

BETTER THAN SALT LAKE'S
Judge Heimlich So Classes Twin Falls Poultry Exhibit.

EFFORTS OF EXHIBITORS GIVEN HEARTY PRAISE.
Mrs. J. F. McPherson and Mrs. C. G. Frazer's Exhibits Elicit High Scoring by Deaver Expert.

The poultry show on the last three days of the week attracted a great deal of attention from all over the tract and elicited much praise for the splendid condition of the birds. Judge Heimlich, to whom the task of judging and scoring of the prize winners fell, had just come to the city from Salt Lake City, where he had just passed judgment on a similar show, and in comparing the two exhibits stated unreservedly to Mrs. McPherson that Twin Falls birds as far as condition and merit was concerned, that the local show excelled that of Salt Lake. Several exhibits excited comment from the spectators, especially those of White Leghorns, White Wyandottes, Silver Spangled Hamburgs and Rhode Island Reds. One exhibit of bronze turkeys was a surprise to the untold condition of the size and remarkable condition of the birds. Two birds in particular came in for fulsome praise from the poultry expert, a Mrs. Wyandotte, owned by Mrs. B. F. McPherson, and a White Leghorn of Mrs. C. G. Frazer's, which scored slightly over 95 per cent, while in judging a cockerel belonging to Mrs. McPherson, Judge Heimlich stated that he had no far in his travels found but one bird better for all points than Mrs. McPherson's, that was rated at a value of $1,250. Mrs. McPherson is rightly elated over the compliment paid her exhibit.

It is only just in speaking of the successful show to give Mrs. McPherson credit for the hard and faithful work on her part, which made the exhibit possible.

DISCUSS THE PAVING QUESTION
Council Grants Petition of the Property Owners.

SEVEN BLOCKS IN BUSINESS DISTRICT WILL BE PAVED.
Committee Composed Jointly of Councilmen and Citizens Will Take Up Matters of Financing Work.

The regular monthly session of the city council was held in the council rooms Monday evening with all members present, save Councilman Craven. Besides the routine business the council listened to a number of petitions from citizens asking for various improvements and concessions. A number of property owners on Main avenue and Second and Shoshone streets, presented a petition to the council asking that an ordinance be passed ordering the paving with some good paving material of three blocks of Main avenue lying between Third street East and Second street West, and also two blocks on Shoshone street, intersecting with Main avenue and one block each on Second street, East and South—a total of seven blocks. Mr. M. Martsch was present at the meeting upon request of the council, and advised using macadam instead of asphalt, because of unsettled condition of the roadbed. He further stated that later the macadam could be coated with asphalt and make the best kind of paving. In connection with the paving topic the question of paving with a macadam center on Shoshone street to the depot and the question was laid upon the table for the present. The request of the property owners for the paving ordinance was granted and the mayor appointed a committee of three to confer with the business men's committee. A petition from property owners living in the western section of the city, asking for the creation of a new sewer district to tap south side main sewer, was granted and ordinance creating said district was ordered. A petition of the majority of owners of Maxwell sub-division asking that 10 feet dedicated to the city on blind alley be returned to owners, and that the city accept a plat giving a ten foot alley clear through to the main alley in lieu of three to cover with the petitioners' plat of the proposed alley. A similar request made by E. C. Lavering for sub-alley in block 88, was held for plat.

He then started in writing checks on a Twin Falls bank and passed a number of them before it was learned that they were no good. Several business men who had cashed his worthless paper then went after him and he was compelled to pawn his wife's diamond ring for $25. He was left with just $2 and used this to pay the fare of himself and family to Minidoka—Rupert Record.

DEDICATION OF PRESB. CHURCH
Services Attended by a Large Audience.

A BUSY WEEK FOR THE MEMBERS OF PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.
Rev. Mr. Donaldson of Denver, Conducts Dedication Services on Sunday—Generous Gifts by Citizens of City.

The past week has been an eventful one in the history of the Presbyterian church of Twin Falls in which they have taken possession of their beautiful ten thousand dollar building. The pre-dedication services were begun on Thursday evening, when an informal reception was held in the church for the welcoming of all interested in the work. On Friday evening Rev. Mr. Barton, the first pastor of the Twin Falls church, was present and delivered an excellent address to the members of the church, many of whom were among his former flock. On Sunday Rev. Mr. Donaldson and Rev. Mr. Gourley had joint charge of the service and the former delivered a splendid address to an audience which taxed the capacity of the church. An appeal for financial aid to clear up all indebtedness on the building resulted in a generous response on the part of the citizens, which practically raised the amount desired. The following program of the dedication service was given at 2:30 in the afternoon: Hymn 174, "Glorious Things of Thee Are Spoken"; Prayer; Offertory, "I will extol Thee"—Mrs. Buckley; Responsive exercises; Benediction. In the evening Rev. Mr. Donaldson gave a stereoscopic lecture on the "Trail of the Cross," which was an interesting description of the missionary field in America. Religious work in Twin Falls, had its beginning in a Sabbath school organization in the willows by the side of Rock creek in July, 1904, before there was any town. This school grew and prospered and out of it came all the Sabbath schools and churches in our thriving city.

The Presbyterian church, with seven hundred members, was organized Aug. 27, 1906, by Rev. J. H. Barton, pastor evangelist of southern Idaho, who continued to preach once a month until March last, when the present pastor, began his labors. The first movement toward a building was made March 15, 1908, when a subscription was started, $2,500 being raised in twenty-five minutes. The congregation decided to build a Sunday school room, to which could be added a church auditorium when needed. The plans were drawn by the L. R. Vaik Architectural Co., of Los Angeles, Calif. The foundation is of concrete and was made by Ball Bros. of this city. The contract for the superstructure complete, except the plumbing and the glass, was let to Mr. A. E. Reeves of Twin Falls. The walls are pressed brick, made in Salt Lake City. The first floor has a pastor's study, parlor, primary room and five class rooms besides the main room. There is a small balcony over the primary room and parlor, which will seat nearly seventy-five. The seating capacity of the building is nearly four hundred. There is also a basement under the entire floor with a ceiling over nine feet in the clear, which will be used for social purposes, and if necessary, for Sabbath school.

VOORHEES-ALSH.
Wedding of Popular Twin Falls Rancher.

Lucien W. Voorhees, a prosperous farmer of the Sucker flat district, has forsaken the ranks of bachelorhood and taken a life partner, Miss Ethel Alsh, of Blue Island, Ill. The wedding ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Alsh, in Blue Island, on Tuesday, Feb. 26th, and the happy couple immediately departed for their home in Idaho, arriving home Tuesday last. Mr. Voorhees came to Twin Falls last week and immediately assumed his duties on his father's ranch, formerly in charge of his brother, J. W. Voorhees, of Twin Falls. A number of the neighbors gathered on Wednesday for a charitable party, but there was little cause for noise as the doors were immediately opened and the charity invited to meet the charming bride and enjoy the evening at the expense of the happy couple—Filer Times.

PELL OFF THE TRAIL.
Elfish Harris Instantly Killed By a Fall.

Charles J. Walker returned Saturday from the Salmon dam with the remains of Elfish Harris, who was instantly killed at that place Thursday by falling from the trail that leads from the mouth of the tunnel, a distance of 120 feet. Wednesday he complained of feeling ill and was advised by those in charge to see the physician who is stationed at the camp. It is supposed that while coming down the trail he became dizzy, losing his balance and plunged to his death down the cliff. He was the son of William Harris of Albion and has resided in that neighborhood all his life, being about 30 years of age at the time of his death. William Harris, the father, arrived in Twin Falls Saturday evening with the remains of his son, where the remains were interred in the family lot in the Albion cemetery.

STRIKE PURE WATER AT BUHL
Deep Well Project Ends With Plenty of Water.

MEANS THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS TO CITIZENS OF BUHL.
Supply at 800 Feet Sufficient to Provide for Domestic Purposes of a Large City.

Buhl, Idaho, Feb. 2nd, 1909. Hurray for the Buhl deep well! Buhl always lacked other towns on the tract will follow. On Thursday afternoon at a depth of 253 feet, water was struck by the drillers of the deep well. Water was immediately spread through the town and crowds of people rushed to the scene to get a drink of water from the first well ever drilled on the Twin Falls tract. The flow of water is unlimited. Although it is not an artesian well, the water raised in the well to about the depth of one hundred feet. On Monday afternoon 1500 barrels of water was taken out of the well in two hours' time. All efforts to lower the water by means of pumps have failed. This well will be used by the company to furnish water to the city of Buhl for domestic purposes, the water being very clear, cool and sparkling, without a trace of salt. The Deep Well Co. will start immediately on another well and they expect to reach hot water at the depth of about 200 feet. Success to them in their undertaking! J. M. Murphy is on the pick list. Mrs. John N. Hopkins is convalescing.

THE FARMER'S GARDEN PLOT

Probably Most Valuable Tract on the Farm.

IF MADE LONG AND NARROW
WORK IS LESSENER.

Correspondent In Farm Progress learned of Its Great Worth Because of Withering Drought.

I am sure that I learned the proper appreciation of a family garden from my mother, who was widowed early in life, and until her sons grew up had to be executive of the family.

She always said that a good garden afforded half the means of the family living, and I now know that she was right.

Ever since I was married, I have had a good garden. Even when living in a city I found that it paid to get the use of a vacant lot near by, fence it in and raise garden vegetables. But this year I have had the money value of the garden impressed on me as never before.

We had a six weeks' drought here, covering a part of June and July. It was so dry and hot and windy that it literally burnt up my garden, and I was forced to buy vegetables in the Washington city market. The market men had, of course, to buy their vegetables mainly from a distance, and the few market gardeners whose land could be irrigated, got fabulous prices for their stuff.

Think of a farmer going fourteen miles to buy his dinner vegetables from a city market, when he has a garden of two acres on a 400-acre farm. I was obliged all the same to get green stuff there or go without. I shall try to avoid any such experience in future.

I had to pay 30 cents a dozen for corn, 5 cents each for small summer squash, 10 cents a head for lettuce, 40 cents a dozen for tomatoes, and other things at relatively the same prices. We have since had abundant rains, and things are plentiful, but I learned a lesson I shall not forget.

My garden is situated on land naturally dry, except one small corner. I have not had any effect from the dryness of the location before, because we have been having wet summers here for five years.

I shall after this do one of two things: Either have a garden for a portion of our vegetable in a place less subject to drought, or run a pipe from the water tank, so I can water the growing vegetables, when needed.

The drought was so severe that cucumber and squash vines actually died, and many other things came very near it.

I find that a good garden is too important a factor in preserving the health of the family, and too great a money saver, to be neglected. I know from observation that there are many farmers who think too little of the value of a garden to consider it worth while to make one. I am sure no bigger mistake could be made, no matter from what point of view it is looked at.

A man or woman who works and children who are growing require so much food daily to maintain health and comfort under the daily strain. This food is largely of bread and meat, but if one has a good garden it may, with little or no cost, consist mainly of vegetables and fruits. The all bread and meat diet is not so wholesome as a mixed diet, and it is more expensive; the free use of vegetables saves more money than any other personal habit.

It is, therefore, a serious mistake to neglect making a garden, since from it there may be supplied the major portion of the family food for a large part of the year. I was fully impressed with this when I was buying the stuff we always raise.

Some farmers neglect the garden because they think cultivating it takes so much time and labor. It need not do so. If the garden long and narrow, so the rows can be long, one can cultivate the whole of it by horse power, and thus make the handwork very light. And the soil ought to be made rich by heavy manuring.

The richer the soil, the less land it is necessary to put in vegetables; if you are not raising at least half your living in the garden, don't neglect it another year.

What's the use of spending another long and cold winter in the cold north? Why not come to California where you can buy irrigated land for $250 per acre, one-fourth down and the balance on terms to suit. For further particulars, write to J. V. Baker, Turlock, California. Jan 6-17

LAND FOR SETTLERS.

Fort Hall Indian Reservation to Be Open for Settlers.

Chief Clerk John D. Bell of the surveyor general's office has forwarded to Washington the last field and survey notes made on the big Fort Hall Indian reservation located in the southeastern part of the state near Pocatello. In other words the survey made by the surveyor general's department is finished and it is up to the department at Washington to approve it. It was made in accordance with a congressional act to survey the Fort Hall and Lemhi Indian reservations.

The completing of the survey at an early period in the year will probably mean an early opening of the reservation to settlement. The survey of the Lemhi was finished some time ago and the field notes, etc., forwarded to the department. Both contracts have been big ones and have kept the local department busy looking after them. Some time ago the Indians living on the Lemhi reservation were ordered removed to the Fort Hall, where they have been allotted lands. This will accordingly leave the Lemhi reservation free from redskins.

Government agents are now busily engaged allotting the land on the Fort Hall reservation. The regulations have been changed so that, instead of the head of each family receiving a tract of land each member of the family is now given an allotment which is held in trust for a number of years, or until the bucks and squaws become of age, so as to make it impossible for grabbers to purchase the claims of the Indians for a song. As there are but a comparatively small number of Indians left in both once famous tribes, only a small amount of land will be appropriated by them.

The Fort Hall land allotment is unique in many respects, the principle being that the Indians will be given the opportunity to figure under irrigation. The government has offered this privilege, heretofore. The government, through the reclamation service, is now engaged in installing a mainline irrigation system in southeastern Idaho, to irrigate the Fort Hall reservation. The water is taken from the Snake river and stored in the Fort Hall reservoir. It is to be the Indian and the irrigation made in the future is that of the Indian and the reclamation service.

The government is further contemplating in the very near future, opening the Nez Perce reservation in northern Idaho. With the opening of this tract, together with the Fort Hall and Snake river, it is believed that there will be an influx of settlers to the Gem state to homestead claims on them.

The Fort Hall alone is composed of 23 townships, each containing 36,000 acres, or a total of 828,000 acres, an empire in itself.—Hulse Capital News.

NO CHANCES TAKEN.

$1,000,000 Gold Exhibits at Seattle Will Be Safely Guarded.

One million dollars in virgin gold that will sink automatically every night into a safe vault to reappear with the same precision in the morning, will be the central feature of the Alaska exhibit at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition next summer. Piled in glittering heaps of dust, nuggets and brick this brilliant display will be one of the greatest attractions of the exposition grounds. The gold pavilion, where the million dollars will be on display, will be enclosed with a heavy wire cage and special guards will patrol the section night and day to protect the treasure.

The large steel cabinet, built in solid concrete, will operate automatically on a time lock. Each night at the closing hour the two tons of gold will disappear into the steel and concrete vault and slide into place, leaving nothing in view but the smooth surface of the floor. The time lock will be for the opening hour in the morning when the treasure will reappear. The construction of this vault will cost $100,000.

In the gold exhibit are three of the largest nuggets ever found in Alaska. They were taken from the famous Pioneer mine at Nome and the total value of the three is slightly in excess of $7,000. It is proposed to have the largest of these nuggets, and the big yellow lump will pass through thousands of hands during the exposition.

The Alaska fair commission has already secured the dust, nuggets and gold bricks for the display and it will be arranged in the gold pavilion of the Alaska building several days in advance of the opening of the exposition on June 1. A good portion of the gold is now in safely deposit vaults in Seattle.

Every claim and prospect in the four divisions of Alaska contributed not less than an ounce of gold to the display and the Seward peninsula, Tanana river, Copper River and Southern Alaska districts are all represented. In addition to the gold many of the mine owners of the Nome and Fairbanks camps will also have samples of pay dirt, gravel, bed rock and black sand. The exhibit will be in excess of two tons of pure gold, just as it was washed from the ground in the north.

The county commissioners certainly had the right idea in placing the poor farm out of town far enough to insure the permanent presence of the inmates upon the farm, where they can be made to work if physically able. Not one of the inmates will care to partake of the county's hospitality unless it is absolutely necessary, and by putting the distance two miles and a half, it will place the masculine inmate beyond reach of the firewater temptations of the city.

The paving of the principal business streets of Twin Falls is one of the wisest moves ever made by a pretty wide bunch of business men. While the first cost of putting down the paving is heavy, yet when the paving is done down the amount required for repairs will not be nearly as high as the present cost of road maintenance, to say nothing of the damage resulting from impeded traffic under conditions similar to those of the past three weeks. Besides it is a stepping stone to the paving of a large section of the city where public spirited property owners reside.

The citizens of Buhl are to be congratulated on the success of the deep well project and on their success in solving the drinking water problem for their section. At a depth of less than three hundred feet a steady supply of water is assured, thus making possible to every rancher on that portion of the tract a supply of water from similar wells. But the same old conditions exist in Twin Falls, and it is now up to the citizens here to show a similar amount of push and enterprise. One manner of getting the water would be to order the Twin Falls Waterworks company to supply the city with water from a deep well, giving them a limited time in which to comply on the penalty of forfeiture of their franchise if pure water is not furnished. The other method would be to form a stock company of citizens just as Buhl has done, and drill a well and then demand a franchise after the flow is struck. Public sentiment would be strong enough to insure the promoters getting a franchise if the pure water should be forthcoming. There should be little delay in getting such an enterprise under foot, because every prospective settler or resident of this city is going to get wise on the water supply within a few hours after striking town.

PREDICTING GEOLOGIC UPHEAVALS.

It is generally acknowledged that a science attains its highest stage when it enables us to foresee what is going to happen. Judged by this standard, meteorology is much further advanced than geology. The weather may now be foretold with some accuracy, yet almost no effort is made to forecast the movements of the earth's crust, on which so many thousands of lives often depend. We have an elaborate science of geology, but it confines itself almost entirely to the records of the past. There are rare cases where it has entered the predictive stage but these are so infrequent as merely to stand out as exceptions. Thus we are told by Prof. T. A. Jaggar, Jr., of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, that the recent Sicilian disaster was foretold by an American volcanologist, Frank Alvord Pratt, who has predicted disaster on Mount Etna for two years past. Professor Jaggar writes in the Evening Post (New York, January 2):

"Mr. Perret, who was decorated by the Crown of Italy for his splendid service to science and to humanity on Vesuvius in 1906, wrote in 'The World's Work' of November, 1907: 'By the rational methods of scientific research, we know that a great eruption of Mount Etna is impending, the only uncertainty at present being which side of the mountain will break open.' Great volcanic eruptions are preceded by great earthquakes, and the Messina disaster of December 28 comes on an earthquake date (terrestrial maximum of gravitational stress), actually plotted in advance by Mr. Perret on his diagrams for 1908. * * * He is a man whose whole time is usefully devoted to these studies, but he has no observatory and no adequate means of support. A few business men, in Springfield, Mass., last year came valiantly to his aid, and now their foresight is worthy of all honor."—Literary Digest.

How Grandpa Had Grown. Little Agnes, aged six, and her sister, two years older, were contending as to which of the two grandpas was the taller. Agnes declared that Grandpa R. was the taller, and her sister was quite positive that Grandpa F. had the greater height. Finally little Agnes decided the difference by remarking very emphatically, "Well, you may think as you please, but I know that Grandpa R. is taller, for he has grown clear through his hair, and Grandpa F. has not."

Messrs. Warberg, Carrio and McIlvaine are having plans drawn for a three-story brick building on their lots adjoining the Pioneer horse shop on Shoshone street. The building will have a frontage of 75 feet and a depth of 125.

Henry M. Hall, the attorney who was located in this city for some time, but now of the town of Jerome, was in town Saturday on legal business. Mr. Hall is very enthusiastic on the coming greatness of the North Side city.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Christianson of Pocatello, are visiting with their old-time friends, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Wall. Mr. Christianson is so well known in the county that he has decided to make some investments while here.

I. W. and George Darrow returned last Wednesday from Denver, Colo., where they had been attending the county fair. The gentlemen report a large attendance and exhibits from all parts of the United States and Canada.

Geo. M. Payne, who was brought to this city some time ago from Buhl, suffering from a fracture of the left ankle, is now home, with his left leg amputated. His condition became so serious that amputation became necessary to save his life.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Steunour of Murtaugh, were in the city last week interested visitors at the Twin Falls county poultry show, and both expressed themselves as being greatly pleased with the showing made by the poultry raisers of the tract.

C. E. Booth received word Saturday that his brother, J. B. Booth, had been suddenly taken sick at Jerome, and when taken had not met for 24 hours for treatment. At the present Mr. Booth's condition is improved, though he is still in a precarious condition.

L. C. Love of Garfield, Wash., was in the city the first of the week visiting with his old-time friends, W. A. Childers, when he had not met for 24 years. Mr. Love past over the Twin Falls tract in the summer of 1881, while traveling over the country on his way to Washington, where he has been located since that time.

Few, if any, of Dick Cookingham's friends are aware of the fact that Dick is in the sheep business, and it was with a great deal of surprise that two of his friends discovered him trailing a large band of the frisky animals into Jerome last week. At any rate, when Dick's friends ask him about it he has a sheepish look.

Calkins & Bott, proprietors of the City Pharmacy, installed this week a handsome Burry-Wood Electric piano, which adds greatly to the appearance of their now well-equipped store. The piano is of the latest make and style and those who wish can have sweet music at any time by calling in at this popular store and dropping a nickel in the slot.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Douglas Smith came in from Twin Falls Saturday and spent Sunday with friends and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Smith are installing one of the handsome, moving picture displays in the Magic City on the Snake on the big tract, to be known as the Orin's theatre. Mr. Smith is now engaged in wiring the interior. He hopes to be ready to open in about three weeks.—Pocatello Tribune.

P. J. Holahan and O. M. Gunt are having plans and specifications drawn for an elegant two-story brick apartment house, to be erected on Second avenue. The building will be about 100 feet long, 30 feet wide and a depth of 125. The building will be finished in an up-to-date manner and will be ready to occupy in about three months.

Mr. and Mrs. Gunt and Mr. and Mrs. Holahan are now in the city looking after the plans for the new building. They are both very enthusiastic about the project and hope to have the building completed in about three months.

Commencing with the month of December, 1908, the monthly rate of 75 cents per inch for advertising in the Times will be announced on a weekly basis of 18% cents established. The change is made in order that when five publications occur in a month the price can collect for same. After a year and nine months of the old rate the Times management has discovered that it is practically impossible to issue each year for which no money is received, and as the printers have to be paid and other expenses of the office for each issue, for the reason the slight change will have to be made. Telephone Talk

The attitude of telephone users determines largely the character of telephone service in a community. Without the co-operation of its subscribers no company can give ideal service, but co-operation will help subscriber and company alike.

HERE IS ONE IMPORTANT POINT: When your telephone gets out of order or your service becomes unsatisfactory in any way, advise the Manager of the telephone company IMMEDIATELY. Do not wait a day or a week, but tell him about it at once and he will have it corrected. That's what he is here for. Don't bother your neighbor with your telephone troubles; bother us. The neighbors can't help you, but we can and will if you give us a chance. We expect you to complain when things go wrong, but we ask you to complain to us and complain promptly so the trouble can be found and corrected. That's one thing we mean by co-operation.

SIDEWALKS FOR JEROME.

Commercial Club Takes Action Toward Improving Streets.

Jerome, Idaho, Feb. 1st, 1909.
 Rex. Winterstein left Jerome last Saturday for Fremont, Neb.

The building of the new Channel Lumber Co. are now receiving their second coat of paint.
 Mr. Simpson has the plans out for a rooming house to be erected on the corner of A. and Lotus street.

John G. Snowball has purchased six hundred of miles of timber, and is going into the sawing brush business.

Mr. Noble, of the firm of Noble Bros., has moved into his building and will soon have his stock of groceries installed.

A progressive card party was held at the home of Mrs. D. W. Higgin, last Saturday night in honor of Miss Nona Farrie.

Dr. W. J. Higgin, the local dentist, has returned to Rupert until the 15th inst. He intends to return with his entire outfit, and locate here permanently.

Ed Gill and A. R. Robinson, who arrived here last week from Marysville, Kansas, have decided to start a livery stable. The location being on West Ave. A.

Mrs. Dan Deaton has sold out the West Hotel to the firm of Deaton & Deaton, of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Deaton will be missed around Wendell, as they are the real pioneers of that town.

Miss Nona Patten, the new teacher in the Jerome school and began her duties as teacher last Monday. Miss Patten has the first and second grades and Miss Williamson the upper grades.

The report is afloat that Dr. Purdy received $9,000 for his 100-acre ranch at Hagerman. The North Side people think that if $9,000 can be had for a ranch so far from the railroad, what will property in the neighborhood of here be worth?

Mr. Perkins, the firm of Perkins & Korn of Lehigh, Ind., paid Jerome a visit this week with the intention of putting in a renter's furnishing store. Mr. Perkins left here to look some of the other northern Idaho towns, but convinced us that he would return.

A very enjoyable time was had at the dance held at the home of Mrs. J. H. Hansen, last Saturday night. The band was furnished by an orchestra from Twin Falls and the hall was very prettily decorated. The dancing was in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Christensen, who are just about to leave Jerome.

Harry Dunbar, who is known the world over as the leader of the famous Dunbar Hand Bell Ringers Concert Co., has located on the North Side. Mr. Dunbar's travels as an entertainer has made him an exceptionally interesting man, and he intends to make this his home soon.

W. Gilford, more generally known as "Sauseline," returned to Jerome this week. Sauseline has been to Chicago and Pittsburgh, having charge of the southern Idaho fair exhibit. Mr. Gilford is to take charge of H. L. Hollister's ranch. Mr. Hollister is the eastern sales agent for the Dunbar company.

Another important meeting was held of the Jerome Commercial club at which time contracts were let for the building of sidewalks Main street and to the depot. The looking into the matter of the incorporation of the club and the building of a home for it was taken up.

The Commercial club is very active, and is now trying to get the railroad to allow a stop-over to passengers bound for the north.

The plans and specifications of the Jerome Mercantile Co.'s business block have just been completed, and are about ready to go into the hands of the contractors. This building will be 60x125, two stories with nine-foot concrete basement and present a block front. The building will be modern in every respect, being equipped with elevators and plumbing of the latest design. The entire structure will be devoted to the use of the company's business. The estimated cost is about $10,000.00.

Who said troubles or that they had any? If anyone has or had them it was John Johnson, the Jerome jewelry man. Mr. Johnson started the erection of his building some two or three months ago, and the progress up to that time was not very encouraging. He was stopped at intervals by not being able to secure material. Mr. Johnson, however, and increasing efforts he managed to get the building done up to the top of the store doors, and the glass in the front. Upon the arrival of the glass it was found that it had been badly broken in transit and that gave him another set-back. At last the glass and glass were set. Mr. Johnson then wanted his household goods. The roads were in such a bad shape that he could not get a team to go after them and at last found a team but had to accompany the man. On his way back the rear wheel of the wagon broke and he had to stay with his goods half way between Jerome and Shoshone until the team made the trip to Jerome to get another wagon. He got into Jerome at 2:30 a. m. on one of the coldest and most windy nights of the season. Nevertheless, he is now comfortably located in his building.

1809—The Lincoln Centenary—1909

"Little Farm That Raised a Man"

Memorial Museum Marks the Kentucky Birthplace of the Martyr President—The Old Log Cabin Restored

By James A. Edgerton

Copyright, 1908, by the American Press Association

THE little rocky farm that Thomas Lincoln was too poor to pay for has now become the property of the nation. The new arrival reached the Lincoln cabin on Feb. 12, 1809, the last drama that could have entered the mind of the farmer was one comprehending the glory that had thus come to these barren acres. What shall the pawns say when the Master moves it, or what can it know of the result of the move? Most parents think their sons are grown men, but the nation whose sons actually do become presidents. They are frequently so poor they think little about it. The wind blows where it listeth, and a soul that comes into the world is blown by the wind of the spirit to what heights or depths it may please him who sends the wind. As for the rest of us, we cannot foresee one single human destiny, and it is just as well that we cannot. What we plant, we know we can grow, and when we sow, we know what we can expect to reap. But when a man-child enters the world, we know nothing of his destiny, whether it is to be of shame or of glory. There are no signs to tell of the coming of genius. The duty that presides at the birth of great souls may mislead all the honors of wealth and culture to light a stable or a cabin where the spirit will carry the genius of God's purposes.

Lincoln was born on the very center of civilization, yet his spot is now near the center of population of the United States. That shows how far each century goes ahead to pitch its tents; 1809 stopped with Kentucky, and 1909 has moved on to Manila, 5200 may go around the world and come back to Kentucky again. Who knows? There is little to that Kentucky farm except the fact that Lincoln was born there. It is not much for that scenery. There is a rock spring on it and a creek. The mass of history has very little to offer for fertile soil or landscape effects. Battles are usually fought among mountains, valleys, and soundings, and the immortal is liable to be born almost anywhere except where we would expect them to be born. If we were choosing a spot for one of the great ones to come into the world we would seek all the modern conveniences and a combination of sea-breeze and mountain to furnish inspiration. That merely proves that we know how to raise crops and breed stock, but we do not know how to raise great men. This is a branch of gardening that God does not leave to bunglers. Hothouse methods may be all right for forcing plants, but they are a failure for forcing genius.

The preservation of this shrine to the memory of Lincoln was made possible by the generosity of Robert J. Collier of Collierville, Tenn. There were several enterprising gentlemen who desired possession of the farm for advertising purposes, and had it not been for Mr. Collier one of them probably would have been able to buy the shrine before it had been sold. Among the bidders was a liquor firm that had already prepared posters announcing "Lincoln Birthplace Whisky." The agents of this firm implied too freely that the shrine would be purchased by Mr. Collier's representative to steal a march on them and bid in the place before they arrived on the scene, for it is a sad and humiliating fact that the farm which our greatest president was born in was allowed to be sold for taxes. This, coupled with the further reflection that but for the interest and patriotism shown by one man this shrine would have been sold for whisky and base purposes, should make the American people feel quite proud. When it was too late there would doubtless have been raised a great cry of indignation which would have increased in pitch as the centenary of Mr. Lincoln's birth approached. We are saved from this humiliation by the thoughtfulness of one man—rather of two, for Lloyd Jones, who had advertised buying the shrine before Mr. Collier took the matter up. Two men out of over 80,000,000! It is so God finds his agents, even though men are blind.

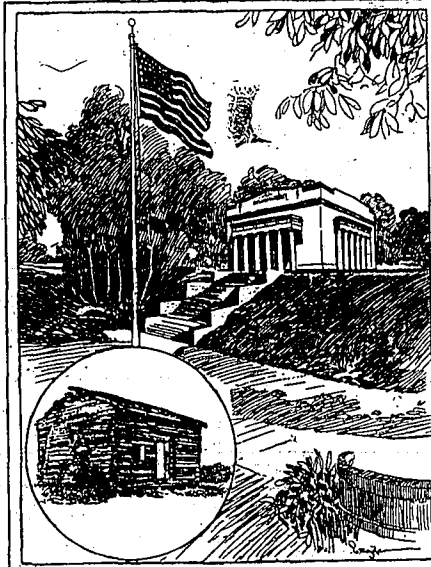

The birthplace farm is not the only Lincoln shrine saved from a degrading use. The old log building at New Salem in which Lincoln lived and had his store, together with the ground on which the historic village stood, was purchased by Mr. William Randolph Hearst and made a present to the Old Salem Chautauque, the second largest Chautauque in America. A whisky firm was also bidding for this to advertise some of its wares. It is to be hoped that the whisky men appreciate the great liberator, whatever may be said for the rest of us.

It is a romantic fact that the only building left of the New Salem in which Mr. Lincoln spent his childhood is that which he himself occupied. All the rest of the town has disappeared like a dream village, as though with his departure it had performed its function and gone back to the elements, leaving only his cabin as a memorial.

gave Abraham Lincoln birth we could have a life revival of interest in his spirit, his ideal and his aims. He was not alone a man of one crime, but for all. His ability to the public good, his refusal to permit private considerations to stand in the way of duty and principle, his tender solicitude for the poor and humble and his plainness of man above wealth, of humanity above things and of popular rights above institutions, his faith in the masses, his devotion to the doctrine of equality and of the rule of the majority—all of these things are needed now and ever in the republic. What a splendid opportunity this centenary presents to study Lincoln's spirit, the inspiration of the man that gave him his hold on the people of his age and all ages!

While associations are making beautiful memorials of the material spots that knew him and are arranging programs to act up the machinery of public, the form and shell that carry the substance and life, why should not the millions of men and women who love Lincoln devote their leisure to a study of his life and utterances and an attempt to define the genius that animated them? Then why not crown all by a resolve to give to the affairs of the nation the same unselfish devotion, the same high regard for truth, the same love of the rights of man, the same spirit of righteousness, the same hatred of tyranny, fraud and sham and the same faith in God and the common people that he gave in such full measure, even to the sacrifice of life itself?

If this centenary, this dedication of the birthplace farm, this worldwide ceremony in his praise, could best a spirit like that it would be of untold benefit to the nation and to the race. Could this people once truly comprehend Lincoln and follow the lines he marked out, they would make of this such a republic as has never been known in the files of time. We have never had a democracy as yet. We have never incarnated in government the principles of the Golden Rule and the sermon on the mount.

Lincoln Birthplace Farm Memorial, Hodgenville, Ky.

state of Kentucky. One of the striking utterances of Colonel Watterson, who lived in the great living student of the life of Lincoln, is worthy of reproduction. Of Lincoln the orator said: "He was inspired of God, for nowhere else could he have been so great and virtuous. What did Shakespeare get his genius, Mozart his music? Who wrote the lyrics of the Bible? As he raised up and inspired them, so did he Lincoln. When a thousand years hence the truth of history shall have left no room to doubt, no drama will be followed with deeper feeling than that which told the story of his life and death. God laid his hands upon these rough hewn logs and they brought forth a nation's hero. Thus the plain Kentucky cabin, the humblest birthplace of a great soul since the manager of Nazareth, returned to its home to grace the centenary of that advent which had come to earth through its door. Both the farm and the house were turned over by Mr. Collier to an association headed by Joseph W. Folk of Missouri, and which on its board of trustees had representative men and women as Henry Watterson, Cardinal Gibbons, William H. Taft, Ida M. Tarbell, Jennie Lloyd, and Charles F. Towns. The fund for the work was made a common people's offering, and tens of thousands of these became members and gave their share to honor the man who in his origin, words and constant attitude had so signally honored them.

On the farm the little cabin has been placed at the exact spot where it is believed to have stood and has been surrounded by a strong and simple edifice, in which it forms the sole exhibit. This building, with its Greek columns, stands upon a hill and is approached by a broad sweep of steps leading from the path to the old spring. The remainder of the farm has been left as before, as even to a guarded apple tree which is the last of Tom Lincoln's orchard. How fortunate it would be, if with this revival of interest in the spot that

BIG AGRICULTURAL EXHIBIT.

Will Occupy Large Square at Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition.

Agriculture, horticulture and kindred subjects of interest to the farmer will occupy more than 50 per cent of the exhibit at the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition, to be held in Seattle during the summer of 1909, June 1 to October 1. In addition to the department buildings every section of country that has its own building will make a feature of its show of products. The exhibit will be used to exhibit the latest development in the manufacture of farm machinery and the United States government, through the department of agriculture, will give a comprehensive display that will be of great value to the farmer, horticulturist, poultryman and dairyman.

In the bureau of animal industry the exhibit will consist of photographs, transparencies, models in cases showing pathological zoological specimens, and actual examinations of meat for adulterants and preservatives; methods of dipping cattle and sheep for scab; inspection of meats, importation and inspection of live stock; diseases of cattle and sheep; diseases of swine; diseases of poultry; diseases of horses; diseases of dogs; diseases of cats; diseases of birds; diseases of fish; diseases of insects; diseases of plants; diseases of animals; diseases of humans; diseases of all kinds.

The principal exhibit to be made by the state of Washington which will be of interest to farmers and dairymen is a model dairy, which will be operated in the direction of the state pure food and dairy department. This dairy will be model in every respect and will show the best methods of handling butter, milk and cream and the most approved sanitary methods of handling the same. The exhibit will be composed of photographs, transparencies, and every material known in road building, two or three of the latest methods of road building, a working model showing the various stages of construction of every class of improved road with working models of machinery.

The exposition live stock show will have a large and important part in the United States. The best known breeders of the United States and Canada have already made application for space in the stock yards. One hundred thousand dollars has been appropriated for premiums in this department. On January first the construction of the exhibition buildings and grounds was more than 90 per cent complete and when the grounds are formally opened to the public every detail of the big fair will be complete, every building will be finished, all of the exterior placed and the debris of construction removed from the grounds.

Conservation for Whole Continent. Arrangements for the North American Conservation conference between representatives of the United States, Canada and Mexico, at the White House, February 18, are going forward rapidly, following the cordial acceptance by Sir Wilfrid Laurier, premier of Canada, and Governor general, of Canada, and President Diaz, of Mexico, of President Roosevelt's invitation to meet at the White House and discuss the situation with regard to the natural resources of the respective countries and help prepare a general plan for the conservation of the same.

The conference will be held at the White House by President Roosevelt's invitation. It will not be a large gathering as was the conference of the governors at the White House last May, or the joint conservation conference last December between the National Conservation commission, the governors and the representatives of State Conservation commissions and conservation committees of national organizations. The attendance will be limited to the representatives of Canada and Mexico and representative of the state departments of the United States government and of other executive departments which can render particular assistance to the conference in their deliberations and the National Conservation commission. Canada has already taken active steps in preparation for the conference and recently sent to the National Conservation commission a number of carefully prepared maps which show the present status of the public lands of the Dominion as well as the distribution of the principal natural resources of the development of its transportation systems. The Canadian authorities have also gathered together and sent to the chairman of the commission a comprehensive collection of government documents bearing on the natural resources of the country. These have been carefully indexed and bound together according to subjects. They will be used at the forthcoming conference.

President Roosevelt feels that the connection between the United States and the two nations which lie to the north and south is so intimate that they can consider the mutual interests with regard to natural resources from the standpoint of the general welfare of the continent with small regard to the political boundary. This which separates them. Indeed, it is so intimate that he considered inviting Canada and Mexico to the first conservation conference at the White House, but that he refrained from doing so because he was unwilling to run the remotest risk of asking these two nations to associate themselves with the conservation movement before it was certain that it was going to succeed. Now that success is assured he feels that about the two nations have identical interests and identical aspirations they can work together along conservation lines just as the representatives of the states work together without regard to state boundaries.
