WATER TURNED ONTO DEER FLAT

Government Irrigation Project Has Formal Opening.

THOUSANDS OF ACRES ADDED TO IRRIGATED SECTION.

Simple Ceremonies at Opening of Gates of Barber Dam to Fill Deer Flat Reservoir.

The day, long anticipated by the people of this section of the state, is past and long will it be remembered. Thousands gathered yesterday to witness the fulfillment of plans upon which the hopes of many families have been based.

The dam, long and high, which has been in the process of construction for two years, was opened, and water of the Deer flat reservoir, let into the canal which will irrigate thousands of acres of land in southwestern Idaho.

The crowd, headed by the city of concrete, are situated about two miles up the stream from Barborton. At this point, crowds assembled from Boise, Caldwell, Weiser, Payette and many other nearby cities. For more than a mile along the great ditch to watch the first rush of water as it sped onward to the Deer Flat reservoir, 26 miles away.

The ceremonies for this occasion, in many ways so important, were simple. A few officials and interested citizens performed the one function—raising the headgates.

Speeches at Dam.

There were no speeches. The top of the big government dam beside would have prevented their being heard. Those present to participate in the exercises were Consulting Engineer W. H. Shaders of the reclamation service, Supervising Engineer Weymouth, Engineer Edward Hedden, Water Master Edward Taylor, D. R. Hubbard, president of the Water Users' association, Walter Griffith, vice president of the same organization, Messrs. Lowell, Baldrige and Stalker, its directors. These took their places on the concrete structure of the headgates. At 3:24 o'clock, exactly, the signal was given, and the cranks of the eight massive lifts began to turn. Then everybody who could lean on the same structure took a hand, and below, with deafening crash, the water started to surge. Instantly a mighty cheer arose from the throng, which found its echo repeated again and again by those who lined the ditch.

Water is let Back.

The flood was controlled by the officials in charge, eight inches being the most that any of the headgates were opened, although they can be raised to a height of 12 inches. Because some of the gates lower down have not been fully completed, owing to the severity of the winter, the water rendered the hauling of supplies difficult.

About 3000 persons were scattered along the banks, and many could group themselves in the narrow canyon near the gates. A large number drove from Boise, suggesting that the water would still muddy the recent rains. The larger proportion, however, made the trip on foot. They lined up at Barborton and walked the rest of the way.

Weather is Ideal.

The weather was ideal, and lent inspiration to the birth of a new era for the farmers of this and surrounding districts. A distinct contrast was presented by the rugged rocks which lay about the dam, and the air of civilization, and its effect was to create a certain awe for the projects which have distinguished Idaho's progress.

During the morning the delegates from nearby cities began to arrive. Perhaps a third of the most liberal representation. Her citizens paraded the streets, carrying sage brush tacked to poles, emblematic of the past, and was headed by the Caldwell band.

Two Trains Load.

As soon as the two scheduled trains arrived at the Barber mill, the people in one crowd started directly for the canal, the majority continuing on to the river until the government dam was reached, although several hundred only viewed the dam. The river was shown through the entire plant of the Barber company, which is in operation here.

CHALLENGES FOR DEBATE.

S. H. Bolton Vishes to Meet P. J. Holohan on Saloon Issue.

Dear Sir: I notice in the Chronicle of February 23rd an advertisement in your paper last week on the saloon question. This answer is by Mr. P. J. Holohan, of our city.

Rather than reply to his position, which I would gladly do, I think in the interest of educating our people, and teaching myself the other side of this question, so that we may all know the facts in the case, it would be better to meet Mr. Holohan in public debate, which I hereby challenge Mr. Holohan to debate in some public hall in Twin Falls, the arrangement for the debate to be made by one gentleman of his selection, and one by myself, and they both to choose a third to select a place and rules governing the debate, time and date. I hereby challenge Mr. Holohan, that the commercial interests of our city are injured by the licensed saloon.

This challenge is to be accepted by Saturday, 2 p. m., February 27. I have also written Mr. Holohan this date, regarding the same matter, and he has not yet replied to me with the subject. It is only fair to him to be permitted to answer me fully in a public way. If he fails to do so, I will make further reply through the columns of our press, but much prefer to meet the gentleman face to face as men of diverse opinions.

The striking of water in either case would make the salient stock will be increased to certain of success and for this reason the progress of both ventures will be closely watched.

On request Prof. Grubb addressed an informal lecture to the Commercial club last night and imparted a great deal of valuable information to the assembly. The address proved interesting to all present, but unfortunately few farmers were able to be present.

RAISE FUNDS FOR A WELL.

Mass Meeting Tuesday Night Draws Large Crowd.

OPINIONS ON THE MATTER OF WATER SUPPLY ALL WERE VARY.

$100 Subscribed in Few Minutes to Dig Experimental Well Within the Townsite.

The mass meeting held Tuesday to discuss the water supply was all out-sided, like a pug handle with all the participants in favor of getting pure water at whatever cost. S. H. Bolton, D. M. Denton, Don Bryan and A. C. Coburn were among the principal speakers and each advocated the drilling of an experimental well. After a great deal of discussion on the part of the citizens, in which no dissenting voices were heard, a popular subscription was started and in a short time over $100 was subscribed toward sinking an experimental well somewhere within the city limits. A committee of three was appointed to solicit funds from the business men of the city. The question of getting water from the source of Rock Creek was discussed and found to be almost impossible owing to the fact that nearly every acre foot of water from the springs is already laid upon by the ranchers in that section.

THE CITY HALL.

Handsome Building To Be Erected for Municipal Use.

Plans for a $35,000 city hall and fire house were presented by Burton E. Morse which will give the city ample room for offices of the city engineer and other officials, besides a council chamber for the city data, sleeping apartments for the firemen and lavatory.

The first floor will be given over to the fire department and will contain stalls for the horses and room for the engine and hose cart.

The remainder of the bond issue will be devoted to the purchase of the fire apparatus necessary to give Twin Falls the best of protection.

Rev. Mr. Parker delivered an impressive sermon to the joy from the throng of members of the lodge. The service was held in the great work which the lodge as a whole could accomplish if a few of the virtues touched upon in the text were followed.

A GREAT PRODUCTION.

Queen Esther as Presented by Home Talent, Highly Appreciated.

That the audiences which greeted the production of "Queen Esther" were delighted with the musical efforts of the local artists was evidenced by the hearty applause for each number. The work of Mrs. Buckley as "Queen Esther" of Dr. Higgins as the King, Messrs. Jones and Ludlum as Haman and Mordecai, and in fact of all the soloists, was a surprise to the townpeople. The whole production, which was under the direction of John L. Newton, went off with precision and smoothness, in which the chorus, composed of fifty voices, should be given its share of praise. The music of the Miller orchestra proved a most delightful treat to the audience, and elicited a great deal of just commendation. The staging of the scenes was under the efficient management of Messrs. Nixon and C. F. Burrows, who in every way lived up to their reputations.

The expenses of the play were heavy, owing to the purchase of the costumes, but in spite of this expense, water at whatever cost. S. H. Bolton, D. M. Denton, Don Bryan and A. C. Coburn were among the principal speakers and each advocated the drilling of an experimental well. After a great deal of discussion on the part of the citizens, in which no dissenting voices were heard, a popular subscription was started and in a short time over $100 was subscribed toward sinking an experimental well somewhere within the city limits. A committee of three was appointed to solicit funds from the business men of the city.

HARD TIMES BALL.

Popular Dance To Be Given in Buhl, March 8.

The devotees of the dance will have a particular crowd to place with respect to their dress next Wednesday evening at the Buhl Hard Times Ball. The managers are the managers that all costumes must be appropriate, that they have nothing to do with any fancy dress having on a "bleed" shirt. Patent leather shoes are also under the ban. Twenty-five cents per, white collars, flashy ties and jewelry are made so expensive that only a millionaire would have the temerity to go in anything but the hobo disguise.

TAILORING ESTABLISHMENT.

George McCallister Returns to Days ago from the East, where he made arrangements for shipping in a full line of suitings, shirtings and other tailoring necessities. The goods were shipped and the Twin Falls Tailoring company, composed of Don Bryan, B. T. Wood and George McCallister, is starting on the premises vacated by the candy store. ### ROUND-UP OF HORSE THIEVES.

Three Men Escaping from Nevada Taken at Three Creek.

PRISONERS BROUGHT TO TWIN FALLS SUNDAY EVENING.

Sheriff Clark of Elko County, Nevada, Arrives Tuesday to Take Prisoners Back to Nevada for Trial.

Deputy Sheriff C. G. Winter, of Elko County, Nevada, aided by two ranchmen from Owyhee county, stepped off the eastbound passenger Sunday evening and delivered over three youthful looking horse thieves to Sheriff Dyer, who held the prisoners until Tuesday afternoon awaiting the arrival of Sheriff L. G. Clark, of Elko, Nevada. The prisoners waived their extradition rights and left Tuesday night for Elko, in company with Sheriff Dyer.

The manner of the capture would read like the annals of the wild west, except that Deputy Winter added nothing of the dramatic to his plain, straightforward story which is substantially as follows:

While on Friday of last week, Mr. and Mrs. Winter were enroute to the town of Roland for their mail, in skirting the foot hills, the keen-eyed deputy discovered the men driving about twenty-five head of horses toward the Idaho line. Owing to his familiarity with the actions of the horse thieves, Mr. Winter immediately started toward the three horsemen, only to have his suspicions confirmed by the men ordering him to get fireable to get in touch with the men he immediately went to where Mrs. Winter fortunately ran across Deputy Dyer's station of Owyhee county, who sent out a posse to assist Mr. Winter. The thieves had entered into Idaho when overtaken by the posse and made no attempt to flee. They were taken to the men ordering him to get fireable to get in touch with the men he immediately went to where Mrs. Winter fortunately ran across Deputy Dyer's station of Owyhee county, who sent out a posse to assist Mr. Winter. Suggestive Questions on the Sunday School Lesson by Rev.

Dr. Linscott.

Feb. 28th, 1909.

The Gospel in Samaria.—Acts VIII:1-25.

Golden Text.—The people with one accord gave heed unto those things which Philip spake, hearing and seeing the miracles which he did. Acts VIII:6.

Verse 1.—What caused the "scattering abroad" of the Christian community?

Was the persecution of the church, headed by Saul, a blessing or a curse? Was this persecution according to God's first plan?

When God's first, or original, plan is upset by an evil, is there any evidence to show that he uses that very evil to bring about that which he had planned to accomplish another way? (See case of Joseph also of Jesus.)

Verse 5.—Who was Philip? Should the church today utilize laymen in preaching the Gospel? What did Philip preach at Samaria? What do you understand by Philip preaching Christ?

Verse 6.—How do you account for it, that the people turned to God with such unanimity? Does the Holy Spirit always accompany the preaching of the gospel?

If Philip's congregation had been made up of 1000 ex-slaves and school boys, would the result of his preaching have been different?

Verse 8.—What is the proof that Philip's converts were real, and what is the proof of the reality of every conversion?

Is joy a necessary accompaniment of conversion?

Verse 9-11.—What is or what was surgery? Is there any evidence to believe, that there are, or ever has been, persons with the power "drained by witness."

CARE OF PIGS.

An Indiana Man's Ideas On Growing and Marketing.

When selecting your breeding stock great care should be observed in getting both sire and dams, remembering that without the best of these we cannot expect to get the best results of the most money for the hogs when sold on the market.

We are at this time keeping the Poland China and brace Jersey crossed. I do not say this is the best cross, but I find that the Poland China fatness at any time and the Jersey has good frame and vigorous constitution.

We keep one sow in every 10 acres of cultivated land on the farm. If the farm has 50 acres, keep eight sows and enough other stock to eat the roughage, so nothing is wasted.

I have the most litter the last of February, as this allows them to mature in time for the fall market. Where it is possible, have your hog house face the south, as hogs need plenty of sunshine.

Have all your sows drop their litters as nearly the same time as possible, as the price you obtain for your hogs will depend some on the evenness of the herd.

To get the best prices, you should have your hogs ready for the market before your neighbors. They should be marketed not later than November 15 in this country to obtain the best prices and should weigh at this time no less than 200 pounds each.

You must get the pigs to eating as soon as possible. I find the best way to do this is to build a pen 15 feet square and fasten your sows around it. Let the bottom board of this pen be high enough to admit the pigs but not the sows. Place your feed for the pigs in this pen where the sows will not molest them. You must feed them something besides corn. You want bone and muscle. We find that eye ground and hake into a slop with plenty of milk added makes the best feed for young pigs. After we get the bone and muscle, we have no trouble to lay on the fat.

One thing you should always bear in mind and that is not to lose the fat put on by the mother milk. It is the cheapest fat you will ever get and costs too much to replace it after being lost.

Look well to your feeding place. Keep your troughs well cleaned and turn them over often and let the sun shine on them.

Keep your bedding cleaned and avoid dampness. Let the sun shine on it. Have the heads of your roof loose so that they may be removed when the sun is shining, remembering that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

We breed our sows twice per year. A sow that will not raise us 15 pigs per year we will not keep. Do not keep a sow because she has been good. When she begins to get cross and don't come up to the standard fatten her and get one that will.

Some people say they cannot make money out of hogs. They seem to think that they are "only a hog" and need no care, but this is a mistake.—Oregon Agriculturalist.

Kodol for Dyspepsia and Indigestion is a combination of the natural digestive juices with necessary acids, and it actually digests the food you eat—no matter what kind of food it may be. It does the ordinary work of the stomach, so that by taking a little Kodol every day there is no need of any other medicine or judgment of any kind of stomach trouble. Sold by City Pharmacy.

You can buy an Oliver typewriter at $15 down and $5 a month. The best machine made. Hill & Taylor, Agents.

conjurers, fortune tellers and similar folk?

Verse 12.—It is reasonable to believe that all who were baptised were genuine converts?

Verse 13.—Whatever change may have come over him after, do you think Simon was truly converted at this time?

What were then, and what are now, the conditions for the forgiveness of our sins, or conversion?

Verse 14-17.—At the time of the "scattering abroad" did all the Apostles remain at Jerusalem? What was the purpose of sending Peter and John to Samaria, seeing they had just had a great revival?

Did Peter and John pray that these young converts might receive the Holy Spirit?

Did all the converts in Apostolic days, receive the Holy Spirit after their conversion?

Why was sent the Holy Spirit even to the converts at Samaria, when they were converted?

Is it the duty and privilege of every Christian to be conversed that he is Holy Spirit dwells in him, and that he is Divinely guided in all things?

Verse 18-21.—Are deceivers and impostors apt to think that all others are like themselves? Is it possible to obtain spiritual power with the purpose of making money out of it?

Is it possible that this Simon had been converted and that his love of fame, and of money, had led him to this evil?

Verse 25.—What is the only hope of getting the world converted? Lesson for Sunday, March 7th, 1909. Text: Luke 11:20-19.

BREEDING OF FARM HORSES.

Promising Future for Important Industry in Northwest.

At no period of the history of our nation have horses been so high in price and in such great demand. That is brought about by the wonderful development of the last of the available agricultural lands of our great country during the past few years. Every American citizen realizes that to own a farm will soon be beyond the reach of anyone of ordinary means, and the condition with the unparalleled safety of an investment in real estate has been the cause of the great advancement in land values throughout the American continent.

The advance of values of farm lands throughout the Mississippi states at from $100 to $200 per acre in many locations, has caused the raising of nearly all the tillable land under cultivation, thus destroying the great blue grass pastures of the Mississippi and Ohio valleys, the state of Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio, where the breeding and growing of big horses has been one of the chief occupations for the past 25 years, while today the same territory is not producing one half as many, and is using up the same amount at any given period.

The great pastures of Oklahoma and the southwest are the last to be turned into farms in the past few years. These are many as at any given period. The great pastures of Oklahoma and the southwest are the last to be turned into farms in the past few years. These are many as at any given period.

Higher prices will be realized. East of Ohio the great majority of the farmers are giving their whole attention to dairying, depending largely on the market for horses which is supplied from the Mississippi states, raising as few as the number is insignificant compared to the number consumed annually.

It is an exaggeration to project that the best desirable farm horses will be easy at $500 each within three years from this date? If you will look carefully into conditions, you will be convinced that even higher prices may be realized.—Rural Spirit.

Care of Calves. The most important factor in the raising of cattle is their care while young. Do not think that you are doing the correct thing if you are only managing to keep the life in the calf until it is three months old, and then have it get fat on grass before the winter comes. If you do this, you will be apt to have a lot of stunted calves with their digestive organs destroyed, which will never make strong healthy cattle, and will not be good for either dairy, beef or breeding animals.—Oregon Agriculturalist.

To Whom It May Concern. We the members of Twin Falls Local No. 1 of the L. O. O. F. U. G. A. of Twin Falls, Idaho do this 11th day of February, 1909, adopt the following scale of wages for 8-hour day, to take effect March 1st, 1909, and that we get time and a half for overtime and Sundays. Double time for the following holidays: New Year's, July 4th, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Commencing with the month of December, 1908, the monthly rate of 75 cents per inch for advertising in the Times will be annulled and a weekly rate of 18c cents established. The change is in order that when five publications occur in a month the Times can collect for same. After a year and nine months of the old rate the Times management has discovered that it is practically publishing four issues each year for which no money is received, and we are glad to have the opportunity to correct this error. There is not any better Salve than DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve. We hereby warn the public that we are not in any way connected with the cheaply made and sold and sold effects caused from worthless or poisonous imitations of our DeWitt's Carbolized Witch Hazel Salve, the original. Telephone Talk

The attitude of telephone users determines largely the character of telephone service in a community. Without the co-operation of its subscribers no company can give ideal service, but co-operation will help subscriber and company alike.

HERE IS ONE IMPORTANT POINT: When your telephone gets out of order or your service becomes unsatisfactory in any way, advise the Manager of the telephone company IMMEDIATELY. Do not wait a day or a week, but tell him about it at once and he will have it corrected. That's what he is here for. Don't bother your neighbor with your telephone troubles; both of us. The neighbors can't help you, but we can and will if you give us a chance. We expect you to complain when things go wrong, but we ask you to complain to us and complain promptly so the trouble can be found and corrected. That's one thing we mean by co-operation.

While there may be a number of people who think that ditch water of a dirty black color serves as a substitute for soap, yet the average citizen of Twin Falls has to close his eyes to swallow the city water in order to get it down without a shudder.

The chance of woodchuck bills passing the legislature is materially increasing as the days of the tenth session draw to a close. Every legislator is beginning to remember belated and abandoned acts for his constituency with the result that any old thing in any old disguise, will creep into the statutes.

The spirit of improvement has seized upon the owners of residence property and the chances are good that nearly a third of the city will have paving inside of the next two years. The property owners on west Main avenue have agreed to pave the streets in front of their homes out to the full width of the business section paving and have thus set the pace for the other residents.

That there are imperfections in the local option bill just passed by the legislature is to be expected in view of the fact that the state, always in the control of the unions, is making its first step toward independence. But the fact should be remembered that the bill was not aided in its passage by any Democrats, who voted solidly against it in the senate. It is worth while to make attempts at reform rather than to always slip back and knock.

The discussions pro and con over the advantages and disadvantages of a "dry city" are merely waste of time. The whole push and progress of a town depends not on the saloon but upon the citizens which compose it. A crowd of material stage-creepers, declaring that the town is going to the damnation howlows can do more to kill a town than the saloon or the lack of it. If every man gets out as soon as the saloons are voted out and says the town is dead, virtually the life which has been contributing to the town is dead, but on the other hand, if each man is optimistic and is putting in his share of energy into the life of the town, it will go ahead, saloon or no saloon. The average settler and investor is not looking for the saloon as a help toward increasing values and if the residents keep on boosting the lack of the saloon or any other so-called want will never be noticed. If the business men will pull together there is nothing that can stay the rapid growth of this city and tract.

Three mornings during the past two weeks Twin Falls has been without water, owing to a damaged condition of the canal from which the water supply comes. At each time the city was without fire protection and would have been helpless before a serious fire. The result of a fire started in the business section would have been hard to estimate, but a slight estimate would place the loss at nearly a million dollars, yet the city is tamely submitting to a service which puts in constant jeopardy the business life of the city. Not that the council should be criticized for the conditions, for they are no more to blame than any citizen who sits back and endures a condition which is injuring the prosperity of the city. Two projects are under way for sinking wells within short distance of the city limits and the men who are promoting them are not asking a single dollar from the city. And on the outcome of these two attempts the city can set its water to provide pure water for domestic purposes and a constant supply for fire purposes by sinking wells. But if the water can not be treated, there is another splendid opportunity in the erection of a gravity flow from the springs at the head of Rock creek, provided a water right can be purchased, and the city council in this case, supply the town of Kimberly in bringing the water to this city. At any rate, the citizens are paying too high a water rate to be supplied with the ink mixture which is being furnished at present.

A SENSELESS INSULT TO A FRIENDLY NATION.

The singular fact that of all the legislative measures relating to the Japanese in California the only one to be pushed to a vote was that relating to the school question, brings back the situation to the exact condition where it was two years ago. The proposals to forbid Japanese aliens to hold land, to segregate them into quarters of their own, and to forbid them from becoming members of California corporations were all abandoned. But the lower house of the California legislature last week passed, by a vote of 72 to 26, a bill the effect of which would be to segregate Japanese children in special schools. As we write, it is more than probable that the assembly may reverse its action; or, if not, that the senate will refuse to pass the bill; or, if it does not, that Governor Gillett will veto it. Most assuredly the bill should fall in some way to become a law, and probably its framers never seriously expected it to go on the statute-book. President Roosevelt in a despatch to Governor Gillett declared that while the most negative bill of all, and in my judgment is clearly unconstitutional, and we should at once have to test it in the courts. Then the governor in a special message to the legislature pointed out the folly of the bill in these words:

"There has been no general demand for such legislation, there is no immediate or present danger to our schools, and no bad influence exists therein by reason of the attendance of any Japanese pupils so far as is known. In fact, there are but very few Japanese pupils attending public schools, and there is no occasion, at present at least for any alarm. It is claimed by Japan and admitted by the authorities in Washington that the bill if passed will be in violation of the treaty existing between the two governments."

The truth of this is emphasized by considering the figures collected two years ago by Mr. George Kennan in a special article in "The Outlook." At that time there were only ninety-three Japanese scholars in the primary and grammar schools of San Francisco—a little more than an average of one to each school building; of these one-third were born in the United States, twenty-eight were girls, thirty-four of the boys were under fifteen years of age, and only two were twenty years old, while the President of the board of education admitted that nothing could be said against the general character and deportment of the Japanese scholars. The situation has not changed materially as regards the schools, and it is perfectly clear that the proposal to segregate Japanese scholars comes, not because of their number or conduct, but as part of a radical crusade.—The Outlook.

THE NEW SENATE.

After March 4, when one goes into the gallery of the United States senate and looks upon its members below, it may seem at first as if the senate had lost its traditional character of a continuing body. First of all the observer will notice two men who had grown gray in their country's service—Senators Allison and Teller. The first died some months ago, mourned by all, after an unprecedentedly long term as senator. He is succeeded by another Republican, Albert B. Cummins, Iowa's brilliant governor. Another Democrat, Charles James Hughes, Jr., succeeds Senator Teller, of Colorado, who, by a strange reversal of politics, is retired, after a service in the senate since 1876, save three years when he was secretary of the Interior in the Arthur cabinet. If the visitor's first impression of the new senate is of the absence of familiar faces, his second impression will be of the presence of many new faces. First among them will be, of course, that of Elihu Root; the next that of another Republican, Theodore E. Burton, of Ohio, who takes the place now held by Senator Foraker, a Republican. Then will come George E. Chamberlain, of Oregon. Though a Democrat, he has just been elected senator by a republican legislature, thus demonstrating that the people's will is not always bound by party lines.—Another new face will be that of Benjamin F. Shively, of Indiana, the first Democrat elected in that state since 1893. He succeeds Senator Hemway, Republican. This political change however, is hardly noteworthy as is the fact that Mr. Shively will be the only Democratic senator north of the Mason and Dixon line, as far west as Colorado. Other new faces will be those of William O. Bradley, of Kentucky, to succeed Senator McCreaty, Democrat, and of the following Republican successors—Joseph L. Bristow, of Kansas, to succeed Senator Long; Geo. E. Crawford, of South Dakota, to succeed Senator Kittredge; M. N. Johnson, of North Dakota, to succeed Senator Hambrugh; and Wesley L. Jones, of Washington, to succeed Senator Ankeny. Senators Brandegee, of Connecticut, Clarke, of Arkansas, Gallingher, of New Hampshire, Gore, of Oklahoma, Hoyburn, of Idaho, New-

Jands, of Nevada, Penrose, of Pennsylvania, Snoot, of Utah, Stephenson, of Wisconsin, and Stone, of Missouri, have been elected to succeed themselves. As regards other senatorial successors, perhaps the most frequently heard query is, Who will succeed Senator Knox? A movement has been started in Pennsylvania for the election of Benjamin J. Dimechek to fill the expected vacancy. Mr. Dimechek's record as mayor of Scranton has been greatly admired by those who have high standards of public office.—Outlook.

FOR RAILROAD DEVELOPMENT.

Meeting Called by Oregon-Idaho Development Congress, Feb. 20-27.

Boise, Idaho, Feb. 16th, 1909. To the People of Oregon and Idaho. The Oregon-Idaho Development Congress will be held in Boise February 20-27. The objects of this congress are to develop the states of Oregon and Idaho, particularly the southern portions thereof, by the encouragement of irrigation projects, the building of railroad and other legitimate means.

One of the main subjects of this congress is to build a railroad across southern Oregon into southern Idaho. Such a railroad would cause a marvelous increase in the value of the land and would probably be the means of bringing to us new continental roads from the east.
