanced as that of his neighbor's which was planted two or three weeks earlier.

Some one who is interested not only in agriculture, but temperature, has figured out that if all of the corn, some 25,000,000 bushels, which is at present consumed in the manufacture of spirituous liquors were to be lost—that is, the market for it destroyed—the loss on the manufacture of whisky in the United States would be about a paltry 13 cents an acre. But this seems like granting more than is necessary, for if the corn in question were not used in the manufacture of whisky it would likely be devoted to some purpose which would bring the grower as generous a return.

Blue jays and blackbirds are both noisy, unattractive representatives of the bird family and have little to their credit from any point of view which entitles them to admiration or protection. In addition to being virtually worthless as insect destroyers, they frequently break up and destroy the nests, eggs and young of other species of birds which have a real economic value—for example—the robin, grouse, oriole and many other smaller birds. If either of the two birds I have named, make plans to nest on your premises, you will be justified in patting a stop to the operations.

"Do you wish me to believe that you noticed me and?" "And followed you? Yes, I did follow you." probably clear minded enough to remain so under the circumstances. By instinct and experience normally temperate, only what was abnormal and inherent might work a mischief in this man. His listlessness, his easy acquiescence, were but consequent upon the self knowledge of self control, but mastery of the master vice required something different. He was sick of sickness, and because in this sickness will, mind and body are fatigued, too, reason and logic lack clarity, and to the signals of danger his reply had always been either overconfident or weak, and it had been always the same reply: "Not yet. There is time."

GREEN APPLE PIES

Just think of it!—Sounds strange when advertised by a bakery, but it is really true—we do make Green Apple Pies.

Comparatively few bakers ever make green apple pies; their excuse being "too much trouble." It is true they are much trouble, but they certainly are the King of Pies, when properly made with fresh fruit, pure lard crust and pane well filled. Our pies are made in this manner and they taste good.

"They tell at the table"

We make them fresh every day in time for lunch. Stop in and get one on your go home. We charge 20 cents for them—same as our other pies.
