

SCARED TO DEATH

BY REAL COMPETITION

For the first time in the history of Twin Falls, reputable, high-class merchandise is selling at lower, honest prices, faster than goods that have been marked up and then down to fool the public with a mere pretension that they are priced at cost.

Swiny and Company, the outside selling agents, employed by Over-Stocked and Company to conduct a fake "selling out sale," are scared to death by this real competition, and have attacked us through the newspapers with self-praise and personal abuse.

The circus manager and his troupe in charge of this "so-called sale" claim to have performed in all of the large cities on this continent and abroad, having given exhibitions even before the crowned heads. As a matter of fact, such cheap shows are confined to the one-night stand circuits in the rural districts. This particular company held forth in two or three stores at Burley before coming here. It is understood that after the losing Twin Falls venture they will go to Bull. And they probably they will be billed for an engagement on their way out, at Shoshone.

All the while, we are actually slaughtering prices and our clothes and other men's wearing apparel have been selling so fast that we have ordered our buyers in the east to rush more goods in and new shipments are now on the way. We have cut the prices away down until we have lost almost no profit—in order to make our credit good so that the people of the Twin Falls tract will ever afterward regard us as absolutely reliable merchants.

Our goods are purchased at the same concessions from which Marshall Field and Company and other well-known business houses throughout the country buy their merchandise. Our men's shirts come from the high-grade Schloss Brothers and Company and the celebrated K. K. Catherall Company; our underwear from the famous Cilea Mills and the renowned American Knitting Company; and our hats from the first manufacturers to make stiff hats in America, the Crawford-Knipp Company.

We defy Over-Stocked & Company to Duplicate or Ever be Able to Purchase Such Goods.

Let Us Prove to You That We Have Not Been Undersold Yet. Attend Our LEGITIMATE FORCED UNLOADING SALE

IS RECIPROcity DEAD?

Canada's decision as to reciprocity is regarded by Canadians and British generally as undoubtedly the most significant advance she has yet made toward nationhood. The result of the general election proclaimed Canada's purpose to work out her own destiny unmindful of outside influences. It also proclaimed that however American-Canadian trade tendencies may shape themselves henceforth, reciprocity is probably permanently relieved. It is altogether unlikely that any Canadian politician in our day will voluntarily assume the handicap which its advocacy would involve. Laurier's defeat was brought about in part by subsidiary issues, as well as by the various phases in which the anti-reciprocity feeling manifested itself. There was resentment at Uncle Sam's previous rejection of Canada's reciprocity advances, endorsement of the doctrine of "let-well-enough-alone" commercially, the spirit of British Imperialism and Canadian nationalism, the commendable confidence that the country was strong enough to stand firm on its own feet and blaze its own trail, and the fear that annexation really underlay the American overtures. No one can pretend to estimate the part played by each of these in the completeness of Laurier's overthrow. But the Liberal party caucus when the session opens this month may be trusted to relegate reciprocity to the museum of outworn political devices, as far as Canada is concerned.

Nevertheless, no impairment of trade relations or friendly intercourse between the two English-speaking peoples on this continent need be feared. Premier-elect Borden, in his message to the world on election night, emphasized the fact that the overture was not dictated by jealousy or unrighteousness, but was inspired by the confident conviction of the Canadian people that the real interests of the two countries would be best promoted by their preserving their fiscal identities. In even more clear and emphatic terms he reaffirms this message in the words addressed to the American people through this Review, which was printed on another page. The same idea has been expressed by the Canadian newspapers, and the virtual unanimous acquiescence by the American statesmen and publicists in the decision of the Canadian electorate did much to dispel the apprehension of any unpleasantness or misunderstanding following upon a result which some might consider a rebuff to the United States.—Review of Reviews.

Governor Hawley last night gave out the following signed statement on the pardoning of Clarence Robnett:

"To the people of Idaho: I feel that the pardon of Robnett is a fitting sequel to the proceedings in the United States court during the last four years, while the special assistants to the United States attorney general have been usurping the functions of the United States attorney and his assistants, and have been running the cases in which the United States has been interested with a high hand, regardless of justice or decency.

"I am not surprised at this pardon. In fact, I have been satisfied for some time that it had been promised and would be granted. No act ever done in connection with the courts of Idaho has so brought justice into disrepute and weakened the courts in the estimation of our people.

"But it is what we have a right to expect, however, when we remember that for more than four years, in every important case in which the United States was interested, the regular prosecuting officers have been refused, and these special assistants to the attorney general have been given full control.

"I have always considered this course not only an insult to the able gentlemen who have filled the position of United States attorney, and their assistants, but to the court itself, and to the people of this whole state.

any man except himself. Since becoming governor of the state it has become patent to nearly every person following the career of Mr. Hawley that he considers himself the only man in the state capable of dealing with legal questions. It is apparent in his stand on the tax question, it is apparent in his criticism of the Federal court procedure in the above. It is clearly seen in his attitude toward the courts which he has sanctioned. If Governor Hawley desires to have the courts sustained and condemn the pardoning of Clarence Robnett, just what can he say for himself in some thirty counties since January first in which he is in conjunction with the state board of pardons have perpetrated and set at naught nearly every district court in the state by pardoning the criminals sentenced by jury trial and fair court procedure. Now the legal governor comes out and scores the federal government for similar action. "Consistency, thou art a virtue." How about the Idaho courts being brought into disrepute by the governor, pardoning prerogative?

ONLY THE BOND NOW LACKING

Artesian City Railway Applies for New Franchise.

COMMISSIONERS REQUEST PLACING OF BOND BEFORE ACTION.

Believe that Bond to Protect County in Compliance With Franchise is Only Justice

Monday W. G. Cherry, representing the Twin Falls Artesian City railway, appeared before the board of county commissioners asking for consideration of a new franchise for an interurban railway east from this city to Ardenburg, and for a loan covering the trip to Shoshone falls. Mr. Cherry in placing the matter before them was informed that as soon as the required bond was placed, the matter would be taken up and not until that time. The indication being given to him that while the bond was not placed, Mr. Cherry stated that it would be forthcoming, but up to the present issue of the Times, has not filed bond or appeared before the board for further hearing.

The right of way filed last week is valuable to the holders in that considerable work has been printed on the grade by the ranchers and it is expected that something will be done by Mr. Cherry and associates within a short time.

STARTED FIRE WITH KEROSENE

Wife of Farmer Near Abandon Victim of Careless Handling of Oil.

Burley, Nov. 12.—Mrs. Cook, wife of Alonzo Cook, a farmer living a few miles south of Abilene, met with a fatal accident at her home when a can of kerosene with which she had been starting a fire in the cook stove became tipped and exploded, throwing oil over her body and burning her so that she died within a few hours. Mrs. Cook, the daughter of the deceased, was badly burned, but not fatally. The funeral services over the body of Mrs. Cook were held today under the auspices of the L. S. church, Burley, by E. Harper officiating.—Statesman.

COVER LATERAL AS EXPERIMENT

Ditch at Eighth Avenue North and East May be Covered.

The city has just finished putting a reinforced concrete flume on Eighth avenue and Shoshone street for the lateral which has been a menace to the lives of the little children in that neighborhood. The stretch put in some heavy feet, was in the nature of an experiment and if the expense is not too great the property owners on that avenue will probably petition for an improvement district to finance the entire ditch with the concrete flumes. Hereafter a narrow wooden bridge has been the only means of passage out from Shoshone and during the dark nights several autos have gone off into the ditch. The work of the city will meet with approval by all owners and automobile owners of the city.

ITALIAN TRIO POPULAR.

Bistolli Orchestra Draws Crowd at Lyric.

Bistolli's Italian orchestra, which closed an engagement at the Lyric last Monday, was very popular with the music loving public and should they return will be greeted with large houses. During their stay the men of the orchestra were in a dominating mood. The Elks and other wives were given a delightful afternoon concert and on Sunday the three melodious gals several numbers in the Methodist church. The devotees of the light fantasia were also given opportunity to dance to the music for a short time during the last club dance.

RESIGNATION EXPECTED.

Pres. Taft Meets His Cabinet for First Time in Three Months.

Washington, Nov. 14.—President Taft met his cabinet for the first time in three months today. There was a recurrence of the rumor that Secretary of Agriculture Wilson will resign. It is said he is only waiting until the president selects a man to succeed him. It is said it has been offered two men and declined.

The contents of the president's message were considered today. It is indicated that he will touch on the high cost of living, parcel post and deal with the fuel and cotton schedules. It is also thought he will recommend supplementary anti-trust legislation along the lines of a federal incorporation act.—Capital News.

C. D. Thomas Will Officiate in Championship Football.

Next Saturday Albon Normal and the Pocatello Academy will play at Pocatello for the Academic championship of southern Idaho, each team having defeated the College of Idaho, the only other contestant in the schedule. C. D. Thomas, who has refereed a number of games between the local high school and has also officiated at other Normal school games, has been invited by Albon to go to Pocatello and umpire the game.

WILL CONSIDER PROBLEMS.

Commercial Congress is Opened at Kansas City.

Kansas City, Nov. 14.—Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson and former Senator Arthur C. Newhall, principal speakers at the Trans-Mississippi Commercial congress, which opened this morning. A. C. Trumbull, Muskogee, chairman of the executive committee, brought the convention to order with the statement that the conclusions of the commercial congress should be morally binding on every western congressman and senator.

The attendance was the most representative in the history of the congress, which was organized more than 20 years ago to aid in the commercial development of the west. Many of the delegations today were headed by the governors of the respective states. The governors and other distinguished visitors were given seats upon the platform and in the boxes, while the remainder was reserved for the delegates, who were arranged by states.

The program of the first day's proceedings included the annual address of Colonel W. P. Fleming, of Kansas City, president of the congress, who delivered his message at the opening session. The remainder of the session was taken up with the exchange of greetings, the roll call and the appointment of committees.

The session which began today will continue until Saturday. In recent years the congress has broadened the scope of its sessions and many of the subjects scheduled for discussion in the present session are of live interest not only to the trans-Mississippi territory but to the country at large. Former Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island is here to address the congress on the subject of monetary reform. Arnold Shanklin, consul general at Mexico, will speak on the cultivation of trade relations with the southern republic and Louisiana Grubbs, U. S. Supt. of Customs at San Antonio, will tell of the progress of work on the Panama canal. Governor Hilday of Missouri, Governor Stubbs of Kansas, Governor Shafroth of Colorado, Secretary of the Interior and other public men of national prominence will be heard on a wide range of topics connected more or less directly with the commercial development of the country. The reclamation of western lands, the transportation problem and the question of good roads are believed to have a foremost place on the agenda. Other matters that will receive attention are the development of the livestock industry, municipal government, the conservation of natural resources, public health and the development and use of inland waterways.—Capital News.

SEED FOR CRIMINAL LIBEL.

Editor of 'New Time' Charged with Maliciously J. M. Bistline.

Suit for criminal libel has been filed by Mayor J. M. Bistline of Pocatello, against Truxton Talbot, editor of the Mountainhome Now Time. An information drawn by County Attorney B. M. Terrell, and subscribed by Mayor Bistline, was filed yesterday in Justice of the Peace Folk Van Reuth's court and a "warrant of arrest" has issued. The allegation is that along about the first day of September of this year, there was printed in the New Time an article, written by Editor Talbot, which in the language of the complaint, "impeached the honesty, integrity, virtue and reputation of the said J. M. Bistline and thereby exposed him to public hatred and scorn."

The article in question purported to be a review of the acts of Mayor Bistline during his membership on the Pocatello city council and during the beginning of his present term of mayor with reference to the "water question" in Pocatello.

Mr. Talbot came to Pocatello from Blackfoot, where he was employed on the Idaho Republican, and took over from C. O. Broxon, now managing editor of the Boise Evening Capital News, then editor of the Pocatello Advance, the publication of this city of the latter paper. He enjoyed a comparatively brief career, moving to Boise, thence to Mountainhome. He and Mr. Bistline, at a time when the latter was a member of the city council, became bitter enemies as a result of a series of articles in the Advance and almost came to blows on the street at one time.

The outcome of the suit will be watched with interest by the friends of both men.—Pocatello Tribune.

LATH AGAINST POLL TAX.

Senator Day, Who Voted for the Bill, Says He is Sorry.

When the last legislature of Idaho—"the elusive Eleventh"—passed a law empowering the various boards of county commissioners to levy a poll tax on every person—male and female included—able to vote, exempting none, its members did not foresee that the measure would arouse the ire of the whole populace of Latah county, and cause the "hot poll tax" collector to rather rather than face the wrath of people, and a second collector to quit after being soundly thrashed by an indignant Moscow citizen, says a Moscow special. There are no applicants for the vacant job.

The law seems to have caught all the members of the Latah delegation napping, save Senator Day, the millionaire mine owner. While admitting that he voted for the measure, Day declared that he was unacquainted with its provisions, and joins with the people in denouncing it.—Capital News.

Revival services are being conducted each evening at the Church of the Brethren, commencing at 7:45. The services are being conducted by Elder L. E. Ely. A cordial invitation is extended to all to attend these meetings.

The revival meeting being held by the Baptist and Christian churches will close Friday night. Greater results were desired, but much good has been done, we believe, and the fellowship of the churches has been very pleasant. The regular services will be held next Lord's day. They will be as follows in the Church of Christ: Bible school at 10 a. m. Sermon and worship at 11 a. m. Subject, "What the churches of Christ Stand for and Teach." C. E. meeting at 6:30 p. m. Song service and sermon at 7:30 p. m.

Mr. C. H. Robbins entertained at her home on Ninth avenue North Wednesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Townsend. A dainty five-course luncheon was served, the table being very prettily decorated. At the guest of honor's plate was placed a beautiful bouquet of chrysanthemums. The entertainment of the afternoon was unique, the guests being given trade names from advertisements to go out and buy the ladies were to guess what they represented. Mrs. Bradley was successful in winning the prize and presented it to the guest of honor. The following ladies were present: Mrs. James Townsend, Felling, Robinson, Bradley, Jenkinson, Wall, Gamble, Phillo, Epler and Pitaran.

BRUNEAU PROJECT MOVES ALONG

Something of Gigantic Reservoir and Canal—Will Water 571,000 Acres.

Idaho's state land office has just completed the examination of data on the tremendous Brunneau extension to the Twin Falls project, and has forwarded its findings to the department at Washington, D. C. This is in line with the policy both of the projectors and the state, to rush the project through as soon as possible and open the way to an army of settlers from all parts of the country.

This Brunneau project in point of size and possibilities for the future throws all others far into the background. It includes 261,734 acres of the Boise land district and 319,411 acres in the Hatley land district.

Water for this project is to be diverted from the Snake river at the Miller dam. The main canal from the Snake river to the Salmon river is 72.1 miles long. This canal is run on a grade of 5 feet per mile and has a capacity of 10,000 second feet. It is 220 feet wide at the bottom and has a slope of 3 to 1. It is 12 feet deep. One of the Salmon river branches increased to maintain a velocity of three feet per second. The total length of the canal from the Snake river to the Brunneau is 140.3 miles.

Will Be Concrete Canal.
Information furnished to the federal government is to the effect that this great canal will be lined with concrete to lessen the size, increase the velocity and save seepage.

The gigantic reservoir that is to conserve water for this project will extend up the Snake river from the Miller dam to American Falls, a distance of 70 miles. It will have a capacity of 3,435,000 acre feet. The dam is 30 feet high and the flow will cover about 70,000 acres. The rights of way for the reservoir have been filed upon by the Kuhn interests.

Three smaller reservoirs, extending from Miller to American Falls, there are three other reservoirs sufficient to hold 200,000 acre feet of water. There are included within the project are three other reservoirs which have been determined.

All the land embraced within this gigantic project has been duly surveyed by the authorities at Washington, and the work of opening up the land for settlement is said to be progressing to the entire satisfaction of the federal government, the state and the projectors.—Statesman.

DAIRY KNOWLEDGE

Some Helps for the Busy Farmer Concerning the Dairy Business.

A gentle cow is a pleasure, an unmanageable one a nuisance. A gentle, well trained cow will give more milk. A cow's value is increased many times if she will lead like a horse. Herder train all the heifer calves to lead if you wish to keep them. In making a halter to lead the heifer, place the headpieces back of the ears so that it will not draw across the eyes.

Oil meal or flax seed is highly recommended three or four days before calving. As a rule grain should be withheld unless the cow is weak. Bran mashes should be given.

There are three important factors that go to make up the dairy cow. These are breed, feed and care. It is uncertain which is of the greatest importance, but experience has taught us that they must go together for the best results.

One important factor is training. Our calves learn to know that each member of the family is their friend. We never have a heifer to break. We have developed in them affection for us, which alone prompts them to maternal action of elaborating and yielding to us the material which nature intended for their offspring. We must remember that a cow is prompted to yield her milk only by maternal affection for her young, this she is by nature apt she will only yield it to man to the extent of her affection for him.

Chow her hay is almost three times as valuable as corn fodder or shelled fodder. Keep salt where the cattle may have access to it when desired.—Grace Eby, Greene Co., Ohio, in Successful Farmer.

CONTRACT PUMPING PLANTS

Construction Work on Canals and Laterals to Cover High Land Let.

Now that the day of the opening of the 14,000-acre of high land on the First and Second North Side sections has been determined, the Twin Falls North Side Land & Water company will push the construction work with its accustomed vigor. Water must be ready for delivery on these lands April 1st, 1912, and the letting of the contract means that the work will be initiated at that time.

The following concerning the contractors and the force that will be on the work is from the Boise Station, Jan. 1st, 1912:

In the letting yesterday, to the Slick Brothers company of this city, a contract for installing a pumping plant and 25 miles of canals, the Kuhn Brothers have made sure of putting in shape for cultivation 14,000 acres of the North Side Twin Falls tract which are above the level of the present canal system.

Purity of Ingredients Gives High Quality to

HERBST & RAMBO'S CANDIES

Only specially selected, wholesome colorings are used, bearing the Pure Food Label.

Flavorings are the best that money can buy and give the candies a pleasant, distinctive taste—not bitter.

The best grade sugars are used, made especially for high-grade confections.

Herbst & Rambo's high-quality candies cost a little more than otherwise, on account of purity of ingredients, but you get the benefit—the satisfaction of eating the best.

HERBST & RAMBO'S

CONFECTIONERS

The work is said to involve the expenditure of a large amount of money, and the Slick Brothers company expects to commence work immediately with 200 teams. The job is to be finished by April 1st, 1912, and the Kuhn plan to have the land under cultivation next year.

The pumping plant to be installed will be modern and one of the largest yet put in operation in this part of the country, according to the specifications.

It is said that this plan will redeem from the sage brush a tract of land which, without the pumping system, would never be anything but desert.—Boise Side News.

RELIEF TO HOMESTEADERS.

Authorizes Relinquishment of Part of Unit.

Washington, Nov. 13.—Secretary Fisher today decided that homestead entrymen subject to the reclamation act may relinquish part of his farm unit and have the payments which have been made on the part relinquished credited on the charges against retained part, and further if the entryman so desires thereafter he may relinquish part of the retained farm unit and have the charges paid credited on the part not relinquished.

secretary has authorized such entrymen to reduce the area of his farm and will credit the amount paid upon each farm unit to area retained by entryman.—Statesman.

FIRST CRIMINAL PROSECUTION

Individual Meat Packers to Stand Trial in Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—After more than nine years of investigation by the government, the first criminal prosecution of individual meat packers under the Sherman anti-trust act will begin here tomorrow before Judge George A. Carpenter in the United States district court. Ten Chicago packers will be placed on trial, charged with monopolizing and restraining interstate trade in fresh meats. The penalty which may be inflicted, if they are found guilty is a fine of $5,000, or a term of one year in the county jail, or both. The defendants are:

- Leah P. Swift, president of Swift & Co., and director of the National Packing company.
- Edward F. Swift, vice president of Swift & Co. and director of the National Packing company.
- Charles H. Swift, director of Swift & Co.
- Edward W. Tilden, president of the National Packing company.
- J. Osgood Armour, president of Armour & Co.
- Arthur Meeker, general manager of Armour & Co.
- Edward Morris, president of Morris & Co.
- Francis A. Fowler, director of Swift & Co.
- Thomas J. Connors, superintendent of Armour & Co.
- Louis H. Heyman, manager for Morris & Co.

A special panel of 150 men has been summoned from which to select the jury. Hundreds of witnesses have been called. It is expected that the trial will last for several months. The first action against the packers came in 1903, when Judge Peter S. Grosscup enjoined them from violating the Sherman act. Investigation of charges against the packers followed, and on July 1, 1906, 16 packers and four companies were indicted. Judge Humphrey granted the defendants immunity in 1908, when Judge Peter S. Grosscup granted the defendants immunity in 1908, when Judge Peter S. Grosscup granted the defendants immunity in 1908.

A new investigation resulted in March, 1910, in indictments against the National Packing company and its subsidiary concerns, and a bill in equity was filed, asking disintegration of the National Packing company. These indictments were quashed by Judge Landis.

A new grand jury, empaneled in July, 1911, brought in the indictments against the 10 packers. Since then there have been several skirmishes in court, and the government has won all of them. All technicalities have been swept aside and the defendants have pleaded not guilty and all that remains is the jury trial.

Control Meat Industry.
Most of the government's efforts will be directed to show the purpose of the organization of the National Packing company. The government charges that, through this organization, the packers were able to control the meat industry.

TWO OF FAMILY INJURED.

Son Accidentally Shot, While Father's Leg Is Broken.

Two serious accidents occurred in the family of John G. Martin of Little Bohm, during the past week. On Friday, November 3, the oldest son, J. S. Martin, accidentally shot himself through the left ankle while loading a revolver, with which to shoot a rabbit. The wound was a painful one, the ball entering the bone. The doctors were not able to locate the lead, but feel that it will not result in permanent injury.

On the following Monday morning, Nov. 6, the father, J. G. Martin, while in the field at work had the misfortune to have the plow capsize with him, breaking his left leg just above the ankle, thus leaving the father and son disabled at the same time.—Burley Bulletin.
