IDAHO EXHIBIT THROWN OUT

Commissioner Rich Has Row With Directors.

SITUATION DOES NOT AFFECT TWIN FALLS EXHIBIT.

Idaho Exhibit Under Direction of Mahoney Still Holds Valuable Position in Land Show.

Because State Immigration Commissioner S. J. Rich could not agree with the management upon the space which the Idaho exhibit was to have at the Chicago Land Show, he has decided to withdraw the exhibit from the show, which he did, although most of it was in place. It was also learned that W. H. Hedway of Caldwell had been sent to Chicago by Governor Hawley to investigate the matter.

The Chicago Land show does not close until Dec. 9, when the St. Paul land show opens Dec. 12, and with the exhibit in the latter city will have a valuable for some time before it can be placed on display.

The above taken from the Capital News of Idaho, would indicate an unfavorable position for this state if the facts in the case were not published. It is true that Rich has forced out his exhibit on the Chicago Land Show, but it is still true that Idaho is still represented by a fine exhibit in the show. Mahoney, who was in charge of the exhibit for Southern Idaho for space purchased by the Kuhns, has still his position in the Land Show and Twin Falls, together with the other section of the South, are perhaps benefited by the encounter inasmuch as it gives undivided interest to the exhibit now in place.

WILL OCCUPY NEW BUILDING

Portion of High School Building Ready for Pupils.

FURNITURE AND FIXTURES SET IN PLACE WEDNESDAY.

School Will Be Opened in New $160,000 Building Monday Morning, December 11th.

The high school pupils and instructors will assemble next Monday morning for the first time in the handsome and modern high school building. While the building is far from completed Supt. Elliott deemed it wise to move the portion finished and ready for occupancy into the new building, which from now on will be devoted to grade work. The desks and school furniture were moved on Wednesday and when the school commences Monday morning the work will go on with no interruption.

The workmen will with them away in the building and it is expected that work on the present structure will not be completed until January. After that time the contract for the finishing of the school will have been let and the work pushed as much as possible.

In the meantime while space has been arranged for the whole high school, yet many of the arrangements must be necessarily temporary. A visit to the new building by the Times reporter was made worthy while through the courtesy of Supt. O. M. Elliott, who permits conducted the tour of the building and spent much time in showing just what could be done for the pupils in giving them advantages of a modern school building.

On the second floor two large rooms on the front will be occupied by the commercial department, which has sixty students and the second and larger rooms for the general study room where desk space will be provided. In the north corner of this floor will be installed temporarily the chemistry and physics laboratory, later to be moved into permanent quarters in the north wing under process of construction. Two rooms on this floor will be used for class rooms. Opening off from this floor at the rear is the big auditorium gallery, which will seat 200 and the big room which the big room is estimated to hold. At present the auditorium is in the hands of the workmen.

On the third floor directly under the dome is a large room which will be used for the art department. The first floor contains four class rooms, which will be used by the various departments until the permanent placement can be made, when the whole building is completed. On the left of the main entrance is found the office of the superintendent with a small waiting room and a larger office equipped with handsome furniture, desks and filing cabinets. In this office will be held the sessions of the board of directors and a separate waiting room for his private use. The big building, except during the school session, is a fire trap, built into this office will provide for the school records.

Supt. Elliott, who has built up a remarkable system in the schools, gave in brief account the methods of checking the monies and school property handled. An index system carefully preserves a copy of every order for supplies with the number purchased, the cost, freight charges and the selling price. The selling price to students is also charged against the superintendent and the whole carried on under a double entry system. At

NEW JEWELRY STORE

Thomas F. Evans Has Opened for Business Next Door to Postoffice.

Thomas F. Evans arrived in this city from Boise the last of the week and will engage in the jewelry business in the building next door to the postoffice. Evans, the proprietor, and comes here well recommended as an expert watch repairer. A part of the stock is now here and the display and repair work is being arranged daily. It is prepared to do all kinds of watch repairing and engraving in a first-class manner.

READY FOR BIDS.

For the Completion of the Wings of the New High School Building.

Wastland & Eggen are ready to ask for bids for the two wings to the new Twin Falls high school, the rapidly increasing enrollment of the school. When completed the school will have a capacity of 600 and will cost $100,000—State money.

HOUSING WANTED.

Good Grade Poland China brood sows and stock hogs. 12-20 Laverling, Twin Falls, Ida. Nov. 28

At the end of the term either the manager of the property must be produced by him. In buying text books the lowest possible charge is made to the students in order to meet the expense of handling. Tickets for the auditorium will be sold from this office and the money handled in the same careful manner.

On the right of the main entrance will be found the office and class room of Principal James of the high school and in this case also the equipment has been made ready through the workmen, supply closets and toilet room.

Across the hall in the main entrance to the ground floor of the auditorium and the whole room with the large stage at the front in a departure from the ordinary high school building will be found the office and class room of Principal James of the high school and in this case also the equipment has been made ready through the workmen, supply closets and toilet room.

Of the heating plant, which when completed will cost the district $14,000, the principal features worth mentioning is the plan of heating air by steam and sending the heated air by fans into the rooms. The supply of air is regulated by thermometers so that the temperature in the room is kept at seventy degrees with no attention from the engineer as long as the head of steam is kept up. The other feature was the placing of the boiler room outside the main building that in case of explosion of fire would not endanger the lives of the pupils.

The building at present looks out of proportion, due to the fact that part of one wing has been erected. The contract which will be let within a short time will construct back wings and give to the district the beautiful building which is shown in the accompanying architect's sketch.

HIGH SCHOOL DOWNS ALUMNI

Has Beens Fail to Come Back to Old Form.

RECELAWS WIN BY A SCORE OF 17 TO 1 IN PAST GAME.

High School Freshmen-Beaten by the Eighth Grade Team by Score of 5 to 0.

The alumni failed to prove the superiority of the old style football as manifest that of the high school captains in the football game played yesterday at the hall gym. The team was made up of sensational plays and while the freshmen did not score, they were sufficiently dangerous to keep the recruits on their mettle all through the game.

The first score was made near the close of the first quarter, when a long run by Gidding, line backs and forward passes carried the ball over the thirty yard line in spite of stout stubborn resistance. Two more touchdowns were made by the high school team in the next two quarters, netting them a total of 17 points.

In the last quarter the alumni team made the best showing of the game, when they carried the ball from their own forty-yard line by three backs to within two feet of the high school goal only to lose a touch-down from the position of the ball on the side line which spoiled their fine play and forced them to try the end with no gain.

THANKSGIVING BLAZE.

Fire in Twin Falls House Causes Heavy Damages to Proprietor.

The quiet of Thanksgiving morning was disturbed by the alarm of fire about 11:30 yesterday and the destruction was serious. The fire broke in a blaze in the Twin Falls house. As near as can be learned the fire started in the second story in room eight and only twenty minutes later the entire building was a mass of flames. The proprietor claiming that every one was out of the rooms and there was no chimney in that part of the building, the fire was not occupied by W. A. McElister of a restaurant below and left to burn on the second floor. The contents of the upstairs rooms were taken from fire and water but partly covered by insurance. It was only by quick and decisive action by the fire department, organized by citizens, that the building was saved.

DEER AS PACEMAKER.

Lively Spurt Developed by Throtille Holder—Striving to Catch the Animal.

Oregon Short Line Train No. 18, which in common with all other trains has been pulling into Gooding from one to five hours late every day, was only twenty minutes late last Sunday. This unusual occurrence caused some comment, and inquiry developed that 18 and a deer had had a race up the right of way several miles out of Ticekan. In a sudden burst of speed the train outdistanced the fleet-footed animal and arrived here nearer to schedule time than is customary. But it was the deer as a pacemaker that got the speed out of the locomotive—Gooding Leader.

WORLD'S PRODUCTION OF COAL.

United States Exceeds All Other Countries in 1910—Great Britain Second.

The total coal production of the world in 1910 was approximately 1,200,000,000 short tons, of which the United States and Great Britain produced one-third each. This country has far outstripped all other countries in 1910 according to the United States production survey. It exceeded Great Britain, which ranked second, by over 200,000,000 tons. Great Britain's production in 1910 was less than 50 per cent of that of the United States, and Germany's was less than half. The increase in both of those countries in 1910 over 1909, was comparatively small.

The United States has held first place among the coal-producing countries of the world since 1899, when it surpassed Great Britain. In the 11 years since 1899 the annual output of the United States has nearly doubled, from 252,741,192 short tons to 501,256,155 short tons, whereas that of Great Britain has increased only 20 per cent, from 216,206,155 short tons to 259,007,289 tons.

The following table shows the coal production of the principal countries of the world in 1910, except those for which only 1909 figures are available.

COMMUNICATION.

Editor News. Permit me to correct a statement which recently appeared in the Twin Falls Chronicle, wherein the editor of that paper makes the claim that the recent election in New Jersey and Ohio have passed a decided verdict in favor of Governor Wilson of New Jersey.

It is true that the Republicans will have a small majority in the next New Jersey legislature. New Jersey is controlled, or rather has been controlled, and Governor Wilson took the helm.

The Republicans are not in a position to give a final verdict in New Jersey as the new statistics in New Jersey will bear witness. In addition to the Pennsylvania case, which is being looked upon by the progressive element of democracy as the logical candidate for president.

It is not fair to say that the present incumbent, who is too independent, too sincere, too able. The progressive element of democracy is not thousands of dollars into the New Jersey campaign for the purpose of rebuking Wilson and destroying his chances for the presidency.

In Ohio, however, the Democrats were successful in electing in the largest State in the East. The Ohio governor, such is not the case. It was a striking rebuke. The fact is the matter are that Frank Hunt, the former maker, and Henry Hunt, the newly elected mayor are all known to be strong anti-Wilson men.

The displacement of Commissioner Rich's exhibit at the Chicago Land Show is regrettable in that it gives the whole state adverse distinction. Yet in the treatment of Commissioner Rich no slight was intended to the state and the whole matter was a personal encounter between Rich and Crona. As a matter of fact, the learned Idaho representative had the impression that his position as immigration commissioner entitled him to special privileges and when the same were refused he became abusive and dictatorial. Reports from the show indicate, however, that the exhibit placed by the Kuhns and in charge of Mr. Mahoney, is well placed and attractive. It is arranged and that Idaho will receive some splendid advertising results from it.

THE NEIGHBORHOOD SPIRIT AND TRAINING FOR CITIZENSHIP.
The formation of an organization the purpose of which is primarily training for citizenship has resulted from the National Conference on Social Center and Civic Development held in Madison, Wisconsin, under the auspices of the University of Wisconsin and a temporary Social Center Association. The association's purpose is training for citizenship through the promotion of the spirit of neighborhood, and for the promotion of this spirit the association sees the logical place to be the community's one great common property, dedicated to its most intimate interest—the public schools. The first plank in the platform adopted at the conference says: "The social center represents all the people in those interests which are common to all. It is the people's forum and the permanent headquarters for citizenship and neighborly spirit. In it the people come to know one another and how to make their government work. The public school plant now functions only in part. Its present service is material. The social center makes it also function fraternally. Details of this widened use of the school-plant vary with local needs, but its spirit is the Lincoln spirit." That one state is already committed to this broader ideal of education is witnessed by the passage of a bill in the last Wisconsin legislature providing for the free use of school-houses and school grounds for discussion or recreational purposes upon application. The idea is to get the people's property in the school plants wholly into the hands of the people for the making of citizens. This significant movement attempts to answer several questions, variously expressing the same personality. One question comes prominently upon the scene of the Chicago Vice Commission as it has been coming for years to the ears of social workers: "Human beings are not bad—they are good. And they love play. What that is good can we substitute for that which is bad into which the wholesome recreational instinct draws them?" One question is the challenge of the dance-hall promoter, as it is of the political boss: "Well, what are you going to do about it?" And, one question is the newly formulated question of the taxpayers, who see that they are getting only a fractional return for what they have invested in public-school property; "Ought not school houses to be used more than six hours a day?" The Social-Center association believes that it has found the answer. It was first put to the test in Rochester a few years ago at the hands of Edward J. Ward, who originated the school-center idea and gave it successful expression in the Rochester public schools. Governor Hughes, on visiting these school centers, said: "I am very interested in what you are doing here than in anything else in the world. You are buttressing the foundations of democracy." To the University of Wisconsin the idea was an application of its own principle of "abandoning old standards as to the scope of a university and adopting a new standard that discards merely minor details, to include all lines of educational work for which it is the best-fitted instrument." Through the extension division of the University, of which he is now a member, Mr. Ward has been for a year developing social centers in Wisconsin towns, and his work has resulted in this conference. The National association has established headquarters in New York, and the next conference is to be held in Toledo.—The Outlook.

CRAMER—DONS—STRIPES.

Begins His Term in Prison But Files Petition for Rehearing of His Case.

Leo Cramer, former president of the Idaho State bank of Halley, convicted of receiving deposits at that bank which he knew to be stolen, is now more a citizen of the United States for the present at least. He exchanged his identity yesterday afternoon—four o'clock, and for some time he will be known within the stone walled world where he has taken up his abode as convict No. 103. His case was taken by the sheriff to the penitentiary yesterday afternoon, and already he is wearing the stripes.

The same record that is kept in the cases of burglars and footpads will be made of him, his measurements and photograph being taken and statistics made out regarding his record as they are for every other convict received at the penitentiary.

Cramer's photograph will be taken today, first with his street clothes on, and then in his prison garb. When he puts on his street clothing to pose for his picture, that will be the last time he will wear anything but the uniform prescribed by prison routine until he has finished his sentence and is released.

Just what work he will be given to do, the authorities at the institution have not determined, but they said last night that he would be shown no favoritism, and that he must expect to be given any kind of work that other prisoners are made to do. Cramer's sentence is an indeterminate one of from six months to two years.

In the state supreme court N. M. Rulick and other attorneys acting in behalf of Mr. Cramer filed a petition to recall the verdict and grant a rehearing of the case against the banker on the ground that it appears from the opinion rendered by the supreme court early in the week that in the judgment cited therein in support of the court's conclusion, the judges failed to require or apply the distinction and firmly required and applied in cases such as this, between the reception of deposits by an employer of a private bank, banker or banking partnership, and the reception of a deposit into an incorporated bank by an officer or employe other than the accused. No litigation was given of course as to when the justices of the supreme court would take action on the petition.—Statesman.

A BOOSTERS IDEA.

Would Have Moving Pictures Taken of Tract and Exhibited in the East.

Here I have one suggestion to make to the enterprising citizens of the Twin Falls country, that, if carried out, in my opinion will do more to ad-van explanation, by lettering or by picture, calling attention to its splendid showing, and I believe the public will not be slow to grasp its wonderful superiority. A lecturer explaining acreage yield of grain and alfalfa, etc., with these pictures, visiting cities and towns would, in my opinion, bring thousands of people here in a short time.—G. A. Gibbons, in Hollister Herald.

JARBIDGE MAKES STRICKS.

Last Week With One of Developments in Nevada Gold Mining Camp.

That many strikes are being made in Jarbidge and that the camp has perhaps a larger future than any of which he is conversant, is the opinion of A. N. Sprague of Twin Falls, who has just arrived from the scene of activity. Mr. Sprague says that last week many events transpired which will have considerable effect on the camp. He is interested in the Hawaiian Mining & Milling company which has an 11-foot vein of 36 ore. The property is being financed for further development, for the showing of high grade ore. Last week the Buckeye, he says, made a strike of 3 inches of ore which will average $20.00 and has 3 feet of $20 ore. This is reported to be the richest ore in the camp. It was this property that Harry Clark is reported to have been looking for. The Court of Mines Jarbidge has drilled several hundred feet in the Judges and has a foot of ore which runs from $20 to $25. It also has high grade ore in place which runs up to $2,000 to the ton, but in small amounts.

The opinion of mining men who have examined the camp seems to be general that it has a great future. Mr. Sprague has been in Republic and other gold camps, and declares Jarbidge to be the best prospective district with which he is acquainted.

KILLED IN THE BATTLE OF COMPETITION

Overstocked & Company, the Napoleon of the Twin Falls Clothing Trade, is dead. His brazenly advertised but poorly inked Closing Out Sale has ended in calamitous defeat at the hands of Straus & Glauber, the Champions of Legitimate Merchandizing, the Wellknown of German birth but American citizenship, who have brought about this bitter Waterloo by means of the most deadly weapon known in the mercantile business, that of

LOWER PRICES FOR BETTER GOODS

Swiny & Company, the Marshal Ney for Overstocked & Company, whose aid as professional sales agent, with circus side-show tactics, was bought at the cost of 10 per cent added to the price which the buying public must pay for Overstocked's merchandise, weeps vengefully because of the loss of commissions. In this hour of agony, Straus & Glauber are called foreigners and imitators. True, they were born in Germany, but they are now loyal naturalized citizens of the United States. This nation of ours would not exist had it not been populated by men from foreign shores. And in a free country no merchant no matter how self-sufficient, can say, "You cannot hold a sale, too."

RE-MARK THE STOCK AND CHANGE THE FRONT

They announce that they will close Thursday and Friday. Straus & Glauber intended to close Thursday anyway, for it was Thanksgiving. They do not need to spend a legal holiday in re-marking their goods, for they were marked right at the start. Their front is the same as the inside of their store—always honest. The profit-making season for the merchant is now past. Straus & Glauber cannot expect to make any money this season, but intend to show the people that they CANNOT BE UNDERSOLD.

They are in the fight to stay, as Twin Falls' leading clothiers.

BADLY BURNED BY GASOLINE

Tom Roberts of the Royal Cleaning Company Injured.

EXPLOSION OF GASOLINE CALLS OUT FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Proprietor of Pressing Plant Seriously Burned While at Work This Morning.

A fire alarm turned in at 11:00 from the Royal Cleaning & Pressing company, brought out the department in a quick run. The blaze, however, proved to be slight and was speedily extinguished. The fire was caused by an explosion of gasoline occurring in the laundry, J. M. Roberts, who was seriously burned by the flames, which started up from the apparatus he was operating. He was immediately taken to the office of Dr. Clouche, where it was discovered that he was badly burned about the head and arms, but it is thought that he will recover.

SESSION IS PROBABLE

Will be Held in March and Will Only Take up Taxation Problem.

Governor Hawley makes it plain he has decided to issue a call for extra session of Idaho legislature.

The surplus fund has reached the total $500,000.00.

Special Auditor Taylor declares that special session plan is a virtual acknowledgment of the full cash value plan of assessment without proper preparation is a failure.

Speculation is rampant as to what extra session will accomplish.

There is general state-wide attention directed to the possibility of its convening.

The extra session of Idaho's legislature is now practically assured.

Governor Hawley authorized the statement that in all probability he would issue the call, thereby setting at rest all speculation as to whether or not he would actually take official action.

This information was given out in Spokane by Governor Hawley after his arrival there. One of the laws upon which an amendment is being taken.

If the wishes of the governor are complied with by the legislature, the 25th school levy will be increased to 30 cents per $100 of assessed value.

The extra session will cost the state between $20,000 and $40,000.

will be the principal business before the special session, should one be called. I may enumerate one or two laws of minor importance in the call."

Speculation of the extra session has led to a revision of the tax laws. This is a virtual acknowledgment that his full cash value plan of assessment without proper preparation is a failure.

"However, in view of the disastrous results of the governor's policy, I am of the opinion that the calling of an extra session would be a wise action, notwithstanding the great expense."

"No one opposes" cash value as an economic principle, but the legislature has been enacting ravenous laws to suit low value assessments ever since territorial days. The question is whether the governor's full cash value plan was wise as now passed the argumentative stage."

Speculation in this state is now rampant over the possibility of the official call of the legislature. According to the opinion issued and the statement of Governor Hawley that there is now in the question but what it will be.

The extra session of the legislature provides that when a special session is called only matters designated by the governor in the call shall be considered. This prevents the possibility of a special session running wild and taking up other matters.

MEETING IN BOISE

Harry W. Arnold Delivers an Address on "The Kingship of Man."

On Sunday, Nov. 19, a great meeting was held at Boise in connection with the Men and Religion Forward Movement. It was addressed by Harry W. Arnold, who is assisting the Boise Property Owners Association.

Mr. Arnold spoke on the "Kingship of Man" and his address was devoted to denunciation of what is necessary to develop the fullest measure of manhood.

He gave four reasons for his address. The first, he said, was conviction—not a mere purpose or a desire, but an inward conviction of right.

The second was necessity for right thinking. The speaker declared that the man who allowed himself to begin to think of doing wrong would soon be doing it.

The third was the responsibility of a man for the influence he exercises in connection with his point.

Mr. Arnold spoke perhaps more forcefully than during any other portion of the address. There was no limitation, he declared, to man's influence; it reached on and on, he said, for generations after his death.

The fourth requisite designated by the speaker was no man, said the speaker, who could fight temptation successfully, unless he gave four reasons for his address.

There were four men at Columbus, Ohio, a few days ago. It was not expected as many would attend and it was a disappointment.

The interesting features of this movement is that college boys everywhere are taking a great interest in it.

There is something about it that appeals to their sense of manhood and their very reason to believe this will have a most beneficial effect on college life in the development of higher character on the average than has heretofore been known.

A conference was held at Trenton, N. J., a few days ago attended by 300 boys, all under the age of 18 years.

FOUND IN RIVER.

Body of Man Found in Little Wood River Near Gooding.

A Chinaman employed on the ranch of H. Kelly, three and a half miles from Gooding, made a gruesome find in the bushes bordering Little Wood River last Thursday in the form of a human body.

The Chinaman lost no time in making a get-away to tell Ranch Foreman Webster of what he had seen. He was floating in the stream and would have passed down with the swift current but for the fact that the body was fast.
