Idle Reports Do Injury to Big Project Settlers.

SETTLERS, IRRIGATION COMPANY AND LAND BOARD TOGETHER.

All Sides Give Assurance of Co-Operation to Make Success of the Enterprise.

J. E. Finney, of Twin Falls, secretary of the Water Users' association, and Fred W. Berger, vice-president of the same organization, were before the state land board yesterday afternoon to get definite information concerning the Twin Falls-Salmon River project.

It was pointed out to the board by both of these men that reports had been in circulation for some time past that the Salmon River project would have water to irrigate but 30,000 acres; that there was to be litigation for a portion of the water, and that the company would insist on the settlers making their full payments in the coming season whether they got their rightful allowance of water or not.

It was asserted that the reports as to the shortage of water were based on false information from the company officials and that for this reason the settlers were entitled to definite information from the company and from the state land board. The assertions were even more specific. They were to the effect that the information from the company was that the settlers by Mr. J. E. Finney, and that he had secured his information from the inspection of official reports and documents in the office of Carey Act Commissioner B. P. Shawham.

The whole matter was discussed in all its various details before the land board at its meeting yesterday afternoon. The board was present by representatives of the water company. He gave assurance that the Salmon River reservoir had made the best record for building water in the past year of any large reservoir in the United States for the first year. He was satisfied, he said, that there would be water on the project of about 80,000 acres, although he asserted that it would take time to work out the plans of the project. There might not be enough water in a low year for many acres, but the company was planning to conserve the water in the reservoir. While the measurement for the low water in the past four years was but 100,000 feet, and the highest 150,000 feet, by government measurement, he reminded those present that in 1907, a flood year, there was a volume of 450,000 feet.

Mr. Shawham said that all the company asked was a chance to work out its plans. It was more anxious to get the success of the project than the settlers because it could not hope to make money out of the project unless it could not do that unless the settlers made money. He deprecated the circulation of idle reports based on a sentence of the water company, and it could not do that unless the settlers made money. He deprecated the circulation of idle reports based on a sentence of the water company, and it could not do that unless the settlers made money.

Assurances were given that the settlers would not be pushed for their payments in the coming season. They were advised to have a conference with D. C. McWaters, county treasurer from the east end were given assurance that all would be satisfactory on that score.

Governor Hawley and other members of the board assured Mr. Finney and Mr. Berger that they proposed to do everything in their power to make the success of the project. It is possible that the Salmon River as on every other project in which the state is interested. A. McDaniel, and Mr. Hawley, who had been present at the close of the meeting all agreed that they had a much better understanding of the situation than they had at the beginning.

WINGFIELD STILL WORKING.

No Truth in Report He Would Give Up Effort on Mines.

Conflicting reports have been coming from Jarbidge relative to the operations being conducted by George Wingfield. The first one was that Wingfield would relinquish his option on the Success properties and that he would withdraw from the camp. In part this has been denied by some of the men who have been working on his options on any of the properties, but that he has asked for more time to develop the Success properties. A letter from the camp gives the following account of conditions.

The camp is practically snowbound, but the roads will probably run for the next few months, but have handled little ore and sent out too little to even pay expenses. The men who have been working on the mine with the ore is evidenced by the fact that Salt Lake and Denver people are trying to secure the Fletcher property, while Mr. Wingfield at once telephoned in an offer for the Pavik. Work on the four tunnel levels of the Success mine is being pushed on, and a larger tonnage of ore will be in sight before Mr. Wingfield can get the mine to take the option. The Pavik will be taken over. The Bluster is also opening a new shaft of ore to the south of the shaft on the tunnel level 300 feet below the outcrop.

The Boise parties who had the Jefferies group bonded with the ore of the Bluster and the Pick and Shovel, did not come to time with their second payment; however, a Denver man immediately offered to take the option and paid back the money they had sent to the mine, and also made a payment for Mr. Wingfield. The development work is being continued.

The Alpha property, east of the Bourns, has been bonded by Chicago parties, who have a force of men at work. The vein on this ground has been exposed by open cuts for 700 feet and shows a vein two to seven feet wide with some of the best paying ore found in the camp.

The drift on the seventy-five-foot level on the Pacific continues in good order. The Pacific vein has been encountered on the Jarbidge Gold company property, who have a force of men at work. # GYMNASIUM FOR BUSINESS MEN

High School Equipment Placed at Their Disposal.

PLAN EXPLAINED AT COMMERCIAL CLUB LUNCHEON.

Extroit Sweely and W. E. Nixon Speak for Business Men and School Board.

A plan whereby the athletically inclined business men of the city may have the use of the high school gymnasium for certain nights of the week was the topic of two interesting talks delivered Wednesday at the Commercial club luncheon given by Messrs. E. M. Sweely and W. E. Nixon. Mr. Sweely, who has been engaged in getting the business men interested in an athletic club and the school board to agree to a joint use of the new gymnasium, gave a very interesting talk in which the advantages of the plan plainly shown and the need for physical training.

Mr. Nixon on behalf of the school board gave a brief statement of the terms under which the board would allow the use of the school gymnasium. A fee of ten dollars would entitle each business man to the use of the gymnasium for one night a week and use of the shower-baths. The funds thus paid in would be used to equip the gymnasium.

A committee selected by the Commercial club was appointed to place the matter before the business men and ask the board for support.

"The bridges over the Malad and Wood rivers are nearly finished. The trains are being hauled over them. When the road is turned over to the operating department it will be entirely ready for service."

Mr. Priest said that when he went over the road there was considerable snow in that part of the country and that the road was in excellent condition this year is excellent.

TAFT MEN BEATEN.

Lewis County Instructs Delegates to Boosert.

Belated reports from north Idaho indicate that the Taft machine is not having such smooth running as it had at the beginning of its career. At a meeting of the Lewis county Republican central committee, a resolution endorsing Taft and instructing the delegates to the county convention to elect a delegate instructed for him at the national convention, was defeated and in its stead a resolution was adopted favoring Roosevelt and a delegation favorable to him was selected to the Lewis county convention. Lewis county will have five delegates in that convention.

Other reports indicate that many Republicans of Nez Perce county are leaning toward Roosevelt and a delegation favorable to him was selected to the Lewis county convention. Lewis county will have five delegates in that convention.

Idaho Irrigation Company Will Defeat Final Payment Five Years.

Gooding, March 11.—A telegram from the New York headquarters of the Idaho Irrigation company brings the welcome news to settlers on the company's land that final payments are to be deferred for five years, with a 2 per cent added to the interest charges. This action will avert numerous lawsuits that were being brought against the company and it has been brought about by the intervention of a committee of business men of Gooding, headed by J. C. Darby, president of the First National bank of Gooding, in behalf of the settlers.

The announcement makes for a better feeling toward the company and the settlers who were having pressed to pay the account to the company. The committee of business men, who are now in charge of the present arrangements, they will be able to go ahead with the work that is necessary to make the farms earn something, and the settlers will be able to go ahead with the work that is necessary to make the farms earn something.

GRAND VIEW INSTITUTE.

Largely Attended and Much Interest Shows, Splendid Addresses Given.

Report of Farmer's Institute and Educational meeting held at Grand View school house, Friday, March 8, 1912.

The morning session Mr. McPherson state horticultural inspector gave the first address on fruit trees—proper planting, pruning, spraying, etc. His address was to the point and elicited much favorable comment.

Mr. Hubbard of Boise, president of the Idaho State Fair Assn, next addressed the meeting on hog raising; on values and comparative value of alfalfa, clover, field peas and grain as a diet for hogs, also their proper combinations in forming a balance ration.

Mr. Hubbard, by his practical talk impressed his hearers that his scientific teaching was not only practical experience and exemplification on his large farm. (Mr. H. prefers the title "farm" to "ranch").

From Hubbard, the boys to form a potato club and participate in the state contest at the Fair this fall. (See article in March 5 issue of Times, "Organize Potato Club").

Prof. Oliver, director of the extension department of the Agricultural College gave the principal address of the afternoon session on "Soils and Crop Rotation."

To those who are familiar with Prof. Oliver's ability to handle this and allied subjects nothing more need be said; to those who have never heard him so pleased to avail themselves of this first opportunity so to do.

Miss Shepard, State Dept. of Public Instruction, gave an interesting address on "Vacational Teaching in the Rural Schools," as her subject. She also talked on Potato Club and girls sewing club. Her address was highly appreciated.

Mr. Avery, superintendent of Owyhee County, presided at the evening session, which was purely educational.

Grand View, Lower Grand View, Castle Creek and Green School participated in a program of songs, recitations, etc., previous to the address of the evening by Mr. Avery. The Normal College on "Manual training in the Public Schools," every number and manual work well rendered and many were enored.

The business men of the west and more particularly of this section are confronted with a problem in the matter of credit giving which exists nowhere else. Now communities with new people are springing up in few short years, capital is required to carry on the upbuilding of the country, which on the part of most new settlers is merited and appreciated by them. But owing to the newness of the section now being settled, nothing can be learned regarding the financial standing of the various patrons of the merchant. As a result the merchants are victimized a great many times by professional debt defaults. In order to make up this loss the paying patron must foot the bills for the merchants under the heavy losses which they face, must charge a higher percentage of profit. In every community can be found professional debt defaults who make the rounds of the stores and get credit until they are exhausted and then move on to some other town or city to live on another community. Under the present laws of this state there is nothing that can be done to a debtless and the inevitable result is the placing of a burden on the good paying customers which the merchants cannot very well avoid. To go onto the cash basis works a hardship upon many worthy and thrifty people. Between the two problems there seems no solution except through legislation. Idaho needs a good strong law making it an offense to contract debts under false pretenses, punishable by imprisonment with as many safeguards thrown about the worthy citizen as possible. By making the case apply only where the evidence is conclusively by series of contractual debts, where no attempt is made to pay by the debtor, to make him liable to imprisonment. It would work no hardship on the honest man and would place a number on the county poor list, where their support is a matter for every taxpayer to stand, prevent a large number of people from living by their wits off the merchants. It is safe to estimate the merchants' loss to be annually bidden out of enough money to make a ten per cent difference in the prices which they must charge for goods.

THE END OF THE MANCHU DYNASTY.

The Manchu dynasty has abdicated, after holding the Chinese imperial throne for nearly three centuries. The decree of abdication will be of historic moment. It reads as follows:

The whole country is tending toward a republican form of government—it is the will of Heaven—and it is certain that we could not reject the people's desire for the sake of one family's honor and glory.

We, the Dowager Empress and the Emperor, hand over the sovereignty to the people. We decide the form of government to be a constitutional republic.

In this time of transition, in order to unite the South and the North, we appoint Yuan Shi-kai to organize a provisional government, consulting the people's army regarding the union of the five peoples, Manchus, Chinese, Mongolians, Mohammedans, and Tibetans. These people jointly constitute the great state of China Hwa Ming-kus (in republic of China).

We retire to a peaceful life and will enjoy the respectful treatment of the nation.

This was signed by the Empress Dowager for herself and the little Emperor, by Yuan Shi-kai, as Provisional Minister, and also by the other ministers. On the day following the publication of the decree, there appeared the first of Yuan Shi-kai's messages as "President Provisional of the Republic"—the title which he now requests the Powers to recognize. A part of this message is also worth quoting:

Yuan Shi-kai, by virtue of the power vested in him to establish a republican form of government in China, declares that, whereas the Emperor of the To Ching ("Great Pure") dynasty has abdicated, China shall henceforth be known as the China Hwa (Chinese) Republic and will adopt a republican form of government.

While a provisional government is being established, all Ministers who are credited to foreign governments shall act for the time being as diplomatic representatives, and shall continue to perform their duties as heretofore.

While Yuan Shi-kai was doubtless sincere in believing a constitutional monarchy to be the best government for China, he must be impressed, as has every one, by the unexpectedly widespread demand for a republic.

Whether under one or the other governmental form, however, this "strong man of China" would doubtless be the real wielder of power.—Out Look.

LAW OF THE APEX.

Director of United States Geological Survey Recommends Its Repeal.

The law of the apex has proved more productive of expensive litigation than of economical mining. In many of the more recently established and more progressive mining districts this statute has been made inoperative either by common agreement or by compromise between adjoining owners. Its repeal could not affect established equities under patents already granted, but would render possible more certain property rights in large mining districts, not as yet discovered where new and valuable claims will be located a hundred years from now. The unit of disposition should be the claim, preferably square, limited in its four sides by vertical planes and of size sufficient to allow the mine occupying two contiguous claims to follow the vein or lode to considerable depth, even if its dip is only 45 degrees. Such definition of a mining claim is found practical in both Mexico and British Columbia, and in the latter country the change from the apex law was effected without trouble or confusion.

The same knowledge of natural conditions that leads to the suggestion of a repeal of the law of the apex forces the further suggestion that discovery of ore in place—surface or underground—be a prerequisite to the location of a mining claim. Geological study of ore deposits has furnished examples in a number of regions where the present law can not be complied with, although rich deposits exist underground and their extent can be more definitely ascertained than in most places where ore is discovered at the surface. To meet such actual conditions the law should provide for acquisition of metalliferous mineral land classified as such upon the basis of adequate geological evidence, whether actual ore crops are present or not. (From 32d Annual Report, Director United States Geological Survey.)

ADVOCATE CHANGE OF PLAN.

Indiana Plan for Control of Liquor Problem Discussed.

An informal mass meeting of citizens was held in the Commercial Club rooms Wednesday night and the matter of the liquor problem discussed. A large number were present who expressed dissatisfaction with the present condition of enforcement and advocated the adoption of the Indiana plan of controlling saloons where the whole interior of the saloon is thrown open to view, with no back doors, no chairs and accessories to induce loafing or continuous imbibing. The plan calls for only a thirty day license revocable at a minute notice for disobedience to the laws.

Oil Legislation Urged.

Need of a Better Law is Strongly Urged.

The most urgent need of legislation for the disposition of mineral deposits is in the case of oil and gas. It is most apparent that the present law, which none too well adapted to meet modern conditions in mining placer gold, is wholly inadequate when applied to placers of oil lands, inasmuch as oil is discovered at a late stage in the exploring and development of the land claimed under the law. Thus large expenditures, extending over several months, if not years, are necessary before any right is acquired against the Government, and during all this time there is no legal protection of the oil prospector against unscrupulous claimants or competitors better backed by capital. The need for remedial oil legislation is so great that less pressing than it was a year ago, by reason of the passage of the act approved March 2, 1911, the effect of which is to validate a class of claims which, although clouded by the construction which the department was forced to place upon the malfit placer law under which title to oil lands must now be gained, were bona fide in that the inception of their development antedated the oil-land withdrawal.

The need for a better law is, however, imperative, and the legislative action demanded by the situation should not be limited to an attempt to revamp the general placer law, but should consist of the enactment of an altogether new law, one especially adapted to provide for the safe and equitable development of this industry in the future.

(Copyright, 1911, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D. D.)
The Paralytic Forgiven and Healed Mark 11: 1-13.

Golden Text—Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits, who forgiveth all thine iniquities, who healeth all thy diseases. Ps. ciii: 2-3.

(1). Verso 1—How long will an earnest Christian be in a shop, store or community before it is "noted that his in the house?"

(2). Verso 2—Was it Christ's person, his teaching or his miracles that attracted the crowd?

(3). Verso 3—What are the attractions in this community which draw the biggest crowds?

(4). If a preacher lives in close contact with God will he be certain in a popular community to attract the crowd? Why or why not?

(5). If Jesus were to come here to reside and preach the same doctrine as in those days would he be popular with the "average church" member? Why?

(6). Verso 3—Of how much benefit is it in those days to bring our sick ones to Jesus?

(7). How would you characterize one who did nothing to comfort the sick, relieve the poor or help people in their trouble?

(8). Which more nearly imitate Jesus in caring for the sick, the churches or the synagogues? Give your reasons.

(9). Verso 4—If we are fully determined to have the members of our families saved by Jesus what can prevent us?

(10). What qualities do you most admire in these four men for their insistence in bringing their sick friend to Jesus?

(11). Verso 5—Which is the more exalting and why, a palsied body or a palsied soul?

(12). What relation had the faith of these four men with the forgiveness of the sins of the sick man?

(13). How long does it take God to forgive the sins of a man who is really penitent?

(14). Verso 6—Does Jesus here state that he forgives this man's sins or that God had forgiven him?

(15). If any man of God is assured that a seeker of salvation is truly penitent, why may he not pronounce to him that his sins are forgiven? (This is one of the questions that may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(16). Verso 8—Was mind reading peculiar to Jesus, or have others a similar gift? Give your reasons.

(17). Verso 9:12—The healing of this sick man was clearly a miracle. Was the forgiveness of his sins also a miracle?

MOTORCYCLE CONTEST

Is Attracting Wide Spread Attention at Macanley Bros.
Number 32 was the banner vote getter for week ending March 10th in the Times-Macanley Bros. Dixie Flyer Motorcycle contest.
While No. 3 still leads number 35 made the greatest increase for the week, Number 1 was second in securing a large number of votes and is going to be a worthy competitor for first place before many weeks have elapsed.

Macanley Bros. announces that many purchasers leave their votes on the counter every day, in fact enough votes to place some young man in possession of the motorcycle go to waste entirely.
It is hoped that more votes will be saved and given to one of the active candidates. Votes cost the purchaser nothing, only a little trouble in saving them for a few days.
What next week will be a week of big specials and many changes in totals will undoubtedly show up from now on.

Monarchs of England.

The first to rule over all England was Egbert, King of Wessex, who united all the various petty kingdoms and became King of England in 837.
The greater kingdom was disrupted from 878 to 958, when the Danes ruled north of the Thames. In the latter year King Edgar reunited the kingdom and since that time it has never been partitioned. Between Edmund Ironside (1016) and Edward the Confessor (1042) three Danish kings ruled all England. Canute, Harold I. and Hardicanute. The first king of Great Britain was James I. (1603). The first king of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland was George III. From the conquest of Ireland in 1173 by Henry II. the kings of England were styled Lord of Ireland until the assumption of the title King of Ireland by Henry VIII. and thereafter this title was used until the act of union in 1801. The imperial sovereignty of India was assumed by Queen Victoria.

GRANTED INJUNCTION.

Restraint on Salt Lake and Idaho from Continuing Work
The government yesterday granted a temporary restraining order preventing the Salt Lake and Idaho railway from crossing the Mindola project. Judge District in a federal court held up the railroad's plans and work until the hearing on the case was reached in the regular run of events.
In addition to the application for the injunction the district attorney asked for $50,000 damages, which he

Our entire time is taken with the examining of eyes, the diagnosing of eye trouble and the fitting of glasses. If your eyes hurt you and your head aches, and you are nervous, it is Nature's way of informing you there is something wrong. Then if you come to us it is our business to go carefully into the matter and demonstrate to you what is needed. If you engage us we make a study of those troubles and how to best get relief. We decide what style of frames is best for each individual case, the style, size, and shape of lenses would be considered and the style we give you will be the one best suited to your case whether flat, periscope or the highly curved Toric lenses.
Whatever we give you is the best but the price we quote is not stupor for the glasses but the main part of the charges are for our services.

claims has been done to the project by the work which the road has already undertaken. The territory complained of is that between Burley and Raft River. Through this district the company has stretched its line and has made preparations for additional construction work, the petition says. In bringing his complaint against the railroad the government included the Utah Construction company, which was doing the work, and the engineer in charge, S. H. Osborne. Until the hearing on the case has been held, the construction work which has been going on, or which was planned, is held up.
In making the complaint the government explained that the embankments erected by the railroad for its lines had thrown out all the plans of the projected engineers and had disarranged their scheme for the reclamation of the land under that system. The crossing of the land has been made thus far, the district attorney says, without the slightest authority of law, because the requirements have not been met. Under the federal statutes a company must file the maps and plans of the country through which it wishes to pass. These must be approved by the secretary of the interior and placed on file in his office before the company is permitted to go ahead with the work.
That this has not been done is the basis of the government's claim against the railroad. It is hardly probable that the hearing on the injunction will be given this late in the term of court.
