GRUBBERS
TWIN FALLS, IDAHO

History Of The First Scientific Grubber Ever Built.

Being a pioneer in the machine and a machinist by trade, I had some eight years ago to go to the Twin Falls country, which was then being opened up to settlement. In search of a machine in which to establish business. Like the greater portion of the Interior, the Twin Falls country was a dense growth of sage brush, and the land productive the brush had to be first removed, and to do it by hand was the custom. It was a slow, hard and almost endless task. A more rapid and scientific manner for removing it had to be devised. To the accomplishment of this end the writer immediately began devoting his entire time. Innumerable animals, were the various types of machines ever cut, grab, or remove growing sage brush, but all of little or no avail. The construction of a machine, embracing strength, speed, durability and economy, that would eliminate all hand energy and perform its work perfectly, was the paramount thought ever present in the mind of the inventor of the "Hendricks" Grubber. The idea of a machine embodying all of the above principles was conceived, and the first successful horse power sage brush grubber built. A thorough test proved beyond all doubt its practicability and efficiency. Almost instantly the demand for it became so great that we found it impossible to fill our orders with any degree of promptness. From time to time we have been compelled to enlarge our factory in order to meet the ever increasing demand. And today, although only a few years have passed since the first machine was put into operation, we are pleased to have our prospective customers that we have hundreds of users and "boosters" of the "Hendricks" machine, many of whom, without solicitation, have furnished testimonials attesting its merits.

New "Hendricks" All Steel Grubber.

The new All Steel Grubber which we are now manufacturing is the product of an experience extending over a period of more than eight years. We were the first in the field and have spared neither time nor money in our efforts to make it the best of its kind. The principle of the first machine made has been maintained throughout, though many improvements have been added. Where wood was once used steel has taken its place, making it much stronger, neater and more durable machine.

CONSTRUCTION—The frame is constructed of bar steel one-half inch in thickness ranging in width from one and one-half to two inches, and is simply braced to meet any extraordinary strain to which it may be subjected. The side beams to which the cutting knives are attached are made of bar steel one inch in thickness and three inches in width while the center beam is made of the same material with an extra inch added to the width. Supporting the frame is a one and three-quarter inch round steel axle formed in the shape of a hair which acts as a pivot on which the machine is raised and lowered. We place one machine on extra high Sarven Patent wheels made of the best, thoroughly seasoned, white hickory, obtainable and of "ton" wood. They do it better. Why? Because of the strength of brush is left standing behind the machine, because it takes out practically all of the roots and because it thoroughly pulverizes the ground leaving it level and mellow, which seldom requires more than a light harrowing to make a perfect seed bed.

For a number of years there has been a steady advance in the cost of all material entering into the construction of all classes of farm machinery as well as in labor employed in building it. Notwithstanding this fact our price has remained the same $100.00 for the 5 ft. horse power machine, F. O. B. Twin Falls, Idaho. $150.00 for the 8 ft. engine power machine, F. O. B. Twin Falls, Idaho.

We invite correspondence and will take pleasure in supplying you with any further information which you may desire. For reference we take pleasure in referring you to the Farmers and Merchants Bank or any business man of Twin Falls. Trusting that we may have the pleasure of receiving your order in the near future, we beg to remain, Very respectfully,
T. B. HENDRICKS & SON.

The heaviest response in any straw vote contest that has been taken in the country is that secured by the Weekly Kansas City Star which circulates almost exclusively among farmers of the middle west and southwest. Out of a total vote of 106,716 for all parties, Roosevelt leads among Republicans having received 55,696 votes, as against only 5,697 for Taft. Even La Follette leads Taft having received 57,033 votes. Bryan and Clark are the Democratic favorites, receiving 16,838 for Clark and 16,983 for Bryan. Wilson received but 8,931. That there are some Socialists is shown by the vote for Debs who received 4,056 votes.—Capital News.

Complaints have been made by a number of ranchers over the promising shooting of high powered rifles in the rural district which jeopardize the lives of the ranchers and their families. Several very narrow escapes from being struck with the whistling bullets have been noted in the past few months. While so far there have been no injuries inflicted save to the stock yet the practice is too dangerous to be allowed to go on unchecked. Boys of fifteen and sixteen with rifles which will kill at a distance of a mile have no business hunting in thickly settled communities, nor have men for that matter. For any game that can be found in or around the thickly settled rural districts of this tract a short range twenty-two rifle or a shotgun is all that is needed or should be allowed. High power rifle bullets often find the bullet at which they are aimed and even after that will speed with deadly force whether the hunter cannot control them. It is not necessary to subject the people of the tract to the dangers of actual warfare and the parents of the young boys should take the young cannons away from them substitute something less terrific in its execution.

A RUDE SHOCK COMING.

Political workers in Ohio are said to have made the discovery that the rural districts are opposed to Taft and that the cause of their opposition is not the Canadian reciprocity measure, not the Ballinger incident, not the Decker Wiley troubles, not the veto of the wool bill, but his defense of the Payne-Aldrich bill, his friendship for Cannon and Aldrich and the old standard crowd which it was supposed had suffered such defeat when Taft was elected, but which, upon his election, again assumed such power at Washington that the people all over the country arose as one man almost and showed his displeasure by sending a Democratic house to the national legislature, and came as near as it could, to sending a Democratic senate.

This is the first instance we have noted of any discovery on the part of the politicians that it is the Payne-Aldrich bill that is making the president unpopular as a candidate. We suspected that this was it, but inasmuch as nobody else seemed to say so, we feared we might be mistaken.

We thought it would be queer, however, if the people should forget the promises made by the Republican platform—and definitely interpreted by Taft during the campaign four years ago, as a promise of immediate and substantial reduction in the tariff, and would forget that the Payne-Aldrich bill, which it finally went to the president, instead of reducing the tariff as per the promise made had actually increased it along nearly every line.

And then we wondered how they could forget that the president, who started upon a tour of the country immediately following adjournment of that special session of congress called to reduce the tariff, had stated that the new tariff measure was the best ever enacted in the nation.

That declaration was so foreign to his promises during the campaign but recently closed and so directly contrary to what he had said about the fact that the country stood astonished. And he told the people that he felt compelled to accept the measure because he felt that it was a measure a little better than the old one, yet not what he expected and not what had been promised, the people might have felt like forgiving him, however much they might have felt like condemning Cannon and Aldrich and the other members of congress who rendered their principles and their manhood to bow down to their dictators. But he accepted full responsibility for the measure and not only defended it, but took occasion to compliment and commend the very men who were responsible for the defeat of the will of the people in the matter.

We thought, but we weren't certain that the people realized that it is a straight contest now between the people and the special protected interests. We knew that in Idaho, for instance, the wool interests, the lead trust, the lumber syndicate and the sugar trust would all stand solidly together to prevent interference with the graft of the steel trust, the oil trust, the harvest trust, and all the other trusts and protected interests, simply for the reason that everybody knows that so soon as a reduction is made in the special protection or privilege that any one or more of them enjoy, their own will it become necessary to make a reduction in the special advantage given to the others by law.

The contest now on in this state will determine whether these four great special interests are greater and more powerful in this state than the people who are not interested in those concerns, or whether the people are big enough to control public affairs in their own interests.

Of course the lack of the lead trust, the lumber syndicate, the wool combine and the sugar trust, will be found the catalyst, for those great corporations have a very real interest that they can and must do business purely upon business principles. Demanding and seeking special privileges for themselves, they naturally form an alliance with other interests that seek and demand special privileges denied the common run of people and individuals. Still further back of these will be found the "small fry" who receive some square advantage and who imagine it is the sun of prosperity shining every time they bank in the smile of one of these greater gods of "Big Business."

We miss our guess if there are not some rude shocks and tremendous surprises in store for all these people in the coming election. All that we are afraid of is that the shock is going to be so great that it will really affect business conditions and the prosperity of the country for a number of years. If this should result, nobody will be to blame, however, but the people who have brought it upon themselves by pursuing a policy of deliberating snubbing and ignoring the masses of the people, who are now ready for revolt unless we are mistaken.—Capital News.

BIG "CHEER-UP" PARTY.

Given by Fred B. Reed to His Friends in Wendell.

One of the most remarkable social gatherings ever held in this part of the state occurred Friday evening in Wendell. There were present at this big "cheer-up" party over one hundred people, practically all the town of Wendell and all the ranchers in that section of the country, besides a number of people from neighboring towns.

The biggest and most successful affair ever pulled off in Southern Idaho was the concert of opinion. All day the splendid women of Wendell worked in Odeon hall preparing the 1,000 sandwiches, 1,000 doughnuts, dozens of coffee, boxes of cookies, oranges and apples that had been obtained in donations and at his own expense by Mayor Fred B. Reed, the promoter of the event.

At 7 o'clock people began gathering in the hall which is about 20x50 feet in dimensions. By 8 o'clock the place was packed to its fullest capacity. The curtains went up on a sight that brought forth enthusiastic applause from the audience. It disclosed the Wendell band of fourteen pieces in its first public appearance—an organization that would be a credit to a town twenty times the size of Wendell.

Wild applause greeted the reading of the telegram.

At the close of the program came the test of good generalship on the part of those in charge of the affair. In the feeding of the multitude. Every seat was filled and people were standing in the aisles half way to the stage. How it was accomplished is almost a mystery, but in a remarkably short time every man, woman and child in the place was partaking of generously-filled plates and cups, and all was done without confusion or disorder. At the back of the room a "hole in the wall" through which the light is thrown for moving picture purposes, was used to good advantage by a number who could not get into the building. By means of cords, pulleys were lowered to the "commissary department" where they were filled, drawn up, and disposed of in short order. Of the 1,000 sandwiches only 37 remained. Other eatables disappeared in like proportion and fruit that could not be eaten at the time was taken away in pockets and blouses until all was gone. Every one was fed—many plates going back to be refilled a second and even a third time. Cheer and good fellowship pre-

The state land board at a meeting held last week recalled the action taken a few weeks ago revoking a settler's right to reside on the land before proving up. At the action taken last week a settler will now have to reside on the land for six months and cultivate one-eighth of the land before proving up.

Rule No. 20, is now as follows: Within three years of the date of such notice that the company is prepared to furnish water, the entryman and his heirs before the date of the date designated by the board, and make final proof showing that he is an actual settler and has cultivated and irrigated not less than one-eighth of said tract, and that he has built an inhabitable dwelling. Such proof shall be submitted on Form G.

The proof shall be corroborated on Form H, and the non-mineral character of the land established on Form I, by the affidavits of two witnesses.

An entryman need not wait until the end of the year to submit annual proof, or until expiration of three years for final proof, but proof may be made as soon as the requirements of the law are fulfilled, and no further proof will be required after final proof is approved.

BURLEY CELEBRATES.

Work Commenced on the Largest Sugar Factory in the West.

Work on the sugar factory here will now be pushed. Chief Engineer N. A. Lockwood of the Amalgamated Sugar company has taken charge of the work, and will remain here until the factory is completed. T. E. Ferrin and A. B. Wallahan cleared the brush from the factory site and from the railroad right-of-way the first part of the week.

V. A. Finlayson, timekeeper for the sugar company, is having an office erected on the grounds, and a boarding house 40 by 60 feet will be erected for the benefit of those employees of the company who are unable to procure board in town. The building of the factory will bring to Burley immediately several hundred people who will have to be provided with living quarters, so that the present spring and coming summer will see the erection of many cottages.

On Thursday morning the formal moving of the first shovelful of dirt for the excavation of the basement of the sugar factory was celebrated. Some 600 citizens of Burley and the surrounding country gathered in front of the hotel, Burley and at 10 o'clock, led by the Burley band, proceeded to the site of the factory northwest of town.

Dr. W. C. Karp, selling a master of ceremony, after paying a glowing tribute to J. E. Miller as the pioneer of the city, and the man who has laid the foundation for the great future possible, called upon Mr. Miller for a few remarks. The Colonel was very brief, saying that he had been laboring here for the past 37 years and that he is now seeing his dreams and hopes of the past realized. Colonel Miller then proceeded to move the first shovelful of dirt preparatory to the erection of one of the largest sugar factories in the west, upon his old homestead which he has held for so many years and which is partly occupied by the thriving town of Burley.

Judge Rogers, E. J. Thitner and S. T. Lowe gave brilliant addresses on behalf of the people of Burley and this section of the country, calling attention to the necessity for co-operation between the people and the sugar company that both may attain the greatest success possible from the expenditure of their labor and capital.

President W. T. Jack responded in behalf of the Amalgamated Sugar company, stating that Judge Rolapp had sent a telegram expressing his regrets at not being able to be present and congratulating the people of this community on the success of their efforts in securing the factory.

Colonel Miller then stood with shovel in hand, for the photographers, and the crowd was dismissed.—Burley Bulletin.

PRETTY DIRTY.

Once a year the newboys of London are given an outing some place on the Thames river where they can swim to their heart's content. As one little boy was getting into the water his little friend said:

"Fobbsie, you're pretty dirty!"

"Yes," replied Johnnie, "I missed the train last year."—Success Magazine.

NOTES FROM FILER JOURNAL

Ray Brown was circling among his friends here the first of the week. The roads are a little rough in spots but they will soon wear down.

Henry O. Brown has accepted the position as bookkeeper at the Utah-Idaho elevator.

Miss Lillian Snoderly is the guest of Mrs. R. H. Miller this week. Miss Snoderly is formerly of Guthrie, Okla. F. E. Allen has shipped a car load of alfalfa back to his old home town, Albion, Mich. In the car he put in a few sacks of alfalfa meal. Tuesday he received word from the hay and the consignor wrote that it was the best hay he had ever handled. The last year from this tract has been shipped to nearly every state in the union; nothing but praise is heard of its splendid quality. The fame of Twin Falls county has been largely extended which will result to her advantage as time rolls on.

Karl Hungen of Pocatello has purchased two lots on Main street west of the postoffice and will erect a large and roomy business block in which he will handle hardware. He will also carry a large line of agricultural implements. Mr. Hungen is a former newspaperman, having been located at Mountain Home and later was the editor of the Pocatello Herald. He also thoroughly understands the hardware business and his location here will, we hope, prove a distinct benefit to the community as well as himself financially. He will commence work at once on his building, having let the contract to Mr. Duquesne.

J. C. Dickerson was in Filer last Sunday.

J. Keane made a business trip to Hansen last week.

J. P. Blakely made a business trip to Buhl Saturday.

Miss Olive Ryan returned to her home in Twin Falls Saturday.

S. D. McFarlane has traded his house to the Lark Bros. for a team.

Arthur Anderson and Guy Shearer made a trip to Twin Falls Sunday.

L. R. Moorhead returned Tuesday from Athens, Mich., where he spent the winter.

Frank Brown has returned from Chicago where he accompanied several cars of sheep.

Chas. Cassidy returned last week from Oakley where he has been working. He will remain in Filer this summer.

E. P. McCrery and wife and Wallace where they report for the Northwest team.

Mr. McKune and daughter Fern arrived last week from Cedar Ridge, Colorado. Mr. McKune is the father of Mrs. J. J. Sisson.

Messrs. Higgenbotham and Miller have purchased a lot west of the telephone company, and also the machinery for an up-to-date carpenter shop.

S. D. McBride and E. Metcalf have traded for the Wilson hay baler and formed a partnership to run the machine the coming season.

R. N. Taylor has purchased a lot from the Townsite Company opposite the Nibbler Channel Lumber yard and will erect a shop thereon this spring.

Chas. Dryden has rented the McBride house and will reside in Filer until he gets ready to move to Washburn, which he expects to do some time in the coming spring.

Paul Dierick has severed his connection with the Frank Brown ranch and will move to town. Paul has recently returned from a trip to his old home in South Omaha.

James Robertson was laid up a few days last week, having sustained a very bad injury by a kick from a cow he was currying. She landed on his left cheek, breaking a blood vessel that runs to the eye. The wound was a painful one and caused James considerable uneasiness, for a time. Horseback riding is becoming a favorite pastime with Filer young men; Julius Strauss and Guy Shearer have purchased saddles the past week and more have forer. Prof. Dooley has the goods and before the season is very far advanced there will be a lot more of them owned by Filer people who enjoy this kind of exercise.
