

SUITS FILED FOR HEAVY DAMAGE

Twin Falls Canal Co. Want Contract Rights.

SETTLERS COMPANY SUES TWIN FALLS LAND & WATER CO.

Sum of $489,000 Asked by Settlers in Lien of Incomplete Work of Contracting Company.

A suit was filed in the district court on the 26th of October which will be of great interest to the citizens of Twin Falls. It is entitled 'The Twin Falls Canal Company versus the Twin Falls Land and Water Company in which the plaintiff makes a claim for the amount of $489,000 for not complying with the terms of the contract under which the Twin Falls South Side project was constructed.

In the complaint it is alleged that the contract made with the State Land Board says that the head gates for the canal would be built in solid rock and the main waste gate should be located near the head of the canal in solid rock and all other waste gates, lateral gates and wiers should be of masonry or concrete, that the dam, canals, laterals, gates and wiers should be constructed in a workmanlike manner.

According to the complaint, the defendant in the construction of the irrigation system failed to comply with the terms of the contract with the state, that the said irrigation system is incomplete, unsatisfactory, defective and dangerous and not efficient for the purpose intended; that the defendant company did not construct the dam, canals, laterals, gates and wiers as required by the contract and that the cost of completing the same would be $489,000.

The contract with the state which the plaintiffs will introduce in evidence says that the irrigation system shall be constructed complete according to the specifications.

So that the transfer of the control of the irrigation system could be made to the purchaser of the water rights the Twin Falls Canal company was formed. It further says that upon fulfillment of the purchase price there was to be given the purchaser either a warranty deed, or shares of stock in the corporation and upon the formation of such corporation the defendant company should convey to the Canal company the water rights in the canal, canals, laterals, gates and wiers.

At the time of the transfer it is stated that all of the water was owned by the Twin Falls Land and Water company or its officers or agents, and that the land holders and persons having water rights were contracted with the defendant for water, were not consulted and had no voice in the matter.

The case may be transferred to the federal court, as the Twin Falls Land and Water company is incorporated under the laws of the state of Utah. Downer, Porter and Stockinger of this city, assisted by the Hon. J. C. Fawcett, are the attorneys for the Twin Falls Canal company and the interests of the land and water owners are being looked after by Swaney & Swesley, who have associated with them H. C. Edwards.

DEVELOPMENT IN JARBIDGE.

D. H. Mosley Tells of Work Being Done in Mines.

D. H. Mosley has just returned from a trip through southeastern Idaho, where he has been investigating the progress of mining development at Jarbridge.

While Mr. Mosley was at Twin Falls he met a number of mining men just out from the new mining camp. Among the number was George E. Gavin, formerly of Boise and well known here. According to the reports from these men there is more permanent progress being made in Jarbridge right now than at any previous time.

The camp is enjoying quite a building boom. Buildings having been built in the last month and a number of others being now under way. Transfers from these men to Jarbridge are in the region. Flour in the camp sells at $4 a sack, apples at $3.50 a box and lumber at $75 per thousand.

There is a shaft in the mine, which is running at full capacity. The milling plant is modern and capable of producing 200 tons of flour a day. The average price per ton in gold. A 15-foot ledge has been developed to a depth of 200 feet and plenty more are being encountered to keep the mill in operation.

The 'Pavik' is just establishing a reputation with 150 tons capacity. There is enough ore reported broken and ready to ship to keep the mill running one year in ore that averages from $10 to $100 per ton.

In the Bluster mine an 18-foot ledge has been opened for several hundred feet and a shaft has been sunk to a depth of 75 feet and workmen are now running a drift from the bottom of this shaft. The ore here averages from $20 to $40 a ton.

George Wingfield of Nevada, has just taken over the Success, which is being worked on the north. The price given is $125,000. A five-foot ledge has been opened several hundred feet by tunneling above the rest of the ore taken out average $45 per ton. The Success has not yet been opened for 200 feet and the ore here averages $25. The Alpha fraction has a four-foot vein opened for several hundred feet, the ore averaging $25 per ton. The Hinwaha group, the mines south of the Pavik, are being worked in two places and a vein 11 feet wide is being opened.

SERIOUS WRECK IN BUHL-YARDS

Freight Engine Smashed and Crew Injured.

ENGINEER AND FIREMAN SUFFER FROM BROKEN BONES.

Engine Runs Wild After Smash for Five Miles Till the Steam is Exhausted.

Quite a serious freight wreck occurred in the Buhl yards early last morning when the freight crew of the east-bound freight was making up the train to start on the run for Minotoka. The crew was putting some cars on the siding and after pushing the cars the engine started back for the main line. The train is on somewhat of a grade and the cars began to move. The engine came along the main line just in-time to hit the cars as they were passing. As a result the engine was badly damaged and the engineer and fireman were both knocked out of the cab and badly injured.

Engineer Nelson had one of his legs broken in two places and it is feared that he has received internal injuries. The crew from the Hollister branch was taken to the hospital and a special train took the injured men to Pocatello and from there to the company hospital in Salt Lake City, Utah. The wrecked engine ran for about five miles in the direction of this city before it stopped for the want of steam.

DARROW SELLS INTEREST.

Disposes of Interest in the Ferguson Fruit and Land Company.

The largest real estate deal on the Twin Falls tract during the year was consummated last week when 'Fanny' Winklesworth, principal stockholder in the Ferguson Fruit and Land Company, which owns and controls more than twenty-five hundred acres of orchard land in the Ferguson Falls southwest of Buhl—and his associates from the west, took over the interest of George Darrow, that company for a consideration currently reported at $45,000.

Mr. Darrow has been manager of the big fruit company since its inception and the growing and planting of the trees of this, the largest company of its nature in Southern Idaho, has been largely under his supervision. Connected to Idaho from Colorado among the early pioneers of the Twin Falls tract, Mr. Darrow has made a modest fortune in the short few years intervening between the time the lush interests turned the water onto the tract and the past week when he closed out his interests in the big fruit company.

AS OTHERS SEE US.

North Side Paper Makes Accusation Against 'This City.'

In the beginning, the promoters of the North Side tract saw it to borrow money. This is the only method by which this new segregation, in those days that was a name to conjure with, its announcement brought 'visions of a great new future' to the minds of the city and a Music City springing up in its midst. It brought dreams of glory and lustre and certain benefits made over night. The name Twin Falls did much to establish the North Side on a firm footing before the public.

But the time has now come when it no longer needs the swaddling clothes of its infancy, nor the sugar and honey of its early years. The North Side has made an enviable reputation for itself in the last year and the coming of 2011 will see it in the hands of its owners and its prospects.

At the close of the year, Twin Falls got a much greater out of the Lincoln company than it had in the past. Although that city had not a single exhibit there, most of the visitors from other parts of the state took the train to Twin Falls and the exhibit showing came out with big head lines saying 'Twin Falls was making Boise ashamed of itself; that Twin Falls had offered to pay the expense of the exhibit to the Chicago land show. We know very well that it is the line of policy that the North Side is following in this regard and we are glad to see it.

The Twin Falls high school boys defeated by Prof. Faulkner and Paul O'Neil, played the 'College of Idaho' on the local field yesterday, and were defeated by a score of 15 to 6. The kicking of the Caldwell folk was the feature of the game and netted the visitors heavy Twin Falls territory. Caldwell kicked off and the ball was down on the Twin Falls side yard, and a forward pass going out of bounds. Here the reception of the same was badly off. Caldwell kicked, making a merely field goal, the ball sailing straight between the bars, giving the visitors the first score of the game, three points.

Twin Falls then kicked off and the ball, under O'Neil's heavy boot, made a beautiful goal, making the score 6 to 3. Caldwell kicked, but was again by failure to make yardage. Twin Falls penalized on incomplete pass and Caldwell kicked, making a merely field goal, the ball sailing straight between the bars, giving the visitors the first score of the game, three points.

The second quarter was devoted to snafus, each side with Caldwell kicking repeatedly and Twin Falls getting away with a few forward passes. Caldwell kicked, making a merely field goal, the ball sailing straight between the bars, giving the visitors the first score of the game, three points.

The uniform grading and packing law, known as the Latham bill, which is before the federal congress, is one of the most important questions. Others are the distribution question, cost of production and marketing and the matter of carrying the culture. There will be few set addresses and every member and delegate will have the privilege of introducing any subject from the floor for discussion. In other words, the meeting is intended to be a real get-together session for the benefit of acquainting real benefits for the apple industry.

Rivalry between the east and the west over the next place of meeting of the congress is increasing. There is a growing conviction that the next session should be held in the east for the best interests of the industry. This is the hope of the delegates and the congress before this question is settled.

THIRD LARGEST IN WORLD.

To be Built Across Sacramento River in California.

On the outskirts of the city of Sacramento, California, the Southern Pacific company is erecting a steel bridge across the Sacramento river that contains the heaviest swing span of any bridge in the world. This span is 400 feet in length and its weight is 5,300,000 pounds. The entire bridge, however, will weigh more than 10,000,000 pounds when it has all been placed in position upon the heavy concrete piers.

There are only two steel bridges in the world that have swing spans that exceed the new Sacramento river bridge in length. One is across the Willamette river and is a part of the Spokane, Portland and Seattle railway system. Its weight, however, is only 2,400,000 pounds. Another is across the Missouri river that has a swing span 520 feet in length, but the steel is of much lighter construction, the weight being only 5,700,000 pounds.

The new Sacramento river bridge of the Southern Pacific is a part of the double tracking of the Harriman Line. It will contain not only the structure for the trapes but a concrete wagon and automobile road. The American Bridge Company, which is fabricating the steel work of the structure, have records of numerous heavy swing spans but none that can equal that of the new Southern Pacific bridge.

The piers for the structure were sunk by the pneumatic process under the direction of the Southern Pacific engineers, and the construction of the bridge is being pushed forward with all of the steel superstructure, is being done by the company's engineering forces.

AFTER FAKE AUCTIONS.

Chicago's Mayor Comes Out Against Jewelry Auction Sales.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—There is a hopeful note in the reflections Mayor Harrison made recently regarding jewelry auction shops on lower State street. It seems that Mr. Harrison made a nocturnal visit, incognito, through that section of State street and his attention was evidently attracted to these fake auctions. In an interview published the next day he stated that these auctions reminded him of the cheap raffle shops on the old midway during the world's fair days. "The auctioneer's red flag in front of a fake auction has come to be such a common sight that people nowadays, not even the police, seem to notice them. These fake auctions were not interested in their former administrations and I have given orders to the police department to close them up."

This is indeed good news. It was proclaimed September 23, but the auctions are still running in the same old manner and in the same old way. The Keystone has upon other occasions referred to these fake auctions and pointed out the necessity for action on the part of the law-enforcement authorities to close them up. They are not only a reflection on the legitimate jewelry interests of Chicago, but also a source of much deception against that portion of the law-abiding public which can least afford to have experience charged against them. Every retail jeweler will agree with Mayor Harrison that these fake auctions should be "cleaned up." We hope they will be but are nevertheless doubtful of the cleaning-up unless representatives of the trade make forceful representations to the proper authorities. —The Keystone.

NATIONAL APPLE SHOW

Matters of Grave Importance to Apple Growers to be Discussed.

Denver, Colo., No. 7.—Every subject of importance to the apple industry in America will be discussed at the American Apple Congress, which will be held in Denver November 14, 15 and 16, three days of apple carnival week. Delegates have been named from Massachusetts, Vermont, New York, Ohio, Wisconsin, Iowa, Missouri, Tennessee, Texas, and many other states of the east and south, as well as from all of the apple producing sections of the west.

That the congress will be the largest gathering of apple men ever, had some assurance at this time, according to information received by Secretary Clinton L. Oliver. "The apple exhibition with its high class carnival features no doubt is attracting nationwide attention and will attract much to the west—the large attendance, especially from all over the United States, understand that Denver is making a special LaFollette's candidacy is beginning to loom up with every day that rolls around until the threatened split in the party seems inevitable. Neither branch is willing to give any ground, the regular because it is an admission of defeat and the insurgents because the staying within the Republican fold will compel them to abide by the dictates of the party regardless. President Taft who up to the close of his recent tour was quoted as optimistic, admitted that the chances of Democratic victory were very good, yet not yielding one point in the adamant intention to run at the next election, regardless of the success of the party. No matter what may be said of President Taft's vacillation in his policy he is to be given credit for right adherence to his intention to run and to his utter refusal to regard the insurgents as members of the party. There is no question but what the north-west states will be a factor in the campaign and that the recent trip has uncovered to the president and the party leaders the extent of the defection in the party ranks due to the last administration.

THE GOVERNORS AND THE JUDGE. Ex-Governor Ford, of New Jersey, has sent to The Outlook a letter giving his view of the action taken by the Governors in their recent Conference. We remind our readers briefly what this action was and how it happened to be taken. A Federal judge some months ago rendered a decision in a railway case which aroused much criticism from those who looked to railway regulation by the States. In that decision he held that the States had no right to regulate the rates within the State so as to interfere with the regulation of rates by the Federal authorities. With regard to that decision, Governor Hadley said, in a paper read before the Conference of Governors, that "if the right of regulation of the rates of transportation in interstate commerce was to be determined by the Federal States, then there will be enjoyed by the railroad company the right to fix inter-State rates of transportation free from any supervision or regulation." Governor Hadley regarded this as equivalent to giving the railway the power "to levy a tribute upon the people of the several States." After very brief consideration of the subject, the Governors in conference appointed three of their own number, all of them lawyers—Governor Harmon, of Ohio, formerly United States Attorney General; Governor Hadley, formerly Attorney General of Missouri; and Governor Aldrich, who has practiced in State and Federal courts—to present to the Supreme Court of the United States a protest against the encroachment upon the rights of the State to regulate railway rates. "Criticism has been directed against the Governors for this action. The New York Tribune has gone to the length of calling it 'stupid.' Others have said that the Governors have no right to appear before the Supreme Court. Governor Ford, in his letter, expresses the opinion that the Governors' Conference took a perfectly legal procedure, indeed a very common method as to litigation in court, by appointing a committee of three lawyers—who were also Governors—who were authorized, in the name of the Governors, to ask leave of the Court to file a brief in the pending cases stating the law as they think it is from the standpoint of the State." Governor Ford goes to the length of saying that it is farcical to treat this action as by any way extraordinary or extra-judicial. He declares that it is "the exact line with well-accepted practice in all courts of last resort. . . . Any private company or person, who may be affected by a pending case in court between other parties, may be given leave by the Court to file a brief in such a case. The Governors of all the States decided at Spring Lake to do just that in the suits now pending in the Supreme Court of the United States between the railways and several State utilities companies. Whatever the decision may be in the pending cases, it will apply to all the States. . . . The action was without the slightest political significance and without the least thought or purpose to curtail the powers or jurisdiction of the United States under the Interstate Commerce clause of the Federal Constitution; the action was entirely respectful to the Court." Governor Ford continues:

"The Governors reflected lasting credit upon their States and themselves by taking this initial action; and the course proposed is neither a reflection upon Federal authority, an allegation of State rights, nor an attempt to demand anything of the Court; it is simply the usual procedure in court for presenting a brief in a cause in the result of which one may be interested, although not a party to the suit. The line of cleavage between the Federal and State authority on this question should be speedily settled in order that the traffic on State of inter-State railways may be brought under the clearly defined jurisdiction of either Federal or State authority. The action of the Governors did not seek any new jurisdiction for the States or to take anything from the Federal authority; it simply proposed that an illuminating brief be presented to the Court in a disinterested and purely legal manner with the case before the Court, in passing upon the whole question, might have before it all the light that the fullest research was able to throw upon it. Every lawyer knows that any court always welcomes such helpful assistance as that. . . . We are glad to call attention to this phase of the matter. If the action of the Governors in any way tended to limit the power of the Federal Government over inter-State commerce—and practically all the most important commerce of this country is inter-State—it would be a calamity. There

Our railways will be regulated efficiently only when the Federal Government uses its full power to regulate, and when all such traffic as is not controlled by the Federal Government is under the control of the States—The Outlook.

'Somewhere between the farmer and the grocer's where I buy

There's a mysterious Pirate, who is knavish, bold and sly; He levies toll on all the goods that pass along his way And takes the grocer's profit—so I've heard my cream say When melons leave the farmer's field the price is very low, But when they reach the grocer's they are thirty cents or so. I ask my grocer why between the field and store this span. He always makes the same—'Oh, that's the middleman!'

Yes—that is just the point—and that is the very thing you never hear in this store. Because from the foundation of our business we have been buying direct—going to the very source of production—buying in quantities—in such immense quantities that our competitors smiled and said: "You can never sell all those goods"—yet, they have come and gone and more are coming—and they are going, and the public recognizes our buying power. Some time for a day some of our competitors will slash and cut, but they don't keep the steady value giving that is to be found in every department of our business.

McQuinn, district manager of the Curtis Publishing Co., of this city, received word the first of the week that he had won a valuable note which was a premium in the contest for selling the greatest number of Saturday Evening Post during the past year of his life in the state. This speaks remarkably well for the young representative, considering the fact that he has lived in a city of only 1200 inhabitants. Herman Anderson has responded his bull pull on upper Broadway. The Tuesday Literary club met this week at the home of Mrs. C. V. Hixley and a very entertaining program was rendered. On a long review of the Shepherd of the Hills, Mrs. R. C.

Meltrius returned Monday from Hartsville, where he has been organizing for the O. S. L. Mr. R. C. O. S. L. who has had charge of surveying the telephone line to Cas-teford, has completed his work here and returned to Twin Falls, Thursday. FAY HARRIS was a business visitor in Twin Falls, Saturday. COMPLETED BY JUNE Railroad Will Open up Rich Agricultural Country. That the little town of Malta will soon be wiped off of the map and swallowed up by its neighbor, Lavey, should be cause of bitter railroad consternation caused by the work of the Oregon Short Line now building through that section of the state, is the opinion of Jesse Pierce, who, with John Hunt, arrived in the city last night after having the deal for 250 head of cattle from E. L. Lamb of Boise. The estimate is making constructing its new line connecting Burley, Idaho, with Monument Point, Utah, a distance of over 50 miles. The officials have promised the people of Cassia county that they will, in a little while, go on the main line of the road, according to Mr. Pierce. They have told us that within a few years we will be on the main line, said Mr. Pierce, "the officials determining to go that way instead of building by mountain routes several miles in a day but we are hoping from their statements, that it will not be so long as it is now and we are miles from the railroad line, too close to have a branch line and yet far enough away to prevent us having a direct connection with the outside world. The railroad put the new line of the main line only short time ago. The people are coming in the section which is the power of what promises as one of the most fertile agricultural sections of the state. The railroad is building through just as rapidly as possible in order to enable the company at work on the great project to get their material on the ground at the least expense and as soon as they can. The grading is done on the line and the rails are scattered along the entire line of the road. Although some work is being done on the dirt that will store water for 70,000 acres of land, most of the heavy stuff is waiting the completion of the railroad line before it is shipped to the construction point. The road hopes to have the work done by June of next year and until that time, little other work will be done on the dirt. The people are hoping that that dam before pouring into the country by the thousands. "Already there have a number come in. Most of these are the dry farmers who are looking for the soil that will be a short time if under a good irrigation system. There are others who will move in just as soon as the dam work is begun on the dam and the railroad is completed. All the time the people are slowly coming into the country and the land is being wonderfully within the few months that things have begun to show signs of real life around here. The fact that the Oregon Short Line is to be run through the Salt river valley instead of by way of Pocatello, we will be right in the center of a rich agricultural section. Mr. Pierce is the brother of W. O. Pierce, deputy bank commissioner at Stattenman. DENVER HAS CARNIVAL. Carnival to be held during week of National Apple Show. Denver, Colo., Nov. 3.—This city has the Denver Col. and Denver will be turned over to merry-making the week of the apple exposition and carnival. The big show will be held the week of November 12. That Denver will have the largest and best apple exposition ever seen in the west is certain, but the display will be only a part of a big show. For the first time the Auditorium will be used as a mammoth "apple orchard" for the exhibition which will be housed in the basement and in a huge temporary building 256 feet long and forty feet high, the side the Auditorium. The main part of the Auditorium will be used exclusively for the carnival events where upwards of 12,000 people may view the big circus. Monday night, November 13, will be a society night and the main attractions will be a genuine Russian ballet in which the Russian girls of Denver will take part, and an athletic tournament put on by the three universities and the Denver Athletic club. Prominent society women will be patronesses of this night's program. A grand military tournament and review will be given Tuesday night. Army officers from Fort Russell and Fort Logan will be guests of honor with Governor John F. Shafroth and his staff. The Grand parade and review will take place Tuesday morning and many countries have announced their intention of having contingents in the parade. Wednesday night will witness the superb horse show. "The Gentlemen's Show" and "Hillside club" have this exhibition in charge and will give a show that will rival anything of its kind ever seen in Madison Square Garden in New York. The "Gentlemen's Show" will be given Thursday night, and after traveling over the principal streets will pass in and out of the Auditorium before the view of thousands of spectators. Judging of the disinterested machines will be done in the Auditorium and everybody else will be in the Coliseum and endeavor for the prizes. The grand state and military ball and crowning of the queen of the apple blossom will take place Friday night, and the grand mask ball and Adam and Eve wedding is scheduled for Saturday night. Saturday afternoon there will be a mask parade and a promiscuous masking on the streets. LOST. Between Twin Falls and Kimberly, kit of auto tools and pair of chains. ## OCEAN SHIP TRAPS

Deadly-Snares Laid For Its Prey by the Glutton Sea.

KENTISH KNOCK IS PITILESS.

The "Traitorous Spot is the Real Davy Jones' Locker—No Hope For Vessel or Man Whose Fortune Alike Toll at This Submarine Graveyard."

"Davy Jones' locker," that perilous spot mentioned in which so often comes from the jaws of sailors, is not shown on any ocean chart, artistically because it is not really a settled place, but if any ocean dough trap deserved the title it is the "Davy Jones' locker."

The British naval authorities have a chart upon which is marked the position of wrecks, shown by black dots. On this chart, the "Davy Jones' locker" is a solid black spot. So numerous have been the wrecks the dots run together. The point where the black dots normally pile the one on the top of another is the Kentish Knock, and this is the place among all of the ocean danger spots that deserves the title of Davy Jones' locker.

At the Kentish Knock it is not too shallow rocks nor plotting points of coral that wreck the ocean travelers. It is a sand-bank, a shifting sandbank—that grasps the doomed ship with a grip of steel and holds it firmly while the angry sea beats it to fragments. Many a vessel posted at "Davy Jones' locker" would give up its prey. There is no hope for any man whose Neptune asks toll at the Kentish Knock, for the nearest land is twenty miles away and the nearest harbor is Margate, thirty miles distant.

The sands of the ocean are far more dangerous than rocks. The sand banks extend over more space and therefore offer more points of contact than the rocks, which usually rise in slender pinnacles. The waters flow over the sands in smooth waves, and there are no warning breakers.

Next to the "Davy Jones' locker" in point of danger is the "Davy Jones' locker" salt water river on which Calcutta stands. The most trying part of a large vessel's voyage from New York to Calcutta is the last few miles of this calm river. In this strange stream, in windless weather and in calm water, vessels have been lost—dashed to pieces on the dreaded ever shifting sand banks by the force of the tides.

The sands are not the least of the "Davy Jones' locker" traps. But the tide moves on with relentless force, and the helpless ship is carried over on her beam ends. She careens over and founders with all on board. One of the worst ships in the "Davy Jones' locker" bears the name of James and Mary. This was the name of a great Indian merchant ship wrecked on the sunken sand banks.

Another danger point dreaded by the master mariner has neither sand nor rocks, but a great submarine water fall. In the English channel there is a point just beyond the Shambles bank where there is a sudden drop in the sea bottom. The chained tides sweep over the banks and down this sudden drop, creating rapids equal in fury to those of Niagara. The American ship "Crescent" founded in Portland, bore the name by which this danger point is known, and all hands went down with her.

Ships bound to New York from Europe pass now a deadly hidden shoal which runs out from Sable Island, lying off Cape Sable, in Nova Scotia. The shoal runs out for miles in five directions, like the fingers of a great hand—reaching out for what it can destroy.

When the gales blow heavy seas boom upon the shoals with sufficient force to shatter the stanchest vessel afloat, and when the wind ceases the breakers are strewn with the bodies of those who have perished. The distance from the shore is too great and the surf too heavy for the life savers to reach a straggling vessel, and few lives are ever recovered. In these seas have been wrecked in this trap in a single week.

The rocky danger points in the ocean have nearly all been classified, and lights have been erected on the most dangerous—except one. There is no lighthouse on the Virgin rock, and there never will be.

Out in the mid-Atlantic this giant pinnacle rears its head up from the ocean floor and vainly seeks to reach the surface of the sea. It is about by about eighteen feet. There it stands, with its sharp point hidden by the ocean waves, waiting to pierce the bottom of some unsuspecting vessel and send it down to join the pile of ships' ribs and dead men's bones that litter the floor around its base.

The waves seem to be in a tug with the rock, for the rays of light draft tries to pass over its head the waves drop it down into a trough at the bottom of which the point of the rock is waiting to rip out its keel.—Harper's Weekly.

A GOLDEN NUGGET

FOR EVERY HOUSEHOLD.

A Nugget More Valuable in the Household Than The Product of the Mines. That Nugget is

GOLDEN VESTA BUTTER

In full pound cartons. The health of your household is priceless—beyond the purchasing power of gold. No one necessity of the table causes so much trouble if it is bad or unwholesome or so much pleasure if it is sweet and sanitary as Butter. We are talking to you because we believe that it is worth while to any housewife to purchase butter that will give satisfaction for every ounce of the sixteen in the pound.

In the first place it is made by experts who have discovered after years of experience that certain things must be observed in butter manufacture.

It is sanitary because the Lincoln Produce and Refrigerating Company is particular about sanitation and watches every process from the receiving of the cream until the Golden Butter is placed in the carton to send to the retailer.

It is this care that is making Golden Vesta a household word just as Jarbidge stands for gold to the mining men.

If a Store Can't "Make Good," Its Advertising Will Not Pay!

A store's advertising serves to make it known quickly to the whole community. If the store makes friends as rapidly as it makes acquaintances, its advertising will pay. If it would not stand up under the publicity test, its advertising—on any considerable scale—would wreck it—would wreck it by making people familiar with its defects—familiar with its non-usefulness to them!

Thus a store that is not sure of itself should avoid much advertising. And, by the same law, the store that thrives under advertising is the all-right store—the store that "makes good."

It Was Easy.
"You didn't catch a single fish during your trip?"
"No, but"—
"You got lots of bites. And some big ones got away. But Jones went up there after you came home"—
"The big bite?"
"Of course. But he caught the banner fish of the season."
"After that same fish had fattened himself on twenty-eight pounds of my bait? Why not?"—Cleveland Leader.

TRIED TO WORK SHERIFF.

Jim Rogers, who was arrested here, tried to work Lincoln Co. Sheriff.
Sheriff L. M. Zug and Deputy Chapman made a clever catch this week that reflects much credit on the sheriff's office of Lincoln county. A fellow came into the office Sunday morning claiming to be a forest ranger and his name looked better than an indication. He stated that he was out on a hunt for the "Whitney outlaws" and wanted Mr. Zug to cash a check for him. The Lincoln county sheriff offered to accommodate him in the matter, provided he could show proper credentials. This he failed to do. Soon after he hired a rig at Pardons' barn and drove to Jerome. There he changed rigs at a local livery stable and drove over to Twin Falls. Meanwhile Jerry Parrish, county clerk, who had the sheriff's phone over to Jerome to inquire about his team. The "forest ranger" was there all right, but the news made the Jerome liveryman feel uneasy about his own team. So Mr. Zug phoned ahead to Twin Falls and requested the sheriff there to keep a lookout for the nut. When the make-believe ranger was caught Monday evening, he had already offered the team for sale. Deputy Chapman left Tuesday on No. 14 and returned with him the next morning. When his name was first reported and his occupation as a cow puncher. Mr. Zug thinks that a man who will attempt a larceny game on a sheriff in his own office might well be credited with plenty of cheek.—Shoshone Journal.

COMING AND GOING.

Local Events From the Filer Journal.
Lester Coffin of North Yakima, Idaho, looking after business interests. Mrs. W. A. McLean of Enfield, Ill., a sister of Mrs. A. B. Wood, is expected in Filer tomorrow on a visit.
Claude Stewart leaves shortly for Twin Falls where he has secured a situation in the county recorder's office.
Messrs. Powers and Gourley were in Filer yesterday awakening interest in the proposed new grade near the present Clark's grade leading to the river. A new grade is absolutely necessary and our people are unit in their endeavor to secure one. The old grade is too steep and dangerous and a new grade can be made safer and with a very moderate rise with but little expense.
Frank Konarek and wife arrived in Filer—the first of the week from Nebraska and are now situated to remain. It will be remembered that Frank spent out here a year ago and returned to his old home at Valparaiso, Utah, to farm and though he was not happy. But it was not to be. About a month ago he came back and bought a splendid outfit of Filer thirteen miles. His brother John is expected in at any time with a car of migrant goods. Everybody is glad to have these good people back on the tract and hope they will find their new home as cool as a cucumber.
Grandpa Shifnor returned from his visit to Iowa last Friday afternoon and little Mary is as happy as any little one can be as a consequence.
Last Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Allen entertained a number of their friends in honor of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Moore, who are visiting here.
